IN ALL FOUR DIRECTIONS CAN THE VACATION ACTIVITIES OF ALL THE FACULTY BE TRACED

Large Number Of Them Prove To Be Wheat Farmers—President And Wife Enjoy Summer Touring Europe—Miss Shelly Studies Music In New York City—Many Teach In Summer School

MANY ATTEND SCHOOL

Few Professors Spend Part Time Preaching And Lecturing—Others Attend Conferences

In every direction can be traced the vacation activities of the faculty since school adjourned last May. Now they are back again, ready to pass on to the students the fruits of their vacation experiences, and to work for a bigger and better M. C.

Dr. V. F. Schwalm and his wife have had a particularly excellent time during the summer months. Leaving soon after the close of the spring term they embarked upon the Sherwood Eddy party for an extensive tour of the principal countries of Europe. They traveled through France, Italy, England and Germany, studying the economic, political, educational and social aspects of our Eastern neighbors. Attendance at the famous Passion Play of Oberammergau was one of the high points of their journey.

Dr. J. H. Harby spent the first part of the summer in Texas and New Mexico, where he cared for his farm crops and made a number of short motor trips to nearby points of interest.

Dr. J. J. Yoder attended the annual conference of the Church of the Brethren, held during the month of June at Hershey, Pennsylvania. After returning to McPherson he made several trips to Elgin, Illinois, in connection with his work on the General Mission Board of the Church.

Prof. Earl Bowling was at home part of the summer, but put in a great deal of time tending his crops in northwest Kansas.

Miss Mildred Thurow was a student at the University of Iowa summer school, and then spent the remainder of her vacation in her home at Macksville.

After managing the art department during the summer school, Miss Clara Colline visited several points in Texas which are of interest to art students.

Miss Jessie Brown and Mrs. Tate of the music faculty taught in the summer school. Afterward Miss Brown spent some time with her farm land in Texas, while Mrs. Tate drove through the Black Hills of South Dakota, and thence through scenic points in Colorado.

Miss Margaret Shelly pursued her musical studies, first at the Bethany college summer school, and later at Columbia University in New York City. She was at home for a short time at Eldmald, east of McPherson.

BIG WATERMELON FEED FIRST SCHOOL AFFAIR

Cheerleaders Make First Appearance Of The Season—New Yell Presented

Fri., Sept. 12.—The first all-school get-together affair and the first social affair of both the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. was held this evening in the form of a watermelon feed on the campus. Preceding the slicing of the melons a period of games and stunts was enjoyed.

The evenings entertainment started with group games under the direction of Coach Melvin J. Benford. All kinds of races and stunts were executed after which Mildred Ballard, freshman, gave a reading. The impersonation of a freshman coming from the depot to the College in a taxi cab was characterized by Lucille Crabb and David Bowers. Pauline Dell played a piano solo and another reading by Jay Hertzler was given. Another stunt in the form of a play without words but that spoken for itself in action was given to conclude the program.

Following the program a pep rally was held with cheerleaders Doyle and Weaver officiating. Old yells and songs were given and the cheerleaders presented a new short and snappy yell.

That complexion may be ruined and clothes spoiled was in evidence in the last event—the eating of a ton of watermelons. The melons were furnished by the Y. M. and Y. W.

STUDENT COUNCIL TO BRING SPEAKER HERE

Edgar C. Raine, Lecturer on Alaska, To Speak In The Chapel

COMING SEPTEMBER 29

Students Will Be Admitted Free—To Show Lantern Slide Scenes

Edgar C. Raine, a well known lecturer on Alaska, will give a general survey of this northern country under a title of "Seeing Alaska" in the College chapel September 29, at 8 o'clock in the evening. The lecture will be given free to all students under the auspices of the student council.

Mr. Raine has lectured in 42 different states and has spent many years in Alaska. For a number of years he was government consul in this northern country. In every major city he has visited and in all the provinces. Along with his lecture he will show a series of lantern slides of picturesque scenes of Alaska.

The Alaskan speaker has spoke to McPherson students previously, once nine years ago and again six years ago. Material for his lectures has been gained first hand.

FACULTY HOST TO THE STUDENT BODY

First Formal Social Affair Of The Ensuing Year

Mon., Sept. 15—Tonight in the parlors of the Church of the Brethren the faculty were host to the student body in the first formal social affair of the ensuing year. The program of the evening consisted of music, readings and short talks by the faculty and a response from the student body. Nearly one hundred per cent of the students were present.

