

Mac Students To Observe Annual Sadie Hawkins' Day

Macollege students, male and female, are again observing the annual and traditional Sadie Hawkins' Day. The males are the pursued and wily females are the pursuers as the students attempt to reenact "Dogpatch Days" as presented by Cartoonist Al Capp.

THE BEGINNING

Sadie Hawkins' beginneth on the twenty-fifth day of Oct. in the year 1951 of our Lord. The by-laws have been laid and persecution shall fall upon those who do not comply.

- They are thus stated:
1. Female pursuit male.
  2. The pursuit shall commence on the twelfth and one-half hour, Thursday, Oct. 25, with the assembling of both sexes on the end of the gridiron.
  3. Men have advantage of ten paces in the starting line-up.
  4. At the shot of the cannon the race is on.
  5. For one hour from the above stated time, there shall be an open free-for-all at which time the pursued shall not enter a building or leave the premises of the campus. Any man found within the boundary of a wall within this hour can be legally caught by seizure. Failure to adhere to this regulation the pursuer has the authority to establish claim on the pursued.
  6. From this point the chase will be continued until noon on Friday, Oct. 26.
  7. The procedure for catching a man will be hereto limited by:
    - a. Not over six rambunctious females to one defenseless male—unless accompanied by a responsible faculty member.
    - b. The hunted is safe within the walls of all campus buildings after the hour free-for-all, as no female can chase or drag them from the above realm. The penalty is the catch becoming null and void.
    - c. Last, but not least, due to the severe drought in California, no water shall be used for drowning of the opposite sex.
    - d. To legalize the catch, both male and female must present themselves to the license bureau located on the Arnold Hall veranda for purchase of a two-cent marriage license, and a twenty-five cent refreshment fee, to be presented as admittance to the grand finale Saturday night. Licenses can be purchased at the shindig for all those uncatched and those that didn't catch. All singles pay whole sum total of twenty cents, so it pays to catch and be caught.

THE CONCLUSION

The Sadie Hawkins' Party will be in the gym, Saturday night, Oct. 27, at 7:45. Girls, be sure you don't forget your dates' corsages. Jerry McConkey is chairman of the Foods committee. Don West, Faye Ellen Trostle, and Glen Bellah are the other members of the committee.

The chairman of the Recreation and Program Committee is Wayne Elkensstaff. The members on the committee are Velva Wagner, Gerald Nelson, and Elsie Kindley.

Don Fike is the chairman of the Decoration Committee. Alice Flory, Bob Hampshire, and LaFaugn Hubbard are the committee members.

WPA Week is Oct. 28 to Nov. 3. More plans for this week will be announced later.

Everyone is to wear a costume to the Sadie Hawkins' Party.

There will be judges of the costumes, and prizes for the best ones. So don't forget to come as Daisy Mae, Lil Abner, or some other Dogpatch character.

Party Held In Boy Scout Cabin

Phyllis Bowman, Royce Beam, Betty Ann Murray and Irwin Porter entertained a group of friends at a party Saturday night after the game at the Boy Scout Cabin. The group enjoyed visiting, popping popcorn, eating apples and roasting marshmallows.

Those attending were Marilee Bowman, Lola Yoder, Jerry Nelson, Bonnie Martin, Carol Huffman, D. A. Crist, Betty Byers, Winston Beam, Janice High, Winston Bowman, Jerry McConkey, Mr. Jerry McConkey, Doris and Dale Snyder, Vernon and Hester Nicholson, Vernon and Hester Nicholson, Rowan Keim, Bill Daggett, Ruth Crumpecker, Dick Wagener, Naomi and Fred Goerner, Martha Lucore, Sylvia Flora, Mr. Milford Porter and the host and hostess.

Queen Anita Crowned Amid Cheers And Applause

Amid the cheers and applause of the largest crowd to ever attend a game in the McPherson College stadium, Queen Anita and the members of her court arrived in front of the speaker's box in a grey Mercury Capri sedan.

Bob Kerr and Charles Petefish, co-captains of the football squad, escorted Miss Rogers to the throne. Gene Bechtel, president of the sophomore class escorted the sophomore attendant, Carole Huffman. Margaret Baile, freshman attendant was escorted by Frank Hanaganer.

Nancy Lloyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lloyd, was flower girl and Gary Flory, son of Prof. crown bearer. Max McAuley introduced Queen Anita and presented her with a bouquet of roses. Mrs. Miriam Keim Albright crowned her queen.

The queen and her attendants watched the game from the throne.

