

SWEDE GAME SCHEDULED FOR FRIDAY, NOV. 3

Homecoming Feature To Be Held Day Sooner Than Previously Announced

ALUMNI BANQUET HERE

Former Students and Friends of College to Be Entertained Here In Program

The football game with the Bethany Swedes will be held on November 3 rather than a day later as was previously announced. This change makes the homecoming program begin Friday evening and continue until Sunday noon.

This change is made because of the objections offered by many business men to the change in schedule. Many had made other arrangements for Saturday evening.

The remainder of the program will remain unchanged. The freshman-sophomore football game will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. In the evening a homecoming and alumni banquet will be held in the dining hall of the college. A program will be given at this time. The small charge of twenty-five cents is asked for the meal.

For those who remain on the campus Saturday morning a program of entertainment is being planned.

Letters are being sent out to alumni and friends of McPherson college by Prof. S. M. Dell, president of the alumni association, and Dr. V. F. Schwalm, inviting them to the program.

HERSHEY SPEAKS IN CHICAGO THIS WEEK

Speaks to International Convention On His Work With Synthetic Air

Dr. Hershey left last Sunday for Chicago to attend the Twelfth Annual Congress of Anesthetists, which is being conducted there as a part of the Clinical Congress of Surgeons' Week this week. The meeting was international in scope and scientists and doctors from all parts of the world are in attendance. This particular division deals with the latest work and research on anesthesia and analgesia. It is a singular honor for McPherson and McPherson college that our chemistry department head was invited to speak at the meeting.

Dr. Hershey spoke on "The Components of the Atmosphere and Synthetic Gases in Relation to Animal Life," a subject on which Dr. Hershey and his assistants have been working for the past 12 years. Dr. Hershey was scheduled to speak Tuesday afternoon and expects to be home late Thursday.

GULAH HOOVER TO HEAD Y. W. C. A. THIS YEAR

Velma Keller, Mildred Dahlinger Also To Fill Vacancies In Organization

Election of president, vice president and secretary of the Y. W. C. A. took place during the regular meeting this morning. There was also a short program on the theme of "Broadening Our Horizons."

Gulah Hoover was elected to take the place of Mary Miller, who was elected president last year, who is working in Florida this year. Velma Keller, as vice-president, takes the place of Mariene Dappen, who is attending Manhattan. Mildred Dahlinger was elected secretary to fill the vacancy left when Gulah Hoover became president of the organization.

Chester Caldwell gave a short talk while James Reed played a violin solo. The short talk was preceded by poems read by Faltie Ketterman, and Neva Root, and followed by a poem read by Edith Beechtelheimer.

THESPIAN HOLD FIRST MEETING OF THE NEW YEAR

The Thespian Club, dramatic organization of the college, met last Wednesday evening to make plans for the year.

It was decided that tryouts would be held before November first. The members voted to give a play early next semester. Plans were discussed for obtaining a coach for this year.

Other business which was taken up concerned the club's page in the Quadrangle, the purchasing of a cyclorama, the choosing of a play, and other programs.

BRETHREN LEADS IN CHURCH MEMBERSHIP

One Hundred Students Belong to Brethren Church—Methodist is Second, Christian is Third

One hundred of the students enrolled in McPherson college this semester belong to the Brethren Church according to information given out at the dean's office last week with enrollment practically complete.

The church in second place is the Methodist with forty-eight students. The Christian church is third with thirteen.

The remainder of the nineteen denominations which are represented here are: Episcopal, Mennonite Brethren, Baptist, Southern Methodist, Lutheran, Presbyterian, Friends, Congregational, Free Methodist, United Brethren, Nazarene, Mennonite, Covenant Mission, Evangelical Lutheran, and Catholic.

Twenty-seven students are not church members. Most of these, however, have given some preference.

LOIS WILCOX APPEARS IN VIOLIN RECITAL

Head of Violin Department Well Received By McPherson Music Lovers

Miss Lois Wilcox, head of the college Violin Department, appeared Sunday in a violin recital at the McPherson Baptist church. Miss Wilcox was assisted in the recital by Miss Fern Lingenfelter of the Piano Department of the college, who played three piano selections, and Miss Laurene Schlatter, who accompanied Miss Wilcox at the piano.

