McPHERSON DROPS CONFERENCE CONTEST TO OTTAWA BRAVES FRIDAY NIGHT, 19 TO 21

Bulldogs Lead During Most of Game—Spong, Ottawa Substitute Forward, Saves Game for the Braves—Last Part of Contest Is Rough

M. C. LEADS 11-7 AT HALF

Binford Leads Scoring for Bulldogs—Injury Falls to Stop Jamison

Ottawa, Feb. 12. — The Ottawa Braves won a hard fought basketball game from the McPherson college Bulldogs here tonight in a Kansas Conference game. The final score was 21 to 19.

McPherson held the lead practically all the way with Ottawa trailing by only a few points. A number of goals in the latter moments of the game put Ottawa into the lead just before the final whistle.

McPherson took the upper hand at the start of the game and began playing fast basketball. The Bulldogs managed to work the ball in for many good shots at the basket, and put several through the ring. Ottawa rallied somewhat before the close of the half, but McPherson was leading 11 to 7 at half time.

With the start of the second half the Bulldogs displayed some more good basketball and by the middle of the second half the canines were leading 18 to 12. Spong, substitute forward for Ottawa, entered the game at this point and proceeded to cage two field goals. Knapper, center for the Braves, scored another. The Bulldogs were somewhat demoralized by the playing of the Braves in the closing minutes of the game and did not play as well as they had during the greater part of the contest. Spong, Casida, and Knapper played good games for Ottawa.

Binford led the scoring for the Bulldogs. Jamison, McPherson captain and guard, was injured in the early part of the game but put up a strong defensive fight in spite of this.

The victory leaves Ottawa entrenched in second place in the conference and puts McPherson in a tie with Baker for third place.

ALL SET FOR W. A. A. BANQUET SAT. NIGHT

Girls looking for dates for the W. A. A. banquet must have them by Saturday at the latest for that is the date set for the event. Only those new members who have sufficiently recovered from the initiation will be expected to come. It might help some of the girls to know that the ticket price has been reduced to $1.25, but they are seventy-five cents apiece. This is to discourage the more timid ones from going alone.

The banquet promises to be a brilliant affair with a George Washington theme. Mildred Doyle is chairman of the decorations committee. Ethel Shery is in charge of the program and Florence Weaver is head of the most interesting of committees, the menu committee.

A large attendance is expected at the banquet considering that this is leap year.

McPHERSON COLLEGE TO UNDERGO SURVEY SOON

Will Be Subjected to Scrutiny of All Departments With View of Comparison

ROBERT S. KELLY IN CHARGE

General Educational Board Is Sponsoring Move

As announced at the meeting of the General Educational Board of the Church of the Brethren, held at Cincinnati last month, all of the Brethren church schools are to be subjected to a careful survey to determine the quality and character of the work being done in these schools in comparison with that of other colleges. The survey of McPherson college will take place sometime during the following year.

It was the desire of the Educational Board to secure someone from the outside who could make an estimate of our systems with an objective view. Accordingly a competent specialist in such work, Dr. Robert S. Kelly, has been selected to make the survey. Once the president of Earlham college, and for the last twenty years executive secretary of the Association of American Colleges, Dr. Kelly is one of the best known men in educational circles today. He has lectured extensively in American universities and also in foreign countries on "American Education."

With his assistants he will survey McPherson college during the following year in respect to sixteen or seventeen different phases of the educational plant here, according to an analysis of college survey reports which have been made in the past.

Some of these are listed as follows: I. Supporting organizations and constituencies. Discombinations must choose between increased support, consolidation of institutions, or abandonment.

II. Location. Educational environment and present or potential sources of students are the main factors involved.

III. Accreditation. Those institutions which cannot meet accrediting standards, with few exceptions, should close their doors. Careful attention should be given to statements in catalogues concerning accreditation.

IV. Purpose and service. Intelligent planning and efficient operation of colleges demand that those responsible for their work should know what they are striving to accomplish. Institutional, department, and course objectives should be set

KURTZ LECTURE WILL BEGIN AT 7:15

The lecture by Dr. D. W. Kurtz, "The Meaning of Culture," which is to be given tomorrow evening in the College Church, will begin promptly at 7:15 p. m., in order to allow those who wish to attend the McPherson-Baker basketball game in Community Hall. The game is scheduled to begin at 8:30.

An informal social hour has been planned to follow Dr. Kurtz's lecture. It will provide an opportunity for his McPherson friends to again visit with him after an absence of five years.

