HONORABLE MENTION

Jim Brandon and Vic Harrod, Ottawa; Connie Braun, Baker; Dean Groves and Ray Wilbur, Kansas Wesleyan; Gene Smith and Frank Hanagarne, McPherson; Homer Goering, Bethel; and Ray Ebberts, College of Emporia.

As in past years, the best way to make the All - Conference was to be a leading conference scorer. Except for Wayne Blickenstaff, Bethel, the five leading scorers of the conference were the five All-Conference selections.

Leading the voting for the All-Conference teams was Dudley Geise of Ottawa and Charlie Dehlinger of College of Emporia. Both of these were unanimous selections of the coaches.

The All - Conference team was picked by the coaches of the conference, who each voted for an opponent team. These were then compiled and published by the conference.

First place Ottawa dominated the voting with all five of their first team being on either first, second or honorable mention teams. Kansas Wesleyan and McPherson each placed three.

Sherfy Presents Challenges For Young People

Religious Emphasis Week has been observed on the campus the past week, with Rev. Robert L. Sherfy as guest leader. Rev. Sherfy is pastor of the First Church of the Brethren at Harrisonburg, Virginia.

The aim of the week has been to stimulate spiritual interest on the campus and among the members of the College Church. Rev. Sherfy has counseled with students as well as speaking at chapel on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday and at church on Sunday morning and Sunday through Thursday evenings.

An informal meeting, sponsored by the SCA was held in Arnold Hall parlor on Tuesday afternoon March 10, from 3:00 to 4:00. At this time students had an opportunity to talk with Rev. Sherfy and become better acquainted with him.

The topics of Rev. Sherfy's chapel discussions were "Who Do You Think You Are?", "What Do You Hope For?", and "What Are You Going To Do About It?"

On Sunday morning, he spoke on the theme of "The Unfinished Task." His evening topics were "The Lost," "The Christian's Motive," "Life in Spite of All."

Special music was provided at all the meetings by campus musical groups.

Why The Wearing Of The Green?

Next Tuesday is St. Patrick's Day, with its traditional wearing of the green.

Destiny and adventure seemed to be in store for "St. Pat." At the age of 16, he was kidnapped and put into slavery for 6 years. During that time, he became determined to spend his life in an effort to free all the people of Ireland from paganism.

After his release, he spent four years in study and preparation, but again he was kidnapped, but only for two months this time. St. Patrick was a very religious man and was noted for his unusualness. When people didn't believe what he said about the Trinity, he went and plucked a clover leaf and said "Is it not as possible for the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost to be as these three leaves to grow up on a single stalk?"

At the end of an almost unbelievable career, of building up 365 churches with as many schools and baptizing countless persons, he died on the 17th of March, but his ideas lived on and the green shamrock was his symbol.

Since his time, people have been wearing bits of green to acclaim the holiday of St. Pat.

Friends Is Added To College Meeting

A number of McPherson College faculty members attended the four-college faculty meeting held at Bethel College, Newton, Kansas, Saturday, March 7.

It was voted at this meeting to make Friends University a member of the group, thus creating a five-college meeting. The president of Friends U. invited the members to meet at his college at Wichita next year.

The guest speaker at the meeting was Roland H. Bainton, professor of church history at Yale University.

Faculty Members Attend Lectures Of Bainton

Dr. Roland H. Bainton, professor of church history at Yale University, has been giving a series of lectures at Bethel College. Several members of the McPherson faculty attended these lectures.

Dr. Bainton has become well known through his books, lectures, and scholarly articles as "Our best living authority on the Reformation." Among his more popular books are, Here I Stand, a biography of Martin Luther, and The Church of Our Fathers, which was originally written for children but has since become popular with adults as well.

Among those attending these lectures were: Dr. D. W. Bittinger, Dean of Bethel; Dr. Maurice A. Hess, Dr. Kenneth Bechtel and Miss Della Lehmann.

392 Attend Conference Of Western Region Youth

A total of 392 young people, counselors, youth advisers, and adults attended the Regional Youth Conference held on Macampus March 5-8. About 45 of these were college students.

Rooms in the dormitories were overcrowded, and several homes in McPherson had visitors for the three days of the meeting. About 18 girls stayed with friends in Kline Hall, 48 in Arnold, and Fahnstok had about 50 boys to stay in the already crowded rooms. Several of the youth also stayed with friends at the College Courts.

