Hungarian Musician Plays Brilliantly

Andor Foldes and Joseph Kirschbaum presented one of the most delicate and brilliant recitals that has been heard on the Convention Hall stage in recent years in McPherson. The extreme delicacy, yet firmness, of the presentation on the part of both musicians was a rare privilege to hear.

Starting the program with "Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue" by Bach, Foldes played two piano studies, Joseph Kirschbaum with his violin, assisted by Foldes, played "Sonata in A Major for Violin and Piano" by Franck. The flourish with which this was performed bespoke the fact that they were great musicians.

Foldes last group of numbers included "Two Etudes" by Chopin, "Prelude by Andor Foldes", "Three Phantastical Dances" by Schostakovitch, and "Mephis to Waltz" by List. Foldes was called back for three encores which included some waltzes by Brahms and "Maid with the Flaxen Hair" by Debussy.

Panel Discussion Gives Student View

Eugene Lichty acted as chairman of the panel discussion presented in Wednesday chapel, by the Student Volunteer Commission of the Student Christian Movement. The group discussed our chapel programs, the Student Christian Movement, and our College church, as the three main factors that give our college a wholesome Christian atmosphere.

It was suggested that the chapel committee bring in local speakers and talent more often.

The panel met some difficulty in discussing the Student Christian Movement's place on the campus. Dean Stucky holds that the publicity committee should not be blamed for the fact that commission leaders themselves are unaware of the nature of their future programs. However it was the consensus of opinion that a broader student membership should set the goal of this movement.

In order to promote a closer relationship between the students and the local church, students should take active part in the church program. They should consider it an opportunity rather than a duty to attend church services.

Wayne Crist, Lucille Harris, Austin Williams, Eugene Lichty, Wayne Geisert, Deane Stucky, and Betty Burger took a part in the discussion.

Sophomores Become Army Air Cadets

Choo Choo Ferguson and Maurice Clark Are Called

Leaving on an early train this morning, two of McPherson College's sophomores are enroute to service in the U. S. armed forces. Don Ferguson and Maurice Clark are both going to Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, Mo., to become air cadets.

Don Ferguson, "Fergie", who is described by his friends as a "good egg", is to our knowledge the only McPherson College student with "perfect pitch". As accompanist for the trumpet trio, he has shown his avid interest in music. "Fergie", and his "whole chord" scales added to his extremely modernistic piano playing with his original arrangement, will not soon be forgotten by the people who have heard him. His train imitations and a number of queer throat garglings are extraordinary to say the least.

Maurice and Fergie are both mathematics majors. Maurice is a sophomore on the campus this year. Both boys are interested in chemistry and are probably acquainted better with the "Chem Labbers" than with any of the other students.

Junior Class Gave This Valentine

"Valentine's Day is the time for love stories and poems" was the theme of the Junior Class chapel program Friday, February 12.

Maxine Ruehlen introduced the program with poems; Lucille Harris sang "Rose in the Bud" and "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes"; and Alvin Klotz played "Love At Thy Sweet Call" on his baritone.

Betty Dean Burger and Jean McNicol, portraying valentines of yesterday and today, respectively, presented a skit. After this a quartet composed of Charles Lunkley, Eugene Lichty, Wayne Parriss, and Alvin Klotz sang "How Can I Leave Thee." Anne Janet Allison accompanied the numbers at the piano.

Eddie Diehl Wins "Wings Of Gold"

John E. Diehl, or "Eddie" as many of the college students know him, has won his Navy "Wings of Gold" and was commissioned as a Second Lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve last week following completion of the prescribed flight training course at the U. S. Naval Air Training Center, Pensacola, Fla.

Early in July, 1942, he began preliminary training at the U. S. Naval Air Station in Kansas City, and successfully completed the course the last of September, before reporting to the "Annapolis of the Air" for basic and advanced training.

Lieutenant Diehl will go on active duty at one of the Navy's air operational training centers before being assigned to a combat zone.