A large group of music lovers were in attendance at the recital. The program, which included some very classical and difficult numbers, was enjoyed very much. This is Miss Wilcox' first year on the faculty of McPherson college. Miss Wilcox is also director of the college orchestra.

The program, which began at 2:30 p. m. and continued until 3:20, was unexpectedly shortened when one of Miss Wilcox' violin strings broke near the close of the program.

The program of the recital follows:

- Drei Sonatina for violin and piano Schubert
- Allegro giusto Andante Menuetto Allegro Moderato Miss Wilcox
- Symphonie Espagnole Lalo Andante Miss Wilcox
- Allegro non troppo Romance in D flat Sibillius Lento Scott
- La Campanelle Liszt Miss Wilcox

ANNUAL QUAD SALE GETTING UNDERWAY

Friesen Leading in Year Book Sale—Thirty Have Been Sold Thus Far

"We are expecting at least 85 per cent of the student body to buy Quadrangles."

This is the statement of Sam Stoner, who is at the head of a corps of 17 salesmen and saleswomen who are out to sell you the college yearbook, the Quadrangle. Just now a two-weeks drive is on, during which time Quadrangles may be purchased for only four dollars. John Friesen is leading at the present time in the number of sales. More than 30 books had been sold Tuesday, with a week and a day left on the contest time.

The thrifty student will buy his book before this time is up. After October 18 the annual will cost you an added fifty cents, an increase of more than 10 per cent to the price of the book. If you have not yet bought your Quad, do so as soon as possible and save that fifty cents. This is the advice of the head salesman.

This year's book is a combination for two years. Since no book was published last year the student activities will be included in this issue.

The evening church program at the college church Sunday night consisted of a musical program by the young people of the Monitor Church of the Brethren. Several former McPherson college students were on the program including Mildred Stutzman, Maxine Ferris, and Royal Yoder.

We do not need more knowledge, we need more culture.

SHOULD M. C. SPONSOR A MEN'S RECREATION ROOM?

In response to an inquiry made last week to several "questionnaire" revealing student opinion on the subject, "Should McPherson College sponsor a recreation room for men?" these representative responses were received. The student was asked to consider cost, amount of material needed, and the organization which should sponsor it.

Donald Evans: I believe a men's recreation room is greatly needed. The students should cooperate with the management in making it possible. This action should be taken soon.

Clarence Sink: The students in cooperation with the Y. M. C. A. should sponsor a recreation room for men. It would be very beneficial.

Galen Ogden: Since several of the students from town and the country find it necessary to spend several hours each day on the campus during which time there are no classes, I think it would be well for the young men of McPherson college to sponsor a recreation room or parlor. I think the room should be better furnished than the one we have at present, and it should be open to all the fellows on the campus.

John Goering: I think that M. C. should have a recreation room for men sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. I believe that it would be an opportunity for the Y. M. to express itself in the form of wholesome and honest play.

TOTAL ENROLLMENT HERE OVER THREE HUNDRED

Three hundred thirty-three students are enrolled in McPherson college this year, with enrollment practically complete, it was announced yesterday at the dean's office.

Of this amount, 121 are freshmen, 47 are sophomores, 54 are juniors, and 25 are seniors. Seventy-four of the total number are fine arts students under the five members of the faculty teaching fine arts. There are nine special students in college this year.

SEVENTEEN STATES REPRESENTED IN STUDENT BODY

Ninety-one Students From Kansas—Twenty From Iowa

McPherson college this year became the melting pot for the students of many states. A recent survey shows that the students here represent seventeen states and one foreign country.

Most of the students come from this state. One hundred ninety-seven of the students live in Kansas, Iowa is second with twenty students and Missouri third with eight students.

The other states which are represented are: Oklahoma, Colorado, Texas, Idaho, Minnesota, Nebraska, Oregon, Illinois, Montana, California, Louisiana, Indiana, Wyoming, and New Mexico.

One student, John Gluvers, makes his home in Rotterdam, Holland, but has resided in this country for some time.

The closing of Mt. Morris college two years ago accounts for many of the students from that section.

