TWENTY-TWO STUDENTS HERE GIVEN CWA AID

Part-time Jobs Given To The Needy College Students In Various Types of Work

ENROLLMENT QUOTA BASIS

Average Salary Will Be $15 Per Month for Rest of Year

McPherson College is allotted twenty-two students as its quota for those to be given part-time jobs under the CWA plan for relief among needy college students. The new program is a part of the Civil Works Administration re-employment plan.

Halted as one of the most encouraging announcements, from the point of view of college students, that has been made since the start of the depression, part-time jobs will be provided for 100,000 needy collegians who otherwise would be unable to complete their courses this semester.

According to Harry L. Hopkins, chief administrator, about three-fourths of the students to be aided will be those who would be forced to drop out of school for financial reasons, while the other one-fourth will be made up of students of good character and marked ability who are eligible for admission to colleges and universities but otherwise would not be financially able to enter. The part-time jobs will be allocated between women and men students in proportion to the enrollment of each last September, Hopkins said.

It is expected that the program will require between $5,000,000 and $7,000,000, the exact amount depending on the number of students who qualify with the authorities of the various institutions where allocations of funds will be made.

State emergency relief administrators have been authorized by Hopkins to provide part-time jobs at the colleges for needy students up to 10 per cent of their regular enrollment of full-time students as of Oct. 15, 1933. The program provides for part-time employment to the end of the current academic year, but not including the 1934 summer sessions.

The students will receive from $10 to $20 per month for socially desirable work on the kinds of jobs customarily done by students working their way through college, including clerical, library and research work and work on buildings, grounds, in dormitories and dining halls.

The allotments to the various colleges will provide jobs in addition to those provided at the present time by the institutions themselves.

The presidents of the colleges and universities will be individually responsible for the program in their respective institutions, allotments for which will be based on an average of $15 a month for each student employed.

Those students who will be given aid in McPherson College are: Elmer Staats, Everett Fasnacht, Chester Colwell, Carol Koons, Floyd Harris, Vincent Watson, Warner Nettleton, Harold Johnston, Harold Binford, Galen Ogden, Martha Andes, Frances Christian, Elizabeth Bowman, Verma Mae Severson, Una Ring, Neva Root, Lloyd Moehman, Arnold Johnston, Marjorie Brown, Ruth Webber, Miss Breon and Miss Bradsky.

The type of work included in the work on the campus consists of library work, accounting, stenography, painting, assistants, campus upkeep, and various other types.

These students receive from $12 to $18 a month for work ranging in time from 40 to 60 hours a month.

W. S. G. TO GIVE PROGRAM ON RELIGIOUS SERVICES

As a special feature for guests of the Regional Conference, the World Service Group is holding a meeting next Tuesday at 6:45 p. m. The theme of this meeting will be discussions on problems relative to conducting religious services.

Anyone who has a particular interest in this phase of religious life will be welcomed as a guest at this meeting.

ANTI-TOBACCO ORATORICAL DATE WEDNESDAY, FEB. 14

The local Anti-Tobacco Oratorical Contest will be held next Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the college chapel. Postponement of the date was made to allow greater time for preparation.

Six students will enter the contest. Those who are entering are Elmer Staats, Galen Ogden, Paul Book, Royal Frantz, Willard Fleming, and Byron Eshelman.

Two judges have been selected from the Regional Conference speakers. Dr. D. W. Kurtz and the Rev. C. E. Davis. The other judges are Dr. J. D. Bright, Miss Della Lehman and Dr. Ray C. Petry.

The winner of this contest will represent McPherson in the state Anti-Tobacco Oratorical contest.

JUNIORS RECEIVE AWARD ON EXTRAVAGANZA STUNT

Floyd Harris Wins Second Prize With Group of Tricks On Cornet

The Junior Class received first prize for their stunt given at the first annual Extravaganza, Friday Feb. 9, and Floyd Harris won second prize. International Relations and the Faculty were given honorable mention.

A take off on a meeting of the disciplinary committee of the faculty was the stunt awarded first prize, and the second prize winner gave a group of tricks on the cornet. The International Relations group gave a skit from the peace conference and the faculty imitated a vaudeville employment bureau.

Sponsors of the Extravaganza, the Y. M. and the Y. W., took in a total of $16. The first prize consisted of 10 per cent and the second prize of 5 per cent of the proceeds.

