REGISTER FOR THE ALUMNI BANQUET

The Alumni Banquet is always one of the most important events of Commencement week. It is always urged that all members of all graduating classes attend this banquet. It is the custom that each member of the association may invite a friend.

In order to know how many will be present at the banquet it is necessary that plates be ordered in advance. May 22 is the date when such ordering ceases. Let all who expect to attend notify Secretary E. L. Crank before May 22. Otherwise there is absolutely no guarantee of your getting a place at the banquet.

In order to facilitate matter, subscription papers will be circulated in the graduating classes in a few days. Plates will be one dollar each. Yes, if you provide a ticket you may bring her along. The banquet will be held in the dining room of Arnold Hall.

Alumni should remember that the Ladies Aid will be in charge of the banquet this year and that the whole of the proceeds will be devoted to the new church to be erected on College Hill.

Now remember May 22. After that date, even though an alumnus from a distance, you cannot expect us to reserve plates for you unless you have spoken in advance. There now.

CHORAL UNION PRESENTS CANTATA

The Choral Club of McPherson College made its last appearance for the year Wednesday night when it presented the cantata, "The New Earth," an Ode, poem by Louise Garnett, and music by Henry Hadley. The Club has been working faithfully all year and has given very creditably two cantatas. The last one was short, but the music was snappy and the solos, special choruses, and main choruses were well handled. Miss Pauline Vanman was accompanist, and her work cannot be praised too highly.

The trombone solo by Mr. Widiger at the opening of the program was a treat to all present as was shown by the applause. His music is always welcome to M. C. audiences. No less enjoyable were the duets played by Mr. Widiger and Mr. Blackman.

The cantata was cut short by the illness of the soprano soloist, Miss Bertha Frantz. She was unable to be present and the recipients were

ELECT SPECTATOR STAFF TOMORROW

Election Will Begin at 10:30 Ballot
Boxes in Halls

The week of election excitement will end tomorrow. From 10:30 to 12:30 the polls in the halls will be open for the election of the Editor-in-chief of the SPECTATOR for next year.

The last few days have been full of interest and election enthusiasm. Lusty orators have made their campaign speeches; student politicians have carried on their respective campaigns and speculation on the result has pervaded every conversation. The only difference between this election and a national presidential campaign is that graft, slander, betting and boss politics have been absent. Although a little misunderstanding has attended the various campaigns, in general a fine spirit has dominated this first real live election in McPherson College.

The candidates for Editor are Olivia Dickens, Marguerite Mohler and Jay Tracy; for Business Manager, Sam Merky and Oliver Trapp. All these candidates are well known in the school and have received hearty support from various groups in the student body.

The Student Council wishes every one to give a second choice in voting for Editor in order that in case of a tie second choices may be counted and thus decide the election. The ballot which will be used appears on the last page of this issue of the SPECTATOR.

very much disappointed by not hearing Miss Frantz. Miss Wave Davis sang the alto solo, Mr. J. H. Engle the tenor, and Mr. Widiger the bass.

Special commendation should be made of Professor Rowland for his unexcelled tenacity in keeping the chorus together throughout the year. Monday night was the practice night and all other student activities were usually put on that night. Hence the chorus was always hard hit. It is a marvel to an outsider how he did it, but he did, and did it well.

English colleges are so overcrowded that they are unable to handle the rush of students. Only those having the highest scholarship are admitted.

LE'ECLAT FRANCAIS UN SUCCES

The program given in the chapel by the French and Spanish classes Tuesday night was as "Dutch" to most of us as it was unique. Never before has an entertainment of its kind been put on in our chapel. Notwithstanding its foreignness it was interesting and humorous all the way through.

The French class opened the program with a song "Spring is Here." we take it for granted that is what they sang. Had it not been for the English explanation at the beginning of each number we would have been in utter darkness. There was a chorus of men asking a girl to take a walk, a reading, an illustrated poem, records on the phonograph sung by Gluck, Curci, et al, the life of Victor Hugo, in English a descriptive piano-logue, piano solos composed by French artists, and a French conversation over the telephone in which the audience heard only the one side.