The majority of the youth attending the conference, however, stayed at homes in the town. This year's meeting, whose theme was "Christ's Way in Our Day," was considered to be a success in many ways, and financially, the Region came out on top of what was expected, and this will help support further youth work.

MacCollege Is Represented In McPherson's UCYM

McPherson College is now represented in the U. C. Y. M. (United Christian Youth Movement) of McPherson. The U. C. Y. M. is made up of high school age representatives of all the city churches.

Since MacCollege is now represented in this organization, it is hoped that all the students and faculty will take an interest in any project that it sponsors. We have four "virgins in the fire" at the present time, of which we would like to make mention.

1. During this Lenten season, devotional services will be held at the high school auditorium.

2. We are planning to have an Easter Sunrise Service in the park. Details will be published later. Next month we are planning a city-wide campaign for clothing

Baby Girl Arrives At Boys' Dorm

A girl is living in Fahnstok Hall! Yes, since March 5, precedence has been broken with the arrival of Ann Loree Kough, newly adopted daughter of Jack and Arlene Kough, head residents of Fahnstok Hall. Their newfound object of affection was displayed to over 50 well-wishers on Thursday afternoon.

Ann has brown eyes and hair, a cute smile, and a gorilla-like grasp that indicates her extroverted personality. Says proud papa Jack Kough, "We find it difficult to be modest and still honest!"

The child was adopted from the Children's Service League in Wichita, Kan. She was chosen to match her foster parents physical characteristics as closely as possible. Ann was born on Oct. 25, 1952. She had to be at least three months old before she could be adopted. The adoption will not be final for a year.

Ann's middle name, Loree, was named in honor of a Baptist Missionary friend of the Koughs' once roomed with in New York.

An announcement was found in each student's room which stated: "Don't tell the trustees, but a girl is going to be living in the boys dorm. Her name is Ann. She has brown eyes and hair. We hope she will fit into dorm life so 'Chief' and the Student Court will not get her for disturbing the peace."

You're welcome to visit her, girls, and to her, feed her, get a pebble on your vest, and feel like a real "uncle." Jack and Arlene.

"The Mudlark" stars Irene Dunne, Alice Guinness, and Andrew Ray. Scenes are at Windsor Castle; involved are Queen Victoria and Prime Minister Disraeli.

When you see the woe-begone and dirty ragmuffin described as a "mudlark" because he prowls the banks of the Thames in search of articles of value) your emotions will react to his boyish charms and adventures.

"Admission Policies for the Denominational College," was the title of the speech given by J. L. Heranson, Dean - Registrar of Bethany College delivered to the afternoon session.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in panel discussions.

Old Enough? . . .

From time to time the question of lowering the voting age to 18 comes up for discussion. So far, only one of the 48 states, Georgia, has taken this step, which places several thousand new voters on the books.

The idea has wide superficial appeal. The most popular argument in its favor is that anyone old enough to fight for his country is old enough to vote—a high sounding, though not necessarily logical deduction.

If we were forced by a manpower shortage to start drafting 16 and 17-year-olds, as some countries did in World War II, would that argument still hold true?

What about the girls? They aren't drafted at 18. Shall we tell them to come back in three years or just throw them in as a bonus?

The eligibility to vote boils itself down to the question of whether or not a person is able to exercise this right in a wise and intelligent manner. The average 18-year-old is still in high school, usually his last year. He is about to graduate from America's greatest training ground in democracy—the public school.

Many of these youngsters are serious-minded and mature beyond their years, but the majority, as we all know, are rather carefree and limit their profound thoughts and observations for the class room.

Since their teachers' interpretations exert a great deal of influence on their thinking, most of their ideas are formulated in the class room. But again, the class room should be a training ground for citizenship, not a final test.

There should be a period when these academic ideas have time to fall into their proper relation to actual conditions, a period of crystallization, of adjustment to reality as opposed to theory.

We all see big changes in our attitudes and our beliefs since we left high school. Some of them we recognize as juvenile. Leaving the protection of home and class room, we find ourselves reassessing, taking a new account.

Issues are easily confused when viewed in the light and the shadow of war, valor and death. It is therefore doubly important that the issues be lifted out, carefully scrutinized and evaluated on their own merits.—(ACP).

Answer The Call

The Red Cross is the heartbeat of America. It enables all of us to express the universal desire to help a less-fortunate neighbor wherever he may be.

