McPHERSON COLLEGE, McPHERSON KANSAS, FRIDAY, MARCH 7, 1941

NUMBER TWENTY

A Cappella Choir Presents Concert Tonight at H. S.

Official Program Released Today
By Nevin Fisher, Choir Director

Tonight at 8:00 p. m. the A Cappella Choir of McPherson College will present its ninth annual formal concert in a new setting. The concert this year will be presented in the McPherson High school auditorium. This choir of 30 select voices, under the direction of Professor Nevin W. Fisher, will present a program interesting for variety and color.

Tickets for the program may be obtained from any member of the A Cappella Choir or at the auditorium at 25c for students and 35c for adults.

Following the concert, the choir members will celebrate their successful year of hard work by a banquet to be in the Blue Room of the Hotel Warren. Gladys Wiggins, social chairman of the A Cappella Choir, has headed a social committee in making arrangements for the banquet.

The program consists of the following numbers:

- I
Dedication (Widmung) Robert Franz
Arranged by Noble Cain. Identification song of the Choir.
- De Battle ob Jerico... Negro Spiritual
Arranged by Hugh S. Robertson.

Crillosophical Cogitations

Being one who would first admit of the fallacy of analogy, I begin this column with great fear and trepidation, for I am going to commit one of the cardinal sins and use an analogy. It should be remembered that an analogy is a teaching device, and not a device of proof. A principle in teaching is that one should proceed from the familiar to the unfamiliar. That is the principle of the analogy. One picks out something with which the one to be taught is familiar, and then proceeds to point out the parallel parts to the point of learning. But it should be remembered throughout that analogy is an illustrative device, and not an ergotic device.

The analogy which called forth the above is not an analogy that would say "boo" even to the most timid reader, but it has been used by "sweet-lemons" since the days when the Clivia plodded his weary way along the old Roman road, fell

Heard In Chapel

Coe Addresses Chapel On "A Plan For Life"

Dr. Albert Buckner Coe spoke in chapel Friday morning on "A Plan for Life". I think many people have the question in their minds as to the meaning of life. The law of usage is the law of life," stated Dr. Coe.

"All of us have a certain amount of resilience; we bounce back. When we are down we sometimes forget to come up... The more we think, the happier we are. We should have a spirit of inquiry and an 'I want to know' attitude."

Dr. Coe's address consisted of four points, namely, self-understanding, an unquenchable craving for knowledge, an urge to do that which people say cannot be done, and the placing of trust in the hands of an understanding God.

Miss Virginia Kerlin sang a solo preceding the address by Dr. Coe.

A sacred program of music followed chapel with numbers by Miss Eleanor Moyer, Miss Arline Seidel, Men's Quartette, Women's Quartette, Choral Club, A Cappella Choir, and a double chorus number.

Student Council Sponsors Community Sing

Sponsored by the Student Council of Macampus, a "community sing" was the feature attraction at chapel on Monday morning last. Led by Keith Pierce, president of the A Cappella choir, the audience responded with vim, co-operated with vigor, and sang with vitality. Evidently Pierce's deep bass rumbled a challenge to the oft-times otherwise larynx-less chapel crowd, because the din was terrific, everyone adding his little bit to the general uproar.

Outstanding vocal activity was displayed on these old classics: Reuben and Rachel, Standing in the Need of Prayer, Steal Away, Solomon Levi, The Spanish Cavalier, Deep River, Soldier's Chorus, and Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes.

Lehman Reviews Gibran's "The Prophet"

Miss Della Lehman, professor of English, presented a unique and impressive worship program Wednesday morning in chapel by reporting on the book "The Prophet" by Kahlil Gibran.

Almustafa, the chosen and the beloved, who was a dandy of his day, had waited twelve years in the city of Orphalese for his ship that was to return and bear him back to the isle of his birth. The ship finally arrived and just before his departure, various ones of the people asked him to speak upon various subjects.

Excerpts from his contributions are: "You work that you may keep pace with the earth and the soul of

McPherson College - Houses Conference

North Central Association Arranges Teachers Meeting

On March 14 and 15 there will be held at McPherson college a Teacher's Educational Conference. The Conference starts at 2 o'clock on Friday afternoon, the 14th, and closes at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon. The Conference is being arranged by a committee of North Central Association of which Dr. George A. Works of the University of Chicago is Chairman and Dr. Russell Cooper of Cornell college, Mt. Vernon, Iowa, is Executive Secretary. The North Central Association has an appropriation of funds by which they are assisting delegates in their expenses to the Conference. Perhaps the subject of the Conference is "The Training of High School Teachers in Liberal Arts Colleges." This subject is being discussed in ten conferences held in various parts of the North Central Association region.

