

Carpenter, Russell, Baldner, Brown Elected Freshmen Class Cheerleaders

Adalu Carpenter, Kathy Russell, Karl Baldner, and Kenneth Brown were elected as Freshmen Cheerleaders Monday, Sept. 24, in the Freshman orientation class. David Metzler, President of the Student Council, presided at the election.

The other candidates were Lois Rolfs, Alberta Ebbert, and Maa Sinapi.

Adalu Carpenter comes from Las Vegas, Nevada. She has an older sister, already at Macollege, and a younger brother.

In her senior year of high school, Adalu was a cheerleader, a member of the National Theatrical Society, the Student Council, president of the Girls' Athletic Club, and senior class treasurer. She also belonged to various clubs.

Chemistry was her favorite subject in high school, and here at Macollege her major is Home Ec.

Kathy Russell comes from a family of four girls. She attended a high school of 1600 students in Elgin, Ill.

She liked dramatics, and music in high school, and was a member of the Student Council. Her favorite class was sewing, and she plans to major in Home Ec.

Kathy was a cheerleader in Junior high school.

Kenneth Brown majored in History and Mathematics at Wichita East High School. His hobby is photography. When Kenneth was a sophomore, he was a member of the Latin Club. In his junior year he belonged to the Camera Club and the National Honor Society. In his senior year, Kenneth joined the Science Club.

Karl Baldner comes from Dallas Center, Iowa. He was treasurer of the FFA, a member of the Boy's Quartette for three years, Mixed Chorus for four years, Boys' Glee Club for two years, in the Marching Band for four years, and a member of the Concert and Pep Band for four years.

He also did vocal solo work, had leads in the Junior and senior class plays, and was in two operettas.

These four cheerleaders will accompany the "B" team at all their games.

The Beeghly Library

By A Library Assistant

On Sept. 4 when I arrived at school I could hardly wait to see the new library no longer a Carnegie but a Beeghly! The only thing that convinced me that it was once the old library I knew as an underclassman was that it still stood in the same spot.

My ears were buzzing from the quiet of the library as I remembered all the hammering and sawing that dominated the library last year.

The past nine months of school had seen us shift students from one nook of the library to the other as the carpenters built the new fireproof addition, which houses the book and magazine stacks, on the south of the old Carnegie library.

Later the workmen began the task of remodeling the old library. A new entrance was added. Upstairs the old arches were removed and all ceilings lowered.

A complete new paint job plus new flooring and light fixtures in the whole building now give the library a cheerful air. Old stack rooms were created into much-needed reading room space.

To make the transition from old to new complete, modern blond furniture has been added along with easy chairs for students who like to relax while they study.

There is even an easy chair behind the circulation desk for the library assistants.

Last but not least I saw the new steel book racks and individual desks in the stack room for students doing research.

At the first meeting of the Player's Club on September 20 Professor Roy E. McAuley, sponsor of the club, explained the purposes, policies, and plans of the club.

The club has been asked by the Regional Conference authorities to present a play for the conference guests on that occasion. Members of the Player's Club not participating in the opera will present this play.

The Macollege Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatics fraternity, will supervise the selection of the play and arrange for the casting of the play.

Class Activities Include Movie, Trip To Topeka

The dilemma of justice against politics was presented in the film, "Justice Under the Law," last Friday morning to the government class.

This film was a series of excerpts from the 20th Century Fox movie, "Boomerang."

The showing of this film is another one of the semester activities of Prof. Raymond Flory's government class. Last week the class visited police court and tentative plans have been made to visit the capital city, Topeka, and also a session of district court.

Players To Present Play At Regional Conference

The trip was uneventful for the first thirty miles. Then pilot Moore seemed to notice a slight settling left rear. At first he thought it was just Miss Sigle, but after realizing she was in front, he dragged his feet and stopped the thing. Sure enough, after twenty-five faithful years a tire had gasped its last. The fellows immediately piled out the equipment for the necessary operation, and had it not been for their ex-

Mac Cafeteria Has Twenty Personnel

Perhaps the most familiar faces around the campus are those of the people who serve the food in the cafeteria. Standing behind the counter every day are Mary Caster, Delores Sigle, and Kathryn Larson. Others most in evidence are the cashier, Barbara Berry, the tray wiper, Pauline Adams, the plate scraper, Elsie Kindley, and her assistant, Ina Ditmars.

