Homecoming Honors Rowena

Homecoming queen, Rowena Merkey, began her reign over homecoming festivities last Friday evening, Oct. 17, at a banquet held at the 4-H building.

The queen was dressed in a yellow and brown formal, and her crown was made of yellow-brown baby mums. She wore a matching corsage.

The queen and her attendants made their entrance at 6:30, and the coronation ceremony took place before the banquet. The decorations were in autumn colors. The centerpiece for each table was a pumpkin coach drawn by little mice.

Howard Mehlinger was toastmaster, and the ladies quartet provided several numbers for the occasion.

An instrumental group composed of Berwyn Oltman, Bob Price, Don Goodfellow, Curtis Leicht, and Gene Bechtel played music announcing the arrival of the royal party, and also after the banquet.

The program included a portrayal of the modern Cinderella by Miss Della Lehman, and a poem "Cinders to Clouds," given by Shirley Alexander.

After the banquet, a ballet interpreting the modern Cinderella was given. Leon Albert was the friend of the family, Peggy Sargent portrayed the mother, Florene Hale and Phyllis Beam were the sisters, Ann Carpenter was Cinderella, and Eddie Ball was prince charming.

Herb Edmonds and John Nettleton acted as clowns at the banquet. Folk games ended the homecoming dinner.

Juniors Take First In Homecoming Parade Saturday

Winners of the homecoming parade of floats, bands, clown acts and other events held last Saturday on Main Street before a large crowd of townsfolk, college students and alumni have been announced with the winners receiving a total of $35 in cash.

First prize of $15 went to the junior class for their maternity ward float. The senior class won the second place prize of $10 with the Confucius Say float. There was a tie for third place with $5 going to the two organizations. They were the sophomore class with their open season on coyotes float and the Student Christian Association.

James Berkebile Attends NW District Conference

Noting that this was homecoming weekend, Dr. Berkebile stated that he had not been able to attend homecoming festivities since 1948.

Note Of Thanks

Mr. Frank Forney wishes to thank the students and faculty for the nice things they did for him on his birthday. He appreciated the many greeting cards and calls which he received from students and faculty. The three songs by the Men's Quartet were enjoyed. He also received an attractive basket of fruit from Arnold Hall.

Quad Pictures Are Taken

Pictures for the 1952-53 "Quad-range" were taken on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of this week. Photographer was Mr. LaVerne Friesen of Friesen Studio.

This year's shots differ slightly from last year's. Freshman boys dressed in the usual dark sport shirts, and the girls in white dress blouses. Sophomore boys wore suits with dark ties, and the girls dressed in dark sweaters with scarfed ties. Junior class boys wore bow ties, and the girls appeared in dark sweaters and pearls round their necks. The Senior class wore caps and gowns.

Other pictures which will include candid shots, football, volleyball, basketball ball, various activities, and campus organizations will be taken all through the year by Kenneth Brown.

The Quad Staff this year is made up of Dick King, Editor; Kenneth Brown, Assistant Editor; Donald Wagner, Business Manager; Karl Baldner, Assistant Business Manager. Helpers on the Quad are Carole Davis, Betty Byers, Jean Walker, and Marilee Grove.

This year's Quad which will be of a formal style, will be out on or around May 15, 1953.

Sophomores Have Hayride Tonight

The sophomore class is sponsoring a hayride to Coronado Heights this evening. This is the first class party for the sophomores this year.

The time of leaving will be 7:00 tonight. A campfire and recreation will be held as the group arrives at their destination.

The cost of the party will be determined by the foods committee. Each sophomore may bring a date. At a class meeting Tuesday, Oct. 21, president Mario Oltman appointed the following committees to be in charge of the party:

Foods committee—Gerry Goering, Lyle Neher and Ruthie Papa. Recreation committee—Eleanor Louthan, Betty Brammell, and Allan Blocher.

Williams Teaches In Missouri College

Christian College of Columbia, Mo. has announced that Willis Williams, McPherson College graduate, has joined their faculty. Mr. Williams will teach speech and dramatics.

Sadie Begins Her Chase Nov. 6

Saturday night, Nov. 6, is the date that has been set for the annual Sadie Hawkins' party. The chase will begin on Thursday, Nov. 6.