The particular colleges which are being aided in sending delegates are Baker university, Bethany college, Bethel college, College of Emporia, Friends university, Kansas Wesleyan university, Mary Mount college, Mt. St. Scholastic college, Ottawa university, St. Benedict's college, St. Mary's college, Southwestern college, Sterling college, and Washburn college. We also know there are two carloads of delegates coming from Phillips university, and we have assurance that there will be delegates from Pittsburg, Hays, Emporia Teacher's college, Manhattan and Kansas University. There will be at least three representatives from the State Department of Education at Topeka here for the meeting. There will be a dinner for all the delegates on Friday evening, and a luncheon on Saturday noon served by the women of the college church.

This is the first meeting of this kind in Kansas, and McPherson college is fortunate in having the Conference here. As a special feature of the Conference on Saturday, McPherson college is inviting special consideration to the problem of Teacher Training in Kansas. Special speakers in this special section on Saturday will be Miss Louie Leslie, Secretary of the State Board of Education; Mr. Charles E. Hawkes, Superintendent of Schools in Salina; and Dr. Leslie Sipple of the University of Wichita.

Women's varsity teams which will represent McPherson college are Betty Burger and Lucille Horner, Kathleen Brubaker and Maxine Ruchlen. The men's teams consist of Wayne Geisert and Ernest Peterson, Dale Stucky and Don Newkirk. Dr. D. W. Bittinger, debate coach, will accompany the teams to Newton.

Women's varsity teams which will represent McPherson college are Betty Burger and Lucille Horner, Kathleen Brubaker and Maxine Ruchlen. The men's teams consist of Wayne Geisert and Ernest Peterson, Dale Stucky and Don Newkirk. Dr. D. W. Bittinger, debate coach, will accompany the teams to Newton.

Prof. Russell Cooper

Dr. Russell Cooper, professor on leave, of history and political science, Cornell College, Mount Vernon, Iowa, will be in charge of a conference on "The Preparation of High School Teachers in Liberal arts colleges" at McPherson on March 14 and 15.

There is nothing either good or bad, but thinking makes it so. To those leaning on the sustaining infinitude, today is big with blessings.

The King Is Dead! Long Live The King!

Now that spring is here, and basketball season is over, a young man's fancy turns to track or even tennis if snow shoes were provided for the players. Yes, basketball season is over and we look back at the past season regretting that for the school year 1940-1941, basketball is no more. We had a good team, in spite of the fact that many games were lost by a one-point margin, and with the past season marked down in the "experience ledger," next year the same team, with the exception of one senior, Rollin Wannamaker, is going to give the conference teams a run for their money.

This past season was a spirit-breaker if there ever was one. In spite of this fact, the fight went on, with the team feeling a little glum at times, perhaps, but never-the-less, fighting.

With the closing of the season, we are closing, at least temporarily, our memory pictures of games we have seen. In review, we see Brust, leading for the goal, impetuous in his desire to make a bucket in spite of opposition; Schubert, with his persistence, even doggedness in following his man, and retrieving the ball for the home team; Holmes, Herculean in physique, moving efficiently across the court; French, the hot-shot of the team in dropping in a "now or never" shot; Jones, ever anxious to work the ball to his teammates advantage, passing to a fellow player; Wannamaker, "Old Standby", in all athletics during his four years here in Maccollege, playing his last basketball; Benny Unruh, agile in his movements, dashing "all over the court"; Jake Cramer, once more making his appearance in athletics, "per over", but handicapped by a previous leg injury; and numerous other pictures of should-be-mentioned "basketballers" who contributed their share in making the squad what it was.

The picture of Coach Tom Hayden, sitting on the bench sweating and becoming more fatigued than the players on the court, will linger long. Yes, it is with regret that we say "au revoir" to this season of basketball.

Kay Kyser To Choose Most Pulchritudinous for Queen

Quad Queen To Be Selected For 1941 Issue of Quadrangle

"That's Right, You're Wrong" Kay Kyser, band leader of screen and radio fame, professor of radio's "college of Musical Knowledge," has been chosen by Virginia Kerlin, Quadrangle editor, to choose the local eye-fulls who will serve as Quad Queen and runners-up.

Airmail acceptance on monogrammed stationery of the position as appointer of the president of the Pictured Pulchritude Club was received this week. Kerlin revealed in an interview last Wednesday.

Several of the most promising locals will be selected from the local co-eds by the editorial staff of the Quadrangle. Then these select photos will be rushed to Kay Kyser for final choice. As formerly, the Quadrangle Queen will be allotted an entire page in the Quad, and the runners-up will be given space on the following page.

