Varsity Quartets Are Not Yet Chosen By Supervisor Of Voice TO HAVE FOUR QUARTETS

Temporary Male Quartet Goes To Summerfield October 3

Mon., Sept. 21—Fifty-nine students are included in the combined men's and women's glee clubs as announced by Mrs. Anna C. Tate. The selections were made on the basis of tryouts held early last week for positions in the glee clubs and the two varsity quartets.

Mrs. Tate has not yet decided upon the permanent members of either the men's quartet or the ladies' quartet, but a quartet composed of Delvis Bradshaw, Harlow Nachtigal, Ben Kim, and Chester Siemens was chosen to sing at the District Conference of the Church of the Brethren to be held at Summerfield, Kansas, on October 3 and 4. The latter three of this group are former members of the Buhler high school male quartet.

This year Mrs. Tate plans to have a first and second quartet for both men and women, to be made up of members of the upper and lower classes respectively.

Members of the ladies' glee club are as follows: Attilia Anderson, Arline Anderson, Alma Atchison, Rosalind Almen, Velma Amos, Dorothy Brooks, Elaine Baird, Orpha Beth, Edith Bechtelheimer, Bernice Drescher, Florence Drescher, Viola De Vilbiss, Mildred Dahlinger, Lois Edwards, Vera Flora, Bernice Fowler, Evalyn Fields, Elizabeth Holzemer, Helen Holloway, Gulah Hoover, Fern Handke, Faith Ketterman, Clara Mast, Neoma Nordling, Una Ring, Alice Ruehlein, Eileen Steinberg, Ethel Sherry, Genevieve Suttle, Mattie Shay, and Mary Swain.

The men's glee club is composed of the following:

SPECIAL ELECTION TO BE HELD ON OCTOBER 2

Fri., Sept. 18—Announcement was posted today of a special student election to be held on Friday, October 2, in order to fill the offices of cheer leader and treasurer of the Student Council.

At present John Kindy and Kenneth Blitkofer are occupying these offices temporarily, by appointment of the Student Council. Nominations for candidates must be accompanied by a petition bearing fifty signatures, which is to be given to the president of the Student Council before the time of election.

SEVENTY-FIVE ATTEND SOCIAL HOUR SAT. NIGHT

Held in Y. W. Room Under Auspices Of Social Committee

Sat., Sept. 19—In the Y. W. C. A. room this evening the so-called social hour, sponsored by the Social Committee lengthened to three hours as the students, under the direction of Miss Mattie Shay and Mr. Vernon Rhoades, engaged in the various games arranged for their amusement.

No definite program of games was conducted but as the guests assembled they took their places at Rook tables, checker boards, bean bag boards, "Cootie" tables, and other game centers. The informality of the amusements and the hilarity of the participants contributed much to the enjoyment of the evening. About seventy-five were present.

Simple refreshments of ice cream cones were served.

DAN WEST LEADS IN A DISCUSSION OF PEACE

International Club to Take Active Part in Peace Movement.

Wed., Sept. 16—This evening the International Club held its first meeting of the year. A group of about forty students met together to discuss what they could do for world peace, under the leadership of Dan West. Anyone who knows Dan West knows that he can usually get the most timid and reticent person to express his views. Some hot and almost violent arguments were engaged in and it was with a great deal of reluctance that the group finally disbanded.

The International Club is planning to take an active part in the peace movement this year. Meetings will be held twice a month on Monday evenings and interesting programs on the peace question will be given. An effort will also be made to send out deputation teams to adjoining high schools and to bring a special speaker to the campus during the winter. Anyone who is at all interested in the great question of peace and war is urged to attend these meetings.

HESS SAYS WE MUST MEET RESPONSIBILITY

Speaks in Chapel Monday

Mon., Sept. 21—"We have an obligation to meet responsibility. We must not avoid it." This was the substance of a statement made by Prof. Maurice A. Hess this morning in chapel service.

Prof. Hess cited the methods used by various classes of individuals or groups to dodge or compromise with the responsibilities which come to them, the outstanding example being Pontius Pilate. He said that dodging responsibility was a far graver offense for him who knows to do good than for he who must act on impulse.

Dr. V. F. Schwalm in a brief talk said that students this year are already finding their level of classification in the eyes of the faculty, and urged that they make the opening weeks of college effective in organizing their principles of conduct for the year and for life.

