

Candidates Wage Lively Race For Positions On Student Council Today

Student body elections for the positions of Treasurer and President of Student Council are being waged today in the college's annual electoral battle with quite a number of candidates for each office. The persons running were formally nominated this morning during the regular chapel period.

The candidates declaring their intention of running for the two offices are, for Treasurer: Marlene Moats, Bob Wise, Leland Lengle, and Don Moeller.

For Student Council President are Karl Baldner, John Thomas, Ed Frantz, Vinaya Likhite, Don Goodfellow and Bill Goering.

In order to be eligible for candidacy for the two offices, a student must present a properly signed petition bearing 50 names to the Student Council. The Candidates for Treasurer must be members of the Junior class of the following year, and Presidential candidates must be Seniors during the year of office.

The powers and duties of the Student Council sometimes have far reaching effect on the students. The Council directly administers the Spectator, the Quadrangle, and the Student Handbook, the Growl; it directs the income from the Student Activity fee as it sees fit; makes appropriate awards in recognition of achievement in extra-curricular participation.

The Student Council is the official voice of the student body by virtue of its power to "ascertain and make articulate student opinion, and shall express it to the Faculty, the administration, and/or the Board of Trustees when deemed expedient."

The Council may also act as a board of arbitration in student disputes, and shall express its opinion to the Faculty, the administration, and/or the Board of Trustees when deemed expedient.

Other members of the Student Council are the class representatives; a man and a woman representing the extra-curricular activities; the Dean James Berkebile, Dr. Kenneth Bechtel, Miss Sarah May Vance, and S. M. Dell. The class representatives will be elected individually by the classes immediately after Easter vacation.

The election is in charge of an election committee chosen by retiring president George Keim. Ed Frantz is the outgoing Treasurer.

Politics Class Plans Trip To Washington D. C.

Over twenty Macollege students in Prof. Raymond Flory's American Politics class will travel by bus to Washington, D. C. and New York City on April 23 for a 10 day field trip to study mainly the functions of American government and politics.

Prof. Max McAuley will accompany the politics students on the trip as faculty advisor. The group will spend most of their time in Washington, but will travel to New York to visit the United Nations and "see the sights."

Prof. Flory originally was scheduled to accompany the group but a recent eye operation made it advisable to choose another member of the faculty to travel with the group.

WSSF Auction Was 'No Joke' But Successful

April Fool's Day was climaxed here on campus with the annual W.S.S.F. auction. However, this could not be classified as an "April Fool" joke, as the money raised went to a worthy cause, the World Student Fund.

Under the auspices of the S.C.A., the Student Union Room sounded like a stock exchange that evening. Again McPherson's debaters were put to work, and several of them served as the official auctioneers for the evening.

Picnics, ironings, dinner dates, cakes, pies, freezer of ice cream, rides in cars, and a car wash are a few of the things that were auctioned. Any form of food was very popular, which was evidenced when the prices would quadruple.

The money raised is being sent in to be used as student aid in needy, war-torn countries. The W.S.S.F. helps to meet widespread student needs for textbooks, study materials, and equipment.

Book Store Hours

Monday: 10:30-11:20
Tuesday: 8:40-9:30, 10:30-11:20
Wednesday: 8:40-9:30, 10:30-11:20
Thursday: 8:40-9:30, 10:30-11:20
Friday: 10:30-12:00
Students are urged by the Book Store manager, Walter Blough, to pay their bills, or account, as he wants to clear up the finances of the store in the near future.

College Calendar

Tonight: Booster Banquet, 6:45 at the Community Building.
Sunday, April 4: Price-Fishburn Recital: 2:30 p.m. in the chapel.
Tuesday, April 6: Baseball at Wichita U.
Thursday, April 8: Baseball at Bethel.
Friday, April 9: Easter recess begins.
Tuesday, April 20: Easter recess ends.

Worship At SCA

The Pre-Easter SCA program next Thursday evening will be entirely a program of worship. Meditative music will precede the singing of Easter hymns and reading of poetry. A prayer session will conclude this worship period.

Retiring Student Council members Ed Frantz and George Keim are shown here. Ed is outgoing Treasurer for the organization, and George is finishing his term as Student Body President. Elections for these 1954-55 Student Council posts are being held today.

Students Are Asked To Begin Enrolling

Mrs. Martin, registrar, has requested that students start enrolling for next semester. Next year's class schedules are out and materials are ready for enrollment. Next year's sophomores are posted on the Sharp Hall bulletin board with the individual counselors. The future juniors and seniors are asked to see their major professor of their own choice. All students are urged to begin enrolling as soon as possible.

Playday Is Coming

How many of you underclassmen know what you are going to do come four weeks from now in the All-School Playday? Are you going to sit back and be a wallflower and let the Seniors be the first to have their names on that new trophy?

Yes, it's true! Four years ago, Playday first came into being, and a new trophy was presented to the winner to have for a year. Well, the class of '54 kept it. Are you underclassmen going to let that distinguished class of '54 do it once more on May 4?

—A senior.

Faculty Meeting To Be Held In Memory Chapel

Faculty meeting Thursday, April 8, will be held in Memory Chapel of the First Church of the Brethren. The service of Easter music and meditations is being arranged by Mr. Glenn Swinger and Miss Sarah May Vance.