Prior to the school term beginning in 1938, the Quad Queen was chosen by popular vote of the student body, but for the past three years, the choice has been made by some radio or screen celebrity. Three years ago, when "Bing" Crosby, radio crooner, tried his hand at "selecting" a Quad Queen, Kitty Mohler was chosen. Two years ago, at the suggestion of Jack Benny, radio and screen comedian, Margaret Davis was chosen queen.

This position, long coveted by any and all McPherson college co-eds, is filled impartially. A disinterested celebrity is selected to do the choosing, and the decision of the judge is final.

Varsity Debate Held At Newton Tomorrow

All-Day Meet Features Seven Rounds for Men, Four Rounds for Women

Varsity debate teams of Maccollege will journey to Newton tomorrow to participate in the League Debate Tournament, which is being held on the campus of Bethel College. This intercollegiate meet is an outstanding event on debate calendars of Central Kansas colleges.

Wesleyan university, Bethany college, Friend university, Sterling college, Southwestern college, Hays college, Bethel college and McPherson college will be represented in the journey, which will be an all-day affair. The meet consists of the men's division, which is divided into seven rounds, and the women's division of four rounds.

Women's varsity teams which will represent McPherson college are Betty Burger and Lucille Horner, Kathleen Brubaker and Maxine Ruchlen. The men's teams consist of Wayne Geisert and Ernest Peterson, Dale Stucky and Don Newkirk. Dr. D. W. Bittinger, debate coach, will accompany the teams to Newton.

Prof. Russell Cooper

Dr. Russell Cooper, professor on leave, of history and political science, Cornell College, Mount Vernon, Iowa, will be in charge of a conference on "The Preparation of High School Teachers in Liberal arts colleges" at McPherson on March 14 and 15.

Prof. Russell Cooper

Cooper, an alumnus of Cornell, received his Ph. D. at Columbia in 1934. From 1932-1933 he attended the Graduate Institute of Higher International Studies at Geneva Switzerland. His book, "American Consultation in World Affairs" was selected by the Carnegie Endowment for international peace for distribution to college international relations clubs. He is now president of the Iowa Council of social studies.

Several of the most promising locals will be selected from the local co-eds by the editorial staff of the Quadrangle. Then these select photos will be rushed to Kay Kyser for final choice. ### Lewellan First In Anti-Tobacco Contest

Dell, Blough, Place; Lewellan Eligible For State Contest

Before a judging audience consisting of Drs. Olson and Metalar, and Professor Fries, Wilbur Lewellan achieved distinction by winning the first place spot in the local Anti-Tobacco Oratorical Contest which was held in room 9, Sharp Hall, on Monday, March 3, 1941, at 4:00 p. m.

Lewellan, with his oration entitled "Life At Its Best," outdistanced his opponents to place first in the contest. Second and third place winners, respectively, Byron Dell, and Milan Blough, with "Man's Enemy."

The state anti-tobacco Oratorical Contest, to which Lewellan is eligible for participation by virtue of his local victory, will occur on March 14, 1941, at Taber College. Orators from six schools are expected to participate in the meet, and competition is expected to be rife for the $35, $25, and $15, for places first, second, and third, respectively.

The prize money for the state contest is furnished by Dr. J. W. Fields, of this city. Sessions of the contest are open to the public, and people who are interested in going may attend any or all of the orations.

Uppers Entertained At Dessert Party

The juniors and seniors of Macampus were entertained at a formal dessert party last Friday night at 8:00 in the Student Union Room. This party for the upperclassmen was planned by the social committee under the direction of Miss Ida Shockley.

Lyle Albright was chairman of the entertainment committee with Vera Flory, Glen Funk, and Lena Belle Olwin as his co-workers.

Plans for the refreshments and serving of the dessert course were in charge of Betty Schwalm. Girls who served for the evening, under the direction of Betty Schwalm, were Lenora Shoemaker, Betty Jean Sellers, Ruth Smith, Mary Spessard, Lucy Blough, Vesta Vannogdel, and Marjorie Martin.

The World At Large

The Balkans, germ of many wars and disputes of world scope in past history, again hold the spotlight in the drama of European war. With the Nazi concentration of Bulgaria the bombshell was set off and Russia, Turkey, Greece, England, are now buzzing with action and anxiety. Russia has shown her disapproval of King Boris' action in a note given to the Bulgarian minister in Moscow. The note stated that the mechanized concentration "did not lead to consolidation of peace" and is taken by many to be a warning directed at the Nazis. Russia's statement has given Turkey hopes that she will allow no foreign aggression against Turkey, and to assure the rest of the world that she herself means business, Turkey has mined the Dardanelles. The English are still skeptical of Russia's stand since she did not rebuke the Nazis directly. The English continue to push the Italians all over the map of Africa and show no signs of weakening.

