

COLLEGE PHYSICIAN DIES

Community Suffers Loss Of Doctor W. C. Heaston

Funeral rites were held for Dr. W. C. Heaston last Tuesday afternoon in the sanctuary of the Church of the Brethren. The long-time resident of McPherson and servant of medicine, died last Saturday evening at the McPherson County Hospital following a stroke.

Dr. Heaston first came to this city as a student of McPherson College from which he was graduated in 1896. Since that time he contributed generously of his time and skill and money to the college. The president's office and the dean's office are gifts from Dr. Heaston. He donated his services as a college physician for many years. He was a contributor to the College Loan Fund and a member of the Fifty Dollar Club.

Following his marriage to Susanah Harnly in 1896, Dr. and Mrs. Heaston spent a few years on a farm in Nebraska. After their three children were born, he began the fulfillment of his dreams when in college of becoming a family physician. He was graduated from the Ensworth Central Medical College at St. Joseph, Missouri, in June, 1908, and since that time, with the exception of his first eight months at Ramona, Kansas, was engaged in the practice of medicine in McPherson, Kansas.

William Chamils Heaston

He took a graduate course in 1914 in the University of Chicago. In later years he took refresher courses at the Mayo Clinic of Rochester, Minnesota, the St. Louis Clinic, and the University of Kansas Medical School and Hospital.

Dr. Heaston was a member of the Board of Directors which erected the first hospital in McPherson and was active in establishing the present McPherson County Hospital.

During the First World War he was commissioned a captain in the Medical Corps. He was elected a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons in 1939, and the honorary degree, Sc. D., was conferred upon him by McPherson College in 1947.

Dr. Heaston was a lifelong active member of the Church of the Brethren, and before entering medical school he thought seriously of entering the Christian Ministry. In harmony with his church interest and loyalty, he contributed generously to the local church and college as well as to many other causes. He and Mrs. Heaston were active in helping to build and equip the McPherson Church of the Brethren. Following Mrs. Heaston's death in 1945, Memory Chapel, in the church, was donated in memory of her by Dr. Heaston.

European Press Is More Serious Than American Press

"The average newspaper reader in Europe knows what goes on in the United States better than many American readers know what is happening in Europe," says the University Daily Kansas reporting Dean Kenneth E. Olson, Medill School of Journalism.

Dean Olson, who visited Europe in 1949, said that the press of Europe is a more serious press than the press in the United States.

"In Europe the papers," he said, "carry much more foreign news and much more background of the news than our papers. Europeans can't understand why Americans shock their readers with crime, divorce, and the extraneous affairs of prominent persons."

M. R. Zigler Addresses Student Body, Faculty

Chapel next week will be held on Monday and Friday instead of Wednesday.

Dr. M. R. Zigler, widely known leader in the Church of the Brethren and currently director of its activities in Europe, will speak at chapel Friday, March 17. Thursday, March 16, at 6:45 p.m. Dr. Zigler will also speak to SCA.

Zigler returned in December from Geneva, Switzerland, where he serves as the Church of the Brethren's representative to the World Council of Churches and director of the European relief and reconstruction work of the Brethren Service Commission.

Often described as the best known representative of his denomination, Zigler has been associated with its national headquarters at Elgin, Ill., since 1919 when he became its secretary for home missions. Later he also served as secretary for ministry and for Christian education.

Dr. M. R. Zigler

Since 1941 Dr. Zigler has been closely associated with the Brethren Service Commission, the denomination's agency for postwar relief work for world peace, and care of religious objects. He was the commission's executive secretary until 1948 when he assumed his present duties in Europe.

Dr. Zigler was a delegate to the world-wide religious conferences at Edinburgh and Oxford in 1937, and to the Amsterdam assembly of the World Council of Churches in 1948. In addition to extensive travel in Europe since 1945, he visited China and Japan in 1947.

A native of Virginia, Zigler has a degree from Bridgewater College. He has done graduate work at Vanderbilt School of Religion, Bethany Biblical Seminary, and the University of Chicago. He was ordained to the ministry of the Church of the Brethren in 1915. Lehman's Class Presents Chapel

Monday's chapel will feature five members of Miss Della Lehman's literary interpretation class presenting "Matinee Lyrique," a play without the benefit of action, stage scenery, or bodily expression. Those taking part will be Jeanne Baldwin, Inez Royer, Marie Miller, Sara Mae Williams, and Helen Stover.

Doctor William C. Heaston

(Friend and Benefactor)

Dr. R. E. Mohler

Doctor William Chamlis Heaston became, officially, the college physician some twenty years ago, but in reality he has been college physician since his arrival in McPherson in 1908.

