Commencement Address Superb.

DR. JAMES A. BEEBE DELIVERED
MOST EXCEPTIONAL LECTURE

Dr. James A. Beebe, President of the IIII School of Theology of Denver Colorado, spoke most eloquently in interpreting the duty of the college man and woman in the present hour. By way of introduction he chose a situation in the time of Joel which he believed to be analogous to the present world situation. Just as Israel was sandwiched in between and made the football of Assyria and Egypt and their contiguous provinces, so was Belgium made to be the sufferer in the clash between Germany and France, and as Israel looked forward in Messianic hope, to the coming of the Day of Jehova—the Kingdom of God; so Germany drank to and heralded the coming of "Der Tag" of militaristic championship. Like Joel, in apocalyptic imagery, saw the nations of the earth gathered in the Valley of Jehosaphat—meaning decision,—so today the nations have been gathering until approximately 40,000,000 men are figuring in the stupendous "valley of decision."

Following this masterly salutation Dr. Beebe penetrated to the heart of the world confusion with his question—What is the trouble among the nations? And in clarion tones he answered—we have not given ourselves whole-heartedly to certain great principles that must always flourish where men live in peace and fellowship. He insisted that the decision time has come, that the issues are defined and are receiving their answer on the fields of Picardy and Flanders. The world can never go on half moral and half immoral, half social and half unsocial, half religious and half irreligious.

The Speaker brought accumulative proof to convince us that man is a social being, that the human must always and everywhere exist in fellowship, co-operation, and sympathetic endeavor. Gleaning from history's roll Rev. Beebe showed the progress in family life from the time when the father was an autocrat until today the family is an institution in which each exists for the rest, and all exist for each. He also traced a similar development in history thru the respective periods of feuds, clans, city states, until the time of modern nations; so that today our greatest problem is to socialize the international relations—a feat that is possible only thru the Will to Peace. The need of socialization in industry and religion was also asseverated.

It was at this juncture that Dr. Beebe gave the comprehensive discussion of that scene in the upper room where Jesus washed His disciples feet. From this he declared that the servant mood must come upon the nations, and that the greatest among the nations shall be servants of all.

In discussing the second division of his address, namely, that we cannot remain half moral and half immoral, when their God had only limited jurisdiction. The Israelites mixed Baal worship with Jehova worship, upon entering new territory, until Elijah revealed the truth that "Jehova is one God and beside Him there is none other."

Senior Class of 1918

Such, he holds is the ethical situation today. The life of the world is half moral and half immoral. Just as we have attained a standard for family life, and have secured harmony in the Christian Church, so must the process continue until industry, religion, and politics are christianized. Politics must desist from their "ethical bimetalism," and state must become the servant of God.

Since we cannot remain half social and half unsocial, half moral and half immoral, neither can we remain half religious and half irreligious. We can no longer have our holy days and then our holidays, our holy men and our "lay men." For all of life is spiritual. All around this world of sense is the invisible world of spiritual sustenance and power in which we live and move and have our being. The world must come to learn that God has everything to do with life, that the word of the Lord standeth sure. Dr. Beebe rose to his heights when he proclaimed the truth that the ultimate issue of our world struggle lies with God and that they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength. Eventually the knowledge of God shall cover the land as the waters cover the sea.

PROF. BIRGER SANDZEN PRESENTS TWO LITHOGRAPHS TO THE COLLEGE

The Seniors of McPherson College presented a very beautiful landscape painting to their Alma Mater on Thursday morning. This painting is a production of Prof. Sandzen, of our sister college Bethany. The scene is laid in the Rocky Mountains at Estes Park. Mr. Sandzen has chosen to name this work of art, "Twilight in the Mountains."

Words fail us in describing the beauty of the picture. It is the most recent work of the artist and received marked recognition during the recent Art Institute at Kansas City.

expressed a very warm appreciation of Prof. Sandzen and gave appropriate acknowledgement for the two lithographs which were the special gifts of Mr. Sandzen to the College.

President's Annual Reception.