The wide territory which is represented this year brings to McPherson students with a wide diversity of interest and makes the campus take on a cosmopolitan aspect.

LIBRARY STAFF MENDS BOOKS FOR STUDENT USE

Many New Purchases Made This Week—Spectators Are Being Bound

The library class, and the library staff have been busy all week mending old books and preparing new books for use. The class also bound two volumes.

Book mending was done by the library science students. Each student mended two books. Several volumes, therefore, that were unfit for use are now ready for the reserve shelves.

Two books, "Playboy of the Western World," by John M. Synge, and "Win-a-Prize Readings," were paper backed books. They are now cloth-bound.

Purchases for the library this week include: "Selected Furniture Drawings," by William W. Klenka; "Basic Woodworking Processes," by Herman Hjorth; "Plays For People and Puppets," by Catherine Reighard; "Atlantic Book of Junior Plays," by Charles Swain Thomas; "Petroleum and Its Products," by William A. Gruse; "Trade Foundations Based on Producing Industries," published by the Manual Arts Press of Peoria, Illinois; and "Obligation of Universities to the Social Order," published by the New York University press.

Bound volumes of the Spectator for the last ten years, with the exception of the one for 1925-1926, are now on the shelf for bound magazines in the reference room. Other volumes of the college paper will be added in the near future.

New York, Oct. 11—New York University students have formed their own "Carb Exchange." Their cries and activity finally caused university authorities to assign guards to the crowd with orders to keep it moving.

PAUL HARRIS TO BE ON CAMPUS OCTOBER 18

Widely Known Leader of Youth Movement for World Recovery to Be Here

SPONSORED BY Y. M. AND Y. W.

Will Hold Several Discussions and Meetings on Campus Has Wide Knowledge

Paul Harris, Jr., nationally and internationally known social and youth leader will be on the college campus next Wednesday.

Mr. Harris has traveled abroad extensively, twice in the past four years. His observations and studies of world situations have been enhanced and supplemented by contacts with Vice-count Robert Cecil, Sir Arthur Salter, Lord Astor, Sir Norman Angell, Dr. Albert Einstein, M. K. Gandhi and others.

He is the director of the Youth Movement for World Recovery, a younger peace movement encouraged by the National Council for the Prevention of War. Mr. Harris is filled with the enthusiasm of youth and yet has the sagacity of wide experience.

Since his studies in Kentucky State college and Vanderbilt university, he has been associated with several youth organizations in the United States. His program is for a realistic activity based upon an understanding of the world as it is.

Mr. Harris is brought to the campus under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., student organizations. He will speak in chapel and to several of the classrooms. In the afternoon he will address the International Relations Club.

This leader comes here highly recommended and it is urged that every student use this opportunity to make a contact with this great personage.

THIRTY-FIVE STUDENTS IN A CAPPELLA CHOR

More Students to be Added—Half Were in Choir Last Year—More Rehearsals

At present there are thirty-five students in the college A Cappella Choir.

While the list is not complete those who have been chosen are as follows: first soprano, Gulah Hoover, Margaretta Okerland, Elizabeth Holzemer, Ruth Weimar, Mildred Dahlinger and Mildred Gordon; second soprano, Elizabeth Wasson, Irene Mason, Helen Holloway, Faltie Ketterman and Mabel Gustafson; first alto, Bernice Drescher, Jo Waggoner, Margaret Hahn, Joy Cullen and Frances Christianson; second alto, Lois Edwards, Lillian Pauls, Velma Watkins and Lucille Ballard.

The first tenors are Warner Nettleton, Galen Allen and Floyd Harse; second tenors, Victor Myers, Herbert Spurling, Ernest Sweetland and Everett Fasnacht. First bass are Delvis Bradshaw, Loyal Miles, John Gluvers and John Schul; second bass, Chris Johansen, Raymond Tice, Newell Wine, and Brice Peck.

Approximately half or seventeen of these represented McPherson college last year as members of the choir. Many of the new members are freshmen.

To the regular rehearsals on Monday evening, one on Mondays and Wednesdays has been added and another is being contemplated.

Margretta Okerland who was previously chosen publicity chairman has been dropped from the list of officers.