Other people who work hard in the kitchen are the dishwashers Walter Blough, Eldon Coffman, and Vanay Likhite and the dryer, Bob Wilson. Alice Flory and Maxine Hanley also lend a hand with the dishes.

Bob Bechtel is the able "cave" man again this year. General handyman around the kitchen is June Blough.

The able cooks who prepare our food are, besides the manager, Mrs. J. F. Sifer; Mrs. Katherine Crowley, Mrs. Shultz, Mrs. Schmidt, and Mrs. Walter Blough (era Ebersole '50).

Women's Council Plan Steak Fry October 1

New members of Women's Council this year include three sophomores; Margaret Yost, Fayette, Idaho; Mary Ellen Yoder, Conway, Kansas; and Carole Huffman, St. Joseph, Missouri.

The new council met for the first time Monday, September 24 to discuss plans for a steak fry on October 1. Recreation and singing to help the girls to get acquainted with each other will be part of the picnic.

Sixty-eight Take Proficiency Tests

Sixty-eight hopeful juniors and seniors filed into the chemistry lecture room at 8:00 last Friday morning to take their English Proficiency tests.

The test was composed of writing an acceptable composition on one of the topics listed.

Topics from which to choose were: Desirable Qualities for a College Professor, Reasons Why Shakespeare's Plays Never Grow Old, Literature and a Liberal Education, Professionalism in College Athletics, Recreation in Modern Living, An Ideal Home, The Most Useful Man (or Woman) in My Community, and My Opinion of American Diplomacy.

A satisfactory paper on this test is a prerequisite for graduation from Macollege.

James Sheaffer was elected vice-president and Esther Mohler, secretary of the Student Council in the first official meeting held in the SUR Wednesday evening, Sept. 19.

The Student Council is made up of 16 members. The president is David Metzler; treasurer, Marilee Grove; previous treasurer who advises the treasurer, Gerald Neher; there are two representatives from each class and two members who represent the extra curricular activity organizations.

Other members on the board are: Marilee Grove, chairman, David Metzler, Don Ford, Irwin Porter, Kathryn Larson, Mary Louise Hutcherson, Miss Vancil, and Gordon Yoder.

Barahona Observes And Likes Mac

Isabel Barahona, from Honduras, Central America, is getting a taste of American education this semester.

Isabel graduated from the Honduras Girls' Normal School in Tegucigalpa and has taught thirteen years in the Evangelical Normal School in San Pedro Sula.

She received a leave of absence from her teaching to study for a half year in any school in the United States. She chose McPherson because she wanted to attend a Christian college.

The trip to McPherson was made with Miss Rosalind Albert, a missionary in Honduras, whose parents live in McPherson. Isabel will return to her teaching after Christmas with Miss Albert.

Miss Ford and others are helping Isabel to take courses and do observation work that will be of special value to her in her normal school teaching.

Among the things which Isabel particularly likes about Macollege are: the Christian atmosphere; the liberty to choose elective courses; the participation of students in activities; and especially the friendly feeling between students and students, faculty and faculty, and students and faculty.

She states that she came to the United States for a new knowledge of intellectual development, and she hopes that her wish will come true.

New Personnel In Alumni Office

The Alumni Office, which is located on the first floor of Sharp Hall, has increased their personnel.

Bob Mays is the Alumni Secretary. Working with him, either part or full time, are three assistants.

Mrs. Joyce Hocott Chmberg, of McPherson who is working full time, is a former Macollege student. Her husband, Vincent, graduated from Macollege with the class of '51.

Miss Eleanor Hamm of Rocky Ford, Colorado, a freshman this year, is working in the office part time.

Miss Beverly Turner, of McPherson, a sophomore, is also putting in about ten hours a week.

Macollege Gains Arabian Student

There is another international who has just arrived on campus. He is Ismail Midden, who has joined us from another Kansas campus, Washburn University at Topeka.

Mr. Midden is not so new to this country however, as he came to this country from Gaza, Palestine September 5, 1950, by boat.

He will be a member of the freshman class, as he has had only one semester of school.

He is twenty years old, and his major field of interest is that of petroleum engineering. His father's profession is that of a landholder.

He is of Arabian nationality, while he is of Mohammed religion. He will make his home with Dean Berkebile.

We welcome Mr. Midden to our campus, and hope he will have an enjoyable stay with us.