HEART SISTER WEEK CLOSES WITH PARTY

Heart Sister Week was brought to a close by a party in the Y.W.C.A. room yesterday afternoon. The girls met at 4:30 to learn who had so mysteriously befriended them during the week.

Several contests were held under the direction of Elizabeth Bowman. The girls were divided into five groups and named for five animals: cat, dog, cuckoo, mule, and turkey. Each group elected a captain and went to look for candy hearts which were hidden around the room. When a nest of hearts was found, the individual would make the noise of the animal his group represented until the captain arrived. The turkeys won having found the most hearts. The rest of the groups had to give stunts for this group.

Small red hearts were then passed out and each girl wrote the name of her heart sister and her own name on this heart. These hearts were passed around until each girl found out who her heart sister had been.

Light refreshments were then served by the committee.

INFLUENCES OF McPHERSON COLLEGE DISCUSSED IN Y. M.

The program of the Y. M. meeting Tuesday consisted of several discussions by members on the influences of college environment.

Included in the short talks were discussions by David Duncanson, on the influence of college athletics as to sportsmanship, cooperation, and health; by Willard Brammell, who took up the phase of contributions to later life, such as reading habits, Christian influence, and noted speakers; and by Archie Lindholm, dealing with family relationships, application of book knowledge, life interests, and life occupations.

The thing I admire about the American is his feeling of selection. If you ask him about a certain composition, he will admit he is unfamiliar with it.—Jose Iturbi, Spanish pianist.

This week our nation celebrates the one hundred twenty-fifth birthday of our sixteenth president, the Great Commoner, and probably the greatest statesman that America has ever had. The great president whose memory we cherish and revere was bound by principles as great today as they were in 1860.

There is a close parallel between the events of the 1860's and those of the present. In each instance the issues resulting in the crisis had long been in the making. When the great slave issue was gradually rising to a head men shuddered at thought of its possible outcome. The economic crisis of 1929 and the depression that ensued spread fear and insecurity throughout the nation. In both cases great statesmen arose to lead the people out of the turmoil. In both cases it was the people who responded to the call of their leaders. In both instances the citizens were inspired to a greater idealism.

In a like manner the problems of the future will be similar. When the crisis is weathered, there remains the problem of readjustment and reconstruction. Unfortunately in 1865 America was robbed of its great leader. We hope that it will be our good fortune to retain our present leader throughout the period of reconstruction.

The problem of the future is to rebuild America of the nobler ideals of the past. The nation of the future must be "dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal." "Today we are met upon the battlefield of that war" of economic and social problems. "The unfinished work which we have 'thus far nobly advanced' is a challenge to the great tasks lying before us" that our economic difficulties "shall not have been in vain." In the future may America "have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

Smith; "Caribbean Backgrounds and Prospects" by C. L. Jones; "Government and Politics of Italy" by H. R. Spencer; and "Europe Since 1914" by F. L. Hens.

DRAMATIC CLUB HOLDS TRYOUT FOR COMEDY

Yesterday afternoon from 2:30 to 4:00 tryouts for the Thesplan play "The Enchanted April," were held in Miss Lehman's room. The cast has not yet been announced by the judges because several members were unable to be present and are trying out this morning. The chosen cast will probably be announced sometime this afternoon.

The judges were Miss Della Lehman, Miss Alice Gill and Ada Brunk, who will coach the play. "The Enchanted April," a comedy in three acts, will probably be given early in April. The club plans at this time to inaugurate the new cyclorama which they are giving to the school. Work on it has been progressing nicely under the direction of Ada Brunk.

PLANTATION SINGERS GIVE LYCEUM NUMBER

The Talented Group Entertains With Variety of Songs In Program

The Deep River Plantation Singers presented a program of chants, melodies, and spirituals in the fifth number of the 1934 lyceum course last evening.

This group of talented, educated entertainers opened their program with a song "My Old Kentucky Home" presented in a southern plantation setting. The first half of the program continued with negro folk songs and spirituals. The second half of the entertainment was composed of modern songs of the South interspersed with individual numbers by the pianist, baritone, and first tenor. The baritone dramatized two modern songs, "Brother Can You Spare a Dime?" and "The Glory Road." The first tenor then sang "Cheesy Voran's General Store" and read "When Melinda Sings."

Included in the personnel of the organization are Mr. V. S. Brown, pianist and manager; Mr. Raymond Berger, first tenor; Mr. Carl Wedington, second tenor; Mr. John E. Smith, baritone; Mr. Julius Sharp, bass.

