

Expect Many As Guests Here Tomorrow

College To Be Host To Several Hundred High School Seniors

The annual Senior Festival at McPherson college will be held tomorrow, and several hundred high school seniors from over Central Kansas are expected to be the guests here for the day.

One of the highlights of the festival will be a music contest to be held under the auspices of the music department. Tuition prizes will be awarded the winners. The juvenile contest will be in piano, violin and voice and the adult contest in piano, voice, violin and cello. The juvenile contest will start at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon and the adult contest at the same hour.

The visiting high school seniors will meet at 5 o'clock at the physical education building for a get-together meeting. A short program will be given.

At 6 o'clock a dinner will be served in the parlors of the First Church of the Brethren. An interesting program of short talks and music will be given. Two or three hundred high school seniors are expected to attend.

Reservations are now being received from many high schools and many others are expected to come in in the next few days.

The Senior Festival at McPherson college is a spring event of years standing here. In the past when the event also included a track meet, several hundred boys and girls attended. Later the track meet was discontinued and more stress placed on the banquet, music contest and other similar events.

Shockley Goes To Hygiene Convention

Psychology Instructor Is Official In Local Mental Hygiene Society

Miss Ida Shockley, psychology instructor and dean of women of McPherson college, as well as program chairman of the McPherson Mental Hygiene Society, will represent the local chapter at the state convention which is being held at Parsons today and tomorrow. Others from McPherson are expected to attend.

Miss Shockley will be one of the speakers in the program making section of the convention.

As this is state convention week for both social and mental hygiene there will be no regular monthly meeting of the local chapter this week. Persons interested in obtaining literature in this field are asked to contact Arthur Etzold, Miss Louisa Knake or Mrs. F. Willard Hill, the membership committee of the local chapter.

Various sessions of the state convention will be devoted to the consideration of mental hygiene in the home, school and in social work, the activities of the state and local societies and the mental hygiene needs of Kansas.

Some of the more prominent out-of-state speakers who will appear on the program are Dr. Carl Rogers, professor of clinical psychology at Ohio State university; Mrs. Evelyn Mills Duval, executive director of the Association for Family Living, Chicago; Dr. G. Leonard Harrington, president of the Missouri Mental Hygiene Society, Kansas City; and Mrs. Helen Sala, executive director of the Missouri Mental Hygiene Society, Columbus, Mo.

Works Hard To Give Oratorio

Prof. Nevin W. Fisher, vocal instructor here, was the director of the sacred oratorio, "The Redemption", which was given by the McPherson Choral Union last Sunday evening.

It was only through much effort on the part of the director and all those participating, that such a community enterprise could be effected. This is the third year that the Union has given an oratorio. It is hoped by music lovers that the event can be

Talks Of Christian Money Management

Rev. Walter Kahle Gives Third In Series Of Lectures To B. Y. P. D. Group By Joy Smith

Rev. Walter Kahle, lecturer on christian money management, presented the third in his series of lectures to the B. Y. P. D. group at the Church of the Brethren last Sunday evening. With the assistance of charts, "Dad" Kahle introduced the "Christ approach" to the economic problems of the world.

According to his thinking, youth are faced with three major problems: that of making a good living; that of making a good life; and that of making a better world. Kahle pointed out that the first major problem is solved by "putting your head, your heart, and God" into your pocket-book.

In conclusion, Rev. Kahle explained his chart of proportionate expenditures which serves as a guide to scientific and spiritual money management.

Chemistry Students Go To Visit Reformatory

Friday Dr. J. Willard Hershey and his McPherson college chemistry students visited industrial plants in Hutchinson. The 85 students left the campus in a caravan of cars early Friday morning.

At Hutchinson the students visited the Carey salt plant and mine, the straw-board factory, state reformatory, candy factory, Coca Cola bottling works, a large bakery as well as other industrial centers of that city.

For nearly 15 years Dr. Hershey has been treating his chemistry students to a day in Hutchinson visiting the industrial plants.

Students Intrude Into The Private Life Of A Family Of Bacteria In Biology Lab

By Marianne Kruger

What with the biology department warning these days with a visitation of school teachers—prospective and otherwise—much of the significance of grasshopper legs and baby salamanders pales in comparison. But laboratory work, like the weather is always with us, and approximately 85 people each week avail themselves of department equipment—everything from scalpels to whole sections of Prof. R. E. Mohler's private library.