The most interesting numbers were the one act farces. The first was a scene in a dentist's office. A young lady supposedly had a toothache, and upon arriving at the tooth hospital forgot her ailment. She permitted the dentist to work on her upper jaw for luck. We wonder if filling the barrel-like cavern in an incisor is as painful in French as it is in English. Then there was a scene with a spirit medium who was a crook. Four Frenchmen came to the medium to converse with their long lost brethren, but instead, were robbed of their money and jewels in the darkness of the seance. Miss Prettyman conducted a class in numbers and "jography."

Following the French display we were treated to some Spanish. A number of songs were sung including "My Country 'Tis of Thee." A little comedy drama entitled "At the Cafe" was enacted by three Frenchmen. It was the delight of the young son to torment his father, who in turn, threatened to box his ears.

Miss Laurene Steven, Head of the department of Modern Languages, is to be especially congratulated upon this interesting and successful program. It meant weeks of work on her part but it bespeaks the character of her work. The college regrets to lose her from the faculty next year.

A movement for uniformity of dress of the university women is being agitated at K. U.

MISS LATHA M. DANIELS

NEW MUSIC TEACHER AT M. C.

The faculty of the School of Music at McPherson College will be materially strengthened next year by the addition of another teacher. Miss Latha M. Daniels of Lindsborg is to become this fall the teacher of Theory and History of Music and also to assist Miss Brown in Piano. The Theory will include Sight-Singing, Ear Training, Harmony, Harmonic Analysis, and Counterpoint.

Miss Daniels has received her musical education in the College of Emporia and Bethany Conservatory. She has had work under such instructors as Dean D. A. Hirschler, Oscar Thorsen and Hagbard Brase. This spring she is to graduate from the Bethany Conservatory. By June, 1921, she will have done enough work to receive the B. M. degree from Bethany. She has just completed a Normal Training course which embraces the methods of teaching Piano. Emphasis was laid in this course upon the presentation of music to children between the ages of six and fourteen.

Professor Brase speaks thus of Miss Daniels and her work: "She is one of the best students in Harmony and Counterpoint that we have had during the last years. In the History of Music she has taken courses both at the College of Emporia and at Bethany."

The birth of a nation cannot be worked with an incubator.

LET'S GO TO ESTES PARK—JUNE 13 TO 21

CONFERENCE DELEGATES—1919
WILL THE McPHERSON GROUP BE LARGER THIS YEAR

ARE YOU GOING

How Well Will M. C. be Represented at Estes This Year?

When the thirteenth of June rolls around how many of the M. C. boosters will we find there? K. U. is sure of sending seventy-five or a hundred. Washburn is raring about the shells that are being pipped for Estes at their school and all the schools are contesting to see which one can go the farthest over the top.

All of the schools have a certain quota to send. McPherson is the third on the list, I believe. Our quota is twenty good, live fellows. Only K. U. and K. S. A. C. ahead of us. But how will we stand when the roll is called out yonder on the thirteenth? I'm sure if we keep up the pep that we've had in most of the activities this year, we'll go over the top by a large margin.

Those of us that go will get to hear Harry Ward, the coming Y. M. Champion, Wm. E. Sweet, the Denver business man, Ben Charrington and Harry Heinzman the foot-ball fans, McKean, the man that wants the bird, seed and a host of others besides our own President who is on the program for some of the biggest features of the conference.

Now, Old Top, look over all of these pictures and ask yourself whether or not you would like to be there when we meet there the thirteenth. Get a picture of yourself and twenty-five other good fellows from M. C. out there in the mountains with all the other delegations for ten days. Think of the fun we'll have climbing the mountains in the afternoons. Think of the Base Ball games we will have, of the Barber shop melodies that will burst forth from the M. C. tent, of the cool mornings with a cold shower and a hot breakfast up there in the mountains where the birds wake you in the morning with the sweetest songs and the wild beasts scare you to sleep at night. Listen to the Washburn or McPherson College Yell in the middle of the night and back comes the response of all the other schools. Watch the Mountain Sunsets and Sunrises, swim the ice-cold mountain lakes and just be with a bunch of Christian College men for ten days, closer to Nature and closer to God than you've been before, and right there those wonderful heart-to-heart talks from some of the biggest men in American will drive your thoughts into deeper channels than you knew existed.