Medieval Court Banquet Theme

A medieval court with miniature gold castles and small gold crowns carried out the theme selected by the Social Committee for the 1951 Homecoming Queen's Banquet.

The lords and ladies of the college were seated at a large U-shaped banquet table with Queen Anita and her court presiding at the head table.

Tommy O'Dell, court jester, entertained the group throughout the feast and was master of ceremonies.

Don Hoch sang several Scotch numbers accompanied by Betty Brammell.

Ray McAuley related several incidents leading up to and including the time of Anita's coronation.

Macollege ladies quartet sang an original song about Anita. A traveling dramatic troupe presented a scene from the days of King Arthur.

Prizes Awarded To Parade Floats

Prominent citizens of McPherson who acted as judges of the Homecoming Parade Saturday afternoon have announced the following float results: Freshman Class, first prize of $15; Junior Class, second prize of $10; and The Spectator, third prize of $5.

The Freshmen float, made up of a giant-size sucker, a mammoth ice-cream cone, and five freshmen adorned in green outfits, carried out the theme, "Lick C of E!"

A huge crown in the center of the Junior float with goal posts at each end was built around the theme, "Let's Win the Conference Crown!"

The Spectator float was the scene of the Spec office, including the personnel involved, and carrying out the theme, "Let's Press the Presbies!"

Coach Woodard Speaks To Mac Kiwanis Club

Coach Chalmers Woodard spoke to the Kiwanis Club on Oct. 10.

He stressed the importance of good relations between the town and the college.

He also made several comments concerning Macollege's game with College of Emporia.

MerryMaes Plan Recreation At Y

The married students of Macollege are coming to be known as the "MerryMaes" and they will again meet for an evening of entertainment and recreation at the local Y. M. C. A. Friday night, Oct. 19 at 7:30.

The MerryMaes meet at the "Y" when there is no all-school activity on campus.

The group have access to the swimming pool, basketball courts and the social parlors.

Beginning in December, the group can preview two movies on Friday night that will be shown to the kids on Saturdays.

The director, Don Ford, asks that all married students who do not intend to go to the game plan to attend the MerryMac meeting.

Hesses Attend Communions

Dr. Maurice A. Hess and family will go to the Old German Baptist Brethren Church near Westphalia, Kan., Saturday and Sunday for a Communion Meeting.

Dr. Hess has attended several of these meetings in different churches in Kansas the last few weeks and will attend several more.

The five churches of this denomination in Kansas arrange their communion meetings in a cycle that visiting ministers and members may attend all of them.

On September 29 and 30 the Hess family attended the meeting at Quinter. At that meeting of the Annual Conference was set. Consideration was given to having it at Quinter, but the final decision was for California.

On October 6 and 7 they traveled to a church near Sawyer, Kansas. Last weekend found them about eleven miles northwest of Ottawa. One hundred sixty-five people attended that meeting, including fifteen out-of-district people, of whom two were out-of-state.

A trip to the Pleasant Grove Church southwest of Lawrence October 27 and 28 will complete the cycle.

Each individual church forms a district, and many districts combine to make a region. The denomination is composed of four regions: Eastern states, Ohio, Indiana and Michigan, and the remaining states.

Craig Arrives On Macampus

Our latest addition to our swelling number of foreign students arrived upon the campus last Sunday. He is James Craig from Katsina, Northern Province, Nigeria, W. Africa.

The trip from his home in Africa to Macollege took three months. He traveled by boat to New York where he made a mode of transportation change to the train.

James is a freshman in college and plans to major in Rural Life.

Before coming to America he attended high school at Kings College at Lagos, Nigeria and the Teachers Training Center at Zaria, Nigeria. He taught elementary school in Jos, Nigeria which is a city of 30,000 population.

He speaks very good English and says he has spoken English all his life.

He also speaks the Hausa language which is the native tongue of the northern tribe in Nigeria of which he is a member.

Thanks To You

The Spectator Homecoming float took third place and the prize of five dollars.

We want to thank all the staff, reporters and others for their cooperation in making our float a success.

Especially do we want to thank those who were directly responsible for the actual planning and work on the float.

These persons include: Lorene Marshall, Martha McClung, Sarah May Vancil, Dale Birkenholtz, LaFaugn Hubbard, Esther Ikegberry, Ruth Papp, Faye Ellen Trostle, Esther Mohler, Kenneth Brown and Margaret Yost.

Three persons, not on the Spec staff, helped carry out the float theme of "Let's Press The Presbies." These were: Myron Krehbiel who represented sports, Alberta Wheeler who rode the bicycle and Beryl McCann who drove the truck.