On Thursday, April 1, Mrs. Sarala Pradhan, special student from India, spoke to the faculty on her concept of a universal religion. Mrs. Pradhan has taught in India many years and is in the United States to work on another advanced degree. At McPherson College she is taking work mainly in the Chemistry Department.

Criminology Class Visits KSIR At Hutch

Over twenty Macollege students traveled to Hutchinson on March 25 for a tour of the Kansas State Industrial Reformatory.

The criminology class, under Prof. Kenneth C. Bechtel, saw young convicts at work in the reformatory laundry and kitchen, in the yard, and in the industrial shops. Small one-man cells were seen as well as the dormitory type which held six men each.

The KSIR convicts range in age from 18 to 30 years. The average sentence in the institution is 15 months.

The group had the opportunity to ask questions and to buy materials that the convicts had made in their shops. The class also went on a tour of the Hutchinson Police Station, and were shown counterfeit bills, kinds of dope, and other criminal material.

Price-Fishburn Recital Is Sunday At 2:30 In Chapel

Two Macollege senior music majors, Bob Price and Gordon Fishburn, will present a recital on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in the college chapel.

Bob hails from Bellefontaine, Ohio, and Gordon comes from Lawrence, Kans. Students majoring in music must give a recital as a graduation requirement, usually in their senior year.

The presentation, which includes Beethoven Oltman, senior, from Enders, Neb., will be in the classical mood, as well as having several numbers written by contemporary composers.

The program will include such numbers as "Indian Love Call" by Rudolph Friml, "Andante and Finale from 'Rhapsody in Blue'" by Gershwin, "O Lovely Night" by Ronald, "Grand Concerto" by Grafe, "Thou Art Repose" by Schubert, and others.

Grades Will Be Out By Friday

Mrs. Alice Martin, Registrar, has announced that grades will be out by Friday, or possibly before that time.

Deadlines for teachers to hand in grades was March 30, but several faculty members did not make the deadline until March 31.

The nine-week grades take several days to process before the grade slips can be given out.

Hall, Krebbel Sign Teaching Contracts

Elsie Kindley Hall has recently signed a contract to teach in the city of McPherson. She will probably take over the third grade at Washington, vacated by Miss Hays who will be married.

Ruben Krebbel has a position in a Winona grade school. The bonds for the school were just voted on, the result of consolidation. It is a five-teacher school, and Mr. Krebbel will be the principal.

Forsyth Heads Nebraska Youth

A youth rally of the Nebraska District C. B. Y. F. was held at Lincoln, Nebraska, Saturday and Sunday, March 27 and 28.

About 45 young people attended the rally, according to Pauline Forsyth, district president. Glenn C. Swinger, Public Relations Department of Macollege, was the guest speaker for the conference, and he worked in conjunction with the Reverend Kenneth H. Yingst, Pastor of the Lincoln Church of the Brethren and District Youth Advisor.

Members of the cabinet besides Pauline, the president, are Dwight Oltman, vice-president, Don Grosbach, secretary, Bea Grone, treasurer, and Gary Williams, editor.

College Honors Boosters Tonight At Annual Banquet With Bartle As Speaker

Initiates Learn Greek Alphabet

New members of Alpha Psi Omega, the honorary dramatic fraternity of Macollege, will be initiated on Tuesday evening, April 6. The initiation ceremony will be held at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Yoder, instructor of dramatics and speech.

The new initiates include Dale DeLauter, sophomore, Max Parmlay, sophomore, Esther Merkey, junior, and Velva Wagner, senior. The present members are: Joe Kennedy, who is president; Phyllis Kingsley, vice-president; Maxine Hanley, secretary; Dolores Sigle, Ted Vance, Glenn Bellah, and Dean Neher.

In preparation for the ceremony, the initiates are learning the Greek alphabet and Shakespearean selections.

President, Dean Will Attend College Meeting

Dean James M. Berkebile and President D. W. Bittinger will attend a meeting of the Deans and Presidents of the church-related colleges of Kansas, to be held on the Kansas Wesleyan University campus, Thursday, April 8. The invitation came from Dr. A. Stanley Trickett, president of Kansas Wesleyan University.

The annual 1954 Booster Banquet of McPherson College will be held tonight, April 2, at 6:45 in the Community Building.

A short program will precede the banquet address by Dr. H. Roe Bartle, prominent speaker, lawyer, traveler, and humanitarian from Kansas City.

Local Election Is April 6

Next Tuesday, April 6, is the date for the local municipal elections. The most important and controversial issue on the ballot, besides the candidacies for the mayor and minor offices, is the question: "Shall the sale of alcoholic liquors by the package be licensed in McPherson?"

The "dry" movement is centered around the efforts of the Citizens for Community Betterment, sponsored by various churches of the community—the WCTU and the Ministerial Alliance. The "wet" forces moving for the retraining of the right of package liquor store licensing is the Local Citizens Committee, for Legal Control.

Publicity in the form of leaflets, stickers, and newspaper political advertising has been strong on both sides. The outcome of the local election is said to be a determining factor in other areas in Kansas seeking prohibition.

Mr. Bartle has been Scout Chief of the Boy Scouts of Kansas City for more than twenty years; a member of the national executive board of the American Brotherhood; and national president of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity found on some two hundred college and university campuses of America. Dr. Bartle is well prepared to speak on the topic, "Community Cooperation."

