Spring Is Here

Today is the first day of spring! The robins are appearing, the grass is getting green, and the trees and flowers will soon begin to bud.

They always say that in the springtime a young man's fancy lightly turns to what the girls have been thinking about all winter long! Judging from the number of engagements announced up to this time, and the number tending to "go steady", it seems that this little statement needs some revision, anyway for Macollege.

More appropriate would be: in the springtime, a young man's fancy turns with all his charms; and many ways, to what will win his maiden fair, and maybe after all winter trying, he shall succeed, if he hasn't already! The next few months shall spell part of the answer.

With spring also comes within everyone of us, a desire to "get ahead" and become more ambitious and successful. Plans are being formed by many college students, as to what they will do with their summer vacation.

Just as the flowers and trees begin to vegetate, so do people in the spring—whether it be in business, romance, education, or otherwise. Success be to those who are willing to try!

GOD'S Living Letters

By Kirby Page

A slave became one of the world's greatest agricultural scientists. His mother was known simply as Mary and he never knew his father. He had no name of his own, so he was called by that of the man who owned his mother, old man Carver. In order to have a middle initial he used W., which he said might as well be for Washington. Thus he became known to the world as George Washington Carver.

Before his death in 1943 he had brought incalculable benefits to the farmers of the South through his discoveries, especially new uses for peanuts, sweet potatoes, and pecans. But he arrived at the pinnacle of distinction the hard way. In babyhood he had been kidnapped with his mother by slave-thieves. He was rescued but his mother was never heard of again.

Emancipation had now come and the little black boy was free. Until he was ten he stayed on the old Carver place in Missouri. Then he wandered through Missouri, Kansas and Iowa, maintaining a meager existence and grasping every opportunity to acquire an education.

At twenty-six he was admitted to Simpson College and the next year transferred to Iowa State College in order to equip himself for service among his people in the South as an agricultural expert. He made a notable record as a student and upon graduation was appointed assistant in botany. Then in 1896 he went to Tuskegee Institute in Alabama, where he remained throughout his distinguished career.

Success stories are common in the United States, but few of them can equal in dramatic appeal the record of this Negro boy, born of a slave mother, frail in health, acquainted with privation, struggling for an education, until he becomes one of the great benefactors of the human race.

New Books Include Some On Hobbies

For the student who wonders how scientists measure distances almost infinitely small and infinitely great, the college library has added the book, MEASURING OUR UNIVERSE: FROM INNER ATOM TO OUTER SPACE by Oliver Justin Lee.

ELECTRICAL PROJECTS FOR SCHOOL AND HOME WORKSHOP AND ELECTRICAL THINGS BOYS LIKE TO MAKE are two books which will appeal to amateurs who enjoy experimenting with electrical projects.

THE COMPLETE GARDEN HANDBOOK explains every step from preparing the ground for a garden, including starting early plants in hot-beds and cold-frames, to the final use of garden products.

CORRELATED ART by Dawd Schneider is designed for elementary teachers who want to make their art classes more real and meaningful. The author has had wide experience in art education and was formerly Supervisor of Art in North Kansas City, Mo.

Trego High School Holds College Day

Tuesday, March 18, Trego Community High School, Wakeeney, Kansas, held its annual College Day. Most of the colleges and universities of Kansas were represented. Representing McPherson College were Ruth Strickler, Lorena Marshall, George Keim, and Prof. Raymond Foley.

The Trego High School had invited high school seniors of 34 schools to take advantage of the first-hand information given by the colleges.

Each college or university was assigned a certain room in which the interested students could go to talk to the school of their choice. Lee Kraus, a former McPherson student, is instructor of music at Trego.

Opportunities do not come with their values stamped upon them. Every one must be challenged a meaningful, quite like other hours; but in that day and in that hour the chance of a lifetime faces us. — Maltbie Babcock.