Our thanks to you all.

Donald Ford
Editor-in-Chief

UNESCO To Hold Model U. N. Soon

A model U. N. will be held in Macollege gymnasium Tuesday evening, Oct. 23, at 7:30. The public is invited to attend.

This is the first major project of the UNESCO group for the current year. The subject for discussion will be "The Right of the U. N. To Intervene in the Iranian Oil Dispute."

Speakers at the meeting will represent different countries and will give opinions typical of the attitude of the country represented. Opinions will be given by 18 speakers representing 16 countries.

UNESCO has a membership of 70 at the present time. Maurice Richards is the president of the campus chapter.

The model U. N. has become an annual affair at Macampus. Last year the delegates discussed the admission of Communist China to the U. N.

Minister's Visit Old Folk Homes

Macollege student ministers will present a program in an old folk's home in McPherson Sunday, Oct. 21. Beryl McCann and Leland Wilson are in charge of planning the program.

The group will meet at 2:30 p. m. in the SUR.

Bob Boyer and Bob Powell are making plans for the student ministers to attend early morning mass at the Catholic Church. The date for this visit has not been set.

At the meeting Oct. 2, Robert Fryman was elected to replace Don Ford on the steering committee. Other members of the steering committee are Walter Blough and Alvin Zunkel.

Dean James M. Berkhle spoke on "The Virtues of a Student Minister Should Possess."

The student ministers invites other students to take part in their activities. Members of the steering committee may be contacted by those interested in the program at the old folk's home or in the visit to the Catholic Church.

Students Invited To Visit Faculty Homes

Faculty members are opening their homes for student visiting tonight, 7:30-10:30. Students may get a schedule of the homes to be visited from Social Committee members in the SUR at 7:30 p. m.

THANKS A LOT!

To all the W. A. A. members who helped make the float, the Queen's throne, and the concession stand at the game a success, thanks a lot.

It was only through the cooperation of each of you that we were able to do these things.

Also special thanks go to Betty Ann Murray and Donna Sooby for all the extra help they gave us at the concession stand.

Govt. Students Will Visit District Court

The students of U. S. Government class, taught by Professor Raymond Flory, will attend a district court session Monday morning, Oct. 22.

The class is studying government agencies and expenditures. They plan to attend legislative sessions in Topeka soon.

Bible Is Honored October 15-21

The world's most famous book—the Bible—is being honored throughout the nation this week from October 15-21. The Laymen's National Committee, sponsors of National Bible Week, urge everyone to make the week an occasion for special prayer, a period in which to plant in the hearts of everyone belief and faith in God, and our American way of life.

Congressman Walter Judd of Minnesota is National Chairman for Bible week. He urges all civic and religious organizations in the community to concentrate on Bible week.

"The Bohemian Girl" is an opera by Balfe, which will be presented by Macollege dramatics club Nov. 13, takes place in Austria in the 18th Century.

The story is about Arline, the daughter of Count Arnhelm, who is kidnapped by a roving band of gypsies when she is but a small child.

The second act takes place twelve years later when Arline and one of the gypsy tribe are murdered by the jealous queen who plans revenge. Arline is accused of theft and brought before her father's court. When recognized by her father she is restored to her rightful position.

In the third act her father agrees to her marriage to the gypsy, who is of noble birth, and the jealous queen is killed by her own cunning.

Cast Is Chosen For One-Act Play

The cast for "The Terrible Meek," Players' Club production for Regional Conference, has been announced.

Marlin Walters will play the captain's part. The soldier will be played by Glenn Bellah. Donna Phelon will take the part of the woman.

Judges for the try-outs were: Mrs. Harry K. Zeller, Mrs. Virginia Harris, and Prof. Roy E. McAuley.

Three more one-act plays will be presented this year and also a three-act play. Many more students will have opportunity to take acting parts in these plays.

Ladies Trio Tours Middle Northwest

Members of the college Ladies Trio, Marilee Grove, Anita Rogers, and Donna Wagener, their accompanist, Berwyn Oltman, and sponsor, Bob Mays, left at 10 this morning for a 10-day fall tour of Brethren churches.

Churches included in the trio's itinerary are Enders, Nebr., Frodo, Mont., Minot, N. Dak., York, N. Dak., Cando, N. Dak., Carrington, N. Dak., Guthrie, Minn., Barnum, Minn., Minneapolis, Minn., and Worthington, Minn. Enroute from Enders to Frodo the group plans to drive through the Black Hills.