It will be an opportunity that you can't afford to miss and a pleasure that comes to one a very few times in a life time. The expense will be something like seventy dollars if you have a real good time and don't skimp much. You can soon make that up next year by cutting out a few highpriced social events, that drain that old purse of yours, digging around and finding a job for a few Mondays. Let's not miss this great opportunity to get something worth while.

CULLEN

A man can be religious without being a mollycoddle. General Foch is a praying man, but if we called him a mollycoddle it will be over the phone, and the long distance phone at that.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

At the organ recital at the Methodist Church last Monday night, Mr. Sellars asked to see Mrs. Birkin as she had heard him play in England some years ago. Mr. Ikenberry acted as escort for the lady and the organist asked her if he was her intended. Better take Mr. Birkin with you next time, Alice.

If you are tuned to one pitch, don't try to play in another.

ENTRANCE TO CONFERENCE GROUNDS

OUT THERE WHERE GOD SPEAKS

By Guy T. Gebhardt, County Y. Secretary.

Fourteen years ago I, a lad of nineteen, was elected as president of the college Y. M. C. A. To me it was a tremendous undertaking. I felt totally inadequate to the task. And besides all of this I had not yet found myself—I had not yet discovered my life work. But the boys sent me to Lake Geneva—to the Student Conference. There on the shores of that wonderful lake—listening to Bishop McDowell, Fred B. Smith, and Phil Gillet I heard in a way I never could have heard at home the call of the world's needs. The Foreign work, Business, the Ministry—all make their appeal and when one eyeing down by the villa old "Dad" Elliott told of his work among the working men of New York City—I knew what my task was. Since then my work has shifted to the rural field but it was at that first conference so many years ago that the Master called me.

Since that time I have attended a dozen such conferences—eight times I have been to Estes Park. But the memory of that Lake Geneva shore will never leave me. Some how a man finds God out there on the lake, or in the hills of Colorado—some way there is no room for small thoughts and to me it has always seemed safer to choose one's life work in the atmosphere of high ideals, than on the low levels of material distractions. Out there under the turquoise sky, the towering peaks and the fleecy white clouds looming over the western range—out there where the lily and the columbine, the aspen and the giant pine, the leaping falls and the tranquil lake, out there where great prophets of God speak their messages to the listening hearts of young men—some way it is easy to hear His voice—and your life decision is made, you have found yourself.

Yes—it is worth while to go to Estes Park.

THE SUMMER SCHOOL

Plans for the summer school at M. C. are now fairly well matured. Advertising matter is being sent to prospective students and it is hoped that a large enrollment will result therefrom. Readers of the Spectator who know of persons interested will confer a favor upon the college by giving the names of any such to either of the following: Professors Blair, Morris, or Craik.

A maximum credit of six hours will be allowed in the college and three fourths of a unit in the academy. The sessions begin on Monday, May 31 and continue until July 9, inclusive. The tuition is twelve dollars and board and room may be secured in the dormitory for thirty-eight dollars.

Courses in the college will be offered in Astronomy, Mathematics,

ESTES PARK Y. M. C. A. GROUNDS AND BUILDINGS

Psychology, Methods, American History, and Political Science. In the academy there will be offered a limited number of courses, viz., English History, Civics, and Algebra. A number of reviews for teachers will be offered.

The summer school offers a chance that is unexcelled to earn credit on one's college course and to do it with a minimum loss of time. The classes are small, the atmosphere is conducive to study, and the work is of an intensive character. It is hoped that a large number of students from the regular student body will stay for the summer school.

Organizations

ANTI-TOBACCO TEAM VISITS COUNTRY

Last Sunday night a team representing the Anti-Tobacco Association of McPherson College, gave a program at a small school house eight miles north of Windom. We are very much gratified with the results of the visits of these teams. The house was packed to standing room, and the audience was appreciative. Mr. Osborne led the meeting, Mr. Ralph Strohm gave his cigarette demonstration, and Mr. J. Howard Engle gave a chalk talk. Music was furnished by the Senior Ladies' Quartette. The trip was enjoyed by those who went and they feel that much good was accomplished against old King Nicotine.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. held their regular meeting Wednesday morning. The devotionals were led by Marietta Byerly. The rest of the hour was given over to a report by Martha Urey, who has just returned from the National Conference at Cleveland, Ohio.