No compliment to rooms in Fahnstock Hall is the popularity of the Biology laboratory every night—

Formal Banquet To Be Held This Evening

W. A. A. Members, Their Escorts Will Dine At Country Club

Climaxing several weeks' preparation, the annual W. A. A. banquet will be held tonight at the Country Club. The club room will be decorated in the clever Robin Hood motif with bows and arrows and green caps carrying out the theme.

Audrey Hammann, W. A. A.'s capable president, will preside over the dinner as toastmaster. One of the highlights of the evening will be the announcement of W. A. A. officers for the coming year 1940-41 by Miss Hammann. The election was held yesterday, and their results have been kept secret. They will be announced tonight. The new president-elect will give a response.

Miss Lilyan Warner, club sponsor, will be the main speaker of the evening. Special numbers will be a reading by Donna Jean Johnson, a vocal solo by Gladys Wiggins, and a cornet solo by Robert Kingsley.

Junior-Senior Banquet Date Set For May 11

Junior-Senior Retreats Are Now Scheduled For May 13 and 14

The date of the Junior-Senior Banquet is finally past the tentative stage. For some time the date was set for May 18. But it was soon discovered that May 18 was the date of the traditional reception to the seniors given by the president of the college. Since this event was listed in the McPherson college catalog, it took precedence.

May 17 was dismissed since at that time the conference track and tennis meet will be held at Ottawa, and all the participants would be unable to return in time for the banquet. Saturday, May 11, was finally decided upon for the banquet date.

The Junior and senior retreats, which the faculty recommended to be on the same day, were formerly planned for May 9 and 10. This date is later changed to May 14 and 15, the Tuesday and Wednesday of the next week. Everybody was happy then, until someone discovered that the annual school holiday, All School's Day, was on May 15, also.

Considering it uneconomical to have two holidays on the same day, the schedulers changed the date of the retreats to Monday and Tuesday, May 13 and 14. Thus all things will probably fit in, to the mutual satisfaction of everybody.

Reverend S. G. Keller will speak at the Methodist Epworth League Sunday evening at 7:00 o'clock. There will be a car in front of Sharp Hall at 6:45 to take college students to League. Billy Ray Arnold will sing. Warren Bedell is in charge of the program.

Pan-American Union Now In Fiftieth Year

Dr. F. F. Wayland, Head Of History Department, Lectures In Chapel

Dr. Francis F. Wayland gave an interesting and informative lecture in chapel Wednesday morning on the Pan-American Union, its history, and its functions. The anniversary of the founding of the union of twenty-one American republics on April 14, 1890, in Washington D. C. and the proclamation of President Roosevelt for the observance of the day motivated the choice of his topic.

Some of the principles of the Pan-American Union movement are the belief in democracy, arbitration of disputes, the non-intervention of European powers in American affairs, peace, and friendship.

The cradle of the movement is the South American revolution of history. Simon Bolivar of Venezuela, a military dictator and a statesman, summoned the first congress of American republics in 1826 at Panama; the Panama Congress was a failure but did begin the Pan-American Movement. Henry Clay, the great American statesman, advocated the recognizing of the South American states during his political career. James G. Blaine of Maine, a speaker of the House of Representatives, two times a Secretary of State, and once a candidate for the presidency, was the figure behind the 1889-90 conference of American states, from which came the Pan-American Union. Since that Congress, eight others have been held at various cities in the various American countries. In addition to the regular congresses, other conferences dealing with sanitary conditions, science, finance, travel, housing, labor, and so forth have been held and are to be held. Some of the projects of International American communication are complete, some are projected and partially built; these include a railroad, highways, airways, postal service, telephone, telegraph, and steamship line.

The Union is supported by annual contributions of the twenty-one states, is housed in the Pan-American Union building in Washington D. C., is directed by a director-general, an assistant director-general, and a governing board. Cordell Hull is at present the chairman of the board. The director general is Dr. Leo S. Row. The official news bulletin of the union is the "Bulletin of the Pan-American Union".

The relations between the Americas have improved greatly especially since 1928. One of the causes, among several, is the Hull Reciprocal Trade Agreements.

Council To Open Meeting To Public

President Stover Announces Everyone Is Invited Wednesday

Next Wednesday evening at 6:30 in Room 5 of Sharp Hall the Student Council will hold its second open meeting of the year. At that time anyone wishing to visit a session will be welcome, it was announced yesterday by Stephen Stover, president of the Student Body.

