NUMBER 27

JACK LEHMAN, ALUMNUS, TO BE BANQUET SPEAKER

Plans Complete for Athletes' Annual Spring Formal at Hawley Hotel

STOMPERS' BAND TO PLAY

Many Invited Guests and Alumni Members of M. Club Have Made Reservations for Dinner

The annual "M" Club Banquet is planned to be held in the roof garden of the Hotel Hawley. The date is set for April 12, the time seven p. m.

This year's banquet is planned to be the biggest of its kind to be held in recent years. All of the alumni members that live within a reasonable distance have been invited, and the members that are now enrolled in school will be present with their lady friends.

The "M" Club Banquet is the only social event of the year that takes on the appearance of a truly formal function. Because of this fact, it is considered by all to be a great honor to be invited.

Jack Lehman, an alumni and former club member who is now in the law school at Kansas University, will preside as the master of ceremonies. Mr. Lehman was an outstanding student and did not confine his interests to just one field.

He won three letters in tennis and was active in student publications. He was a member of those great championship debate teams. Professor Hess considers him as one of the very best debaters that has ever been produced by the College. Besides this, Jack won the state oratorical contest and also the state extemporaneous speech contest while enrolled at McPherson.

Stompers, well known McPherson orchestra, will furnish the music for the evening. This is an old organization and plays for various social occasions in this part of the state. Their wide reputation as good musicians is without a peer in this locality.

Many of the invited guests from out of town have indicated that they will attend. The old members that are residents of McPherson have responded almost one hundred per cent. A few guests will be invited who are not members of the organization but who have taken a great interest in the College athletic program.

The committees that have been appointed for the purpose of arranging for the banquet are: Program, Russell Carpenter, Sam Stoner and Robert Booz, decoration, Chester Colwell, Harry Frantz, and Orval Eddy, and invitation, Leonard Wiggins, Archie Van Nortwick and Harold Reincker. These people are all working diligently to make the occasion a success.

This is planned to be the most lavish of all the conventional programs of the year. Those that have an opportunity to attend may consider themselves indeed fortunate.

SENIORS PLANT TREES AT COLLEGE ENTRANCE

At a meeting of the Senior Class last Thursday it was voted to leave as the Senior Class gift a planting of trees at the entrance of the College. On either side of the entrance a tall Juniper surrounded by dwarf Junipers will be arranged in a diamond shape.

Dean R. E. Mohler, Mildred Pray and Harry Frantz had charge of the selection and arrangement of the planting.

Schwalm to Attend N. C. A. Meeting

The North Central Association will meet in Chicago next week, April 11, 12, and 13. The decision will be made concerning the entrance of McPherson College in the Association. Dr. Schwalm is planning to attend the meeting.

MISS LEHMAN READS IRISH POETRY AT Y. W. MEETING

To the fifty girls who heard Miss Lehman read in the "Y" room Tuesday morning, Irish poetry has become an object of new interest. Bits of Irish humor, philosophy, description, and characterization were included in the selections which Miss Lehman read. Contrary to the popular conception, the people of the Emerald Isle have a deep sensitivity which finds expression in lovely poetry. Among the poems read were "Farewell" by Katherine Tynan, "To an Isle in the Water" by William Butler Yeats, and "The Little Waves of Brest" by Eva Gore-Booth. These selections portrayed the Irish love of country. Other authors whose poems were read include William Russell, Joseph Campbell, Padraic Colum, and Winifred Letts.

Leta Wine, new president of the Y. W., opened the meeting with a brief expression of gratitude to the members of the old cabinet for their work which they have done. Each of the retiring officers and committee members was asked to stand, and the girls showed their appreciation by applause.

PLAY CAST SELECTED

Date Uncertain for Thespian Production, "Death Takes a Holiday"

Due to the absence of three of the members of the cast, who are with the A Cappella, practice of the Thespian Club Play, "Death Takes a Holiday," will not begin until next Monday. Till that time the cast will endeavor to learn all of the lines of the first act, thus facilitating the work when actual practice begins.

The date for the presentation of the play has not yet been set but will probably be decided soon.

