COMMENCEMENT WEEK IS BEING WELL FILLED

President's Reception Will Be First Event Of Commencement Week

"OUTWARD BOUND" TUESDAY

Dr. Charles A. Ellwood Will Give 73rd Commencement Address

Commencement week will be one of the most eventful weeks on the school calendar this year. An outstanding program will be given each day in commencement week which according to the calendar of events issued by the administration office recently, will be the week, May 24-31. In addition, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday are being given over to the second semester final examinations.

The President's Reception to the College Seniors will be held in the Schwalm home at 321 Olive street, Saturday evening may twenty-fifth at eight o'clock.

Sunday, May twenty-sixth has been designated as the annual homecoming Sunday. Dr. Frank H. Crumpacker of China will preach the Homecoming sermon at eleven in the morning. Sunday evening at eight, Dr. Vernon F. Schwalm, McPherson College President, will preach the Baccalaureate Sermon in the College Church.

The Seniors will present their class play, Sutton Vane's "Outward Bound" in the Community auditorium at eight o'clock on Tuesday evening. This offering of the Class of 1929 is reported to be the most complete and stupendous effort that any class has ever done in the Middle West.

The final Chapel service will be held at ten o'clock on Wednesday morning, and from all indications it promises to be one of the richest and best of such experiences of the year. A portion of the period will be given over to the presentation of awards in recognition of excellence in the various lines of student activity. Some time will be devoted to the singing of hymns and college songs and a large share of the time will be devoted to speaking and informal talks, by faculty members and some of the students. It is probable that this year's service will be quite similar to that one last year.

Thursday has been designated as Class Day. In the morning at ten the Annual Class Day program will be given by the Class of '29 in the College Chapel. At six-thirty in the evening the Annual Alumni banquet for the graduating class will be held in the College Church basement.

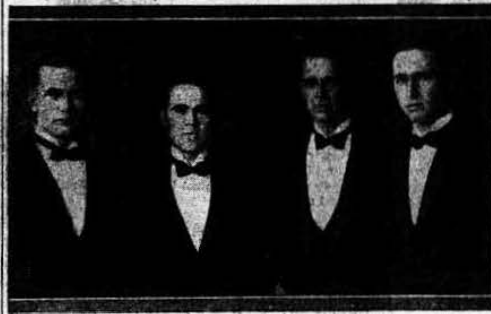

The Forty-first Annual Commencement will be held in the College Church Auditorium at ten o'clock on Friday morning. My thirty-first, Dr. Charles A. Ellwood, head of the Sociology Department of the University of Missouri and a speaker of national recognition, will deliver the commencement address. The title of the address has been announced as "Europe and the American Ideal". Plans are also being made to have Dr. Ellwood give his address, "Christianizing Our Civilization" on Friday evening at one of the downtown churches.

W. A. A. MAKE PLANS

Plans for the coming year were discussed by the executive board of the Women's Athletic Association in their meeting last Thursday evening. Among other things, the group considered the possibility of making a sports schedule for all girls' sports, a change in the awards for health rates, and nominations for candidates for student council representative and student committee chairman.

Lawrence Barnhart, A. B., '28, who has been teaching in the Elk City, Okla. schools, is now visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. Roy Teach.

TO BROADCAST FROM KFH, WICHITA TOMORROW EVENING

Tomorrow evening from 10 to 11 o'clock the McPherson College Male Quartette will broadcast a varied program from radio station KFH, Wichita. From left to right, Lloyd Diggs, first tenor; Walter Fillmore, second tenor, Fred Ellis baritone, (Oliver Ikenberry is now filling Mr. Ellis' place), and Ross Curtis, bass. The quartet will be assisted by Mrs. Anna Tate, director and soprano, and Loyd Johnson, pianist.

QUADRANGLE OUT MAY 27

Mr. Robert Puckett and Mr. Marvin Steffen announce that the 1929 Quadrangle will be ready for distribution the last week of school, probably on Monday, May 27. Members of the staff under the direction of Mr. Puckett, editor, and Mr. Steffen, business manager, have done everything in their power to make this year's book representative as well as unique. Students are anticipating the day of distribution.

PROF. R. E. MOHLER

BUSY WITH ADDRESSES

Prof. R. E. Mohler has been busy most of the past week giving commencement addresses. The cities in which he spoke were, Waldo, Zook, and Alexander. This week he will speak at Ness City, Bazile, Window, and Vesper.