STUDENTS APPROVE PETITION TO HOOVER

Y. M. C. A. Sponsors Request for U. S. Cooperation with League of Nations

Keen interest in the conduct of the United States in the unsettled international situations prevailing at present is being displayed by many college students, particularly under the leadership of the local Y. M. C. A.

Last Friday Clinton Trostle, president of the organization, presented the following petition to the students for approval:

"We, the students and faculty of McPherson college, appreciate your courageous stand to preserve the Kellogg Pact in the present Chinese-Japanese controversy.

"We believe that this can best be done through cooperation with the League of Nations, and that a majority of Americans desire such cooperation.

"Since the Council of the League is now meeting, and since capable American delegates are now attending the Geneva Disarmament Conference, we urge that the American government appoint one of that number to sit with the League Council in settling the Chinese-Japanese difficulty."

213 of the students present in assembly voted in favor of the petition, one voted against it, and seven did not vote. Copies will be sent to President Hoover and Secretary of State Stimson, along with the results of the vote taken.

The Y. M. C. A. is also sending petitions to the same persons containing, in addition to the above request, the following points: 1. That the United States effect immediate withdrawal of citizens, troops, and battleships from the troubled area in China. 2. That the United States take the initiative in making drastic reductions in armaments at the Geneva Conference.

A petition is soon to be sent to the Japanese ambassador to the United States requesting that Japan cooperate with the League of Nations, and consent to settle the present difficulty by conciliation.

Several individuals on the campus are sending similar petitions to government officials.

MRS. W. T. LUCKETT DIED SATURDAY

Mrs. W. T. Luckett, a graduate of McPherson in the class of 1925, died last Saturday at Hutchinson, Kansas. Death was caused by double pneumonia. The funeral occurred at 1:30 p. m., Monday, and the body was sent to McClave, Colorado, for burial.

NEGATIVE MEETS WICHITA U.

McPherson Goes Into Debate Here With Two Veterans, Two New Men

This evening the McPherson affirmative team meets the Bethany negative in the first varsity debate of the 1932 season. The debate is to take place in the college chapel, beginning at 8:00 o'clock.

Lilburn Gottmann, first McPherson affirmative, will open the forensic battle against the Swedes, and the second man to be heard on the affirmative side will be Ward Williams. The latter has two years of varsity debate on his record, and has proved to be a real threat to all opponents. Gottmann is new to varsity debate this year, but in second year debates last year and in his work so far this year he has given proof of his ability. These two men were the ones who took second place in the pre-season tourney held at Winfield on December 4 and 5, in competition with sixty-one other teams from seven states.

They will be opposed tonight by Emil Lundquist and Loren Sibley, two of Bethany's most formidable speakers. The Swedes are starting on a trip of several weeks duration, and the debate here is to be the first on the tour for them. A hard fight is inevitable. Coach Maurice A. Hess states that McPherson is facing two stiff teams in the opening round this season, and the results of these contests will probably have a decided effect on final standings. The second debate of the first round occurs Friday night when the McPherson negative team, composed of Lawrence Lehman, first negative, and Walter Wollman, second negative, journeys to Wichita to meet the Wichita university affirmative team.

The question for debate this year is "Resolved: that Congress should enact legislation providing for the centralized control of industry."

The remaining schedule for the Bulldog debaters is as follows:

March 4—McPherson neg. vs. Wesleyan aff., here. McPherson aff. vs. Bethel neg., there.

March 18—McPherson aff. vs. Friends neg., here. McPherson neg. vs. Sterling aff., there.

STUDENTS SPEAK IN Y. M. C. A. TUESDAY

The weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. had as its chairman this morning J. T. Williams. The subject for discussion was a continuation on the Arts of Living. After the devotions which were led by Kenneth Blitkof, Miss Bernice Drescher sang a vocal solo entitled "Our Yesterdays."

The art of being cheerful was discussed by Jesse Dunning. He stated that it is in the power of each one to be cheerful because the attitude of cheerfulness is in the realm of the mind. He also said that it is through happiness that we gain cheerfulness, and hence we should start in this manner to master the art. "Enjoy the common things of life, for this contributes to cheerfulness," stated Mr. Dunning.