The United States issued an order signed by President Roosevelt which "freezes" Bulgarian funds which are in the United States at the present time. In fact, every important nation has been affected by the Balkan moves, and more trouble seems to be brewing with Yugoslavia threatening to join the Tokyo-Berlin-Rome axis. The world is waiting for future developments and something is apt to develop if Nazi-Bulgar troops line up restlessly across the border from Turkish-Greek forces.

Dean Burger home at the unbelievable hour of 12:45 a. m. Sunday morning! Strange goings-ons indeed!

Where's Pinkey? Was the theme on second floor of Fahnestock the other morning. Al Miller distinctly remembered going to bed with wife Pinkey Lowber the evening before, but when he got up the next morning room-mate Pinkey Lowber was nowhere to be found! Al didn't give the matter much thought until he went to breakfast and discovered that Pinkey wasn't there. After an extensive search which yielded no satisfaction, Al was about to start calling the hospitals, police station, and dog-pound as a last measure to find his wife. Suddenly the investigation was terminated by the accidental discovery of the long-lost Pinkey sleeping peacefully—under the bed! Great was the resultant rejoicing and loud were the cheers.

my friends; all of the governments; all of the mountains—everything is but the creation of my mind. The other theory is that there is a real, concrete universe, and that ideas and concepts are only names for the real concrete things around us. Because the first theory does not give any incentive for the laboratory method, and leads to delusions of grandeur, escapism, etc., it has been discarded, and the second one has been accepted.

All of this began when the first man was beginning to conquer his environment with his stone axe, and learning to live with his fellow. He conquered his environment because he liked to eat, and he learned to live with his fellow because he liked company. And ever since then he has learned more and more about supplying his wants. His wants have become more and more refined. This is the highway. As man learns more things, these become the accumulations of the race. These are the things that are milestones on our highway. We are not living now, detached from all the past and present. We have been carried this down, spilled his load of apples, and blocked traffic with the ensuing scramble. The oldsters set down in their little black books the following epigram. Life is like a highway. People succumb to temptation and cause the traffic to be blocked. If a man gets in too big a hurry he will run over someone else, and then society will have to prescribe rules for the highway, and keep such as he in line. Ah, yes, life is very much like a highway. You can readily grasp the ambiguity of the idea. Life is also very much like a river, and elephants are very like trees, and ropes, and walls. (Remember the poem?) But not being one to beat the drums of apostasy, I will quit harping on "sweet-lemons" and get back to the thesis. Life is like a highway. Swallow your pride (or gorge) and keep on reading. I really do have something to tell you. The idea is not so bad if one doesn't try to prove anything with it.

The idea for which this analogy is being set up grew out of a discussion some years ago about reality. As most of you know, any system of thought is based on axioms which cannot be proven. And the systems that we accept without question are no exception. We were discussing the two alternative possibilities. One is that everything that I see is but a figment of my imagination. Nothing exists but my mind. All of the buildings; all of the people; all of far on the highway by the past. We are going to carry the race on a little farther to a more complete satisfaction in supplying its wants. Some legitimate human wants are desire of security, food, shelter, fellowship, kindness, a satisfying religion, love, and the road to take as we travel down this highway of life (I use the term advisedly) is the one that will lead to better living, more complete satisfaction, that will lead humanity to contemplate loftier vistas, greater panoramas.

After one has come this far and decided what is the goal of all human endeavor, he can then decide upon the actual, specific, personal action to be taken. Socially it is a matter for debate in parliaments, a matter for the trial-and-error, honest-doubt, and vigorous inquiry methods of democracy.

The Spectator Sees---

We, Aesthetes

Evidently the American public has some reading interests other than in "screaming headline" newspaper stories, and some radio-listening habits beyond the ken of "Ma" Perkins-addicts.

In a communication released last week, the Columbia Broadcasting System indicated that it is increasing the broadcast time of its book review program, "Of Men and Books," from 15 to 30 minutes.

Because 1,000 letters a week have been raised it, this program, beginning Saturday March 1, heard previously on Saturdays from 12:45 to 1:00 p. m. Eastern Standard Time, will be on the network from 2:30 to 3:00 p. m. instead.

In announcing the increased time allotment for the program, Sterling Fisher, CBS Director of Education, said that Professor John T. Frederick, of Northwestern University, who conducts the program from Columbia's studios in Chicago, now receives more than 1,000 letters a week from listeners. A large portion of these asked that the program be given more time on the air.

Professor Frederick will continue on the program. So far as is known, this is the only radio network program for which undergraduate credit is given to students who attend the studio broadcasts.

Who said that Americans do not read?

Christ in Crisis

Not so long ago Bernard Shaw was quoted as saying that the only way peace can be brought to the troubled civilization of today is by returning to the teaching of Christ. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick says that what the world needs is a great revival. There is admittedly nothing unusual in hearing a minister make a statement such as this, but when a playwright such as Bernard Shaw "who will go down in history as a particularly impious man," this shows his disqualification surely it indicates an undercurrent of returning religion among laymen.