It was often said of Dr. Heaston, a man of great enthusiasm and energy, that he was not happy unless he was doing at least the work of two men. Those who knew him best and worked closest to him concur fully with the above statement.

His first interest was his profession, and in it he attained wide recognition. He was truly a "country doctor", but this did not stand in his way of State and National honors, as is proved by his appointment to a fellow in the American College of Surgeons.

Doctor Heaston's interests were many. He loved young people, McPherson College, and the ideals for which it stood. He seldom missed a musical concert on the campus, and for him to miss an athletic event was a sign that someone was ill or that someone was suffering whose pain he could relieve.

In his home Doctor Heaston was a gracious host, and many were the students, faculty members, and friends who shared its hospitality. In the passing of Doctor Heaston McPherson College has lost a true friend and benefactor.

As a symbol of his interest in the college one has only to step into the office of the President or Dean and view the lovely furniture and fixtures of either office, both recent gifts of the Doctor.

To a few of his close friends Doctor Heaston was affectionately known as "Champ", but to most of his friends he will always be remembered as Doctor Heaston; the one who helped them first to see the light of day (he counted as "his babies" more than 5,000 citizens of McPherson and the surrounding community), the one who eased their pains, and through a smile and reassuring word sent them on their way rejoicing.

In the passing of Doctor Heaston there died a great man, but though he is no longer living his life goes on; and who is there that is not happy that it was a privilege to know this dear man, our Friend and Benefactor.

Fine Arts Revue Reveals Special Student Talent

Della Lehman

The Fine Arts Revue presented in the college chapel Monday night under the direction of Prof. Roland Piasterer was a unique experience for participants and members of the audience. The artistic effects were evidently the result of many careful rehearsals under expert supervision.

James Staats' organ solo, "Bach's Toccata and Fugue in D Minor" opened the program. Mr. Staats proved himself a master of technique and interpretation. Seldon has the college chapel resounded to such stirring chords as those of the "Rhapsody for Organ and Piano," by Demarest played by Bonnie Alexander at the piano and James Staats at the organ.

The thrilled expectancy with which the audience awaited each subsequent scene in the "Ten Tableaux on Man" was indicative of their appreciation of Reza Mofarrah's wonderful muscular control and impressive effects. The series of living pictures and the pantomimes representing great moods and attitudes in the life of man brought new appreciation for the Iranian's ability.

The duo-pianists, Gordon Stutzman and Max Shank, gave a sparkling rendition of "Mardi Gras" by Groffe. From first to last, their synchronization proved their mastery of interpretation.

Perhaps the "piece de resistance" of the program was the dramatized version of "Faust." By many music critics, "Faust" is considered the most nearly perfect of all operas.

Since the theme of "Faust" is universal, it was fitting that it was given in modern dress. Many of those present were pleasantly surprised that amateurs could give so beautiful, so polished a production as they were privileged to see and hear Monday night. Magnificent in the part of Marguerite, Florence Messick gives great promise for the future. Kenneth Graham, as Faust and Vernon Nicholson, as Mephistopheles, had roles which gave their rich voices full opportunity. As Valentino, Gilford Kenberry revealed new facets in his singing and acting ability.

All four gave a very beautiful and impressive production. This was a program worthy of the talents and efforts of the members of a fine arts department.

The World Is Full Of Josephs

Roy McAuley

We are led to believe that at least one disciple of Jesus was not jubilant at the victory over death, whose season we are now celebrating. That man was Joseph of Arimathea, "who was a disciple, but secretly..."

Joseph apparently believed that Jesus was the Messiah, that he had salvation to offer, that His way of life was the best way; but because of the society in which he lived he wanted no one else to know of his connections. How disappointed he must have been when he gazed at the empty tomb and thought, "At the time he needed me most, I remained silent—and because of that I cannot share in his victory."

This world, yes, and college, is full of such Josephs. Men and women and boys and girls who know what the Christian approval to life is, what attitudes should be, how certain situations should be met, are not willing to raise a voice because of fear of ridicule which society often brings on Christian leaders.

Surely we must take stock of values in life. The most important thing in life is not social acceptance, but eternal salvation. Christian young men and women, if you believe in Jesus Christ, don't be a Joseph of Arimathea! Let the world know you are a child of God by your thoughts, your actions, your approvals, and your disapprovals.

Stuff your nylon unmentionables, sheets and towels and maybe a couple of blouses to fill out the load in a washing machine and come back when the washing process is completed. Not only does it save time, it saves manures and preserves smooth baby skin on the hands.

