Pajama Parade Is Big Success

Maccollege students donned pajamas Thursday night and paraded through the city business district as a precedent to the curtain-rising football fracas scheduled for 8:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The annual event, which was the 31st in the Bulldog school's history, served as a pep-stimulator for the first conference meet of the season when they M. C. will battle the Bethel Gray-maroons.

The city police and the cheerleaders were responsible for the organization and staging of the parade. The cheerleaders planned and made arrangements for the "route of travel."

The parade began at the junior high school building at 7:30 p.m. From there the group snake-danced through several business houses, hotels, up and down stairs, around trees, and down Main Street. Pep yell were given at the intersections.

Students attended a movie after attending.

A light lunch was served by the church social committee following the program.

Stanley Bittinger Goes To Castaner

Stanley and Vivian Bittinger, son and daughter-in-law of Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Bittinger, left Tuesday evening by plane for Castaner, Puerto Rico, to begin a three-year term of Brethren Service work at the Church of the Brethren mission in that locality.

The Bittingers, who were dedicated for their task at the San Jose annual conference of the Church of the Brethren in June, will do pastoral work and have charge of community recreation at Castaner.

Yolando Cerven, college junior, is a native of Puerto Rico, and was one of the first five members of the church at Castaner.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bittinger are graduates of Manchester College, North Manchester, Ind., and the former completed his M.A. degree this summer from the University of Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind.

Wednesday morning President and Mrs. Bittinger received a cable from their son saying that the flight, via Chicago and New York, had been made safely to San Juan and that Wednesday would be spent in traveling into the mountains to reach Castaner.

Maccollege Provides Employment Service

An employment service is being provided for Maccollege students desiring part-time work.

Business concerns that need help have called the business office for students.

If you would like to work during your free time, please contact Mrs. Kaye Yoder, and she will then contact you when you would be needed. She suggests that you bring your schedules along, as it would be easier to make arrangements.

Rowena and Elsa are Sophomores, and Bill and "Butch" are Juniors.

Cheerleader elections for 1951-'52 positions were held by the student body last spring after tryouts by all candidates were completed. Elections for the two cheerleading positions which had become vacant during the summer were held just Thursday.

Besides the Maccollege delegation, other guests from a distance who attended the dedication included Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Sooby, parents of Donna Lou Sooby, college junior.

Talks were given by President Bittinger at both the morning and afternoon services of the church. The dedicatory program took place in the afternoon. Miss Coppock and Mrs. Hale presented vocal numbers. They were accompanied by Mr. Oltman at the piano.

Another record has been made. And it probably won't be broken for awhile! Elsa Kurtz holds the title of being the third cheerleader of "Mac" College from one family. Elsa's mother, then Ocie McAvoy, was elected cheerleader here in the school year, 1923-24.

Her father, Sam Kurtz, was elected to serve in the same capacity the following year, 1924-25.

And now Elsa has been elected to serve in the same position for the year 1951-'52.

No other case such as this has been recorded here where a mother, father, and daughter have held down a cheerleader position in this manner.

"Chief" Receives Injury Monday

Frank "Chief" Hanagarne, a steady defense player for the Bulldogs in 1950, was injured in practice Monday night. How long "Chief" will be a loss to the team is not known; however, he plans to witness the Saturday night game.

During practice Monday the tall basketball star received a fractured cheekbone when he was tackled. "Chief" was taken to a Hutchinson hospital where a specialist set the fracture.

Coach "Woody" reported Wednesday morning that "Chief" was progressing nicely. Miss Betty Byers, campus nurse, went to Hutchinson Wednesday to be with "Chief" when the bone was set.

"Chief" was showing up well again this year, and the team will miss him in the defense line against Bethel.

All-School Picnic At Marion Success

"Ole Man Weather must have been thinking of the Maccollege College students last Friday when he ordered us such beautiful weather for our All-School Picnic at Marion Lake.

School was dismissed at noon and some 200 students and faculty members enjoyed a full half-day boating, boating, hunting for various items included in the Scavenger Hunt, visiting, and playing volleyball, baseball, horse-shoe, and some kind of football.

