

Economy Debate Tourney To Be Here Saturday

Tomorrow MacCollege will be host to twenty or more debate teams in the annual McPherson College Economy Debate Tournament.

Teams from, Bethel, Hayes, Kansas University, Southwestern College, Ark City Junior College, Hutchinson Junior College, Carnaby, Neb., and McPherson College have tentatively enrolled for the tournament. All the MacCollege teams will enter the tourney.

A new feature of this tournament will be the method of announcing decisions. Rather than the decisions being announced at the close of the tournament, each judge will announce his decision to the teams at the close of each debate and offer criticisms.

Each of the schools is to bring one judge for every two teams that it brings.

MacCollege students will serve as timekeepers for the debates. A schedule for interested students to sign is on the bulletin boards. The public is invited to the debates.

Coaches, debaters, and teams will meet in the chapel at 8:30 a. m. The four rounds of debate begin at 9:00 a. m., 10:30 a. m., 1:30 p. m., and 3:00 p. m.

The question for debate is the National Phi Kappa Delta question. "Resolved: That the Federal Government should adopt a permanent program of wage and price control."

Sargent Speaks In Chapel

Paul Sargent, president of the Peoples State Bank, spoke in assembly Jan. 7 about the banking business.

Mr. Sargent stated that a person needs ambition, loyalty, and honesty in any business. A banker must be honest and have no affection of other people's money.

"Banking offers opportunities for women as well as men. There are 96 women bank presidents today," stated Mr. Sargent.

Paul Sargent graduated from MacCollege in 1924. His daughter, Peggy, is a junior this year.

Tracey Appointed As Rotary Governor

Jay Tracey of Rocky Ford, Colo., has been notified that he will be the next governor of the Rotary District 169 and will represent this district at the International convention to be held in Mexico City.

Mr. Tracey graduated from MacCollege with the class of 1922.

March Of Dimes Not A Charity

The March of Dimes is not a charity. It is a voluntary movement by the American people aimed at ridding the world of one of its greatest scourges—polio.

Polio is one of the world's most expensive diseases to treat. The iron lungs, braces and long hospitalization often involved in polio treatment are beyond the financial reach of four out of five of all those who are stricken.

The March of Dimes comes to the patient's aid, not giving alms—but as part of its aim to fight the disease whenever and wherever it is found.

The March of Dimes represents help freely given by all Americans for the benefit of those particular Americans who have suffered the accident of polio.

Faculty Discusses Grading Scale

"What does the grade of C mean?" faculty members asked each other at their meeting on Dec. 14 as they discussed the grading system at McPherson College.

The catalog definition, "C—indicates that the work has been of good average quality," was the conclusion reached.

A study prepared by the Registrar's Office to show the number of grades of each rank given by each instructor, department, and division for the first nine weeks, 1951-52, was presented for faculty consideration.

Faculty members suggested calling to the attention of the student body the following section on Scale of Grading in the catalog:

A—indicates high honor and is reserved for very distinguished work.

B—indicates very good work of much more than average quality.

C—indicates that the work has been of good average quality.

D—indicates that the work has been the lowest in quality that will enable the student to pass the course.

Bethel College Is Granted European Tour

Bethel College is among the Mennonite church colleges that will be included in a trip to Europe during the summer months.

They will visit six or eight countries in Europe, and the group will participate in the International Work Camp program.

The group will also attend the World Mennonite Conference at Basel, Switzerland.

Naylor Will Speak At Birthday Dinner

The Rev. Kurtis Naylor, pastor of the Denver Church of the Brethren, will be the guest speaker at the annual birthday dinner Jan. 27 in the McPherson Church of the Brethren. The dinner will climax the School of Missions which began Jan. 2.

The School of Missions theme is Latin America. Classes are held each Thursday evening for all age groups and Sunday evening programs are planned to fit into the program.

Prof. Raymond Flory is teaching the adult group; Mr. and Mrs. John Colyn and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ranek, the youth group; Mr. and Mrs. George Klem and Mr. and Mrs. David Metzler, the Juniors.

Mrs. K. C. Bechtel and Mrs. Knackstedt are teaching the primary group and Peggy Sargent, Velva Wagner, and JoAnn Bowman, the nursery group.

The college CYBF is in charge of the supper Jan. 10. The boys scouts will have charge Jan. 17 and the young married people, Jan. 24.

