MANY SCHOOLS ENTER HIGH SCHOOL FESTIVAL

Ellsworth Captures High Honors in Class A—Lorraine and Claffin Take Class B

ELLSWORTH WINS TWO CUPS

Tennis Match Was Called On Account Of Darkness With Roxbury And Sylvan Grove Contesting

Ellsworth high school, captured six first places and totaling altogether 32 1-3 points, won the Class A division of the Seventh McPherson college Invitational here Saturday afternoon. Lorraine and Claffin took 21 points each to win Class B honors and Lyons finished second to Ellsworth in Class A. The sweepstakes trophy went to Ellsworth as did the cup for individual high point honors, James Mallr, captain of the Kittens, capturing 15 points by taking firsts in the century, furlong and broadjump. Zvolanek, weight man capturing both shot and discus, added ten points to the Ellsworth score while Bryan won the javelin for the same team.

Meet records were made by Bryan, who hurled the javelin 152 feet, 6 1-2 inches against a terrific wind which swept from the south, rolling the participants and fans in clouds of dust; by Dees, Lorraine freshman who tossed the shot 48 feet 1 3-4 inches to win the Class B shot and by Gray of Newton in the pole vault, clearing 11 feet 2 7/8 inches.

Hurdle races and century dash were run with the wind on the backs of the runners, but the furlong was run directly into the teeth of the gale.

McPherson high school captured the Class A mile and half mile relays while the medley event went to Sterling. In Class B, Claffin won the half mile and medley and Pretty Prairie won the mile event. It was a third in this event, last of the day, which enabled the Claffin team to the Lorraine.

In Class B, Republic sent a two man team which won the 440, 880 and mile runs with ease, Miller capturing the mile and Van Nordstrom winning the quarter and half.

Many schools entered in the McPherson meet passed it up, having made attempts to qualify meek during the meet for the sectional meet, to Salina late this week. In other years the McPherson meet, like other large ones, has been direct qualification for the state but this year with the sectional meets being run in only eight towns the meet became but a qualification for the sectional and several schools picked easier meets in which to qualify.

A girls track meet, including a half mile walk, quarter mile run, 100 yard dash, baseball throw, and the broad and high jump was held in connection with the boys meet, and under the direction of the Women's A. A. of McPherson College. About 10 high schools entered teams.

The Summary:
Class A.
 100-Yard Dash—Mallr, Ellsworth; Nichel, Lyons; Daniel, Sterling, Time, 10.1 sec.

MEN'S CHORUS ON STUDENT COUNCIL PROGRAM

The Bethel College Men's Chorus, directed by Prof. A. D. Schmutz, will give a concert in the chapel Wednesday, May 2 at 7:30. This organization has an enviable reputation in Kansas music circles for its fine choral offerings. It was second place in the Kansas Inter-Collegiate contest at Winfield last spring against strong competition.

The director is a man of broad musicianship and a pleasing personality. This pianist-organist-composer is a member of the Bethel College music faculty. Prof. Schmutz was president of the Kansas State Music Teachers Association last year.

A varied program of real merit is assured. This concert is given under the auspices of the McPherson College student council.

MINNEAPOLIS LITTLE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Director Henri Verbruggen Pleases Capacity House With Unusual Concert

McPHERSON FORTUNATE

Concert Is Featured With Miss Veerland, Soloist—Concert Enthusiastically Applauded

Perhaps the biggest musical event in the history of McPherson occurred Thursday evening when the Minneapolis Orchestra, under the direction of Henri Verbruggen, gave a concert in the new auditorium.

This organization, judged by music critics as the finest of its kind, proved a delight to the musician and the layman alike, as was indicated by the enthusiastic applause. Everyone of the more than fifty musicians is an artist. They were able to produce any effect from the most delicate pianissimo to the extreme bravura style at the will of the conductor, who gave a most articulate interpretation throughout the program. Clearness of outline, solidity, fine shadings and balance of parts and perfect ensemble were always in evidence. The frequent prominence of the wood-wind instruments were especially effective.

The two outstanding numbers of the program were "The Carnival Romain" Overture by Berlioz and Overture to "Tannhauser" by Wagner. In these the orchestra and conductor displayed the virtuous and interpretative ability.

The soloist, Miss Jeanette Veerland, was a soprano with a beautiful voice and fine training.

The orchestra gave a concert to a capacity house, both in the afternoon for school children and the evening concert. At both the musicians were liberal with their encores. McPherson was fortunate to successfully sponsor the presentation of such an organization.