At 5:30 everyone's famished stomachs found their way to the shelter house where they were satisfied with a delicious supper prepared by the Rec Council committee. The supper consisted of potato salad, baked beans, hot dogs, pickles, plums, and ice tea.

As the golden September moon crept up over the lake, we sang camp songs, directed by Max McAuley, and listened to the crackling of the camp fire.

Dr. Hess then spoke on "Adopting the Unusual" which closed our day of fun and fellowship together.

Harada Hopes To See Snow

Christine Harada, new international student from Hawaii, is eagerly awaiting the winter months in order to see snow for the first time in her life.

Although she sometimes misses the deep waters, the purple mountains, and the beautiful sunrises and sunsets of Hawaii, she thinks the United States is very pretty. She is certain she will enjoy her stay here, and she would like to travel and see more of the country before she returns to her native land.

Christine plans to graduate from Maccollege in four years with a major in sociology. Then she wants to do social work in Hawaii.

Her hobbies include collecting picture post cards, sports, such as volleyball; and classical music. She could sit for hours listening to Beethoven and Bach.

A pineapple plantation has been Christine's home until now. She is the oldest of three girls in the family.

She states that the Hawaiian school system is very much as it is in this country. Also the sports played are very much the same.

The English language presents little problem to Christine, for she has spoken English all her life and has studied it in school and has studied it in school.

Dr. Metzler Attends Meetings In Chicago

Dr. Burton Metzler attended the Annual Conference Program meeting held at Bethany Seminary in Chicago, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 14 and 15. This was a primary planning meeting to lay the groundwork for the Annual Conference to be held next year.

Others attending were conference moderator, Dr. Ralph Schlosser, Elizabethtown, Pa.; Dr. C. E. Davis, Elgin, Ill.; and Dr. William Beam, Bethany Seminary, Chicago, Ill.

Maccollege A Cappella and Chapel choir have started practice on the opera, "The Bohemian Girl," which will be presented this fall.

Keith Allison has a tenor lead. Gilford Ikenberry and Max McAuley, baritone; and Claudia Jo Stump and Florence Hale, soprano leads.

Prof. Frederick and Prof. McAuley are directing the opera.

Miss Lehman, professor of English, was a visitor at a session of the National Bar Association for Negro Lawyers during August. Present at the meeting was special guest Walter White, executive secretary of the NAACP, who talked on democracy in the United States.

Miss Lehman went to St. Louis to attend the Institute on Inter-racialism sponsored by the American Council of Churches. One of the things she enjoyed most, she said, was attending the starlite outdoor opera to take in such favorites as: "Merry Widow," "Bohemian Girl," "Wizard of Oz," and "Great Waltz."

Between doing her Christmas shopping with McPherson graduate Miss Maybelle Roskam, visiting art museums, and seeing the monkey and elephant shows in the Forest Park Zoo in St. Louis, Miss Lehman took it upon herself to reduce and joined the Summer Health Club.

She rode on bicycles that didn't go anywhere, exercised on a rowing machine, and stayed in steam baths at 10 minutes a stretch.

She especially enjoyed taking three trips on a Mississippi excursion boat, the S. S. Admiral, and visiting the Jewel Box in the Botanical Gardens at Forest Park. Miss Lehman was sorry, however, that she was not able to attend any big league ball games.

During June and July, besides teaching in the summer school session and continuing her water color sketching with a group of ten women who studied under Prof. E. S. Herschberger last winter, Miss Lehman spent a week end with Mrs. Rozella Switzer at the Lake of the Ozarks in Missouri.

Mac Player's Club, Music Department To Present Opera

"Stude" And "Fancy"

Mac owned two mules whose names were "Stude" and "Fancy." These mules were good mules, but, oh! they were stubborn.

One day Mac put "Stude" and "Fancy" out in the barnyard. He tied the mules together with a ten-foot rope.

It just so happened that there were two piles of good juicy hay on either side of "Fancy" and "Stude."

Now, when "Stude" spied one pile of hay "Fancy" saw the other, of course, both mules took out for the delicious looking hay. And, of course, as bad stories go, the rope was not long enough to let both mules reach the pile of hay. Instead both "Fancy" and "Stude" were almost but not quite within reach of the hay.