The purpose of the trip is to provide entertainment and worship for the various congregations, and to familiarize the churches with the program and work of the college.

District Elects Zeller Moderator

New moderator for the Southwest District of Kansas in 1952 is Rev. Harry K. Zeller, Jr., pastor of the College Church of the Brethren.

Rev. Zeller was elected at Annual District Conference held at St. John, Kansas, in The Eden Valley Church of the Brethren, October 12-14.

Guest speaker at the conference was Edward K. Ziegler, evangelistic director for the Church of the Brethren.

New district CBYF officers were also elected. Those who will continue in office for another year will be Bryce Miller, president; Eula Mae Murray, secretary-treasurer; Lorene Clark, editor; and Bob Mays, adult advisor. New officers are Kenneth Brown, president-elect; Alberta Ramsey, secretary-elect; and Darluis Miller, editor-elect.

As a climax to the conference, McPherson College program was presented on Sunday afternoon, October 14. The McPherson College Ladies' Quartet, composed of Phyllis Bowman, Florence Hale, Ruth Crumpecker, and Claudia Jo Stump, sang several selections. Dean Berkhle gave an address on the progress of McPherson College.

Macollege Is Proud

It was a thrill to see so many out for the Homecoming game last Saturday. We feel sure that there were many and varied reasons why so many attended the game and also had such a fine spirit during the whole of Homecoming.

Possibly the main reasons could be these:

The athletic program has been on the up-grade ever since Coach "Woody" Woodard has come to the college. With his efficient teaching and coaching system and his superior coaching staff the whole athletic program has gone far ahead of some of our expectations.

The calibre of the teaching staff of the college has been improved much during the past few years and we feel sure this, too, has helped in the progress of Macollege.

We would not belittle the unique spirit that has caught the students and faculty alike in its grip. This spirit, termed "the family spirit" by President Bittinger and others, has done more to mould the students and faculty into a well-formed coordinated group than has all the contributing factors.

Macollege is proud of her students and faculty, her greatly improving athletic program and superior teaching faculty, and of the fine spirit with which the members of "the family" unite together in work, study, worship and play. D. T. F.

Readers Write

We think that the students and faculty of Macollege and others who read the Spectator ought to feel free to contribute material for the paper.

It is the desire of the Spectator staff, to have a paper the reader enjoys and feels that he is a part of that paper.

In order for you to feel a part of the paper we feel that you ought to be given the opportunity to write for the paper. We are asking you that if you agree or disagree with us, please notify us.—The Editing Staff.

A Lament On Sadie Hawkins'

To flee, or not to flee; that is the question
Whether 'tis better in the chase to suffer
The glares and torments of outrageous females,
Or to give in amidst a horde of chasers,
And by submitting end all? To trip; to fall;
Just once; and by a fall to say we end
The backache and the thousand painful shocks
The chased is heir to, 'tis a situation
Devoutly to be wished. To trip, to fall;
To fall; perchance by fate: ay, there's the rub;
For in that fall of fate what hags may pounce
When we have lost all hope of liberty,
Must give us chills: there's the respect
That makes Sadie Hawkins' of so great dread!

Trustees Change Medical Plans

The college trustees voted to change the Blue Cross and Blue Shield Hospitalization and Medical Expense Plans of the faculty members and their families.

Previously the faculty has paid the entire amount of dues on these plans. The trustees voted to pay one-fourth of the total expenses on dues of the faculty who are members or wish to become members of Blue Cross and/or Blue Shield.

Both Blue Cross and Blue Shield are National Medical Expense Plans, endorsed by hospitals and doctors. Several faculty members benefited from these plans during the last year.

Bulldogs Work In Cannery

Last spring several of us male students from Macollege heard about the possibility of going to Oregon to work in the pea canneries. We wrote letters to a few companies and finally decided upon one canning which is called the Utah Canning Company. Seven of us decided to go out for the summer.

We arrived at Milton-Freewater, Ore., at different intervals. Some of us rode the bus, while others "rode the thumb." The seven who arrived ready for work the first week of the canning season were Bob Bechtel, Dave Metzler, Bob Powell, Maurics Richards, Loren Frantz, Eugene Neff, and Bob Wilson.

We were shown our places of residence in which we were going to spend the nights of the canning season. They were small brick cabins in which four boys were supposed to stay. They were furnished with bunk beds, a table, and a shelf cabinet.

When we started to work, we were not acquainted with the cannery and the warehouse. These interested all of us very much.