ANOTHER ENGAGEMENT

A recent issue of the La Verne "Campus Times" contains an article concerning the announcement of the engagement of Miss Mary Blickenstaff, La Verne alumna, to David Brubaker, graduate of McPherson. Miss Brubaker is now teaching in the La Verne elementary schools and Mr. Brubaker has a position in one of the California high schools.

The end is in sight and even the best of sweethearts must part. Indeed it is sad but the sweethearts back home are eagerly waiting for their loved ones to come home to do some loving. "Oh yes, we have been faithful and I have never dated another girl all year"—What a lie, what a lie!

Only one more Sunday to bill and oo and to walk down to the entrance with locked hands and sweetly interchanged glances—what a life; only to end after nine months of work and play—mostly play.

The ad building will be inhabited over time after Monday the 27-28-29-30. The 19:20 whistle will have no answering echo of surging feet up the steps of Arnold Hall and parking space will be at a premium.

Missouri and Louisiana will have to compromise by promising to send daily newspapers thither and thence. The daily will refuse to be syndicated however and the "Personals" will make up most of the space.

Louisiana and Kansas will part sadly and the little fairy will weep tears and sobs as she is torn from the "bowers" of Illies.

Idaho and Kansas (Abilene) are a vast distance apart but it is wonderful what electricians and telegrams will do. Mail will not even be

Hope and Newton are not far and the bus lines and trains connect each nicely which is well for there will be increased transportation on some of this summer. Someone could make a fortune if commission could be collected.

Price and Minnowa are not well connected by rail so it is feared that Uncle Sam will be bowed down with his load of air mail which will circulate much and many times.

Quilter and Rich Hill, Missouri are distant and far and it is possible that only dim strains of music and dreams of rich dark curly hair will bridge the gap between these centers of industry.

Glasco and Western Kansas will unite in a meeting in which long distance telephones have no part. May the wheat harvest be big and the reaping joyful.

This is the question—will Overbrook be "Rush" and this summer? Red hair is a powerful incentive and Rush suggested that the title of this feature be "June Brides" so it is plain to be seen how some people's minds do "Rush" to conclusions.

Morrill and Nickerson will be united in one state—the state of matrimony in June. Some people have all

TRUST FUND PROPOSAL IS GIVEN IN CHAPEL

At a mass meeting held in the chapel Thursday morning the proposal of a permanent campus improvement fund, in the form of a trust, was presented to the student body. The meeting was in charge of Keith Hayes.

Dr. J. J. Yoder briefly discussed what $500 spent annually could do for the campus. He expressed the desire that he would like to see the campus as beautiful as any city park. Dr. Yoder brought out the fact that our campus needs a greater variety of trees, more shrubbery, and more flower beds. He also stated that $500 annually could take care of the up-keep of the campus.

Mr. F. A. Vaniman, president of the Peoples State Bank of this city, spoke of the principle of thrift. Mr. Vaniman brought out that thrift was the principle of saving.

Keith Hayes read the proposal, stating that it was not a plea of one particular class, but a cooperation of all classes. The proposal was unanimously adopted by the classes in their various class meetings Friday morning. It reads as follows:

We, the members of the classes of 1929, 1930, 1931, and 1932, wishing to establish a permanent Campus Improvement Fund for McPherson College, do hereby bind ourselves to establish such a fund according to the provisions hereinafter set forth:

Section 1. We agree to add to the gift of the Class of 1926, donated for the purpose of campus improvement, the cash balances (1) in the treasury of each of the above named classes upon graduation. These balances shall consist of the funds customarily used as a gift to the college

ALBERT PHILIPPI AND ELMA OAKES MARRIED

On Sunday, May 19, Miss Elma Oakes and Albert Philippi were married at the Rev. George Merkey home in Abilene. Reverend Merkey performed the ceremony. The bride and groom were attended by Miss Jeanne Vionget and Walter Fillmore of McPherson College. The bride and groom are both former students of McPherson College, the groom being a member of the class of '28. Mr. Philippi plans to return to Plevna for the coming school term. The couple will spend the summer in Kansas, Nebraska and Wisconsin.

SOCIAL FUNCTIONS ENDED FRI. NIGHT

Banquet Is Held Friday Evening in The Y. W. Room

BLICKENSTAFF, TOASTMASTER

A Varied And Interesting Program Was Enjoyed By Both Cabinets

Concluding its social functions for the year, the Y. W. C. A. cabinet members entertained in honor of their advisors and the members of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet and their advisors last Friday evening at an eight o'clock dinner in the Y. W. room. A red and white color scheme was used in the table decorations and in the menu. Toasts, musical numbers, and a reading constituted the program following the meal at which Miss Ruth Blickenstaff presided as toast master.

