

College Students To Vote On Proposed Amendment

Next Tuesday, March 15, the student body of the college will have the opportunity to vote on the proposed amendment concerning faculty representation.

Tuesday, March 15, is the date that has been set by the election committee for the student body to vote on the proposed amendment to the constitution.

The proposed amendment is concerned with Article III, Section 2, Part (a) of the constitution. This part of the constitution reads as follows: "Membership of the Student Council. (a) The Student Council shall include: a President, elected by the Student Body from the Senior class of the following year; a Treasurer, elected by the Student Body from the Junior class of the following year; the Treasurer of the previous year; one man and one woman from each of the four classes, elected by the members of the class to be represented; one man and one woman representing the extra-curricular activities; the Dean of the College; the Dean of Women; and the Dean of Men."

The amendment, in petition form, that was turned into the Student Council with the necessary signatures reads: "In article III, Section 2, dealing with membership of the Student Council, the phrases: 'the Dean of Women and the Dean of Men,' should be stricken out and replaced by the phrase, 'and two faculty members, to be elected by the Student Body in general election.'"

Vote!

Election, March 15, 1949; voting 9:50-12:00 a. m. and from 12:45-3:00 p. m.; all students taking 12 hours are eligible to vote. Voting will be held outside of the chapel in Sharp Hall.

Signed, Jeanne Baldwin Secretary of the Student Council

Supporters of the amendment maintain that such a change would be more democratic than the present setup. The faculty representation would still be retained, but two out of the three faculty members would be elected by popular vote.

The Student Council is considering proposing another amendment, if the above one is accepted, that would call for one faculty member to be elected every year for a two year period, thus eliminating the possibility of having two new faculty members the same year. In this way one faculty member with experience would be retained each year.

Norlin And Richards To Portray Blythe Spirit

Mrs. George Noyes has announced the characters for the part of the Blythe Spirit that had not previously been cast. The parts went to Anita Norlin and Leona Richards. The part of Ruth that had been given to Esther Mohler was to be recast because of schedule conflicts. The name of the new character will be announced later.

Ruppenthal was interviewed on the proposed severance tax for the state of Kansas and the existing school laws and proposed amendments to state school laws. Mr. McCord and Mr. Holloway are members of the School Organization and Administration Glass and the interview was held in conjunction with the class discussions.

Phonation And Larynx Films Shown March 8

On March 8, three showings of the film on the vocal cords, phonation, and the larynx were sponsored by the McPherson College Music Department. Two of the films were from Indiana University and are not generally shown outside the university. The third film came from the Bell Laboratory.

The titles of the films were "Human Vocal Cords in Action," "Physiology of Phonation," and "Photographic Story of the Larynx." The pictures were shown at 8:55, 1:20 and again at 7:00.

Spicer To Present Ballad Program

America's foremost ballad recitalist Earl Spicer is scheduled to present a program of English and American ballads in the college chapel on March 18. The New York baritone, is reputed to have the reputation of being a favorite with faculty and students everywhere, and also has the reputation of singing "He was her man but he did her wrong" better than anyone on the concert stage today.

Instead of a serious talk on ballads, Spicer will give brief comments on the various songs and ballads in a down-to-earth informal manner. The traditional ballads are stories in songs. They date back long before the alphabet and the invention of the printing press, when they were passed from singer to singer. They are considered the foundation of music and English literature. Their humor, directness, brevity and simplicity exert a great influence on present day creative writing.

Spicer, who as a boy sang in the Church choir, later studied music in London and New York. He has sung with leading symphony orchestras and oratorical societies here and in England. Mr. Spicer has his unusual collection of ballads just as a hobby. Mr. Spicer states that he was trained to sing operatic arias, but says that he would rather sing "Frankie and Johnny."

Forty-Four Attend Rec Laboratory

Forty-four students and leaders attended the recreational workshop which was held last week end at the Church of the Brethren. Those who attended the workshop ate at the church. The meals were planned and prepared by the school lunch room management class under the supervision of Miss Edna Smith.

Leadership discussion groups were a part of the weekend program. There were also folk games under the direction of Bob Tully from Newton; crocheting, knitting, and tatting under the direction of Mrs. Miriam Dell; finger painting, Mrs. Lowell Helsey; leather work, Mr. Sam Dell; woodcarving, Jesse Holloway; plastics, Charles Bell, and song direction, Don Frederick.

The students and leaders gathered Friday for recreation under the leadership of Mary Metzler and Winston Bowman. A tea was held Saturday afternoon.