Following is the evening program.
 1. Overture, "Carnaval Romantique," Op. a Berlioz.
 2. Micaela's Aria, "Je dis que rien ne m'épouvante" from "Carmen," Bizet.
 3. Selections from "Carmen," Bizet.

(a) Prelude and Aragonaise.
 (b) Intermezzo.
 (c) The Dragons of Alcalá.
 (d) Toreador Song.
 (e) The Guard Mount.
 (f) Douse Bohème.

Intermission.
 4. (a) Prelude to "Khowan-china," Moussorgsky.
 (b) Dance of the Nymphs and Satyrs, G. Schumann.

5. Aria, "Oh Patria Mia," from "Aida," Verdi.
 6. Overture "Tan hauser," Wagner.

It is an embarrassing moment in a man's life when he flees from temptation and it refuses to follow.

PROF. HESS ENTERTAINS DEBATORS AND ORATORS

Debate, Program And Refreshments Constitute Delightful Evening For Guests

THIRTEEN ARE PRESENT

Coach Is Presented Shaffer Pen And Pencil Set, And Pair Of Book Ends By Debators

The debaters and orators of McPherson College were entertained by Prof. and Mrs. Hess at their home Friday evening.

The feature of the evening was a debate on the question—Resolved: The person who makes us think is more beneficial than the person who makes us laugh. The affirmative was upheld by Floy Brown and Ira Idhe, the negative by Fern Galle and Ralph Frantz. The guests served as judges returning the decision for the affirmative. "Find the Monkey," a game original with Prof. Hess, was played with much interest.

Mrs. Hess served refreshments consisting of sandwiches, pickles and punch; fruit ice cream, angel food cake and nuts. She was assisted by Misses Gwen Galle, Ruth Blickestaff and Evelyn Richards.

The Varsity Debators presented Prof. Hess with a green pen and pencil set, a symbol of appreciation for his success with his "green" team. A pair of book-ends was the token given by the Girls' Debate team.

Those present were: Misses Floy Brown, Ruth Anderson, Nina Still, Fern and Gwen Galle, Ruth Blickestaff, Evelyn Richards; Messrs. Philip Spohn, Ira Idhe, Ralph Frantz, Murlin Hoover, Lawrence Lehman and Lloyd Diges. Regrets were received from Keith Hayes, Henry Hall and John Whitehead.

DR. AND MRS. SCHWALM RETURN FROM INDIANA

President and Mrs. Schwalm returned Friday night from Munice, Ind., where they had been called on the Sunday previous by the illness and death of Mrs. Schwalm's father, Alexandria Studebaker. His death occurred Monday morning, April 23. The Schwalm's were unable to drive the distance before his death arriving there Monday night. Mrs. Schwalm had been in Munice several weeks a short time ago. Students and friends extend sincere sympathy to the family at this time.

PROGRAM IS PRESENTED BY CECILIAN MUSIC CLUB

The Cecilian Music Society presented a program different from those usually given at its meetings last Thursday evening in the chemistry lecture room.

Prof. Lewis Doll gave an hour's slide lecture, a historical survey of the spread of music beginning with the traveling troubadour in the king's palace, continuing to the old fashioned singing school, and concluding with the picture of thousands of children assembled in a park in New York City for chorus singing during National Music Week.

Records by the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra were played. More such programs are planned for next year.

The average man is worried to death by two kinds of women: Those who can't forget him and those who remember him.

HESS MAKES POSTER OF M. C. ACHIEVEMENTS

The fact that McPherson College has won a great number of honors and has been active in many departments was graphically brought to mind last Friday morning by the poster of Spectator clippings made by Prof. Maurice A. Hess. The display, which included headlines and articles concerning sports, forensics, fine arts, scholarship attainments, student organization activities, social functions, church, and president's inauguration and the pictures that have appeared in the Spectator, took a great deal of time to prepare. It not only indicates the progress of the college but also proves that Prof. Hess is a booster and is interested in the student activities.

WESLEYAN COYOTES WIN BASEBALL GAME

Salina Takes Big End Of 4-0 Game On Local Field Last Monday

BULLDOGS ARE IMPROVING

Saylor Pitches For Bulldogs—Boltcourt For Coyotes—Few Hits Made Throughout Game

By bunching three hits in the first inning for two runs and then scoring on errors in the sixth and seventh, the Kansas Wesleyan Coyotes shut out the McPherson Canines 4-0 in Monday's baseball game. Boltcourt was working effectively in the box for the Salinians with ten strikeouts and allowing only three hits. Saylor, for McPherson struck out ten men and allowed only ten hits to the visitors.