Ordinarily the council's meetings are closed and only the fifteen regular members are present, explained Stover in making the announcement. Occasionally some individual is called in to make a special report or to present some matter of extraordinary importance. But only twice a year is an open session held. Last fall a public meeting was conducted in connection with the 1939-40 budget hearing.

The council is making no unusual preparation for this meeting, but is merely inviting in anyone who wishes to watch the official governing power at work.

Four Soloists Are Students On Macampus

Prof. N. W. Fisher Directs Local Vocal Chorus Production

Prof. Nevin Fisher, head of the vocal department of McPherson college, and four of his music students who are attending McPherson college played major roles last Sunday when the McPherson Choral Union presented "The Redemption", a sacred oratorio by Charles Gounod.

Miss Millicent Nordin, soprano, Miss Margaret Fry, soprano, Keith Pierce, bass, and Pascal Davis, tenor, were the soloists from McPherson college who starred in the oratorio. In addition to this, Harold Beam, a former student here, sang tenor solo selections.

Many were of the opinion that local soloists lent a note of personal interest and provided variety by including eight instead of the usual three or four featured artists. The 175 in the chorus were dressed in black and white while the soloists were in evening dress.

Professor Fisher masterfully directed the large chorus and accompanied orchestra and handled the many difficult parts in a splendid manner.

Although the two and a half hour program seemed somewhat lengthy, the last part was considered the most inspiring with the chorus of "Unfold Ye Portals Everlasting" the most powerful.

Besides the numbers by the big chorus there were recitations, a mixed quartet, duets, and a ladies' trio, all made up of the soloists, and a small select chorus.

Most of the soloists were well-known to McPherson music lovers while those who weren't will probably be in demand more than ever after last night's program. They included besides those mentioned before, Miss Helen Miller, contralto, Clarence Burkholder, bass, and Dale Miller, tenor.

The rendition represented many weeks of practice by both the chorus and 45-piece orchestra and a great deal of work by Prof. Fisher.

Officials of the McPherson Choral Union were high in their praise of the splendid response given by the public in the form of sponsors. The response more than cared for the expense of the production and officials expressed their thanks and appreciation.

The a cappella choir of McPherson college was an integral part of the Union.

Nelson, Spohn To Head Movement

Anderson, Bullinger To Be Secretary And Treasurer Next Year

Lee Nelson c'41 and Gerry Spohn c'41 were Tuesday elected to head the 1940-41 Student Christian Movement, it was announced Wednesday by Elmer Dadisman, co-president of the S. C. M.

Maurine Anderson was elected secretary and Wilbur Bullinger treasurer of the movement for next year. The total vote in the election was large.

Nelson is a student minister and has held a pastorate this year in a church near Nickerson. Nelson and Spohn have held positions on the S. C. M. cabinet during the past year. Spohn has been the co-chairman of the World Cooperation Commission, while Nelson has also been on the cabinet, helping direct the Creative Leisure Commission. Anderson and Bullinger have been active in other capacities and are well qualified for their positions.

The new executive committee of the S. C. M., together with the advisors, Dr. Burton Metzler, Miss Ida Shockley, and Mrs. R. E. Mohler, will start working at once to select the S. C. M. cabinet for next year.

Local Group Attend Kansas Theatre Forum

Miss Lehman Heads McPherson Delegation To Kansas State

Miss Della Lehman and a group of McPherson college dramatic students are attending today and tomorrow the Kansas Theatre forum which is being held at the Kansas State college campus in Manhattan.

About 37 directors of dramatic productions in Junior colleges and colleges in Kansas are attending the meeting. Each director may bring outstanding dramatic students with him if he chooses.

Following a banquet this evening in the Crystal room of the Wareham hotel, for guests and students interested in dramatics, the representatives from Emporia Teachers college will present a play in the college auditorium. It will be a modern adaptation of "The Menaceh", an old Roman farce written by Plautus. The modern version is entitled "The Twins, A Comedy of Errors."

Tomorrow a business meeting of all directors will be held.

The Kansas Theatre forum was organized four years ago by Prof. Alven Crafton, head of the dramatic arts department at Kansas University; Prof. George Wilner, head of the speech and dramatic arts department at Wichita; and Prof. H. Miles Hoberer, director of the Manhattan Little theatre. The object of the forum is to give the directors a chance to discuss the problems of play production.