At eight o'clock the student body was ushered from the church auditorium to the parlors where they formally met the faculty. Prof. J. H. Fries, business manager of the College, presided over the evening's entertainment.

Miss Margaret Shelly, head of the violin department, played two numbers after which Dr. V. F. Schwalm gave the address of welcome. The response was given by John Lehman, president of the student council.

Miss Lucille Crabb, accompanied by Mrs. Anna C. Tate, gave a musical reading after which Prof. J. A. Blair gave a short talk in summarizing the bright spots among the faculty members and telling a few of their various accomplishments during the summer. The closing number on the program was two vocal solos by Mrs. Anna C. Tate, head of the voice department, accompanied by Miss Fern Lingenfelter.

After the program a light lunch of ice cream and cake was served. The evening was adjourned with the singing of the college song under the direction of Mrs. Tate.

ENROLLMENT AT McPHERSON INCREASES WHILE OTHER SCHOOLS REPORT DECIDED DECREASES

Total Of More Than 300 Students This Year—251 Regular Enrolled With 50 Enrolled In Music Courses—More Are Coming In All The Time

IS A DECIDED VICTORY

Last Year There Were 243 Regular Enrolled Students—Junior Class Increases More Than 100 Per Cent

Tues., Sept. 16—That a college, small in size but large in spirit, should increase its enrollment at the close of a severe period of drouth that has decreased the number of students at other colleges and universities speaks well for the institution that has as its slogan, "The School of Quality".

Figures available this morning show that McPherson college has gained in enrollment over last semester of last year. At the present time there are 251 students regularly enrolled with 50 music students taking work at the down town studio bringing the total enrollment to date at 301. Last year there were 243 regular enrolled students, a difference of 58 students more this year than last year.

The figures show that the freshman class is the largest with 100 now enrolled and last year the total being the same. The sophomore class of this year now ranks second with 58 students and the juniors are running a close third with 51 students. Last year there were 25 juniors, an increase of more than one hundred per cent over last year. The senior class made the largest decline, however, it is remarkable that with but 25 in last year's junior class there are now 31 in this year's senior class. Indications now point to the fact that there will be at least 36 in the senior class during the last semester. There are also 11 special students.

Other colleges and universities of the state are reporting that their enrollments have fallen off over what it was last year. One college reports a decrease in enrollment of one-fourth less this year than last year. There is a probability that the enrollment of McPherson will be slightly increased with the coming in of new and late students.

Due to the crop failures and general agricultural condition of the nation the college administration feels that they have won a decided victory. The increase in students during such a trying period indicates that McPherson college is a "School of Quality".

W. A. A. IS SPONSORING HIKE THURSDAY NIGHT

Organization Holds First Meeting Of Year—To Fill Vacancy

Mon., Sept. 15—The Women's Athletic Association of the College met this evening for their first meeting. It was decided to sponsor a hike to Brubaker's pasture Thursday evening of this week for every girl interested in the organization. The group will meet at 4:30 at the entrance of the Administration building.

The nomination committee was also given authority to provide for the filling of the vacancy left by Genevieve Crist, who failed to return this fall. It was also decided that the organization would assess dues of each member, however, no definite amount has been set as yet.

Unusual Interest Shown In Music And Dramatics

Under the direction of Prof. H. H. Ningger, the Rocky Mountain Summer school, conducted by McPherson college at Palmer Lake, Colorado, closed a successful season, August 16. Enrollment for both semesters totaled 150 students.

Unusual interest was shown this year in Drama and music. Two fine programs were given by the music and dramatic clubs. The school was a success in every way.

RECORD ENROLLMENT AT M. C. SUMMER SCHOOL

New Feature Was Model School For Practicing Courses

The summer school term of McPherson college had the largest enrollment this summer that is now on record, with 173 enrolled for the first term that opened June 2 and closed July 25.

A new feature of the summer school this term was the operation of a model school on the campus to provide opportunity for teachers in training to do actual teaching and observation of children under competent supervision. The scope of the work was limited to second and third grade work this summer, and the experiment proved so popular that the capacity for thirty-two was inadequate to take care of all of the children who desired admission. The work was under the supervision of Miss Mary Fee. The new class made it possible for teachers to apply theories of instruction and gain technique under normal school room conditions.

The chapel programs on Tuesday and Thursday proved unusually popular and interesting. Outside speakers were present from time to time. Two exceptional all-musical programs were presented during the summer. An art exhibit was given by the art department in their studios during the last week.

Commencement exercises for the summer term were conducted by W. J. Krehbiel, editor of the McPherson Daily Republican.