During the first week we called Loren Bickenstein at his home in Nampa, Idaho, and asked him to come up. He came up and that made a total of eight boys from McPherson. We had the most fellows from any college which was represented here. Some of the other colleges represented were Pacific University, Arizona State, and Oregon State.

All of us were put on stacking crews except Eugene Neff. He worked at night in the cannery. The rest of us worked in the warehouse in the daytime. At least, we were supposed to work during the day; but after the cannery got into full swing of operation, we were there until 11 and 12 many nights although we went to work at 7 a.m.

We hatched; but since we really didn't have too much time to cook our meals, we really got tired of lunch meat and tuna fish which seemed to be very popular among us for sandwiches. When we had time, however, we would have pretty good meals. The male cooking talent which Macollege has in its midst is quite surprising.

The work of the stacking crews was primarily to stack cases of peas in the warehouse. This was pretty strenuous work, and we usually didn't stack over eight hours a day. The rest of the time we loaded and unloaded cans, moved salt, sugar, and cans, and labeled orders of peas for dealers.

The nearest town, Walla Walla, Wash., was 12 miles from Milton-Freewater. They had excellent swimming pools and theatres, and we would take advantage of our spare moments by going to Walla Walla. We went to church on Sunday if we had Sunday morning off.

Household duties such as our washing and the cleaning of our cabins took part of our time, and these things usually came first before our recreation.

Our work was hard, and we worked long hours, but not everything was work. We had water fights which sometimes ended by someone's getting thrown into the cooling tank. There was a basketball goal in one of the warehouses, and the company had a couple of basketballs. Once in a while we would choose up sides and have a game.

We had the pleasure of working with some foreign boys. Several were from Hawaii. They were students at either Oregon

State or Pacific University.

Our standard dress was a pair of gym trunks, swimming suit, or something very similar, and tennis shoes. That dress afforded comfort to our feet on the cement floors, and also it was cool.

The cases of peas were piled into stacks which had as many as 10,000 cases in them. If you ask any of the boys, they will probably tell you how we stacked the peas; and they will probably add some of their personal experiences.

The weather was very agreeable. The temperature never got above 95 degrees. Even that temperature must have been rather hot for the location, because the native residents complained about how hot it was when none of us Bulldogs ever noticed it.

The chigger is non-existent there. Three-fourths of the people don't know what chiggers are. Because there are practically no mosquitoes, we found it was very pleasant to lie on the grass in the evenings; that is, if we had any time.

Spectators Sent To 21 States, 3 Countries

This year 163 copies of the Spectator are sent each week to subscribers off Macollege campus. Copies are sent to subscribers in 21 different states.

In addition there are subscribers in Hawaii, Korea, and Puerto Rico. Copies are also sent to 29 different high school and college newspapers across the nation.

Weddings

Doyle-Stagner

Colleen Ellen Doyle, daughter of Mrs. Odette Doyle of Great Bend, was married to Mr. Lloyd E. Stagner, son of Mrs. Della Stagner of Hutchinson, Kansas, in the Baker Avenue Baptist Church of Great Bend, Kansas. The Rev. R. H. Spangler officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli.

Mrs. Herbert Marchant was organist and Rev. Irven Stern sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Giles Stagner, Hutchinson, brother of the groom was best man and Donald Ferguson of Wichita was the usher. Mrs. Irven Stern, McPherson, was matron of honor and Marie Miller of Lima, Ohio, was bridesmaid.

The bride wore a full length white nylon gown with chantilly lace over the yoke and sleeves. Her finger tip veil was an identical gown of pale lavender. She carried a white prayer book with an orchid and baby's breath tied with stath streamers.

A gown of pale green shadow sheer over taffeta with short ruffled mitts of the same material were worn by the matron of honor. The bridesmaid wore an identical gown of pale lavender. Both carried baskets filled with Esther Reed daisies and baby's breath.

The bride's mother wore a beige dress of lace and crepe with brown accessories. The groom's mother chose a brown figured crepe gown with white accessories. Both wore corsages of peach gladioli.

Mrs. James Joseph of Lima, Ohio, sister of the bride, and Erna Mausolf were the hostesses at the reception which was held in the couple's new home.

The bride is a graduate of Central High School of Lima, Ohio, and attended Macollege. She was employed as a teacher in the Clarlin schools.

The groom is a graduate of McPherson High School and is employed by the Santa Fe Railroad office in Great Bend.

For their wedding trip to Colorado and New Mexico, the bride chose a royal blue suit with white accessories and wore an orchid corsage.