ANNUAL NIGHT SHIRT PARADE NEXT THURSDAY

Every Student Expected to Take Part

Pep and then some more pep for McPherson college and her football team are going to come into full evidence next Thursday evening when the big annual Night Shirt Parade is scheduled to take place, in preparation for the first football game with Hutchinson Junior college on the following night.

At seven o'clock P. M. the students will meet in front of Sharp Hall, clad in proper attire for occasions of this kind, and then will be led by the cheer leaders to town for an enthusiastic pep rally. It is expected that every person connected with the college will be one hundred percent behind our team this year, and cooperation in this first big rally will go a long way toward assuring a successful season for the Builders.

COMING EVENTS

Thurs., Sept. 24, 10 A. M.—Pep rally in the college chapel.

Thurs., Sept. 24, 7 P. M.—All students gather in front of Sharp Hall for annual Night Shirt Parade.

Fri., Sept. 25, 8 P. M.—McPherson-Hutchinson football game in McPherson Athletic Park.

Tues., Sept. 29, 10 A. M.—Regular Y. W. C. A. meetings.

"CHEERFULNESS" TO BE THE THEME OF THE McPHERSON COLLEGE YEARBOOK FOR 1931-32

Class Pictures To Be Taken Immediately, Beginning With The Freshmen This Week

RADIO SPEAKER TALKS IN CHAPEL WEDNESDAY

Wed., Sept. 16—A radio speaker, Dr. Wilson, presented the morning chapel address. Dr. Wilson is a widely known radio speaker and has been in McPherson giving lectures at the Methodist and Mission Churches. He broadcasts for the Kansas City Star.

In his address he showed the importance and greatness of two great books—the outdoor book, Nature, and the indoor book, the Bible. He related several examples and cited many facts showing that everything in Nature and in the Bible is perfect, and that they were made perfect by a living God.

WORLD SERVICE GROUP TABULATES RESULTS OF AN ACTIVITY SURVEY

Thurs., Sept. 17—Members of the World Service Group have finished tabulating the results of the Student Activity Survey which was made at the time of registration this fall.

Each person was given along with his enrollment blanks a record sheet on which he was asked to record both former participation and interest for the coming year in the extra-curricular activities available to McPherson college students. The record includes many activities in the fields of journalism, forensics, dramatics, music, athletics, deputations and social service, Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., and the World Service group itself.

These facts are available at present, and are a valuable aid to those in charge of the included subjects.

W. A. A. BEGINS SCHEDULE OF ACTIVITIES FOR YEAR

Sponsors Sports And Habits Which Improve Both Body And Mind

The Women's Athletic Association is beginning its schedule of tennis, basketball, baseball, horse shoes, soccer, hiking, and health rallies.

The purpose of this organization is to promote sound bodies and minds among the women students at McPherson college.

Honor points are given for each sport and awards are then made. At the end of the first year a girl having the required number of points wins an insignia. The second year she gets a numeral, and at the end of the third year a letter is awarded. The highest award is a pin given to fourth year members.

At the beginning of each sport, the members plan a definite number of practices and three-fourths of these practices must be attended in order to win honor points. Each sport requires approximately three hours of practice.

The crowning event of the W. A. A. year is the annual banquet held in the spring.

PEP RALLY IN CHAPEL NEXT THURSDAY MORNING

Cheer Leaders Will Teach Yells and Songs

Next Thursday morning at ten o'clock the first organized pep meeting of the year will take place in the college chapel under the direction of Mildred Doyle and John Kindy, cheer leaders.

At this time, in addition to the usual enthusiastic cheering, those present will attempt to learn the yells and songs which are unfamiliar to them. This will be of a special benefit to the freshmen.

It is hoped that every loyal M. C. student will be on hand to do his part in maintaining the school spirit which has made McPherson college famous.

PLANS NEARLY COMPLETED

"Dummy" Has Been Made Up By Members Of Quad, Staff

Mon., Sept. 21—Contrasting somewhat with "Work," the subject of last year's Quadrangle, the yearbook for the present term will follow the theme of "Cheerfulness," according to plans made public today by editor Donald Trostle.

Both the editor and the business manager, Verle Ohmart, have been working hard since last spring in order to make possible the 1932 Quadrangle, and at present the plans are practically completed. A "dummy" has been completely made up, and the chief task remaining for the "Quad" staff is that of obtaining photographs.

