One-Act Play to be Presented in College Chapel on January 23

Sponsored By C. E.

Mrs. Luther Harshbarger Director of Production

"The Doctor Decides", a one-act play by Fred Eastman, will be presented in the college chapel on Sunday evening, January 23. This play is being sponsored by the college C. E. with Mrs. Luther Harshbarger directing. The play will be a special feature of the School of Missions, beginning Friday night at the Brethren church.

"The Doctor Decides" is the story of a young medical missionary in the mountains of the south. His devotion to the noble work he is doing among these mountain folk leads him to face a great problem. On the one hand he learns that his friends at home have of necessity withdrawn their support of his work as a doctor, and on the other hand these needy people who have become very dear to him, need him and want him to stay.

The cast of characters includes: Jerry; a neurotic youth of the mountains, Wesley De Coursey; Becky, a girl of the mountains, Mary Elizabeth Hoover; Bostich, a deacon of the mountains, Charles Sheller; Barbara Guthrie, a young writer from New York, Olive Edgcomb; George Goodrich, a community doctor and medical missionary, Bruce Wood; Mother Goodrich, his mother, Ruby Welmer.

Wholesale Liquid Helium

New Haven, Conn.—(ACP)—Yale University physicists expect soon to go into the wholesale manufacture of liquid helium as a result of a new apparatus being set up in the Sloane physics laboratory here.

It will take one hour for the apparatus to produce one quart of liquid helium. That is 80 times better than the old method.

Production of liquid helium in comparatively large quantities will broaden the field of scientific research.

Report Made On N. C. A. A.

New Orleans—(ACP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association heard recently a prominent educator declare it is impossible to eliminate commercialism in college athletics.

Dr. John J. Tigert, president of the University of Florida, told delegates to the annual N. C. A. A. convention he had concluded "prohibition of emoluments to athletes is as impossible as prohibition of the consumption of intoxicating liquors."

Business Manager J. H. Fries, Vice-President of the Kansas Conference, represented the conference at New Orleans during the Christmas holidays. Fries also attended the New Year's Day classic at New Orleans.

Many Students In Great Frenzy For Examination Day Thursday

Woe be unto all ye fellow students of McPherson college—the three days of judgment are near at hand. Thusly, it is said unto you that, inasmuch as you have not "kept up," do ye therefore begin to burn that traditional midnight oil to "catch up" and cram that forgotten knowledge into the limited area of your mental capacity. Go ye therefore into the inner regions of your rooms, lock ye then the door, open a book, and feast your eyes steadfastly on its pages.

Yes, the end of the semester is but a week off, and obviously the realization that those three days of exams (Thursday, Friday and Saturday) are so close has an influence on the students.

We hear such remarks as "I've studied more today than all nine

Tenor Thrills Audience

Santo Di Primo, nationally known concert artist, gave a concert recital before a near-capacity audience last night at the city auditorium.

Di Primo, dramatic tenor, sang a varied and entertaining program, which clearly showed the magnificence of his voice. Mr. Di Primo was first instrumentalist with the Pittsburgh Symphony orchestra, later he took up the study of voice and sang lyric roles, and now is turning to dramatic roles as his voice is developing under advanced training.

Critics of the music world are prophesying Santo Di Primo will be one of the great artists of the future, ranking with Nelson Eddy, and others. He came here with the highest recommendations of the Columbia Concert Corporation of New York city.

Beauty Specialist Advises Council

Miss Johnson, Guest Speaker,
Discusses "Hair Care"
Before Group

Miss Adeline Johnson of the Watkins Beauty Shoppe, was the guest speaker at the Women's Council discussion group, Thursday, January 11. Miss Johnson spoke on "Care of the Hair."

"The correct hair style for the coming year," said Miss Johnson, "is an accented neck line and curls on the top of the head." She stressed the necessity of an individual knowing her own good points and wearing a hair dress to bring out these good points and one that will cover any outstanding defect. If the beauty operator is to do her best for one's hair she must be told what kind of shampoo has been used.

There are few entirely safe hair-dyes and it is wisest to consult your beauty operator rather than trying to dye your hair yourself. "Dandruff," said Miss Johnson, "is not as a rule contagious." In conclusion it was pointed out that the simplest kind of a hair dress is suitable for college girls and as well as being suitable it is most becoming for school.