Where, Oh, Where Are Our Wandering Books?

The last few weeks we have been working on the inventory of the books in the library. It is very disheartening to find so many of the books missing from the shelves and to have no record of their being checked out.

The only conclusion at which we can arrive is that students are taking the books and magazines from the stacks without signing the cards. Perhaps it is carelessness on your part, and you intend to return the books. But in many cases it seems intentional with no idea of ever returning them.

We try hard to serve you the best we can with the limited resources of our small library; but if the books continue to disappear, this service will be curtailed. Some of you have had the experience of wanting a certain book only to find that it is missing.

Many times calls come to the desk for material on a certain subject. A particular book comes to mind, and we are certain that it will answer the question. We search in the stacks, we look in the circulation file, we look to see whether it is on reserve, only to find that it seemingly has dissolved into thin air.

New books have been placed on the shelves at a cost of from four to ten dollars each. They are good books, and we feel that many students will find them useful. It is very disappointing to go to the stacks a few days or weeks later and find them gone.

We know that you can easily enter the front door of the library, go to the stacks, and then go out again without our knowing it. It is easy to use a reference book in the reading room and carry it out among other books. Do you think it is smart to get by with such actions? Or do you think it unfair or dishonest or selfish?

Some libraries have doorkeepers to check the books of every student as they enter and leave the building. We have not thought seriously of doing this because it would mean the expenditure of extra time and money that could otherwise be used to improve the service of the library. It will not be necessary if we have the cooperation of all the students.

Please, look among your books and see if you have one that belongs to the library. Your theme is probably finished now, or you have handed in that reading report, and you will have no further use for the book. Return it, please. Other students may need the book.

Sincerely,
Your Librarian
Virginia Harris.

For the past two weeks various music groups have been making high school visitation trips to promote McPherson College.

With Mr. Ira N. H. Brammell serving as Master of Ceremonies, McPherson College gave a musical program at McPherson High School Friday, March 3. The Ladies' Trio, Florene Messick, Marilee Grove, Anita Rogers, accompanied by Helen Stover, sang several numbers. Also on the program were Rowena Neher with a marimba solo, and Vernon Nicholson singing a baritone solo.

The Ladies' Quartet of Naomi Mankey, Phyllis Bowman, Ruth Crumpacker, and Claudia Jo Stump accompanied by Betty Ann Murrey, made several trips last week.

Gina Munda gave a speech at a Menonite Mother-Daughter banquet in Buhler, Saturday, March 4.

Dr. Burton Metzler attended a council meeting at Scott City Sunday. Wilda Mianik went with him to visit her parents.

Nelda Baldner, Betty Ann Murrey, and Rosemary Traxler visited Rowena Neher in her home at Quinter last weekend. Others who went to Quinter were Bonnie Alexander, Elvin Wolf, Irwin Porter, and James Garvey.

Lorene Clark went to Wellington, Kansas, March 7 to see her sister in the senior play "A Murder Has Been Arranged."

Pattie Bittinger and Colleen Doyle drove to Carbondale to see Irvan Stern last Friday. Margaret Daggert accompanied them as far as her home at Lone Star.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McAuley had as Sunday dinner guests Miss Edna Neher, Mrs. E. E. Bowers, John Firestone, and Vernon Nicholson.

"Mental Health of Children" was the topic of Dean Luther Warren's speech to the PTA members of Washington Elementary School on March 1.

Gall and Dale Solder, Eleanor Stine, and Doris Roesch went to Derby, Kansas, Sunday to visit their uncle Eldon Spider.

Take Shopping Trips

Out-of-town shoppers Saturday include Ilene Weaver, Darlene Weaver, JoAnn Brubaker, Geneva Krehbiel, Miss Virginia Harris, Mrs. E. E. Bowers, Miss Della Hoerner, and Miss Edna Neher who spent the day in Hutchinson.

In Wichita Saturday were Ellis Albricht, Chuck Patefish, Miriam Keim, Ann Carpenter, Donna Sooby, Anita Rogers, and Bob Sooby.

Clara Domann's parents took Clara, Mildred Beck, and Betty Jo Baker to Salina for a shopping trip.

Martha Franz, Galen Webb, Royce Beam, Clara Domann, Jeanne Baldwin, and Harry Heckethorne went to Wichita Friday to see "Keys to the City." After the show Martha went to Conway Springs to visit her parents.

Peggy Whitfield, Shirley Elliot, and Gregory Simms visited Sara Mae Williams last Friday.