There is still a possibility that a few more students will be added to the present list.

BOOST McPHERSON COLLEGE

RECREATION FOR MEN

Many students from time to time have expressed the opinion that a recreation room should be provided for the men of McPherson college. Such a room would provide wholesome recreation for men over dull week ends and through the school week.

That such a room is desirable is beyond question. The true issue seems to be whether McPherson college can afford such a room at present. With the cooperation which the men of the college are willing to give, such a room could easily be undertaken by the Y. M. C. A. or the administration of the college. The room would not need to be elaborate or expensive. The work and much of the material could be furnished by the students and the entire cost would be small, while the room itself would be valuable.

The problem at present seems to be one of initiation. In this issue of The Spectator several students have been given an opportunity to express themselves on the project. The early work on this room by some organization would prove to be valuable.

MORE ACCOMMODATION NEEDED

Dormitory life in McPherson College is ordinarily satisfactory and enjoyable, but there are certain physical faults which make living in a dormitory inconvenient and oftentimes unpleasant.

The "third-floor gang" of Fahnstock Hall are handicapped by the absence of a shower or bath on their floor. The shower on second floor must be shared by the twenty-five fellows living on that floor, with the eighteen third floor fellows who need and deserve a bath as much as the second floor fellows. Thus forty-three fellows are competing for the use of the one shower bath provided for them.

The dormitories are practically full this year. We are glad of it, but due to this fact, a large group of fellows are inconvenienced unnecessarily by inadequate dormitory equipment.—Submitted.

BUY A QUAD.

The student this year should buy a Quadrangle. This two-year book offers the student an opportunity to conserve those pleasant memories of his college life.

Then there is the esthetic value of a yearbook. It not only will look good lying on your library table, but it will serve as a means of recalling to your mind fond memories of your experiences in colleges. It will remind you of athletic victories, the activities of the various clubs and organizations to which you belonged, social events, etc. It will bring you the smiling countenances of your old friends and classmates, as well as pictures of the buildings in which your college life was spent. So beg, buy, steal, or borrow the money, if you have to, but by all means get a Quad!

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN EVERY DAY PROBLEMS?

Professor Petry's Sunday School class is organized by and for the Freshman and Sophomore men of McPherson college in which their own every day problems are discussed. Last Sunday a very interesting helpful discussion about methods of conversion, religious emotion and growth were given.

In the Sundays to come, a study will be made of the life of Paul including the difficult problems he had to face. These problems are your own. COME and learn how to face them.

MILITARY TRAINING IN COLLEGES

Prospects of some kind of a legal settlement of the perennial controversy over military training should be welcomed both by the so-called "militarists" and "pacifists." Even Dr. Ernest Carroll Moore, vice president and provost of the University of California at Los Angeles, where the controversy is again raging, is said to admit that a court decision would be desirable.

The situation is expected to be brought to a head if two students threatened with dismissal from U. C. L. A. for refusing to enroll in military training courses persist in their announced intention of taking the matter to the state supreme court. This court, should it render a decision, would set an important precedent, which would not only affect publicly-owned institutions of higher learning in California but in other states as well.

As long as we can remember, there have been these seasonal wrangles over compulsory R. O. T. C., and since legal opinions seem to differ as to the rights of "conscientious objectors" who demand to be admitted to state-owned colleges and universities without being forced to undergo military training, it is time that we had an authoritative ruling, if for no other reason than to clear the academic atmosphere.

THE VALUE OF THE CHAPEL PROGRAM

Many students view chapel with the wrong attitude. The chapel period is a time, it is thought, to catch up on lost sleep, study for the next hour class, go to town, or merely loaf. These students are inclined to believe that a period spent in chapel is practically wasted.

The student who does not fully realize the value of the chapel program has not fully adjusted himself to college life. He has not found the great source of inspiration, of enjoyment, and of education that is acquired in that period. The sponsor or alumnus of college may well look back some day to the encouragement and direction that he received from chapel programs.

The student who is not getting the full benefit of chapel programs or is not attending chapel is losing a great part of the value of his course.

Nobody throws rocks at a dead bird.

If you are in a rut, look out, but look in, too, for the trouble's probably there.