This will begin immediately. During the next week the freshmen are expected to have their pictures taken at the Walker studio in McPherson for the yearbook. Beginning a week from today the sophomores will do likewise, and the two upper classes in order during the following weeks. The cost to each student for the Quadrangle cut has been reduced to seventy-five cents, the former price being one dollar.

The Quadrangle is sponsored by the Student Council. Members of the staff are: Donald Trostle, editor; Verle Ohmart, business manager; Ethel Sherry, associate editor; Nellie Collins, editor of calendar and humor section; Delbert Kelly, snapshot editor, and Harvey Shank, photograph editor. The photograph editor will bring proofs from the studio to each student, and will see that the proof desired is returned for development. A faculty advisor for the Quadrangle has not yet been selected.

LIBRARY INCREASED BY SEVEN THIS WEEK

Books still continue to come into the library. During the past week the total number was increased by seven: "John Brown's Body" by Benet; "Our Country's Flag and Anthem" by Emmanuel Bija; "A First Course in Physics For Colleges" by Millikan and Edwards; "Minerals and How to Study Them" by Dana; "Literature of the Past and Present" by Warner Taylor; and "Religion in Higher Education" by Towner.

"John Brown's Body" is a poem on War, resembling the book "All Quiet on the Western Front" in content. The book "Our Country's Flag and Anthem" is a gift of the Hon. Judge John W. Hausmann. Ward Williams donated the Physics book by Millikan and Edwards.

C. E. DISCUSSES "HOW FAR TO FOLLOW JESUS"

Sun., Sept. 20—The College Christian Endeavor met in the church basement at 6:30 this evening for the third meeting of this school year. Clinton Trostle led an interesting discussion on the question "How Far Can We Follow Jesus?" Delvis Bradshaw spoke on "What Do We Mean by Following Jesus?" The second speaker, Velma Keller, spoke on "Can It Be Done Today?" Ralph Keedy spoke on "Why Jesus' Teaching is Always Up-to-date." The last talk, given by Lois Edwards, was on "How Far can we Follow Jesus?"

Two outstanding points brought out in the talks were the facts that "to follow Jesus means to love our fellowmen," and "a follower of Jesus is marked by a distinctive Christian attitude toward life." Special music for the program was given by Viola De Vilbiss, who played a violin solo.

There is no evil which we cannot face or fly from but the consciousness of duty disregarded.—Daniel Webster.

WE MUST SPECIALIZE WITH MODERATION

"Specialization is carried too far in colleges and universities today," according to F. L. Pinet, secretary of the Kansas State Teachers' Association, as reported by the Topeka Capital. "Too much specialization in any one line decreases the number and variety of subjects which a teacher is qualified to teach. This is especially important when an applicant is seeking his first position in rural communities where two and often three or four combinations of subjects must be met."

Mr. Pinet's opinions are based upon problems faced by the Kansas Teacher Placement bureau, which he supervises.

The first consideration of any school board, he explained, is whether or not the applicant has had the proper training. Perhaps, however, one of the strongest points in securing a position is the small reprint photograph attached to each application, which gives a considerable index to the personality of the individual. In one instance a board member refused to hire an applicant because she was too fat, and therefore could not command the respect of her pupils. Mr. Pinet says that the personal interview, too, is a requisite today in obtaining a teaching position. Recommendations, while they still have an important place, are no longer sufficient in themselves.

"Our greatest difficulty," Pinet said, "is in getting the right kind of teachers rather than in finding vacancies." The motto for his bureau is "superior teachers for superior schools."

The past five years have seen an increased overflow of qualified applicants for teaching positions, but late this summer only 400 vacancies had been reported as compared to 600 last year.

Manual training, music, and kindergarten lead the field in demand at the present time, while English and history continue to be the most overcrowded. In the case of the latter subjects a combination with music, physical education, or public speaking is almost invariably demanded.

August brings the largest number of vacancies to the placement bureau. Many school boards deliberate to make selections until the last minute, and changes in plans, including marriage, a better position, or return to college, are listed as other primary reasons.

WE ARE FORTUNATE

The advent of our campus of a man like Dan West is bound to leave an impression on the lives of those who were privileged to hear him. Dan is the kind of a man who brings young people to a realization of some of the deeper meanings of life, underneath the superficial covering of our everyday activities. His quiet and unassuming manner carries with it a dignity and authority of unusual degree.