There is an ever-growing need in these troubled times for the distinctive services of the Red Cross, given freely by people of good will. It takes people to help people.

A family crushed by disaster needs aid to rebuild its tornado-smashed home. . . . A tired doctor calls for blood to save a sick child's life. . . . A soldier in Korea anxiously awaits the reassuring word that his wife's recovery from illness is certain. . . . An accident victim needs quick, sure first aid care if he is to live. . . .

You—the people of America—answered these calls for help last year through Red Cross. . . . these calls and hundreds of thousands like them.

With your help the Red Cross will continue to answer the call.

Contributions for the Red Cross are now being taken by Naomi Lucore and Phil Radatz.

Thinking With The President

The Chapel Sessions
Our Chapel Committee deserves our commendation for the fine chapel programs they have arranged for us during this year. An effort has been made to bring in outside speakers of superior quality who would have something worthwhile to say to us. We have appreciated that. The McPherson student body has suggested that our own group can produce for us programs of a very high quality, sometimes superior to what we can get from the outside, and that we like to hear our own family members function.

In keeping with this many of the programs have originated within the college itself. I believe we have enjoyed this greatly and have come to understand better what is happening within our total college group.

Generally we have received our chapel programs well. We have laughed when we were supposed to laugh, applauded when we were supposed to applaud, and worshipped when the program was a worship program. We have entered the chapel with decorum and have left it with dispatch.

From this office I would have only one suggestion to make. It is that on Wednesdays, which is our worship chapel period, we seek to enter quickly into the worship atmosphere. Our total program is only thirty minutes in length. If we could quiet ourselves at once when the prelude starts and be prepared to enter wholeheartedly into the spirit of the service from that moment on, we might derive more from it.

Chapel has several purposes. We want to fellowship, to see ourselves together, to exchange greetings, to be friendly, to worship. Entering quickly into the worship spirit on Wednesday mornings would not detract from any of these, but would add to each of them. Thank you, Chapel Committee, for good chapel programs.

Students In North, South Hit Racial Segregation

(ACP) College students overwhelmingly disapprove of enrollment policies which discriminate against Negroes, according to the Associated Collegiate Press National Poll of Student Opinion.

Students from all sections of the country were asked: What is your opinion of college policies which state that Negroes may not enroll there? Here are the results:

Approve	17 per cent.
Disapprove	76 per cent.
No opinion	5 per cent.
Other	2 per cent.

Students in the South are more evenly split on the question, but show a clear-cut majority against segregation. Here's the comparison between North and South:

Approve	5 per cent.	35 per cent.
Disapprove	90 per cent.	53 per cent.
No opinion	4 per cent.	7 per cent.
Other	1 per cent.	5 per cent.

Take Time To Pray

To be at home in the invisible world of the spirit is man's highest accomplishment and deepest joy. Learning how to pray is our most important endeavor. The good news is that every person can pray. God can be entered because he desires of God. Prayer is the soul's sincere desire, uttered or unexpressed.

Through desire we open the door to God. Because love is a voluntary relationship, the Kingdom of God can be entered voluntarily only. Our Father always treats us as free moral agents, never manipulating us as puppets and never regarding us as robots. It is the nature of God's love to yearn over us, to persuade us, to win us, but never to enslave us or to drive us unwillingly.

God speaks to us through our minds and emotions, our consciences and our wills. When we desire his help, he is able, with full respect for our freedom, to choose to provide guidance and power.

The door to human personality cannot be unlocked from outside, it must be opened from within. Desire opens it, the way we use our freedom - decides how accessible our senses are to divine instruction. Therefore, learn what to desire.

Desire may be high or low, strong or weak. There are many qualities of prayer. Self-centered and Christ-centered prayers are high. When self-centered desire is strong, God is denied full opportunity to help us. When desire to know and to do his will is dominant, God has abundant opportunity, and God never misses an opportunity.

This desire determines relationship to God and to man. So the training of desire is decisive for character and for destiny. Learning how to pray is learning to want what God wants and to do what he wants us to do. It is easy to see, then, that prayer is man's most important business.

Polio Facts For 1953

Recent progress toward a control for infantile paralysis has brought us to the threshold of prevention of the disease. Thanks to the support of the March of Dimes by the American people, scientists are now planning the first field trials of polio vaccine, and manufacturers are producing the blood fraction, gamma globulin, for limited use as a temporary preventive of paralysis.