Sines Of Sprig

The old man named Winter always is called upon to bow out before his time when the calendar comes around to March. The basis for this assumption is the number of omens of Spring that are being seen.

In line with this view, this Journalist (?) will go out on the proverbial limb and state without doubt that Spring will come as usual this year, coal strike or not.

I base my conclusions on the following authorities and bits of evidence:

Little boys flying kites

The first, second, and third Robin.

The Sun's rays disturbing the peaceful classroom slumber of both instructor and pupil.

Young couples going violet hunting in the park after dark.

The ambitious gardener spading his garden.

The ambitious fisherman watching above gardener to see if he turns up any fishworms.

That last March Blizzard.

High winds.

Ad last had nod lead the code in de head.

If these predictions are not true I will publicly eat a hamburger, with onions, the same supplied by the challenger; in front of Sharp Hall at high noon.

Uncle Sam Has His Day

Everyone has his day and next Wednesday is Uncle Sam's. Yes, Wednesday is March 15—the day all income tax from the preceding year is due.

All Mac students are reminded to send in their returns. After all you may have a refund coming! Some students have received and spent theirs about as quickly as they filled out the return. As one boy said, "It was a lot easier to spend the money than it was to make out the papers."

MacCollege students must remember that the government will always get its money. Just recently an event in Wichita proved this.

Screams for help coming from a house on North Hillside caused a passing pedestrian to rush to the door and offer his services. A distracted mother explained that her little son had just swallowed a quarter. The stranger grabbed the child by the feet, lifted him into the air, and shook him vigorously. In a moment the coin dropped out of the child's mouth. The relieved mother was profuse in her thanks.

"Doctor, how lucky it was for us that you happened by just at this instant. You certainly know how to get it out of him."

"But, madam," replied the stranger, "I am not a doctor. I am with the Internal Revenue Bureau."

And so it may seem that the bureau always gets its money. Some local students wonder if it is sporting of the government to jump on an income when it is down.

One professor on Macampus was asked what he was going to give up this year. "Two hundred and fifty dollars income tax," he answered.

Certainly all Mac students know better than the woman who attached the following note to her return: "As best I can make out there will be no income tax due from me this year; but I notice I am entitled to $400 for each of my children. I have seven. When I get the $2,800!"

Deforpch Places Two On All Star List; Wareham Most Valuable Player

Deforpch completed their conquest of the 1950 McPherson College intramural basketball league by placing two men on the all-star team as selected by the twelve teams in the league.

Undefeated winner of league play and easy victor in the post-season tournament, Deforpch was honored by their rivals by having Carrol Tillman, the brawny senior two year Deforpch veteran, and Charlie Petefish, the stoop-shouldered sophomore stylist from Cedar Rapids, Ia., placed on the all-league first five.

Wareham was unanimously choice of every rival he went up against. Playing coach of the Characters, Wareham made a mediocre team into a first division outfit that threw scares into the three top teams.

Seidel's position was a tribute to his fine defensive play and great clutch playing because he was not one of the league's really top scorers.

While Wareham was a unanimous all-star choice, his nomination as most valuable player in the league received surprisingly stiff opposition from Brunner, Petefish and Tillman.

Tillman

Petefish

Even those who did not vote for Wareham will probably admit he was the logical choice. He topped the league in scoring with 206 points, a 36-point margin over his nearest rival. Probably his scoring does not even indicate his true worth. As a defensive rebounder he was unexcelled, and he consistently kept a mediocre team in the thick of every game.

On the second team with Lowrey and Hicks were Don Stevens, the portly set shot and captain of the Preying Eight; Delmar Seneker, number two scorer in the league for the Wildcats; and Don St. Clair, the stubby freshman defensive ace of the Imps of Satan.

There were eight other men who placed on the honorable mention list besides Ward, Bruns, Dorsch, and Burkholder.

They were Howard Melinger, chairman floorman of the Gunners; Harry Heckethorn, top scorer and leading foulster in the league of the Little Jewels; Ronny Sullivan, who averaged 14.5 points per game for the Preying Eight; Jerry Neher, the six foot four inch center of the Gunners; Bill Tolle, jump shot artist of the Imps of Satan; Bill Frantz, dependable of the last place Sad Sacks; Harold Smith, a consistent player for the Student Ministers; and Dean Coughenour, who led the league in scoring average with 17.2 points per game although he played but five games.

The champions also placed two other men—seniors John Ward and Wendell Burkholder—on the honorable mention list.