Dedication Of Industrial Arts Building

Open House Will Follow Exercises In Chapel

Tuesday afternoon at 2:15, the New Industrial Arts Building at McPherson College will be dedicated. The exercise is to be held in the College Chapel auditorium under direction of the presiding officer, President W. W. Peters. Chief speaker on the occasion will be Dr. C. D. Ronsack.

This structure has been in the process of being built since the close of school last year when the old Fahnestock Hall was razed. Since that time the construction has gone forward at a rather slow rate due to the lack of ready materials and the shortage of labor. Much salvage material has gone into its construction. Prof. S. M. Dell will hold open house in the new structure on Tuesday afternoon after the dedication takes place.

Former Missionary, Paul Reynolds To Be Chief Conference Speaker

Dr. Paul R. Reynolds, who is to be chief speaker on the coming Regional Conference program, comes to the Conference as one of the most outstanding religious leaders of our day. At present he works out of Chicago as the field secretary of the Division of Christian Education of the Board of Home Missions of the Congregational and Christian Churches.

Dr. Reynolds' name appears in Who's Who in Religion. He received his B. D. degree in 1918, and both his B. D. degree in 1918, and his D. D. in 1928 from the Chicago Theological Seminary. Between the

"Willie" Linville Called To Service

Wednesday morning of this week Wilbur Linville of the Senior class of McPherson College received word that he was overdue at an army air force training center in Florida. Since early this fall "Willie" was enlisted in the meteorological division of the ground force of the Army Air Corps Reserve. He has been called to the Air Force Technical School, Boca Raton, Florida. This place is located between Palm Beach and Miami Beach, Florida. "Willie" is a prominent member of the senior class, and his absence is going to leave a big hole in the leadership of the college. He was co-business manager of the Spectator, vice president of the Student Council, president of the Boys Dormitory, member of the Men's Council, one time debater, member of the Pep Club, and a general backer-upper for a number of other organizations on the campus.

We are going to miss you "Willie". We wish you the best of success in your new work, and want you to know that the students here are back of you one-hundred percent. Yours truly, the editor hates to lose one of the best business managers that the Spectator has ever had and, I know that that goes for the rest of the Spec staff. You have made a remarkable record here at Macampus, and we know that you will continue the same. Happy landings!

Youth Conference Convenes Saturday

Officer Election And Camp Plans To Be Featured

In the planning of the coming Regional Conference Program, the young people's part in it has not been neglected. According to plans that are now being developed the youth conference will begin Saturday at 1:30 p.m., and continue through Sunday during open hours. Dr. William Beahm and Dr. Avery Fleming are to be the guest speakers. Some of the problems to be discussed in this youth session are:

1. The camp program for the coming year.
  2. The church program for youth.
  3. Election of regional president to replace Kurtis Naylor.
- Also included in the youth conference will be worship and recreation. All students who are interested in helping to plan the future youth program and its relation to the church are urged to attend the sessions of this conference.

Museum To Be Opened Afternoons Next Week

Chapel announcements this week included an invitation to visit the museum at any time in the afternoon of any day next week. This exhibit will be open every day in the afternoon, and there will be guides on hand to show visitors around. Many students who have been on the campus for two or three years have never seen the museum and should take this opportunity to look it over.

Davy Bulldog, Golly Gray-Maroon Clash

Laughs and applause rewarded the skit shown in pep chapel this morning. Davy Bulldog, Sully King of the Bulldogs, and Golly Gray-Maroon were the characters featured. The basketball team needs the cooperation of all the students. If at all possible, attend the game at Bethel tomorrow night; and see the Bulldogs pitch into the Gray-Maroons.

Good attendance is expected at the annual Regional Conference of the McPherson College district of the Church of the Brethren. In spite of the strenuous restrictions on travel, a representative audience is expected for the conference.