In this century the stores and shops are filled with busy shoppers. The churches are filled with huge crowds of worshipping people. This year, as the dictatorial powers sound a hollow mockery to Christianity, the crowds thronging the churches will breathe fervent prayers for peace and democracy.

God grant that we, in our hubbub and complacent self-satisfaction, may feel a little sympathy for those less fortunate than we.

Pastimes

It would seem to a casual observer that a very good pastime for students of McPherson college would be to attend the various extra-curricular athletic contests.

The physical education departments go to a great deal of trouble and spend a lot of time to make the extra-curricular activities of the student body entertaining.

Students, when you have an extra bit of time, drop around to the gym and show that you wish to help to support the extra-curricular-physical-education program.

The participants and those responsible for outlining the intra-mural programs will be grateful to you.

Eavesay Opperdray

Ah snow, snow, beautiful, glorious, glistening, sparkling, and white! The once ill-foreboding clouds have been ruptured and their proverbial silver lining falls in a benevolent deluge upon poor, wretched, undeserving mankind. God's heaven-sent cloak of ermine to hide all stinkiness, filth and dirt that ungrateful man has accumulated and wrought upon the earth. Heaven's affirmation of God's might and glory! A timely reassurance from the Almighty that beauty, purity, chastity, and love still exist; all is not chaos!

As the contrast between genius and imbecility is but slight, so is the difference between the sublime and the wicked. Thus, I come down from my soap-box platform and resume my miserable drive of insignificant man and his puny struggle across life's brief span. Or am I becoming too Crillosophical?
Girls invade boy's dorm! Man's refuge is penetrated! The quiet peaceful tranquility of Fahnestock Hall was shattered by Harriet "Strawberry" Pratt, who, lightly casting tradition aside, marched determinedly up to second floor to demand with all the fury that her golden tresses signifies, that Wayne "Blub" Gelsert, who is more verbal than actual, return her jacket which he had borrowed without her consent or good will. The episode threatened to reach disastrous proportions when Harriet became lost and couldn't remember the way out. When somebody told her that Professor Dell was on her trail, her desire for escape was as frantic as her previous desire to recapture her jacket. Fortunately she made a hasty exit before Prof. could find her.

Campeused? Tough luck for most of the Kinetite courtiers and courtesses. But nothing can be perfect, not even an endeavor to campus a whole dorm full of Kinetites. Although the facts are a bit hazy, secret agent No. 7 1/2 reports that Rev. Alvin Klotz-potzy and Harold Bowman brought Betty

College Gets Gift of $5,000 for Dormitory

Check Comes from Estate of S. G. Hoover, Plattsburg, Mo.

A check for $5,000 was in the morning mail today at McPherson college to add to its growing building fund and indications are that work might be started on the proposed new boys' dormitory sometime during the coming summer.

Today's large gift was from the estate of Samuel G. Hoover, of Plattsburg, Mo., who died in 1923 and left $5,000 for McPherson college. A son, George W. Hoover, suggested that the money be put in the college building fund.

A grandson of Hoover, also named Samuel G. Hoover and from Plattsburg, is a student at McPherson college this year.

Much additional funds are needed before construction of the new boys' dormitory can be authorized. The proposed structure is to cost approximately $50,000 and the college must have a large percentage of this amount before starting construction. Plans have been completed and everything is in readiness for the building as soon as sufficient finances are obtained.

If the boys' dormitory is built during the ensuing summer, it will replace the original building on the campus — Fahnestock hall — which was the dormitory, administration building, class rooms, shops, dining hall of the entire college when it was established more than 50 years ago.

"Is not religion all deeds and all reflection, and that which is neither deed nor reflection, but a wonder and a surprise ever springing in the soul, even while the hands beat the stone or tend the loom? . . . Your daily life is your temple and your religion."

"When you pray you rise to meet in the air those who are praying at that very hour, and whom save in prayer you may not meet. Therefore let your visit to that temple invisible be for naught but ecstasy and sweet communion."

The worship program was closed with one of Almustafa's prayers. The chapel choir contributed responses.

The Bookshelf

Altho the Bible is today the world's best-seller, the Christopher Sower Bible of 1743 was certainly not a commercial undertaking.

Sower, born in Germany in 1693, left his native land with his wife and infant son in the year 1734, to settle in Germantown, Pennsylvania. He mastered an extraordinary variety of arts and trades, being clockmaker, glazier, physician, druggist, printer, bookseller, and being proficient in some twenty other undertakings. Sower was a deeply religious man; a mystic. Although too individualistic to join any church group, he was sympathetic toward the Church of the Brethren, his son later becoming a Bishop of the Church.

