THESPIAN CLUB PRESENTATION OF "THE QUEEN'S HUSBAND" IN THE COMMUNITY HALL LAST NIGHT

Play of Fifteen Characters Keeps Audience In High Spirits And Mrs. Gates Is Highly Commended On The Play Under Her Directorship

ONLY FAIR AUDIENCE

Reporter Says That Each Character Plays Part Exceptionally Well

BY MILDRED SWENSON

Mon., Jan. 13—After weeks of preparation and practice under the directorship of Mrs. Lawrence Gates, instructor in the college dramatics department, the Thespian Club this evening presented Robert Emmett Sherwood's three act comedy, "The Queen's Husband", in the Community Hall before only a fair audience.

Characteristics of the usual reaction following a well presented production, comments such as "The cast couldn't have been better chosen" and "Didn't everyone suit his part, though?" indicated that each acted with exceptional understanding of his or her part.

Fifteen characters comprised the cast for "The Queen's Husband" and, in addition to the excellent acting, stage effects and costumes gave the play its proper atmosphere showing careful planning on the part of Mrs. Gates and those who helped her.

Murlin Hoover, the queen's husband, otherwise known as King Eric VIII, immediately won the sympathy and aroused the amusement of the audience by his complete submission to Queen Marha (Ruth Blikenstaff), who was ever executing her duty to her country. Princess Anne (Beth Hess), the beautiful daughter of the royal house called for admiration for her strength of will and sympathy for being the victim of circumstances which could not permit her to be a "person".

Anne's lover, Granton (Leland Lindell), as the king's secretary was torn between his love for the princess and his duty to her father and around this romance the play revolved.

General Northrup (Hoyt Strickler) the king's prime minister, insufficiently domineering and cruel, learned to his chagrin that even "the last of a long line of nonentities" has a certain amount of spunk which upon sufficient provocation asserts itself. Lord Birten (John Berkebile), as foreign minister, also found that a figure-head of a king can not always be manipulated at will.

Fellman and Laker (John Lehman and Harold Crist, respectively), as leaders in the revolution, showed strength and cleverness in assisting the king in his little scheme.

Phlips, the footman (Phillip Lauer) and Peitley, mistress of the chamber (Doris Ballard), were indispensable to the royal household. The former, when not otherwise occupied, executed his services by playing checkers with His Majesty in the absence of the queen.

Prince William of Greck (Edmar Kjera) frankly asserts his unwillingness.

HERSHEY ENTERTAINS STUDENTS AT A PARTY

Fri., Jan. 10—Sixty-three chemistry students and other guests enjoyed the hospitality this evening of Dr. J. Willard Hershey at the annual chemistry party given in the Y. W. C. A. room. After some time spent in playing progressive room luncheon was served.

As the guests arrived at seven-thirty o'clock each was given a part of a chemical formula, the other half of which was held by the partner. When the party was thus divided, a game of progressive rock was played at which Lloyd Diggs won the first prize, a humorous book, and Ernest Rogalsky was awarded the consolation prize, a rubber doll.

Shortly after ten o'clock refreshments consisting of date pudding and coffee were served after which the party dispersed.

Each year Dr. Hershey entertains his students at a social of this kind and it is looked upon as one of the outstanding social functions of the department during the school year.

McPHERSON COLLEGE IS RECEIVING PUBLICITY

Fri., Jan. 10—Not only is the city of McPherson enjoying a period of state if not national publicity as a result of the rich oil fields near the city, but McPherson college is in the midst of a publicity stunt sponsored by the McPherson Republican.

Appearing in the Weekly Republican today are two articles concerning the development and worth of McPherson college to the McPherson community. It is the ninth of a series of industrial articles published every week in The Republican for fifteen weeks. These articles have been compiled and written from the standpoint of showing the potential possibilities of McPherson and McPherson county in order to promote some optimism and the right psychology.

The articles are written by R. Kenneth Evans, and the campaign has been made possible by the support accorded by thirty five progressive business men.

The publicity articles deal mainly with the history and development of McPherson college, showing how the added improvements and faculty have added to the church, business, social, professional and political life of the city and county. They state that the colleges of the city are largely instrumental in raising the moral standards, have brought many permanent citizens of exceptional civic worth, and that from an economical standpoint the institutions mean much to McPherson.

"O YEAH"

Etiquette, etiquette, and is etiquette in this weary world of dining halls, syrup, oley, little tables, boys, girls, wisecracks, chili and various and sundry other items of interest. Haven't had so much fun since the Prince of Wales fell off his pedigreed equine. Little tables make big noise.