We are indeed fortunate in our college environment to have contacts with the great personalities which come to our campus. Every student owes it to himself at least to give attention to their public messages, and in most cases can arrange for a private talk with these sympathetic men of experience regarding his own problems or interests.

IS McPHERSON DEMOCRATIC OR NOT?

McPherson college is considered a democratic college. The question involved is this, is it or not? If one were to observe the inside workings of the organizations his opinion would be negative. If the question were asked, Do the organizations of the school follow Robert's Rules of Parliament—what would the answer be? Do the students or laymen have a say concerning the procedure? The answer would be "No." Why? Because the field has been so thoroughly covered and investigated by a few leaders and definite plans outlined. The student is expected to follow outline as given.

A certain instructor giving a course has gone over the course so many times, and has given the same line of procedure for years. Right or wrong, if the student does not stay to the habitual line of thinking he is doomed for failure.

Again, the other day a certain class held a class meeting. The presiding officer of the class proceeded to give a drawn up, cut and dried plan, based upon a haphazard investigation of the affairs of the class. He proceeded to give orders and appoint committees as he saw fit, finally dismissing the organization without move, recognition, or consent of the class. Is that democratic? Must we like snakes be force-fed or like a bunch of cattle be driven by a chosen few whether we like it or not? Is McPherson college to be democratic? If it is let us make it so or change the advertisement to something else. The World War was fought to make the world safe for democracy. Kaiser and kings must abdicate. Autocracy must fall. Students, your opinion is as good as that of anyone else. Do your part in making McPherson college not a school of masses ruled by a few autocrats, but a school where democracy rules supreme.—Submitted.

IF BOOZE COMES BACK

If we give booze just one little hole through which to come back, what will happen? The worst outlaws in the country are more or less addicted to drink. The drinker is not the man that has the highest respect for either the laws of God or of man. In fact he who drinks is a violator of both the law of God and of man.

Give liquor any sort of chance to get back, in any kind of restricted manner, and liquor drinkers will be hilarious, they will over-ride and over-reach the privileges granted until liquor will either flow more freely than in saloon days or the enforcement machinery will have to be multiplied many times beyond its present capacity.

Henry Ford is quoted as saying: "For myself, if booze ever comes back to the United States, I am done with manufacturing. With booze in control, we can count on only two or three effective days' work a week in the factory—and that would destroy the short day and the five-day week which sober industry has introduced." Are we selfish that favor prohibition? The greatest sufferer would be the laboring man and his family.

If booze comes back in any form, the difficulty in keeping drunken drivers off the public highways would be multiplied many times. They say our jails are full of liquor law violators now. They would be ten times multiplied if liquor were made ten times easier to get and drunks were to be kept off the highways.

—Prohibition Defender.

GOTTMANN SPEAKS IN Y. M.

Tues., Sept. 22—"What We Expect of Freshmen," was the topic discussed by Lilburn Gottmann in the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. this morning in the college chapel.

From the viewpoint of the upper-class men he told what the new members were expected to do and be in three fields, the mental, the spiritual, and the social.

Devotions were led by Kenneth Bitekofor, and Miss Vera Flora gave a vocal solo, "My Task."

MAXINE RING LEADS FRESHMAN IN ENGLISH

Nine Out of Fifteen Highest Are from McPherson High School

Mon., Sept. 21—Maxine Ring, freshman, made the highest score in an objective test which was given recently to the freshmen of the College. She made the score of 145 points out of a possible 150 points. Miss Ring graduated from the McPherson high school as valedictorian in the class of 1931.

The English test which was given is devised by E. R. Barrett and is distributed to all the colleges of Kansas from K. S. T. C., Emporia, to be given to freshmen. The test measured the student's use of words, punctuation, capitals, and syntax.

Among those scoring in the fifteen highest, nine are graduates of the local high school. This fact is complimentary not only to these students but also to the type of work being done in the local high school.

The fifteen students and their scores which ranked highest are: Maxine Ring, 145; Marlene Dappen, 138; Eunice Vogt, 136; Donald Evans, 132; Margaret Oliver, 128; Edith Hechtelbeimer, 128; Bernice Dresler, 127; Agnes Bean, 127; Ruth Spillman, 123; Walton Smith, 122; Gladys Riddell, 121; Ruth Hohart, 118; Harry Frantz, 118; Royal Frantz, 117; and Henry Kittell, 117.