She discussed three phases of the conference, the entertainment afforded the visiting delegates, the business transacted, and the lectures given. One item of business was the adoption of an amendment to the National Constitution whereby non-Protestant girls will be allowed the right to vote in Y. W. C. A.

QUINTET MAKES SUCCESSFUL TOUR

The quartet consisting of Mrs. Morris, the Misses Cullen, and Miss King together with the reader, Miss Frantz returned last week from a most delightful and successful trip to northeastern Kansas and Nebraska.

The team left here on Thursday, April 15th and after spending the first night in Topeka, went on from there the next morning to Sabetha, where they gave their first program. Here they spent the night in the home of Wave Davis, where they were given all the pigeon they could eat. From Sabetha they went to Morrill. Here on account of the rainy weather and mud, they gave two programs instead of one.

Three days were spent in the home vicinity of the Cullen girls. Some time was also spent in the home of Galen Tice where they told the stunts Galen has been pulling off this year.

In all, nine programs were given to very responsive audiences. Miss Frantz's interpretations were appreciated by everyone; and all in all, in spite of so many eleven mile rides through the mud, missing trains, loss of sleep, and being over-fed the girls enjoyed it to the fullest extent.

It is fortunate for McPherson College and the churches that this team will be in school next year and will be in a position to make similar tours.

M. C. is sending three men to the tennis tournament which takes place at Sterling on Saturday. These men will probably be C. Bowman, L. Bowman and Harry Gilbert.

Prohibition is proving to be a good nose bleach.

SPEAKING OF BANQUETS

It is a rare joy and privilege to be a senior, especially in 1920. For no more delightful a banquet could be given any class than that with which the seniors were honored last Saturday evening. The junior class forever distinguished itself in this event, whose perfection in setting, in service, in program, in every detail is mentioned elsewhere in this issue.

Dr. Kurtz gave significance and meaning to the occasion in a short address at the program which preceded the banquet. He said that as the family wishes God-speed to the son when he leaves home for the world of activity and expresses its love in the last meal together, so the junior class represents the college in the wishes for success and happiness it would extend to its children as they go forth to larger fields of service and activity. In the light of such an interpretation the senior class may well be happy because of the love and interest its Alma Mater has for it.

COLLEGE GRADUATES AND EDUCATION

In a few days another group of men and women will go forth from this institution as college graduates. As such the world will expect certain things of them; and sometimes it will be unjust in the standard by which it will judge them. No one knows better than a senior in college how little he knows. Four years of college have merely served to acquaint him with the broad vistas of knowledge possible to mankind. The necessity of thoroughness in one field makes impossible a similar knowledge of all. And so we say that the world is wrong if it expects college graduates to be walking encyclopedias.

But the world may expect other characteristics in us, the failure to possess which merits the criticism our college training will receive. First and foremost, we should have an accurate and intelligent use of the English language. President Elliot of Harvard said: "I recognize but one mental, acquisition as an essential part of the education of a lady of gentlemanly, an accurate and refined use of the mother tongue." The incorrect and awkward speech of many college graduates belittles their claim as educated men.

Another thing which marks the educated man is refinement and gentleness of manners as expressed in habits of thought and action. Addison said, "Manners are behaviour and good breeding," and Dr. Butler of Columbia adds that they are more. "Real manners, the manners of a truly educated man or woman, are an outward expression of intellectual and moral conviction. Manners have a moral significance and find their basis in that true and deepest self-respect which is built upon respect for others."

A third characteristic of the college man is his outlook and his response to it. If his view is world wide, if his horizon is broad, if his interest in life is bigger than himself, and he can combine with all this a capacity for growth, a desire to develop, and a willingness to learn, then is he indeed ready to take his place in the life for which his college training has prepared him.

WANTED—A COLLEGE COBBLER

We have a college photographer, a tonsorial artist, a college stenographer, a college tailor, and maybe, for all we know, a tailor, and a dozen other representatives of the various trades, vocations and what not. We have jacks of all trades, also. Now, why not have a college cobbler. The idea is the product of the fertile brain of a certain professor, gained doubtlessly by many weary trips to the shoe stores down town in an effort to beat the high cost of living. Anyway, we venture to predict that such a personage would be able to be of much service to the students, saving them shoes and trips down town, and we imagine that the students might be of some advantage to him or to his exchequer. It might be worth while to keep our eyes open for such a student this summer.