Sower obtained the type for his printing shop from Dr. Heinrich Ehrenfried Luther, of Frankfurt, Germany. To Dr. Luther went ten copies of the first edition of America's first Bible in a European language. The box of Bibles was put on board the Queen of Hungary. As the ship neared St. Malo, in northwestern France, it was attacked by pirates and its entire cargo sold ashore to the highest bidders. The man who bid on the box of Bibles found him-

FOR Conference Convenes Here

March 21 and 22 Features Statewide Meeting

McPherson college campus will be host March 21 and 22 to the state F. O. R. (Fellowship of Reconciliation) conference. Many guests from all over the state will attend. Special speakers will be Dr. E. L. Harsbarger, Newton, who will report the latest activities in Washington in regard to the nation's C. O.'s; and Don and Barbara Smucker of the mid-west office, Chicago; and Tom and Trudie Hunt of the Institute of International Relations, Friends University, Wichita.

"The F. O. R. is composed of men and women of many nations and races who recognize the unity of the world-wide human family and wish to explore the possibilities of love for discovering truth, dispelling antagonisms, and reconciling people, despite all differences, in a friendly society. The members refuse to participate in any war or to sanction military preparations; they work to abolish war and to foster good will among nations, races, and classes."

M. C. Represented At Lawrence Meet

Fisher, Hoover, Attend Music Teachers Conference

McPherson college was well represented at the Thirty-third Annual convention of the Kansas Music Teachers Association which was held at Kansas University, Lawrence, last Monday and Tuesday.

Nevin W. Fisher and Miss Gulah Hoover, officially representing MacCollege, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Crawford of Pratt, and Miss Viola Harris from Walton, who are M. C. alumni, made the trip together. Professors Fisher and Crawford appeared on the program of the conference, both giving papers before forum discussion groups.

Musical performances by prominent teachers, forums on different phases of music teaching lead by Kansas musicians and teachers, lectures by outstanding musicians of the United States, and master classes by great American teachers in various musical departments were outstanding aspects of the convention.

An important meeting of the entire conference was the business meeting in which the chief consideration was that of state and national legislation concerning music teachers.

Outstanding on the general program were recitals by well-known musicians of America, Theodore Harrison, noted voice teacher from Chicago, and E. Power Biggs, the New York organist, performed for the the Kansas teachers. Two concerts by the Kansas City Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Carl Kraeger were given.

Interesting speakers were Chancellor Dean Malott, Dean Lawson, and Dean Ice of the Kansas University faculty.

Betty Schwalm was a Wichita visitor on Saturday and Sunday.

Schwarzenau Sponsors Essay Prize Contest

Sponsored by the Schwarzenau, official Journal of the Alexander Mack Historical Society, 3435 Van Buren Street, Chicago, an essay contest is open to students and faculty of McPherson college and members and friends of the Church of the Brethren, Dr. F. E. Malott, Editor and Professor of Church History, Botham Biblical Seminary, Chicago, announced today.

According to Dr. Malott, this prize contest was made possible through the generosity of Mr. Will Judy, Chicago editor and publisher, president of the Judy Publishing Company, and former president of the national alumni association of Juniata college, Huntingdon.

In his support of the contest, Mr. Judy has established a prize of $25 for the best essay on each of the following subjects. The essays may not exceed 10,000 words in length.

1. The Dunker Church in Somerset County, Pennsylvania.

2. Dunkers as publishers.

3. The Contribution of the Brumbaugh Family to the Dunker Church. Judges for the contest which closes April 30 are: E. S. Moyer, Assistant Editor, the Schwarzenau, Homer Sanger, member, the General Education Board, Church of the Brethren; and Dr. W. D. Kurtz, pastor, the Church of the Brethren, LaVerne, California.

Entries and additional information queries should be sent to Dr. Malott as Editor of the Schwarzenau.

Intramurals Enter Second Round

Games Played Each Day As Varsity Season Is Over

With the Bulldog basketball season brought to a close last week end, intramurals started in full away and games were played during each afternoon of the week. The Town squad, runner-up in the first round of play, continued their winning ways with a win over the Dorm I team, 42 to 14. The Dorm team was behind at half-time by a 25 to 4 score.

Tuesday afternoon Elyria met S. C. M. in a fast and ragged game, and the scorekeeper was nearly in need of an adding machine to keep up with the scoring. The first half did not include as much scoring and at the half the score stood at 25 to 24 in favor of Elyria. The final score was 79 to 50. Elyria had to play a part of the game without one of their players, Paul Anderson, and had to finish the game with only four players.