The social committee of the SCA is in charge of making the plans. Lyle Neher is the chairman of the committee with Gary Jones, Jaunita Bellard, and Ina Dittmars as the other members of the committee.

The rules and other definite plans are not complete yet.

Forney Is Honored On His Birthday

Frank Forney, long-time assistant superintendent of buildings and grounds celebrated his birthday on Oct. 16.

Students from Arnold Hall presented Mr. Forney with a basket of fruit. Dr. D. W. Bittinger, President of McPherson College, presented him with a plant donated by the college faculty. Many cards were received by him from his friends here at MacCollege.

Since his operation June 24, Mr. Forney has been ill, being confined to his bed. Since then his condition has improved, and he is able to be up and around. Mr. Forney lives at 409 North Esleman.

World Traveler Speaks In Chapel

Dr. Marshall Wingfield, world-wide traveler, minister and author, spoke to the student body and faculty during Chapel Wednesday using the topic "Some Grounds for Optimism in the Present World."

Dr. Wingfield, arriving Tuesday noon, also spoke to the Student Ministers at their 6:45 meeting Tuesday evening. His advice to them was:

1. Do something new which needs to be done.
2. Write your sermons.
3. Learn how to minister to the sick.

As a world-wide traveler, Dr. Wingfield has been in every nation of the world except Australia and New Zealand. In 1950 he made a tour of eight countries of the Middle East surveying the refuge problem.

He led four student tours through Europe and one through Alaska during 1929-30. Last year he made a complete circuit of the United States.

Dr. Wingfield, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Memphis, Tenn. since 1937, was ordained into the ministry Nov. 10, 1912. He is a Disciple of Christ Church in Franklin County, Va.

He has been asked to return to this first parish Nov. 9, next month, to celebrate the 40th anniversary of his ordination into the ministry.

During his years of service he has served at home and abroad, being sent to England as an exchange pastor and preaching in the American Church in Paris.

His wife's twin sister, Miss Annetta Gregson, has spent 30 years on the India Missionfield under the Presbyterian Board.

As an author, Dr. Wingfield has been writing since 1924 and is a member of the Authors League of America, the International Mark Twain Society and other literary societies. He has been president of the West Tennessee History Society since 1938 and has been a writer and teacher of history.

Among his books are: "Hills of Home—1938", "Forces of Destiny—1942", "The Deathless Preacher—1942", "The Life and Letters of General Snow—Crested—1944", "Strangers First—1947" and "The Life and Letters of Dr. William J. Armstrong—1950".

Fahnestock Wins First Place Prize

Fahnestock Hall won first place honors and $15 last Saturday, for the best decoration job on a campus building.

The Fanny boys erected a huge red Mac building around the dorm entrance. The dog, made of cardboard and wooden supports, was made by Carl Metzker and Stan McClung.

Second place honors and $10 were garnered by Kline Hall girls, who used their parade float as a campus decoration also. It consisted of a papier-mache Mac building. Also seen was a sign reading "Hi Grads!"

Arnold Hall girls placed a sign bearing the inscription, "We'll Conquer for you!" Also seen was a little red Mac bulldog. They copied third place and $5 for their effort.

Lindell Speaks To Spec Staff

The Spectator staff will have the opportunity of hearing Mr. Leland Lindell, city editor and sports column writer of the McPherson Daily Republican at 7 o'clock on Monday evening, Oct. 27.

The group will meet in Miss Sarah May Vancil's apartment.

Mr. Lindell was editor of the Spectator for two years when he was a student at MacCollege some years ago.

Major In Languages May Be Dropped

The Curriculum Committee on Oct. 7 recommended to the faculty that foreign language be dropped from the list of majors for McPherson College.

The reason for this recommendation is due to the condition which has existed in the department for considerable number of years. No one has asked for a major or received a major for some time which would warrant its removal. It was the feeling of the committee that, if conditions should change warranting its re-entrance into the program, the committee should consider its re-entrance at that time.

Trios Sings In Colorado

The McPherson College Ladies Trio will attend the homecoming services at the Wiley Church.