A movie, "Let There Be Light," will be presented Sunday evening Jan. 12. "Wings to the Word" will be shown Jan. 20.

The first meeting of the School of Missions was held Jan. 3. The Women's Council was in charge of the meal.

The Rev. Harry K. Zeller, Jr. stated that students wishing to attend the Thursday evening supper should contact him.

The missionary committee is Dick Wareham, Mrs. D. W. Bittlinger, and Mrs. Merle Whitmore.

Brethren Youth Seminar Held February 4-7

Brethren Youth Seminar for all interested youth will be held in Washington, D. C., Feb. 4-7. The purpose of this seminar is to help young people become acquainted with government and find their Christian responsibility as citizens.

Deadline for registration is Jan. 18. Three dollars advance lodging and $1.25 for registration should be sent to the National Youth Office, 22 South State St., Elgin, Ill.

More information on the conference itself and on the cost may be found on the bulletin board in Sharp Hall.

If you are interested contact Virginia Royer or Gerald Neher.

Dear Proctor

I wish I were a proctor and could with a proctor stand.
At 10:30 (p. m.) by the bathroom door
With a point book in my hand.
I wouldn't be a noisemaker
For the noisemakers get the sting;
I'd rather be a proctor
And say "sh" to everything.

Most Mac Freshmen Want Christian Education

The freshman of MacCollege have a high opinion of this college according to excerpts of their orientation themes read in chapel Jan. 9 by Dean Berkebile. The themes entitled "What I Expect to Get From McPherson College" showed that most of the freshmen want a Christian education.

Second on the list was vocational training and an opportunity to select a vocation.

The students seemed to like the friendliness of the students and faculty members of Macampus.

Most freshmen found their ideas broadening and changing during the first nine weeks "orientation period."

A Cappella Choir To Give Concert

The A Cappella Choir has begun work on the annual concert which will be given Feb. 29 in the chapel.

The program will include a "Tribute to Sigmund Romberg" and "Les Preludes" by Liszt.

Donald R. Frederick, professor of music, is director of the choir.

Beck Has Vacation From Studies

Mildred Beck, junior from Nickerson, Kas., is quarantined in the nurse's quarters in Arnold Hall with the measles. Miss Beck stated this morning that she "felt fine." The red-haired home economics major came down with the disease on Tuesday.

Any choir members desiring points for acting in the opera may apply for them, provided it is done very soon.

Faculty Starts New Year Right

The Mac Symphony Orchestra climaxed the Jan. 2 chapel program presented by the faculty of the McPherson music department. The orchestra consisted of Prof. D. R. Frederick, soprano; Prof. Paul V. Soltenberger, clarinet and flauto; Delbert Crabb, trumpet; Miss Doris Coppock, trombone; Prof. K. C. Bechtel, violin and clarinet; and Mrs. D. R. Frederick, piano.

The group played "A Concerto for a One Armed Paper-Hanger" by Schallbeck and a march, "Stop."

The Spectator

Jerry Neher will advance from the Managing Editor position of the Spectator to the position of Editor-in-Chief beginning the second semester.

Dr. Fahrney Slifer Gives Present Name To College Annual

"What will you think of first when you look back at your MacCollege days? You'll get a mental picture of the physical setting of the campus."

Thirty-one years ago Fahrney Slifer, now a McPherson osteopath, submitted his suggestion of a name for the MacCollege annual with those thoughts.

After several years of a new annual name each year, there was agitation among the student body to select a permanent name for the annual.

The Student Council invited students to submit suggestions for a permanent name. Of the many names submitted, the Student Council selected six to be voted upon by the entire student body.

The author of each of the names appeared before chapel and explained why he thought his would be the best name.

Appearing last of the six, Dr. Slifer, then a student, told a joke fitting to the occasion and then presented the name "Quadrangle" to describe the four-cornered shape of the campus.

Dr. Slifer admits that he borrowed the idea from his own high school, which called its annual "Triangle" because of its three-cornered campus.

The first MacCollege yearbook, the "Dandelion," was published by the junior class in 1911. The editor, Walter Thompson (dec.), later received an honorary degree from MacCollege, and he was a teacher at Leland Stanford University.

Volume II, called "M C Spirit," was published by the Student Council in 1917. J. Estel Jones, now a high school teacher in Fresno, Calif., was its editor.

In 1920 the Student Council published Volume III, known as "Life and Light." Roy C. Frantz, now manager of an ice and locker plant in Conway Springs, was editor.