The box score:

"Feeding With His Sheep" As a college christian am "I" putting first things first? Jesus said, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His Righteousness and all these other things shall be added." Also, Love the LORD thy God, with thy whole Heart, thy whole Soul, thy whole strength, and thy whole mind—this is the First and Great Command, and the second is like unto it—"LOVE thy Neighbor as thyself—for this is the Law and the Prophets." (heart—money or treasure, soul—eternal being of the Father, strength—muscle or ability, and mind—medi-tation or prayer) Neighbor—anyone in need of whatever I am able to offer in help or love—taking our stand (love) with CHRIST—He that heareth these Words of Jesus and doeth them shall be likened unto a man that built his house upon Rock for the rains descended and the floods came and blew upon that house and it fell NOT for it was founded upon a ROCK, as it is written. ### Poet's Corner

Featuring M. C. Talent By Gladys Wigman

Yes, we do have some rhymesters in our midst. Ramona Pyles gave me this poem:
The beauty of a sunset is not seen every day,
The radiance of a moonbeam cannot be seen for pay,
The daintiness of snowflakes, the loveliness of song,
These cannot stay forever; but memories linger long.

The memories of a picture with colors ever bright,
The silent snow of winter on some December night,
A fireplace burning brightly with embers all aglow,
These memories I cherish, nor e'er forget, I know.

Also, Hubert Shelley contributes "Challenge of the Night!"
Wonder of the night,
Thy mystery tells of Secrets,
Mildness of the night,
Thy warmth breatheth Comfort,
Stillness of the night,
Thy music chants in Worship,
Radiance of the night,
Thy soft glow whispers Courage.

Voices of the night,
Thy challenge wins a Pilgrim.

Junior French, McDaniels Lead Scoring Parade

Schubert And Holmes Are Close Seconds In Seasons Totals

By Dean Stucky

Junior French nosed out Art Schubert in total points scored, while "Red" McDaniels slipped by "Duke" Holmes in game averages in the Spectator compilations for the 1940-41 basketball campaign. Two rosters were made by the staff, one according to total points scored, and the other according to game averages.

Out of a total of 694 points scored this season by the Bulldogs against their opponents in 20 games, which netted them an average of 34 points per contest, Junior French scored 147 points and was closely followed by Art Schubert, who piled up a total of 139 points. Third in individual scoring was Bob Brust with 96 points to his credit. Schubert played in only 19 games.

Two cagers who did not play with the Bulldogs the entire season, but who were with the squad long enough to prove their worth, McDaniels and Holmes, led the parade in scoring averages. McDaniels, who left the Bulldogs after participating in six games, had the highest percentage, 8.33 points per game. Following him closely was Holmes, who was not eligible to play for the Bulldogs until second semester, with an average of 8.6 points per game.

To French also goes the doubtful honor of committing the greatest number of fouls for the season, and in this he was also followed by Schubert and Brust. He was charged with a total of 42 fouls and Schubert and Brust had 39 and 38, respectively. On only eight occasions were Bulldogs forced out of the game because of four "strikes" against them.

Thirteen players participated in the teams scoring this year, and McDaniels, Cramer, Meyer, Reinecker, and Holmes played only part-season. McPherson this season connected for 259 field goals and made good 174 charity tosses. They committed a total of 248 fouls.

Season box score:

	FG	FT	F	TP
Junior French	55	37	42	147
Art Schubert	50	39	40	139
Bob Brust	35	26	28	96
"Duke" Holmes	30	26	19	86
Lee Unruh	24	10	27	58
Thornton McDaniels	21	11	13	53
Rollin Wanamaker	15	7	10	37
Calvin Jones	15	6	25	36
Russell Reinecker	5	7	15	17
Jake Cramer	4	4	8	12
Raymond Meyer	4	1	8	9
Bob Burkholder	1	0	1	2
Eddie Leonard	1	0	0	2
Totals	259	174	248	694

The scoring averages can not be considered completely accurate to every player because, with the exception of the seven highest scorers, a player was considered a participant in a game if he fouled or scored.

	G	TP	Avg.
McDaniels	6	53	8.83
Holmes	10	86	8.60
French	20	147	7.35
Schubert	19	139	7.15
Brust	20	96	4.80
Unruh	20	58	2.90
Reinecker	6	17	2.83
Jones	15	36	2.40
Wanamaker	17	37	2.20
Cramer	6	12	2.00
Leonard	1	2	2.00
Meyer	5	9	1.80
Burkholder	2	2	1.00

Lose Thriller To Hays In Season Finale

Lead Heavily-Favored Tiger Five But Lose In Photo-Finish

The Bulldogs ended their basketball season with what was probably their best-played game of the season Saturday night when they led the strong Hays State Tigers for 30 minutes only to lose in a photo-finish. The Bulldogs tired in the closing minutes and Coach Hayden could not cope with the reserve strength of the Tigers.