The general committee for the workshop consisted of Bob Kelly, chairman; Donna Bowman, secretary-treasurer; Barbara Carruth, Jake Sheaffer, and Sam Dell. Miss Pat Brown prepared material for a notebook which recorded activities of the recreational workshop and was presented to those present.

Eighty-Eight In First Aid Classes

Teaching First Aid, six hours a day, to two sections of students is the job being handled by Mr. Roy Kneip, National Red Cross First Aid instructor. Mr. Kneip has 88 trainees in the two sections. The first section meets at 3 until 6 and the second section meets from 7 until 10.

Mr. Kneip is a native of Ft. Worth, Texas, but travels extensively over six states. Mr. Kneip covers the territory of Texas, Arkansas, New Mexico, Missouri, Oklahoma, and Kansas. He has been with the National Red Cross for nine years and has the longest service record of any employee in the six state area.

After finishing up on the Mac Campus, Mr. Kneip will return to San Antonio, Texas, where he will assist in the Department of Physical Medicine of the Brooke Army Medical Center. Mr. Kneip is trained to instruct in First Aid, Water Safety, Accident Prevention, and Swimming for the handicapped.

Following the war there was a slump in the demand for First Aid courses. This slump, according to Mr. Kneip, was due to the fact that people had been going to classes for so long during the war that they wanted a time to rest before they took any other informational courses. Mr. Kneip also stated that at the present time the demand for courses in First Aid is again on the increase. The biggest demand being in industry and private organizations. One of the large companies that use the First Aid as a basis for their safety program is the Bell Telephone Company, according to Mr. Kneip.

The bandages and other material being used in the classes have been furnished through the courtesy of the McPherson County Red Cross chapter.

Notice!

WSSF Stunt Chapel

Portrays Carefree Life Part of the WSSF drive conducted on the Mac College campus last week was the annual stunt chapel, held on March 3.

A love scene was enacted by Bill Moore, Harold McNamee, Vernon Nicholson, Gilford Ikenberry, and a score of walk-ons. The Ladies' Quartet composed of Ruth Holsopple, Wilma Smith, Naomi Mankey, and Marilyn Miller sang "Gingerbread Man." Helen Stover was presented in a Chinese poem, and Harry Knapp and Max McAuley paraphrased the old song "School Days."

The program was emceed by Van Dunahoo.

Annual Red Cross Drive Underway On Campus

The annual Red Cross drive is taking place in the United States during March. McPherson College has devoted the past week and the coming weekend to soliciting funds for the Red Cross.

Faculty members have been solicited individually during the past week. Students will have their chance to contribute this weekend. Also, a special tree-will offering will be taken at chapel services Monday.

Do You Attend?

Beginning tonight the college chapel will be the scene of several student and faculty recitals. How many of the student body ever make it a practice to attend these recitals? From the small group that has attended these recitals in the past we would be safe in saying that a very small percentage of the college students and faculty attend these recitals.

We are aware of the many activities that call for one's time. But we urge you all to attend these recitals. It has been pointed out that these recitals serve two purposes. One, they help to give the student stage presence, and secondly, they entertain.

Recitals scheduled for the next two weeks are as follows: Mr. Paul Wagoner, tonight, Miss Anne Krehbiel March 13, Miss Eula Witmore March 18, and Mr. Rolland Plasterer March 21. Three of these recitals will be voice recitals while the other will be a piano recital.

Attend these recitals. Take a date to them, after all they do not charge admission, and what better way could you spend an afternoon or an evening.

Spring?

Spring is busting out all over. At least it was at the time of the writing of this editorial. Spring is the time when a young man's heart is supposed to turn to love. Spring is also the time for horseback riding, canoeing, biking, and many other individual sports.

After the long siege of icy weather that we here in McPherson have had, we all welcome the coming of spring. We are looking forward to the long evenings with their wonderful picnics and late rides. Of course we all realize that old man winter will undoubtedly return at least once but what would Kansas weather be like if it could not be temperamental.

Many of the students will undoubtedly journey down to the "draw" for those lazy afternoons or else visit the college tennis courts if they feel like an active afternoon.

Spring has sprung and with it the advent of spring fever, the urge to skip classes, and the necessity of announcing engagements. Spring may not arrive until March 21, but at least we know it is just around the corner.

We Apologize!

We apologize! For what! We apologize for the many linotype errors that the members of the Spec staff did not correct in last week's Spec. On some occasions it is impossible to catch all of the linotype errors that are on the proof sheets, however, on most occasions it can be made fairly correct. That is if we are diligent. Last week it looks as if we fell down on the job.