CAMPUS CHAFF

Imagine a class calling up the teacher when she forgot to come! When the second year German class did that Miss Lehman promised to treat them. She had a birthday lady with her; so she shared her candy with the class. She forgot again the other day, and did they hurry to the telephone to tell her about it!

Pardon me! — while I take time out to utter a few epithets which might be called relatives to the family of oaths! The chairs and tables in the library! This is not the first time I have ruined a perfectly good pair of hose, nor am I the first to lament that my college debt is mounting simply because of the increasing number of stockings I must buy.

Possibly we didn't get this story quite straight but this is the way it sounded to us: It was on a Sunday evening and Eddy was trying to persuade Mike Vasquez to accompany him. When the latter inquired as to the destination, Eddy replied out of deference to the day of the week that he was planning to attend "Helstrom's Temple." Mike readily understood when he was told the name of the owner of the Tourney Theatre.

And that reminds us that the Wesleyan game is to be played on Friday, the thirteenth! However, we would risk any number of superstitions in order to see the battle. Even being turned in for hitch hiking would be a small price to pay. But if—and a great big "if" it is—we should lose, we shall know immediately that it is only on account of the date.

Just before chapel Monday, Arnes Boal, who was made up as the young girl in the marble statue, wanted to go outside and see how the bronze statue looked. But someone remonstrated, saying that she couldn't go since she had her make-up on. So Maxine de Motte spoke up and wanted to know why not. Couldn't she see through the make-up on her eyes?

Agnes Bean and Maxine Ring didn't get justly paid for their work in selling candy bars for the W. A. A. Friday night at the game. When they were through they went to the stand for a cup of coffee. They dipper their cups in the steaming liquid and put in plenty of sugar and cream but when they came to taste it! Ugh! They had got the water in which the wieners had been cooked. Besides, they hadn't left enough sugar or cream for their real coffee!

Yeah, speaking of library chairs—or were we? It all reminds me of an incident which took place within the walls of good old Carnegie recently. A fair dame fell over backward in a chair—much to the amusement of the studious ones present. Maybe she didn't scramble around trying to get up before the librarian saw her in her predicament.

P. S.—The librarian happened to be "out" at the time of this incident—thereby missing it all.

I sketched a picture of the above-mentioned unfortunate victim—eyes open and mouth gaping and legs sprawling. The editor refused to spend the lucre to have a cut made.

EXCHANGE NOTES

Sixteen church denominations are represented in the student body of Bethany college, Lindsborg.

The College of Emporia is offering a two-hour course in horseback riding for women, which may be substituted for physical education or used in gaining W.A.A. points.

Because of the extensive field trips that are to be made this year, Manchester college, North Manchester, Indiana, is having two college male quartets.

On this same day, Miss Mercedes Chapman became the bride of Mr. Phillip D. Bassett at Chicago. Mrs. Bassett formerly was instructor of women's physical education and dramatic art in McPherson college. They now live in Boston, where Mr. Bassett is engaged as an instructor.

FACULTY ENJOYS PICNIC WEDNESDAY EVENING

Last Wednesday evening the faculty members of McPherson college put aside their class work for an evening of recreation. They journeyed to a grove located two miles east and one north of the college where they spent the evening. Male members of the faculty engaged in a strenuous baseball game. The remainder of the faculty members spent the evening in enjoyable conversation.

A delicious dinner was served which featured hot dogs, baked beans, pickles, and watermelon. Coffee, with the necessary accessories, was served by Professor Hess, who sacrificed his position on the baseball nine to care for its preparation. Politics, world series, and evils of college students were discussed and an enjoyable time was reported by all.

Perhaps the professors have not noticed it but afternoon classes were quite unpopular last week. At any rate the World Series baseball games attracted more students than did the classrooms.

Every impossible thing is going to be done in the course of time. If you don't do it, the next fellow will. —Anonymous.

DISCUSSIONS CONTINUE IN Y. M. MEETING ON NRA

Open Forum Discussion Brings Out Several Viewpoints

For the last two weeks the Y. M. C. A. has been having programs that deal with the National Recovery Act. Last week Royal Prantz outlined what the NRA stands for and Paul Booz told about what it has done locally. This program dealt mainly with the positive features of the NRA.