Both teams seemed to be at the stick and the fielding of both sides was confined to but few chances. Miller pulled a spectacular catch of a high fly when he hung over the fence to hold the ball. Sargent, first sacker for the Coyotes and Hawkins, Canines captain each got a three-base hit, while Parman, Coyote center field scored a two-bagger.

First Inning.
 Saylor opened on the mound for McPherson by striking out the first two men. Captain Taylor hit a single into left field, Sargent sent a liner through Bigham which went for three bases scoring Taylor. Sargent going to third. Parman doubled to left to score Sargent. Jilka was thrown out at first. Three hits, two runs, one error.
 Boltcourt struck out Yoder, Bowers walked to first but was caught stealing second—Taylor to Muck, Saylor went out at first. No hits, no runs, no errors.

Second
 Sprinkle went out at first, Hays and Boltcourt struck. No hits, no runs, no errors.
 Hawkins lined a crash through right field for three bases, Barngrover went out at first, Graham and Bigham struck out. One hit, no runs, no errors.

Third Inning
 Muck went to first on pass balls. Jung advanced the runner on a safe bunt, Taylor bunted safely filling the bases, Sargent forced Taylor out at second, going out himself on a double play. Parman was thrown out at first. One hit, no runs, one error, two left on.
 Jilka went out at first, Sprinkle went to first when Saylor dropped a high fly. Hays hit into right field, advancing Sprinkle. Boltcourt hit into a double play. One hit, no runs one error.
 Bowers and Saylor struck out, Hawkins fouled to Taylor. No hits, no runs and no errors.

Fifth Inning
 Muck grounded to Miller. Jung struck out. Taylor went to first on a bunt. Sargent was thrown out at

JUNIOR SENIOR BANQUET ENGLISH COURT STYLE

Knights And Ladies Of 1928 Guests Of Class Of 1929 At King Arthur's Court KING AND QUEEN SPEAK

Color Scheme Of Purple And Gold Is Carried Throughout Decorations In Elaborate Fashion

Tuesday evening at seven o'clock the Classes of 1928 and 1929 joined each other in the basement of the Brethren Church for the banquet. The scheme was entirely that of Medieval English Court style, displaying the plans of the Round Table of that period, with the King and Queen as the occupants of the throne prepared for them.

The decoration was entirely in the royal color of purple and gold, which are the Senior colors. Around the walls hung purple and gold drapings, with here and there a shield and its battle axe and sword. All the light of the Royal Court was given by candles displaying greatly the spirit of the court scene. On the tables were wreaths of flowers in the desired color.

As all the knights and ladies were gathered the bagle call came for the rest of the feast. One by one the people marched to find their places at the table. The Banquet which awaited them was:

Orange Phosphate.
 Creamed Chicken in Timbales.
 Waxed Beans, Canned Sweet Potatoes, Buttered Hot Rolls, Grape Ice.
 Spanish Jello Salad.
 Brick Ice Cream, Cake, Coffee, Nuts, Opera Slices.

This four-course dinner was served by twelve waiters and waitresses dressed in Colonial style, while August San Roman's orchestra entertained with classical music.

The program was as follows:
 Toast-master, Harold Fasnacht.
 The Summons, Miss Eunice Longsdorff.

The Echo, Mr. Lavelle Saylor.
 The Setting, Miss Della Lehman.
 Piano Solo, Miss Fern Lingenfelter.

Chivliary, Mr. Philip Spohn.
 The Favor, Miss Portia Vaughn.
 The Quest, Prof. R. E. Mohler.
 The royal color scheme was carried out in the menu as much as possible, and programs were printed in gold and purple. The program followed the round table style, Miss Longsdorff, president of junior class, representing the Queen and Mr. Saylor, president of senior class, the king.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS AT C. E. SUNDAY

The Christian Endeavor Society last Sunday evening held their annual election. The officers elected were: President, Velma Wine; Vice-President, Irene Gibson; Correspondent, Clara Burgin; Recording Secretary, Ruth Blickestaff; Treasurer, Warren Staler; Committees—Prayer meeting, Mildred Swanson; Missionary, Letta Wine; Social, Floy Brown; Sunshine, Helen Hudson; Music, Mildred Wipe and Arlene Saylor; Pianist, Loyd Johnson.

After the election, Reverend Touch told of some of his travels in West Virginia, bringing a distinct challenge to the C. E. folks to dedicate their lives to Christian service.

Next Sunday morning, as a closing social event, the C. E. is sponsoring a breakfast out-of-doors. No breakfast will be served in the College dining room, so all that want breakfast and plenty of fun are expected to be present. The party will leave the Administration building at 6 A. M.