Dr. and Mrs. Kurtz Entertain Seventy Graduates

The annual graduate reception given by President Kurtz was held on last Saturday evening from 8 to 10 o'clock. The home was beautifully arranged; and after the appointment into groups a competitive game inaugurated the program. The ensuing entertainment emanated solely from the faculty. Miss Anne McVey read Kipling's "Explorer," Prof. R. E. Mohler gave a spicy address on the significant subject,—Seniors; after which appeared a most unpredicted feat, the Faculty Quartette composed of Professors Rowland, Swope, Studebaker and Kurtz. The repast consisted of ice-cream and cake of a most delicious variety.

Following this Dr. Kurtz spoke to the graduates his message of helpfulness and hospitality; then bade us adieu with a sincere invitation to return "home" upon various occasions during the years to come. Verily, the Kurtzes are magnificent hosts.

Baccalaureate Sermon.

FRES. D. WEBSTER KURTZ GIVES MASTERLY ADDRESS.

Dr. Kurtz used two texts as a basis for his sermon to the graduating classes of McPherson College.—"Behold I send you forth as lambs among wolves," and "I am come that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly."

In a scholarly introduction he portrayed the awful danger that is facing the world,—the danger of fast drifting into a cultured paganism, the danger that the cause of truth is being delayed when wrong acquires so much power. He gave as a timely example of this paganism the materialism that has swept over Germany in the wake of the Nietzschean philosophy. German leaders are seeking to develop the superman, a criminal, a wild pagan, who gets his power by crushing someone else. Nietzsche claims that there is no God; He is dead and the churches are His tombs. The superman has no morality. He uses the masses as tools to accomplish his purposes.

Dr. Kurtz then contrasted with this paganism the loving philosophy of Jesus Christ, who said "I send you forth as lambs" and "I came that they may have life."—It was his purpose to bring a picture of the Christ. Jesus was not a mere weakling but was the most courageous man that ever lived. The individual who faces the problems of the world today must cultivate the courage of Jesus Christ. His purpose was to give the more abundant life and if we are to attain this life, we must loose, we must invest, and we must spend our lives in service.

Dr. Kurtz made the striking statement that this war is a war between Nietzsche and Jesus Christ. But Christ will not win the war alone. Truth does not come as a matter of course. It is our great task to go forth as living epistles to demonstrate the power of Christianity. We are to go forth as lambs, as life givers, life preservers, life promoters. He impressed upon the graduates the importance of the day. This Baccalaureate should be a dedication. Will it be Nietzsche or Christ, the will to power or the will to serve? There will be no peace, no harmony, no truth itself until Jesus Christ is made King of all.

The great word of Christianity is humility and humility is the way to Democracy. The college graduates of 1918 is called of Jesus Christ to live His gospel in a sick world, to be a life giver in a world of destruction.

Editorial

To the Members of the Commercial Association:

The business management of the SPECTATOR takes this privilege to give a parting word to the Members of the Commercial Association, whose hearty support has made this first year of the publication possible. We have tried to the best of our ability to promote the interest of uptown McPherson among the student body. We have tried to serve you. This has been our aim. We are conscious of the mistakes of the year but we submit the fact that to begin a weekly publication in war time is no small undertaking. At times the outlook has not been the brightest, but we have gotten thru with bills all paid. We believe that a standard college the size of McPherson College can better be represented by a weekly publication. With the desire that we might serve our Alma Mater as a remuneration for our efforts, we have made the venture.

The attitude of the commercial men has been most pleasant. When error has occurred they have taken the most liberal attitude, we believe with the one desire—that of a larger McPherson College. Much inconvenience has been caused by the call to the service of the advertising manager, but your patience has made the otherwise difficulty easier.

To those who contemplate coming to McPherson another year we would say "Buy in McPherson." We believe

The Swan Song

With this number the Spectator makes its final appearance after rounding out a year of more or less popularity. This number also completes the first year of a weekly paper for this college. After the venture this year we are confident that the student body is in favor of keeping the paper a weekly publication. Our sincerest hope is that they will see fit to do so and enlarge and better it with each succeeding year.