Yesterday Elmer Staats gave us a view of the other side of the Recovery Act pointing out that its main difficulty is that it is too nationalistic and does not consider the other nations of the world which is essential to the life of any modern plan. Paul Booz then led an open forum discussion in which many very interesting view points were given by the group as a whole.

W. A. A. FILLS VACANIES IN ELECTION

The W. A. A. held a meeting Monday evening, October 2, to fill the offices left vacant by girls who did not return to college. For volleyball manager, Elsie Carlson defeated Othetta Wall; for tennis manager Velma Keller won over Alice Christensen; for health manager Maxine Ring was chosen instead of Ada Brunk; and for hiking manager Dorothy Bonham ousted Arnet Bean. After the election the girls discussed the adding of roller skating and bicycle riding to the list of sports, but action was deferred to a later meeting. Suggestions were made as to the method of compelling freshmen girls to wear their green caps and the meeting was adjourned.

"Be thankful you are not one of your creditors."

BULLDOGS SCORE ON FUMBLE AND WIN OVER FRIENDS IN SECOND GAME OF SEASON, 7-6

Canines Heavily Outgain Quakers in Entire Game—Visitors Score On Long Pass To The Goal Line—Place Kick Decides Game

VISITORS ARE OUTPLAYED

McPherson Makes Ten First Downs to Four for the Quakers

The McPherson college Bulldogs won from Friends university in their second game of the season Friday night by a score of 7-6.

The Binford-Sives aggregation held the upper hand during all but the second quarter and tore the heavy Quaker line to pieces during the third and fourth quarters.

Friends kicked to McPherson and the local team reeled off two first downs at the very start of the game. The Quakers took the ball deep in their own territory, and after failing to run the ball out, the Quakers got off a nice punt. The Bulldogs made another first down and then were forced to punt. Friends failed to gain and again Coleman booted a good kick down the field and the quarter ended.

During the second quarter the Quakers held the advantage and got loose for a few gains against the local team. Morton, star Friends halfback, wiggled through the line for six yards, and a few plays later he raced down the field on a cut back for 11 yards which was his longest run of the game.

McPherson's defense tightened and the Quakers resorted to passes. After one incomplete pass, Coleman shot another aerial and this proved to be the pass which scored for the Quakers. Standing on the goal line between two McPherson men, Reynolds grabbed the ball and fell over the goal line. The ball had been hit by a McPherson man but Reynolds caught it as it fell to the ground to score for the Quakers. An attempted drop kick for extra point was low and wide.

During the third quarter the Bulldogs showed a drive that almost netted a touchdown. McPherson received a 15 yard penalty and then the fireworks started. Three plays gained a first down, then Burress hit the center of the line for 11 more yards. The Quakers held the Bulldogs and gained possession of the ball on their own 6 yard line after a 65-yard march.

Gregory dropped back to punt and he fumbled the ball and Wiggins fell on the ball over the goal line, scoring McPherson's touchdown. Wiggins booted a beautiful place kick that later proved the deciding point of the game.

McPherson threatened to score during the fourth quarter but lacked punch when nearing the goal. Carpenter got loose for a 19-yard run which put the ball on the 26-yard line and a little later he went 19 yards more but a McPherson man held on the play which spoiled the last scoring chance.

Just before the end of the game Wiggins placed a punt out of bounds on the three yard line. Morton tried to run with the ball and was almost tackled behind his own goal. Following this there was only time for one play and Coleman stood back almost in the end zone and shot a pass to Morton which was good for 31 yards as the game ended.

Only one substitution was made for McPherson during the game and the entire team played good ball. The Bulldog line outcharged the Quakers and stopped the fast Friends backs while the McPherson backfield raced through the Friends team for good gains.

SPORT LIGHTS

Chances for an extraordinary successful football season for the Canines were materially boosted by their victory over the strong Quakers of Friends university Friday night.

By way of comparison it may be said that Kansas Wesleyan and Bethany played a good game of football at Salina Friday night. Bethany somewhat outplayed the Coyotes but Wesleyan won the game on breaks.

With a nicely-working backfield on which she can depend, McPherson college should go far in Kansas Conference circles this season on the gridiron.