The permanent name of "Quadrangle" appeared with Volume IV in 1921. The editor was Alice Burkholder, who is now Mrs. Claire E. Allan, San Diego. She is a sister of Charles Burkholder of McPherson.

The Student Council has published an annual every year since then except 1923. Because of shortage of funds, that year was included in the annual of 1924. This year's "Quadrangle" will be the thirty-fourth volume of MacCollege yearbooks.

Oklahoma Accepts McCann As Med Student

Beryl McCann, MacCollege senior has recently been accepted at the Oklahoma University of Medicine. Beryl took his examination on December 28, 1951, and will start to school in September of this year.

Papa Chosen Campus Editor

Ruth Papa will be the Campus Editor of the Spectator second semester. She was chosen for this position by the Student Council. Eighteen year old Ruth Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Papa, Octavia, Neb., is a freshman at MacCollege.

Ruth is a member of the Women's Council and an active member of W.A.S.C.A. and Pep Club. She is working on a 60-hour teacher's certificate which will enable her to do elementary teaching.

Her interest in journalism began when Ruth took journalism her senior year at Schuyler High School, in Nebraska, and worked on the "Tom-Tom," the school newspaper. This semester Ruth has been taking Reporting, which includes writing for the Spectator, and intends to take Editing next semester.

Ruth has three brothers and three sisters and likes the colors blue and grey which go well with her blue eyes and blond hair. Her favorite hobby is cooking, especially making apple pie.

Ruth decided to come to MacCollege when Kent Naylor, 1947 Mac graduate and summer pastor of the Octavia Church of the Brethren in 1950, told her of the opportunities and fellowship she could receive here.

Next year first semester Ruth will be Managing Editor of the Spec, and second semester she will be Editor-in-Chief.

Many Attend Recreation Lab

The Central Region Church of the Brethren Recreation Laboratory met at Manchester College, Manchester, Ind. Dec. 26, 1951 to Jan. 1, 1952. Professor S. M. Dell, June Blough, Jake Sheaffer, Glendon Button, Virginia Royer, volunteer worker in the Regional office, and Elsie Kindley, represented MacCollege at the conference.

Prof. Dell, June, Elsie and Harold Lobrents started for Manchester 7:30 a. m. Christmas morning, picking Jake and Glendon up on the way. They attended the Dell Christmas dinner at Beatrice, Neb., and spent the night at Lois Dell's, sister to Prof. Dell, at Des Moines, Iowa.

Director of the Laboratory was Edythe Weaver from the Chicago Church of the Brethren, who was also in charge of leather work. Bob Tully from Blomington, Ind., who is working on his Ph. D. at the University of Ind., was in charge of the games. Textile painting was taught by Ginny Royer. Prof. Dell had charge of candle making, plastics, and kalleidoscope making. Raymond Carlson, outstanding campaign specialist in America, was at the laboratory for one day of camping.

One of the events enjoyed by all was Family Day. Glendon and Elsie portrayed 13-year old twins, Dean and Jean, in the Daniel Boone family. Jake belonged to the Ford family and answered to the name of "Wood T. June" was a member of the Potato family, "Sweet Tator", by the name. Ginny belonged to the Hawthorne family.

Hikes, worship, fellowship and fun were on the agenda for all those who attended the laboratory. A finishing touch was added by the New Year's Eve party which closed at midnight with a worship service. The group returned to Mac at 3:30 a. m. Jan. 2, 1952.

Three years ago the Recreational Laboratory was held at New Windsor, Md., who now carry on a separate laboratory of their own. Last year the group met on MacCollege Campus with Prof. Dell as Director. Manchester College has voted to carry on a Rec Lab of their own starting next year. MacCollege has had a weaker work shop for the past three years.

Supper To Begin Merry Mac Meet

The Merry Macs, MacCollege married student organization will meet tonight at 6 p. m. in the social parlors of the local YMCA.

The group will have a pot-luck supper at that time. After the meal, the group will preview a 40 minute comic movie.

Following the movie, there will be a period of swimming and volleyball.

The director asks that all married students come for the evening of entertainment, recreation and fun together.

Harris Is Called Home By Father's Illness

Miss Virginia Harris, MacCollege librarian, was called for her home in Jennings, La., Tuesday by the serious illness of her father, Mr. R. M. Harris.

Her brother, Glenn Harris, Jennings, is a trustee of the college.