Red geraniums and white spirea made up the center piece, and white candles in candlesticks tied with red tulle cast a soft glow over the table. The color scheme was further carried out in the red mint cups filled with white mints and in the white triangular program placecards printed in red.

After the twenty-five guests had seated themselves a three course dinner consisting of grapefruit cocktail with candied cherry centers, veal cutlets, scalloped potatoes, apparatus on toast, red apple rings, tomato salad, Parker house rolls, strawberry parfait, wafers, and coffee was served by the Misses Lillian Horning, Ruth Trostle, and Ada Statman.

Following the first course Miss Naomi Whitmore as vice-president of the Young Women's organization welcomed the guests in a brief talk on "The Red Triangle" to which Emory Metzger, president of the Y. M. C. A., responded by speaking on "The Blue Triangle".

At the conclusion of the meal Lawrence Turner sang "The Big Bear Viol" and "That Bear Little Girl." John Lehman spoke on "Parallelograms" pointing out the fact that two triangles, when placed side by side make a parallelogram and showing the similarity between the two "Y" organizations on the campus. Miss Bernice McClellan read "Oh, No," and a trio composed of Misses Eugene Dawson and Hand Falls and Walter Fillmore concluded the program by singing "Comrades of the Road". After expressing their appreciation for an enjoyable evening the guests departed.

The guests present were: Prof. and Mrs. Hugh Heckman, Mrs. V. F. Schwalm, Misses Della Lehman and Mildred Lamb, Emory Metzger, John Lehman, Paul Bowen, Clarence Zink, Milton Early, Lawrence Turner, Fred Andrews, Glenn Harris, and Walter Fillmore. Regrets were received from Dr. V. F. Schwalm and Harold Crist. The hostesses were the Misses Ruth Blickenstaff, Naomi Whitmore, Hazel Falls, Eugene Dawson, Lila Sherry, Beth Hess, Irene Gibson, Helen Flory, Nina Hamman, Bernice McClellan, and Mildred Swanson.

THANK YOU

With this, the last issue of the "Spectator," the necessity of our contributions to these columns ceases. We beg no apology for them, the readers have already been kind; and any way why apologize for that to which we have attempted to give our best. We use this means of thanking a loyal and able staff. The interest in the task at hand, the cooperation, and the faithfulness to duty of each staff member have made this paper possible. These qualifications are sincerely appreciated by the editor. The efficiency of the business staff has been invaluable. The support they secured from the advertisers of the city has been indispensable. The work of the associate editor has been outstanding and his qualifications as editor of the 1929-30 "Spectator" have been thoroughly proved. Again to these people we say, "Thank you".

THE SPRINGBOARD OF SUCCESS

As the commencement season approaches we begin to realize that the seniors have come to a place in life, the attainment of which merits recognition. Then we begin to talk about milestones and the like. Milestones seem somewhat prosaic to connect with a time so full of aspiration and hope as commencement. They seem to suggest a bit of finality, and commencement is not a final thing, it is a beginning. Someone wonders why we do not call it a stepping stone. That does put in a little more nearly our interpretation of the idea, but something with more significance is needed.

We like to think of the commencement season as a springboard. How strange, and really not beautiful at all! Perhaps, but there is a resemblance. Our graduates stand on the brink of the sea of life, ready, anxious to venture forth. The swim may depend on the way in which the swimmer leaves the spring board. A lot depends on the springboard too, whether or not it is new and strong and fitted for its work. The springboard from which our seniors start on their swim of life is just as strong as the efforts put forth in college have made it. Its spring is determined by the quality of preparation that has been made in the years preceding its use. It is our wish as our graduates leave this springboard that it be a springboard of success and that their course on the sea of life may be fruitful and happy.

TICKLERS

The guy that whites Bulldogmas did so there won't be any in this issue.

He was home from college on his mid-year vacation, and his mother was unpacking his clothes and hanging them in the closet.

She found a pawn ticket hanging from one of the buttons of his coat. "Clarence, what is this tag on your coat?" she asked.

"Oh, that's a check, mother; I was at a dance and checked my coat".

Presently mother handed out a pair of trousers and these, too, bore a tag.

"Clarence," said she, "just what kind of dance was that?"

THE THINKER

Back of the beating hammer By which the steel is wrought. Back of the workshop's clamor The seeker may find the thought. The thought that is ever master Of the iron and steam and steel, That raises above disaster And tramples it under heel!

The drudge may fret and tinker Or labor with dusty blows, But back of him stands the Thinker, The clear-eyed man who knows; For into each plough of siber, Each piece and part wand whole, Must go the Brains of Labor Which gives the work of a soul!