At each meeting, which is held at Lawrence, Wichita, or Kansas State, a play is presented by a visiting school and by the school that is the host.

Dell Appoints Lindbloom

Prof. S. M. Dell, president of the McPherson College Alumni Association, has appointed Autumn Lindbloom of McPherson as chairman of the Banquet Committee for the Alumni Reunion Banquet to be held here during commencement week late in May. Her two associate members will be Paul Sherry and Clifford Dresher.

Collegians Don't Choose Us Sides Now; All Okay Uncle Sam's Prying Q-Men

The nation's college press, always ready to choose up sides for a healthy editorial slugfest, is in virtually unanimous agreement this week on one topic that has stirred bitter debate in other quarters.

The national census, those who guide the student publications believe, is not taking undue liberties by prying into private lives. Students in the nation's colleges and universities are being advised to co-operate fully in the decennial nose-count. And they're being reminded that statistics available only through the census are vitally needed in solution of the nation's ills.

The Census bureau, it is pointed out by the Glenville, W. Va., Teachers College Mercury, "needs in two ways the help of students in the gigantic task of assembling facts about 132 million Americans: First, by making sure that their parents will report them to the census enumerator, and second by supplying their parents with certain information they will need in order to report on them accurately."

The University of Kansas Daily Kansan, while conceding that "the list of questions Uncle Sam has prepared for his Q-Men to ask are personal and intimate as well as multitudinous," adds that "co-operation with the 1940 census takers in every way by every person in the country will pay dividends in a number of ways."

Pointing out that revealing of financial secrets in income tax returns has stirred no storm of disapproval, The Daily Iowan at the University of Iowa observes that a more universal survey occurring only once every ten years should not meet with any resentment. More important than the mere accumulation of figures is the necessity of full data for use in a long-needed attack on the unemployment problem.

"Two things," believes the University of Minnesota Daily, "should keep the census above political taint. In the first place, the questions for the new census are not the product of a few bureaucrats, but have been prepared over a fairly long period with the aid of suggestions from private citizens and organizations. In the second place, if the government is to continue in the new social and economic era of public welfare, it must have fuller statistics to perform its task well."

And at the same time The Michigan Daily, rapping the congressman responsible for the census storm, bitingly observes that "It was also Senator Tobey who proposed to send a congressional committee to Fort Knox, Ky., to see if the vast amount of government gold supposed to be cached in that stronghold is actually there." Such tactics, the Daily concluded, "are the straw-grabbing tricks by which mediocre legislators hope to continue in office."

Whatever thunderous political cries there may be "agin" the ten-year check-up, there can be little doubt that America's collegians are distinctly "fur" the tabulation. —A. C. P.

The President Speaks—

McPherson College has successfully achieved the honor of membership in the North Central Association of Colleges. This has been a worthy effort and in order to attain it we have had the close cooperation and the best effort of the trustees and the faculty of the college. The greatest hazard that faces an individual and an institution after having won a victory is the period immediately thereafter; it is often times inclined to be one of complacency and self-satisfaction. One of the board of trustees in a letter written April 10, says "I am sure every trustee and every student with their parents and friends will rejoice in this achievement. Now we must never let it slip back but rather go forward." We must shut, as we do sit itself, every temptation to rest on our honors and must keep going ahead. An immediate and the most important and general acceptance of a position that is unified and integrating to our whole college program. We must conform every activity of the college within the bounds of the general program of the college and integrate every activity so that they definitely attribute to the best purposes of the college. One of the first steps in developing a program of the college is the comprehensive examinations such as were held this week at the college. Comprehensive examinations prevent a student from thinking of his college program as a mere process of piling up semester hours of credits until one has sufficient to graduate. Realizing that he must pass comprehensive exams at the end of his course the student will tend to envisage his major field as a whole and master the knowledge as well as all his work in some thoughtful way. The problem of giving comprehensive examinations makes an additional burden on the faculty but it also stimulates the faculty to more endeavor and to improve the techniques of their instruction. It is my conviction that the comprehensive examination will lead the student to wider reading in the field of his major subject so that he may not only know the content of the course he has taken but also that he may know the great books in that field of knowledge. It should not be possible for a student to graduate from college without obtaining a degree of mastery of some special field of knowledge.