The art of being courteous was the topic discussed by Ward Williams. Courtesy has as its foundation "respect." Courtesy is directly opposed to selfishness, as trying to acquire public attention, which is a childlike action. Mr. Williams stated that courtesy is a result of superior attitudes, or being able to form a basis of respect for personality. We should watch ourselves and check up on what we are doing, and remake our attitudes toward others, and respect their rights and personalities, thus becoming courteous.

Discretion of speech is more than eloquence, and to speak agreeably to him with whom we deal, is more than to speak in good words or in good order.

—Lord Bacon.

SENSE OF HUMOR

The thing that most of us need is a sense of humor. A sense of humor keeps one from taking oneself too seriously and from indulging in self-pity. If we can draw our pet worries out into the light and make fun of them, they immediately become less forbidding and dissolve as if by magic.

Some one has said that laughter and tears are closely akin and if by laughing crying can be avoided—so much the better.

If one is inclined to regard his own ideas as the last word and if he can bear no criticism of fun at his expense, he is taking himself entirely too seriously. Before he is lowered too much in the eyes of his fellows, in addition to being unhappy himself, he had better begin cultivating or unearthing a sense of humor.—M. C. S.

DO IT NOW!

Stop resorting to idle wishing! Do something about getting the thing and achieving the success that you desire. If you want to be a singer, don't sit down, twiddle your thumbs, and decide that it could never be—get up and start practicing scales. If you want to be a novelist—begin now. Don't wait until you have lots of time or money to start writing. If you are over-weight and you think that you really should stop eating those extra bars, there is no time like the present to begin reducing.

In order to accomplish anything at all, you must decide on your goal, make your plans, and then keep your eyes on your goal.—M. C. S.

IF CHINA WERE ARMED

It is encouraging to note that at least a few of the newspapers of size and influence take exception to the too common viewpoint that the way to peace and trust and goodwill among nations is armed preparedness for warfare; that the way to get along with a sister nation is to stand armed to the teeth and ready to set in motion the machinery of hateful vengeance and bloodshed the moment that she makes a move calculated to be aggressive or dangerous.

We reprint an editorial from the Topeka Daily Capital, showing the dis-usefulness of cannons in one important instance:

"If China were well armed and organized from a military point of view," the Lola Register notes, "there would not now be any war in Shanghai." The same idea bristles up from many newspapers.

"If China were as military-minded as Japan and as well armed, nobody can say what might have happened, not this winter but 5, 10, 20 or 50 years ago. It would have altered the world balance. Former Kaiser William's "yellow peril" obsession might have been more than justified. The World War might never have been fought. But what other unimaginable wars might have been, who can say? Certainly, if China were an aggressive military power, instead of being a passive country not interested in imperialism, not to be taken into consultation or considered when large imperial programs by other predatory powers were projected, more can be said of what might have happened than that Japan's Manchurian adventure probably would not have.

"On the whole, the world is to be congratulated that China's 400 millions were not inclined in a military way in the last century or the last several centuries. There was once a military ruler of China, a good many centuries ago. And what Jenghiz Khan did to western and southern Asia and eastern and southeastern Europe was plenty. It is fortunate for other nations, if not for China, that China has not gone in strongly for "national defense" along with other powers. It is fortunate that Germany today is unarmed. That because unable to defend herself she will be attacked and annihilated is not likely. The German people are ready for general disarmament, being disarmed themselves, and believe they can get along if their neighbors disarm. Otherwise they will sooner or later join the armed powers.

"There is work for the Geneva disarmament conference to do, and there will be more for future conferences of the same kind."

STEADFASTNESS OF PURPOSE

A great writer has said, "A life without a purpose is like a ship without a sail." A ship, no matter how precious its cargo, would be of little use to the world sitting idle out in the middle of the ocean bound for nowhere. But the question is "How steadfast are we going to be holding to our purposes?" Are we going to let the first puff of wind that threatens our voyage discourage us and cause us to forget all about the enthusiasm which we had at the first of the year?

The men who build the great structures in our large cities must have steadfastness of purpose, else there would be many half-finished buildings dotting our cities. Those who have planned and designed new mechanical devices must have been steadfast in their purpose, or we would never have had all the modern conveniences perfected to a high degree as we have them today. Fields of waving grain such as we see in the summer-time show that those who planted them must have had a vision in the spring of the year and that they were steadfast in their efforts to reach their goal.

Surely more important than any of those tasks is the work of the Church, the building of the Kingdom of God. One of our most important goals should be to help others to know Jesus Christ. Let us not forget to ever work toward this end and to ever keep in mind the vision that the workers for Christ must have.—H. R.