This is the annual meeting of the leaders of the church in this region together with the leaders of the General Boards of Elgin, Illinois. In addition to this, the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of McPherson College is held jointly with the former. Primarily the meeting is for the purpose of forming the policies of the church and college in this region for the coming year.

W. H. Yoder is the general chairman of the conference, and Rev. Bernard N. King is the conference director.

Visitors are to be housed as in former years with the residents of McPherson. The names of the housing committee members are as follows: Prof. and Mrs. Bowman, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Hershey, Miss Della Hoerner, Mrs. Paul Sargent, and Mr. Harry Murrey.

On Saturday evening of this week, beginning at 8:00 o'clock, in the college chapel-auditorium, Miss Ann Witmore will present a Piano and Voice recital. Miss Witmore is a Sophomore; her home is in Rich Hill, Missouri. She is a Soprano and her recital is unusual in that she is appearing in the dual role of singer and pianist.

Miss Witmore will play compositions by Chopin, Grieg and Rachmaninoff. In the vocal part of her program she will sing, among other numbers, "None But the Lonely Heart", by Tchaikovsky; the Italian aria, "Care Selve" from the opera, "Atalanta" by Handel; and "It Is Morning Again", by the California composer, Charles Wakefield Cadman.

Gloating Sadies Drag Captured Males To Party

Unsuccessful Maidens Have Last Chance To Snatch A Coat Tail

With shouts of glee that each had caught her man, the girls brought or drove their "Lil Abners" to the Sadie Hawkins' party last Friday night.

Games were played under the leadership of Lucille Harris, Keith Burton, Dave Albright, Maxine Ruehlen, and Miss Hammann. Then came the time at which all "ladies", who were as yet unattached, could chase the "bachelors". Some of the timid males even went so far as to scale the walls to avoid capture.

"Kickapoo joy juice" and Dogpatch doughnuts were the refreshments sold. Jerry Hedges and Leslie Rogers received "preserved turnips" as first prize for being the best couple. George Veth and Marilynny Sandy won second, Ann Witmore was chosen as the cleverest "Sadie Hawkins".

Fahnestock Men Anticipate Open House Next Week

Boys dormitory is to hold open house on some day next week. The exact date is not yet set, but some afternoon, possibly Thursday, the house will be open for visitors who wish to come through. Guides will be on hand to take the visiting people through the various rooms.

Future Activities
Saturday, February 20, Bethel Game, there.
Saturday, February 20, 8:00, Recital—Ann Witmore, Chapel.
Sunday, February 21, to Friday 26, Regional Conference.
Monday, February 22, 8:00, College of Emporia Game, Convention Hall.
Friday, February 26, Bethany Game, There.

Assembly Room Reaches Final Completion

Large Organizations To Use This Meeting Place

Ernest Peterson, President of the Student Council, announced this week that student organizations may now hold meetings in the Student Assembly Room. The last chair in the newly-decorated room was set in place this past week, completing its furnishings. However, at a later date the Student Council may see fit to install additional equipment.

Any campus organization whose size permits is welcome to use this room located on the second floor of the Administration Building.

WSSF Discussed In S.C.M. Thur.

Brank Fulton is a man who will not soon be forgotten as one who has brought interesting constructive facts before the students of McPherson College.

He discussed the present great need of funds for student war relief throughout the world, presenting statistics from different countries, all directly influenced by the war. Mr. Fulton pointed out several facts concerning the World Student Service Fund, which was originally founded for relief of students in China in order that the might continue their studies and has spread until the WSSF is represented in sixteen of the major nations involved in the war.

The fund provides direct relief for students and professors who are victims of the war and is the authorized channel for aid to student prisoners of war, operating under the Geneva Convention of 1929. It is international, non-sectarian, and non-political and believes that students have a special responsibility for their fellow students.

American students are urged to give books, musical instruments, and recreational equipment, in addition to funds to buy medical supplies and the necessities of life. Upon American students and faculty rests the responsibility of saving this student generation for the future. $300,000 is needed for student war relief in 1943.