Dr. Burton Metzler will speak at the morning and afternoon services, and the trio will sing.

The trio is composed of Margaret Baile, Elsa Kurtz, LaFaugh Hubbard, and accompanist, Shirley Coppock.

The group will get back to McPherson late Saturday night.

Faculty Considers Retirement Plan

A new retirement plan for college and university faculty members was explained to McPherson College faculty Tuesday afternoon by Mr. G. R. Harrison, assistant secretary of the Teachers' Insurance and Annuity Association of America.

Mr. Harrison explained the newly created College Retirement Equities Fund, in which McPherson College trustees may vote to allow the faculty to invest some of their retirement deductions.

At present each faculty member puts into TIAA five percent of his salary and the college adds to his investment a like amount.

Under CREF, faculty members would not increase their payments for retirement benefits, but would invest a fraction up to one-half of their present retirement money in the new plan.

One benefit of CREF, Mr. Harrison explained, is that it provides for upward fluctuations in the cost of living by being closely related to the economic welfare of the country instead of providing a fixed dollar benefit at the time of retirement.

Faculty members who were not present at the meeting Tuesday may get more information from R. C. Yoder, college business manager and treasurer.

Mr. Harrison also discussed with individual faculty members questions they had about their present TIAA contracts and retirement plans.

Quartet Tours Idaho, Colorado

The ladies quartet left Thursday morning, Oct. 23 at 10:15 for a deputation trip into Idaho and western Colorado. Bob Mays is accompanying the quartet this year. Thursday night, the group stayed at the home of Bob's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Mays in Denver.

Friday morning the group traveled north through Laramie, Wyo. and will stay overnight at Montpelier, Idaho, this evening. Tomorrow they are scheduled to arrive in Nampa, and they will give a program there Saturday night.

Sunday morning, they will sing at the Boise Valley Church, and Sunday afternoon, the quartet will sing at the homecoming services at the Boise Idaho church. Sunday evening they will appear at Fruitland. Peggy Sargent has quite a few relatives here, whom she will be able to see.

Monday, they are scheduled to sing in Layette, Tuesday, Weiser, Wednesday, Bowmont, and Thursday at Twin Falls. Friday morning, Bob and the girls will drive to Salt Lake City, Utah, and will probably stay overnight here.

Saturday morning, they will arrive in Grand Junction, Colo. This is LaVon Widgren's home, and the group will stay with her family. They will give two programs while they are here, one in Grand Junction and one in Fruita. Monday morning, the quartet will sing at Mesa Junior College in Grand Junction.

The quartet—Peggy Sargent, Florene Hale, Elsie Kintley, and LaVon Widgren and Bob Mays will arrive back in McPherson Tuesday, Nov. 3.

Sixth Nigerian Enrolls At Mac

Newest arrival to enroll at MacCollege, and to swell the number of our International Students at MacCollege this year to fifteen, is Emmanuel Msa Thompson from Nigeria, British West Africa.

Emmanuel Thompson, the sixth Nigerian student on Macampus, was born 24 years ago at Zaria, Northern Nigeria, and is the oldest child in a family of three brothers and one sister, and belongs to the Igala tribe of Northern Nigeria.

Emman graduated from high school in December 1947, having obtained the Cambridge University School Leaving Certificate, and the Matriculation Certificate from London University. He then went into the School of Pharmacy at Lagos in 1948, and was qualified for the first Diploma in Pharmacy.

While he was in high school, he captained the school's lawn hockey team, and played in the school's first soccer team. Emman also played some bridge and tennis while at school in Nigeria.

His comments about America are: "So far, America seems to be a pretty nice place, everything is so mechanized, and considerable labor is saved in many ways more than one." This, he thinks, is a great advancement. He also said, "It is extremely cold here, quite unlike from what obtains in sunny, warm Nigeria." Emman had to be reminded that winter is not yet here.

Mr. Thompson is enrolled as a pre-med freshman. He does not know how long he will stay here, but he wants to get through his training in the field of medicine as soon as he can so he can go back to Nigeria to be of service to his people and to his country.