Dr. Bartle is a speaker in constant demand and is giving his time to the McPherson College Booster Banquet because of his vital interest in Christian Education.

A year ago at the Booster Banquet the community donated and pledged $135,000 to the college for its development program. About 700 people attended the 1953 banquet.

The minimum contribution to receive a ticket to the banquet is $10, and additional tickets may be secured for $2 each.

On the Arrangements Committee are: Prof. S. M. Dell, Chairman; Guy Hayes; J. L. Bowman; E. S. Hershenberger; Alvin Willets; Doris Coppock; John Burkholder; Paul Sollenberger; and O. A. Olson. This committee has arranged the hall, equipment, decorations, seating, and programs.

Gordon Yoder is chairman of the Food Committee; assisting him are President, D. W. Bittinger, Dean James M. Berkebile, Miss Mildred Sleh, and Mrs. J. F. Siffer. In charge of publicity, program, and promotions were Glenn C. Swinger, chairman, Bill Duguid, and Dr. Bittinger.

Mr. Bill Duguid will be toastmaster at the banquet tonight, and music in the program will be under the directorship of Prof. Don Frederick.

The solicitors conducting the drive are Paul E. Sargent, H. J. Ferguson, Rich Brown, Bryan Holloway, Guy Hayes, John Casebeer, Basil Hutcherson, L. E. Lindell, Delbert Kelly, Dick Mettlen, Elmer Dalke, Glen Bacon, Eldon Tubbott, Paul Sherry, S. M. Dell, Glen Ball, M. A. Hess, R. E. Mohler, John Wall, D. W. Bittinger, Glenn C. Swinger, Max Ebaugh, Burr Miller, Harold Bean, the Essau, Lew Lloyd, Albert Butcher, and Earl Marchand.

Mr. Howard Renfro has acted as over-all chairman. Particular emphasis this year is upon the rebuilding of the stadium.

Alberta Ebert and Bertha Landis, home economics majors at Macollege, are taking charge of the waiters and waitresses who will be mostly students who have volunteered their services for the occasion.

The Macollege Ladies' Trio is shown here with piano accompanist Shirley Coppock. The members of the trio are La Faughn Hubbard, Mary Elizabeth Swinger, and Dorothy Nicholson.

Ladies' Trio Travels 2200 Dust-Blown Miles On Tour

By Liz Swinger

The McPherson College Ladies' Trio and Glenn Swinger of the Public Relations Department have recently returned from a ten-day, 2,200 mile tour of a number of the Colorado and Nebraska churches.

The trio is composed of La Faughn Hubbard, first soprano; Dorothy Nicholson, second soprano; Mary "Liz" Swinger, alto; and Shirley Coppock, accompanist.

We left early Saturday morning and arrived in Arriba, Colo., in the early afternoon. A storm, dust and snow combined, had preceded us. Many of the church members were snowed in and had difficulty in making our Sunday morning program.

The roads which we traveled were cleared of snow during the entire tour. Our evening program was in Denver.

From Denver we drove on to Grand Junction. We crossed the Continental Divide at Loveland Pass. This drive was the most scenic of all our trips.

Antioch; we also toured the Royal Gorge. We encountered a dust storm Wednesday evening before reaching Antioch.

Thursday morning we presented two high school programs at Yoder High and Truett High. Then we traveled on to Rocky Ford. The dust blew worse Thursday morning, and we were forced to travel slowly. We gave our Thursday evening program at Rocky Ford.

Friday's trip was much shorter than some of the others. We went from Rocky Ford to Wiley. Friday afternoon we gave a thirty-minute concert over the radio at KLMR, Lamar. That evening we gave two programs: first at McClave, then at Wiley. We acquired a new member, Don Thralls, to our team on Friday.

Early Saturday, we drove to Haxton. That evening we had a rest, and on Sunday morning presented our program. While driving from Haxton to Enders, Neb., that afternoon, we had car trouble; but Doc, acting as our mechanic, repaired the damage.

We returned to McPherson after our Sunday evening program at Enders and arrived here around 5:30 Monday morning, March 22.

Colorado impressed us because of its scenery, but mainly because of the hospitable people at the various churches. We gave thirteen programs.

NEW ADDITION to the Macollege faculty beginning next semester is Merlin Francis, Macollege graduate son of Mr. Earl Francis. Public Relations Department. His position will be in the Education and Psychology department.

A Great Personality

It has been a long time since such an effervescent personality like Bob Richards has appeared on the MacCollege scene. This was the first time that many students received the opportunity to closely observe his dynamic abilities.

Those who had heard him at all before the beginning of Religious Emphasis Week were no doubt surprised at his increase in intellectual and spiritual accomplishment. The "High Flying Parson" I think, has experienced a profound change of attitude during the past two years. His shifting of emphasis from his pole-vaulting and other athletic activities to center his thoughts and energy almost exclusively on evangelism and preaching has resulted in making him a much more effective campaigner for Christianity.

Before his conversion when he was sixteen years old, Richards was considered to be a tough city boy in his home town of Champeign, Ill.