The University of California is the largest University in the United States in point of enrollment with 17,311 students in attendance this year.

DIAGNOSIS

"Education suffers in America from confusion of purposes." H. W. Holmes, dean of the Harvard graduate school of education, told a Crimson reporter, in another diagnosis of the country's educational ills. "Justified a hundred-fold in our faith in schooling as an instrument of democracy," he said, "we have cared more for the spread of education than for its fitness for specific ends."

"The root of the difficulty lies in the relationship between the secondary schools and the colleges. Our students come to college 'prepared,' but with hardly the beginnings of an education. Contrasted with the students in English and Continental secondary schools, they must be rated, age for age, markedly inferior. There is no thoroughness or consistency in our school system. Our schools suffer from that disease that keeps them permanently enfeebled—'credititis,' the itch for credits, points, units, and semester hours. We are in the midst of a generation of students and teachers obsessed with the notion that organization in education means more than anything else. Educationally we are a nation of credit hunters and degree worshipers. Studies are considered mere payments demanded for the fun of being in school and the later privileges of college life. The student knows he can drop the 'stuff' he is studying as soon as he has 'cashed in' at the entrance gates what he is learning at school. With such a system there is no searching inquiry into educational values, and the true worth of study is obscured.

"The commanding problem of liberal education in America is the problem of uniting secondary education and collegiate education without denying the essential characters and modern development of either. To find a remedy for the existing situation is a difficult problem. The system of concentration and distribution, now used here at Harvard, with general examinations at the final stages of progress in the subjects of concentration might be tried in the preparatory schools, and prove the solution to the problem. There must be, however, co-operation with the colleges, and one college must take the lead in starting a new system.

ESTES PARK STUDENT CONFERENCE JUNE 6-16

Estes Park? A beautiful spot among the mountains. The best place in this part of the country to spend a vacation. But it will mean this and more to a group of college and university students who will gather at the Association Camp for the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. Joint Student Conference, June 6 to 16.

It will be a Student Conference in every sense of the word. Students in cooperation with the Regional Secretaries are making plans for the Conference. Two students executives, Eugene Link of the College of Emporia, Emporia, Kansas, and Mary Kinney, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Nebraska will preside at the sessions of Conference. The theme of the ten day meetings, "The Enrichment of Personal Personality" will be taken from a truly student viewpoint.

The Conference—ten days of inspiration, fellowship and real thinking, in a camp site shut off from the rest of the world by the mountain peaks of the Rockies.

Inspiration—from the platform addresses—from the scenic surroundings—from contact with other students—from contact with students from other lands and from contact with student leaders.

Fellowship—found in quiet groups—in friendship hours around the campfire—in campus hours—along the mountain trails—watching the sunrise from the mountain peaks—fishing in the mountain streams and picnicking and meditating under the pines.

Real thinking—led by Sherwood Eddy, Norman Thomas and Reinhold Niebuhr, the platform speakers. Thinking—in the quiet groups on such thought stimulating subjects as "Paths to Peace" and "Foreign Relations". Thinking on campus problems and solutions for these problems.

—One student who attended the Conference last year sums up her experience. "To me Estes meant getting down to rock bottom. The sand and the mud of our personal and group prejudices were out of the way. We dealt with realities and because of that, I came away with a deeper consciousness, actual friendships, where only surface acquaintances had existed before and an insight into problems I had not sensed before. Words cannot and do not express all that it meant!"

THE AUSTINS WRITE READERS OF SPECTATOR

It might be of interest to some of the readers of the Spectator to know that the Austins are still busy at their task of evangelization and are enjoying their work very much. They are now engaged in their one hundred and fifty-first campaign since they began in this field eleven years ago. During this time they have had the privilege of leading practically three thousand souls to faith in the Christ. They have worked from coast to coast.

At the present time they are at the Plum Creek Church near Elderton, Pennsylvania. And as a bit of history it might be of interest to know that a school was at one time started here but in 1877 it was merged into Juniata College. "In 1874 Elder Lewis Kimmel, assisted by Howard Miller, began a school in the Plum Creek meeting house, one mile from Elderton, Pennsylvania. He gave the institution the name of the Plum Creek Normal School. Only three students were enrolled the first day, but the school soon gained a large patronage and in the spring of 1875 had an enrollment of about 100, a large proportion of whom were teachers or those preparing to teach. This is not unlike our schools of today in the fact that many are preparing for the teaching profession.

The school was very unfavorably located from the standpoint of railroad facilities but in natural beauty and scenery, it could hardly be surpassed. The building, which is now the church, stands nestled away among the hills, a very picturesque little spot. Indeed, at the rear of the building is an ever flowing brook with a forest covered hillside in the background. Other hillside have been cleared of their forests and are now under a state of cultivation.