Crawford Selects Quartet

Professor Crawford, director of the Choral Club, announced a male quartet after tryouts last Friday. This group will represent the group hereafter.

The quartet is as follows: Wesley De Coursey, first tenor; Ronald Orr, second tenor; Lyle Klotz, baritone; and Raymond Flory, second bass.

N. Y. Police Demand Students

College men who are able to apply abstract knowledge to a concrete problem are in demand at the New York police academy. Three of the 143 rookies let loose from the academy have college degrees and more than 16 per cent have attended college for some length of time.

Concert Artist Here

Santo Di Primo, a jovial tenor (above) gave the first number of the McPherson Cooperative Concert Association. His repertoire included numbers from "Il Tromatore," "I Pagliacci," "Aida," and "Lo Tosca." His assistant, Norman Secan, at the piano, aroused great interest with his deft fingers. Di Primo formerly was a trombonist with the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra. After a period of work with Adrian Freni, who had been head of the Institute of Musical Art in New York, he made his debut in Pittsburgh.

Debate Tourney Draws 54 Teams

Invitation Tournament Here
Won By Hays; McPherson
2 Wins Four

The invitation debate tournament held here on Saturday, January 8, was a great success from every standpoint. There were 14 schools represented and there were actually 54 teams on the campus.

There were only two teams that went through the whole tournament undefeated: Emporia 6, and Hutchinson 4. There were 11 teams with only 1 defeat: Bethany 5, Bethel 2, Bethel 4, Eldorado 2, Hays 1, 2, 3, Hutchinson 4, McPherson 2, Southwestern 2, and Tonkawa 2. McPherson 2 was composed of Luther Harshbarger and Donald Newkirk.

Hays received the highest percentage which was 75. These four schools tied for second place with a score of 60: Alva, Bethel, Eldorado, and Tonkawa. Southwestern had a percentage of 55 while McPherson came out with a score of 53.

Nearly everyone expressed a desire to return next year and some schools which were not represented this year wish to come also, so look forward to a bigger and better debate tournament next year.

Select Newton Dates

Four Remaining Dates on Newton
Concert Series Given

Members of the McPherson Cooperative Concert Association will be interested to learn the dates of the four remaining numbers to be given at Newton by that city's Association. They are Dec. 1, Panvini-Mayo, an operatic duo; Jan. 31, Dallas Prantz, talented pianist; Feb. 13, Carola Gianna, Spanish dancer; and March 15, the Russian Imperial Singers, in costume.

The McPherson program dates have been entirely determined, the first number being last night. Other artists to appear here will include Miss Rose Bampton, Metropolitan soprano; Malcom-Godden, a du-piano team; Mildred Dilling, Harpist, and Marcel Hubert, violinist, in a joint recital.

Printed tickets bearing the dates of these presentations have been issued. From now on only those bearing McPherson Cooperative Concert Association tickets will be admitted. Ticket receipts will not be permitted.

Quadrangle Seeks Data

The Quadrangle Staff wishes to thank the student body for their cooperation in making available figures on the amounts they have spent on transportation via Santa Fe Trailways.

As further check on the accuracy to make sure that no one has been overlooked they are asking all those who have ridden on this bus line, this school year, to report at the earliest convenience. In case you have already reported but have included mileage ridden before this school year, please let the Quad Staff know by checking with some member of the staff or leaving a note in the Quad Mail box in the business office. The above method also holds for those who have not reported.

President Depicts Assets of College

Schwalm Reminds Student Body of Many Opportunities at McPherson

President V. F. Schwalm reminded the students assembled for the Wednesday morning chapel period of the many opportunities which were afforded by McPherson college. He said that McPherson College offered a chance to the student to develop physically, socially, morally, and spiritually as well as scholastically.

Dr. Schwalm said that McPherson College offered instruction in twenty-three separate departments and that the College was extremely fortunate in having an excellently trained and experienced faculty. He said that R. E. Mohler, who is in charge of the placing of graduate teachers in positions, succeeded in placing approximately ninety-eight per cent of those seeking such assistance.

He said that in college students might learn the proper social customs and suggested that the boys learn from some responsible female "the correct way to call for their lady friends when they were taking them out."

Dr. Schwalm expressed the hope that each student might be better off scholastically, physically, socially, morally, and spiritually for having come to college.