New Head Takes Charge of Home Ec. Department

Miss Edna Smith has taken charge of the Home Economics Department in the absence of Miss Wanda Hoover. Miss Smith is a resident of McPherson and was a former teacher of Home Economics.

Miss Hoover is undergoing treatment in Kansas City for an infected tooth.

Fulton Explains Student Aid Fund

Tells of Need For Books And Supplies in War Torn Foreign Schools

R. B. Fulton, representative of the World Student Service Fund recently from interior China, spoke yesterday before a chapel audience. He explained a number of the reasons for the Student Service Fund.

Fulton told of the 50,000 Chinese students who have been driven into the back country of China where they have set up universities and are continuing their education so that they may help to reconstruct their country after the war. Students in other countries are doing the same thing.

The World Student Service Fund has as its purpose the distributing to these victims of circumstance, the necessary money for books, medical supplies, and in some cases, food. Witness the fact that the students in the University of Athens are rationed to about 2 ounces of olives a day, or five ounces of beans. That is not much food to keep a hungry knowledge seeker on the warpath.

Fulton urged that American students give all that they can to the fund. It is one of the sure ways of cementing friendly ties between nations.

Thespian Play Is Cast

Production Is Dramatic In Tenor; Maxine Ruehlen To Be Student Director

This week the Thespian Club began rehearsal on a new play "Outward Bound". In the try outs the following cast was selected: Tom Prior a drunker and disillusioned philosopher, Wayne Geisert; Henry, a poetic young idealist, Hillis Williams; Ann, the wife of Henry, Anne Metzler; Mrs. Chyden-Banks, a society woman, Lucille Harris; Mrs. Midgely, a meek charwoman, Betty Burger; Duke, an English clergyman, Wayne Crist; Mr. Lingley, a dominating business man, Bob Mays; Scrubby, the char tender, Dayton Rothrock; and Thompson, the examiner, Raymond Sliker.

The set of the play, a fantasy in three acts, is the bar room of an ocean liner. Miss Maxine Ruehlen will direct the production.

Former Missionary, Paul Reynolds To Be Chief Conference Speaker

years of 1921 and 1935 he served as a foreign missionary at Fenchow in the Shansi province in North China. There he made the acquaintance of several of the Brethren in the Church of the Brethren in the friendship of Dr. Frank Crumacker of McPherson. Since returning from the mission field in 1935, he has been employed in his present position in Chicago. During the first World War, Reynolds was an army chaplain in the U. S. Army. Dr. Reynolds comes to us as an authority on China problems, having only recently come from the field there. He is vitally interested in youth problems and post war reconstruction policies and programs. The following is a list of the titles of addresses which he will give throughout the week: Monday, "Things that Grow"; Tuesday, "Hidden Powers"; Wednesday, "Simplicity in Living"; Thursday, "The Living Church"; "The Road is Ahead"; "China Today"; Friday, closing address, "Tough Going". In addition to speaking at the conference, Reynolds will address the local Rotary Club in a meeting Tuesday evening.

New Time Table Must Be Flexible

Last week on our campus the personnel committee called together a group of extracurricular leaders of the campus for the purpose of submitting to them a tentative plan which would apportion a definite time for the meeting of all extracurricular activities. Indirectly, this plan would also limit the number of activities in which any one student could participate.

Admittedly there is a need for a change in the present activity set-up as it is carried on at McPherson College. There are numerous conflicts. Some activities meet regularly each week and already have a definite apportioned time. They will no doubt have as nearly the same time apportioned to them as was the case before revision. However, some clubs which are not regularly convened, but which do have a definite place in the cultural life of the campus, are being shelved in the conjectural plan. The fact that they are seasonal in nature has brought about a shelving of their interests and a curtailment of their time apportionment. Whereas they have only a limited membership it seems only logical that instead of spreading the time thinly over the entire semester, the same amount could be bunched up in a small space.