God's Living Letters

Ed. Note—Mr. Kirby Page, noted speaker from California, has written a series entitled, "God's Living Letters." Mr. Page has sold to newspapers the right to print them beginning in January. Through the kindness of Mr. Page the Spectator will print the series regularly free of charge. We hope you will be inspired by his series.

A blind astronomer was describing for us the portion of the heavens which we were seeing through the big telescope. The glass was turned to the rings of Saturn and we listened to an explanation.

Our guide through the starry firmament was Dr. Edwin Frost, Director of the Yerkes Observatory at Williams Bay, Wisconsin.

From childhood he had poor vision. The loss of his right eye came about twenty years before his death. In another five years a cataract closed his left eye, leaving him with three percent vision, and soon he was confined within the realm of physical darkness.

Yet he continued at his post for more than a decade. Night after night with the assistance of a league and the help of a vivid memory, he examined remote points in celestial space.

Dr. Frost's extraordinary memory was the result of much practice. Being warned in advance of impending blindness he concentrated on the development of this faculty. From dark to daylight, month after month, he had spent the hours in full exposure to the night. There was much to be seen. So vast is the great nebula of Andromeda that light takes 50,000 years to cross it, and so far away that its light requires a million years to reach us.

The total number of stars in the entire universe has been estimated at 10,000 million-million-million!

In the words of Immanuel Kant, Dr. Frost could cry out: "We are living in a world which is but a little island of the known, washed on every shore by the vast waters of the unknown."

He was filled with holy awe by immensity, distance, precision and beauty. A deeply religious man by training and experience, he could testify, in Longfellow's words: "From the cool cisterns of the midnight air my spirit drank repose; the fountains of perpetual peace flows there,—from those deep cisterns flows."

A Worth-While Program

Macollege is different than most universities and state colleges. There is one particular way in which it is different.

In 1948 Dick Wareham came to Macollege to teach in the physical education field. Dick found the situation "good, but not good enough." From that time on he began to build up the intramural activities.

Dick started intramural volleyball. Last season 147 students regularly participated. There is a great response and Dick feels it is because of the values received from the participation.

The program's objective is: to give the student recreation and relaxation; to develop his leadership abilities; to help maintain good healthful habits; and to afford good social contacts and fellowship.

Our intramural setup is reaching the majority of students, creating better relations between students, faculty, races and married students. Indeed it is a most worthwhile program.

Dick Wareham is to be congratulated for his work as director of intramural activities for the intense interest he has for the program and students.

The intramural program itself is an opportunity that all Macollege students have. Here there is not individual distinction. Let's all take an interest in our program and go along with Dick as he plans for a more varied intramural program in the future.—D. T. F.

A Need For Cooperation

If a student wishes to have an extra curricular activity that he would enjoy, and that would be of help to the school, the Spec staff is the place for him.

Not only does the student earn credit, and learn a lot about the newspaper business, but he has social contacts as well.

The first thing the staff learns to do is to cooperate. For a successful paper not only the staff must work together, but the student body and the faculty must work with them.

If there is criticism, I would say that the students and faculty do not cooperate as fully with the Spec staff as possible. If only WE were conscious of the need for full cooperation the Spec would be a better school paper.

There are perhaps three things that I learned as I served as editor.

1. There is a great opportunity for students to have fun and do something worthwhile. Join the Spec staff and see.

2. There is a need for full cooperation between the Spec staff, students, and faculty members. If you know any news let the staff know of it.

3. There is a need of sincere evaluation of the Spec. Judge only after you have found the story behind the story. The next issue will find Jerry Neher as its head. If WE want a good Spec, worthy of Macollege, then let us cooperate with him next semester.—Don Ford.

This Fight Is Yours

The March of Dimes campaign is underway. Never before has the need been greater. The past year found this dreaded disease close by us and we shall not forget the feeling as we heard of it coming closer.

There were a number in McPherson County afflicted, and at least two died of the disease. Are we going to stand by doing nothing?

No? Then let us contribute wholeheartedly to the 1952 campaign. Let us prevent another 1950-51 epidemic—one that reached a peak of over 33 thousand cases.

The fight is yours.—D. T. F.

Betty Is Busy As School Nurse

The ring probably most often worn in Arnold Hall is that of Betty Byers, college nurse. Betty, who is also a student, is majoring in biology and will graduate at the end of the first semester next year.