We wish to thank everyone who has helped in any way in the publishing of the Spectator. A successful paper means co-operation of all interested. We believe we have had the helpful co-operation of all the students, and we heartily thank them.

PRES. D. WEBSTER KURTZ— AN APPRECIATION

The first of September 1914 Dr. Kurtz took up his work as President of McPherson College. He came to a school in debt financially, not up to the standard educationally, and rather behind in enrollment. In the four years spent here Dr. Kurtz has, largely thru his own effort and initiative placed the school on a solid footing financially, has secured state recognition for the school, and has greatly increased the enrollment. Furthermore there has been built up one of the strongest college faculties in the state, and a library that is perhaps five times as large as when Dr. Kurtz came.

Dr. Kurtz by his life of sacrifice and devotion to his cause has won the admiration and respect of all who know him. He has shown himself to have the interests of every individual student at heart, and he has consistently made a practice of helping those who need help.

He is of untiring zeal and energy, doing the work of three or four ordinary men.—never shirking when he feels that he can be of service. Dr. Kurtz has a true humility and loyalty to God and his cause, which is exceptional in a man of his capabilities.

Dr. Kurtz is living the life of a true Christian, and it is a life which should be an example to every McPherson College student. The picture of Dr. Kurtz will always hold a prominent place on the walls of our memory, and that of one of the few real men on this earth.

FIVE SENIORS IN SERVICE

Three Receive Diplomas. Mishler and Dannelley Lacked Just a Few Points

The College Seniors take unlimited pride in the men that have gone out from their ranks to bear an active share in this stupendous struggle. We know that there is not a finer type of manhood to be found anywhere than that which old M. C. has contributed to this world cause. We like to recall the words of Ellis D. Verink to this effect—and Verink had a chance to know.

Hervin Ellenberger was called on January 13th. He enlisted in one of the Base Hospital Units last May and was waiting his call. Since leaving he has been stationed at Fort McPherson, Ga., and according to all reports is enjoying his work very much. Ellenberger stood at the head of the class and was recognized as one of the most brilliant and original men that M. C. ever graduated.

Lester F. Kimmel enlisted in Radio work last November, reported for duty Jan. 1st, 1918, and was home on a furlough from Jan. 31 to Feb. 26. Kimmel was easily the most skilled flourisher of the pen in M. C. and possesses the finest quality of wit. It was under his direction that The Spectator was initiated amongst us and gained its prestige. He has been missed—and when that is said of one a great deal has been said.

Geo. Earl Watkins was summoned by the draft to Camp Funston on Mar. 4th. Watkins has been there without furlough, since that time. Watty was one of the most dignified members of our class, a clever student, and an estimable fellow. His departure was accompanied with sighs of regret, mingled with a deep appreciation of the significance of that to which he had been called.

Floyd E. Mishler ("Ernie") enlisted under the same conditions as those related in connection with our friend Kimmel. But since returning from a furlough has received unusual opportunities for advancement and is now in Radio training at Harvard University. Mishler was the readiest athlete we had, and the owner of one of the biggest souls that we have ever met. His absence meant disaster to our basket ball season, but a decided gain to Uncle Sam. We regret it that Floyd lacked but a few units required for graduation and will not be permanently recorded as a member of our class, i. e. recorded in black and white—for we will always claim his sympathies and good will.

Paul E. Dannelley enlisted the latter part of the first semester—therefore making it impossible for him to graduate with us. Since then he has been located in the camps of Texas and is at present at Fort Worth. Dannelley is in the chemical laboratories in connection with the army.

Senior Academy Gives Snappy Program

Monday evening, May 6, the Academy Seniors staged what is usually termed their Class Day Program. But they were forced to hold it on a previous date because of the early closing of school.

Ruth John played an instrumental solo with exceptional precision, Marguerite Muse read a delightful cutting from Maeterlink's "Blue Bird." Della Day expounded the class history—a production of noteworthy merit; Howard Engle sang a clever vocal solo; and Lucy Mason indulged in many fantastic hopes and called it a class prophecy. Jessica Carter read very artistically a cutting from Shakespeare's "As You Like It." The class will was given by Earl Bowman; and the program closed with an octette and the presentation of the Insignia.