Later he came to combine his athletic and spiritual qualities to become the great evangelist that he is. One remarkable asset easily seen is his frequent referring to religious and intellectual sources in his sermons, demonstrating the tremendous amount of reading that he does. He constantly exercises his mind with heavy reading dealing with sociology, psychology, religion, and anthropology. He delivers over 300 sermons a year.

Rev. Richards has been publicized mainly for his pole-vaulting abilities, and hard drive in athletics. World champion that he is in his vaulting activities, the preaching and scholastic standards he maintains I think are also indicative of Richards—A well-rounded personality. His rare spiritual appeal can be found in very few speakers.

On the athletic field, other athletes note with dismay the Parson's constant effervescence, which is particularly noticeable whenever he makes an unusually good jump. He will jump up and down, will shout, and will thank the Lord for the strength for his achievement.

He says that his athletic power comes from his faith in God that helps him to surmount his goal, which is at present, to top the 16 foot mark on the pole-vault. Whether his evangelistic activities will prevent him from attaining this remains to be seen. His three-month tour which he finished here in McPherson last week was indeed a drain on his strength.

Many before him have lost their health with a heavy concentrated drive which drained away the zeal and vitality of many a leader, splurging the power of the body for an unselfish ideal.

While Bob Richards is a much too-well disciplined individual to let himself fall prey to physical exhaustion, his three-month campaign with no rest between stops, no relaxing games of golf, no recreative relaxation, has not helped his vaulting activities any.

For the Christian ideal, Bob Richards may be giving away one of the most precious assets he has—his physical prowess, and consequently his chances for breaking the world record of 15 ft. 8 in. I think that Bob Richards realizes this, but he is willing to make the sacrifice, and truly, this decision is the mark of a man.

Student Ministers Speak It Is The Soul That Sees

By Richard Townbridge

I am sure that many of you have heard one or both of these quotations: "It is the soul that sees" that is the motto for the Missouri School for the Blind. You might think that the following quote "Eyes are the windows of the soul" would not be appropriate as a follow-up to that school's motto, but God has so arranged it that touch, smell, and hearing, make-up a great deal for the eyes which some lack, and which might be called "eyes" for some.

We who have our eyes and can see the beauty of the changing seasons may, too often, think that we have captured all the beauty there is. The soul that sees and recognizes no such limitations as sight, smell, sound or touch but rather looks towards God, who is the river of all visions, is thankful for these unmerited blessings, and visions which the seeing soul may enjoy.

What's Your Opinion?

Don Faules

How many times have all of us heard about the fifth amendment during the last year? I imagine most of you have taken up the cry of the newspapers in assailing Senator McCarthy. However, the problem lies much deeper than that. I have one question to ask. What would you do in the situation? Let's take a brief look at the present law and the results.

Within the last couple of years witnesses have refused 1900 different times to testify on the ground that they might incriminate themselves. In other words they have claimed the privilege of silence under the fifth amendment to the constitution. This right has been common law since the days of Charles I of England. The federal constitution provision has been written into every state constitution except Iowa and New Jersey. In these states it prevails as common law.

The use of the fifth amendment has been challenged by courts and now it is being challenged by Attorney General Brownell. Brownell charges the present system with protecting subversives and criminals. The law Brownell wants is as follows: "That a witness refusing to answer questions of congressional investigators, grand juries or in court be offered the alternative of answering, under complete personal immunity from prosecution because of his testimony, or being sent to prison for contempt."

"That the question of granting such immunity must be submitted

Thinking With The President

A STUDENT NEWSPAPER

I have been pleased with the Spectator as it has opened its pages wider and wider for an exchange of student opinion.

I realize that inherent in this exchange of opinion through letters to the editor, editorials, and so forth, there are certain public relations dangers which we of the faculty and administration would sense more keenly than the students would detect them. Invariably when free opinions are expressed by students, the college administration gets some letters asking whether the administration condones these ideas.

In spite of this difficulty, I personally, favor the continuing exchange of student opinions. I always reply to letters of inquiry saying that the Spectator is a student newspaper and since there are 400 students on and about the campus there must be about 400 different ideas and that the students like to exchange them.

The student newspaper is printed for the students. Its relation to the general public beyond the students is its secondary rather than its primary interest. Accordingly, I think it is good to have a continuation of the exchange of student ideas.

When I was an editor I undertook to accept and present almost any idea in the paper. I edited, provided the item was written kindly, without belligerence, was not aimed at harming the personality or character of any individual, fell within the bounds of decency, and had for its purpose general helpfulness rather than hurtfulness.

This, I think, is freedom of the press and I approve it.

Are You A Hypocrite?

By Lois Stannette

Recently, while I was reading the Sermon on the Mount, the verse which says, "And when you give alms, sound no trumpet before you as the hypocrites do in the streets that they may be praised by men" came to my attention.

I stopped to think about this verse, for Bible passages are often applicable to present-day life.

Just previous to this experience I had been disturbed by something to which this might be an answer. Sometimes it almost seems as though some persons make an issue of their convictions. This was brought to my attention when I discovered that some MacCollege students feel "looked down upon" by others who seem always to be advertising their self-discipline or personal convictions.

Every person has feelings and opinions distinctly differing from those of any other individual. There is, of course, a time and place for expressing them, such as in discussion groups or in speaking opportunities where it is right and expected that one should express his own feelings.