The game ended, 42 to 41, with the Tigers holding to their one-point lead, and with the Bulldogs again in possession of the ball and threatening to score. A second before the gun sounded a McPherson player shot and the ball rolled dangerously over the hoop.

McPherson at one time held an eleven-point lead late in the first half when they led the Tigers 25 to 14. This was the largest lead which the Bulldogs had during the entire contest, but they held substantial leads for the greatest part of the game.

The Bulldogs, with French and Schubert scoring, jumped off to an early lead, 4 to 0, and from then on held leads which were near 10 points until the Tigers put on a spurt which cut the lead to 25 to 22. By half-time, however, the Bulldogs had built up the margin to 28 to 22.

With the Bulldogs (ring slowly): the Tigers cut down the lead to a smaller margin and with 5 minutes to go the score was tied, 35 to 35. The Bulldogs trailed 42 to 38 with but seconds to go but a field goal and a free throw by "Duke" Holmes ended the scoring of the game.

Art Schubert, McPherson forward, was high scorer for the evening with 13 points and "Duke" Holmes followed with 10 points. Keller was Hays high scorer with 12 points. The ball handling and passing was probably the best that the home crowd has seen during the entire season.

Rollin Wanamaker, the only senior on the squad, played his last college game and was given a big hand by the crowd as he retired from the game. Wanamaker has been a member of the varsity squad for four years. McPherson had a higher percentage in her charity tosses, and came out of their late season free-throw slump, making 11 free throws out of 22 attempts. Hays made six out of 15 attempts.

Official: Rice Brown, Jr., McPherson.

Seconds Defeat Canton

In the preliminary game the Bulldog second team won a close and hard-fought game from the Canton High school first team, 33 to 26. Canton held a 7 to 6 lead at the end of the first quarter but the college team was out in front 14 to 9 at the half time period. McPherson led 23 to 13 at the end of the third quarter.

W-A-A-Hoo Athletes Play

Tumblers Back in Groove

After a week's vacation the acrobats of the Tumbling Club really got in and practiced their usual workouts. Girls who are not in this club, may come and work-out with the regulars at any time.

Girls Clash in Tourney

Girls of the Basketball Club have organized into four new teams, captained by Dora Vandemant, Mildred Brammel, Lois Lawson, and Doris Voshell. Nine girls are on each team, allowing the teams to have three substitutes. Tournaments between these four teams will begin Monday at 3:30 at which time Lawson's and Voshell's teams will meet. At 4:00 Monday Vandemant's team will play Brammel's team. On Tuesday evening at 6:30 Lawson's team will meet Vandemant's and at 7:00 Voshell's and Brammel's team will play.

Play Night Tomorrow

Miss Warner, Coach Hayden, W. A. A. members and M Club members are all prepared for the first annual play night to be held tomorrow evening in the gymnasium from 7:30 to 10:00. Everyone is urged to come and have a "regular good of time."

Rees Hit the Birdies

After slugging a ping-pong ball or a shuffle board disc around for the past few weeks, recreationalists will start learning the technique of badminton. This is a new unit in the club and will begin next Wednesday. Girls of this club are urged to be at the meeting.

not yet been drawn up, McPherson will have dual meets with several other conference schools. Practice for the team will begin in earnest Monday afternoon, until out-of-door practice will be possible the squadmen will take indoor conditional exercises.

Track Program To Begin Monday

About 20 Tracksters Report At Meeting; Schedule Not Complete

Wednesday afternoon the men interested in this year's track program met with Coach Hayden and discussed plans for the coming season. About 20 men reported at the meeting, but Hayden stated a great many more had approached him about track.

As near as could be determined at the meeting there are five lettermen returning from last year's squad. They include Rollin Wanamaker, Glen Funk, "Squeak" Meyer, Elmer Ratzlaff, and Dick Burger. These men probably will be the nucleus around which the squad will be built.

At the meeting Coach Hayden emphasized the fact that in track more than in any other sport, achievement rests on the individual. There is no team play; the player must "have it" or he will not succeed. Every trackman must develop himself to succeed.

Coach Hayden also pointed out that track will be carried on in the Kansas Conference only in modified form, mainly because of the fact that it cannot contribute anything toward supporting itself. He also stated that the annual Sterling Relays have been discontinued this year by Sterling officials and that Ottawa is considering a meet to take the place of the Relays.

Although a definite schedule has and in the last quarter Canton started catching up with goals by J. Minear, Hartley and G. Minear. High scorer of the game was Burkholder, McPherson forward, who made 14 points. J. Minear and Hartley, each with 10 points, shared Canton's high scoring honors.

Officials: Glen Funk and "Doc" Hoover, both of McPherson.

Phil Myers and a friend from K. U. were here visiting over the week end.