W. A. A. INITIATION IS IN PROGRESS TODAY

Thursday, the fatal day of the W. A. A. initiation, for which prospective members have been waiting with confused feelings of anxiety and happy anticipation, faded into insignificance yesterday when it was learned that the event was to occur today instead of tomorrow. Conflicting activities tomorrow were given as the reason.

With the examination over the constitution a thing of the past the candidates have been looking forward to this occasion with great expectation. Those with the most vivid imaginations have pictured themselves on their knees in Harnly Hall scrubbing; others dreamed of running around garbed in one of Miss Heckethorn's dresses, carrying a stack of books. Such sighs as these you may see today if you but gaze about you.

The final mysterious rites for new members are scheduled to occur sometime this evening.

CRUMBS THAT FALL

The person who has tried and failed is a lot more likable than the one who has never tried at all.

If you don't look after your own interests somebody else will.

Get your pleasure as you travel along. It's foolish to wait until you have scaled the heights before you view the scenery.

Scandal is when nobody did anything, and somebody told it. Ignorance is when you don't know anything and somebody finds it out.

Still, as of old, men by themselves are priced—
For forty pieces Judas sold himself, not Christ.

SCHWALM REVIEWS LIFE OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Says Lincoln Was Not American, But International Hero

Fri., Feb. 12.—In observance of Abraham Lincoln's birthday Pres. V. F. Schwalm reviewed a few phases of the great man's life in the chapel service this morning.

"Abraham Lincoln," said President Schwalm, "is honored not only in America, but is found in the list of the world's great men." The qualities which he especially emphasized in Lincoln were the peculiar sadness and melancholy about his life, his "personal loving kindness," his unflinching confidence in what he believed to be truth and right, and his ability and willingness for self-effacement, or willingness to step aside when necessary to promote the cause for which he was working.

The speaker made mention of Lincoln's mastery of style in his writings, so that they are now considered as literary masterpieces.

During the program a large picture of Lincoln, which usually hangs in the south hall of Sharp Hall, was displayed on the chapel stage.

Responsibilities gravitate to the person who can shoulder them, and power flows to the man who knows how.

HAVE YOU HEARD, BELIEVE IT OR NOT, AS YOU LIKE IT

We decided to innovate one of these fashionable and much talked about columns into the dear and beloved Spectator which leaves it up to you as to how much you are going to believe and you can swallow as much of it as you think is digestible...

HAVE YOU HEARD THAT—

Dr. Schwalm, yes none other than dear Prexy himself, has decided he has misused his calling and that he wasn't designed to spend his time acting as an innocent college president and incidentally, in some cases, as dean...

The influential ones in the Business Office, namely Professor Fries and Maurine Stutzman, have gone into conference and as a result of this conference are prepared to make the announcement to all college students owing money to the McPherson College...

The faculty, in the last meeting, formally decided without any request of such nature from the students themselves, in other words it was originated with the faculty, to abolish at one sweep all the final exams at the end of this last semester...

The McPherson College Basketball Team has won two games this season, one of them with a lead of two points, the other with a lead of seven.

The men in Fahnestock Hall are not as tough as they like to make believe, otherwise they surely would not allow a little wedding cigar to make them so weak and dizzy they looked as tho' they were gassed or shell shocked...

Fortune tellers do sometimes predict the right happening and tell the truth, for proof just ask Lois Edwards.

Gulah Hoover is planning to reduce to one hundred and one pounds and to assume the willowy figure of Miss McIlrath, as soon as possible.

Den Trostle and other practice teachers are acquiring some of the traits of their seventh and eighth graders. Haven't you noticed Don's many Yo-Yos, and the expression of happiness on his face when deeply engrossed in manipulating one of them?

Remember now that all this is just "As You Like It" and if you don't like any of it, we're sorry!

Wichita, Feb. 15.—Wichita university and Friends university will be hosts to fifteen college delegations in a week end Christian World Education Conference March 5 and 6.

"Social Engineering on a World Scale" is the theme sentence around which the program is being planned. The leaders of this conference will be men and women particularly qualified to lead student discussion because of a background of world travel and international experience.

This conference is being held in response to a demand from the colleges within a radius of 100 miles of Wichita. It is expected that each campus will support the conference by sending large delegations.