But it doesn't seem entirely right for some people to make others feel inferior and sometimes a bit aggravated with their constant reference to the things they are doing to improve themselves. After all, does not everyone have convictions? Sometimes it is easy to forget that some of the most self-disciplined persons are those who never speak of it.

I will remember one of my high school teachers who defined self-discipline as the ability to adjust to the task or the situation at hand and concentrate wholly on that. Some, however, feel that it consists of a series of resolutions and decisions around which they base their daily life.

At any rate, this so-called self-discipline should never detract from the real happiness of living. Could it be that persons who wish always to discuss their own convictions feel that their beliefs are not what they ought to be and therefore are, themselves, a bit unhappy?

Perhaps every person should decide upon the principles and ideals by which he wants to live, and it seems equally important that he keeps it reasonably personal and individual.

Letter To The Editor

The question of what to do with the College Farm has been raised. This is just a suggestion, but we think it would be a very good idea to sell part of the farm, tear down the buildings, and build houses or duplexes for the married couples who attend McPherson College.

In the future there will be more GI's with families who will be attending college and will want nice places in which to live.

We feel that this action would also help to enlarge the college.

Kline Hall and the College Courts are getting pretty well run down, so much so that young couples hesitate to live there. Kline Hall is no place for children. We think this would be an excellent plan if it could be worked out.

Bulldog Barks

It looks as if the weather is against our baseball team playing a game with Friends. The game was cancelled twice last week because of rain and again last Monday because of the extra cold weather.

Miss Neher has been having guests for breakfast. She has been inviting the senior girls down for breakfast. The girls have come away commenting on how good it was.

The last nine, there are really only eight, weeks of school for this year started last Monday.

Mad students have spent many hours enjoying television in the SUFR. But last week they had to find something else to do. It seems the ole set got tired of having so many people stare at it and turned out its picture. After a few days of rest and repairs in the repair shop it once again is back against the wall and giving many people enjoyment once again.

The girls in Dotzour got out their rags, brooms, dust pans, and other necessities for house cleaning and started to work cleaning up from the last dust storm. Some of the girls, have just about decided that it is useless, because just as soon as they get everything clean, another dust storm blows through and you would think they had cleaned for years.

Our track team certainly came through in fine shape last Friday. They won the track meet that was held here on our field with flying colors.

Last Saturday and Sunday everyone was beginning to get a touch of spring fever when suddenly late Sunday afternoon the wind came up and along with the wind came a cold front. They always say you never can tell about the weather in Kansas, it certainly is proving to be true this year.

Easter vacation will be starting one week from today.

The Booster Banquet will be held this evening. Many Mac students will be attending the banquet. There are also many students planning on serving at the banquet. While the boys from Falmestock are playing chess, Arnold Boys will be spending their free time playing ping pong.

While Mac students have been busily getting engaged all winter they have forgotten about what might be going on with the faculty. Their eyes were opened last Friday when Dr. Bittinger announced the engagement of Max McAuley to Marilee Grove.

A group of Mac students went to Lincoln, Nebraska, to attend a Youth Rally. Those who went are: Ron Grosbach, Alberta Eberhart, George Eisele, Kathy Hamm, Marlene Moats, Velva Wagner, Glenn Swinger, and Pauline Forsyth.

Monday night Jay Frederick, his sister Ruth Alber, Dorothy Solleberger, Mrs. Bonnie Hamilton, Keith Kipp, and Shirley Hamilton went to Wichita where they attended a program by the Wichita Symphony Orchestra.

Hersberger Attends Art Exhibit At KU
Professor E. S. Hersberger, associate professor of art, attended a high school art exhibit and demonstrations at Kansas University last Saturday.

The art exhibit was the work of various high schools in Kansas. The demonstrations were in pottery, weaving, painting, design, and metal and were given by the instructors of the different departments of art at Kansas University.

It seems that Richard Trowbridge has been holding out on many Mac students, because he suddenly surprised many of us with his engagement.

There has been a sign posted in the Dog House that reads something like this: "Due to unavoidable circumstances the Dog House will not be open for business Sunday April 4." It is signed "The Manager."

As most of you know Eddie Ball is the manager, and also as most of you know, Sunday is his wedding day.

Saturday will be the "great day" for Loreen Cline and Glenn Gayer.

Prof. Dell, Mrs. Dell, Richard Carney, and Phyllis Wampler went to Beatrice, Nebraska last weekend. They conducted a craft workshop at the Homesville church.

For all we take we must pay, but the price is cruel high. He who rebukes the world is rebuked by the world.

Loreen Cline Honored At Bridal Shower

Loreen Cline was the guest of honor at a wedding shower given Saturday night by Eula Mae Murray, Norann Royer, Donna Schrock, and Bev Schechter at the Chester Murray home near Conway. Games and contests were played and a scrap book telling of the life of the honoree was made. To gain admission to the shower each of the guests had to bring a can of food.

After Loreen had opened her gifts, refreshments of homemade ice cream, angel food cake, and an orange drink were served.

Engagements

Achey, Trowbridge

J. H. Achey of Carthage, Mo., announces the engagement of his daughter, Martha, to Richard Trowbridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Trowbridge also of Carthage.

Miss Achey has attended Draughton Business College, Springfield, Mo., and is now employed by the Drake Hotel in Carthage.

