J. Schmidt Winner In Local A. T. Contest

"A NEW CONSCIOUSNESS" AWARD-
ED FIRST PLACE

Six Orations in First Local Anti-Tobacco Oratorical Contest-Membership Campaign Started.

The Anti-Tobacco Oratorical Contest which was held at the chapel last Tuesday night was well attended and was intensely interesting. Six orations had been prepared but Julia Garst was unable to give hers on account of illness and Roy Brubaker had left school for military service.

Jonathan Schmidt won first place with the oration entitled, "A New Consciousness." The oration contained excellent thought and his arrangement of material and his delivery was excellent. Miss Edna Neher won second place with the oration, "The Greatest Enemy of His Soul," and J. Howard Engle third with "The Problem and Its Solution," Mr. Saylor Neher was the fourth contestant and his theme was "The Challenge of The Future." Each orator made a strong appeal for concentrated and organized effort on the part of pure democracy loving people to get busy and uproot the deadly evil forever from the nation.

Miss Kasey gave a piano solo and Mr. Wilson a vocal solo which were appreciated by the audience. Dr. Fields made a short and appropriate speech and then awarded the prizes. The orators had organized a local society previous to the contest, themselves and after Dr. Field's talk a membership campaign was inaugurated. Up to date thirty five have enrolled and it is very probable many more will join. This is a splendid chance to join a live organization which has a definite goal. Join now and become a charter member.

THE SAILOR'S GOODBYE

A flower she held on her bosom,
And a tear dropped from his eye,
As the train pulled into the station,
To hasten his last good bye.
The few short years of their friendship
Had glided so swiftly past.
That it seemed but a day of pleasure
And the day was closing fast.
Her eyes would measure his figure,
Adorned in navy blue,
And she felt his big heart beating,
Each beat saying, "I'll be true."
The man, you know, was a sailor boy,
A student, a prince, an athlete,
Whether working at home or for Uncle

[Sam,

He was always a man, complete,
A call he heard from his country,
To answer, he must go,
And the brave little girl is waiting,
But her longing we'll never know.

Men's Glee Club Sang at Friends Call Off Debate Roxbury

NO REASON GIVEN

APPEARED AS NUMBER ON ROXBURY LECTURE COURSE

First Program This Year of the Club.

Last Friday night the weather acted contrary to its former customs and left the roads in fair condition for the Men's Glee Club to journey to Roxbury. For the last few years the weather has been a hindrance to the perfect working of the Club as every time they got ready to go some where a snow or rain storm came up.

Their program was one of the numbers of the lecture course being given there this year. Mr. Frank Mohler, last year's graduate of M. C. has been instrumental in arranging this course of eight numbers which is some feat for a small town.

The Club sang in the Methodist Church. A fair audience greeted the gleemen and responded heartily to every number. Solos were sung by Claude Wilson, Edward Girard, W. F. Vaniman, and C. A. Dettler, and they responded to encores.

Some pretty amusing stunts were put on and Forney and G. Boone created a surprise when they came out with a tramp stunt. The boys had a fine time. As a whole the program was well received by the audience and Prof. Rowland expressed his opinion as being well satisfied with the work. Dates are being arranged with Little River, Canton, and Moundridge and it is probable the Club will make several more trips in the near future.

Cabinet Training Conference

A special Y. W. C. A. Cabinet Training Conference has been called to meet at Salina, March 8-10. This is for the purpose of helping the new cabinets who are just taking up their work. Every cabinet member of our College Association is going to attend.

Affirmative Team Goes To Fairmount

McPherson will not get to hear a debate this week. Word was received from Friends University, yesterday that they would not be in the contest. No reason was stated. The team from Friends was to have met our affirmative team, composed of Carl Rexroad, Crawford Brubaker, and Van Pelt, alternate at McPherson.

Without doubt McPherson wins this contest by forfeit, but it will be something of an empty victory. "We would rather lose in a contest, than win by forfeit," said Prof. Studebaker, debate coach.

The negative team of Galen Jones, Clyde Forney, and Ray Cullen will debate against the Fairmount team at Wichita. These men have been working hard on the question and M. C. will be ably represented. The question is: Resolved, that the United States should adopt a system of compulsory arbitration, similar to that of New Zealand, for the purpose of settling all labor disputes.

With Friends out of the contest the schools debating are: Fairmount College, Cooper College, Bethel College, and McPherson College.

Intercollegiate

Ottawa has also joined the ranks of six days a week school for every alternate week. This closes the school year on May 17th instead of June 1st.