But despite this, 1953 will see outbreaks of polio; we cannot count on any startling reduction of cases this year. Reasons: the vaccine is not here—it has yet to be tested and despite every effort of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the American Red Cross and government authorities, gamma globulin will be in such short supply it can be given to fewer than one million.

If polio strikes, turn to your local Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for advice and financial assistance where needed.

Conquest of polio is not yet here—but final victory is much nearer.—(From the Public Relations Dept. of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis)

Snores Were Heard Instead Of Music

San Mateo, California radio listeners tuned in on a local disc jockey early morning program, and instead of morning chatter, they got an awful of snores. They called up the Sheriff who sent a man to the station.

He woke up the jockey, asleep beside the open microphone, and told him to rise and shine.

Question From KU

(From a letter to the Daily Kansas, University of Kansas.)

What do I as a college student know about Russia, its government and people? What class is offered that will teach me about these things? My professors would rather not discuss the subject either in class or in private, and with good reasons, too.

Look at the number of teachers who have been labeled Communist sympathizers and lost their jobs. American colleges students are having a vital part of their education purposefully ignored.

Life is settling down once again, since the conference is over. Things were cramped for awhile with two persons sleeping in single beds and whispers still heard at the wee hours.

Speaking of early morning hours, namely 2 A. M., a horn started honking for all its worth, and woke several sleepy eyed girls who peered put of their windows to see what was the trouble. Their erector muscles went to work to put goose bumps on their spines and raised their hair an inch — for hanging from the branch of a tree was a skeleton dangling lifeless on the winds of time. You can imagine the scare it started, but soon tired eyes drifted back to sleep.

Friday night the A Cappella gave their annual concert. The numbers were well chosen and it was a wonderful performance. The quartet devised a unique way to sing a baby to sleep with a lullaby and Prof. Frederick brought the concert to a close by asking the old A Cappella members to come up and join the group for the last three songs. This was a good way for closing the program and gave the old members a boost of morale.

Mrs. H. K. Zeller is in the hospital in Wichita for an operation. Betty Young and Mrs. Hamilton are keeping things going now, for the busy man.

Several babies have been born to proud parents. Five pound Lucinda Ann was brought by the stork to Lucy and Jim Batson last Saturday.

David Wayne was the boy who arrived in Doris and Dave Metzler's home.

The foods lab girls donned washable duds and took up the task of dressing a chicken. The foul reek that came out of lab Tuesday was of wet feathers. There were plenty of cety looks and grimaces, as six of the twelve girls had never done it, but the chickens got cleaned, even though some of the girls lost their appetites for poultry in the process.

Friday the 13th, there was an All School Banquet. Tickets were sixty cents and a free movie called the "Mudlark" was shown after the dinner.

Quadrangle pictures are rolling out of the cameras. Club pictures were taken with all sorts of poses as the editor gets underway again.

During Religious Emphasis Week, Bob Sherry has brought excellent topic sermon to our campus. What's so unusual about Mr. Sherry's talks is the fact that he makes things plain enough to understand, but difficult enough to challenge the imagination.

George Keim, Leland Wilson, Glenn Gayer, Roland Delay, and Howard, Mehlinger saw the K. State vs. Nebraska U. game at Manhattan.

Four of the married couples served a luncheon for Regional Conference guests at the church last Sunday. They had escalloped potatoes and ham, carrot and celery sticks, cocoa and cherry pie with ice cream.

The Keims, Bechtels, Coffmans and Kings were the couples who cooked things up and only one of these girls had Quantity Cookery. There were some 200 guests at the dinner. Velva Wagner and Donna Wagoner lent helping hands to serve and do dishes.

Jack and Arlene Kough announced the arrival of Ann Loree with a card and two candy bars in each of the boys rooms, saying "Don't tell the faculty that a girl will be living in the dormitory soon." She has brown hair and gray-brown eyes, and a cute pink face." All the dorm guys went together and bought a complete outfit, consisting of pink dress, bonnet, sweater and booties, and they addressed it to Aunt Arlene and Uncle Jack and Cousin Annie, from her 36 cousins of Falmestock.

Carpenter, Petefish Say Vows Sunday

Both have attended McPherson College. Pfc. Petefish graduated in 1932, and Miss Carpenter completed her requirements at the end of the first semester, and will receive her degree in the spring.