Richard is a graduate of the Missouri School for the Blind, at St. Louis, and is a sophomore at MacCollege majoring in music.

No wedding date has been set.

Friends Honor Russell, Ball

Kathy Russell, surrounded by pink flowers, was honored at a bridal shower given by Mrs. Ray Cramer and Beverly Turner at the Cramer home last week. After games and the opening of many lovely and useful gifts, refreshments were served.

The ice cream was in the shape of a brides slipper. A variety of cookies, rose bud mints, and coffee accompanied the ice cream slipper.

A dinner party was given for Kathy Russell and Eddie Ball Saturday night at the Bert Webb home. Friends from town attended the dinner.

Grove, McAuley

Mr. and Mrs. George Grove of South English, Iowa, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marilee, to Max McAuley, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McAuley of Wichita, Kansas.

Marilee graduated from McPherson College in the spring of '53 and is now teaching music at the McPherson Junior High School. Max graduated from McPherson College in '52 and is now teaching here at the college.

An early December wedding is planned.

Weekend Weddings

Two McPherson College couples will be exchanging wedding vows this weekend.

On Saturday evening, April 3, Loreen Cline and Glenn Gayer repeat their vows at the Monitor Church of the Brethren with Rev. James M. Berkebile officiating.

Kathy Russell walks down the aisle to meet Eddie Ball Sunday, April 4, at 4:00 p.m. Their ceremony is to be at the McPherson Church of the Brethren with the Rev. Harry K. Zeller, Jr. in charge.

Student Ministers

Hear Bob Richards
The Student Ministers organization met Thursday morning, March 25 for a period of discussion and meditation.

Rev. Bob Richards was the guest speaker of the meeting. He spoke on the qualities of the ministry as taken from the second chapter of Acts.

In looking over his complete outline for the McPherson Religious Week, he discovered that the book of Romans served as his basic scripture much more than he had realized.

Hersberger Attends Art Exhibit At KU

Professor E. S. Hersberger, associate professor of art, attended a high school art exhibit and demonstrations at Kansas University last Saturday.

The art exhibit was the work of various high schools in Kansas. The demonstrations were in pottery, weaving, painting, design, and metal and were given by the instructors of the different departments of art at Kansas University.

Dr. Orville L. Eaton, Head of the Department of Library Science at the Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia, Kansas, was on campus on Thursday, April 1, to interview students interested in graduate work at that school.

Dr. Eaton was particularly interested in students participating with Library Science, but he did not limit interviews to them. Margaret Yost and Velva Wagner, seniors, were among those with whom he talked.

Royer Substitutes

"Now children" was the phrase Norann Royer, McPherson College sophomore, used over and over again last Monday as she taught the kindergarten students at Lincoln School.

Norann substituted for the substitute teacher, Mrs. Richard Patton. The regular kindergarten instructor is Miss Fern Glenn. With thirty-four children to keep up with in the morning and thirty-two little students in the afternoon, Norann did not find herself idle.

By the Cup
"Where, where, has my food gone?" and "Who put all this salt in my bed?" were the cries of Mary Alice Smith when someone (or ones) became overly mischievous. Just wait!

Beverly Hall startled everyone when she attempted to push the hill door open and instead pushed her hand through the glass. The situation is bad enough when anyone of the 108 girls living in Dotzour sits at the phone and talks and talks, but when Leon Albert comes into Dotzour and does that, well!

There were two track meets last Friday. The second was a non-scheduled event which occurred when some of the girls froze out and dashed back to the warmth of Dotzour.

Then there was the girl with the vocabulary lacking in track terms. In her excitement while watching one of the fellows throw the discus, she tumbled in vain for the word discus, and ended up calling the object a fungus. Some people's lack of intelligence is amazing.

Sara Courtney is not attempting to start the growing of a forest. The tall plant she waters tenderly and faithfully is a daffodil, so the label said.

Marilyn Metsker was signed up as a contender in the Arnold Hall Male Ping Pong Tournament, thanks to some devilish fellows. She had some difficulty getting her name and the comment accompanying it scratched off, but she accomplished it.

Realizing that such an opportunity would probably not arise on the exact date of April Fool's Day, some of the fellows pulled out a few days ahead of schedule.

They spotted a empty bus for the hamburger. Evelyn Jarke was taking to Clara Zunkel. Evelyn was unaware of this fact until she discovered the object to Clara. The girls descended on the culprit just in time to see one of them eat the last bite of a hamburger.

The smoke went up, but cleared away, when the fellows produced the original, somewhat more squashed than when it started its life as a hamburger.

Coed Tricks Her Way Into Dorm After Hours

A Stanford university coed was finding it hard to make the 12:30 a.m. curfew on weekends. But she finally thought of a lock-out-get-arounder to stop all lock-out-get-arounders.

Her room was far from the front door and on the second floor. So when she returned, her roommate tossed down her night clothes and one slipper. The girl made a quick change and sent her clothes back on a rope. Then she mused her hair and draped herself over a bush just below her window.

At this point, the roommate screamed and the house mother came running. The coed was carried gently through the unlocked door to her room. However, she managed to recover sufficiently from her fall for a date the next night.

Marlo Oltman Takes Tour For Peace In BVS Work

Marlo Oltman, who was a MacCollege student last year, has recently been on a Peace Tour in England. The tour is a cooperative venture between the Mennonites, Friends, and the Church of the Brethren. Young people from each of these denominations are participating in the tour.