This idea of host and hostess is a course of extensive home training fitting the girl to be a good wife and the boy how to carve the cold meat so as to not spatter gravy on the surrounding walls and co-eds. Really it is a training domestically, for the conversation is to be sensed before being passed around to the right from left to the right ears, etc.

Little tables help one to become better table companions and you get so much better acquainted both domestically and gastronomically. See you—see me! Which reminds me—the biological offspring of a university English professor upon seeing a locomotive exclaimed in his one year old vocabulary, "Masticate! Masticate!" (Lauer's notebook).

Soup's old Vegetable bean (masquerading as chili) and oyster which is the crocodile's amber anker. Hot! But the taste feels good inside all the leather boots and these by-gones (according to Pres. Schwalm).

"O Yeah!" No inspiration abounding hereabout since a certain instructor of commerce decided to "get married if he must". "O Yeah" stuff must have originated when the long-suffering worst half of a marriage finally got enough nerve enough to talk back to his "one and only". Since then it has been exploited by the whole population including college people as an effective narcotic rejoinder. As a matter of fact it is only used as a last resort when there are no brains to think up a clever enough answer.

Speaking of girls, there are now four types—Intelligent, interesting, beautiful and the "O Yeah" king. "O Yeah" type never talks but it is the world's ninth wonder, the good listener which is as scarce as hen's teeth in the Arabian desert. All she has to do is to say "O Yeah!" at appropriate intervals with a lingering but lolloping motion of the eye winkers. Multitudes of brains and the oppositary covered by the fluttering utterance in a blue-and-pink voice of "O Yeah".

It is popular over the radio for when Amos and Andy are broadcasting their pitter-patter the theme song is "O Yeah" in those sleek, sly, southern voices. Mr. Henderson says "O Yeah" to the choir store system in such a way that sparks fly from the aerial. Some people could be arrested for the way they say "O Yeah".

No one has the nerve in a class to say "O Yeah" to the "educational sarcasm" or "biblical knowledge" or "agricultural agony". "O Yeah" can preambulate and stagger on but classes drag on forever—"O Yeah" . . .

Yours for bigger and better ice cream comes—O Yeah!

NININGER TO LECTURE BEFORE CITY FORUM

Sat., Jan. 11—Prof. H. H. Nininger will lecture before the Forum, business organization of the city, Wednesday in the assembly room of the McPherson Public Library, on Mexico. Prof. Nininger has gathered some very interesting information from his exploring and research work in the sister republic to the south and he will at this time give some of the outstanding high-lights on his observations and discoveries. Students and the public are cordially invited to attend.

TO INCREASE LIBRARY TO 10,000 VOLUMES

Fri., Jan. 10—It has been announced that the library committee would sponsor a campaign through which they hope to secure enough books before the end of the school year to raise the number of volumes to ten thousand.

A survey of the accession record in the college library shows a total of slightly over nine thousand, five hundred books.

Some of the necessary number of books can be purchased but some must be donated if the goal is to be reached. Anyone interested in the college who wishes to donate worthwhile books or magazines may notify Miss Margaret Hackett, librarian, who in cooperation with the library committee will determine what can best be used in the library. Filed magazines, especially those indexed in the Readers' Guide, are very acceptable, also text books of college courses which may be used as references.

It is to be hoped that students, faculty and friends of the college will support the committee in this effort to increase the size and utility of the college library.

SCHWALM GIVES FIRST CHAPEL SPEECH OF YEAR

Mon., Jan. 6—"Cease living in the past but begin living on the past and build up a life well proportioned", stated Dr. V. F. Schwalm this morning in his first chapel speech of the year.

Dr. Schwalm insisted that this year was another chance to achieve character, to win success, to build us a future. . . . The most common weakness of college students and faculty is complacency and self-centeredness. We forget the rest of humanity. Our consciences are dulled to the needs of suffering humanity. In closing, we were challenged to "find an issue; live for it; let it disturb our complacency; and make the year 1929 a memorable year".

HOYT STRICKLER, GRADUATING SENIOR IS THE RADIO BROADCASTER OF McPHERSON COLLEGE

Has Been In Communication With Such Countries As Mexico, Panama Canal Zone, Island Of Jamaica, Phillipine Islands, Hawaiian Islands And Australia Besides Forty-Three States In The Union

EDITOR'S NOTE

This is the fourth of a series of articles concerning interesting persons on the campus, both faculty and students.