CHANGE TAKING PLACE IN EUROPE SAYS PRES.

Schwalm Tells Of European Trip In First Chapel Address Of The Year

Wed., Sept. 10—That Europe is becoming Democratic in its attitude toward education was the fact brought out by Dr. V. F. Schwalm this morning in the first chapel program of the year. President Schwalm, who has but recently returned from a summer's tour of Europe in a party headed by Sherwood Eddy, stressed phases of European education in relation to that in the United States.

The fullest cooperation between the student body and the faculty was urged by the president to make this a successful year. He urged the student body to find its passion for certain lines of development and to strengthen these passions that they might extend not only to ourselves but also to others.

Preceding the address by the president Mrs. Anna C. Tate, head of the voice department of the College, sang two numbers. The first was "I Love Life," and the other "Mandy and the Spider."

WILBUR YODER ELECTED PRESIDENT OF FRESHMEN

Sibyl Curtis And Harold Binford Will Represent Class In Student Council

Thurs., Sept. 11—Wilbur Yoder, was elected temporary president of the freshmen class this morning in the chapel at a meeting called by John Lehman, president of the student council. Only two other officers were filled, that being the two representatives to the student council, and Sibyl Curtis, Fruitland, Idaho, and Harold Binford were elected for a short term of one month at which time the permanent officers are elected to serve the remainder of the year. The temporary officers elected today may also be reelected as permanent officers.

ADVICE TO FRESHMEN IN FORM OF DIRTY DOZEN

1. Announce yourself. Tell other people that you're the best in your line. Otherwise they may never find it out.
2. Wear bright striped trousers if you lack personality. The girls may call you "Stars and Stripes Forever."
3. If a Scotchman, buy your own ink so that you will not be forced to go to the Black Sea to refill your fountain pen.
4. Attempt to answer all questions in class, during the first week. You will be a marked man.
5. If you have no gift of gab keep quiet for the first nine weeks and the teacher will see that you pass out.
6. Borrow a car and learn the art of one armed driving. A nut at the steering wheel, peach at his side, and sharp turn in the road is a good recipe for a fruit salad.
7. Defend the purpose of the college. A College is like a washing machine—you get out just what you put in but you'll never recognize it.
8. Be an optimist—room with a fellow who owns both a trombone and saxophone.
9. Learn to star—spend all your money on the girls and you'll be a big laugh.
10. Sleep late because eight o'clock classes might not start on time.
11. Growl at the dormitory food—it will reveal your cultural background.
12. If no one will notice you decide to be a tree sitter—there is always room at the top.

KEENER COMPETITION FOR YOUTH

Reports from many of the educational institutions indicate that young people are finding it harder than usual to secure the kind of positions they desire. That is due in part to a somewhat abnormal situation in employment, which has been in evidence for several months. But another factor is of more permanence and importance. It is the increasingly keen competition arising from the fact that each year sees larger numbers of trained young men and women going out into the world, as the saying has it, in search of superior kinds of employment, and success as well.

A few decades back, when enrollment of both colleges and high schools were a mere fraction of what they are today and when a graduate from either was in a sense a person of rare distinction, the condition in respect to securing employment was far different. In many fields there were more positions than applicants who had been adequately trained for the places. Now, if recurrent reports to that effect are to be trusted, the situation is almost directly opposite, with the exception of certain branches where a high degree of skill and training is demanded. Today, there seems to be surplus not only of farm crops, but of lawyers, teachers, perhaps physicians (in the cities), of clerical and white-collar workers in general. While the unemployment situation just now is to be taken into account, the field has been more inviting with reference to skilled trades of various sorts. But altogether the keener competition for places exists. It may be expected to continue to be even more marked in the future.

It should serve, however, not as a source of discouragement, but as a stimulus to the many thousands of young people who turn each year from long periods of training in the schools to the more practical and exacting tests of the outside world. If the proper use has been made of school opportunities there should be the equipment required by the nature of conditions in the field of practical affairs; for education itself has increased its efficiency in accordance with the demands made upon its beneficiaries. So it is not an impossible test; it is more of a challenge, to be met both in school and out.

FRESHMEN LEARN YOUR COLLEGE SONG

It is said that in Europe the people live by their traditions. In America we forget our traditions or our past and live in and for the present. The one big tradition of McPherson college by which it lives is its song. Its one song above all others—"O Sacred Truth."

The song is typical of Kansas and of the standards of the "School of Quality." It is a song in which truth and freedom dwell. It is the living everlasting spirit of the institution. Within it dwells the spirit of progress in humans and in the school. It heralds the deed of justice and of the self. It manifests a feeling of good cheer and contentment. So let truth and freedom reign.