DEPTH SOUNDERS FOR AIRCRAFT

With the application of electricity to aircraft instruments, another chapter was written in the annals of air transportation. To-day's ship is not only swifter but safer and more dependable.

The most recently developed instrument is the sonic altimeter, which provides a quick means of indicating changes in height above ground.

Intermittently operated air whistle is directed downward. The echo is picked up in a receiving megaphone, and the sound is heard through a stethoscope.

Besides developing a complete system of aircraft instruments, college-trained General Electric engineers have pioneered in every electrical field—on land, on sea, and in the air.

Mon., Feb. 15.—The Bethany college Swedes, now half way through the Kansas Conference basketball schedule, appear certain to retain the championship for this season. The Swedes have scored two points to their opponents' one, having scored 166 points in four games to 83 for their opponents. The Larson brothers continue to be the main part of Bethany's scoring machine. In the game with Baker Friday night Ottawa and Larson made 32 points out of 48, against 25 for the Methuonists. Bethany also gained its vengeance over Bethel college, which defeated the Swedes by one point earlier in the season, by taking a 47-16 game last week.

Ottawa strengthened its claim to second place in standings by beating McPherson 21 to 19 Friday night, but in turn dropped a nonconference game to the Haskell Indians, 17 to 23.

Kansas Wesleyan continued to lose its cage contests last week. Baker outscored the Coyotes to the tune of 27 to 28, and Rockhurst won 13 to 26 after defeating the Coyotes earlier in a game at Kansas City.

Baker lost an exhibition contest to Ozark Wesleyan at Baldwin Saturday night, 26 to 27.

Kansas Conference games this week:

Thursday—Baker vs. McPherson at McPherson.

Friday—Baker vs. Kansas Wesleyan at Salina. Bethany vs. Ottawa at Ottawa.

— DRIPPINGS — from THE DOPE BUCKET

Ottawa evened matters with the Bulldogs by defeating them at Ottawa Friday night. McPherson won from the Braves by a two-point margin here earlier in the season and now Ottawa has defeated the Bulldogs by a two-point margin on her home floor.

Ottawa also lost a game last week to the Haskell Indians in a non-conference exhibition contest by a score of 17-23. Haskell is coached by Weller, a former student at Haskell and an all round athlete.

Kansas Wesleyan continued its losing streak by losing one conference and one non-conference game this last week. Baker defeated the Coyotes by a score of 27-28 and Rockhurst college of Kansas City won from them in a nonconference exhibition by a 13 to 26 score.

The Swedes are continuing to show their supremacy over Kansas Conference opponents by winning games with large margins. This week they won from Baker by a 48 to 25 count. The Larson brothers, Carl and Herbert, have been scoring heavily in recent games. It looks as though it will be hard for any conference team to stop the Swedes.

The Bulldogs tangle this week with a team that has defeated them earlier in the season. Baker won from the Bulldogs by two points in McPherson's first conference game for the season. Since that time McPherson has improved enough that it should win this game. Both McPherson and Baker are now tied for third place in loop standings, and the result of tomorrow's game will send one of the teams competing down to fourth place.

On next Tuesday night the Bulldogs will tangle with the last place Kansas Wesleyan team in a conference game at McPherson. McPherson should win this game, but it is altogether possible that the Wesleyanites may spring an upset and win a game. They have been unfortunate in their games so far this season, losing every conference contest by a small margin. However, as a basketball opponent Wesleyan is certainly not to be despised.

V. Control and administration. Boards of control should have freedom to use their best judgment in the interests of the institution in any situation. Unity of internal administration is essential. Publicity as an administrative responsibility should be given more attention.

VI. Physical plant. Both adequacy of plant and desirability of aesthetic qualities are essential.

VII. Faculty. The faculty is recognized as the heart of an institution of higher learning.

VIII. Instruction. In general the number of departments should be reduced by grouping related subjects into larger units or divisions.

IX and X. Student body and student personnel. An institution finding its students below the average level of college student ability should examine its selective admission machinery or ask itself why it fails to attract superior prospective students.

XI. Teacher training. Teacher training is a recognized function of the liberal arts college, and should be conducted according to modern methods.

XII. Curricula and student programs. The basic idea in curriculum building should be the education of individual students.

XIII. Library. The growing importance of the library is generally recognized. In the administration of the library centralization rather than departmentalization is favored.

XIV. Financial support and accounting. In general, organizations are either under supported or are offering more extensive programs than available resources justify. Surveys are a distinct contribution in setting up standards as bases for the computation of financial needs.