The final selection of the cast by the try-out judges, with the exception of two servants, who will be chosen later, is listed below.

Duke Lambert	Don Evans
Aida	Estelle Baile
Duchess Stephanie	Modena Kaufman
Princess of San Luca	Geraldine Burdette
Baron Cesarea	Blanch Harris
Eric Fenton	Glen Turner
Corrado	Merle Messamer
Grazia	Velma Watkins
Prince Sirk	John Kaufman
Major Whitbread	Kenneth Rudd

VISUAL EDUCATION PLANNED FOR CLASSROOM USE AT M. C.

McPherson College is planning to develop a department of Visual Education. Materials are being collected which will be used in assisting the various teachers in obtaining pictures, slides, and motion pictures for classroom use. The plan also provides for the showing of sound motion pictures as an evening program. The first program has already been arranged and will be given Saturday evening, April 13 in the College Auditorium. The program includes one reel on deep sea fishing, one on music, one on a scientific subject, and a number of reels of very interesting travel pictures. This program is open to the public and will be interesting to everybody. Full details of the program will be given in next week's Spectator.

CAMPUS IMPROVEMENT BEGUN

The work of closing the driveway around the north side of the Ad building has been started. Mr. Forney, with the aid of a team and a plow, has succeeded in tearing up the driveway.

According to present plans, the cinders and what not that have been plowed up will be used to improve other drives around the campus, especially the ones on the east side of the dormitories. Plans now are to fill in the old drive with good dirt so that shrubbery and grass can grow there.

EIGHT STUDENTS ENTER STATE FORENSICS MEET

Approximately Fifteen Colleges Represented in Tournament at Winfield

Four varsity debate teams will participate in the state Forensic Meet which will be held at Winfield Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week. The teams, accompanied by Prof. M. A. Hess and Dr. J. D. Bright, left McPherson this morning. This is the concluding tournament of the year.

In the debate tournament each team will be given an opportunity to debate four rounds before the elimination begins. If the team wins three of these debates it is permitted to continue in the tournament. Last year Goering and Staats advanced to the quarter finals in the state meet at Emporia. One defeat in the elimination rounds excludes the team from further participation.

In addition to the debate tournament contests will be held in extemporaneous speaking and oratory. The entrants in the extemp contest are Gladys Riddell and Lela Siebert for the women's subject and Kenneth Weaver and Elmer Staats on the men's subject. Those who are entering in oratory are Paul Booz and Elmer Staats.

Two rounds of debate and one of oratory will be held today with the finals on Friday and Saturday. Approximately fifteen schools will participate in the tourney. Coach Hess and Dr. Bright will act as judges in the contest.

"M" CLUB INITIATES NEW MEMBERS WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The "M" Club held its initiation for the incoming members last night in the College gym. The new members were those that earned letters for the first time in football and basketball.

The initiates were first put through a paddle line and then were put into the question chair. When the right answers were given to the questions asked a connection was formed which sent an electric shock through the chair and occupant. This was followed by a specially prepared luncheon consisting of bread, water, Limburger cheese and olives. This very tasty repast appealed to their gustatory and olfactory apparatus because of the suggestive surroundings under which it was served.

After the initiation the new and old members were served to hot beef sandwiches, coffee and apples.

The men that were taken into the club last night were: Clayton Rock, Harold Zuhars, Dick Henderson, Homer Kimmel, Bob Stratman, John Mitchell, Lawrence Moore and Don Barngrover.

Another similar initiation will be held later in the spring for the men earning letters for the first time in track and tennis.

Our Speech

1. Many people use "like," when they should use "as" or "as if." Correct: He acted as the rest did. I felt as if I had done something generous.

2. Some say, "Couldn't hardly" for "could hardly." Correct: I could hardly hear him.

DEAN REPORTS GUIDANCE CONFERENCE WAS SUCCESS

Dean Replogle reports that the Kansas Guidance Conference held here last Saturday was very successful. Seventy-five representatives were here from the territories around Hayes, Topeka, Manhattan, Wichita, Medicine Lodge, Pratt and McPherson.

Two interesting features of the program were the panel discussions and the address by Truman Reed, on "Guidance At Work."