I can see no use in trying to be diplomatic about this editorial. The situation is simply this. The Thespian Club last semester had quite a bit of difficulty with its practices, because they conflicted with other organizations, notably the choral club. This conflict led to an undisguised argument as to the time at which each should practice due to the fact that many of the people were in both organizations.

Due to the fact that the Thespian play was closest to final production it seemed as if that club should have received the big end of the practice.

Time for these seasonal productions of any kind should be apportioned in such a way that if extra practice be needed it should be donated to the organization whose final product is closest at hand.

It would appear that no arbitrary time can be allotted in all cases. The new schedule, when it appears, must in a number of ways be flexible.

Strictly ad-lib

Shay, here I am again on the street corner looking for the watch I didn't lose (or do you go to chapel?) Oh, to be one of those chapel checkers!

George's birthday is soon. Perhaps the sophomores can present in chapel "Hatchet-face Marthie" jiving to a bit of swing—with an ax. If Washington were to come back again to see our congress, he would lose no time in delivering another farewell address.

A "debunking" artist said one of the soldiers who was rowing Washington across the Delaware yelled at him: "Sit down, George, you're rocking the boat."

"Can't do it," answered George. "My pants are too tight". And that is why they painted him standing up.

I cannot tell a lie, a true friend is one who will sit by you during a test even though he knows you can't answer the questions.

Ferguson is about to make his exit, and some chillins had a party for him before the game, Monday.

We hate to lose you, "Fergie," ole boy. Incidentally that game decided that the Bulldog growl is worse than the bite. We can scalp C. of E. though. This "simian world"—just going to the dogs.

Engraved on the Collar of His Highness' Dog (Alexander Pope) I am his Highness dog at Kew. Pray tell me, sir whose dog are you?

With all the fellows leaving, the most striking thing about our campus is the clocks and automobiles. Oh, dull care, don't you feel tucked out like the "Man with the Hoe" (Edwin Markham) after about 3:00 a.m. when your roommate stops typing said theme?

Bowed by the weight of centuries he leans upon his hoe and gazes upon the ground. The emptiness of ages in his face, And on his back the burden of the world.

Why worry, you only wash more of your head, like Coach. After all, a hair on the head is worth two in the brush. Talking about a brush-off, this is it . . . so long.

At the End of Euclid

Now I sit me down to drool a few paltry lines concerning some of the things that I have observed around these old and hollid halls and educated hunks of masonry. Since I arrived on these sacred grounds I have made several observations wise, dull, true, or just plain dumb but anyway I say:

Coronets to Willie Linville one swell jee. There's going to be one heck of a hole for some body to fill now that he is gone to serve in something bigger than a lot of us realize. So fifteen rahs for Willie. He played great games for us in what ever he did here and may he have even greater success in the team he now plays for.

Coronets to Art Shubert, as great a sportsman as I have ever met. When you find a man who never has a bad word for anyone and always a silly grin on his face that you can't help smiling back at, then, brother, you have something.

Coronets to Al Klotz and his band for that old never say die spirit. He may not have the number that there were at the first of the year, but, boy, can they make up with that umpa when the time comes for its need.

Coronet to "Fergie" a guy whose talent was never tapped nearly as much as it should have been. When he comes back in a train whistling in G minor here's one tottery journalist who will bet that he will be able to tell you the chord that every plane in the forces whines in.

Thorns to whoever is trying to cut down the number of hours a student can put in on extra curricular activities. Now that there are fewer men than women in school for the first time in a whole bunch of years, those of the masculine gender especially must be allowed to put in more time than ever to keep old Mac standards high.

Thorns, great gobs of thorns to all of us, and every one whose job it is to keep this campus clean.

File, and forget that Heated Herby and Necking Nettie are now the leading members of that famous love club, that is forget it if you are not jealous.

File, but don't forget that regional conference is coming and you had better get out those long forgotten Sunday Manners and prepare for visitors.

File, but don't forget that in about five weeks there will be another night of drama when the Thespian club opens the curtains on another play.