ANNUAL Y. M. C. A. STAG PARTY TO NEWCOMERS

Stay Free of Too Many Activities Was Stressed by Speaker

Thurs., Sept. 11—That one or two activities with hearty effort and participation are better than several receiving mild attention was the opinion advanced by Jack Lehman at the Newcomers Stag Party staged by the Y. M. C. A. this evening.

With the view of helping the new students overcome the newness of their stay at the College the organization planned a hike, but owing to the damp condition the stag party was held in the Y. W. C. A. parlors.

Before the several talks including the one by Lehman a lively mixer was stirred by Kermit Hayes. Ward Williams speaking about "The Freshmen at the Gate", suggested using information gleaned from books and learned in the classroom at every opportunity.

Foster Jamison expressed the wish that everyone enter in some sport with the spirit for which the Y. M. C. A. stands, not only for the benefit received in college but for the benefit in after years.

J. Hugh Heckman, faculty sponsor of the organization, extended an invitation to the 36 newcomers present to affiliate themselves with the local chapter.

DR. GILBERT L. BETTS ON SURVEY STAFF

Dr. Gilbert L. Betts, A. B. McPherson college, 1921, is being recommended to the secretary of the interior by William John Cooper, United States Commissioner of education for appointment on a national months. It is understood that he will be transferred to the United survey staff.

He will be stationed at Stanford university with an office in the main library, for the first few States office of education in Washington, D. C. upon completion of this preliminary work.

Dr. Betts takes his degree in the Stanford school of education under Dr. Truman Lee Kelly, the nationally known statistician and psychologist. Commissioner Cooper became interested in the thesis investigation Dr. Betts is conducting at Stanford on the attitudes and characteristics of teachers. This led to his appointment on the national survey staff.

Mrs. Betts will be remembered as Miss Dorothea Dyck, daughter of William Dyck, 1935 West avenue, of this city. Dr. and Mrs. Betts were married in the Stanford memorial chapel in June a year ago. Dr. Betts is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Betts, who have been residents of Nampa, Idaho, since 1900.

AIM OF Y. W. C. A. IS 100 PER CENT GOAL

Tues., Sept. 16—That the Y. W. C. A. should be a laboratory to a radiant life was stressed by Eugenia Dawson, president, this morning in the first meeting of the year. Miss Dawson also described the benefits of the Y. W. and stated that their aim was to make every girl in school an active member. Next Tuesday a membership drive will be made and it is hoped that it will go over 100 per cent. The meeting this morning was led by Rith Troskie, with Hattie Richel singing a vocal solo and Corine Bowers playing a violin solo. A large attendance was present.

50 PER CENT OF '30 CLASS IS TEACHING

Twenty-eight Of The 56 Seniors Of Last Year Are Now Teaching

That 50 per cent of the total number of seniors graduating from a college secure teaching positions the first year they are out of school is a wonderful record for a school that does not pretend to be a normal school. McPherson college did this last spring with 56 seniors being graduated. Twenty-eight of the 56 seniors have secured high school positions in Kansas or outside of Kansas. In other words 50 per cent of the total senior class is teaching this year.

The following is a list of the seniors teaching and the places they are located: Beth Hess, Langdon; Clarence Zink, Harper; Lawrence Barngrover, Buhler; Harold Crist, Zook; Elmer Crumpacker, Wilmore; Russ Holloway, McPherson; Doris Ballard, Alta Vista; Paul Bowers, Covert; Ruben Bowman, Raymond; Ruth Blickenstaff, Dwight; Ross Curtis, Waldo; Esther Dahlinger, Simpson; Lloyd Diggs, Gaylard; Irene Gibson, Springer, New Mexico; C. BLINFORD WORKING ON SIGNALS THIS WEEK

On-lookers Are Barred From Field—Fighting For Tackle Positions

A GOOD BACKFIELD

Keck And Countryman Seem To Have Guard Positions Clinched

With one week of football practice to their credit of merely the preliminary workouts with signal practice starting this week in earnest. With the signal practice comes the secrecy of all football teams and all the on-lookers are barred from the field.

The squad is somewhat smaller this season than last but the quantity is far excelled by quality. The Bulldogs have been hitting it hard in preparation for the first home game—with Kearney, Nebraska, September 25.

The Bulldogs have an up-to-the-minute backfield in Bigham, Miller, Zinn, and Bargrover. Both Anderson and Sorenson when it comes to a problem of advancing the pigskin. Hockstrasser and Sisk are showing up at ends.