Before coming to Macollege, Betty graduated from the University of Maryland as a Registered Nurse and worked for two years in the John Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore.

Her home town is Hagerstown, Md. Her father has been a railroad foreman for 34 years. Betty has three brothers, two of them younger than she. The two older brothers have graduated from Juniata and the younger brother is still in high school.

For three summers, Betty was camp nurse in Camp Peniel, Thurmont, Md.

Nursing hasn't been the only vocation she has tried. Before going into nurse's training, she worked as a secretary in a bank. The president of the bank later became the governor of Maryland.

Let no feeling of discouragement prey upon you, and in the end you are sure to succeed.—Abraham Lincoln.

Macollege Has Home Base Stone

By Don Ford

Scotland has its "Blarney Stone" and West Point has its "Kissing Rock."

Macollege is not to be outdone by these famous traditional stones. We have on the campus a stone that has both Tradition and Symbolism.

The stone I refer to is found on the east side of Kline Hall under the southernmost clothes line.

Have you noticed it? True, this stone is not as large as the "Kissing Rock" nor as beautiful as the "Blarney Stone" but it is a remnant of Macollege's past.

This stone one time was used as a home base for a Macollege baseball team—indeed, practically all the students at that time used the field for recreation.

This was before Kline, Harnly, and Frantz Halls were built. The outfield was to the northwest or towards Harnly Hall.

This stone of ours is Traditional of the age of the college, of its progress and present stability.

It is a symbol of the Wholesome activity that Macollege has stood for since its beginning.

Let Scotland have its "Blarney Stone" and West Point, its "Kissing Rock." We have the "Home Base Stone."

Isaac Crillo Survives Boat Trip, Now At Mac

Isaac Crillo, Macollege's most recent international student, survived (without a trace of seasickness) a 22-day boat trip from Nigeria to Philadelphia, and arrived on campus following the Christmas holidays.

The 21-year-old African student has enrolled in a pre-engineering curriculum here, and intends to pursue a four-year course. Following graduation from McPherson College, Isaac plans to take two years of study elsewhere then return to his native land and people.

Before coming to the United States, Isaac attended the Baptist Academy in Lagos, his home city (pop. 130,000) and capital of Nigeria. He first became interested in attending Macollege through the encouragement of a friend. He is a member of the Church of England.

Isaac is the fourth child in a family of 13, and a member of the Yoruba tribe. His father is an accountant for the British government.

Isaac lists no specific hobbies, but he enjoys reading the classics, and wants to learn to play the piano. He says that he knows very little about the instrument, "but," he says, "I feel that I have music in me and I would like to bring it out." His primary academic interest is science.

First impressions of the States and of Macampus have been favorable, according to Isaac, who stated that he expected to encounter considerable racial discrimination. He has especially appreciated the attitude which he found, and the Christian atmosphere of the college.

Cold weather, ice, and snow are new to Isaac, who comes from a land with a temperate climate. In his country there are two seasons, the wet and the dry. The dry season extends from November to

May. From May to July there are heavy rains. A short dry period exists from July to mid-September, followed by a six week rainy spell.

Three words sum up the newcomer's attitude about the States, Kansas, and Macollege. "I like it."

Girl Scouts Burn Christmas Trees On Twelfth Night

When the Wise Men visited Jesus, they brought gifts to the Babe, in his manger. Today this event is celebrated by the Twelfth Night Ceremonies. Some people exchange their gifts on this night, instead of on Christmas Eve. In most places, it marks the end of the Christmas Holiday, and is celebrated by the burning of the Christmas trees.

This would seem to mean sadness and a little bit of melancholy, but not for some of our Macollege students. For Sunday night, Jan. 6, there were free coffee, doughnuts and cocoa for anyone who wanted them.

It was a result of too much refreshment for the Girl Scouts of McPherson, who were celebrating Twelfth Night holiday, by burning Christmas trees.

The behavior of those with whom we come in contact is a mirror reflecting our own personality.—Karl Seaton.

Hall-Miller, Murrey-Porter Married During Xmas Holidays

Hall-Miller

Miss Frances Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hall of Richmond, Mo., and Mr. Bryce Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Miller of Wichita, Kas., were united in marriage at 2:30 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, Dec. 16, at the New Hope Church, east of Millville, Missouri.