Thinking With The President

That New Dorm

It was indeed a moment of high spirituality to be able to sit in the home of Royer P. and Edna Price Dotzour in Boulder, Colorado and to hear them say after careful and prayerful consideration, "We are prepared to give a quarter of a million dollars to make possible that new girls dormitory such as you have been talking about." Consecration of life and means to that degree and amount does not happen often in the life of colleges such as McPherson. Such a gift was almost overwhelming, even to the recipients. The most appropriate thing to do seemed to be to have a period of prayer. It was an occasion in which the close presence of God could be felt.

The Dotzours have poured a lot of life's richest energy into Western Kansas. They moved there early and stuck it out through the dust bowl years when many lost faith and moved away. They lived in a basement home and needed bulldozers or tractors from time to time to keep the piling dust from burying them.

Their faith paid off. Those hard years ended. The dust bowl became a garden spot. The Dotzours accumulated valuable land and learned how to handle it well.

Even before the dust bowl period they knew the hardships of pioneers. Mrs. Dotzour tells of plowing up virgin buffalo soil of Rice County fifty years ago. When she was only eleven she could harness a four horse team and plow with a gang plow day after day. She did this even when it was necessary for her father to be away from home for days at a time.

The Dotzours met at McPherson College. As often happens their acquaintance blossomed into a romance which flowered into marriage and has brought them infinite and continuing happiness.

This may have been the reason they felt moved to make a dormitory possible for girls who will in the future attend McPherson. It is hoped that it may be a large dormitory, substantially and beautifully constructed.

Goal Reached As 108 Respond To Call For Blood

One hundred and eight students and faculty members of McPherson have responded to the call of the McPherson County Red Cross Chapter for the giving of a pint of their blood on Monday, March 31.

Lorena Clark is the student Red Cross representative, and it is she who has pushed the drive over and above the set goal of 100 donors.

Miss Clark announces that the donors will be able to leave the college in cars which will be leaving every 15 minutes—eight to a car from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

A donor will need to give only about 40 minutes of his time, and after the pint of blood is taken, a free meal will be provided and a return trip to the college.

Miss Clark enlisted the aid of the UNESCO in this campaign. Together they sent many requests for consent to parents for students responding to the call between the ages of 18-21.

The donors are asked not to forget that they are not to eat any fatty foods 4 hours before giving blood.

Any students and faculty members especially who have not responded to this needy cause may do so by letting Miss Clark know.

Woman And Man!
The woman's cause is man's: they rise or sink Together, dwarf'd or godlike, bond or free! If she be small, slight-natured, miserable, How shall men grow? but work no more alone! The man be more of women, than she of man; He gain in sweetness and in moral height, Nor lose the wrestling thews that throw the world; She, mental breadth, nor fall in childward care, Nor lose the childlike in the larger mind; Till at the last she set herself to man, Like perfect music unto noble words: And so these twain, upon the skirts of Time, Sit side by side, full-sum'd in all their powers, Dispensing harvests, sowing the To-be. Self-reverent each and reverencing each Distinct in individualities, But like each other, ev'n as those who love. Then comes the staliest Eden back to men; Then reign the world's great brides, chaste and calm; Then springs the growing race of human-kind. May these things be!
— Alfred Tennyson.

Thoughts For The Wise

A man's country is not a certain area of land—it is a principle, and patriotism is loyalty to that principle.—George W. Curtis.

Peace rules the day where reason rules the mind.—William Wilkie Collins.

If it was wise, manly, and patriotic for us to establish a free government, it is equally wise to attend to the necessary means of its preservation.—James Monroe.

Of all sounds of all bells, the most solemn and touching is the peal which rings out the old year. . . . On such occasion it is both more noble and more profitable to take a cheerful and reassuring view of our condition and that of humanity in general, laying aside futile reflections on past imprudence and mismanagement and resolving for the future to do our utmost in fulfilling our duty toward God and our fellow men.—Charles Lamb.

Often a dash of judgment is better than a flash of genius.—Howard W. Newton.

The first perfection is good thoughts, the second good words, and the third good deeds.—Zad Sparran.

Upon education our country must pin its hopes of true progress, which involves scientific and technological advance, but under the direction of reason; of true prosperity, which includes eternal goods but does not overlook those of the soul; and of true liberty, which can exist only in society, and in a society rationally ordered.—Robert M. Hutchins.