COLLEGE CHURCH SPONSORS SOCIAL HOUR LAST SUNDAY NIGHT

Sun., Sept. 20—A social hour was sponsored by the College Church this evening for the purpose of acquainting the students and the older members with one another.

A program led by Paul Sargent followed a short period of getting acquainted. Blanch Harris led the group in some friendship songs, and talks were given by Rev. Richards, Lloyd Larson, Dean Repligle, and Dr. Schwalm.

Refreshments were served at the close of the hour.

Where boasting ends, there dignity begins.

PROSPECTS FOR LARGER ORCHESTRA THAN USUAL

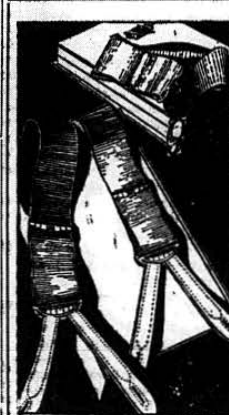

Tues., Sept. 22—The college orchestra met and rehearsed for the first time last Wednesday under the direction of Miss Margaret Shelly.

There seems to be an added interest in the orchestra this year as there will be approximately twenty members. The windward section in particular has been increased by a great deal over that of last year.

All in all prospects for a good orchestra this year are looking unusually bright.

BULLDOGS WILL HAVE AN ASSISTANT COACH

Lester Selves of C. of E. Will Assist Binford

3-YEAR ALL-STATE MAN

Has Charge Of Back Field—Later Will Coach Reserves

Wednesday, Sept. 16—Lester Selves, assistant coach at the College of Emporia during the past two years, today became assistant to Coach Binford for the coming Bulldog football season.

Coach Selves was a four year letter man in the backfield at Emporia, graduating in 1929, and was on the mythical All-State Eleven for three years, when for the same three years Emporia held the conference championship. His experience and success as a halfback make him well fitted to train the sixteen men who are trying for backfield positions on the McPherson squad. When the first squad has been developed he will have charge of the reserves.

HUTCHINSON PREDICTS HARD GAME FOR M. C.

Opponents Will Have 175 Pound Average

The following is probably the approximate lineup of the Hutchinson Junior college team which the Bulldogs will face next Friday night:

Powell	LE
Henry	LT
Harmon (captain)	LG
Massey	C
Pratz	RG
Brittan	RT
Krautzer	RE
Anderson	QB
Johns	LHB
Bodwell	RHB
Kelly	F

An average weight of 175 pounds is claimed for the Hutchinson team, and they predict that McPherson will have her hands full when the two teams clash. In a scrimmage last Friday the first team made four touchdowns against the reserves, Kelly and Johns making most of the long gains. Johns did some brilliant work last year on the Imanu high school team.

It is reported that Pratz and Brittan also will bear watching, as both have been showing up well in practice games.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE WILL STUDY SOCIAL AFFAIRS

Composed Of Both Students And Faculty Members

The Social Committee, a new group this year, was organized by the Student Council to study and further the social life of the students. For some time it has been felt that there was a need for a more constructive and more effective social life on the campus.

A committee consisting of two faculty members, Miss Della Lehman and Dean R. E. Mohler, and two students, Adelyn Taylor and Kermit Hayes, was elected last week.

The committee plans to arrange the social calendar so that each student may participate in a maximum number of social events. The aim of the committee is to arrange the major social events for a wider distribution throughout the year and to lighten periods of relatively little activity by special Student Council parties or social hours.

BULLDOGS ALL SET FOR HUTCHINSON GAME FRI.

Binford Announces Tentative Lineup

HAVE MANY RESERVES

Game Called At 8 P. M.—Leslie Edmonds To Referee

McPherson college gridsters are working out this week in hard and long sessions in preparation for the Hutchinson game Friday night.

While having a lineup which includes a large number of inexperienced men, Coach Binford will have a working machine that will be able to put up some stiff competition when it goes into action on the McPherson Athletic Field next Friday. A particular advantage which the Bulldogs enjoy this fall is an exceptionally large number of qualified reserves, any one of which will be practically as good as the men on the field. There are fourteen or fifteen men trying for the backfield position alone at present. Therefore no player has his position clinched as yet.