Dr. Peterson, head of the Department of Education at Kansas State College, Manhattan, demonstrated a machine he has developed for scoring tests. Mr. Shellenberg of Bethel College showed some charts he has made on the research study in guidance.

A committee was appointed to do research work concerning the correlation of High School and College. Also, one for Junior and High School correlation.

It was decided to hold another meeting next year, perhaps here in McPherson.

NOMINATIONS ARE OPEN

Officers for Next Year Will Be Chosen in Election Held April 25

Three weeks from today officers for next year will be elected in a general student election. The following election rules have been posted:

Elections for student offices will be held Thursday, April 25, between 10 and 12:30 o'clock. Ballyhoo speeches will be held at ten o'clock in the chapel. Each candidate for an office must have a campaign manager.

In order to become a candidate for any office a person must have fifty signatures supporting his name. The name of the candidate along with the fifty signatures must be in the hands of Harry Frantz before the person is a candidate.

These offices are up for election:

1. President of Student Council.
 2. Treasurer of Student Council.
 3. Men's Cheer Leader.
 4. Ladies' Cheer Leader.
 5. Spectator Editor.
 6. Spectator Business Manager.
 7. Quadrangle Editor.
 8. Quadrangle Business Manager.
- *The first two offices must be filled with persons who will be either Juniors or Seniors next year.
- Think of candidates, consider their qualifications and then petition students for fifty signatures. Run as many persons as you like. If necessary a preliminary election will be held to eliminate all but two candidates for each office.
- Put up some candidates. Choose campaign managers and GET BUSY.

HILLTOP MEETING PLANNED

The second Hilltop meeting will be held at Camp Wood, near Eldorado, this weekend. A group of young peoples leaders meet for personal improvement and search for self analysis. It is a study of personality improvement.

Those attending the meeting from here will be Dr. Bright, Dean Replogle, Velma Keller, Rush Holloway, and Ethel Sherry. Other young peoples leaders to be present are: Perry Rohrer, Dan West, Hylton Harmon, Paul Longnecker, and Elmer and Ann Royer.

MOTION PICTURES TO BE SHOWN

Five reels of moving pictures are to be shown at the regular chemistry club program at 6:30 tonight in the chemistry lecture room. The reels include two on water power, two on cotton from the seed to finished product, and one on asbestos. These films are very educational for the students and all students are invited to see them.

ZELLNER TO PRESENT UNIQUE LYCEUM NUMBER

Fourth in Program Series to Be Given Monday Night at 8 O'Clock

COSTUME CHANGES FEATURED

Famous Characters from History and Literature Will Be Portrayed in Production

The fourth McPherson Community Lyceum number for this year will be presented next Monday night at the Community hall at 8 o'clock. Joe Zellner's program will be educational as well as unusual and unique.

As a protean characterist, in his flashes from life, literature, and history, he makes his characters really "live again." All characters are real and startlingly lifelike and presented in full makeup and costume. The average time for changes is only 30 seconds, while many take only six or eight seconds each.

Religious characters are recreated such as: Paul of Tarsus, Moses, Judas and others from the familiar scenes of the Bible. The portrayal of the comic characters of Huckelberry Finn, Mrs. Finkelstein and others, bring roars of laughter.

The characterization of great generals and statesmen is a feature of rare educational value. Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt, Grant and Lee parade before your eyes. Zellner's art is the result of years of careful research and study of minute physical and mental characteristics.

This program is carefully balanced and widely varied. It is built upon the impersonator's experience as an actor in dramatic stock and pictures, as a writer, as a teacher of dramatics, as a headliner in vaudeville and as a characterist in lyceum and chautauqua.

Elaborate scenery and colorful lighting effects adaptable to any stage or platform are used to supplement his artistry.

NEW ANGLES ON SPEECH PRESENTED BY DR. PETRY

In his chapel speech Monday morning Dr. Petry stressed the importance of speech. His topic was "Speech Inevitable," and his text, "We Have to Say Something."