So determined was "Fancy" to get at the delicious hay that he lunged forward, but "Stude" apparently had the same idea, for neither mule moved. Instead each stayed in its place, not making any progress.

First "Stude" would paw the ground and lunge forward; then "Fancy" would follow suit. But neither could get to the hay.

After many tiresome trials each mule stopped and looked at the other. There passed between them first a confused look then a radiant happy look, for they both knew what they were doing wrong.

So "Fancy" jogged over to where "Stude" was standing and together they walked to first one pile of hay, then the other.

It took these two mules a while to learn the secret of cooperation, but "Stude" and "Fancy" did learn and they did work well afterward.

The Three C's

Someone has thought of students as being of two natures—those that come to college for fun and those that come for education. Of course, there is always the group which come to hunt for a mate, so says our amateur joker.

Then, too, students, especially those men who are subject to the draft, have been editorialized as being "sons of the rich."

Let us look deeper into the purposes of why students come to college, especially a church-related college.

To realize the purposes let us ask two questions of ourselves. First, "What are we planning to receive from our years in this Christian college?" and secondly, "What are we planning to leave here at this institution in memory of us when we leave?"

In order to best answer these questions let us consider the three C's of an education in a church related college.

Regardless of all excuses, a student emerges from a college not merely with a diploma, but with a knowledge which enables him to begin his career in a vocation. Doubtless, the student absorbs enough background to become successful in his chosen field. Hence, the student learns a craft and thereby creates a place for himself in society.

With the healthy, clean, Christian environment surrounding the student, he cannot help but build his character to correspond with such ideals. Therefore, the student builds for himself a wholesome character which enables him to dwell within a society which today conveys the best of man.

The third C represents the college itself and what it stands for. Christianity is the one vital emphasis and a student who lives within this environment and among other Christian students cannot help but absorb some of its vital elements.

So, we find that which we plan to receive from a church related college a craft to enable one to earn a living, a wholesome character which will help with a place for ourselves in society and lastly, a pure, clean, Christian outlook on life which will mould this life into something worthwhile.

SCA, "M" Club Entertain School

The SCA was in charge of the annual and traditional all-schools entertainment and watermelon feed held on Macampus 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 5.

A capacity crowd gathered in the auditorium and witnessed an hour of "real talent." Joe Kennedy was the official introducer and joke-teller.

After being introduced by Joe President Desmond Bittinger gave a short talk on the meaning of SCA. Dr. Bittinger said that the letters stood for Student Christian Movement. He went on further to say that the movement was a campus movement and was open to all students.

Two Samoan boys, Tumu and Mua, were next presented by Joe. They sang a duet entitled, "Migol." Mua then offered a trumpet solo, "Sheik of Araby" with Berwyn Ottman accompanying.

For their encore they played "No-body's Sweetheart." The boys concluded with a trumpet duet, "Crimson Blushes."

Next on the program was a skit by the Arnold Hall girls. The skit was another Marilyn Monroe production and featured the talented acting of Carole Huffman and Lou Carpenter. Kathryn Larson narrated the script.

Joe introduced the next number with, "Now we will hear from an old college trio." The ladies trio of last year, Marilee Grove, Donna Waggoner and Anita Rogers, sang two numbers. The first entitled "Trees" they dedicated to Claudia Jo Stump and the second to Kansas, "Come To The Fair."

Ella Kurtz impersonated Al Jolson singing two songs, "Rockaby My Baby" and "I'm Sittin On Top Of The World." Her encore was "Mammy."

Concluding the program was the faculty feature. They presented a reasonable facsimile of an orchestra. Playing in the orchestra were: Jack Kough on the trombone, Desmond Bittinger on the tuba, Dick Wareham the flute, James Bekkele the trumpet, E. S. Herabarger the cymbals with Bob Maya directing. Also, Raymond Flory put in his appearance.

Following the entertainment the group went to the west end of the physical educational building where they were fed "hunks" of watermelon sponsored by the "M" Club.

Flory's Class Reviews Case

Professor Flory's class of U.S. Government had their first chance of observing a governmental agency in action yesterday.

A member of the class, Don Ford, voluntarily speeded on East Kansas Avenue. He was graciously handed a "ticket" by Police Officers Kennedy and Orr, which he graciously accepted.