Opps! Our Mistake

A mistake was made in the article announcing the engagement of Betty Young to Dean Neher. Dean is the brother of Lyle and Gerald Neher.

Attention has been called to the fact that the state of Oklahoma was not represented in the writup last week entitled, "Half Of Students Come From Kansas."

We want to let the world know that the following Macollege students come from Oklahoma: Bob Kerr, J. D. Pote, Leland Wilson, Clifford Ikenberry and Beryl McCann.

We Take It For Granted

We are prone to take for granted our freedom. We have come to accept such things as the radio, automobile and the deep freeze without much thought. Our religious freedom is generally accepted the same way. Do we ever ask ourselves why we are so fortunate?

Remember last Saturday. We were anxiously waiting for the football game to begin, when, as tradition stands the Macollege Pep Band led go on the notes of "The Star Spangled Banner." What happened? Everyone, man, woman, child and football player, referee and coach came to attention facing the American flag.

What were we thinking about as we stood there, eyes fixed on "Old Glory" as it was being raised, ears hearing the strains of our national anthem? Were we thinking of the football game and wondering who was going to win, or were we thinking that at that very moment our boys were fighting in Korea?

About that same time not so very far away, preparations were being made to take "Heartbreak Hill"—an important hill that was in the hands of the Reds.

A whole division was thrown against this one little hill. The group was soon reduced to battalion strength and the hill was finally taken by only three men of that original 1,000.

Congratulations But—

The officers and members of the Macollege "M" Club ought to be congratulated, on the fact that this fall their annual traditional "New member" initiation was held on a Tuesday and not on a chapel or assembly day.

In years past we remember when an assembly program or chapel worship service was interrupted with the clatter of baby carriages and the sound of "high heels." We have to admit that this does not add to but rather subtracts from the meaning that chapel or assembly periods should have for adults.

We hesitate to say further that there is something concerning the recent "M" Club initiation which is not to be commended, but rather criticized. However, as in all of life, we must face the bad as well as the good, if we are to grow to be stalwart and stable adults.

We are inclined to believe that initiations need not be an ordeal, instead they could be creative.

In a large eastern university (Indiana, I believe) directly following the last war, a new era was developed in the initiation program of that institution.

The returning GI's, back from brushes with death, were disgusted by the mumbo-jumbo of initiation rites. An initiate was drowned while being "dunked" in the school pond. A returned soldier was the president of the student body and since he saw little use in pulling all kinds of embarrassing stunts, and causing "accidental deaths", he decided to seek for something creative in initiation exercises.

The GI, after getting the faculty's consent took the initiates of an organization to a local school building. There they cleaned off old paint and repainted the building. Here was a creative gesture; and though it was work, the initiates loved it. Soon all the societies took hold of the idea. Now, the president of the student body is kept busy receiving calls about possible projects for initiates. The university president says that the school organizations are all on a higher level now.

It has come to our attention that there are lettermen on Macampus who are eligible for membership in the "M" Club, but because of the type of initiation practices these persons refuse to join. Not only is this true now, but this has been the case for a number of years.

Some highly successful and prominent men would have joined the club—if the tactics were creative instead of destructive. We know it is in the heart of all men on Macampus to be able to join the "M" Club and we are sure they are not "sissies" for they have earned the letters. It is a shame that these eligible persons will not be able to join the club.

When a society executes a plan whereby a human personality is degraded with lewd and vulgar acts, we come to think that we are not living as Christians but non-Christians, that we are not living as adults but as children. Perhaps we would expect such things from children, but we are adults in our thinking.

When any organization plans and executes an initiation which is clearly aimed at upsetting a chapel program or a worship speaker, embarrassing an initiate or a member of the fairer sex, or degrading one's own personality, it is time for us to remind ourselves that we are now adults living in a grown-up world.

Take One Please

A student is given a subscription to the Spectator when he pays his incidental fee.

We would like to ask that you take only one paper and if you want to send one home either get a subscription or send your own.

Your cooperation will certainly be appreciated.

A draft like the one proposed, however, would bring a group of boys into the service with nothing but grips.

Construct New Sign At Macollege Entrance

The new sign at the college entrance has been made possible by a number of people.

The project was begun last year by the Women's Council when they raised most of the money for the sign. It was approved by the administration committee and the college trustees.

Margaret Daggett, Pauline Hess, Professor Dell, Gordon Yoder, and Dr. Bittinger chose the wording which would appear on the sign.