FOUR THINGS

Four things a man must learn to do
If he would make his record true;
To think without confusion clearly;
To love his fellow men sincerely;
To act from honest motives purely;
To trust in God and Heaven securely.

Exchanges

Dean F. W. Blackmar of K. U. has again been made a Hall of Fame elector. He was elected to the board when it was organized twenty years ago and has served at every election since. "The board is composed of knowledge of American History."

A girl has been elected editor-in-chief of the Cooper Courier for next year. The editor for this year also prominent and representative Americans who have a broad and thorough was a girl.

Courses in thirty-one departments will be offered in summer school at Ohio State University this year. It is the most comprehensive curriculum ever offered.—Exchange.

There are more than forty different kinds of trees growing on the K. U. campus.

Con Hoffman has sailed for Europe where he will lecture to students in order to interest them in Christian work. He will work especially in Germany, Austria, and the Scandinavian countries, and will return the first of September.

The editorial page of the undergraduate number of the "Huntingtenian" contains only dissertations on "Love."

Drake University, Des Moines, won two games of baseball from K. U.

A Shakespeare drama is presented every year by the Clonian Literary Society of Baker. This year "Much Ade About Nothing" was performed with marked success by a cast of girls.

"The Dartmouth," oldest college newspaper in America, changed from a tri-weekly to a daily-except-Sunday publication recently. Associated Press news service was installed at the same time the change was made.—Exchange.

Four K. U. professors have accepted calls to other schools because their offers were more promising.

Only four of the 45 members of the graduating class at Fairmount expect to teach next year. Low wages for teaching is the reason.

As the result of the kick against the $4 rental price of caps and gowns, the Seniors of K. U. have secured the more reasonable rate of $2.50.

He: "I suppose you hold that a man should never deceive his wife?"

She: "Oh, no, I wouldn't go so far as that. How would it be possible for the average man to get a wife if he didn't deceive her?"

The Y. M. and the Y. W. of K. U. each hold a luncheon every week. They are well attended.

Local Notes

Dr. and Mrs. Bradberry visited Miss Trostle Sunday evening. Dr. Bradberry has just returned from Siberia, where he has been in war work.

The Misses Alice Burkholder and Cecil Durst spent Saturday night in Arnold Hall, after attending the Junior-Senior banquet.

Miss Lavera Lingle spent Sunday with her brother who lives near Montic.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Enos of Adrian, Mo., who have spent the winter in California, visited their son John on their way home, last week end.

Professor Yoder went to Nickerson last Sunday to lay the corner stone of the new $33,000 Community church there.

We have several representatives in the State Sunday School Convention in Topeka this week. Dr. Kurtz is one of the main speakers. Professor Swope, County Superintendent, represents the county. Professor Blair and Mrs. Holsopple represent the local Sunday school. Professor Yoder, member of State Board is also attending. It is an inter-denominational convention.

Mr. Milton Showalter, a former M. C. student is here visiting his mother.

Grandma Flory is very ill today (Wednesday). We hope to hear of her recovery soon.

Miss Gladys Brubaker is in Manhattan this week visiting class mates and attending the Commencement Exercises. Gladys will be a Freshman in M. C. next year. She is Grace's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Filburn of Verdun, Illinois, visited the Nehers last Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday on their way home from Miami, New-Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Blickenstaff returned Wednesday from Quinter, Kansas.

Mrs. Jewet Russell visited friends at M. C. Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Russell taught Chemistry here a few years ago.

Miss Carrye-Meldrum, Collection Teller and Clearing House manager of the Southwest State Bank, Wichita, was a week end visitor with friends at the college. It is rumored that she came especially to visit Mr. Roy Frantz, but he refuses to make any formal statement to that effect.

"Buy a trunk?" said a dealer to a student.

"And for what should I buy a trunk?" asked the student.

"To put your clothes in," was the reply.

"And go naked?" exclaimed the student; "not a bit of it."