It took Emman fifty-two days to get across from Africa, having left Nigeria Sept. 5, and arrived at Mac by train from New York, Oct. 17.

Five Debate Teams Are Organized

First meeting of the 1952-53 debate squad was held Oct. 27 at which time teams were organized.

Five definite teams are: Gene Bechtel and Joe Kennedy; Bob Bechtel and Dean Neher; Leland Lengel and Bob Wise; Kenneth Brown and Gene Elrod; and Peggy Sargent and Ann Carpenter.

There is a possibility of having other teams organized according to Dean James M. Berkebile, debate coach.

A meeting at which the negative brief is discussed will be held Tuesday, Oct. 28.

Salt And Light

Joe came on the team, but he made no essential difference. He was neutral.

Sue strolled up and joined the group and the general tone of the company began to deteriorate. She was negative.

Bill enrolled for the course and the pulse of the class was quickened and learning was accelerated. He was positive. Like salt, he put a stimulating tang in what might have been a gloomy hour.

The world is in need of men and women who make a difference for the better.

But in order to make a difference one must be different. If salt tasted just like the food in which it is placed what good would it do, and if light were just like darkness what benefit would it be?

The value to society of an institution of religion such as a church or a college depends upon its being different from that is, better than, surrounding society. How can such an institution lift the society which surrounds it if it is no higher than that society?

Likewise the value of an individual Christian to society depends on his being different from society. How can he lift his world if his conversation, his recreation, his conduct, and his reverence are no higher than that of his world?

Jesus challenged his followers to be the salt of the earth and the light of the world. But he also cautioned them that salt may lose its saltiness and that light may be hidden.—Dr. Burton Metzler.

Congratulations . . .

I would like to congratulate the Student Council and the Coronation Committee for the courtesies extended to the queen and her attendants, especially the retiring queen.

In homecoming games of the past, it has seemed that the retiring queen's only function has been to crown the new queen. The retiring queen has come unescorted to the bench and waited there forlornly for her predecessor to appear. After the coronation, the retiring queen left the field, again unescorted.

This year's plan of having the queen crowned at the banquet solved part of this problem. However, at the time the retiring queen was not left out. With the freshmen and sophomore attendants, she was escorted to the throne and was seated there with the others of the court during the game. In my opinion, this year's retiring queen was treated like royalty.—L. M.

Thinking With The President

WHO WE ARE

We, in America, sometimes pat ourselves on the back, feeling that we have progressed more than any other people in the world. As proof of it, we tell how many cars we have, how many bath tubs, and how many atomic bombs.

But who are we? Even if we do have more bathtubs than anybody else, who so?

We are:
47,000,000, Protestant
26,000,000, Roman Catholic
4,000,000, Jew
1,000,000, Eastern Orthodox Catholic
2-3 million, Mormon
500,000, Christian Scientist
1-10 million, Quaker

In addition to this we are many other denominational bodies and among us also is represented every religion of the world.

Who are we in terms of our origin?

We are:
60,000,000, Anglo Saxon
15,000,000, Teutonic
14,000,000, Negro
10,000,000, Irish
9,000,000, Slavic
5,000,000, Italian
4,000,000, Scandinavian
2,000,000, French
1,000,000, Finn, Lithuanian, Greek
1-3 million, Indian, 1-3 million, Oriental, Filipino, Mexican

From this great conglomeration of belief and national and racial origin we have been willing to share and to borrow. By putting things together which we derived from every corner and hidden valley of the world, we have arrived where we are. Our achievement, if it is commendatory, is not so much due to our outstanding ability, as to our geographic location which brought together the ideas and cultures of all mankind.

For us to say that any one of these cultures is unworthy or to agree that one has contributed more than another, or is more valuable than another, is a form of childishness and infantility which we should overcome. We are what we are because we are a brotherhood. Let's keep on being a growing brotherhood.

Moreover, let's be able to share what we have with everyone else so that all of us can become a brotherhood.

Would not that be a beautiful world in which to live? D. W. B.

Chapel Choir Presents Musical Program

The Chapel Choir presented a variety chapel program Wednesday, Oct. 15.

First on the program was a piano duo, "Tea For Two," played by Shirley Coppock and Ruth Strickler.