According to Dr. Petry all speech is classified as either cold speech or warm speech. We find cold speech in books, manuscripts, cave walls, ancient books, or in any record man has left in picture or writing. Warm speech is conversation, or any actual exchange of words. Those speaking may be face to face or speaking from a great distance by telephone, telegraph, or radio.

He appealed to the students to cultivate a more complete knowledge of speech, both in writing and in casual, every-day conversation. He assured the chapel audience that no one can get far in our modern world without being able to express himself by proper usage of words.

"Prayer" Is Theme at W. S. Meeting

The World Service Group met Tuesday evening in the church parlors. Leta Wine played several organ numbers while the group engaged in meditative thought. Two devotional readings on prayer were given by Theresa Strom. After a period of silent prayer, a number of short prayers concluded the program.

The group wishes to announce that the next meeting will be on Tuesday at 7 p. m.

Modern Poetry Studied by Club

The Poetry Club met Friday March 29, in the "Y" room. The speaker was Miss Edith Haight, head of the English department in the McPherson High School, who talked on Modern Poetry. A discussion followed her talk. At the close of the meeting a tea was given with Miss Heckethorn as hostess.

Trade Exposition Improves Buying Perspective

Students are urged to attend the McPherson trade exposition this week at Convention Hall. The merchandise of many "Spectator" advertisers is on display; the exhibits should give visitors improved perspective toward more intelligent buying.

Vaudeville shows in connection with the exposition are presented at 3:30 every afternoon and 7:30 and 9:30 every evening.

Choose Officers Discriminatingly

During the next few weeks the officers for the different campus organizations will be selected for the coming year. Students will be asked to decide upon the merits of several opposing candidates. The seriousness of this event has been overlooked in many cases.

Two matters should be taken into consideration in student elections. In the first place, care should be taken to choose the best qualified students on the campus for the respective positions. In many cases the election or the nomination of certain candidates is made solely upon the basis of personal friendship and the ability to obtain a small circle of friends to work for a particular candidate of the particular group's choice. Many times this is the most desirable process as it adds the needed interest to the election. But, too often, as the larger universities have experienced in the case of fraternities, a small minority may, in the face of small popular interest in the election, place a candidate in office whose qualifications may be questioned.

The most plausible, and in fact the only real, solution to this problem is to incite a greater amount of interest in the election itself. On a campus the size of our own group, domination is impossible if a sufficient interest is manifested in the election.

The second difficulty lies in the overburdening of a capable student. Here the chief responsibility lies upon the student himself. In many cases the greatest service which you can do for your organization is to refuse to take an office in it because of an overburdened schedule. Let each student in such a position choose discriminatingly as to the organization or organizations in which he wishes to participate. After a careful allotment of time the process of elimination should not be so difficult.

A New Angle on Recreation

The badly needed policy of educating for leisure in the American College is making headway in the educational circles of the country. Even more significant than ever before, since the inauguration of the policy of fewer working days to spread employment, education for leisure is of vital importance in our educational system.

Last week Elmira College of New York introduced a weekly recreational night under the direction of the physical education department. Its object is to educate for leisure, both for the present and the future, and provide resources for entertainment other than moving pictures and bridge clubs.

Such a policy might well be adopted for our own campus. From the results of the recent questionnaire such a program could easily be built. Facilities of the New York College include games in badminton, ping-pong, shuffleboard, and similar games played in the college gymnasium. Intramural sports of all types are stressed and outdoor games have received special emphasis. And in addition to recreation of this type every student is expected to walk half a mile each day.

Outlet in Group Discussion

Expression is often made that the classroom does not give adequate opportunity for the expression of current material in a certain field. In the more or less formal recitation plan of the classroom some opportunity is given for such an outlet, but it is far too small.

Voluntary group discussions have filled this deficiency in the educational system at Wale, it was revealed last week. Groups in contemporary politics, modern drama, contemporary poetry, law, social problems, and modern languages have been formed with this view in mind.

Perhaps not so extensively, but no less effectively, the same policy could be utilized by the small college. One night of every week could be devoted to informal group discussions in which there was sufficient demand. Guest speakers could be made an added feature of the plan, and the discussions could be made a regular part of the curriculum in which students could enroll at a moderate expense. The enrollment fee could be utilized in obtaining outstanding guest speakers to which the entire body could be invited.