Dutch Goering '41 Gets Salina High Coaching Spot

With the appointment of Raymond L. (Dutch) Goering '41 as head football coach at Salina High School, a McPherson College alumnae takes over one of the college prep coaching assignments in Kansas.

Goering was appointed to the position Tuesday after the resignation of Peter Philippi, grid mentor at Salina since 1938. Goering had served as freshman coach at the Salina County school since 1946 after an earlier apprenticeship at Holley, Colo., high school.

Goering, who captained the 1940 Bulldog outfit, had the reputation of being one of the gutsiest players in MC history. He played the entire 1939 season under P. W. (Buck) Astle with his left arm strapped tight to his body after a complicated shoulder injury.

In taking over his assignment Goering draws one of the real plums in Kansas high school circles. The Maroons are perennially the Central Kansas League champion, and in recent years have emerged as one of the state's consistently powerful teams.

Dick Wareham

... Most Valuable

Boys placed only one player—freshman Les Brunner—on the first group, they had their complete starting lineup receive some mention.

John Kieblers' squad placed the snail-quick, front court veteran Lawrence Lowrey, and the loop's third top scorer, Bill Hicks, on the second team. Guard Gerald Dorsch and center Herb Bruns received honorable mention.

Along with Petefish, Tillman and Brunner on the first team were Dick Wareham of the Characters and Bill Seidel, the Illinois freshman tip-in ace of the Preying Eight.

B-Squad Finishes With 9-9 Record

Four last minute defeats kept coach Dick Wareham's Bulldog junior varsity basketball quiet from compiling an outstanding 1950 record, but still the B-squad finished with a 9-9 won and lost mark, one of the top figures earned by a Bulldog organization in some time.

Wareham's outfit, composed strictly of freshmen and sophomores at the end of the season, ran into one three game streak which they lost every contest yet showed but a six points deficit.

Playing with the six men on the eastern swing, through the Kansas Conference, the young Bulldogs lost to Baker Jan. 20 by one point, succumbed to Ottawa the next night by two points in an overtime, and then dropped the first Kansas Wesleyan preliminary by three points.

They later gained sweet revenge for the later defeat when they smothered the league champions' B-squad 72-50 on the Salina court.

Paul Heidebrecht, the shy southpaw freshman from McPherson High School, topped the jv's in scoring with an even 200 points in 18 games—an eleven point plus clip.

Frank Hanagarne and Bob Bechtel followed the scoring list with 162 and 136 points respectively. Following them were Bill Moore-130, Rollie Delay-128, Dave Metzler-39, Charlie Lindberg-33, and Duane Jamison-18.

Hardacre Plans Intramural Track Meet March 31

Coach Forrest M. (Frosty) Hardacre has announced that with reasonable interest an intramural track meet will be held March 31.

If response is great enough the meet will be held on an intracampus basis. As the regular season does not start until April all varsity track candidates will be eligible to participate in the affair.

Hardacre also strongly urged all potential varsity aspirants to report immediately for workouts in the gym until weather permits regular practice.

Probably not even a Beacon Hill Bostoner is as hypocritical as a sportswriter faced with the prospect of summing-up the record of a losing team. Everybody recognizes the familiar leer: "Although our record was not very good, we had a team of sportsmen and hustlers who struck fear in the hearts of every opponent."

It's corny stuff, and in mirroring the McPherson College Bulldog's 1950 basketball record of three wins and 18 losses we are going to try to forget it.

Rightly or wrongly sportsmanship is no longer considered a basis for a successful season. And in respect of some real hustlers we have seen, it is impossible to say that McPherson College had a group who hustled constantly.

However, we are not a bit abashed to say that the Bulldogs did have a better team than their 3-18 record would indicate. For the better of the season they did strike the familiar "fear in their opponents' hearts."

After the addition of big Loren Bickenstaff Jan. 20, the Bulldogs righted themselves to a team that, if it wasn't a conference power, was at least a team that belonged to the Kansas Conference instead of the Church Junior League.

The Bulldogs undoubtedly reached their peak when they performed in the top upset of the whole loop season as they downed Baker 54-49 Feb. 4. That game not only zenthed the Bulldog's season but proved they had a complete squad to go with the bouncing Mr. Bickenstaff.

When they were at their top, the Bulldogs were alternating Bickenstaff, captain Lyle Goering, Dale Carpenter, Glenn Pyle, Earl Grindle and Bob Odle in the lineup. Earlier in the season Gene Arnold performed effectively and freshman Bob Bechtel added regular practice.

For most of us ice-skating is a sedentary sport.