A series of meetings for the men and women of Washburn will be given by Dr. Frank Sheldon from March 7 to March 9. His two main addresses will be, "What is Christianity" and "Can We Win The War." The Y. M. and Y. W. cabinets are making definite and earnest plans for these meetings to make them helpful to all the students of Washburn.

Prof. Russel Resigns.

Popular M. C. Professor To Teach in Minnesota University Next Year

Students of McPherson College both past and present, have just cause to regret because of the announcement that the institution is to lose the services of Professor J. C. Russell, one of the "land marks" of the faculty. It is no sudden thing for Professor Russell to get a good offer. Such things with him have been a matter of frequent occurrence, he has been often "exposed" and while some that him immune, we are obliged to chronicle the fact that the "case" is a fatal one.

Prof. Russell is in every sense a McPherson College product. He is home-grown. Some ten or twelve years ago "in the changeful autumn," he first wended his way hitherward from a rural community near Canton, to which place he has loved to hide away when weary of the hum-drum of college life. And the College never spoiled him from being a good farmer.

Professor Russell always took his school work seriously and philosophically. Needless to say he stood high in his classes. He had even in these early days a pronounced affinity for chemistry. He became Prof. Shirk's laboratory assistant and served very acceptably in that capacity for several years.

There were five members in the class of 1911 at McPherson College. One is now a missionary in China, one a teacher in our city schools, one is a physician, and two are chemists of note. Not a bad record, eh? Well, you can guess the name of at least one of the chemists. That's it; I knew you could.

In the same year, 1911, McPherson College was on the hunt for a man to take charge of the chemistry department. Can you guess whom the trustees chose? You're right again. It was the same man you just named. He was exactly the man for the place and he proved that he was. He entered upon the work with enthusiasm to his students. He made chemistry interesting and intensely practical. This it has never ceased to be, under his instruction.

During two years since becoming a member of the faculty Professor Russell was absent, employing his time as a student in the Universities of Nebraska and Minnesota. In both Universities he distinguished himself. His interests in soils was stimulated, and it is in this field of research that part of his work will lie in the University of Minnesota, where he goes next fall to become an instructor.

Prof. Russell has always been a live wire in the various activities which make up college life. He has served as President of the Y. M. C. A. has held almost all the offices in the gift of the Irving Society, is always a booster in athletics, and is at present president of the Alumni Association of

An Open Letter to The Y. M. C. A.

The following open letter was received from the Y. W. C. A. and read in Y. M. C. A. devotionals Wednesday morning. The men enjoyed it so much that they asked that it be published.

Dear Boys of the Y. M. C. A.: For the greater part of the school year we have been meeting you every day and talking with you in a friendly way. We have discussed topics both grave and gay and have enjoyed it very much. But our sisterly hearts will not be completely satisfied until we have written you a letter. For some unaccountable reason we girls have a decided interest in our big brothers.

If you would not be too highly elated we might tell you that we know we have as many boys at our College as can be found. We like you—we are proud of your sterling qualities. We rejoice with you in success, we grieve with you in your sorrows, we admire you in your aspirations, and we suffer in your defeats.

The future of the race, the future of the nation, the future of the world lies dormant in the manhood and womanhood of this generation. Particularly is this true of the college manhood and womanhood which will go out into this sick world to reconstruct, to combat, to cheer, and to heal. No other class of people will be prepared to do this work so well and no other class will feel this responsibility as we.

We do not attempt, in this brief epistle to offer you the ideals for your lives. It would be presumptuous on our part to attempt any such thing. We believe that the ideals which are worthy the ambitions of our McPherson boys have been presented to you many times and in such an able manner that we would only detract if we attempted any lengthy discussion of them. We take it for granted that you have considered and have literally espoused these ideals, that you have made them your own and are bending every effort to realize them, to make yourself worthy of that great blessing—life.

We like to see you in love with life and with its tasks. We like to see you preparing for the biggest life possible. We like to see you undertake the hard things, we want to see you win but we want an honest game. There is a particular thrill passes through us if you can play the game in such a way that your score is the highest—but we don't want you to win if you do so only by causing the downfall of some one else. Above all we want you to have a clean record and don't want you to be put on our "personals."

It is because we feel you are on the firing line and that it is woman's place to be the second line of defense and aid in every possible way that they are writing to you now. Will you permit us to tell you in a friendly way the things we like best in you and if perchance there be found a few things that we don't like so well will you read them and consider them as coming from those who are vitally interested in you?