With the modern stress upon current developments in every phase of the curriculum an innovation of this type would be certain to meet the approval of a large number of students.

Van Hunt was confined to his bed Friday evening on account of measles.

Monday morning Lyle Brower broke out with the measles. He is now confined to his room. Lyle says, "Perhaps I can get caught up on some of my sleep now."

A number of the students from McPherson College attended the meetings held by the Cooperative school in the chemistry lecture room last week.

Mr. Joe Jamison, Samuel Bowman, and Samuel Ebbert, all of Quinter, visited with Harold Reinicker and Herbert Ikenberry the past week while they were in McPherson as cooperative school students.

Curtis Naylor visited with his parents in Covert over the week-end.

George Lerev, who is now teaching school at Bloom, Kansas, visited friends on the campus Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Crist, Guy Hayes, and Lois Lackey, were on the campus Saturday, to attend the Vocational Guidance meetings. They also visited friends while here.

Keith Hayes visited friends and also attended the Vocational Guidance meetings. Mr. Hayes is now teaching school at Stafford, Kansas.

Dr. Schwalm went to Topeka Sunday afternoon to meet President Dehan and President Fleming to confer on publicity for the Kansas Council of Church Colleges.

Miss Camilla Moore spent the weekend in Lawrence, Kansas, visiting friends.

Mrs. Wagoner went to Morrill, Kansas, Friday to visit relatives.

M Club Banquet, April 12

Banquet Foresights

We hear that Mike will not be able to contact his date until Saturday or Wednesday night. Remember Mike, the price is fifty cents each or two for one dollar. Cheer up Pal, the depression is over.

Recently several Freshman Co-eds have been playing up to Harold "Sheik" Binford; evidently they are trying to make a favorable impression so that he will date them for the banquet. Harold's pleasing personality was not overlooked by a former Freshman co-ed. Sorry girls, but Harold is mutually infatuated—but won't "Toot" do?

"Let the man that does not wish to become idle fall in love." These words were wisely spoken by some man in former ages who was enlightened and made wiser by experience. Chet Colwell and Harry Frantz have their time preoccupied by some feminine clans that we doubt very much if they will be able to find time to decorate the roof garden for the banquet.

The "M" Club Banquet has been decided to be a formal affair. It will be the only banquet held this year which will be formal. Boys, get your tux early and girls don't put off too long to get your gowns sorted. Who knows but what you will be asked to accompany some nice young man to the big banquet.

The "M" club members are noticing that the girls are beginning to primp more than they usually do. After all a good appearance is one way of attracting some young man to ask you for a date to the banquet.

We understand they are putting in an extra course at the "M" Club Banquet for the new members. This course will not be served by the waiters, but by the old members dished out with paddles.

To incoming members of the "M" club, we would suggest the use of a tincture of benzoin solution. (to those who do not know, it is a skin toughener.)

If you want to sit comfortably at the banquet invest in a bottle now. It is on sale by the "M" club. See Harold Binford for particulars.

Here's a bit of self-confidence which should not be unrewarded. Eddy says, he is not going to ask for his date until the eleventh. He knows he will not have trouble in finding one, and wants to keep the girls in suspense as long as possible.

The committees have been doing different work on the plans to make the "M" Club Banquet a success this year. It will be held April 12. A large number is expected to respond from the invitations which have been sent out to all of the members.

BREVITIES

Maudena Sondergard's sisters, Welcome and Metta, visited here last Saturday.

George Lerew was on the campus Saturday and had some routing done in the Industrial Department. He is a graduate of 1933 and teaching in Bloom, Kansas at the present time.

Harold Crist was on the campus Saturday.

Modena Kauffman spent the weekend in Topeka.

Phyllis Bargrover spent Tuesday night in the dormitory.

Esther Kimmel was in bed with three-day measles this week.

Lillian Peterson had a visitor last weekend.

Emma Schmidt is back in school after having the measles.

Margaret Oliver is confined to her home with the measles.

Dorothy Dell and Dick Hendren were visitors in Wichita recently.