The Rev. Robert Kelm of Chicago, read the double ring ceremony in a setting of many lighted tapers in tall candelabra and arrangements of gladioli, chrysanthemums, asters and evergreen. The altar rail was decorated with evergreen and centering the wall back of the pulpit was a cross of peach gladioli on evergreen.

At each window of the church was a branch of evergreen from which hung three silver bells.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Winona Gentry Marshall preceding the ceremony and she also accompanied Mrs. Orylita Penny who sang "Indian Love Call," and at the close of the ceremony, Malottes "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Penny were attired in navy blue and wore pink carnation corsages.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin styled with a sweetheart neckline long tapering sleeves and a very full skirt which lengthened into a train. Her fingertip veil fell from a tiara of pearls and she carried a bouquet of lavender chrysanthemums centered with a white orchid and white streamers.

Mrs. Wiford Clemens of Kansas City, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a sleeveless lavender gown. Her bouquet was of pastel chrysanthemums.

Brenda Clemens was flower girl. She wore a lime green satin gown with apron effect skirt with piped ruffles, and tiny satin covered buttons down the back. Her corsage was of yellow chrysanthemums.

Miss Margaret Yost of Payette, Idaho, and Miss Dottie Schofield of Stet, Mo., lighted the tapers. Miss Yost wore a gown of lime green satin and a head band of gold chrysanthemums. Miss Schofield wore a gown of yellow satin and a headband of lavender chrysanthemums. Their gowns were fashioned after the gown of the matron of honor.

Gary Hall was ring bearer. He carried the rings on a white ant in pillow. He wore a navy blue suit.

Mr. Gerald Neher of Oswego, Kas., served as best man. Gift bearers were Misses Loreta Gentry, Roseann Phillips, and Lois Davis, all of Stet, Mo.

Ushers were: Cpl. Von Hall of Fort McClellan, Ala., Ralph Hall of Kansas City, Marvin Hall and Marlon Gentry of Stet, Mo. The gift bearers wore chrysanthemum corsages and the ushers white carnations.

The bride's mother wore dark green. The bridegroom's mother was attired in blue crepe. Both wore corsages of red roses.

A reception was held in the church undercroft following the ceremony. The wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom centered the table with silver candelabra holding tall white tapers on each side of a basket of gladioli, chrysanthemums and carnations. Those assisting with the serving were: Mrs. Clarence Hall and Mrs. Roscoe Lee of Richmond; Mrs. Roy Sidden and Mrs. Hallie Frezler, host and hostess. Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Kincaid Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller are both juniors at McPherson College and will be at home in Kline Hall.

Murrey-Porter

Miss Betty Ann Murrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Murrey, Conway, became the bride of Irwin Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milford C. Porter, Quinter, at the Monitor Church of the Brethren, Sunday, Dec. 16.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Roy E. McAuley before an altar arrangement of eight candles in single floor candelabra and two bouquets of white chrysanthemums tied with white satin streamers. The center aisle was decorated with white candles and silver sprigs of evergreen tied with white satin bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white bridal satin fashioned with full length sleeves, pointed over the wrist, and a scalloped nylon lace yoke. The fingertip veil of illusion lace-edged silk, held by a net bonnet trimmed with seed pearls, and the gown were made by the bride. Her white bibble topped with gardenias was a gift of the groom.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Eula Mae Murrey, who wore a gown of sea blue satin, fashioned with scalloped yoke and full circular skirt. Bridesmaids, Miss Phyllis Bowman, Quinter, and Miss Ann Carpenter, Las Vegas, Nev., wore gowns of flamingo satin. Miss Laveta Murrey, junior bridesmaid and sister of the bride, wore a sky blue satin gown. The gowns and matching mitts and headresses of the bridesmaids were fashioned like those of the maid of honor. Cascading bouquets of white chrysanthemums were carried by the bride's attendants.

Taper lighters were Miss Delma Cline, Conway, and Miss Ruth Moors, McPherson. They wore gowns of dusty pink satin, fashioned with rounded necklines and full gored skirts, with matching mitts and headresses. Judy Crum-packer and Kim McAdams, Wichita, cousins of the bride, were flower girls. Their full length bouquets were of rose pink satin with tiny puffed sleeves. Best man was James Garvey, Quinter. Groomsman and ushers were Raymond Walker, Norton; D. A. Crist, Quinter; and Royce Beam, McPherson.