Faith
No Man Succeeds Without Faith
It's my standard and my rule!
Had few lessons of it, in school;
Was taught, all came from work,
If I'd never, my duty, shirk!

But I could never count that way;
Have seen men work, till old and gray;
They had no faith in self, you see!
Mournd, that they could nothing be!
I have been lost many a day;
Could scarce again, find the way;
But never lost my faith, my hope!
Faith, a kind of a guiding rope!

When the path, again, I find,
Work with faith! I firmer, bind!
Goal by goal, bends my way!
It's in faith that wonders away!

Found Along The Way
A good many doctors have made money off the stork market.—Collegio.

The students read the paper,
The school gets the fame,
The printer gets the money,
And the staff gets the blame.

The reason a dog has so many friends is that he wags his tail, not his tongue.

Happiness is that sensation you acquire when you are too busy to keep miserable.

I passed a cop without a fuss,
I passed a load of hay,
I tried to pass a swerving bus,
And think I passed away.

Slipped Her Mind
(ACP) A coed at Drake University, Iowa rushed into Spanish class a few minutes late, threw off her coat and started to sit down. Students began to chuckle. The coed looked down horrified, then quickly threw her coat around her again and ran out.

She'd forgotten to wear a skirt.

I'm A Sophomore!
When I was but a freshman,
And knew nothing at all,
The world seemed very big to me,
But now it's very small.

When I was but a freshman,
I felt so very weak,
I laugh when I think of it,
For now I'm never meek.

When I was but a freshman,
The seniors seemed so wise,
Now isn't it amazing,
How my intelligence did rise.

When I was but a freshman,
I was always criticized,
I never knew the knack of things,
But now I'm civilized.

When I was but a freshman,
I viewed the pros with awe,
Sometimes it's quite a tussle now,
As to who'll lay down the law.
I'm a Sophomore!

The Sparrow
Life is but a medley of song
That makes him free and fleet in —flying long and high,
And high above, in blue and flawless sky.
He spends the day communing with the sun,
And wings toward home and rest
when day is done.
Oh, that I too were free to flit and sing
As joyfully as he, who's on the wing!

K-State Has Later Hours
Closing hours for women's houses at Kansas State College have been extended a half-hour to 10:30 p. m. on week nights. The ruling was made despite strong opposition from frosh coeds.

The freshmen feared a time extension might hurt scholarship, result in less sleep. Upperclassmen had no such doubts—they voted for extension.

Concerning Peace Issues
No matter how powerful a civilization may be in terms of its techniques, resources and military power, that civilization will collapse if the conditions essential to growth are lacking: one of these essential conditions is the ability to find meaning and purpose in life. Man's willingness to accept almost any economic panacea, alcoholism, or war which promises to distract him from his present aimless existence indicates the general futility which prevails in the western world.—Trueblood.

Living With Peace Of Mind
If we could really believe the word of Jesus about the fatherly love of God, we would recognize it as the final proclamation of God News for mankind Jesus not only used wonderful words about the compassion and power of God, he built his own life on this foundation.

From childhood he had been nurtured on the idea that God has integrity, he is holy and righteous altogether, he can be trusted to the uttermost. He was acquainted with the word of Deuteronomy: "Be assured, then, that the Lord your God is God, a trustworthy God, who to a thousand generations keeps loving faith with those that love him and keep his commands." He had memorized the words of the Psalmist: "Jehovah is righteous in all his works, and gracious in all his ways... the loving-kindness of Jehovah is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him."

Jesus supplemented the long-sustained faith in the absolute integrity of God with his own faith in the absolute love of his Father. Often had he pondered over the word of God in Isaiah: "For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways... For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace." So he placed his confidence in love and integrity of God. Even when his very life was at stake, he learned to say, "Nevertheless, not my will but thine be done."

It is impossible to exaggerate the significance of the idea that the fatherly love of God can be trusted. General acceptance of this truth would completely revolutionize human relations over the face of the earth. The ethical teachings of Jesus, which is now widely dismissed as utopian, visionary, impracticable, would be recognized as wise counsel for men and women who have at their disposal the illimitable resources of their Father whose wisdom and power and love can be depended upon.