XV. Provision for the religious life of students. A comprehensive but unified program with wide spread participation in practical activities should be offered.

XVI. Extra curricular activities. The program should be unified and supervision should be provided. Some surveys favor fraternities while others question whether their existence can be justified.

XVII. Physical education and athletics. More attention should be given to the corrective and recreative functions of physical education. Intra-mural athletics should be developed to the maximum, and intercollegiate athletics should be made a regular part of the physical education program.

The above brief statements are taken from a digest of a summary of college surveys made by F. M. Heston, and are probably representative of the survey to which our own institution will be subjected.

Pres. V. F. Schwalm stated that the survey may mean a great deal for the systematization and organization of the Church of the Brethren educational system.

A request has been tendered to the Carnegie Foundation that that organization pay the expense of this survey, amounting to approximately $2000, and it is very likely that this request will be granted.

LIBRARY CLOCK GETS A BATH

Library patrons have perhaps noticed during the last few days that the old faithful clock standing near the door, which has been known to strike the hours correctly twice in the same day, has been silent. Devoid of swaying pendulum, of hands, and in fact of its entire inner works, it had to quietly wait while Custodian Forney administered a thorough cleaning to the wheels and the things which make them go round.

W. S. G. IN CHARGE OF MONDAY ASSEMBLY

Mary Weddle Tells of Purposes and Accomplishments of the World Service Group

Mon., Feb. 15.—Chapel assembly this morning was entirely in the hands of the local World Service Group. Following the opening hymn led by Harvey Shank, Edith Bechtelheimer took charge of the devotional period. She read a poem entitled "Peace".

A mixed quartet composed of Gulah Hoover, Lois Edwards, Harvey Shank, and Delvis Bradshaw sang an anthem, "The Heavens Resound." They were accompanied by Mildred Runk.

Mary Weddle, treasurer of the W. S. G., gave a short talk on "What the World Service Group Is and What It Does." She read the opening passages of the constitution, setting forth the motto and purposes of the organization. Among its main purposes are the following: to cultivate the devotional life of its members; to create interest in religious vocations and social work; to aid in the creation of a Christian atmosphere and environment on the campus; and to aid in the spread of Christian influence by cooperating with missions.

In the years 1930, 1931, and 1932, the World Service Group has accomplished many notable things, as pointed out by Miss Weddle. It has conducted several series of study groups; it has furnished substitute Sunday School teachers on many occasions for the churches of McPherson; it has sent groups of students to sing in the McPherson hospital on Sundays; it has cooperated with the local division of the Red Cross.

Deputation work is perhaps the best known of the activities promoted by the World Service Group. In the period mentioned the group has sponsored the sending of five separate deputation teams into all parts of Kansas, and also into Missouri, Oklahoma, and Nebraska. These teams have given fifty-seven programs, mostly in churches and high schools. Another notable part of the work of the organization is its support of foreign missions. Among large contributions made last year are included gifts of one hundred fifty dollars each to the A. D. Helser African Mission Fund and to the Crumacker Fund for Missions in China.

The mixed quartet concluded the program by singing "Come Where the Lilies Bloom" and "Farewell to Thee".

Y. W. C. A. CABINET IS ENTERTAINED AT PARTY

Grace Heckman & Ada Brunk Act as Hostesses

Fri., Feb. 12.—This evening at 6:20 o'clock Miss Grace Heckman and Miss Ada Brunk entertained the members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet at a waffle supper at the Heckman home on East Euclid.

By means of Valentine place cards the guests found their places around the beautifully decorated table which carried out a Valentine motif with red and white as the predominant colors.

After the serving of the delicious two course waffle supper interesting games and radio music were the sources of entertainment. The prizes for the various games in which the guests participated were won by Mary Weddle, Esther Brown, and Alberta Yoder. Each girl made a small scrap book giving picture synopsis of that which might be her life history taking pictures from

"JACK" LEHMAN, '31 LEAVES LAW SCHOOL

John Lehman, class of '31, who has been taking school work at Harvard Law School, Cambridge, Massachusetts, has been forced to discontinue his study owing to poor health. He has returned to his home at Holland, near Carlton, Kansas.

Mr. Lehman is remembered for his active interest in school forensics. He was a member of the varsity debate team two years, and a member of the state champion team in 1931. He won first in a national oratorical contest in 1929. During his last two years at McPherson he was president of the Student Council.