An accordion number "Blue Shirt Waltz," played by Eugene Neff was followed by a saxophone duet, "Stardust" by Shirley Hamilton and Dale Royer, and accompanied by Shirley Coppock.

The Choir, under the direction of Miss Doris Coppock, sang two numbers, "Poly Wolly Doodle" and "So's I Can Write My Name."

A devotional poem was written and given by Adala Carpenter, entitled "When Times Are Weary."

Let us . . . quietly accept our times, with the firm conviction that just as much good can be done today as at any time in the past, provided only that we have the will and the way to do it.—Elienne Gilson

What's New In Mae's Library

On the list of 36 recent library additions this week, history, travel, and biography lead with 10 new additions. Religion follows closely with seven new additions.

Four new books were added to the Brethren Collection. Two were volumes of biography of leaders of the Church of the Brethren.

F. Schwalm's study of the life of Otto Winger and a collection of biographies entitled Brethren Builders in Our Century were gifts from the Brethren Publishing House. Dr. Schwalm is a former president of McPherson College.

Christopher Sower, Sr., 1694-1758, Printer in Germantown is a bibliography about the colonial Church of the Brethren printer.

The Interpreter's Bible, of which volumes one and eight have been published and added to the college library reference collection, has been called "one of this generation's greatest enterprises in cooperative biblical scholarship and religious publication."

Geisert Is With Wichita Law Firm

Ted Geisert, '49, a former Macollege law student, is now practicing law with Fleeson, Stucky and Newkirk, a Wichita, Kans. law firm.

Geisert has been attending Harvard law school since his graduation in 1949. While attending Macollege, Ted was one of Prof. Maurice A. Hess's debate students. He attended the Homecoming activities here last week.

Students Meet Draft Without Enthusiasm

(ACP) College students are meeting the draft situation with a minimum of protest and even less enthusiasm, according to a poll taken on 11 campuses by Cornell University.

The poll compares the draft-vulnerable student with the income tax-paying adult. He meets his obligation, but he doesn't necessarily like it.

Ninety percent of the students, says the report, would return to college if induction were postponed, and only one in four thought military service would be a major disruption in his life.

Most students seem to be taking their deferment status seriously and are concerned with maintaining good grades; but there were some who felt they wanted to get in as much fun as possible before being drafted.

The report concludes that should the government drop the student deferment plan, without supplying a substitute, there is little doubt that restlessness and anxiety would return to the campuses.

In an ACP Student Opinion Poll taken last year it was learned that more than half the nation's students feel that "only the better students should be deferred," while 22 percent think all students should be deferred.

The wealth of a state lies not in great treasures, weapons, and armor. Its greatest wealth and its truest safety is in having learned, honorable, and well-educated citizens."

Who's going to get her diamond next—seems like everyone is getting in the mood for one. A week ago Wednesday, several girls found balloons in their rooms with "June and Jake" printed on a small piece of paper inside. It was about 6:15 in the morning, so they all went in and awakened June Blough with a congratulatory song.

Then Friday night after the Queen's Banquet when the couples came back on campus, they found that Elsa Kurtz and Herb Edmonds had taken the first step toward matrimony. Congratulations flew again as smooths dropped and eyes popped. Herb picked out the ring and surprised Elsa with it. That's the way things are done nowadays. Push-pull; click, click, you're engaged; pretty quick.

We had one of the best homecomings in a long time last weekend. From dorn decoration to parades, it really was good. Fresh-stock came through with first prize. They really went out for homecoming. Carl Metsker and Stan McClung were behind the doling.

Kline Hall followed through with second prize. Theirs took a lot of time and material, but it turned out good.

The float parade had more unusual ideas this year. Juniors came in first with the theme, "Expecting Victory." They decided upon an expectant father just waiting for victory to come along—it did, too.

The seniors had a novel idea with "Confucius Say." Butch Coffman made a good Chinaman. Judges were unable to decide upon one float for third prize, so prizes were given to both sophomores with their "open season on coyotes" and to screaming Don Fike who was getting a soapy bath by Karl Balder in the SCA theme of "Clean 'em Up."