Marlo entered the BVS program last summer. After completion of his training, he travelled to Germany on a cattle boat. While in Germany he worked for a while at Kassel and attended the European Annual Conference of the Church of the Brethren. Later he was assigned to work at Kingsley Hall in London, England.

Kingsley Hall is a Settlement House which was founded by Marlo Lester. At the Hall Marlo directs a Boys' Club, cares for janitor work, assists with other activities, and makes calls in the slum homes. He was released from these duties to participate in the tour.

On the tour Marlo travelled with four Brethren and two Mennonites in a Ford 6 Ranch Wagon. He was a member of a mixed quartet which was organized by the group. He reported that the English people were quite ignorant of the churches in the group, but that they seemed to be very interested.

The tour started with visits to different historical spots in London. The group visited St. Paul's Cathedral, Westminster Abbey, the Great Hall, part of Westminster Palace, the Houses of Parliament, and the Friends' International Center. From London, the group went

Bittinger Speaks At Colorado Springs

President D. W. Bittinger was the main speaker at the dedication of the Church of the Brethren at Colorado Springs, Colorado, on Sunday, March 28.

Present at the dedication were representatives from each of the churches of the Colorado District with the exception of the Fruit and Grand Junction churches.

Dr. Bittinger spoke at the morning church service and at the dedication service which followed a basket dinner in the church social room.

An offering of about $1,000 was taken at the service.

to Cambridge, about which Marlo wrote: "That was a tremendously fascinating place. Their college system is different. The colleges are a group within the University but still maintain their independency. We only had time to see a few of the colleges—Kings, St. Johns, Trinity, and Queens."

"Carl Kime and I had the rare privilege of staying in Jesus College. They had a suite of rooms instead of one room for a couple of guys like our dormitories. College life seems to be a little more intellectual as far as the social life is concerned. Usually each undergraduate has a kitchen and a room to entertain in. It was out of term while we were there, but we visited with a young music student who was there. He had a piano right in his parlor."

"Each college has a huge chapel and a big dining hall. You can find all types of architecture. Cambridge is really a college town. They minister about fifteen men's colleges and two women's. The University grants the degrees, but one is an under-graduate of a particular college."

The group also visited Ely Cathedral; Sherwood Forest; York; the Minster Cathedral; "The Beacon," a famous mental hospital which was founded by the Quakers; and the Lake District.

Other Brethren people on the tour were: Ruth Halliday, Mrs. Halliday, Doris Walbridge, Carl Kime, Don Miller, and Jake Dick. The Mennonite group included six fellows who have been working in France, Holland, and Germany.

Dells Are Grandparents For The Second Time

Congratulations are in order for Professor and Mrs. S. M. Dell. They have a new granddaughter.

The parents of the new seven pound, Vicky Lin, are Mary Jo (Dell) and Melvin Christy. Both of whom are graduates of MacCollege.

Vicky is home from the hospital now, and she is doing fine, according to the grandparents.

Professor Dell teaches Industrial Arts Education and Mrs. Dell is secretary to the President and Dean of McPherson College.

They have one other grandchild, Bobby Lee, who is the son of their daughter Leona and Ernest Ikenberry.

NAIA Grid Statistics Feature Bulldogs In Top Spot In Team Offense

By James Craig

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics has just released the official football statistics for 1953, and for the second straight year, the McPherson College Bulldogs have captured first place in total team offense among the small colleges of the nation.

Although the football season is still a few months away, yet figures always interest coaches, players, and fans; and after the furore that was made on the McPherson College Bulldogs by several sports writers and some coaches during the past season, the NAIA statistics could not have been released at a more opportune time.

McPherson College Bulldogs coach, Sid Smith, in particular has been attacked on all sides by some coaches who made certain sports writers their mouthpieces. The Bulldogs have been discredited for their performance during the past season. If figures mean anything, it is about time for these coaches, as well as their sports-writer-mouthpieces, to realize that reliable figures do not lie.

If all else is forgotten, one fact should at least be made clear to the Bulldogs' critics. The Bulldogs have played more games than any other team in the Kansas Conference; and if averages hurt in the number of games played, the Bulldogs have gone on to prove that despite those handicaps, that averages cannot hurt an efficient outfit as theirs.

Presbie coach, Wayne McConnell, in particular, has made boasts and claims through his mouthpiece sports writers of the "Salina Journal," the "Emporia Gazette," and the "Wichita Beacon," that his Presbies are the best team in the Kansas Conference and has advanced figures through these mouthpieces to support his claim. The Presbie squad during the past season, was beyond doubt, a great and powerful outfit, but now that the NAIA statistics have been officially compiled and released, probably Coach McConnell would be obliged to eat his own words.

It is true that the McPherson College Bulldogs did not win the Kansas Conference championships, but undoubtedly every faithful fan, Presbie or otherwise, could not have helped but accept the fact that the Presbies were just lucky to get by on "that night" because of certain unfortunate things which happened; and through which the Bulldogs accepted defeat as nobly, and as gallantly as any sportsman would. The Presbies should have been content with their luck for the day rather than make unwarranted and unjustifiable claims.