It is also my hope that our final and comprehensive examinations will soon be developed to the point where they not only test the students knowledge in his major field but that they may also test the students general knowledge in all fields of education which he should have touched in his college career. The aim of the college should be to graduate young men and women who in their four years have made some development in the whole field of knowledge which is ever increasing in scope and in profundity.

When this kind of comprehensive examination has been completed I am looking forward to a second kind of test which has not yet been fully developed but is fairly significant. It is a test on attitude and social competence of young men and women who graduate from college. A student's whole educational program may be violated by his failure in health or by a moral failure or by a social failure. It is highly important that college strengthen a student's life on all sides so that they do not develop one-sided and therefore inadequately. —V. F. Schwalm.

Chess Tourney Proceeds Slowly

Reed, Doepfner Reach Semi-Finals; Ikenberry Wins First Round Match. In the collegiate chess tournament only three matches were played during the week. Of these one was an upset, another a "rough" one, and the third proceeded as expected. Highly-touted Don Newkirk lost in straight games to Tom Doepfner. In retrospect Newkirk stated that Tom had a "peculiar offense." The tourney favorite, Ernest Reed, encountered unexpected competition in the form of Don McCoy. McCoy took the first game of the match, then lost the next two. At the conclusion of the match Reed stated, "That was the toughest match I have ever played in my life." Esthel Ikenberry polished off Milan Blough to proceed into the second round of the tournament. The upper bracket remains ahead of the lower bracket.

At The End Of Euclid—

By Donna Jean Johnson. What, with all this rain and everything, Esther Sherry is making a plea to providence to please, henceforward, send the rain in cellophane bags. It really sounded like a good idea until Helen Cole replied that then the cellophane bags would probably fall on her head, so what would be the difference. Anyway, Esther, it sounded like a good idea, maybe a petition would help. Whether it is caused by the worry of comprehensives, or by just a bad cold, Doris Dresher is constantly seen in the company of a huge Kleenex box. Evidently some seniors made some very learned answers because he maintains that he got as much out of it as they did—I'll bet he didn't get as scared! He must not have been present when one English major said that Hamlet's tragic flaw was his wife. Can you believe it! There are some folks who are still asking what that new student, Bill Clevison, is like. We can't help wondering what will ever happen to Clifford Schapanisky and his boy scouts.

Shadrach Has Rendevous With Mable As I. R. Clubbers Again Give "Henry"

Laden with six International Relations Clubbers, Winton Sheffer's shifty, Shadrach, galloped gaily westward last Sunday, the setting sun offering ample opportunity for experiments in awnings and sun shades. After having seen only one louse on a road that was agreed by all to be lousy, the chariot rolled into the Newkirk reservation in South Lyons. There a grand re-union with Mabel's passengers preceded an eventful journey to the Methodist church. But alas, Shadrach heaved and groaned and then, with a couple of convulsions stopped dead in the middle of the highway. Hasty diagnosis revealed a fever in the wrong place, but a tea-kettle of cold water revived the faithful steed. In an imposing procession, the entire cast of the revised "Henry" paraded down the aisle of the church

(before anyone came) and prepared for the execution. Deacon Newkirk introduced the troupe of players and the program started.

Everything went well until "Gentle" Fishface made a speech and the corn borer's taunted with the bolt weevils. Forrest Stern chased the chills in everybody and almost scared out the grand finale.

Finally after tasty refreshments and a violent Stucky-Owen collision, the shekels were counted and the trek home was started. Mabel, loaded with Kirk Naylor, La Rue Owen, Donald Newkirk, and Dale Stucky arrived, we are told, and so did Shadrach, but not before he developed a violent sag on the left hand corner, emphasized by special remarks from Stephen Stover, Mary Elizabeth Hoover, Elizabeth Ann Mohler, Winton Sheffer, Forrest Stern, and Phil Myers, who were passengers.

How You Ask For A Date Tells Where You're From

Baton Rouge, La.—(ACP)—If you say "I asked her could I have a date" you label yourself as a Louisiana. If you fall from another part of the country, you would say "I asked her if I could have a date."

Dr. Claude M. Wise, head of the department of speech at Louisiana State University and authority on Louisiana dialects, can tell, moreover, from what section of Louisiana a student comes, just by his speech.

Use of the superlatives, "r," on the end of the word, where it doesn't belong, as "Idear" or "Louisianar," classifies you in Dr. Wise's card-index mind as a resident of South Louisiana, most likely New Orleans. The "careless" speech of the south that will identify its speaker wherever he goes is best illustrated in the pronunciation of words spelled with "en" as "in".