Among the dorm students who have been infected with the measles are Esther Kimmel, Lyle Brower, and Van Hunt.

"Vi" Harris was compelled to return from the A Cappella Choir tour due to illness. She took ill in Missouri and returned to the campus on Monday.

Sunday afternoon Gerald Denny, Lowell Brubaker, Lyle Brower, Donald Brumbaugh, Floyd Mason, and Glen Austin journeyed to Wichita to attend the dedication of "The Municipal Air Building."

Tony Meyer visited his parents in Tampa over the week-end.

Sunday evening Agnes Bean entertained Harry Frgantz, Russell Carpenter, Leonard Wiggins, Homer Kimmel, Phyllis Powers, Iva Walker, and Corrine Bowers to a waffle supper.

Tony is now the sole possessor of the Model T which formerly was under the supervision of Carpie. Tony says he has christened his ford "The Spirit of the Globe."

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Eisenblase, Mr. Wilbur Ikenberry of Quinter visited Herbert Ikenberry, Thursday afternoon.

Erstwhile Wanderer Adopted by Co-ed

"Ruggles" dined the other evening on choice meat bought solely for him. He did not have to tell his benefactor that he had never before eaten a meal which he had not had to rustle for himself—he could tell it by the wistful expression of gratitude on his besmirched and grimy face.

He is ultra-clean now, for he has had several baths of late. He wears a new collar, too; in fact, it's the first one he has ever had, so it is with pardonable pride that he saunters about his newly acquired home.

A week ago "Ruggles" was a tired and travel-worn rover. He appeared one day last week on the Bulldog campus, shaggy and unkempt but with a grim determination to find out the nature of this "Canine Haven" as he had heard the home of the McPherson Bulldogs called by his fellow rovers.

Soon after he arrived his masculine intuition prompted him to follow some disdainful co-eds into the feminine sanctuary of the "Y" room. There, as has happened repeatedly through the history of the institution, he—one of the masculine species—found his long, restless search for happiness ended in the love of a woman.

Because he was homeless; because he looked so dejected; because she loved him at first sight, she took him home with her and introduced him to her family.

And now "Ruggles," erstwhile common mongrel, basks in the warmth of Margaret Mattox's smile.

Senior Personalities

If you take your courage into your own hands on almost any afternoon and venture into the nether regions of Fahnestock Hall, you will find Glen Hammann busily engaged in making the sawdust fly or in helping some flighty home mechanics student to fit the screws into the household ornament she is constructing. There is a reason for all good things, and Glen's reason for being here is that he is very much interested in industrial arts; in fact, he is majoring in that field and has been an assistant in the shop for the last three years.

—MC—
A senior who has been at McPherson College only one year but one who has made her presence felt in that short time is Evelyn Glotfelty. She is the girl who won the heart of a certain well-known, supposedly woman-hating debater. She took her first college work at Mount Morris, spending two and a half years there. Later she studied ten months at the Michael Reese Hospital School of Nursing in Chicago. She has chosen biology for her major.

—MC—
Harry Frantz is a senior who is known for his ability and desire to get things done. As president of his class when he was a freshman, he outlined a course of activity which has made the class of 1935 one of the outstanding classes of McPherson College. Harry's own college career has been full of activity. He was business manager of the Spectator in his sophomore year, athletic manager in his junior and senior years, president of the Student Council and treasurer of the Y. M. C. A. in his senior year. He had the title role in the senior play, "The Youngest," which was given March 25. His major interest is industrial arts, in which he has been an assistant for two years.

POETRY CORNER

An Incident in Browning Home, S.C.

"Hark, some one is crying so
She must be hurt I know.
Now come and tell me Thelma Fay
What can be wrong with Willie
May?"

Said Thelma, "These big rags you see,
Miss Wellman found and gave to me
And told me that we little girls
Should go and dust the chapel chairs.
I said, 'Chile, come here an' dust.'
And she began to cry an' cuss."
—Margaret Heckethorn.

It is quite coincidental that one of Manchester College's leading orators is named Paul Boose. Note that Manchester College is also "M. C."