The bride's mother wore an aqua dress with navy blue accessories and a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums. The groom's mother wore a purple dress with black accessories and a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Royal Yoder, Conway, played organ music. Vernon Nicholson of Geneseo sang "At Dawning" and "Because." Miss Mary Ellen Yoder, Conway, read Elizabeth Barrett Browning's "How Do I Love Thee." At the close of the ceremony the couple knelt as Mr. Nicholson sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. Hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde L. Cline and Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Yoder, Conway. Reception music was played by Miss Mary Ellen Yoder, pianist. The guest book was kept by Miss Betty Byers, Hagerstown, Md. The three-tier, heart-shaped wedding cake was served by Mrs. James Garvey, Quinter, and Mrs. Vernon Nicholson, Geneseo. Mrs. Leonard Godown and Miss Genevieve Crist, Wichita, poured punch. Mrs. E. G. Toland, Altadena, Calif., and Miss Ruth Crumpacker, McPherson, served coffee. Waitresses were Miss Rowan Kelm and Miss Marilee Grove, South English, Iowa, Miss Delma Cline, and Miss Mary Ellen Yoder. The couple is at home at 225 Charles, McPherson. Both Mr. and Mrs. Porter are seniors at McPherson College.

Heart Sister Week Will Be February 6-14

The members of Women's Council met in Miss Fee's apartment, Monday, January 7. They discussed plans for Heart Sister Week, which will be from February 6-14. Miss Fee served refreshments of Christmas goodies, stuffed celery, pickles, and olives with hot tea.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller are both juniors at McPherson College and will be at home in Kline Hall.

Bulldogs Smash Coyotes 80 to 60

Woody's Bulldogs Give Stubborn Coyotes Beating

With Loren Blickenstaff leading the way with 25 points, the Bulldogs handed the Kansas Wesleyan Coyotes a convincing 80-60 defeat Monday night on the local court.

The Coyotes were a stubborn crew until the third period when the Bulldogs finally got the range and started a scoring spree that netted them their first Kansas Conference victory of the season.

A medium size crowd at the senior high gymnasium saw the Canines come from behind to take the lead and hold the Coyotes to three field goals and four free tosses the last period while they were hitting the bucket from all angles.

The combination of rushing type of ball and torrid shooting brought the Bulldogs from behind and put them in the driver's seat. The score stood at 50-12 for Wesleyan when the Canines lowered the boom.

Coach "Woody" Woodard's boys dropped in 20 points before the Coyotes could put the round ball through the hoop for a counter. There was a period of 10 minutes when Wesleyan did not score a single field goal.

The ring leaders for the Bulldogs in their last half rally were Loren Blickenstaff and Chief Hanaganne, with a great deal of assistance from Wayne Blickenstaff and Bob Bechtel.

The Bulldogs are working much better from the single post type of offense that Coach Woodard is employing this year than they were at the beginning of the season.

Bill Moore and Bob Bechtel, who alternate at the center position, have been improving steadily the last few games.

The first half the Coyotes played a good brand of ball and hit about 5 percent of their attempted fielders. Being able to hit from the free throw line was a great aid to the visitors from the north who made 14 out of 20 charity attempts.

The Coyotes faltered in the last half, and the more experienced Bulldogs took advantage of the Coyote mistakes. John Stephen, former Salina High star, connected for 17 points to lead his squad in scoring.

Dale Carter entered a great floor game against the Coyotes and kept the Canines within striking distance of the Coyotes the first half with a couple of beautiful jump shots.

Bill Moore and the midget of the squad, Tommy O'Dell, also played great floor games. Moore was a big wonder under the basket on rebounds, and "Digger" O'Dell displayed a great floor game.

Dean Announces New Textbook

Dr. James M. Berkebile, Macollege dean, has stated that "Successful Adjustment in College", by co-authors John F. Chandler, East Central State College, Ada, Okla.; Charles C. Williams, George C. Beamer, and Vernon L. Armstrong; North Texas State College, Denton, Texas, has been tentatively chosen as the textbook for next year's orientation class.

He said, "We are trying to provide more frequent small class groups thus making it possible for more student participation."

"Materials on adjustment to college, study skills, finding one's place in college social life, improving one's personality, along with vocational choices, sound philosophy of life, and plans for marriage are presented in an attractive form."

"This new text is written in simpler terms than the present text."

Fanny Has Open House

Open house at Fahnstock Hall was held Saturday evening January 5, from 7:30 to 9:30.