There was good cooperation on the part of the student body and faculty alike when clean-up time came around. We got the campus fairly well clean, despite the wind for the old grads to come back and reminisce about their by-gone days.

Now that homecoming is over, we can once again turn our minds to the better things of life—studies (heh, heh). Nine weeks' tests are near in the future.

Rec. Council And Mac Ag Club Have Chapel Program

A joint Chapel program was given Monday, Oct. 20 by the Mac Ag Club and Rec Council.

Lyle Neher and Don Thralls gave a short resume of the formation of the Mac Ags in 1949 under Prof. Joe Shelly and a review of past and future projects of the club.

The president of the Recreation and Culture, Glendon Button, gave a short talk on the activities of the Council. The council members portrayed a typical campfire scene, and Elsie Kindley led the audience in several camp songs.

Chairman of the program was Prof. S. M. Dell.

Bethel Gives Premiere Performance "The Robe"

The senior class, in conjunction with the department of speech and drama of Bethel College, will present the premiere performance of the play, "The Robe," tonight and tomorrow night, Oct. 24 and 25 in Memorial Hall.

This dramatization of Lloyd Douglas' book of the same name has been prepared by John McGreevey and the Bethel presentation will be given with the permission of publisher, and the dramatic publishing company of Chicago.

The play deals with the robe of Jesus, and how it affects the lives of the people who come in contact with it. The Roman, Marcellus Gallio, is affected in such a pronounced way that his entire life is changed, and he becomes an advocate of the Christian way of life.

Caster, Akers Exchange Vows

Miss Mary Caster, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. S. E. Caster of Overbrook, Kans., became the bride of Lowell Edwin Akers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Akers of Liberty, Ill., Sunday, Oct. 12 at the Church of the Brethren in Liberty.

The bride's father officiated, assisted by Rev. Donald Ford of Bethany Bible Seminary.

The bride's gown was fashioned of white slipper satin. Miss Alice Flory, of Hayesville, Kans., former Macollege student, was one of the bridesmaids.

The groom's boutonniere was from the bride's bouquet. His gift to the bride was a memory candle, which is to be burned each year on their anniversary.

The couple are engaged in farming near Liberty, Mrs. Akers attended Macollege two years.

Enrollment Increases At Etown College

At Elizabethtown College, Elizabethtown, Pa., the total enrollment shows an increase of 20 percent over last year. The present freshman class of 106 shows a 35 percent increase over last year's total of first-year students.

Elizabethtown is one of the five Brethren colleges in the United States.

Bulldogs Make Coyotes Howl With 38-14 Score

Coach C. E. Woodard's McPherson College bulldogs rolled on to their fifth straight victory of the season last Saturday night by defeating Kansas Wesleyan 38-14. A capacity crowd of over 3,000 spectators watched this annual homecoming game.

McPherson scored three touchdowns in the first quarter one in the second, and two in the third. Wesleyan picked up one each in the second and fourth periods.

The McPherson defensive play was for the most part the outstanding feature of the game. In the first half, McPherson forced Kansas Wesleyan to fumble a total of 10 times. Especially noticeable was the line play of the two ends, Bob Peel, and Ed Frank. In the middle of the line it was Bill Smith and Steve Berrucco who discouraged Wesleyan's hopes time after time. Berrucco was responsible for the recovery of four of KWU fumbles.

McPherson kicked off and on the first play of the game Ron Gilliam passed to Phil Mermeth for a 45 yard gain to the McPherson 30, but the Coyotes fumbled on the next play and McPherson took over. Several fumbles later, McPherson ended up with the ball on Wesleyan's 31 yard line. Eddie Bickelstaf swung wide around end on the next play and raced the whole distance to the goal line to tally the first touchdown. The extra point attempt was not good.

A few minutes later Tommy O'Dell intercepted a Wesleyan pass on the Wesleyan 35. After an exchange of fumbles Gene Smith broke away for a 39-yard jaunt down to the Wesleyan five. McPherson was then penalized five yards, and then Wayne Bickelstaf connected for a ten yard touchdown pass to Bob Bechtel. The try for the extra point again failed.