Religion and Gospel of Success Discussed
By Phillips Elliott In Recent Article

By Phillips P. Elliott
Our estimate of religion is bound up to some degree with the success of religion. One does not need to be a doctrinaire pragmatist to believe that. One need be only a garden-variety minister, doing what he can by preaching and praying and calling. To such a man success will not be the sole criterion of religion's value, but it will be one. He believes that, if he keeps hewing away at the job, eventually there will be some measurable success to reward his efforts. If enough men keep hewing away, the success will be greater, and perhaps society itself may be changed.

He may think of this success as consisting of numbers added to his church, of decisions made on special occasions, or increased programmes and activity in the church. Or, less selfishly, he may conceive of a success as meaning lives made richer, character stronger, and hearts more outpouring. These things give the man of religion a warm glow. He is in a successful undertaking, he is proud of his calling, and he girds up his loins to achieve future victories in the name of religion.

But all the while he is being beguiled and betrayed. He is all unconsciously shifting the ground of his work, and indeed of his whole life. For the job of success is succeeded by the despair of failure. Members are not added, no cards are signed, the city does not get cleaner, peace does not come upon the earth, the characters of men remain hard and the hearts selfish. Then his faith begins to slip, imperceptibly but actually. What is the matter with this thing that it does not work? Why should one be a bond servant of a movement that shows only a continuous succession of failures? If religion does not bring in the Kingdom of God, clearly defined as it is in his mind in terms of social justice and well-being, then better to dessert it and find something that gives at least a glimmer of hope of ultimate success. Many have so reasoned, and many have gone.

The president's sons,
Cling to his coat
In a wild uproar:

At his pockets there.
Each determined
To have his way.
With never an ear.
For their father's words
(Though throngs give heed)
To what presidents say.
"Why, Mr. Lincoln!"

His great palm offers them
Plain to view.
"Three walnuts, neighbor,
And well—you see
Each pesky youngster

"How long is a piece of string?" and "How far can a dog run into a woods?" These questions were asked at Iowa U. and supposed to be unanswerable. But one student answered, "A piece of string is twice as long as the distance between the center and either end," and "A dog can run into the woods only half way, after that he is running out."—South Side College Press.

The Fort Hays Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. were represented at the convention which was held at McPherson College, on March 15, 16, and 17. There were 200 students from various colleges in Kansas that attended.—State College Leader, Fort Hays, Kansas.

SPONSOR "McPHERSON RELAYS" THIS MONTH

Seven Colleges to Participate in Track, Field, and Tennis Meet Here April 25

A big track and field meet, to be known as the "McPherson relays," will be sponsored here by McPherson College on April 26, with the smaller colleges and universities of the state invited to participate in the event. Arrangements are being planned whereby the "McPherson Relays" will become an annual affair. Should the experiment this spring turn out successful more schools will be invited next year, and in a few more years colleges from other states may be asked to take part.

Seven colleges other than McPherson College have been sent invitations for the relays this year. The response so far is favorable with only one or two colleges not yet having accepted the invitation. The schools invited to take part include Bethany, Friends, Sterling, Kansas Wesleyan, Bethel, and College of Emporia.

The meet will also include a tennis tournament, and the colleges are asked to bring their tennis teams. The four college courts are being worked into excellent condition and by the time of the meet they will be in first class shape.

An all day program is being worked out and facilities are being made ready for the event, the largest of its kind ever to be held in this city.

Coach Melvin J. Binford is behind the movement. He is taking an active part in the work and plans to obtain funds to give awards to winners in individual events and trophies to schools winning the largest number of points.

The college field immediately north of the campus will be used for the meet. None of the minor details of the meet has yet been worked out, but in a short time more definite information concerning the meet will be available.

SOPHOMORES LEADING IN THE TRACK TOURNAMENT

The inter-class track and field meet was held last Wednesday and Thursday afternoon. Competition was not completed in javelin, broad jump, discus and the relay, because of the injury which might have been done to the athletes during the cold weather the two days the meet was held.

The sophomores are leading with 39 1/2 points; juniors second with 37 points; seniors, third with 23 1/2 points and the freshmen last with 20 1/2 points.