The following will be the tentative lineup for the Hutchinson game as announced by Coach Binford, who is giving at least two alternatives for nearly every position:

Hochstrasser	LE
Quigg or Kim	LT
Minea or Countryman	LG
Mowbray or Kenberry	C
Keek	RG
Stemens or M. Sorenson	RT
Pauls	RE
Rex Anderson or Taylor	QB
Haws or Beckwith	LHB
Carpenter or Binford	RHB
Zinn or E. Anderson	F

Leonard Wiggins, freshman, has been showing considerable kicking ability, and will doubtless see action at one or the other of the half-back positions during the game.

This lineup will have a line averaging about 170 pounds, with a backfield averaging 167.

The game Friday night is scheduled to begin at eight o'clock. The referee will be Leslie Edmonds of the Topeka Daily Capital sports staff.

— DRIPPINGS — from THE DOPE BUCKET

Ralph Keedy proved his fitness as head of the McPherson student body last week. In a meeting of the International Club (what on earth can that have to do with athletics?), the suggestion was made that we drop war terminology as a peace move. Keedy protested, "Yeah, and we might urge our teams on to victory yelling, 'Struggle, team, struggle!'"

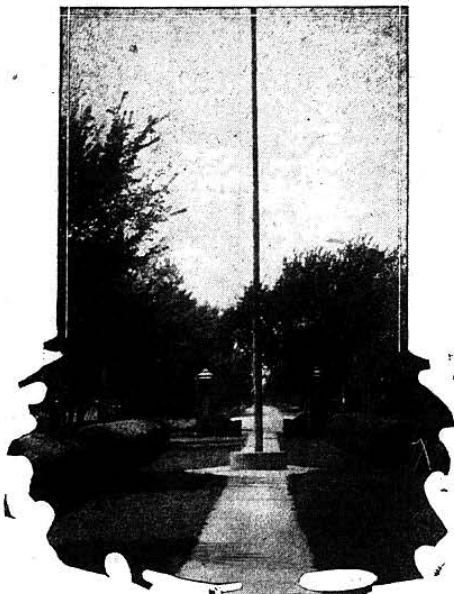

After looking over the members of the Ethics class it looks like the huddles this year will last even longer. It may become necessary to determine the ethical implications of the contemplated action.

Blanch Harris is back. Do you remember two years ago when he furnished the entertainment during the intermission between halves? Moral: Freshmen should remember that they are not to have dates at athletic contests until after Thanksgiving.

THE "Y" PROMOTES COOPERATION AND GOODWILL

There is no doubt that we fail to realize our privileges as Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. members. The things we receive from these organizations are lasting things that promote good will and friendship, and inspire students to realize more consecrated lives.

Every fall college life begins with both "Y" organizations sponsoring a get-acquainted program. An all-school watermelon feed is conducted, each fall, while the Y. M. C. A. furnishes a "stag" hike, and the Y. W. C. A. sponsors a Big and Little Sister project. Parties and other social events are provided during the year. All students, as well as alumni, agree that such events have aided a great deal to their education. But more vital are the opportunities provided for development of spiritual life. Through cooperative efforts Christian leaders are brought to the campus. During the last two years such men as Powers Haggood, Dr. Wilson, Norman Thomas, C. C. Elzeberger, Sherwood Eddy, and Dr. Clement Richardson have come to us thus.

Besides companionship with men and fellowship with books, these Y. M. and Y. W. organizations afford opportunities denied to many others to gain great interests in the world through pictures. Motion pictures of educational value can, indeed, stimulate progress.

When we attempt to estimate the values that such organizations give, it should spur us on to cooperate our individual efforts more devotedly with the "Y", which will lead finally not only to cooperation with fellow men but also with Christ.—Genevieve Crist.

Oh, East is East, and West is West, and never the twain shall meet, Till Earth and Sky stand presently at God's great Judgment Seat; But there is neither East nor West, Border, nor Breed, nor Birth, When two strong men stand face to face, though they come from the ends of the earth! —Kipling.

HEARTS AS PLAYED ON McPHERSON'S CAMPUS

(By D. C.)

Hearts? Yes, it is a great game! And even our dear M. C., in spite of her frowning abhorrence of such trivialities as cards, plays this age-old game of love. As one bright scholar once said:
"In the fall a young girl's fancy,
Turns to ways of trapping men."

So here goes the low down on some of these flourishing romances, new-born inspirations and infantile flirtations, and please remember that we are just stating facts.