The Bible is often given as the authority for the statement that "cleanliness is next to Godliness". The author of that statement did not succeed in getting his work in the canon but he certainly was inspired when he wrote it. We admire cleanliness, both physically and morally. We like to see a man who gives scrupulous attention to his personal appearance. He should be so well groomed that he should not be ill at ease in the nicest society. We do not feel that this would involve unnecessary expense. The clothing you have may be kept well brushed, pressed and free from spots even if it is not expensive. Careful attention to the details of one's appearance, brushing the hair, clean teeth and hands, neat gloves and well kept shoes go a long way toward making one pleasing and agreeable to those about him. Remember we want to be proud of you and these smaller matters weigh pretty heavily when we are forced to form an opinion of any one. Cleanliness in person, however, is not all. We feel that we need scarcely say that you must be clean morally as well. Suffice it to say that we believe he who thinks only pure thoughts, says only noble words, does only kind deeds—he is a prince among men.

In speaking of words we remember that occasionally we have heard even from some of our best boys, remarks which are not the kindest. These are often spoken in connection with the individual who is just a little out of the ordinary. Boys, that girl may be odd but she is doubtless very sensitive to the fact. Had you not better be especially watchful that you be kind to her and say kind things about her? We would appreciate very much such an attitude on your part.

We like sincerity in conversation. Once in a while small talk is in place, but we would rather be treated as creatures who have intellects, which, although they may not rank with yours are yet worthy of some attention. The weather may be a vital subject, but just now it is worn threadbare. We do have ideas on conservation, on democracy, on the war, etc., etc., and sometimes we want to air them but you don't give us a chance. Don't be afraid to discuss with us the big problems of life. We are as much interested as you.

Variety is the spice of conversation as well as the spice of life. It is worthy any man's ambition to strive to become an interesting conversationalist. In so doing he will soon learn that the first person, singular number of the personal pronoun should not be too prominent in the conversation.

It may scarcely seem in place to speak of the intellectual side of man's nature when we realize that we are writing to college men. Most of you are working faithfully in the attempt to learn and solve the mysteries of this world. Let us be broadminded—let us not be narrow. We should learn so much of the other fellow that we can appreciate his point of view, even if we cannot agree with him. We admire charity where there is an honest difference of opinion.

On the other hand we do not admire a compromiser who lacks backbone enough to have a decided opinion on any question.

As our social life here at the college is very complex we need to give much heed to the common courtesies which keep the machinery of life running smoothly. We do not feel that the M. C. boys lack seriously this quality but there are a few points that apparently could bear a little added attention.

When you are walking with a lady do you not think it kinder for you to offer her your arm instead of you taking hers? She may be timid and not express her mind on this subject unless you ask her to. Why not consult her about the matter instead of taking it for granted that your way is right. Girls appreciate frankness along these lines.

We believe that you will be glad to know that your special lady is not only concerned in your thoughtfulness for her but notices your consideration of other girls as well. If you are kind to all girls she feels that you are truly courteous but if you are thoughtful only of her wishes she is inclined to doubt your sincerity.

In the dining hall, and in ice cream parlors a gentleman can add to the pleasure of the lady friend by his side by seeing that she is properly seated before he takes his place at the table. The lack of this little kindness as well as poor table manners of any sort is as inexcusable in boys as in girls.

A young man should always assist his lady in putting on her coat. Girls put such stress on these little kindnesses in life.

the College. In whatever line of activity he has been engaged he has always been actuated by a desire to promote the one cause to which all of them minister, the furtherance of the ideals for which the college stands.

And thus it is that we are loathe to lose one who has meant so much to McPherson College, but as he goes to other fields of labor he has the assurance of the abiding friendship of hundreds of students and Alumni and the satisfaction of having served faithfully his beloved alma mater. E. L. C.

Clever Cartoonist Gives Fine Program on Student Ticket Course

The Student Council have not lost their art of providing good numbers on the Student Ticket. Last Wednesday evening Prof. Ebel delighted a large crowd with his drawings and clever cartoons. Many of his cartoons were on the most timely subjects and were much enjoyed. He is unusual in that he can draw equally well with either hand. His humorous pictures were a source of much merriment.

This was the second appearance of Prof. Ebel, who is an art teacher at Tabor College, at McPherson. His reception was as enthusiastic as last year's and he may be assured that M. C. will always be glad to have him.

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet Organized for Coming Year

The Y. W. C. A. election resulted in the following being elected: President, Edna Neher, Vice President, Marguerite Muse, Secretary, Grace Entriken, Treasurer, Lucy Mason, Advisors, Mrs. Fahnestock and Miss Walters.