For the last five year Dr. Wise has been compiling a dialect atlas of Louisiana.

Two-Year Graduate Course

Buffalo, N. Y.—(ACP)—A two-year graduate course leading to the degree of master of public administration has been recently provided at the University of Buffalo.

The fact it is administered by the university's school of social work is believed unique, because such a curriculum is usually an offshoot of the department of government or of business administration, and in only a few cases does it exist as a separate school.

Miller Given Part In Play

Seniors Whip Hit Production Into Shape For Next Friday

Dohn Miller, well-known McPherson college senior, has been selected to play the part of Gorotchenko, the villain of the stage play, "Tovarich" which is being presented by the senior class of the college. Miller has had some acting experience in high school productions, and is expected to add much to the character portrayals of the play.

Rehearsals are going fine, according to members of the cast. Work on the second act was started last Monday. There are only two acts in the play, but each act contains two separate scenes.

"Tovarich" is to be presented in the Community Building auditorium next Friday night, April 26. This building will give ample room for a great many people to see the play about which New York went wild, and which was a three-year success in Europe.

Tickets are now on sale from any senior. They are 25c for high school and college students and 35c for adults. Since the play is to be given

To McPherson And Food

Saturday morning the German club started on a hike to Inman—but they didn't get there! Despite the fact that Dr. Naumann and Tom Doeppner were highly in favor of it, there was rebellion in the ranks.

After walking for about three hours, Deborah Kublin was the first to protest. She was soon joined by Donna Jean Johnson. Together they sat down in the middle of the road refusing to go any farther.

However, Tom Doeppner, gather-

"finals" were staged in the evening. Besides the three first place winners, the other colleges represented were Southwestern, Fort Hays State college, McPherson college, Friends university, Bethel college, Kansas State college and Ottawa university.

A rather small crowd was present for the contest Friday. Many splendid orations were given and the judges were high in their praise of the general quality of the contestants. The contest was presented under the supervision of Prof. Maurice A. Hegg.

Reed Wins Match From Stauffer

Only One Match Has Been Played In Spectator Tennis Tourney To Date

In the Spectator tennis tourney only one match has been played to this date. The main hindrance has been that only one court has been in shape.

Last Monday on a wind-swept court, Ernest Reed and Burns Stauffer faced each other across the net.

At the end of the short two-set match, it was found that Reed had come out on the long end of the score, winning 6-1, 6-2.

Other matches will be played off soon.

Bethany Netsters Win Every Set

Bulldog Tennis Players Lose First Dual Meet On Bethany's Courts

Last Friday the Bulldog netsters were blanketed by the Bethany tennis team on the Bethany courts in their first dual meet of the season. The Bulldogs lacked two players on the tennis team who were on the chemistry trip in Hutchinson at the time.

Dave McGill, who has been an outstanding athlete here for the last four years, has accepted the coaching position at Halstead high school next year. He will also teach manual arts. McGill succeeds Howard Galentine, who recently resigned.

Badminton Brackets Are Now Drawn Up

Men's Singles, Doubles Have Consolation Brackets

Late last week the brackets for the badminton tournament were drawn up and are shown in this issue of the Spectator. The women's singles bracket is a single-elimination affair.

The other divisions of the tournament have consolation brackets. The loser of the first round match enters the consolation bracket, as shown by the diagram.

The winners of the matches should report their own score. Badminton nets may be checked from women's physical education office. Each player should furnish a good bird.

Matches consist of two out of three games and should be played as soon as possible. The official badminton rules are to be used.

By Virginia Kerlin

Just ask any member of the cast of the senior play, "Tovarich," to give you a pep talk on the merits of the play and you will get talked to death. For these senior actors and actresses are enthusiastic about their play. They like the clever lines and the light comedy touch. Why, even rehearsals are fun!

One never knows just what is going to happen next. The scene—the entrance of guests at a formal dinner party. Everything is supposed to be very cold and dignified. Tony Voshell enters wheeling the little Whitmore girl's baby carriage. Proud papa!

And that Voshell guy has a remarkable talent for music. The whole

Texas Club Is 100 Years Old

Methodist Minister Founded First College, Named Rutherville

Georgetown, Texas — (AP) — Southwestern University's centennial anniversary this month marks 100 years of higher education in Texas.