The lounge was decorated to fit a carnival theme. Popular music was played during the evening. Refreshments of crackers and punch were served in the lounge. Various attractions in the dorm during the evening included a "hot" chair and some unique candy.

James Craig had a display of various things from Africa in his room.

Jack Kough, the head resident, had a display of items which he had gathered during his stay in Japan.

The dorm council composed of Glen Nicholson, dorm president, D. A. Crist, Beryl McCann, Wayne Blickenstaff and Max MacAuley formulated plans for the occasion.

The University of Kansas post office issued a plea to the student body: "When you get ready to ship the first bag full of dirty clothes home to mother, don't stick a letter inside."

It seems this turns the laundry into first class mail.

Dick Wareham is the director of the intramural activities on Macollege campus.

Mrs. Harnley Dies January 4th

Mrs. Sarah Witmore Harnley of 1323 E. Euclid died last Friday evening after an illness of several weeks. She was the wife of Dr. Henry Jacob Harnley after whom Harnley Hall on McPherson College Campus was named.

Mrs. Harnley was born on April 17, 1870 in Hardin County Ohio. While she was attending Mount Morris Academy in Illinois, she met Dr. Harnley and they were married on July 8, 1892 in New York City.

In the fall of that year they came to McPherson where Dr. Harnley taught here and graduated from McPherson College after her four children were born. Dr. Harnley died on August 26, 1949.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the College Church with Rev. Harry K. Zeller Jr. and Dr. J. J. Yoder officiating.

Mr. Harold Beam accompanied by Mr. Lloyd Larsen sang "The Lord's Prayer" and the College Male Quartet accompanied by Mrs. Larsen sang "Nearer to the Heart of God."

Casket bearers were Paul E. Sargent, R. E. Mohler, Homer Ferguson, J. M. Berkebile, E. A. Wall, S. M. Dell, J. B. Wall, and Jack Kough. Ushers were Gordon Yoder and Delbert Kelly.

Interment was in the McPherson Mausoleum.

Education or Grade

The dismissal of five students from Washington University, St. Louis, for breaking into a professor's office and stealing examinations has not brought any end to the discussion of this problem. The campus newspaper of this University still has letters concerning this matter.

It indicated that cheating will no doubt remain for some time. When this University dismissed these men, it was attempting to set an example.

The administration must ask itself two questions: Would it create an atmosphere that would not cause cheating? Did a situation exist on the campus so the students would not want or need to cheat?

Some student views on the problem were as follows: "As long as there is competition and the students must express their ability in the different examinations, cheating will be a temptation."

"Students who feel benefits from a course will wish to evaluate these benefits accurately."

"The desire for accurate evaluation will eliminate the desire to cheat."

Faculty members seem to feel cheating was caused by the students' desiring good grades rather than a good education, and the students' desiring to get away with as much as possible.

Bulldogs Bow To Ottawa Braves

Macollege Bulldogs were unable to get their basketball machine rolling against Ottawa last Friday night on the home court until the middle of the third period. Then the Bulldog basketekers started a rally that, built into whirlwind proportions. However, the Canine offense did not hold in the last minute, and the Bulldogs lost their opener in the Kansas Conference race for 1952 to the Ottawa Braves.

Each team made 23 field goals, but Ottawa got 21 points out of 23 attempts from the free throw line while the Bulldogs were raking up only 17 points out of 25 attempts at the charity line.

The Braves didn't win until after the Bulldogs had made a whirlwind rally which saw the Bulldogs come from way behind to pull up within two points of the Braves.

Ottawa was hot on the basket the first half, hitting an even 50 percent. The Canines hit only 29 percent the first half. However, the Bulldogs did much better the last half hitting 40 percent while the Braves snapped the cord only 36 percent of the time.

In the first half the Ottawa Braves made it known to everyone that they were making a strong bid for the Kansas Conference title. The Braves wheeled and dealt on a fast break that left the Bulldogs dazed.

The first half ended with the scoreboard read 44-28 in favor of the Braves.

After the intermission the Bulldogs played a better brand of ball and started whittling down the lead the Braves had built up. At the end of the third quarter the score stood at 59-45.

In the final period Ottawa was held to two fielders and four charity tosses.

The tall Dudley Geiss again made a strong bid for a spot on the all-conference team by scoring 24 points. Loren Blickenstaff, another all-conference selection from the 1950-51 season, displayed his wares with 20 points, most of which came in the last half.