Probably the largest crowd of the lyceum season turned out for this number.

REGIONAL CONFERENCE OPENS SUNDAY MORNING

Outstanding Speakers Have Been Secured For This Year's Program

DR. KURTZ SPEAKS SUNDAY

Large Number of Students Expected to Hear Conference Program

The Regional Conference of the Church of the Brethren will open next Sunday morning with services in the college church and will continue throughout the week, ending on Friday.

Several outstanding speakers have been chosen for this year's program. Dr. D. W. Kurtz, former president of McPherson College and the present head of Bethany Biblical Seminary of Chicago, has been selected as the main speaker for this year. Dr. Kurtz is well known as a lecturer and preacher, and it is expected that his appearance here will draw a large audience. President W. O. Mendenhall of Friends University is a popular leader in student and Y. M. C. A. groups. He will go to California next year to head Whittier College.

Other speakers that have been scheduled are M. R. Zigler, secretary of the general Missions board of the church of the Brethren; C. E. Davis, pastor at Independence, Kansas; Ada Correll, an alumna of McPherson College; and Dean F. A. Replogle, Dean R. E. Mohler, Dr. Ray C. Petry, and Dr. J. D. Bright, all of the college faculty.

Music will be furnished by the music department of the college under the direction of Prof. Alvin C. Voran and Miss Lois Wilcox.

Lodging will be furnished free. The annual trustee meeting will be held on Monday and Tuesday.

This conference which is held each year places special emphasis on ministerial and educational problems. The subjects which have been chosen stress problems in this field. A program for the week appears elsewhere in this issue.

LIBRARY RECORDS SHOW INCREASE IN READING

More books were checked out from the library during the first two weeks of this semester than during the same period last year. There was also an increase in the number of magazines read this year.

There was, however, a lower daily average for Library Week alone than for the same week of last year. Daily average for Library Week this year was 129. The daily average for a corresponding week last year was 171.

In spite of this, more reading of books in the literature group was done during Library Week than during the same time last year. This year 191 literature books were used during Library Week in contrast to 140 used the second week of the last semester of 1932-33.

Magazines show an increase of 86 for the week. Records for last year give 44 as the number checked out, whereas 120 were used during Library Week this year.

GOAL OF HOME ECONOMICS CLASS IS IDEAL HUSBAND

At least nine men attending McPherson College this semester should make ideal husbands. At any rate, nine men are diligently struggling to learn the art of cooking the meals while the wife attends club, etc. Miss McIlrath reports that thus far, the men are doing nicely. At the present time, the class is studying. Actual sewing will not be experienced, but the selection of clothing will be studied extensively. The nine home-loving men are as follows: Eldon Wingard, Delvis Bradshaw, Everett Brown, Glen Webb, Max Oliver, Richard Moser, Kenneth Weaver, Otho Clark, and Arthur Goughnour.

BULLDOGS DROP GAME TO WESLEYAN COYOTES

McPherson Leads At Half, 16 to 11; Defeat Makes C. of E. Game Important

The last place Kansas Wesleyan Coyotes stepped up and won a big upset victory Tuesday night at Salina when they defeated the McPherson College Bulldogs 28-27. The defeat put a damper on McPherson's championship hopes and was a bitter blow for the Canines to take.

The score was close for the first ten minutes of the first half and then McPherson pulled away to a slight lead. The Bulldogs played good ball toward the end of the first half and led 16-11 at the intermission. The McPherson five widened their lead and at one time in the second half were leading by ten points.

The Coyotes staged a rally by Lobdell and with ten seconds remaining to play Suran scored the deciding point on a fast break down the court. McPherson failed to play heads-up ball during the latter part of the game and failed to take advantage of the lead that they had piled up. Although a little lax on defense Meyer led in scoring for McPherson with 8 points.

The box score:

New Costume Should Prove Latest In Tennis Apparel

In spite of a few intermittent cold days, springlike weather continues to prevail. This, naturally, makes one think of spring sports of which tennis holds an important place.

For the past few weeks the courts have been in use almost every day without an exception. Nearly everyone who enjoys the game has found some time to take a few "swats" at the ball to see to what degree his game has deteriorated.

However, the cooler weather of the past week has cramped the style somewhat, of Dave Duncanson. "Dunc" as you must have observed if you happened by the courts on several particular days, has introduced something new in the way of tennis costume.