A good starting point is a blonde Senior man, tall and good looking, who has for his theme song, just one word, "Ethereal". That evidently is a requirement that all his women must fulfill. It was thought that surely here is one conscientious hero who is going to spend a year in college and remain true to his charge but woe unto all these trusting ambitions, for already he has succumbed to temptations we would have him withstand.

Even this man can't compete with the sheik who has a girl in every town he has visited, doesn't believe in writing letters, but likes to love 'em' and leave 'em. He repeatedly insists that he wants his women to be the kind that tell you goodbye then proceed to forget you ever existed until you go back and meet 'em' again. Then they're willing to say hello, take you back and start right in where you left off. No wonder poor disillusioned women wake up in the morning to the fact that it is a cruel world and thus add more suicides to the overflowing records.

We know a worthy Senior lassie, quite dignified, entertaining, and intelligent, really equal to the name of Senior who has in addition to all this an ambition for a young man residing in a southern state and who happens to be a trustee of this very institution she calls her alma mater. Although they are seldom privileged to gaze upon each other smile this is one instance where that old adage of "absence make the heart grow fonder" is holding true, in so far as any one is competent to judge.

There is a certain little tow-headed kid around school whom you've probably seen just "messin' around" or else talking for all she's worth since she is a debater both during and between practices. Her special joy and pride seems to be a tall, noble looking stoic, who from his great height looks serenely down on the rest of poor stumbling mankind but who, according to his lady, isn't at all silent or bashful. He is a great athlete and he ought to play well for his old alma mater this season considering the fact that the short of this combination is one of the two who's duty it is to help keep up the old fight during this school year.

And another couple quite devoted are happily basking in contentment after dreaming away the summer months in far distant thoughts—he, to often stop his horses at the western end of the corn field and sit gazing into the sinking sun with an expression of rapturous longing on his noble features and she, to wonder how watermelons were growing in eastern Kansas. He had no sooner reached his home in early June than his feet began to have a vagabondish itch and his brain fairly reeled under the impress of that famous injunction "Go west, young man, go west!" And it was only the malady acquired from a certain well known vine that kept him away from the conference and a certain dark haired girl in Colorado.

Here's to Clara and may she never again have to suffer the indignity of being stopped by the Cops and searched for fire-water and accused of behaving as a prowler.

Now if any of you care for contrast, let me cite you to four innocent maidens, each one being an important co-ed in M. C. They all have B. F.'s who in order to some day properly fill their positions as mainstay and provider seem to deem it necessary to leave the dear ladies and seek honorable positions or worthy education many miles distant.

There are several ways in which these co-eds may be contrasted, but just to give you a faint idea, two of the girls are the well known "gentlemen prefer blondes" type and the other two are calm-eyed brunets.

Three of them inhabit the dormitory while just one, although she isn't a native of McPherson lives downtown. But here is the item of most interest—two men are assured that whenever they feel the urge to return to the familiar paths of this campus their chosen ones will never fail to rejoice in anticipation of thrills few of us have ever experienced. Alas! the other two gentlemen may return only to find their ladies spending enjoyable hours with other Apollons.

However, one must not judge too harshly, for who can be sure that any druggist in Farmer's College will be able to resist some Kansas

DEFEAT IS CERTAIN FOR THE BULLDOGS!

M. C. Hopes Dashed as Team Loses 1000 Pounds Last Week

The optimistic supporters of the McPherson eleven are at the present time in a state of complete dejection. The facts have looked out despite the vigilant efforts of the athletic department to keep them concealed. The fact is that last week the football squad of McPherson College lost over a thousand pounds in weight. The gains at the beginning of the season over last year of approximately ten pounds per man will soon be but a memory of the past.

Coch Binford made the confession only after the most determined questioning. He said that in every practice the team lost more than two hundred pounds in weight. If you are mathematically inclined you readily estimate that this is over one thousand pounds per week.

There is only one fact which gives us the slightest comfort in such a time as this. The team has the habit of gaining the two hundred pounds back again before practice the following day.

business matters. A list of rules for eligibility presented by Verle Ohmart was discussed by the members, but no definite action was taken. A committee was chosen to have charge of the concessions at football games this fall. It consists of Loren Rock, Elmer Keck, and Edward Bradley. The amount of dues for members was not decided upon.

The Student Council has agreed to handle the publication of the Bulldog Bulletin, which is distributed at athletic games. No advertisements for the Bulletin are to be solicited from McPherson business men.