Fee Attends Meeting Of Deans Of Women

Dr. Mary Fee, Dean of Women, will attend the Kansas Association of Deans of Women and Advisors of Girls meeting Friday and Saturday. Miss Fee will preside at the luncheon meeting of the group Friday.

Mrs. Ruth McCann, president of the National Association of Deans of Women, will be the principal speaker. "Potential Resources for Growth" is the theme of the meeting.

Wanted! A Jeep
"Do you have an amphibious jeep for sale?" Dr. Hess would like to have one. At least, the all-believing Chevrolet dealer apologized for not having one when Dr. Hess asked him that question.

While travelling near Sawyer, Kansas, on the weekend of October 6 and 7, Dr. Hess found need to cross Sand Creek with his automobile. At this hour water was flowing over the bed of the particular bridge that awaited him.

Willing to test the depth of the water, Dr. Hess cautiously ventured the vehicle into the water. The water reached only to the hubcaps, and calculating that under normal conditions nothing could deter his progress, he pressed the car on across the stream.

But this bridge did not observe normal conditions. Suddenly an abrupt dip in the bridge lowered the car into the stream up to the top of the tires.

Water threatened the engine, but with the service of a few engine cylinders the faithful 1951 Chevrolet engine chugged on to victory.

Freshmen Wonder About Green Caps
"Where are our green caps?" is what the freshmen are saying. "Don't doff that tradition!"

In a burst of old-time school spirit, the University of Kansas has but the traditional beanie back on the heads of freshmen. But it's strictly voluntary now. The days of "murder the frosh because he forgot his beanie" are gone, commented the University Daily Kansan.

The Union director said, "I hope, however, the freshmen will think enough of the University of Kansas to want to wear freshman caps."

Meanwhile, at Wayne State Teachers College, Nebraska, the beanies have been unceremoniously disposed of.

What is the case here at Macollege? Freshmen would like to know.

Czaplinsky Family Asks Help From Mac Students

Mr. and Mrs. Vladimir Czaplinsky and their two boys are new members of the McPherson community. They arrived on June 1 and are trying to learn English and American ways of living.

The Social Action Committee of the Church of the Brethren in McPherson had made a request to the Brethren Service Center, New Windsor, Maryland, that they be sent a D. P. family. On Wednesday, May 30, 1951, a telegram was received saying the family had arrived and would be here on the following Friday.

A job and a house had already been provided, but as yet the house was unfurnished. After much rushing they found furniture and other necessary equipment for the house. The family arrived on Friday, June 1.

The family is from the Ukraine, and consists of four members. The father is 30 years old, and his name is Vladimir. His wife is 29, and her name is Vera. They have two boys, George, age 7 and Eugene, age 6.

At present the boys are attending Harmony school which is about one-fourth mile east of their home.

The family speaks three different languages: Russian, Polish, and German. They had always spoken Russian until during the Nazi regime. They escaped to Poland had to learn Polish in order not to be discovered.

Since the children have started to school the family seems to be learning English better. They would like for the college students to help teach them English. In return they will help the students with their German.

Before the Czaplinsky family came to the United States, Mr. Czaplinsky was in charge of a dairy farm in Poland.

He was not too well acquainted with the use of modern machinery, but has been able to overcome this to a great extent.

When the family first arrived, the heat bothered them somewhat, as it was quite different from their homeland. They are very much frightened by electrical storms.

Mr. Czaplinsky is employed by Rex Curtis. He is assisting in farm work.

The strength of a country or creed lies in the true sense of loyalty it can arouse in the hearts of its people.—Rev. L. C. Gerstein.

"Bulldogs" Suffer First Loss As C. of E. Upsets Mac 30-19

The McPherson College Homecoming fans were given a real treat Saturday night as the Mac college football stadium. An estimated 4½-5 thousand persons saw a rough and tumble game between the Bulldogs and the College of Emporia Presbies. It was an exciting game, however the Presbies upset the Bulldogs 30-19.

The weather was wonderful Saturday night. The crowd was the largest ever to attend a football game in McPherson, and the Bulldogs played the game for all they were worth.

But when the McPherson crowd filled out of the stadium after the game, the gloom in the air was heavy enough to have been cut with a knife.

The reason for all this unhappiness was that the McPherson Bulldogs had suffered their first loss of the season by being dumped roughly by the Presbies from Emporia 30-19.

The Bulldogs started wheeling and dealing from the opening kickoff and scored a touchdown nearly every time they came in possession of the pigskin.