Founding of a college in Texas was the idea of Dr. Martin Ruter, a Methodist minister who came to Texas in 1837 from Pennsylvania. The institution was named Rutherville College.

In the next two decades three other institutions of higher learning were established by the Methodist church—Wesleyan College at San Augustine, McKenzie College in Clarksville, and Soule University in Chappell Hill.

Softball Club Is Divided Into Teams

Wyckoff, M. Fries Captain Two Women's Softball Teams

The softball club of the W. A. A. was divided into permanent teams last Tuesday by the captains, Miss Warner, and Juanita Weaver, manager of the club.

Genevieve Wyckoff's team is made up of Doris Voshell, Francis Peterson, Ramona Fries, Edith Spengler, Violet Lewis, Flora Mae Brockus, Virginia Diethe, Dessa Clum, Evelyn Sathoff, Kathleen Brubaker, Rachel Hamm, and Irene Ewing.

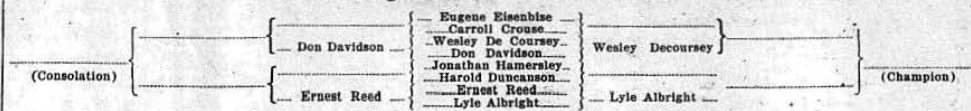

cast enjoyed the snatches of hymns that he rendered with such an air.

Clever actions—Tatiana cutting up Mikail's shirttail to make handkerchiefs after using all her chances. Anything to be genteel! And The Little Duchess stealing artichokes while the grocer looks over the potatoes. Anything to keep from starving!

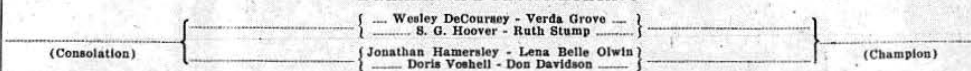

If you have an ear for music you really should hear Elma Minnick play the guitar. She is just a beginner, you know! But she probably always did have a yen for a Spanish caballero.

Dohn Miller came to rehearsals in true villain style—bright yellow tie—and was it polka-dots or stripes?

Let The Chips Fall—

In defeating the Hutchinson Junior college tennis team, the five netsters from McPherson braved a strong cross-wind. It is not unusual for Kansas to have strong winds for tennis meets, but it is rare that they are cross-winds.

The tennis players had a hard time accumulating their strokes to the freakish situation but came out on top. The Hutchinson tennis courts are of smooth asphalt and a delight to any tennis player.

All Bulldog Netsters Win

In the meet last Tuesday every tennis player making the trip contributed toward the win by McPherson. Three of the players won their singles matches and the other two won the No. 1 doubles to clinch the meet. Whitmore, Reed, and DeCoursey all turned in fine performances in gaining their single matches. The top doubles team of Carroll Crouse and Calvin Jones put over the final effort to win the meet.

Voshell Garner Sixteen Points

In the track meet last Tuesday McPherson had quite a few point-getters but were woefully weak in the dashes, the distance runs, and the pole vault. Tony Voshell, last year's track captain, was the high-point man of the meet. He won firsts in the discus and the shot put and seconds in the javelin and broad jump. He garnered sixteen points.

Young Almost Broke School Record
Harold Young, who thus far has won first in the broad jump in every track meet to date, almost established a new school record in the meet last Tuesday. The school record in the broad jump is 22' 8 3/4", set by Ira Brammel in 1923. Young leaped 22' 7 3/4" at Hutchinson last Tuesday. Young is out to break the record, and we wish him success.

Track Meet With Coyotes Wednesday

Next Wednesday the Kansas Wesleyan Coyotes will come to McPherson to compete with the Bulldogs in a dual track meet. The Coyotes won a triangular track meet from Bethel and Bethany early this season and are generally rated as having a strong track team. Last year the Bulldogs defeated the Kansas Wesleyan track men.

Mildred Fries' team is made up of Juanita Weaver, Hazel Bodine, Jean Oberst, Geraldine Spoha, Leta Beckner, Helen Davis, Edna Mae Russell, Joyce Brattan, Betty Jean Sellers, Gladys Wiggins, Margaret L. Kagarie, and Margaret Wagoner.

Ramona Fries and Hazel Bodine have been pitching the last few times with Jean Oberst serving as a good catcher. Mildred Fries, Doris Voshell, Hazel Bodine, Edith Spengler, and Leta Beckner have been assisting in the umpiring.