The only difference you can find in it from the conventional basketball suit is that he holds a tennis racket in his right hand. "Dunc" states that this type of suit affords him "free wheeling" and perfect "knee action." Until the tennis courts can be worked into a smoother condition and the bumps eliminated, the "knee action" should be a great asset in getting over the courts.

It must be understood, however, that this new style is strictly masculine. "Dunc" says that he will not take the responsibility for what might happen to anyone of the feminine sex who appears on the courts attired in a similar manner.

Only time will tell whether or not Duncanson will be to the men what Marlene Dietrich was to the women a short time ago in the matter of style creation. The weather will have to become a few degrees warmer before any judgment can be drawn as to the ultimate success of the fashion. Even "Dunc" has not been willing to expose himself to the meddocr coldness of the past week.

SPORT LIGHTS

Paul A. Lackie

Well, Kansas Wesleyan finally turned the trick! Those boys have been lying in wait for some time, hoping to find a victim who was just a bit overconfident, and whether or not this applies to the disaster of Tuesday evening, it is very apparent that they found their victim in McPherson!

That little item of winning the majority of the league games on tap and then being caught off guard on a foreign court and beaten, has been a weakness of basketball teams for years, it seems.

How well we remember the embarrassing encounter Melvin Miller, Ray Nonken, Elmer Crumpacker and Kinzie had with Mr. Buller's Bethelites on the Convention Hall floor—the year the Bulldogs went on to the quarter finals in the National Tournament!

In that game there was no excuse offered or needed—the Bulldogs were just "cocky"! But those Meannonites certainly put them in their places with a 32-25 setback. Buller just had those boys running in circles, and getting nowhere fast!

Now McPherson must turn in a win with Emporia Friday evening to even tie up the Kansas Conference lead again. And, should anyone ask you, that is a man sized job!

By the way, the Canines did return with one excuse Tuesday P. M. It seems that George Gardner, who was to referee, was not notified of same, and so did not show up.

So, as a last minute scheme, the Salina crew procured Stuart Dunbar, Journal sports writer, and Ernest Uhrlaub, Salina high school basketball coach, as officials. Now there seems to be some inference that one or two of the Wesleyan boys got by on three fouls by the simple procedure of having the fouls they committed charged up to a fellow teammate who had a better record on misdemeanors.

Whether this be true or not, it hardly seems logical that Salina could have come from an 11-16 disadvantage at the half and sailed the game away so neatly on refereeing alone.

This becomes more apparent when it becomes known that the Bulldogs gained a ten-point advantage during the last half, forging ahead to a 24 to 14 lead. So it must be concluded that Coach Mackie's bunch played

McPHERSON MEETS C OF E IN STRATEGIC GAME HERE

Tomorrow night the Bulldogs will play the conference leading College of Emporia quintet on the Convention Hall floor.

This game will have an important bearing on the standing of the Kansas Conference. At the present time the Bulldogs are in second place and a victory will give the McPherson team a chance to tie for the title.

During the latter part of January Binford's men lost a hard fought game to the Presbyterians by a six-point margin. Following the upset defeat by the Wesleyan Coyotes the Bulldogs are determined to topple the leaders from the top position. The game will begin at 9:15 p. m. following the preliminaries in the McPherson County League tournament. A record crowd is expected.

NEW STUDENTS ENROLL

Three new students have enrolled this week. The new students are Lloyd Moeblman, William Smith and Arnold Johnston. Chester Colwell and Marjorie Brown who dropped out at the end of the first semester have re-enrolled. It is expected that two more students will enroll this week.

Y. M. ANNOUNCES PROGRAMS

Because of the sessions of the Regional Conference on Tuesday of next week the Y. M. will not give a program. Other programs for the near future are: Feb. 27, the Hi-Y of McPherson high school will give a program; Mar. 6, the election of new officers will be held; and Mar. 13, installation services will be held.

some basketball to go with the "good" refereeing.

Meanwhile Emporia has been sailing on practically untroubled waters so far, but there is quite a bit of conference to be disposed of yet, and the Presbyterians may meet a jinx or two yet!

Here's hoping that McPherson is able to furnish the first Waterloo for C. of E. next Friday evening when they clash on the local court!

This should really work out as wanted if the Canines come to life and profit by their experience of Tuesday to the extent that they play "heads up" ball!