If you managed to read this far, your endurance record should go down in history and you should have some kind of a medal.

The President Speaks:

With respect for the memory of the immortal Lincoln, I write this note on his birthday while waiting for a train in Kansas City, Missouri, on my return from my old home in Southern Indiana.

To many of us Lincoln is a symbol of democracy at it's best, and may the day never come when the way from the humblest home to the White House is closed to any intelligent and deserving youth.

In these testing days we need to take seriously and to embody in our controls of conduct Lincoln's words:

1. " . . . that government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth."
2. " . . . with malice toward none, with charity for all"
3. "As I would not be a slave" . . . "So I would not be a master".

We need his devotion to high ideals, his human kindness and sympathy, his ambition to know, his simple living and his fine sense of humor.

Host Of Leaders To Appear On Annual Program

Charles Bonsack With Others, To Be Featured During Activity Week

Regional Conference with its host of prominent individuals comes to McPherson College campus next. One of the most outstanding men featured will be Dr. Charles D. Bonsack, who will present a number of addresses.

Dr. Bonsack is advisory secretary for the Mission Board of the Church of the Brethren. He was general secretary of the same group for twenty years. Much of Mr. Bonsack's time is spent among the churches in evangelistic and institute work.

Other noted personages who will appear on this program are Dr. William M. Beahm, head of the Dept. of Christian Doctrine and Missions at Bethany Biblical Seminary, Chicago; Dr. Avery Fleming, Executive secretary of the Board of Christian Education of the Church of the Brethren; Rev. H. L. Hartsouth, acting secretary of Home Missions and the ministry of the church; Rev. W. H. Yoder, chairman of the General Ministerial Board and pastor of the South Waterloo church, Iowa; and Miss Anetta Mow, secretary of Women's Work in the church.

"Checking Up" Is Hayes Address

The guest speaker in Chapel, Monday, was Guy Hayes of the Production Credit Association here in McPherson. Mr. Hayes, an alumnus of McPherson College, spoke to the students and faculty on the subject, "Checking Up." He suggested that we should check up on ourselves to see if we are getting our job done. We must master facts and learn to use them. Mr. Hayes brought out in his speech that must master facts and learn to use them. He concluded by saying it is our job to put first things first, and to see that we have an idealistic, Christian, and if possible a lasting peace.

Heart Sister Week Ends In S. U. R. Tea Party

College girls exhibited gaiety and good-will at their annual Heart-Sister party, the culminating feature of Heart-Sister Week, in the Student Union Room last Friday afternoon. After a period of fun and games which were directed by Maurine Gish, girls gave mimics of their heart-sisters. In this clever manner, the "sisters" were revealed. Tea and sandwiches refreshed the party-goers. Miss Shockley poured.

To The Editor

To the editor page three
(Completely unsolicited and uncensored, any letter which appears in this column gives purely the opinion of its author, which is not necessarily reflected by The Spectator. All letters to the editor must be signed if they are to be published.)

Monday at a meeting of the Thespians club a paper, which was the first realization of an ill wind that has been blowing quietly about for some weeks, was read to us. In this list we were politely told to what extent the members of our organization could participate in the next play.

In the first place such a policy cannot be enforced on this campus as yet because the personnel committee has never passed such a measure. In the second place such a plan is altogether unethical, unjust and undemocratic if I must use such a trite expression.

This list as far as I was able to tell was based primarily on grades and the relative loads of the students and prejudice, for I truthfully cannot explain some of the decisions otherwise. Now there are several problems that I know are hard for teachers to solve. Just how much time should a student be allowed to put in on extra-curricular work and how much on study? This is a question we now face. On this particular issue I can see no other possible method than a "Laissez-Faire" policy.

The athletic department has its troubles to be sure, but just consider what a time a coach would have if he were told, "This man made an 'A' on most of his subjects last semester and this one made a 'D' on one subject, therefore the first one can play quarterback and the other man can play right end on the bench. Any fool can see that we cannot operate a football team under such a system.