Our goal is to publish a school paper that will be read, thought good by a majority of the student body, and at least appreciated by 50% of the subscribers.

Some of the problems facing the proof readers could be listed but then we only wanted to apologize for putting out a technically inferior paper last week.

Guest Editor History Of Lent Is Long, Varied

The guest editorial this week is written by a well-known figure on the McPherson College campus, Dr. Burton Metzler, professor of philosophy and religion. Dr. Metzler secured his doctor of philosophy degree from the Southern Baptist theological seminary in 1928. His editorial is as follows:

On Wednesday, March 2, certain church officials burned the palms which had been used in last year's celebration of Palm Sunday. The ashes resulting from this burning were mixed with holy water and with this mixture the sign of the cross was marked upon the worshipper while the official said, "Man, remember, dust thou art and unto dust shalt thou return".

That Wednesday is called Ash Wednesday and is the first day of Lent. The term Lent comes from the German Lenzen and from the Anglo Saxon Lencten, both of which mean spring. Lencten is related to lengthen, the term therefore referring to the fact that at this season the days lengthen.

The history of Lent is long, going back to the first Christian century. In general it refers to the period of fasting which precedes and prepares for a worthy observance of Jesus' death on Good Friday and of his resurrection on Easter.

The length of the period has varied from forty days to forty hours. The manner of observance has also varied with time and place, the fast being sometimes more and sometimes less strict. But the underlying principle seems to be self denial for spiritual culture. And, let it be said, that is a valid principle. For worthwhile achievement involves careful choosing and careful choosing involves self denial.

Percy Grainger has of necessity said, "No," to many appealing activities because he chose to give his time and energy to music. The master farmer knows how to say, "No," to the impulse to go fishing when he should be plowing corn. Edison stuck to his line, denying himself a hundred and one other things, otherwise he could never have been Edison. Likewise attaining to a Christlike character involves careful selectivity, and selectivity inevitably involves self denial. Lent means self denial for spiritual culture. We are in the period of Lent.

Relief And Rehabilitation Major Networks To Carry "One Great Hour," Mar. 26

On Saturday evening, March 26, the Church of the Brethren and more than twenty other Protestant, Anglican, and Eastern Orthodox Churches, will present a national program that has been designed to raise more than ten million dollars for World Relief and Rehabilitation in the Church of the Brethren and thousands of other churches throughout America on Sunday, March 27, the Sunday immediately following the program.

The broadcast will be carried by all the major networks, ABC, CBS, NBC, and Mutual and their 1092 affiliated stations plus many independent stations across the nation.

The broadcast will be heard in this section at 9 p. m. CST. The cost of the churches is to raise $10,000,000 on the one Sunday immediately following the Saturday evening broadcast.

Basic structure of this program will be dramatized true-life examples of the many, vitally important types of work now being done through churches and church organizations in Europe and Asia. The program will feature names, living drama, and music. It will give to an audience of some fifty million listeners a clear idea of just why contributions are so necessary right now for overseas work of the Church. According to Raymond R. Peters, "It will prove to America, and to all the world, just how great is the power generated when our church and all the participating Protestant, Anglican, and Eastern Orthodox Churches work together for a great common cause."

Station KNEX will not carry the broadcast but Wichita, Hutchinson, and Salina radio stations will carry the "One Great Hour."

Litan's Memory To Be Tested In Chapel

Mr. David Litan, McPherson, will entertain students of Mac College with a demonstration of memory abilities Monday morning in Chapel.

There will be no chapel services Wednesday because of the recital to be given by ballad-soloist Earle Spicer on Friday.

Dear Editor

I am writing to give my views on the coming election. One of the things that I think we should look at is to see the weaknesses of the Student Council, and then see if the proposed amendment adequately meets these needs. One of the things mentioned in last week's Spectator was "certain members miss numerable meetings." Now of course the only way to check on that is to go to the secretaries' records and see how many meetings have been missed. According to the Student Council secretary, both the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women, the two members that are to be voted on, have missed three meetings, however each time due to conflicts, they had received an excuse from the president to be absent. However the point that seems significant to me is that the Dean of the College, who is the third faculty member on the council, and who is NOT to be removed by the proposed amendment has attended only three Student Council meetings so far this year.

Another reason that is sometimes given for this amendment is the fact that "new blood" is needed on the council. Now I am not denying this; however I would like to point out that each faculty member, along with each student member has only one vote; and if "new blood" is what we are after, the student members should be the place to work as they are in a great majority. However, I do not consider "new blood" as a factor in this election as at the present time the three main officers of the student council—the president, secretary, and treasurer—are on the council for the first time. It seems to me that there is just as great a danger of having all "new blood" on the Student Council as there is having all "old blood," and as the council is at the present time under new leadership, the need is to keep a faculty member who would know the constitution, rules, duties, etc., of the Student Council and one who does attend the meetings.