The Canines kicked off to the Presbies who moved the ball in a couple of quick plays to the McPherson 31-yard line. But then the Bulldog line dug in and the Presbies lost the pigskin on downs on the McPherson 27-yard line.

This set the stage for the Canines' first TD. The Bulldogs advanced the ball to the Emporia 48 in two first downs in a row. Here Cannonball Ball and Gene Smith took over and carried the ball to the Presbies' 21 and a first down.

Wayne Hickenstaf then called for a pass, which he threw to Captain Bob Kerr. Kerr made a beautiful one-handed catch of the ball right on the goal line to score McPherson's first tally.

Gene Elrod attempted the kick for the extra point, but failed as the ball went wide of the uprights.

A little later in the same period Jim Naughton, a fast Presbie back, broke away from the Bulldog defensive team for a gain of 38 yards to put the oval on the McPherson 2-yard stripe. On the next play Myers smashed over the center of the line to draw first blood for Emporia.

Automatic Beeson kicked the extra point, and Emporia went into the lead 7 to 6.

Emporia punted and Kerr, following some good interference, sidestepped his way to the Presbies' 26; and the Bulldogs started another drive that was to net them another 6-pointer.

With Smith, Ball, and Hickenstaf juggling the ball the Bulldogs drove to the Presbies' 29; and then Ball did some broken field running, after dodging a host of Emporia would-be tacklers, he crossed the final yard marker to score.

Elrod again attempted to kick the extra point but failed.

Going into the second period, the Bulldogs were leading 12 to 7. Then Loren Hickenstaf, who played a great defensive game for Coach Woodard, blocked an Emporia punt; and the Bulldogs recovered on the Presbies' 27.

With Dale Carpenter and Eddie Ball running, the Bulldogs advanced the ball to the Emporia 13. From here Ball again scooted through the Emporia defensive to rack up his second touchdown for the evening and put his team out in front 18 to 7.

Bob Wilson then came in to kick the extra point, and the Bulldogs led 19 to 7.

Late in the second quarter Lem Harkey, a colored freshman from Lawton, Okla., and Kenneth Long of Manhattan started to click for the Presbies. These two lads were thorns in the McPherson defensive lineup the rest of the evening.

Harkey returned a McPherson kickoff 37 yards to the Bulldogs

Six Teams Still In Lead

The same six teams that held the top positions last week were still ahead in the running by Monday evening, Oct. 15.

Two of the teams, Metsker (5-1) and Sheaffer (5-1), were to play later in the week, but Monday night, the four other teams were matched.

At 7:30, W. Blickenstaff (5-1) tangled horns with the Faculty team (5-1), and after three games had been played, the Blickenstaff team emerged the winner.

Then at 8:15, Petefish (6-0) met head on with Sharpe (7-0). After the smoke had cleared from this round, the Sharpe team held the edge 2-1.

Many other teams are now showing much improvement, and no one can be sure of a lead. One thing we can be sure of though, everyone is having fun!

Bulldog "B" Lose To Presbies 31-13

The Mac college B team journeyed to Emporia last Monday evening for a football game on the College of Emporia's gridiron. The score of the game was 31 to 13.

The Emporia team sported a vicious passing attack which accounted for most of the Presbies' scoring.

The Bulldog ground plays, which did show up rather well, produced twice. Bob Bean and Bola Cyphert scored for McPherson. Elrod attempted both, extra points and made good in one. Bob Wilson kicked off for McPherson.

Those who reported for the trip to Emporia were: Jim Batson, Bob Bean, Dick Carter, Bob Cyphert, Leonard Doughty, Laverne Eck, Eugene Elrod, Bill Goering, Paul Heidebrecht, Don Hoch, Calvin Hock, Duane Jamison, Joseph Johns, Jim Kerns, Ken McMurrey, Howard Mehlinger, Harvey Miller, Milton Moiz, Bill Moore, Vernon Petefish, Jim Sears, Tom Taylor, Howard Todd, and Bob Wilson.

Early in the first quarter Emporia made a final down on the Canines 38 but lost the ball on downs when the Bulldog's defensive line stiffened. Then the Bulldogs punted and John Hart took the ball on the return and ran along the sidelines for 55 yards to tally for the Presbies, putting them ahead 11 great big points.

Beeson again kicked the goal for the extra point to end the scoring for both teams in a game that had held many thrills. Although the Bulldogs went down in defeat, they had played a great game.