Likewise the line is showing up better all the time with good holes being made for the canine ball-luggers.

Coach Mackle has been very fortunate the last few years to have one named Robinson among his players. That boy is a dandy punter and he surely can go places with that ball. As nearly as this writer can remember it seems that he has been an all conference selection every year he has been in school.

The big words on everyone's tongue are "Beat Wesleyan." And it looks as though everyone is going to be there to help do it. Kansas Wesleyan always has a good team and they are big and tough.

Yes, Reynolds did make a touchdown and he did elude the McPherson team but he didn't have the ball when he did the eluding act. Reynolds caught a long pass while standing on the goal line after the ball had been hit by a McPherson man. He caught the ball after it had been batted around and then fell over the goal line to score a touchdown.

Saturday's Wichita paper said something about Reynolds of Friends scoring a touchdown against the Bulldogs on a beautiful run, eluding the entire McPherson team.

WHY I CAME TO M. C. FRESHMEN RESPOND TO INQUIRY

In response to the query, "Why I came to McPherson college" the freshmen gave various answers. Seventy freshmen were influenced by their parents to attend here, forty-three were influenced by former students. Forty-two felt the influence to some member of the faculty. Thirty-one were influenced by circulars, letters, catalogues and bulletins, compared with two who gave this reason last year.

The quartet also had a great influence. Twenty-three gave this reason.

BEAT THE COYOTES

FIRST CONFERENCE GAME SCHEDULED FOR FRIDAY

Grid Battle With Wesleyan Coyotes To Be Held in Salina

Friday night the McPherson college Bulldogs will engage in their first game away from home when they tangle with the Kansas Wesleyan Coyotes at Salina.

This will be the first conference game for the Bulldogs and undoubtedly will prove the hardest game thus far this season. Wesleyan at ways has a good team and this year they have one of their strongest. So far this season the Coyotes have defeated the strong Hastings college team from Nebraska by a 3-0 score and last Friday Wesleyan humbled the Swedes with a 27-6 count.

The men of Mackle have a big, heavy line and a fast backfield, featuring Captain Robinson, their great broken field runner and punter extraordinary. Robinson is considered one of the best backs in the state.

McPherson enters this game slightly the underdog but Coaches Binford and Selves feel confident that their men will give the Coyotes a real battle. The Bulldogs have the drive and determination to win Friday night and they are likely to do that very thing. Kansas Wesleyan defeated the Bulldogs 19-0 last year but the McPherson team is much better than last year and it seems quite probable that the local team will come through with a victory Friday night.

Stiff practice sessions have been in order this week with the team "pointing" to beat Kansas Wesleyan. Binford's knee is improving and it seems probable that he will be able to play some at his quarterback position. Barring any further injuries the squad will be in good shape to take the field against Kansas Wesleyan Friday night.

BRADSHAW, FRANTZ, OGDEN SPEAK IN WORLD SERVICE

The World Service Group met last Thursday night for its second meeting of the college year. The program consisted of a few short talks on the life and character of Jesus.

Delvis Bradshaw spoke first on the loyalty of Jesus. He pointed out some of the teachings of Jesus on loyalty to one another and to great causes. He mentioned the challenge to all of us to be loyal to our Christian heritage.

The next talk was by Royal Frantz who spoke on the joy in Jesus' life. He mentioned the fact that most of us think of Jesus as a Man of Sorrows while He actually did live a life full of joy and happiness.

Galen Ogdren was the last speaker on the program. He spoke of Jesus' devotion. He mentioned the fact that most of us think we are too busy to spend much time in devotion while the Master, one of the busiest of men, had time for devotion and meditation. Ogdren also read a number of poems illustrating the busy life of today and its effects.

SENIORS TO ENTERTAIN FRESHMEN NEXT TUESDAY

The faculty voted Friday morning that the freshmen-senior kid party may be held next Tuesday, October 17. It will be given in the college gym at 7:45.

This is the one occasion of the year when the seniors entertain the freshmen. All guests are requested to appear in infantile attire. Last year the custom of the upper class entertaining the lower was done away with, but the seniors have decided to renew the tradition and are working hard preparing for the social.