Don, being a good student of government invited the class to his hearing which took place in the police court.

Mr. Ford was fined and the government class received some good outside study.

WEDDING BELLS WERE RINGING

Keim-Albright

A wedding service, written by the bride and groom and read by the bridegroom's father, united Miriam Keim of Nampa, Idaho, and Ellis Albright of Eldora, Iowa, in the Nampa Church of the Brethren, June 14.

A cross of gardenias flanked by baskets of Japanese iris and mountain fern formed the background of the wedding service which was performed by the Rev. Galen Albright of Eldora, Iowa, in the presence of 350 guests.

The bride wore a gown of candlelight satin with a bolero of chantilly lace with pearl-headed Queen Anne collar, a chantilly lace overskirt, and a train. Her illusion veil was caught in a halo cap, and she carried a cascading bouquet of shell-pink rosebuds centered with a lavender orchid and lilies of the valley.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Russell West, Jr. of Nampa, Texas, wore yellow satin with chantilly lace bolero and Queen Anne collar. She carried a sheaf of pink gladiola.

Bridesmaid Miss Joan Skordahl wore lilac net over wood violet satin with lace bolero of rose lilac and carried a cascading bouquet of pink gladiola. Miss Anna Kelm, the bride's sister, wore lilac satin with lilac net overskirt and rose lilac bolero and carried pink gladiola.

Miss Ann Carter wore rose lilac satin with matching overskirt and bolero, and Mrs. George Hayes wore pink satin with an overskirt of rose lilac net and lace bolero jacket. Both carried matching gladiola bouquets. Flower girl was Kathy Kelm.

Ring bearer was Steve Fletcher. Candlelighters were Dean Betts and Douglas Betts of Van Nuys, Calif. Best man was Ernest Hoffa of Grushy Center, Iowa. Ushers were Charles Tharrington, Wayne Blackenstaff, and Donald and Bryce Kelm.

Vocalist was Mrs. Bill Winter. Violin music was by Patricia Kelm, and Mrs. Sumner Eshelman was organist.

Assisting at the reception at the bride's home were Madames Ivan Betts, Urban Hartman, Allen Fletcher, Don Kelm, Jack Matteson, Jr., Sidney Waterhouse, Chris Roth, Elmer Kinney, Earl Flory, and Sumner Eshelman.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kelm of Nampa, and is a senior at Maccollege. The bridegroom, a MacPherson College graduate, is on the staff of the Wall Milling Company.

Johnson-Smith

Miss Mary Louise Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Johnson of Carl Junction, was married to Harold Eugene Smith, son of Rev. and Mrs. Harry Smith, Beaver, Iowa, August 18th, in the Brethren Church at Cartage. The Rev. Harry Smith read the double-ring ceremony before a background of dahlias, woodward, fern and candelabra.

Miss Helen Johnson, cousin of the bride, accompanied Mrs. Barbara Smith, who sang, "My Task," and "The Lord's Prayer," and Richard Trowbridge who sang, "Because."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white glazed taffeta fashioned with a tightly fitted bodice fastened down the back with covered buttons, illusion yoke, a scalloped neckline and short sleeves. Her skirt of illusion fell from a crown and she carried a white Bible with Lily of the Nile and clusters of pom-pom dahlias.

Mrs. Joan McCune, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a gown of glazed taffeta in pastel green. The bridesmaids, Miss Phyllis Johnson, sister of the bride, and Miss Mary Smith, sister of the groom wore gowns of pale yellow.

The attendants' gowns were fashioned after the bride's, and each carried Colonial bouquets of pink gladiola.

The cousins of the bride, Miss Patricia Butterbaugh, lighted the tapers; Miss Joy Lee acted as flower girl, and Johnny Johnson presided at the guest book. C. J. Auda was ring bearer.

The bride's mother wore a gown of black sheer with white accessories. The groom's mother wore a gown of aqua crepe with white accessories and both wore corsages of gladioli.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Frank St. John served the cake and Mrs. Paul Ritter served the punch.

The couple spent their honeymoon in the Ozarks of Mo. The bride chose a navy blue suit with white accessories for traveling.

Both are attending Maccollege.

She was a short stout woman with twenty years of teaching behind her.