However there are those of us who are not the athletic type and we too would like to play on the first team in our particular field. The eligibility rules for athletics are notably low-but not too low. What right has an administration to say that you can play on a football team but you cannot take the lead in a play, sing the quartette, or take the lead in any one of a dozen other activities.

Students, a plan to curtail your freedom and right to participate unhindered in as many fields as you choose is in the making. If you don't want that kind of tyranny now is the time to protest. If you wait until such a ruling is passed it will be too late. Your own opinion about your own freedom is not being asked but is instead being dictated.

Jeanie was an unsuccessful "Sadie" last week, so she has now turned to other means of procuring her man. Not satisfied with stacking Geisert's room, she has made poor Homer Wayne a victim of the Golden Gate Lonely Heart Bureau. Jeannie, undoubtedly, has been registered for some time with the club. It was only recently, however, that she gave up hope entirely. Then she sent in Wayne's name with the idea in mind that in this way the two might more easily be brought together. On learning that Wayne did not have the necessary three dollars registration fee, Jeanie began a nationwide drive for donations. She has asked us to announce that anyone with extra funds should see Jean Mc Nicol.

Did you ever see a man more solicitous for the comfort of his lady-friends? Klotz and Wilson were inhabiting the "mushroom", while one of our "time-worn twosomes" boldly ventured into the outer parlor. One member of the latter grouping noticed that all was silent in the mushroom for a time. Finally Alvin inquired tenderly, "Are you comfortable?" There was a creaking and shifting about . . . and silence reigned again.

K. W. Tops Bulldgs In Basketball Tilt

Wednesday evening, the Bulldogs played the Kansas Wesleyan Coyotes in a return conference game. The Bulldogs displayed a fine brand of basketball to the Wesleyan crowd. After Monday's close defeat, the Bulldogs were in a fighting spirit. Schubert, still weak from his illness was absent from the starting line-up. The Bulldog's starting five were Kasey and Smith at forwards, Voth at center, and Hill and Culver at guards. Schubert and several other reserves also got in some action.

Wesleyan's Coyotes defeated the Bulldogs, 56-47. The Bulldogs were close behind the Coyotes all the way and trailed at the half by only six points, 30-24. Hoover starred for the winners with 20 points to his credit while his teammate Johnson, tallied 14 points. Hill played one of his best games of the year as he led the Bulldogs with 16 points, closely followed by Smitty, who had 14 counters.

With this game out of the way, the Bulldog's fans can breathe easier, for the Coyotes always prove tough for the home team, and often are their stumbling block.

McPherson To Meet Bethel

Canines Out To Hold Present Conference Spot

Bulldogs journey to Newton to play a second round Kansas Conference basketball game tomorrow night with the Bethel Gray-Maroons. The Bulldogs won over the Bethelites in the last game 50-40.

Coach Hayden has been working on a defense and offense against the Gray-Maroons. Hayden will have his team ready for a real battle. Four of his first five have at least a seven point average for twelve games, which is pretty good in any man's basketball.

The Bulldogs must win all the games in order to get into third place in the conference.

Quite an aggregation of fans is following the team to Newton. The band will accompany the men.

Probable Starting Line up:

McPherson	Bethel
Culver .....	F..... Balzer
Smith .....	F..... Goering, L.
Voth .....	C..... Klippenstine
Schubert .....	G..... Bartel
Hill .....	G..... Goering, H.

Bulldogs Face Heavy Schedule

Three Conference Games Loom Up In Next Week

Coach Hayden and his cagers are going to be kept busy next week, what with three games in seven days, there will be little time for rest. By the end of next week the team will have played five games in two weeks.

Tomorrow night the team travels to Newton where they will meet the Gray Maroons in a return engagement. The Bulldogs won the previous battle 50 to 40. Bethel will be out for revenge and the Bulldogs will have to be in there fighting if they expect to win.