It seems to me that when the students realize these facts, and many other, leading up to this amendment, that they will not be too easily led by a few disappointed student politicians and their friends, but that they will realize that if there is a need for change it might be in a different line rather than through this amendment.

Sincerely submitted,

News for the Society Column should be handed to Miss Leona Flory, Arnold Hall, before Tuesday morning at 9:30. Miss Flory will appreciate the cooperation of those who have had guests or have entertained during the past week.

Mrs. T. J. Reed, of Galeburg, Kan., visited her daughter, Louise, Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. Rebecca Crumpacker and Mrs. Ida Brunk, both of McPherson, were dinner guests of Miss Neher Sunday noon.

Mr. Don Reed and several of his friends were visitors over the past weekend. Mr. Reed is now attending Wichita University.

City Desk By Carmina

Here we are again this week with more senseless chatter. The town kids are really enjoying this lovely spring weather, and they're been making the most of it in every way they could. A few early birds even went on a picnic Sunday. That's kind of rushing the season, don't you think?

In case you have been wondering about that poem that appeared in the Spec a few weeks ago "What could be Natural?" it was written by one of our flock, the talented Mr. Don Shultz. Don is not only a poet, but an aspiring journalist, and just to prove it may we point out his occupation, other than school work, of course. He has charge of the distribution and sales for the Wichita Eagle in McPherson. A thriving young capitalist, that's Don Shultz.

Annette Shropshire is getting quite a bit of attention from the M. C. basketball manager, Dean Schmidt. They were among those attending the Vaughn Monroe concert, and from what I hear they also have dates for the future. That's what we like to see, friendship between the campus and the town kids.

From all reports this First Aid course must be really tough. I overheard some fellows talking the other day, and one remarked "All you have to do is drop your pencil and you're missed out on six weeks' work."

In case you saw a flash of blue zooming around the campus Sunday afternoon it was just the town girls showing off. A college friend of theirs was home with her blue Buick convertible, and they spent the afternoon acting like a bunch of "Mrs. Astors." Isn't it wonderful what a change of car can do for one's morale?

Elmer Gatz's folks made a drastic error when they left for a week in Texas and left their house in the country to Elmer for safe keeping. From all reports the fellows have been throwing parties, similar to the girls' slumber parties, and study sessions turn into all night pillow fights. Here's hoping the flying feathers don't damage that precious wheat.

If you notice Keny Newport acting kind of snooty lately, it might be because his folks have

Children's Program Is Next For Mac Broadcast

For the next McPherson College broadcast the committee has selected a children's theme. A fairy story will be dramatized by a group of students. Bonnie Alexander will read a group of children's poems.

Mary Metzler will tell a children's story, and Paul Waggoner will sing a children's song. Mr. Harold McNamee will be the student announcer for this next program. Nancy Noyes, daughter of Mrs. George Noyes, speech instructor, will also appear on the program.

The program on the United Nations will be broadcast on April 1. On Good Friday, April 15, a Good Friday musicale will be presented.

that played in the Industrial league. The team, composed mainly of non-varsity college boys, made quite a name for themselves and won 23 out of their 24 games.

"Ote" as Mr. Otis is called by the kids, is always the life of the party. He is a walking encyclopedia of college happenings, and is ready and eager to lend an ear to the trials and tribulations of all the gang. He's the good natured center of much razzing from the fellows, and he can handle his share of the kidding with no trouble at all.

One example of this good natured razzing came to a climax this Christmas season when Ote received a package from one of our Idaho delegation. For some time there had been much discussion as to the size of those Idaho potatoes we all hear so much about, and Ote stuck up for the Kansas variety. At Christmas he received a gift of several mammoth specimens of the Idaho potatoes, and a note challenging him to beat them with any-Kansas potato. For once, Ote was forced to back down.

The staff of the College Inn, who serve the students and endeavor to unscramble the mixed up orders in the morning rush, include Bill Mease, himself a student of M. C., Mrs. Ruth Coleman, Mrs. Carl Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Otis. They serve the students everything from breakfast to after-study snacks, and everyone agrees that the food is tops. The College Inn is one of the little things that makes M. C. life unforgettable, and when the day comes for us to grab that sheepskin and depart, the "Inn" will hold many fond and dear memories to bring us a chuckle now and then in later life. To "Ote" and "Yed" for their fellowship and fun, we offer a silent salute.