National Student Conference

Albuquerque, N. M.—(ACP)—Delegates to the annual congress of the National Student Federation of America met recently on the campus of the University of New Mexico to discuss such problems as the relation of student government bodies to the administration and faculty, living condition, athletics, discipline and student self-government.

The Federation was founded in 1925 at Princeton for the purpose of bringing together student officials of colleges and universities in the United States and Canada. Its membership includes the student councils of more than 150 colleges.

Brubaker Speaker

Director Of Young People's Work
Here Three Days

A School of Mission, sponsored by the Brethren church, will hold its first session Friday evening, January 14, in the church basement. Mr. Leland Brubaker from Elgin, Illinois, a member of the General Mission Board and Director of Young People's Work, will speak to the college folks and adult members of the church.

The second session will be a book review of Mark Dawber's interesting book, "Rebuilding Rural America." This meeting will be held on Thursday evening, Jan. 20.

On Thursday evening, Jan. 27, a motion picture, "Padre Sahib", will be shown in the church basement as the third number of the school of missions.

A dinner will be served in connection with each session of the school, to which all college students are invited. Plans have been made to separate divisions of Intermediate, Junior and Primary children. College students and adult members of the church will meet together.

Mr. Brubaker will be on the campus from Thursday till Sunday, Jan. 13-15. Arrangements have been made for Mr. Brubaker to speak in a special World Service meeting; the School of Missions, Friday night at the Brethren church; and church services Sunday.

McPherson College is very fortunate in having Mr. Brubaker on our campus. Because of the shortness of his stay here it will be necessary for those wishing to have special conferences with him to make arrangements with Mr. C. E. Davis as soon as possible.

Bachelor Girls Jokes

Chicago, Ill.—(ACP)—According to a Loyola University psychologist, Dr. Alexander A. Schneiders, the bachelor girl who tells you that she simply loves her work and wouldn't think of leaving for home or family, is kidding at least 50 per cent of the time.

"It goes back to Freud's theory of the free will," he said. "The girl may have had a frustrated love affair, she may fear that the man she marries will dominate her or she may have half a dozen other reasons, all in her subconscious mind, and none of which she will admit."

"The chances are that she will say she simply is not interested in men or perhaps that the right man never came along. In her case no man would be the right man."

And after hurling this gaudy in the face of emancipated women, Dr. Schneiders leaned back, safely ensconced behind his psychology books.

Cold Weather Causes Wars!

Cincinnati, Ohio—A professor of experimental medicine at the University of Cincinnati has a new theory for the cause of war. He is Dr. Clarence A. Mills, who has made an intensive study of the effect of weather on military forces and movements.

Dr. Mills contends that the ease or difficulty by which body heat may be thrown off dominates "the entire existence level of man." He points out that in areas of moderate temperature, the body can more easily dissipate the heat it generates, this stimulating bodily functions and increasing energy.

In hotter climates, where the warm moisture in the air is high, the body finds difficulty in throwing off its heat, resulting in a lowered vitality. If 1917 had not been an unusually cool year in America, the United States might never have entered the World War. And if the period from July, 1917, to the middle of 1918 had not been unusually warm in Austria and Germany, the Kaiser's side might have won the war.

Dr. Mills argues that the disregard or ignorance of these facts in the movement of troops has played an important part in determining the world's history.

The French Revolution, the American War of 1812, America's entrance into the Great War—all occurred in years of subnormal temperature following years of moderate or abnormal warmth.

"Revolutions against tyranny, demanding greater freedom of individual action, have shown an almost unvarying predisposition to take place in cold stormy years that come after prolonged warmth," Dr. Mills said.

Foreign Military Training

Washington, D. C.—Compulsory military training in colleges—particularly land grant colleges which receive federal funds—is often the target for criticism by peace organizations. However, the way in which our college students are, in some instances, forced to take military training contrasts strongly with the manner in which young men are trained for war in foreign countries.

In Switzerland, Italy, France, Rumania, Peru, Germany, Alaska and Iraq all young men are compelled to undergo a period of military training. And this is not in conjunction with college work. They have to serve a year or more in the army, just as do regular soldiers.

Military service in Turkey is regarded as so important that it is practically impossible for a young man to get a job unless he has completed his military term.

Co-eds are not always omitted in training for the national defense in other nations, for instance, the Women's Home Defense Organization in Estonia trains young women for their part in war through an organization called the Home Guards.