A PLEASANT BIRTH-DAY ANNIVERSARY

A few of the friends of Miss Alma Anderson wishing to help her celebrate her birthday pleasantly surprised her Friday evening, April 23. Miss Olive Boone acted as hostess. The guests were delightfully entertained with games and contests. Miss Anderson was presented with a beautiful white birthday cake that was all aglow with candles. After the guests had counted the candles the cake was cut and served with ice-cream. Those who enjoyed the evening were Misses Mae Rowe, Olive Boone, Alma Anderson, Ruth John, Mary Baker and Messrs. Roy Wampler, Ralph Leyman, Leland Moore, Henry Peele and William Riddlebarger.

PROF. STUDEBAKER ENTERTAINS THE ACADEMY SENIORS

The Academy Seniors met at the home of Professor Studebaker at 8:30 o'clock Monday evening for a jolly good time. The group was divided into three families: The Dub Family, The Corn-Tassel Family, and The Rub-No-More Family. Contests and guessing games between families were played. Later each person told an Irish joke and also related the earliest experience that they remembered. Refreshments of ice-cream and cake were served after which the class presented Professor Studebaker who is their Advisor, with a College pennant, a table-runner, and a pillow. It is needless to say that the Seniors had a very delightful evening and will long remember the council of their Advisor.

SPRING-TIME HIKES ARE NOW IN VOGUE

Saturday afternoon a merry party motored to the Smoky for a pleasant outing. After roasting weiners and eating lunch a raid was made for violets and other early spring flowers. Those enjoying the afternoon were Miss Carrye Meldrum, the guest of honor, Misses Ethel Whitmer, Bertha Frantz and Messrs. Engle, Trapp and Roy Frantz.

Sunday afternoon was one during which many M. C. students motored away to the Smoky; or drove over the country; many hiked to the park or other place that fancy led them to enjoy the beautiful out-of-doors.

CUPID ANNOUNCES A TRICK

Sunday afternoon amid a gathering of relatives of Miss Martha Blickenstaff and Mr. Curtis Bowman was announced. The secret was hidden in the heart of a walnut in the form of a puzzle to be discovered by the most experienced puzzle-solving searcher. Each guest enjoyed a very delightful afternoon with their happy hosts.

Dinner guests of Miss Burkholder Sunday were Misses Shoemaker and Williams and Mr. Ray Frantz.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

Last Saturday evening the junior college class entertained the senior class at a banquet at Arnold Hall. This occasion is an annual event and is always one of the happiest and most enjoyed events of the commencement season. But never has a junior-senior banquet been more perfect in every detail, more delightful and enjoyable. So say those who have attended them many times; so claim the seniors though their wide knowledge may be limited in that respect.

A unique innovation was a program given by the juniors before all the guests prior to the banquet. It was held in the vocal studio and consisted of a short address by Dr. Kurtz, music, readings and a short farce.

The guests then proceeded to the dining room of Arnold Hall where they found themselves in an enchanted dreamland of palms and ferns, of streamers of yale blue and gold, and of small tables on which were baskets of flowers, the lilies-of-the-valley mingling with woodland violets. Throughout the banquet sweet strains of music came from an orchestra hidden behind the palms.

Miss Frantz, the faculty advisor of the junior class presided over the occasion and made a graceful and delightful toastmistress. Her wit and felicitous introductions gave a happy atmosphere to the occasion. During the evening the following toasts were given:

To the Seniors, Ray Cullen.
Our worthy successors, Paul Brandt, Sharps, flats, naturals, Prof. C. L. Rowland.
Transmagnifykansanlamuality, Dr. A. J. Culler.
Air Castles, Martha Urey.
Reminiscences, Paul C. Warren.

The following menu was served in a rather unique but graceful fashion by boys and girls from the sophomore class.

- Fruit Cocktail
- Browned potato pears
- Peas in timbales
- Pressed chicken
- Sweet pickle
- Buttered Rolls
- Butterfly Salad
- Cheese Straws
- Ice Cream a la Seniors
- Lady Baltimore Cake
- Mints

IN CHAPEL TALK

Professor Rowland to students who are backward in starting to sing on a new song. "Now you don't seem to be afraid of risking things when it comes to your love affairs. Perhaps you have never sung this song before but neither have you ever gotten married before and yet you aren't to afraid of making mistakes in that line.