You conquer fate by thought.—Thomas Carlyle.

Ideals are like tuning forks—sound them often to bring your life up to standard pitch.—S. D. Gordon.

Track Prospects Look Good

Action, resembling a three ring circus, is going on during the track workouts. Around the inside of the track, Woody is timing a group of three or four men at the quarter mile distance. Trotting around the outside edge of the track are several of the distance men warming up their leg muscles. On the football field, the various field events are being practiced.

The high jump and the pole vaulting apparatus are already set up and being used. Over at one side, one of the hurdles has been placed to give the hurdle men an opportunity to get their steps and jump down pat.

There are four lettermen back from last year's track team to give it stability. Bob Augsburg will be running the mile and two miles; Dave Metzler, who holds the school record for the half mile, will be running the half and also the sprints in the relay teams; Bob Kerr will probably again run in the dashes from the hundred yard dash up to and including the 440 and Dale Carpenter, who holds the school record on both the high and low hurdles, will run the dashes and the hurdles and will also broad jump.

The junior lettermen this year also total four. Bob Bechtel, who holds the school record for the two mile run, will run the distance races; Al Zunkel, who is back in school after missing a year, will also be a distance man; Frank Hanagan will pole vault this year; and Paul Heidebrecht will be one of the men on quite a few of the relay teams.

Three of the four sophomore lettermen specialize in field events, which should give the team needed strength in these events. Glendon Button throws the javelin and broad jumps; Bob Powell high jumps and throws the javelin; and John Robinson specializes in the shot put and discus. The other sophomore, Merlin Miller, runs in the various sprint events.

The other men out for track are: Wilbur Bastin, Bob Bean, Paul Coffman, Herb Edmonds, Eddie Frantz, Don Goodfellow, Don Green, Isaac Grillo, Jack Harter, Dick King, Gerald Kinkefeller, Wendell Lentz, Joe Obe, Clive Sharpe, and Carroll Saylor.

The track schedule isn't complete yet, but the college will participate in the conference meet and Woody is trying to arrange for a track meet here if at all possible.

CLEARING THE BAR AT 14 FEET, 4 INCHES—Bob Richards, the "Flying Parson" of world pole vaulting fame, thrilled McPherson College students, faculty members and other track and field fans yesterday when he gave an exhibition at the local college field. Richards, 25, who is a Brethren minister, is shown clearing the bar at 14 feet four inches, which was just about as high as he could go with the vaulting pole he was using. As may be seen in the picture, the bar is way above the top of the pole. Richards is one of the three men at the college. At the lower left corner of the picture may be seen Coach "Woody" Woodard of McPherson College. (Republican Photo).

Bob Richards Gives Exhibition

Rev. Bob Richards, the "Vaulting Parson," took the college by storm last week. He arrived without hardly a moment's notice and crowded into a busy schedule a talk at chapel, a talk to the Track and Field Class, and a workout in the afternoon.

Richards was passing thru from Ohio where he had just participated in an indoor track game. He was headed for Los Angeles where he is to give a speech tonight, Friday, and then the busy parson goes back to Chicago for the weekend of the 29th for another game.

Rev. Richards last year was awarded the Sullivan award for the amateur athlete of the year. At the moment he has pole vaulted 15 feet 4 inches which is within 4 inches of the world record held by Warmerdam. Now that he has discovered a fault that he had in the takeoff, he hopes to pole vault 16 feet within the next few years. He is also working out for the Decathlon this year. He wants to go to the Olympics this summer in the Pole Vault and Decathlon. More than likely he will.

In his talk to the track and field class, he told of various mistakes made by beginners in the various events and how to correct them. He used as examples of perfect form great track men that he knows, such as Harrison Dillard in the hurdles, Mel Patton in the sprints, Gunder Haag and Curtis Stone in the distance, Warmerdam in the pole vault, Jim Fuchs in the shot put, and Fortune Gordien in the discus. He also told an anecdote about how Gordien broke the world's record in the discus. He also gave his theory of coaching to the Track and Field Class. He believes that a coach should recognize that he doesn't know too much and that his main function is to inspire the player.