"Bulldogs" Will Encounter K. W. "Coyotes" Saturday

Saturday night Coach "Woody" Woodard and his fighting Bulldog squad will leave their home field and journey to Kansas Wesleyan, where they will meet the Coyotes at Martin Stadium at 8:30.

The Coyotes will be out to show their stuff, for Saturday night is Homecoming for the ball club of Coach Wally Forsberg.

Last year the Ottawa Braves shut out the Coyotes' chances of winning the homecoming tilt by the score of 16-0. The rumor has it that the Wesleyan club does not want this to happen again.

The Bulldogs will be out to quench their thirst for another victory this weekend after losing their homecoming classic to the Emporia Presbies Saturday night.

Coach Woodard's Bulldogs will be shooting for a win over the Coyotes, who beat them 20-19 in last year's meeting between the two ball clubs. When the gun went off at the end of the game, the Bulldogs were just three short yards from a very important six-pointer, that would have given them the game.

Although the Coyotes are not as strong as they were last season, they have been giving their grid opponents a great deal of trouble.

Coach Forsberg has 11 lettermen around whom he has built his 1951 grid offering to the Kansas Conference.

Harold Franzell, 186-pound athlete, has lettered in football, basketball, and track. Ronnie Gillan, a sophomore, at KWU, wheels and deals from the quarterback slot for the Coyotes.

Bert Hitchcock, a five-foot-six and one-half inch, 165-pounder, is a returned letterman from Burlington, Colo. Don Johnson, a Salina High graduate is playing his third year. Galen Krelling, a six-foot two and one-half inch letterman, is playing his fourth year of varsity ball. He received the K-C-A-C football honorable mention in 1950.

Kenard Kelly is a senior from St. Francis where he won letters in football, basketball, and track. Kelly will be in one of the terminal spots at game time Saturday evening.

Clancy King hails from Junction City where his football playing won him a berth on the all CKL team. Clancy maneuvers in the backfield for the Wesleyan club.

Phil Nemeth has lettered for Coach Forsberg his last two years

Sports As Seen By Jay

The intra-mural volleyball teams are stronger this year than ever before. One of the main reasons for this is that the fellows have given the girls a chance to play and have found that most of them do a pretty good job of holding down their position. Good teamwork by all has given many teams their strength.

The chief statistician and head manager for the athletic program is Bob Augsburg. Bob does his job well and is appreciated very much by players and coaches. He is a handy man around the analgesic table and the training table.

Our two other managers are Glenn Gayer and Ed Rhine, who do plenty of work to make our football season a success. They deserve a lot of credit for their interest, time and efforts.

Nothing in life is to be feared. It is only to be understood.—Marie Curie.

Hayes Officiates At Game

Guy Hayes assisted in officiating at the Wichita East High-El Dorado football game Oct. 12 in Wichita.

Professor Hayes is head of the Rural Life Department and serves as assistant football coach at Mac college.

Backs Eddie Ball, McPherson, and Robert Kerr, Garber, Okla., scored for the Bulldogs Saturday night when the Mac team played and lost to the College of Emporia Presbies by a score of 30-19.

47. From there quarterback Long called on Myers and Harkey to do some running, and they did not fail him. In two first downs they advanced the ball to the Canines' 7-yard marker.

Harkey then took a handoff from Long and danced his way around the Bulldogs left end to score for the Presbies. Beeson came into the ballgame and calmly kicked the extra point.

The half ended with the Canines out in front 19 to 14.

Emporia kicked off at the start of the second half, and McPherson started off with a bang by making three large gains on the ground.

Then something happened to the Canines that broke every Bulldog rooster's heart the rest of the evening. Coach Woodard's football team developed an acute case of fumble-itis.

The Bulldogs just could not hang on to the ball. The ball would squirt out of the ball handler's hands as if it were a wet piece of soap. The Presbies recovered the pigskin, and after a few ground plays, Emporia punted to the McPherson 4-yard stripe. Wayne Blickenstaff, after calling for a couple of ground plays which did not bring the Bulldogs much yardage, called for a punt.

The ball club from Emporia then started a drive on ground plays with Harkey, Naughton, and Long carrying the oval. The Presbies moved to the Bulldogs' one-foot line and here the Canines dug in and fought for their lives and held the Emporia club to no gains for two consecutive plays.

Then Harkey fairly flew over the center of the line to put the Presbies out in front for the rest of the classic. Beeson's kick was no good.

Later in the period Emporia recovered a fumble by Kerr on the McPherson 24. Myers, Long, and Harkey pushed the ball to the 10-yard line, and from here Beeson place-kicked a field goal for three