Bethel Graymaroons Will Meet Mac Bulldogs Here Saturday

Bethel Graymaroons will invade Maccollege Saturday, Sept. 22 under the regime of a new head coach, Andrew Douglass. Game time is 8:30.

The fighting Graymaroons will be out to avenge the defeat that the Canines handed the Bethel squad last year. In the 24 times these two teams have clashed, the Bulldogs have come out victors 17 times and have bowed only seven times to the Graymaroons. Some all-time records have been set by Maccollege in McPherson-Bethel classics. The record for most yards from rushing was set in 1927 against Bethel with a total of 504.

The Bulldogs rolled to 26 first downs against Bethel in 1927. In the all-time defensive records the Bulldogs hold several against Bethel; one of these happened in 1923 when the strong Canines held the Bethel gridiron to no downs.

Coach Andrew Douglass will field a team this year against the Bulldogs that will be much heavier in the line than it was last year. The line will average from 185 to 190 pounds. His backfield will be light, but very speedy.

Coach Douglass has eleven lettermen around which to build his 1951 offering to the Kansas Conference, eight of which will be in the line-up come game time Saturday night.

Darrel Albright or Chester Flickinger will call signals. If Albright is in the quarterback slot, Flickinger will start at one of the halfback positions. Dale Goering will be the other halfback starting. Two freshmen are candidates for the fullback position, they are Lowell Everts of Hillsboro and Francis Funk.

At the terminal posts will be John Dyck, a sophomore, and Mel Flickinger, a letterman. Tackle spots will be held down by Ivan Harshbarger, a letterman, and Don Penner, a freshman. Kerm Wedel, a letterman from last year, is fairly certain to start at one of the guard positions.

The other starting guard will be either Floyd Batz or Clarence Buller. Gene Kaufman will get the nod to start the game at center.

One of the things that has made Coach Woodard's teams in the past so great and what will determine the success of the Bulldogs this season is the team work that Woody stresses. He feels that when a touchdown is made or a successful pass is completed the whole team should receive credit for the accomplishment.

George Keim, the big tackle from Idaho will play a great deal of offense and defense this year. Roland Delay, who was converted from the backfield to the line this year, was rugged on defense throwing the other team for losses much of the time.

The line this year is made up of many new and inexperienced fellows, and it will take a few games before they will show the polish that the last year's team had at the end of the season.

In the backfield Wayne Bicknell and Howard Mehlner were showing up well in field generalship and passing. These two boys should see a lot of playing time for Coach Woodard this season.

On the other hand, it is one of life's marvelous adventures to discover hidden within you capacities qualifying you for carrying on the constructive work of insuring lives of enabling people to guard against the hazardous uncertainties of fat and circumstance.

SPORTS GROWLS

No radical changes were made in the rules for the 1951 gridiron season. The freshman rule which does not affect the teams in the Kansas Conference, will be shelved until such future time when the state of the union returns to normalcy.

Emphasis will again be placed on offense. While some objections were raised to free scoring last year, the majority of students, alumni and the public favors a wide-open attack.

The only important change this year will be the return of the fair catch. It is back in the rule book in modified form, revised to provide that a player may make a fair catch by holding one hand above his head and waving it from side to side.

In an effort to eliminate the "quickie" play, where a team can get the jump on opponents, the referee will this year be required to signal "ready" by snapping his arm down each time that the ball is ready for play. No player may put the ball in play until it has been declared "ready."

Besides having the large time clock installed, the football stadium has been painted, and new arrangements have been made that the selling of tickets at the gate can be handled faster and more efficiently. The caretakers have done a good job of taking care of the football field this summer, and Coach "Woody" Woodard's men should not have to worry about playing on a bare, hard gridiron this year.

Two Kansas Conference teams rolled into foreign grid-iron last weekend and came home with a pair of victories. Kansas Wesleyan mauled Nebraska Wesleyan to the tune of 32-13. This game belied Coach "Wally" Forsberg Coyotes as a pretty good outfit and a team that is going to be rough in conference play.

The Bethany Swedes swamped Sterling College 46 to 0 in a game that saw the Swedes push the Sterling team all over the field. The majority of their gains were on ground plays.