OUR GRADUATES '18

INDIVIDUAL HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF '18

In taking up my pen to write these few thots concerning the illustrious class of '18 I am confronted with this problem: in what order shall I consider the members of said class? If I should write first of the boys the girls would be offended and very likely visa versa would be equally true. If I should consider them according to height, weight or age, it would probably be quite embarrassing to some, so to be fair to all, I will place them in the order which first occurs to my mind.

Naturally the first person to present himself on my mind's registry is our president, Galen Jones. This worthy Senior has been with our class since we first distributed the M. C. equilibrium in the fall of '14. Mr. Jones, better known as "Bookstore Jones," or "Galard" has always been a staunch supporter of our class, having the honor of guiding us thru both our first and our last years in McPherson College. During his College course Mr. Jones has figured in the following activities: Iconoclast President—1, Baseball—1, Glee Club 1, 2, 3, Class Pres.—1, 4, Y. M. C. A. Cabinet—2, Bull Dogs 1, 2, 3, 4, Debate—3, 4 Student Council—2, Associate Editor Spectator—4.

Next is presented to my view our particular pets and home-builders, the Engles and Schmidts. First the Engles who will always be to us just Homer and Myrta. "Daddy" Engle is one of the patriarchs of the class and has been with us from the beginning. His jolly disposition and wide range of experience have combined to make him one of the most valuable members of the class. We all have a warm spot in our hearts for Homer. While in M. C. Mr. Engle held the following positions, Glee Club 1, Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, Iconoclast President 3.

Myrta has also been with the class since '14 and has been especially prominent in the social events of the class, thereby gaining much valuable experience for use in later life. Mrs. Engle has always been an especially good worker among girls, holding a position on the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet 2, 3. We regret very much that Mrs. Engle cannot graduate with her class mates, but wherever she is she will always be most kindly remembered by the class of '18.

Jonathan has been a hard worker and a loyal member of our class. He has been the college photographer for a number of years, thus working his way thru college. We all admire Jonathan for his untiring efforts in getting an education against adverse circumstances. Mr. Schmidt has held the following offices in M. C.: Glee Club 1, 2, 3, Iconoclast president 1, Y. M. C. A. Cabinet 1, 2, Mrs Schmidt entered M. C. with the class in 1914 and has proved to be one of the most capable members of our class. She has been active in Y. W. C. A. Cabinet 1, 2, Iconoclast Secretary 1, 2. We feel that our four years at M. C. has been worth the while, despite other considerations, because of creating an environment which produced two such happily married couples as the Engles and Schmidts.

Since I have started with those who have been with the class thruout the entire four years I had perhaps better follow that order. Our chemist, Carl Rexroad presents himself, "Rexie" is rather an unassuming chap but when you once really know him you will find a life that is really worth the while. Carl is a loyal Senior and we believe he will make good in his chosen line of work. He has held the following offices at M. C. and Y. M. C. A. cabinet 1, Peace Orator 2, Student Council 2, Debate 2, 4, I. P. A. President 3.

One of our philosophers, Jos. Bowman next presents himself for consideration. "Joe" is another of the more quiet and bashful Seniors, and until quite recently seemed inclined toward 'bachelorhood', but things will change you know, not exceptingly sedate Seniors. Mr. Bowman's offices are as follows: Iconoclast Pres. 2, 3, 4, Debate 3, Student Council 1, 3, Y. M. C. A. Cabinet 2, 3, V. Pres. Y. M. C. A. 3, 4.

W. Vaniman the only remaining member of the class who started in '14. I suppose the least said of him the better, however for the sake of record and with a great deal of modesty the following offices are set down. Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4, Irving Pres. 2, 4, Y. M. C. A. Cabinet 3, Baseball 1, 2, Tennis 3, 4, Ass't Business Mgr. McColpa and M. C. Spirit 3, Choral Union President 3, Pres. Student Council 4.