Events and winners:
100 yd. dash—1. Miles 2. Haun 3. Toland 4. Carpenter.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT NEARING COMPLETION

Wiggins into Finals; Stoner and Binford in Upper Bracket

At present, the first two rounds of the college tennis tournament have been completed. Eight men have battled their way into the quarter finals. These are: Binford, Carpenter, Chisholm and Stoner in the upper bracket. Those in the lower bracket are: Barngrover, Weddle,

Eddy and Wiggins. The tournament will be finished by the first of next week. Binford and Wiggins are the popular favorites to go into the finals.

The first round matches and results follow with the winner's name appearing first: Binford vs. Bye; Messamer vs. Brubaker, 6-1 6-2; Duncanson vs. Bye; Carpenter vs. Bye; Stratman vs. Flory, forfeit; Chisholm vs. Johnston, forfeit; Lackie vs. Bye; Stoner vs. D. Heckman, 6-1 6-1; Barngrover vs. P. Miller, 6-3 8-6; R. Booz vs. Brower, 8-6 6-1; Weddle vs. Sweetland, forfeit; P. Booz vs. Suttle, 6-2 6-4; Naylor vs. Shank, 6-2 6-0; Eddy vs. P. Heckman, 6-0 6-0; Lindgren vs. Ogden, 6-4 7-5 and Wiggins vs. Bye.

The second round results were: Binford vs. Messamer, 6-1 6-2; Carpenter vs. Duncanson, 6-2 6-1; Chisholm vs. Stratman, 6-4 3-6 6-2; Stoner vs. Nackie, 6-2 8-6; Barngrover vs. R. Booz, 8-6 6-1; Weddle vs. P. Booz; 4-6 6-3 6-3; Eddy vs. Naylor, 6-4 3-6 6-3 and Wiggins vs. Lindgren, 6-0 6-0.

The losers of the first and second round matches will be paired off into a consolation bracket. These pairings will be made the latter part of the week.

CANINES TO MEET C. OF E. AND BETHEL IN TRACK MEETS

Coach Binford announced today that dual track meets have been scheduled with College of Emporia and Bethel.

The Bulldogs will go to Emporia to contest the C. of E. team next Thursday, April 11. The following Tuesday, April 16, the team will go to Newton where they will meet the Bethel Graymarooners. Both C. of E. and Bethel have strong teams and will offer plenty of competition for Binford's men.

Tennis meets will be held in connection with both track meets. The varsity tennis team has not been announced.

Hanson, number 1 man for C. of E., beat Binford in the state tournament last year. Binford will be out to avenge for this defeat next Thursday. They are two of the very best men in the Kansas Conference. This match should be very closely played and should attract much attention.

A student at Cornell University is reported to be planning for a "share the grades program." No student, he feels, should be allowed to retain a grade of over 70 and should be taxed down to a mean level. The realized grades would be distributed evenly to all students with marks under 70. Which is something like a famous old "negative graduation" plan suggested by a former Los Angeles Juvenile Column Editor, who carefully explained how one could graduate as a freshman by assimilating the proper number of negative grade points. And go back to high school, perhaps. . . .

Los Angeles, April 4.—The floating university fad which this year has swept several score college students off around the world struck with full force at the University of California at Los Angeles, this week. Plans were announced for the June 29 departure of the E. L. Dooney yacht, Caslana, now the floating campus of the Inter-Oceanic University, with a crew of U. C. L. A. students and Dr. Frederic P. Woellner, U. C. L. A., professor of education, as chancellor.

The Inter-Oceanic University plans to visit many out-of-the-way corners of the earth and will give a full year's credit for the trip which includes stopovers at foreign universities.

Los Angeles, April 4.—Perfection of a new mirror and reflector, by what is known as the panthro process, was announced this week by Dr. Hiram W. Edwards, associate professor of physics at the University of California at Los Angeles.

"The panthro mirror has a reflection coefficient of 94 per cent.," he said, "as compared with the 75 to 85 per cent. of the ordinary silver backed mirrors. At present the mirrors are used in motion picture studios and theaters, by surgeons, in cameras and in auto headlights."