Professor Dell was in charge of constructing and putting it up at our college entrance.

WEDDING BELLS WERE RINGING

Neher-Nicholson

Miss Rowena Neher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark E. Neher, Quinter, and Vernon Nicholson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd V. Nicholson, Twin Falls, Idaho, exchanged marriage vows in a double-ring ceremony at 8 p. m. June 11 at the Quinter Church of the Brethren.

The ceremony, written and arranged by the bride, was solemnized by Rev. Harry K. Zeller, before an altar arrangement of eight candles in single floor candelabra, each tied with sprays of white gladioli and fern.

An estimated gathering of 240 friends and relatives sat in the candlelighted sanctuary. Esther Reed daisies and white chrysanthemums with satin ribbon bows decorated the windows.

Mrs. Lloyd Larsen of McPherson played a program of organ music.

The bride wore a dress of white imported Chantilly lace styled with a tulle yoke, fitted bodice and full floor-length lace skirt over tulle and satin, and matching lace mitts. Her double-tier illusion veil fell from a French bonnet trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a white Bible.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Betty Ann Murray of Conway. Bridesmaids were Miss Martha Frantz of Conway Springs, Miss Rosemary Traxler, McPherson, and Miss Doris Lee Kestler of Quinter.

The flower girl, Colleen Neher, sister of the bride, wore a pink dress of organdy and French embroidery and a halo of orchid gladioli.

Preceding the ceremony Genevieve Crist, the bride's aunt, read Phillips' translation of the 13th chapter of First Corinthians.

Kenneth Graham sang "At Dawning" and "How Do I Love Thee?" After James Garvey spread the bridal carpet and the attendants took their places, the bride descended the aisle as the bridegroom sang, "I Love You Truly."

Mr. John Firestone of Jennings, Louisiana, served as best man. Groomsmen were Mr. James Garvey and Leon Neher, brothers of the bride, and Mr. Irwin Porter and Mr. D. A. Crist, cousins of the bride.

There was a reception following the ceremony in the church parlors.

The couple traveled to the Ozarks in Missouri after which they spent some time at Quinter. They will return to their new home at Geneseo, Kans., where Mr. Nicholson will be a music instructor.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Nicholson are graduates of MacCollege.

The service, which immediately followed the Sunday morning service, was given by Rev. E. G. Colings, brother in law of the bride. His assistant in the double ring ceremony was Rev. H. T. Abbott. For her wedding, the bride chose a ballerina length gown of white embroidered organdy. Her double tiered veil was fastened to a tiara of pearls, and she carried a white Bible.

Miss Barbara Gilmore, maid of honor, wore a Nile green organdy ballerina dress, fashioned after the dress of the bride, with a matching halo.

Bill Moore served as best man. Bill Trantham, organist, played a program of traditional wedding music, accompanying Mrs. Harold Quinter, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "God Bless Our Home."

Mrs. Sanger, mother of the bride, wore a gray dress with navy accessories. Mrs. Augsburger wore a navy sheer dress with matching accessories.

Miss A. E. San Romani, McPherson, played the nuptial music and Mr. David Albright, Eldora, Iowa, sang "Because" and the "Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Victor E. Klein, of Iowa Falls, Iowa, gave her in marriage. The bride wore an ankle length dress of beige lace over taffeta with beige and white accessories and carried a bouquet of Rubrum lilies.

Concordia Teachers Here Tonight

Tonight will find the McPherson College Bulldogs playing host to Concordia Teachers College of Seward, Nebraska. Game time is scheduled for 8:00.

Heading the coaching staff for the team from the cornhusker state is Herbert Meyer, who is now serving his tenth year as head football coach at Concordia. The school colors are blue and white. The Concordia Teachers also have the nickname of Bulldogs.

Coach Herbert Meyer has a nucleus of fourteen lettermen around which he has built his 1951 grid-iron team. The Bulldogs have been fielding powerful teams the last two seasons. This year they are again making it clear that they won't be push overs. In the Bulldogs opener last weekend, they waltzed to a 46 to 0 victory over Sterling College.

Heading the list of returning backs are lettermen Herbert Peter, Larry Keiser, and John "Sid" Seever. Peter and Keiser were two of last year's team leading ground gainers averaging better than six yards per carry.