Back of the motor's humming, Back of the belts that sing, Back of the hammer's drumming, Back of the cranes that swing, There is the eye that scans them, Watching through stress and strain, There is the Mind which plans them, Back of the brawn the Brain!

Might of the roaring boiler, Force of the engine's thrust, Strength of the sweating toiler Greatly in these we trust, But back of them stands the Schemer,

The Thinker who drives things through, Back of the Job—the Dreamer Who's making the Dream come true!

"DADDY LONG-LEGS" IS A BIG SUCCESS

The evening of May 15, All Schools Day, the city auditorium was filled to witness the production of Jean Webster's four act comedy, "Daddy Long-Legs," by the members of the college dramatic art class under the direction of Miss Della Lehman.

The play centers around Judy Abbott, Ruth Anderson, a brilliant orphan girl and her "Daddy Long-Legs," John Lehman, who, without revealing his identity to her took her from the John Grier home and sent her to college. Judy grew into a beautiful young woman and became a writer of some note. "Daddy Long-Legs" was really Jervis Pendleton, a member of a very old, very artistic family and when Jervis proposed marriage to Judy she sent him away because she feared to reveal the facts of her unfortunate childhood to him. She was very unhappy and finally wrote to "Daddy Long-Legs" asking for permission to come and talk to him about her troubles. Her happiness was complete when she learned that Jervis Pendleton and "Daddy Long-Legs" were one and the same person.

Music was furnished between the acts by the McPherson Salon Orchestra under the direction of Prof. Lewis Doll. The members of the county graduating class were guests at the play which was sponsored by the committee directing the entertainment for the annual "All Schools Day".

WORLD SERVICE GROUP MEET FOR LAST TIME

The World Service Group met for its last meeting this year on Thursday evening. Professor Heckman addressed the group on the subject of What the World Service Group Can Mean to McPherson College Campus. The address was very practical, yet inspirational. He emphasized the idea of having a group feeling. The group should be a spiritual leavening for the student body, filling a place that other more general organizations cannot reach. A number of very practical suggestions were made: closer co-operation between the group and the faculty Religious Life Committee, more Bible study, more devotional element and common interest in meetings, and whole-hearted co-operation in the church program. Last it was urged that both as individuals and as an organization we should be "ready to go" next fall. The question of possible projects and fields of service for next year was discussed by the members. At the close of the meeting, Margaret Deville sang "My Task".

RESERVATIONS MONDAY FOR SENIOR PLAY

Enthusiastic interest in the Senior Class play which will be staged next Tuesday evening at the city auditorium, is much in evidence about the campus and buildings, and according to information from town the folks there are waiting in great anticipation for the staging of the annual classic. It would seem as if a capacity house will greet the presentation of Sutton Vane's "Outward Bound," and students wishing seats are advised to be on hand bright and early next Monday morning when reservations will be made at Bixby & Lindsay's.

C. E. Oelrich, directing the play and supervising the building of its massive set of scenery and lighting effects, stated last evening that everything is in readiness, and he believes there is no question but what his prediction of the "great success yet," will materialize. Tomorrow morning in chapel, a pep meeting in the interest of the play will be staged, and the ticket sale on the Hill launched. Some very interesting information concerning the play and the players will be forthcoming at this time.

M CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Officers for the coming year for the M Club were elected at the meeting of the organization last night. Ray Nonken, captain of the 1928 Bulldogs gridiron team and the 1929 Cage squad, was elected president. Reuben Bowman, '30, another McPherson gridster, was elected vice-president. Other officers elected were Wray Whiteneck, secretary-treasurer, and Harold "Berries" Crist, student council representative. Whiteneck has won three football letters, and Crist has been doing the long distance running for the Bulldogs the past three track seasons.

Touching on the various phases of nursing, medicine, and dietetics as possible professions for the college girl, Mrs. R. H. Quantius, M. D., spoke to a group of girls in the Y.

W. room yesterday afternoon at four thirty o'clock. This discussion came as one of the series of vocational guidance meetings which have been held during the past week under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A.

Considering the possibilities for advancement and the educational qualifications for entrance in each, Mrs. Quantius pointed out the progress which is being made in these fields.

The many phases of nursing make it a desirable and profitable occupation to the girl who is physically capable and whose interests follow that channel.

The medical profession is one of broad opportunities to those who possess high intellectual and physical qualifications, but it also requires long and arduous work in preparations. Mrs. Quantius quoted statistics showing the large number of women who have entered this profession.

Dietetics is a comparatively new field which opens to the student of home economics various and attractive occupations.