Dr. Harnly would like to have a number of second hand texts for the last end of his course in bio...

Lost—A Waterman fountain pen. Identified by the chewed ends. Return to Morris Harnly.

Friday morning Professor Burr from the State Agricultural College at Manhattan spoke for us. He reminded us of the need of keeping up the interest in the farm life of our land. He urged that we might make a more earnest effort to build up the rural community and make the farm a better and a more desirable place for the boy and girl to live.

When it comes to enthusiasm and loyalty to athletics and to football especially we'll say Dr. Culler has it. He announced in chapel that because he had to stay at home and care for the youngsters that it was impossible for him to be at the pie social but that he was willing to give a sum equal to the average cost of a pie. This amounted to about five dollars.

Occasionally Dr. Harnly long since known as the "peppiest" man on the faculty becomes extraordinarily jubilant whenever anything pleases him. He poses as cheer leader on such occasions and does a fine job getting the students to cheer heartily. His last job was to lead cheers for the "Forward Movement."

Rodney Martin has misplaced his "Prayer Book" and would certainly appreciate its reappearance as he says he needs it very much.

Professor Rowland has been suffering greatly the past few days with lumbago or some other malady that seems to have fastened itself on his back and he rather thinks that it is caused by the debts of some of his students that he has been carrying for so long a time. Oh students be Merciful.

Dr. Harnly led chapel last Thursday morning and he gave us a splendid talk on the mechanistic aspect of the universe. He also contrasted this view with a more plausible one as he views it of the infinite mind in which this universe was created not

Shirts That Give Summer Comfort with Distinction

Have you secured some of these Wilson Bros. spring shirts we're window-featuring this week? Then you've solved the man's problem of appearing cool and comfortable as well as in good form on warm-weather occasions.

The richness of these patterns often makes coat seem unnecessary—their practical wearing quality appeals to practical men.

We bought these shirts right—they're the choicest of the new patterns, selected with our customers' tastes well in mind. You'll want several of them at the price.

in a material way but which looks so to us because we must view it from without.

Here is another one that comes from Prof. Rowland. A bashful groom was told at the close of the ceremony that he must seal the vows with a kiss. Realizing that it must be done and yet not quite able to face the music he said "Well if I must, I must, so come behind the door," Prof. tells us we must practice so to come behind his door and do it. But of course this is practicing the music for the next Choral union appearance and not following out the story.

BULLDOGS LOSE TO SWEDES IN COMEDY OF ERRORS

Tuesday afternoon up at Stockholm the baseball fans of the College witnessed a game that was interesting in spite of the fact that we hit on the small end of a 4-2 affair.

While Max lacked perfect control of his fast one and the old drop was not always a safe bet he pitched a better game than the Swede hurler.

Howell caught a good game. Infield errors at critical moments cost us the game. This being the first real game of the season the fellows were a little nervous.

The first man up for the Swedes managed to get in the way of a fast one and later scored on a single to left center. That ended the scoring in the first inning.

A lucky cluster off to center and right coupled with several errors netted the Swedes three runs. That was the last of the scoring so far as they were concerned.

Fat Engstrom was the first Bulldog to score. He drew a pass, stole second and third by some clever base running and scored on a long foul to the left garden.

In the last of the ninth Trap walked, took second on a sacrifice hit by Max and scored on an overthrow to first.

The Inter-class track meet the other day was one of interest to the whole school. The Frosh of the College had little competition for first honors winning 119 points out of a possible 178.

Several records of previous years were broken.

There were several surprises in the meet. The dope was spilled when Brunk slipped one over on Brammel in the shot. Again there was a surprise when Riddlebarger nosed out a first in the half mile. He ran a heady race and deserves much credit for it. It was the inches ahead of the second man.

The time for many of the events was slow owing to the fact that the track is as yet in rather poor shape.

The track men will go to Sterling next Saturday where they will compete with four other schools in an interscholastic meet.

BUT SHE DIDN'T

"A woman can't keep a secret," declared the mere man.

"Oh, I don't know," retorted the fluttery lady. "I've kept my age a secret since I was twenty-four."

"Yes; but one of these days you will give it away. In time you will simply have to tell it."

"Well, I think that when a woman has kept a secret for twenty years she comes pretty near knowing how to keep it.