The Boy Scout organizations in some countries have been drafted as military training agencies. Boy Scouts in Brazil, for instance, are financed by the government and receive training for war under the Ministry of War.

Military training is compulsory in Argentina between the ages of 18 and 21. However, all youths are not required to undergo the training. Lots are drawn and the trainees are selected in this manner.

So, after considering the compulsory military service of more militaristic nations, drill two or three times a week in college ROTC units may not be so bad after all. —Marion Cox (ACP)

There will be at least 1,000,000 fewer children in the United States aged 9 to 16 in 1940 than in 1930, and there are only half as many children under 5 in Manhattan now as in 1929, according to studies made by Provost Rufus B. Smith of New York University.

Fire of undetermined origin totally destroyed the chapel at Park college, Parkville, Missouri, causing an estimated 155 thousand dollar damage.

A cross-section of Hunter College students, in a voluntary peace poll sponsored by the World Youth Congress, revealed they believe that in case of armed conflict, the United States should prohibit shipment of munitions to all countries at war. They were divided about half and half on the question of whether they would fight for Democracy against Fascism or fight only in case the country is invaded.

S.C.M. Delegates Report Meeting

Rev. C. E. Davis, Gladys Shank, and Dwight Horner Relate Experiences

Gladys Shank, Rev. C. E. Davis and Dwight Horner were in charge of the general S. C. M. meeting, Tuesday morning, January 11. These people represented McPherson College at the national S. C. M. assembly, held at Oxford, Ohio, during the last week of the holiday vacation. They brought echoes from the national assembly to the local organization.

Dwight Horner opened the meeting with devotions and introduced the speakers. Gladys Shank told of the outstanding personalities of the assembly, such as; Adile Sweney and Jack McMichael, chairmen of the assembly; Howard Thurman, nationally known youth leader; Bishop W. Scarlett of Missouri and Dr. T. Z. Koo, of China.

While at Oxford Gladys attended commission on Student and Campus Living. She reported that McPherson campus has few major problems compared with other colleges. Some of the problems discussed dealt with organization conflicts, conflicts between administration and students, and attitudes of students towards the church.

The morning worship services were told of by Rev. Davis. These services were conducted every morning by Bishop William Scarlett. In these meetings Bishop Scarlett read a paraphrase from the Sermon on the Mount. His prayers were especially inspirational. Issues of today were stressed with a necessity for unity of mankind. The worship services of the assembly were concluded with an impressive communion service.

Discuss Basketball

Basketball was the principal topic of discussion at yesterday's dinner-meeting of the Rebounders Club at the Gypsy Grill. John Fribble presided and the guest speaker was Dr. Leo Crumpacker, a graduate of McPherson High school and McPherson college. When Dr. Crumpacker was in school here he was an outstanding athlete in basketball and football. He discussed athletics in the Big Ten. Other speakers were Coach Jack Handie of the high school, Coach "Buck" Astle of the college and Gene Johnson.

Bethel Seconds Win

The preliminary game between the second teams of Bethel and McPherson was nearly as fast and furious as the first team game with the Bethel team coming out on top 36 to 29. Bethel led only 14 to 13 at the half after the lead had changed several times.

The high scorers for Bethel were Friesen, forward, with 17 points, and Horst, center, with 14 points. McPherson's high scorer was Kingsley, forward, with eight points.

Telepathy Tests Support Theory

Personality Survival After Death Supported By Dr. J. B. Rhine

Durham, N. C.—Support for the possibility of the survival of personality after death is found by Dr. J. B. Rhine in experiments in clairvoyance and telepathy at Duke University. Second sight is a scientifically provable fact Dr. Rhine says in a book "New Frontiers of the Mind", the result of seven years of tests. He calls present inexplicable facts which he has found, extra-sensory perception.

Survival After Death "What we have so far found in extra-sensory perception research," he says, "would be at least favorable to the possibility of survival of personality after death. That is, such survival would naturally mean existence with bodily sense organs, nervous system and brain."

He has been investigating the existence of something which the learned have denied but in which the common man has always believed—the thing popularly called "sixth sense" which explains knowledge of an accident or death of a loved one who may be hundreds of miles away.

Laboratory tests of these experiences are not possible, but if they are true, Dr. Rhine says, the existence of the strange ability should be demonstrated in simple experiments.