The speaker concluded her discussion by saying that no girl should enter a vocation toward which she has no sympathy or liking.

By the interest shown and the many questions asked it was apparent that Mrs. Quantius' discussion was much appreciated.

"I, Dan Cupid, Governor of said State, hereby proclaim them candidates for such admission on or after May 18, 1929. Written under my hand and seal.

"Signed—Dan Cupid".

Those present were the Misses Arlene Saylor, Eunice Leungsdorf, Lois Dell, Dorothy Swain, Lola Hutquist, Hazel Falls, Clara Davis and Ruth Hiebert and John Wilteneck, Francis Kerkebile, Marvin Steffen, Franklin Hiebert, Max Connor, Paul Bowers, Ralph Bowers, and Clarence Hawkins.

Y. M. AND Y. W.

Mr. Harold Colvin, regional secretary for the Y. M. C. A., spoke to the Y. M. and Y. W. in joint meeting last Tuesday. He advised students to make an effort to attend the Estes Conference in June.

He told a modern fable of New York City where it was advertised that Jesus of Nazareth was to preach in the city. The churches were crowded but nobody heard him. The next day several workmen and poor people reported meeting a man whom they liked very much. This man was a workman who talked about building and wanted it done well.

Among the advantages which are to be had at the conference are fellowship, contact with great leaders, and inspiration.

IN CHAPEL

Friday morning Dr. Frank Crumacker, who has been a missionary to China for twenty years, spoke in chapel. He told the qualifications of a missionary or some of the things a missionary has to do. First he must learn the language which is very complicated and difficult to learn. The preparation a missionary must make is not bound up in a text book but the preparation and work a missionary must do is varied. He must buy land, property and build buildings. In famine he must help distribute food. Besides preaching the gospel a missionary must preach against foot binding and marriages in youth. The life of a missionary is one of not only preaching but is a life of real devoted service.

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE LECTURES BEING GIVEN

For the purpose of suggesting possible occupations to those girls who are undecided as to what they will do during the summer or after they have left college, the Y. W. C. A. is sponsoring a series of "vocational guidance" lectures and discussions. The project is under the supervision of Miss Mildred Lamb assisted by Miss Blanche Pyle.

At the first of these meetings which was held last Tuesday afternoon at four thirty o'clock in the Y. W. room, a discussion of opportunities in the field of social service was led by Miss Godfredson, county welfare worker.

After discussing educational requirements, modern opportunities for entrance, remuneration, the various phases, and the chances for advancement in the field of social service, Miss Godfredson related a number of experiences which she has had in her work showing how even the most drab situation can be made colorful. By the questions asked by the girls present it was evident that this type of work appealed strongly to her listeners.

On Thursday afternoon at the same hour, Miss Mildred Lamb conducted a discussion on the college girl's opportunities in business. Educational requirements, chance for advancement, and salaries in stenographic, secretarial, and personnel work were considered.

That women are continuing to take a more active part in business indicates that it is no longer regarded as a field for men alone, nor is it entirely unattractive.

Until recently very few vocations have been considered open to women, but with modern progress in education and science the fairer sex has actively entered professions, occupations, and vocations formerly thought appropriate only for men.

FACULTY DECISION REGARDING ADMISSION TO M. C.

The faculty of McPherson College recently passed the following regulations regarding admission to the College. Candidates for admission shall: (1) file formal application for admission, the same to be in the hands of the Committee on Admissions by September 1 preceding the opening of school; (2) present a regular transcript of credit from their high school indicating the courses which they have completed, their grades, date of graduation, and their rank in the graduating class; (3) present a letter regarding the applicant's character, social habits, and mental ability from some responsible acquaintance of the applicant.

From the applications presented the Committee on Admissions will admit those who have satisfactory scholarship and character recommendations.

POTWIN MAKES ADDRESS IN CHAPEL

Superintendent R. W. Potwin of the McPherson city schools spoke to the students yesterday during the chapel hour. He discussed the personnel of the faculty. He stressed the fact that there are many applicants to the teaching profession but that there are few real teachers who are trained for the profession. He stated that a liberal arts education was not sufficient training for a teacher. He pointed out that so many are using the teaching profession as a stepping stone to some other profession and therefore often do not care to become excellently trained for the work.

The immensity of the educational system in the United States was graphically illustrated by the speaker when he stated that fifty two per cent of the children in the United States have the advantages of a secondary education which is much larger per cent than in any other country. He said that the average school attendance had increased in this country from sixty to over one thousand days per child. Supt. Potwin said the biggest social experiment attempted by the United States is its educational system.