King, McElroy, Tice and L. Miller are the chief contenders for the tackle positions while Keck and Countryman seem to be the outstanding men for the guard positions. These two men are small but both can whip their weight in wildcats.

Some of the other men who are showing up well are Mowbray, Voran, Johnston, Hoke, Bowers, Voth, Shirk, Blinford, Seltz, McGill, Peterson, Williams, Myers, Cox, Bowman, and McPherson.

Coach Melvin J. Blinford, in speaking of the quality of a football squad, stressed the importance of training rules. He urged the early start of training rules to be in shape for early games.

THE Y. M. C. A. IS DESCRIBED

The History And Plans For The Year Are Discussed

Tues., Sept. 16—Starting what promises to be a year of profit and interest to the students, the Y. M. C. A. held its first devotional meeting this morning.

The Y. M. C. A. movement started in London in 1844. Spreading from this first chapter of twelve members this college organization now includes some 41 countries with approximately 1,510,000 active members. Thus as the result of the seed planted in London nearly a century ago the college man has an opportunity to belong to one of the largest movements for the betterment of all things worthwhile. These and other equally interesting facts were brought out by Harry Bernard.

Kenneth Blitkofer outlined in a general way some of the problems that the Y. M. C. A. is trying to solve or better, such as world peace, race prejudices, industrial good will, and others. In many places the organization sponsored a universal Prayer Day, community Bible classes, and industrial arts classes.

Jay Hertzler gave an interesting as well as informing talk on the "Aim and Purpose of the Y. M. C. A. on the Campus". Mention was made of the fact that the local chapter is endeavoring to provide a special meeting place in order to make the members feel more of the spirit of the organization that is not so evident in meeting in a place that all the students have occasion to meet

— DRIPPINGS — from THE DOPE BUCKET

We understand that the Swedes are going to play night football this fall, but that they desire to play the Bulldogs in the daytime. We cannot blame them, however because it is going to be very difficult for the eye to follow those Bulldog backs, even in the daytime.

The squad is somewhat smaller this year but the Bulldogs are growling and showing their teeth like nobody's business.

Watch McPherson college in football—Kansas Wesleyan has 16 lettermen back and Mackie says he does not have anything—Bethany is building their team on hope—you can't tell what the Fighting Irish at St. Marys are going to do until they do it—Ottawa says their prospects are looking fair—Baker says that they would rather not say anything yet.

We hear that Kepner, Ottawa, sharpshooters in the basket, is planning on a big year in basketball with the Braves.

Sixteen giant reflectors, each 3,000 candle power, will be used to illuminate the McPherson Athletic park this fall.

LIBRARY INCREASED TO MORE THAN 10,000 BOOKS

Miss Margaret Heckman Librarian For The Last Six Years

The first of the year the library initiated a campaign for 500 books to bring their total from 9,500 to 10,000 by the first of June. This goal was easily reached long before the allotted time and by the end of the summer 229 more books came into the stacks of the library, bringing a total of that many above the desired goal.

Miss Margaret Heckethorn, six years librarian, stated in expressing her appreciation that: "The campaign was a good thing and that it would have been impossible to catalogue the books without the help of the assistants." When it became known that such a campaign was being conducted books began to pour in from every where. Books came from students past and present, from friends at distant points, from instructors, and from publishing houses to increase the number in the library.

Those who presented books during the summer were Laura B. McGaffey, Jessie Daron, Lola Blondefield, Daniel P. Johnson, Phillip Lauver, Marlon Kittell, Cliff Bonebarger, James H. Elrod, Lora Trostle and Eunice Cripe.

The librarian will have three assistants this year in the persons of Velma Butterbaugh, Grace Early, and Phillip Lauver. The Library science class now being conducted includes eight students.

ORCHESTRA TO MEET TONIGHT IN CHAPEL

Students With Musical Instruments Are Urged To Be Present

Every student that has a musical instrument, who can or cannot play it, or who would like to play some instrument, is being urged to attend the first meeting this evening at 6:30 o'clock of the College orchestra. Miss Margaret Shelly, who last year directed the orchestra, is again in charge of this years organization, and is asking that all students who play musical instruments to be present for the first meeting.

When interviewed Miss Shelly stated that the orchestra was not only a means of entertainment to the student body but that it was also a great help to the student learning to play his instrument. The prospects for this year's section are very good, stated the director, but there is a special need for cello players.

Last year the orchestra met only once a week but this year the schedule has been changed to twice a week. The regular schedule will