The cabinet has been completed with Eva Boone as Chairman of the Religious Meeting Committee; Mary Durst, Social; Leah Miller, Social Service; Mayme King, Missions; Nita Cullen Bible Study; and Ione Ebaugh, Association News.

Prospects were never brighter for excellent work in the Woman's Association. This is Miss Neher's first year at McPherson. She is a Junior, College, coming here from Los Angeles

McPherson College to Have First Track Team in History

Athletics are going to be on the boom at M. C. this spring. With the decision to abandon intercollegiate base ball the management decided to put out a track team. This will undoubtedly prove to be a better intercollegiate sport for M. C. than base ball has ever been. The track team this year will be the first one that M. C. has ever had. A dual meet has been arranged for with Bethany and several other meets will be held. In former years Cooper, Bethany and Kansas Wesleyan have held a tri-meet but Bethany is the only one of these schools to have intercollegiate contests this year. The school year ending May 10, it will be necessary to begin practice as soon as possible. The date for the first practice has not been set but will be very soon.

Arrangements have been completed for the building of a fifth of a mile track. It will be laid around the old base ball field east of the Gym. Work will probably commence this week if the weather does not interfere. One hundred yards of the track will be built of cinders. These make an ideal track and it is possible that a greater amount of the track will be built in the same way. All field and track events will be held. The track and field athletics will be coached by Verink who has had much experience in this branch of sport.

Tennis promises to be as popular if not more so this year than last. Already several intercollegiate matches have been scheduled. In addition to men's matches a woman's match with Kansas Wesleyan has been agreed upon. Prof. Studebaker will be the tennis coach.

Mr. Dale Hurt has been working at his home near Ramona the past week. He expects to return to school this week.

Prof. Studebaker and Jonathan Schmidt were in Wichita last Thursday working on Jonathan's exemption claim.

PERSONALS

Prof. Russell made a short trip to K. S. A. C. and K. U. a week ago.

Prof. Mohler was unable to attend classes Saturday on account of illness.

Homer Engle preached at Camp Funston Sunday the 24th of February.

Dr. Harnly and Prof. Craik are working on the catalogue for the coming school year.

Prof. J. H. Yoder left for Morrill, Kansas yesterday. He will be there until Thursday.

Rev. Geo. S. Elkenbury, of Quinter visited over Sunday at the Hill. He was on his way home after visiting his son at Camp Funston.

Henry Stover is again in school after being out several days on account of blood poisoning.

Earl Watkins arrived at Camp Funston last Tuesday night. He has been placed in detention camp number two where he will probably stay for three weeks.

Cadet J. W. L. Maxcey, who is now at Dallas, Texas, graduated from the ground school at Austin, on Feb. 18th. He is waiting orders to proceed to a flying school.

Rev. J. C. Forney was in Wichita the former part of last week.

Prof. Mohler attended the stock show at Wichita, Friday.

The friends of O. Stanley Dresher will be glad that he has received his commission and is now a lieutenant in the 145th Field Artillery. He enlisted last August and his promotion has been rapid. He is at Camp Kearney, Cal.

Arthur Wendt, who graduated from M. C. last year, was in town Tuesday. He is having much success in his work this year, as teacher in the Cottonwood Falls High School. He has been hired for the coming year.

In Theism Dr. Culler asked the class to write a paper on the personality of God, making it so vivid that a 15 year old boy could understand. The next day he asked Wilbur V. for his, whereupon W. confidentially replied, "I thot it would be impossible for me to find any one that knew less than I, so I did not write it."

Naval Reserves Return at End of Furlough

Last Tuesday evening five of the former M. C. boys who enlisted in the Naval Reserve as Radio operators left for the Great Lakes from McPherson. Lester Hoffman, Herbert Hoffman, Chester Ditch, William Brandt, and Arthur Price left from here. C. C. Maxey and Lester Kimmel, who have been visiting at Morrill, Kansas will meet the five at Kansas City and from there will go together to Chicago. The men are to report at the Great Lakes Training Station March 1st.

The boys have had some unusual experiences since their enlistment. They enlisted last November but secured the privilege of not reporting until the 1st of January. After spending a month in the Detention Camp they were given a chance to come home on a furlough. They had been home since the 21st of January.

Latest advices from the boys report their arrival at the Great Lakes Training Station. However they were separated from one another and are no longer in the same barracks as they were before. Also they will be in detention again for 21 days.