Several of our class entered during the sophomore year, among them Miss Kathryn Thomas. Kathryn has upheld the voice department of the class of '18 and has always been a present help when a social or a picnic was in the process of making. Miss Thomas has always been prominent in the musical activities of the school, taking a leading part in the oratorio "Belshazzar." Having secured her credits by the middle of the year '18, Miss Thomas accepted a position as musical instructor in a Nebraska school, but she has returned to graduate with the class.

Mr. Samuel Bowman in another of our class who numbers himself among the wedded. He entered our ranks in the Junior year, and by his quiet life of service and devotion has been an inspiration to the rest of us. Mr. Bowman has been especially active in Missionary work, being president of the Volunteer Band 3, 4, and a member of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet 3, 4.

Miss Edith McGaffey also entered our class during the latter part of the Junior year. Edith, with her sunny disposition and capacity for work has been a very inspiring class mate and one who has a warm spot in the hearts of each one of us. Miss McGaffey has been prominent in student activities, being for two years President of the Y. W. C. A. and associate editor of the McCopla and Spectator.

Mr. Roy Phillippi, or known to some as "Tiegue" first announced his presence to the M. C. world and particularly to the class of '18 in our Junior year. Phillippi is a mixture of personalities, but is a fellow who bears acquaintance. He has been found an interesting class mate, who by his keen wit and profound philosophy has made himself a valuable asset to the class.

Phillippi has starred this year in several plays showing remarkable ability as an actor. He was also Business Manager of the Spectator.

Mrs. Eby and Miss Shirk are two members of the class who have been with us only one year. Mrs. Eby is a returned missionary from India. Her wealth of experience, which includes three years a public school teacher, six months in Brooklyn N. Y. mission, three years Director of Religious Education, Seattle Church, and seven and one-half years as a missionary in India, has meant a great deal to the class of '18 and to the entire school. We feel proud indeed to have in the class of '18 such a woman as Mrs. Eby.

Miss Ruth Shirk came to M. C. from Baker University and we are all glad she made the change. Ruth's cheerful disposition has been an inspiration to all of us, and we have all enjoyed very much her association with the class of '18. She has been a class booster and has worked faithfully as our Secretary. We will always have the kindest remembrances of Ruth.

The Class of '18 has three of her boys in service and I have left them to the last because they deserve special honor. Mr. Kimmel has been with the class all thru her struggles and has been an especially valuable member. "Curley" never shirked the hardest work and always had some joke or witticism ready for all. In his modest way he has won for himself a large place in each of our hearts. We all love "Curley" and wherever he goes our best wishes and fond remembrances will follow. Kimmel played a prominent part in all school activities, being the first editor of the McCopla, also of M. C. Spirit, Irving President 3, Student Council 2, and Class Vice Pres. 3.

Earl Watkins entered our class during the latter half of the Junior year. He was a loyal Senior this year and we all regretted it very much when "Watty" was drafted this spring, however we are hoping that he can return for commencement. While at M. C. "Watty" played on the base ball team 2, 3, and was a member of the College Band 3. Watkins is now at Camp Funston.

Hervin R. Ellenberger entered our ranks last fall. He was a most earnest scholar and a profound thinker. We have learned to know Ellenberger this year as we never knew him before, and I am sure the entire class has for him the highest admiration and respect.

This completes the list of those who will graduate but I believe special mention should be made of Mr. Floyd Mishler and Mr. Morris Harnly, who both intended to graduate with this class but felt the call of Uncle Sam before completing their work.

Mr. Harnly volunteered last year as an ambulance driver for immediate overseas service. He is now, after six months training in Italy, a Lieutenant in the air forces of America in France. We all hold Morris in the highest respect and the class of '18 knows that whatever he does he will do with vim and sincerity and altho far away in body he will always be one of the most loyal and best esteemed members of the Class of '18.

Facts and Foibles

At the Junior-Senior Banquet a peculiar incident was occasioned. Dr. Culler was toasting the classes and in speaking to the Juniors he made the assertion that they were probably writing the word Senior after their names like the girls do some boy's name—to see how it looks. Whereupon Ruth Brubaker blushed most fearfully. Upon being accosted about it later she declared that "she guessed she didn't care if she had."