Are Your Fingernails Clean, Girls? Do You Boast Too Much, Men?

Fingernails seem to be an important judgment for or against men and co-eds. "Dirty fingernails or broken-down fingernails are strictly repulsive," according to co-eds from Miami University. And the fellows from Ohio Wesleyan fire right back by condemning painted fingernails in a run-down condition. They even hinted that girls paint their nails to cover up the dirt.

The girls complained that college men boast too much. They yah-a-ta-yah-a-ta about the money they spend, about how fast their cars will run, and generally, about every phase of their lives.

The men contradicted the girls

Intramural Play Ends With Tie For First Place

Bowery Boys And Deforpcch Battle For High Honors

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL FINAL STANDINGS

Team	W	L	Pct.
Bowery Boys	8	1	.889
Deforpcch	8	1	.889
Llars' Lodge	6	3	.667
Preying Eight	6	3	.667
Dunkard Tech	5	4	.556
T. K. B.	3	6	.333
Ministers A	3	6	.333
I. P. T.	3	6	.333
Ministers B	2	7	.222
Smokers	1	8	.111

Ties predominated the final standings of the intramural basketball league with the Bowery Boys and Deforpcch sharing the championship honors and the Llars' Lodge and the Preying Eight dividing the third and fourth place divisions. A three-way tie remains between T. K. B., Ministers A, and I. P. T. for sixth-place "honors."

After leading 20 to 6 at half-time, the Llars' Lodge went on to take the contest with the Dunkard Tech aggregation 39 to 29, in games Wednesday, March 2. Watkins had 10 field goals and 29 points for the winners while Coughenour and Hill led the losers in the game with 12 and 10 points respectively.

J. P. T. won a battle with the Ministers B team 26 to 24. Wareham scored 19 points for the losers, but West and Wolf hit eight and six points to be next high and scoring for the winners.

Deforpcch defeated the Preying Eight quite easily more than doubling the score on them, 37 to 18. Jarboe had 16 points.

In the last three games of the season played, Monday, March 7, at the college gymnasium, the Deforpcch team clinched a share of the championship when they defeated the T. K. B. team 31 to 25. The T. K. B. team threatened in the beginning and held a 16-15 lead at half-time. However, the Deforpcch team came back to take the game quite handily in the second half. Smith scored 12 points for the winners while Jarboe and Tillman each had seven. Zumbrum was high for the losers with ten.

In the second game the Bowery Boys decided to make a fair fight of the title as they barely edged by the Llars' Lodge team, 31 to 30. The Llars' Lodge had managed a 15-14 lead at half-time, but lost it to the sharp shooting Bowery Boys in the second half. Eshelman led all scorers with 14 points for the Bowery Boys while Watkins sank nine for the Llars' Lodge.

In the last and final game of the season, the Preying Eight scored a decisive victory over the Ministers A by the score of 37 to 18. The Preying Eight held only a small 12-11 half-time advantage but they really went to work in the last half to gain the final 37-18 advantage. Reinecker scored 16 points to be high man, 12 of them in the last half.

"Half the legislature are crooks!" ran a glaring headline. A retraction in full was demanded of the editor.

Next afternoon the headline read:

Locker Chatter

Well-distributed scoring features this basketball season's scoring record of the McPherson Bulldogs varsity squad. Five men—Peters, Fisher, Goering, Bruns, and Odel—all have accounted for more than 100 points.

Peters with 162 points and a 7.1 game average leads the scoring parade followed closely by Fisher, 155 points. Goering, 153; Bruns 125, and Odel, 101.

450 times charging; a Bulldog player with a foul, making the Bulldog fouls per game average, 21.4, which is considered to be quite low considering the fast brand of basketball that is played. Of the high five in scoring Peters also grabbed "citizenship" honors with an average of a little less than two fouls per game.

Interscholastic baseball is getting into full swing as the Bulldogs will field a team again this year. Only four lettermen have reported back so far, however. They are Duane Ramsey, a pitcher with two years letterman experience; Dale Blickenstaff, a third baseman or infielder player also with two years experience; Dean Ward, a left fielder with two letters; and John Colyn, an outfielder with one year experience.

Boys coming out for baseball expecting to letter for the first time this year are Ernest Hoffa, outfielder; Bob Rowlette, utility; Bill Tolle, pitcher; Charles Lindberg, pitcher; Ivan Little, infield; Wilbur Beattie, utility; Melvin Fishburn, pitcher, second base, or infield; and Chuck Tharrington, infield or outfield.