BY MURLIN HOOVER

Among those of our college population who have achieved distinction along some line of endeavor is included a senior, Mr. Hoyt Strickler, whose particular hobby is radio transmitting.

Mr. Strickler will be graduated this year and comes to McPherson college from El Centro, California, which has been the scene of his radio operations. He first became interested in radio transmitting through the association with a friend having a commercial broadcasting station. This friend also had an amateur transmitting station where Mr. Strickler did his first transmitting.

Hoyt found it such fascinating work that he at once built a set of his own. At the present time his apparatus consists of a 2000 volt transformer, a large transmitting tube and other apparatus necessary for transmitting, and a four tube receiver. The transmitter has a 100 watt output at full capacity.

Short waves are used by all amateurs. Mr. Strickler transmits by three wave length bands: 20, 40, and 80 meters. In the first two only code is used but either phone or code is used in the third.

Mr. Strickler has communicated with many other amateur stations of which there are 15,000 in this country. He has exchanged messages with stations in forty-three states and in such foreign countries as Mexico, Panama Canal Zone, Island of Jamaica, the Phillipine Islands, the Hawaiian Islands, and Australia. The closest station with whom he was in communication with was three houses away. It came in quite strong Mr. Strickler stated.

On his short wave receiver Mr. Strickler received signals from Commander Richard Byrd at the South Pole last winter. He also received from Japan, South Africa, Chile and Ecuador.

Mr. Strickler is a member of the American Radio Relay League and as such may relay messages which he picks up from other stations. He is also a member of the U. S. Naval reserve in the eleventh district as a third class radioman. The naval department offers a cruise to some foreign country each summer and he will probably go on this cruise next summer.

At the present time the station is not in operation. The apparatus is in McPherson but was damaged in transit. It will probably be repaired and put in operation before the winter is over. The call letters of his station are W6BPY.

Mr. Strickler is preparing himself as a chemist but finds radio work a very fascinating hobby.

ness to enter into a marriage alliance with Princess Anne for whom he cared nothing in spite of the political advantages offered.

Major Blent (Verlie Ohmart) and the soldiers (Orville Vorn and Otho White-neck) as well as the ladies-in-waiting (Bernice McClellan and Sylvia Edgecomb) added to the atmosphere of the play.

From the members of the royal family to those who appeared but little, not one of the entire cast dropped his character for a moment but carried it thru with an interpretative skill which delighted the audience, a fact shown by their appreciative responses.

ON THE SAME WAVE LENGTH

A man had just installed a radio. He tuned in, getting three stations on the same wave length. One was a minister, one was a man telling the conditions of the roads and the third was a lecturer on poultry. Here is what he got:

"The Old Testament tells us that baby chicks should detour one mile south of Salina and listen to the words of the prophet Sseysy. Be careful in the selection of your eggs, and you will find hard surfaced roads on to Garden City. We find in Genesis that the roads are muddy just west of the henhouse and clean straw is essential if you would save your soul. After passing through Leavenworth, turn north to Jericho. Three wise men bought a large sized incubator on account of bad detour. The baby chicks were troubled with the pip and a bond issue is being talked of in the Holy City. Keep the feet clean and dry, live life of right-

SENIORS SELECT "JOHN FERGUSON" AS PLAY

"John Ferguson", by St. John G. Ervine, has been selected by the senior class as the class play to be given this spring.

This play will be greeted with much anticipation by those of the college and community who are familiar with the worth of this remarkable drama, which was first presented in America on May 12, 1919, at the Garrick Theatre, New York City, by the Theatre Guild.

"John Ferguson" is an entirely different play than anything before handled by a senior class of the college. It is rated as one of the most powerful of modern plays, a true classic, and one that was hailed by the big critics of the nation on its initial presentation and afterwards the greatest play of the decade.

The members of the class, who are planning on a presentation that will rival those of classes that have gone before, are arranging for staging the play with the same careful attention to all details that has become a tradition with the seniors.

THE MORNING WATCH

Oh, God: This is thy hour,
When dawn first sheds her silver light

Ere it has turned to rose or gold
Or yet the day begins.

'Tis then I come to thee
As came the women to the tomb,
Nor do I find thee dead,
But living, vital breath of me
That helps me think and plan
My day, and thus doth speak to me:

Dear child: thou canst not filch nor steal

One hour from what is freely given
These

For time is thine throughout eternity
So vast it stretches out beyond thy ken.

For thus have I created you: a living soul,
To think, to feel, to will, to do,
Love and be loved, and through it all
To know that I am loving you.