Near the close of the first period a combination of running plays by Smith, Ball and Bickelstaf moved the ball to the ten-yard line from where Gene Smith smashed through the line to score the third touchdown of the game. McSpadden's kick was good for the extra point making the score 19-0.

Early in the second period Wesleyan found themselves on their own 25-yard line. Gilliam faked back to throw a screen pass, but when he threw it he forgot to take into account the long arms of McPherson's Bob Peel who intercepted the pass on the 28 and ran, those 28 like a scared Gazelle to tally McPherson's fourth touchdown.

Late in the second quarter Wesleyan started a drive, that aided by two McPherson penalties put them on the one yard line. Panikals went over to score and when Wesleyan made the extra point it made the score 25-7. That was all of the scoring in the first half.

McPherson received at the start of the second half. A sustained drive that saw McSpadden play a major role with a 14 pass catch and a 12-yard run, put McPherson on Wesleyan's six-yard line. McSpadden lugged the ball over on the next play. He then kicked the extra point.

A little later in the same period McSpadden again scored this time from 27 yards out.

Near the end of the third period Wesleyan took the ball on their own 20-yard line and started a sustained drive. After exchange of ends for the fourth quarter they finished their drive with King going over from the one yard line after the Bulldogs had held tight on two previous plays from the one. King also converted.

The Bulldogs reached the Wesleyan 8-yard line near the end of the final quarter but a series of penalties finally forced them to lose the ball on downs to Wesleyan. The Coyotes made four first downs in a row, but lost the ball to McPherson when they again attempted a screen pass and this time Carl Metsker broke through and intercepted it. He ran about 20 yards before finally being tackled. McPherson was knocking on Wesleyan's door for another touchdown when the time ran out on them.

M Club Plans Penny Carnival

The annual M Club Carnival will be held in the gymnasium on Saturday, Nov. 22, starting at 7:30 p. m.

A full program has not yet been drawn out, but plans are being made for a bigger and a more entertaining carnival this year. There will be included in the program several games, bingo, samfu, cakewalk, etc.

A king and queen will be chosen for the carnival. Last year's king was Dwight McSpadden, and queen was Ann Carpenter.

Even In The Army; Petefish Plays Ball

Pvt. "Chuck" Petefish played shortstop on the team that won the Camp Chaffee Arkansas baseball tournament.

Last spring Petefish captained McPherson College's baseball team to a conference title.

Three of the players on the team had been playing minor league ball before they were drafted and the rest were former college players. One of these was Bill Vanna who last year was captain of Iowa U.'s baseball team.

They were supposed to go to Texas to play other base champions, but because most of the members of the team were still in basic, they were not allowed to go.

State Department Opens Student Trainee Program

The Department of State has recently announced its 1953 trainee program to colleges and universities throughout the country. Seniors and graduate students with good backgrounds in political science, economics, public administration, international relations of related fields and who are interested in a career in foreign affairs management may be considered for the program.

The foreign affairs management trainee program is designed to secure a limited number of carefully selected trainees who possess outstanding potential for eventual promotion to top level executive and managerial positions.

Nominating boards, composed of faculty members, will assist the department on each campus by screening qualified students and nominating the most outstanding candidates for consideration by the Department of State. Nominating Board selections must be received in the Department of State not later than Feb. 16, 1953.

Those attending from Maccollege were Dr. and Mrs. James Elrod, Bervyn and Marlo Oltman, Shirley Joppock, Eleanor Louthan, and Ruth Papa.

Modern David Rewrites Psalm While Reading Latin

"I will turn back mine eyes unto the vocabulary from whence cometh my help.

My help cometh from the pages which contain nouns and verbs. They will not suffer thy grade to be doomed; he that learneth them shall not flunk.

Behold he that learneth them shall neither slumber nor sleep. These words are thy law; these words are thy protection for thy good grade.

Thy teacher shall not smite thee by day, nor thy conscience by night. These words shall preserve thee from all wrath; they shall preserve thy reputation.

These words shall insure thy shining out and thy grades coming in, from this time forth, and even for evermore.

The Cracked Crystal Ball

By The Seer
Seasons record: Right 82; Wrong 20; Ties 6; Percentage .804.