After this meeting the Austins have two more campaigns before their vacation begins, one in Pennsylvania and one in West Virginia. They will spend their vacation in Denver, Colorado, but will stop enroute for a few days visit at their Alma Mater.

—The Austins.

Bulldogmas

Harlett Hopkins is sick with the Mumps. Came down with them Sunday while on a deputation trip. Harold Pasnacht sent a special delivery to his mother the same day to rush two pair of pajamas as it won't be long now. Mumps sure are contagious.

Bigham—"Incidentally I am some what of a genius."

Rock—"Who told you that?"

Bigham—"My mother, for one."

Rock—"Oh huh! She told you there was a Santa Claus too!"

Raymond—"That girl is sure a puzzle to me."

Randall—"I don't see anything no concealed about her."

The age of miracles is not past. Let's wife looked around and turned into a pillar of salt and to day the modern lady looks around and turns into a telephone pole.

Salesman—"What the responsible party about the office?"

Jessie Churchill—"I don't know who the responsible one is but I'm the girl who takes the blame."

Dear Reader:

We are not sure whether he goes with her or she with him or just go with each other.

Little Essays on Money and Banking

Federal Reserve Policy

The three chief elements of the policy of a central bank may be found in its attitude towards: (1) gold; (2) currency; (3) credit. The regulation of the flow and volume of credit is, however, in the last analysis the primary function of the Federal reserve bank, and whatever policy they may take with respect to gold and currency must be determined largely from the policy pursued with respect to credit.

Broadly speaking there are three ways through which the reserve system can influence the character and volume of bank credit in its attitude towards: (1) the use of discretion in the granting of loans; (2) the determination of discount rates, and (3) open-market policy. The policies of the Reserve banks in the past have been formulated largely to meet special needs such as war time exigencies, and post war expansion and contraction. The retardation of the flow of credit in times of expansion, and the acceleration of the flow of credit in times of business recovery following depression has been plainly evident in the past few years.

A great variety of factors enter into the determination of an appropriate discount policy. Among these are the state of business, industry, and trade, the state of the money markets, international gold movements, seasonal conditions and needs, accidental economic disturbances, the stage of the business cycle, price movements, and the state of bank reserves.

When Dad was a "Modern Youth"

Bicycles, stereopticon lectures, and the "gilded" youths with their horses and carts; at night the midnight oil burning in student lamps while the gas lights glared and flickered across the campus—the gay nineties when Dad was in college seem primitive to us to-day.

Now it's sport roadsters, the movies, and radios. At night the MAZDA lamp replaces the midnight oil in dormitory rooms, while modern street lighting sheds its friendly glow over the campus.

Without electricity we would have none of these improvements. To-day's marvel of electrical invention becomes to-morrow's accepted utility. In the coming years, by taking advantage of new uses of electricity you will be able to go so much farther that the "tearing twenties", will seem just as primitive as the "gay nineties".

Scientists in the research laboratories of the General Electric Company keep G.E. a leader in the field of electrical progress. Skilled G.E. engineers develop each latest invention. The G.E. factories carry out the engineers' designs with high-quality material and expert workmanship.

"GIVE ME A WILD TIE, BROTHER"

Some men long
 For the soothing touch
 Of lavender, cream or mauve,
 But the ties I wear
 Must possess the glare,
 Of a red hot kitchen stove.
 The books I read,
 And the life I lead,
 Are sensible, sane and mild;
 I just hate spats,
 I wear clean hats,
 But I want my neckties wild,
 Give me a wild tie, brother—
 One with a cosmic urge,
 A tie that will swear,
 And rip and tear,
 When it sees my old blue serge.
 Some folks say that a man's cravat
 Should only be seen, not heard;
 But I want a tie
 That will make men cry,
 And render their vision blurred.

I yearn, I long
 For a tie so strong
 It will take two men to tie it.
 If such there be,
 Show it to me—
 Whatever the price, I'll buy it.
 Give me a wild tie brother,
 One with a lot of sins;
 A tie that will blaze in a hectic maze
 Down where the vest begins.

The Crime of Neglect

With buildings in ruins, and finances low, the future appears dark indeed to the fire or storm VICTIM, as he meditates upon his loss, and contemplates replacing his property.

At a very slight cost, he could have provided himself and his FAMILY, with full assurance that should disaster come, it would find them prepared and protected against financial loss and worry.

The cost is SO LITTLE when insured under our profit sharing plan—with convenient terms of payment. Phone 148X or J for Protection.