Unseen Card Test For this, he devised a test of trying to call the faces of unseen cards. In one set of experiments one person looks at the cards in a deck, one after the other, while another person, without seeing the cards, tries to call them correctly as they are turned. This test is a test of telepathy. That is, whether the person calling the cards reads the mind of the person who sees them.

Telepathy in this manner has been tested in almost every conceivable way. The two persons, for example, have been separated by as much as 250 miles.

Another type of card calling test is clairvoyance. A person tries to call the cards in order in a pack which lies face downward. The person giving the test has not seen the cards but makes a record of the calls and afterwards checks them against the deck.

Badminton Enthusiasm Spreads

Badminton! What is so magic about this word? There certainly is something for three or four years ago it was unheard of on the campus and now look at its popularity. Why even last Saturday night at the girl's dorm party. One of the things on the scavenger hunt list was a badminton racket. Only magic could work such changes!

And yet to a badminton enthusiast there is nothing so magical about the powers of the game—unless some of Harold Rothrock's strokes are magic. However once one has played the game, it seems to have a grip of some kind on the participant. Or is this getting mixed up—it seems like one hears of the players gripping the racket. The player is supposed to hit the shuttle, but the other day Katherine Enns hit Mary Richards. Although it is known Mary is small, it was not known she was so small she could be mistaken for a shuttle.

Now one will hear even more about badminton on the campus for a mixed doubles tournament is being held. Anyone who thinks he can play, or wishes he could, may enter. Those in the badminton classes are now participating in tournaments to determine who will make up the team. Just to keep this article scholarly, one might add that there are several books in the library on badminton.

W. A. A. Sport Day Draws 5 Schools

Elimination Volley Tournament Included in Women's Day Festival

Five college volleyball teams, namely, Bethel, Bethany, Sterling, Kansas Wesleyan, and Southwestern have accepted the invitation of the McPherson college W. A. A. to a Sport Day in volleyball on Saturday, January 29, at the community building.

The elimination tournament will begin at 9 o'clock in the morning. At noon the visiting teams and our W. A. A. members will have a luncheon at the Brethren church. After the luncheon there will be a free period for relaxation and rest, after which the girls will play more volleyball until the tournament is finished.

Various committees are at work preparing for the occasion. Invitation and Publicity: Audrey Hamman, Pauline Grove and Rilla Hubbard; Registration: Mary Richards, Kathryn Enns, Helen Cole; Programs and Awards: Lucile Cole, Verda Grove, Gracelle Kindig; Entertainment: Opal Hoffman, Olive Edgcomb, Julia Frick, LaVena High; Hostess and Guides: Lenore Shirk, Rosalie Fields, Kathryn Dobbins Vera Heckman; Luncheon: Glee Goughnour, Geraldine Spohn, Doris Doane, Alberta Keller, Jessie Messamer, Doris Dressler; Equipment: Marion Washler, Avis Heckman.

The election of officers of Arnold Hall for the second semester was held last week, and the results were: President, Ellen Divine; Vice President, LaVena High; secretary-treasurer, Genevieve Sandy; Head Proctor, Avis Heckman.

Bulldogs Win Hectic Game

Bethel Graymaroons Defeated In Non-Conference Tilt By 36-28 Score

In a hectic "free for all" affair Wednesday night, the Bulldogs trimmed the Bethel Graymaroons 36 to 28 for a non-conference victory on the home court. The Bethel "B" team easily defeated the McPherson seconds 36-29.

Paced by McGill with ten points and Barngrover, Naylor, and Johnston with seven counters, the Canines led 17 to 13 at the half and steadily increased the margin until the game ended. Buller, with eight points, was high point man for the visitors.

Although both teams were unusually rough and ragged, McPherson's "swing system" was in fair form and the defense was sufficient to hold down Roy Hoff, diminutive hotshot.

Following is the box score:

Canines Entertain Hornets Tomorrow

Coach "Heinie" Kutnink's Yellow-Jackets Here Seeking Victory

For their third cage contest this week, Coach "Buck" Astle's McPherson college Bulldogs will "entertain" the Emporia State Hornets tomorrow night in a return non-conference engagement.

In the previous meeting of these teams, Coach "Heinie" Kutnink's yellow-clad basketballers overpowered the McPherson lads in the last half and chalked up a 34 to 20 victory. As a result of that early-season defeat, Astle's cagers will seek vengeance tomorrow night against their Central Conference foes.