As some of you may have noticed there were only six predictions in last week's paper. The reason for this was that a shortage of space developed on the sports page and the predictions were what was referred to as "leftovers."

The four top teams in the nation as picked by the AP sportswriters this week represent three sections of the country. The Midwest is honored by the selection of Michigan as the number one team and Oklahoma as the No. three team.

The east holds the No. two position with undefeated Maryland. California represents the west to round out the top four teams.

In the nation as a whole 53 teams are still undefeated and untied. All the top four with the exception of Oklahoma, who was tied by Colorado, are undefeated. The state of California is honored with three major undefeated eleven's. They are California, USC, and UCLA.

All at least one of these will not be that way after Saturday because California and USC meet then.

Three teams familiar to McPherson fans are also on the list of "53". They are William Jewell with six victories, and Ottawa and McPherson with five victories each.

Well, here goes for another peek into the old ball.

Paul Sees Game From Ambulance

The condition of Paul Heidebrecht, McPherson's latest serious football injury, is much improved at latest reports. Paul suffered an injury to his kidneys in practice the Wednesday before the Emporia game. He has been in the hospital ever since, except for last Saturday night when the doctors permitted him to watch the homecoming game from an ambulance.

Continuing the comparison, we find each team has two backfield men whose names continually pop up all through the individual statistics. For instance in the individual scoring, Al Conway of Wm. Jewell is first, Jim Happy also from Wm. Jewell is third, and Ball and Smith are ninth and eleventh respectively.

Recruit American Teachers For British Colonies

For the first time in British Colonial history, the British Government has accepted on behalf of her Colonies, an offer made by the Fulbright Agreement of recruiting American teachers for Colonial Service.

In the autumn of this year, a number of British Colonies will have American teachers attached to their specially selected secondary schools and teacher training centers. These teachers will serve for two years in Nigeria, Gold Coast, Sierra Leone, in West Africa, and in Jamaica, Trinidad in the West Indies, and in British Guiana.

This is made possible by the general arrangements made under the Fulbright Agreement. These teachers will fill existing vacancies, and the territories concerned will pay the salary they would normally offer British expatriate officers.

In the case of American teachers going to West Africa, it is hoped to arrange for a short preliminary orientation course at the Colonial Department, London University Institute of Education.

Two of the small college giants tangle this weekend when McPherson meets Wm. Jewell Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Liberty, Mo. One only has to look through the NAIA statistics (the official small college record keepers) to see how literally true this is.

For example, in team rushing McPherson is first in the nation and Wm. Jewell second. In total team offense Wm. Jewell is first and McPherson second. In team defense the Bulldogs are sixth and the Cardinals from Missouri are eighth. These statistics were for games through October 11, when McPherson had played four games and Wm. Jewell five.

Continuing the comparison, we find each team has two backfield men whose names continually pop up all through the individual statistics. For instance in the individual scoring, Al Conway of Wm. Jewell is first, Jim Happy also from Wm. Jewell is third, and Ball and Smith are ninth and eleventh respectively.

This Al Conway is, to put it bluntly, one terrific ball player. He is a senior this year and plays tailback on the Cardinal's team. Two years ago he was at West Point playing for Army, and he was one of the players dropped from the school because of the "cribbing" scandal. He is a good six foot and weighs over 200 lbs.

Also in the backfield are two other men that will have to be watched continuously Saturday. They are Jim Happy, who has already scored over 60 points, 25 on extra points; and Tom Cook who for the last two years has made little All-America honorable mention.

All is not as rosy, though, at Wm. Jewell as this sounds. In the brochure put out by the athletic department, they really used the crying-towel. Coach Norris Paterson, who has a 163 record at William Jewell, bemoans the fact that gone from last year's squad are five starting offensive linemen and three offensive starting backs. Altogether 20 lettermen failed to return from last year.

The physical condition of McPherson's team is probably as good as it has been for several weeks. The only exception to this is Gene Smith, who twisted his foot in Wesleyan's game. It is still bothering him enough that he will have to be listed as a doubtful starter in Saturday's contest.

Radio station KNEK will carry the play by play account of this game starting at 1:45 Saturday.