But for thy life I have a plan,
A way, of all the ways the best,
For well I know, as none else can
Thy weakness and ability.
The talents I have given thee
If thou wilt use from day to day
Wisely as I point out to thee
Then will I open a broader way.

I do not say there will not be
Days that are dark and filled with pain
And some of drear monotony

But brighter days will come again,
And ever I will walk with thee
And make complete thy meager span
In service to humanity
If thou wilt but accept my plan".

The morning star still shines,
But soon the day will wake
The busy hum of life again
E'en now resounds the morning call
Of cock to cock, and twittering birds
Make known their presence in the trees,
Lo! In the east, now rose, now gold.

nessness and turn south one mile west of the school house. Much care should be used in commanding the sun to stand still, as there is a wash-out on the bridge just south of Paola and the road to salvation is under repair, making it necessary for 70 degrees in the broodhouse at all times. After you leave Winfield, unless you do these things, the wrath of the Lord will cause the pin feathers to fall out and detour one mile south. Many are culled, but few have any luck unless the paved road between Topeka and Lawrence is mixed with the feed. Out of 500 eggs one should get good roads from Coffeyville to Tulsa and He commanded Noah to build the ark just one mile west of Wichita. It rained 40 days and 40 nights and caused an eight mile detour. Just west of the broodhouse many tourists from the House of David are trying the Plymouth Rocks mixed with concrete and a desired to do right".—Selected.

McPHERSON WINS FIRST CONFERENCE GAME FROM THE KNIGHTS OF ST. MARYS COLLEGE

Captain Miller And Crumpacker High Point Men With 11 And 10 Points Respectively—Accurate Shooting Of Canines Brings Home Victory

BULLDOGS 34, ST. MARY'S 26

Next Conference Tilt Will Be With Kansas Wesleyan Here This Evening

St. Mary's Kan., Jan. 11.—The St. Mary's Knights lost their conference opener here tonight to the McPherson college Bulldog quintet by a margin of 34 to 26. The visitors, led in scoring by Captain Miller with eleven points and Crumpacker with ten, displayed a well balanced offense backed up by a tight defense that was hard to go through.

The teams scored by spurts, the Canines being able to spurt more often and appeared to be the strongest. McPherson led 19 to 13 at the half. Play was fast and accurate for both teams, the conference champs showing marked improvement and "zip" over their previous games this season.

The Bulldogs play their next game with the Kansas Wesleyan Coyotes at McPherson next Tuesday night while the Knights face Baker at Baldwin the same evening.

KANSAS WESLEYAN TONIGHT

The Bulldogs are pitted against the Kansas Wesleyan quintet here tonight. The time is eight o'clock. These two teams are ancient foes which in a way gives promise of a real battle. Each team has played one conference game. The Coyotes lost theirs to Ottawa last Friday night. The comparative strength of the two teams is hard to define in terms other than their records in the past. For various reasons the two teams have not met every year but when they have the Canines were the winners.

In 1922 one game was played, the score being 16 to 26 in favor of McPherson. In years to follow the following was true:

| McPherson | Kansas Wesleyan |

| 1923 26 | 11 |

McPHERSON LOSES TO FAST PHILLIPS TEAM

Canines Show Strain Of Their Recent Tour Of The East

BULLDOGS 25, PHILLIPS 36

Were Unable To Stop Fast Traveling Soomers With Excellent Basket Shooting

Community Gym., Wed., Jan. 8.—The Bulldog cagers lost their first 1930 home game here tonight to the Phillips University quintet by a score of 25 to 36, this being the second loss for the Canines on the home floor in three years.

The Bulldogs, showing serious effects of their tiresome vacatime trip, were unable to play the game at the speed set by fast travelling Soomers who threw baskets with unmatched accuracy during the entire game. Phillips got off to an early lead, which they held throughout the game, at the half period being 13 to 21 ahead of the Bulldogs. Early in the second period the visitors built a ten point margin, a gap which the home team was never able to overcome. The opposing defense was centered on Captain Miller who was held to two field goals and one charity

Eight games are all in which the Bulldog quintet will be seen in action on the local court this year. Five conference games and three non-conference ones, the first of which was already been lost to the Phillips team. Our allotment is twenty games, ten in the conference and seven were played away from home before any were played here. Half of the conference games are played away from home. It is almost a safe speculation that Southwestern College and Kansas City A. C. will be seen in action here in our other two non-conference games, which may take place this month.