Chief stinger of the Emporia attack is Isaac Emrich, southpaw hotshot from Miltonvale, for whom the Bulldogs will spare little time for a shot at the basket. In the meantime, the Canines hope to get their "swing system" in working order for some needed scoring punch.

Coach "Buck" Astle's home town team from Haven High school will meet his second team in the preliminary tilt of the evening at 8:15.

Streamlined Specialties—

Good samples were presented at the Ottawa and Bethel games and Coach "Buck" Astle promises another entertaining feature consisting of a "Spanish" instrumental trio between the halves of the Emporia State game tomorrow night.

What am I talking about? "Streamlined specialties", of course—those new ideas to add color to the "swing" system. Very few schools in this territory can boast of "high class" stunts between the halves, uniformed ushers, and a "swing" or German band. Even the fire department made a run during one of the preliminary affairs.

These earlier "stunts" are naturally comical, but with Coach Astle and "Aogie" San Roman working together, you can be assured of worthwhile attractions which are more entertaining than was the "Big Apple." Also later in the season, Astle plans to have special guest nights such as "Oil workers night", "Clerks night", and "Church night", but no "bank night", although bankers may be special guests (if they pay for their ticket, also).

Pigskin Preview—

Coach "Buck" Astle confirmed this week the report that this column made last month, concerning Southwestern as a 1938 grid opponent.

Coach Don Cooper's purple Mount-builders are definitely placed on the Bulldog schedule for an Armistice Day tussle on the local gridiron. A two-year, home and home contract also guarantees a return engagement at Winfield in 1939.

A better selection perhaps could not have been made, for these new Central Conference opponents, who are not as strong in football as their basketball power might indicate, will be a huge holiday attraction.

THIS WEEK

With two consecutive victories, the Bulldogs are, indeed, barking again. . . . Incidentally, the official score of that Baker route was 53-29 for Wiegand was accredited with a field goal Wanamaker and Ratzlaff, freshmen, collected a free throw in earlier games, but they are now averaging one field goal. . . . When asked what system was used by Baker, Gene Johnson said it seemed to be "shoot and duck", because the Canines evidently thought it was their "night to howl."

To Meet The Bulldogs

"IKE" EMRICH

Isaac Emrich, Miltonvale, Kas., is the spark plug of the Emporia State Teachers offensive attack. Standing only five feet eight inches in his basketball togs, the diminutive Emrich atones for his lack in height by possessing an accurate eye for the basket. The Emporians have played four games this season and Emrich is leading the Hornets scorers. He will be seen in action here Saturday night against McPherson college.

high scoring honors, it is evidence of cooperation. . . . Especially noticeable is the fine work of Naylor and Johnston in aiding each other. . . . One of the most thrilling sights in a McPherson game is Barney's pass to McGill for a "sleeper" or vice versa.

We must mention the apparent possibilities of the second team, which has been unable to hit "pay dirt." Freshmen lads such as Fox, Frantz, Kirk Naylor, Charbonneau, and Stauffer possess the necessary height, but they have not shown the hustle necessary which will come after more experience with the swing system. . . . All one can say concerning the Bethel battle royal is that the Bulldogs "swung" often enough to offset their wildness. Who will complain, though, when McPherson is on the long end of the score?

Grave-digging is the means a student at the University of Ottawa uses to keep himself in college. He is now rated a "six man" by the grave diggers' union.

Canine "Swing" Downs Pussies

An Avalanche of Field Goals Swamps Bakerites by Score 53 - 29

Thoroughly recuperating from a temporary setback by Ottawa, Coach "Buck" Astle's "swinging bucket-ers" broke into the conference win column Tuesday night by an overwhelming triumph over the Baker Wildcats, 53 to 29.

In the initial eight shots at the basket, the Bulldogs really "rang the bell" and built up a lead that was never relinquished during the remainder of the encounter. The Canines led at the half by a score of 32 to 9.

With Chet Johnston, Dave McGill, and Kurt Naylor each sinking eleven points, the Orange men were entirely out-rushed, out-passed, and annihilated by McPherson. All ten men who made the trip were used in the game and only Stauffer was unable to connect for points.

The box:

| McPherson (53) | FG | FT | F |