Seever will play the role of quarterback and will also handle a large share of the passing duties for the team from Nebraska tonight. The other backfield letterman is Gordon Wendling.

At the end positions Meyer has five experienced performers. Marlin Zobel, last year's leading scorer, and Dick Walther will handle the mostly offensive duty while Paul Koehnke and Harry Brockberg will take charge defensively.

The Bulldogs greatest weakness seems to be in the center of the line. They are very short of experienced hands at this spot. Big Gene Oetting, a workhorse from last year's team, and Paul Walther head the list of tacklers.

The guard spots will be held down by Don Firbhaber and Robert Gaede. The overall squad is lighter than last year's team, but this Concordia squad should give Coach "Woody" Woodard Bulldogs a good battle Friday night.

Coach Woodard's Canines showed a great deal of power at times in last week's encounter with Bethel. The Macollege Bulldogs have a great deal of reserve strength this year, and it showed up very strongly in the last half when Woody did a great deal of substituting. The Bulldogs reserves pushed over a touchdown and held the Graymaroons from scoring.

Who will start for Coach "Woody" Woodard's Bulldogs against Concordia Teachers this Friday will depend on the flip of the coin, and how many members of the squad will be fit to play. This week several of the players are down with the flu, and it is not known if they will be ready to go at game time.

Pat Royer, president, gave a short talk on the purpose and activities of the WAA. The four sports heads explained their sports.

They included: Individual sports, Martha Lucero; tennis, Hatako Kanazawa; outing, June Blough; and softball, Rowena Merkey.

Mac Tennis Squad Has 50-50 Season

Coach Gordon Yoder's 1951 Macollege tennis team had nearly a 50-50 season as far as wins and losses were concerned. The team improved consistently during the season.

Dick Horning, a five-foot-eight-inch shorty from Larned, was the team's No. 1 player during the season. He was a semi-finalist in the Kansas Conference tournament.

Another short player, Lloyd Hummer, Booker, Texas, and lanky Bill Frantz, McPherson, alternated in the No. 2 and No. 3 assignments, with Frantz getting the nod late in the season.

Don West, Pampa, Texas, was the team's No. 4 man.

The team won and lost six matches during the season, beating the College of Emporia, Bethel College and Tabor College twice each and losing two each to Southwestern College, Bethany College and Friends University.

Over the season, McPherson singles play showed a record of 28 wins and 27 losses, and a 50-50 record in 28 doubles matches. An oddity occurred in doubles play as the team won and lost the same number of matches, sets and games.

In singles play, Frantz won seven and lost five; West won five and lost two; Hummer won five and lost nine; and Horning won seven and lost nine.

Bulldogs Take Opener With Win Over Bethel

The McPherson College "Bulldogs" trumped the Bethel Graymaroons last weekend to the tune of 39 to 0, before a capacity crowd of nearly 3,000 at the College stadium, as they opened the season with a Kansas Conference victory.

Long runs for substantial gains featured the McPherson offensive with 18 runs of 10 yards or more each being made by the Canine's ball carriers. McPherson piled up more than twice as much yardage from ground plays than Bethel.

McPherson scored in every period of the game. Midway in the first quarter Robison skirted left end and plunged over from the 2-yard mark for the Bulldogs first TD. McSpadden juggled the ball over for the extra point.

Early in the second quarter Gene Smith scored from 28 yards out on an end run. The try for extra point by Robison failed.

The rest of the second quarter was played on fairly even terms with neither team being able to score. The Bulldog threatened several times, but was unable to push the pigskin across. The half ended with the score standing at 13 to 0 in favor of the Bulldogs.

On the fifth play in the third quarter, Smith broke away and ran 40 yards to score for the Canines. It was after this TD that Ball carried the ball for the extra point. A few minutes later Ball jaunted 21 yards to reach the Bethel 30, and on the following play McSpadden went around the end of the line to hit pay dirt. Smith's attempt to carry the ball for the extra point after touchdown failed.

Just before the third quarter ended, Smith displayed some of the power that made him such a threat last year, by making a spectacular 79-yard broken-field run that netted McPherson its third TD of the period. Don Hoch attempted to carry the ball over for the extra point but failed to make it.

Early in the final period, Howard Hehlinger, quarterback, tossed a pass to Bob Bechtel for a total gain of 45 yards and a touchdown. Another pass, by Hehlinger to Sharpe, netted the Bulldogs the extra point.