On Monday evening C. of E. comes to the maples to try her luck against our team, so everybody turn out and show our appreciation to the team for their great playing of the past season. Although the Presbys are at the bottom of the Conference they will show plenty of fight, and a good game is in store. Mac won at Emporia 60 to 32 in the initial battle.

One week from today the team has a score to settle with the Swedes for their stinging overtime defeat Monday night. With Schubert back in shape for this game it promises to be as exciting and as close as the first game but the Bulldogs are determined not to let the season go past without settling the account with the Swedes. The game will be played at Lindsborg Friday, February 19. This will be our last Conference game and on it may hinge third place in the conference standings.

Overtime Game Gives Basketball Fans Their Biggest Thrill Of Year

The Bethany college Swedes won over the McPherson college Bulldogs in an overtime game 46 to 43 at Convention Hall Monday evening. The score at the half was 18 to 15 in favor of McPherson. At the end of the regular playing time the score was 42-42.

A large crowd of sports fans watched this hotly contested game between these two sports rivals. The two bands of the respective schools were present to add to the enthusiasm of the game.

The game started with McPherson's Smith getting two points in the first few seconds of play. McPherson held a comfortable lead during the first half. Midway through the second period the Swedes tied the score and from then on the score was close all the way out. In the overtime Bethany picked up two free throws and a field goal while Macollege made a free throw to give them the necessary advantage.

The Canines outscored the visiting team on field goals 17 to 13, but Coach Hahn's men were dead shots on the free throw line making 20 points out of 26 attempts.

Culver of McPherson and Everhart of Bethany each got 11 points to lead in the scoring. Smith was back in the lineup after having been out with a bad ankle. Schubert, because of a recent illness was unable to start the game and saw action only at the last part of the game. Kasey replaced Schubert in the starting lineup.

Sports Spotlight

By Merle Finrock

The Bulldogs lost another basketball game last Monday night. Reason? Yes, the Swedes connected with the basket for 20 points on free throws. Twenty points is not so many but 20 points on the free throw line certainly sounds like a large number.

The Swedes have definitely not been a threat on the free throw line. In fact, in a previous game a certain Swede missed 9 consecutive charity tosses and the whole team missed 14 consecutive times.

It has been said by several coaches and sport followers that those Bulldogs must drill constantly on rebounds. It isn't quite constantly but mighty near that. Look what it profits them.

Again last Monday night Coach Ray Hahn from Bethany lectured (if you can call it lectured) at the half to his team for letting those Bulldogs get all the rebounds. He also stated that he was taking his team home and work all week long on rebounds.

The box score:

McPherson	FG	FT	F Pts.
Smith	3	3	4 9
Kasey	2	2	0 6
Schubert	2	0	2 4
Voth	1	1	4 3

At Baker U. several games ago an all-conference football guard asked yours truly "Does that coach of yours drill you boys to death work-yours drill you boys to death working on rebounds?" The Canines have one of the best rebound teams in the Kansas Conference. Coach Hayden does drill his team on rebounds.

Not only do the Bulldogs have the best rebound team but they also have one of the best defensive teams in the Kansas Conference. There are only two teams that have held their opponents to less points than the Bulldog crew. The McPherson College quintet has been somewhat offensive minded this season although Coach Hayden is more of a defensive man. The best defense is a good offense.

It is quite evident that the K.

W. U. outfit was a bit offensive minded in that 96-29 massacre the other night. H. Johnson with 40 points scored more than the average team in this conference can score in a single game. 40 points is 1 in a minute of actual play during a game then to think that the whole team accounted for 56 more counters. They were hot!

We Are Active

About 20 girls were out for an enjoyable time in volleyball Monday evening. Several games were played with one side winning all of the games. It is too bad the teams can't be more evenly divided, especially since I was on the losing team. Lillian Fulkerson, our club leader, acted as referee. We really know how it feels to play in a cold gym after the Monday game.