140 Participate In Intramurals

The All-Star selection in intramurals, that appears elsewhere on this page, is the result of each captain's picking an all-opponents first and second team. These were all turned in and then compiled on the basis of ten points for a first place vote and five for a second.

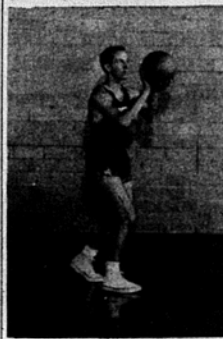

The nearest anyone came to being picked unanimously was Harold Zoepf in the central league. He received all first place votes but one, and that team placed him on their second team. In the Coastal League the leading vote-getter was Bob Powell, who received two second team mentions and the rest first team.

In this year's intramural program, 140 persons participated. This is slightly higher than the total for either one of the last two years.

The teams this year, for the second year, were placed in two leagues according to ability. Because of the desire to make each league an eight-team league, it seems that the upper league was very much unbalanced.

One only needs to look at scores to discover that for the most part the three bottom teams in the upper league were terrifically outclassed by the rest of the league. In fact, many of the players on these teams were lower league players only a year ago.

What can be done about this will be up to the intramural committee, who have the power to make the rules by which the teams abide. Some of the suggestions, that have been put forth, are to have a committee to tell which individual, rather than which team, may play in each league. Others are to make the leagues of unequal size, if the quality of the teams participating in the program would seem to make it desirable.

In the Coastal League the Vet Jets won the regular season round robin, as well as the post season tournament to reign as supreme champions in the upper league. The only team to defeat them was the Jo Fo's who did it in the last regular scheduled game of the season.

Three of the Vet Jet's players scored over 100 points. They were Paul Heidebrecht, Don Hoch, and Dwight McSpadden. Tommy O'Dell was their captain.

In the Central League the Craig's Cadets came out victorious. They won the regular season round robin, then lost out in the tournament, only to defeat the Ball and Chain, the winners of the tournament, in a play-off to determine

Track Practice Is Underway

With the warm weather of the last few days, the track team has already begun to work outdoors in preparation for their first track meet with Bethel the last of March. The team this year is being coached by Guy Hayes and Howard Mehlinger, who stated that a fair size group of fellows interested in track have already reported to them and have checked out equipment.

The coaches this year will be looking for men to replace several students missing from last year's squad. Notable among these are Dale Carpenter and Dave Metzler. These two runners last year accounted for, on the average, about 40 points in every meet. Carpenter's specialty was in the broad jump, in which he holds the record, the 100-yard dash, and both hurdle events.

Dave Metzler ran the half mile; he holds the school record for the mile run and the high jump, usually ran in a relay or so, and on occasion ran the open quarter.

Other men missing from last year's team are Bob Kerr in the dashes, Merlin Miller in the dashes and John Robison in the weights; Robison holds the school record in the shot put.

To form the nucleus for this year's track squad, Hayes and Mehlinger have 10 lettermen back from last year's team that got second in the conference. They also have another man out that lettered in a previous year.

In the dashes, returning from last year, there is no one with previous experience. The hurdles have several returning veterans. They are Glendon Button, Ed Frantz, "Chief" Hanagarne, and Gene Smith.

The middle distance men returning, that is quarter and half milers, are Don Goodfellow, Paul Heidebrecht, and Bob Wilson. The distance veterans are Al Zunkel, Clive Sharpe, and Bob Bechtel.

In the various field events Bob Powell, Glendon Button, Ed Frantz and Frank Hanagarne are available.

This listing is not to say that these various competitors will not be participating in other events as well, as the coaches will be using those available to the best use of the whole team.

Other squad members from last year are Don Fike, Joe Obi, Bob Bean and Jack Harter.

Upon the shoulders of the freshmen, the fortunes of this year's team rests. In the sprints there are three freshmen hopefuls. They are Kenneth Wahl, Bill Mollhagen, and Dick McGuire.

The middle distances find two men ready and willing to compete. They are Leland Lengel and Floyd Bayer. The distance field is being sought by one man, Clyde Spitzer.

In the field events, in which McPherson was weak last year, there are several men to help the college out. They are Steve Bersuch, Doyle Smith, Bill Mollhagen, Gerald Ulrich, and Bill Smith.

Others out for track are J. D. Pote, Emmanuel Thompson, Daniel Ouyema, and Marlo Oltman. All in all, there are, at the moment, 29 people out for track.