According to the Presbies mentor, the Presbies were tops in every phase of gridiron trade, and it is not for the "Spectator" to make any issue on points like these, but students as well as fans want to know the facts, and if facts mean figures, here is what the NAIA has to say about them.

McPherson College Bulldogs placed first in total team offense with a total gain of 3383 yards in nine games for an average of 466 yards per game, and scored a total of 378 points in the nine games played.

Next to McPherson is Northern State College, the College of Emporia, Alfred University, and William Jewell in that order.

McPherson's Dwight McSpadden was the nation's top individual scorer (NAIA) with 109 points in nine games.

Following Dwight were Lem Harkey of College of Emporia in second place with 103 points in eight games, then Jim Gretchman of Northern State, then Carl State Polytech's, Perry Jeter, and Washburn's Bill Baker.

Iowa State Teachers' Ralph Capiani was NAIA's highest in individual total offense with a total of

Ravens Pick Blickenstaff On All-Opponent Team

While Tommy "Digger" O'Dell, 5 ft. 8 in., pint sized Bulldog power-house was picked by Coaches of the Kansas Conference as one of the All-Conference team; the St. Benedict's Ravens, national intercollegiate champions of 1954, have selected Wayne Blickenstaff on the first team of an All-Opponent team on which ten different schools are represented by a single selection each.

Three members of the first five are athletes competed against by the Ravens in the N.A.I.A., tournament held at Kansas City three weeks ago. Blickenstaff is one of the two players selected among players in the Kansas Conference circuit.

The Ravens' choice for the first All-Opponent team are:
Chuck Hopkins, Pasadena College.
Bob Brehm, Washburn University.
E. C. O'Neal, Arkansas Tech. State.

Lupe Rios, Western Illinois State.
Wayne Blickenstaff, McPherson College.

On the second team of the All-Opponents are:
Marv Andrews, Fort Hays State.
Bob Cannady, St. Ambrose.
Bobby Hodges, East Carolina State.

Bruce Palmer, Pittsburg State.
Gary Carse, Kansas Wesleyan University.

1755 yards for an average of 195 yards per game in nine games. He was followed by North Dakota's Frank Esposito, College of Emporia's Lem Harkey, Baldwin Wallace's Dick Miller, and St. Ambrose's Jack Abbott.

Coach Wayne McConnell's high sounding claims and apparent insinuations at being a top-notch coach (which he probably is!) were only justified in two departments at which his Presbies outclassed the Bulldogs in that his Lem Harkey was the top individual rushing leader, and his Presbie squad was second in total team rushing, while the Bulldogs were ranked third.

Those are the facts, and if further claims are to be made, one will just have to wait until the next season. Then the Presbies might possibly be justified to make what claims they want to make, but as far as the past season is concerned, the Bulldogs have it.

Next year, the picture might be a little bit different, the field will be open for the Presbies with their players such as: Lem Harkey, Eldo Cline, Bill Dannenhauer, Tony Snider, and Ron Ebberts, because the Bulldogs will be losing such players as: Dwight McSpadden, Gene Smith, Eddie Ball, Wayne Blickenstaff, George Keim, and a host of others, but even then time alone can tell.

Conquest brings self-conceit and intolerance, the reckless inflation and dissipation of energies. Defeat brings prudence and concentration; it ennobles and fortifies.

Double Enrollment Foreseen For 1970 In Nation's Colleges

Colleges should prepare for twice as many students in 1970, educators at the National Conference on Higher Education were told.

The population increase in the 1940's and 1950's makes this inevitable, educators from more than 400 colleges and universities attending the conference in Chicago heard stressed.

The enrollment may jump from the current 2 1/2 million to 5 1/2 million, according to Francis H. Horn, president of Pratt Institute of Brooklyn; N. Y. J. F. Wellemeyer, Jr., of the staff of the American Council of Learned Societies, estimated the 1970 enrollment at 4 1/2 million.

These figures anticipate that a higher percentage of the college age population will enroll each year and that they will stay in school longer because there is a growing demand for persons with professional and other postgraduate degrees. Moreover, a higher percentage of women are attending college all the time.

Coppock Measures Girls In Working For Her Masters

What causes round shoulders? Miss Doris Coppock, Director of Physical Education for Women, may be able to answer that question very soon. At the present time she is working on her thesis for a Master's Degree in Physical Education. The title of Doris' thesis is "Factors Related to Round Shoulders."

During the past week Miss Coppock has been measuring her two classes of 26 girls. She is running a series of measuring tests, some of which require seventeen different measurements on each person. Her main emphasis has been on chest muscles and shoulder girdle measurement.

Miss Coppock is using the Pearson product moment method of correlation for her computations. This consists of using a scattergram to find the product of the tests. The scattergram or graph is not complete at the present time, but Miss Coppock hopes to have her reliability results by next week.

Authorities in this field say that round shoulders are caused by weak extensor muscles of the back and short or tight pectoral muscles of the chest. The validity of the pectoral muscles as a cause of round shoulders has never been proved.

Miss Coppock has stated that if her tests prove that short pectorals cause round shoulders the treatment for round shoulders will include exercises to lengthen and stretch these muscles. If her experiment shows otherwise, exercise for round shoulders will be concentrated only on the extensor muscles of the back.

Next Monday and Tuesday Miss Coppock will attend a conference for the National Association of College Women at Iowa State College.

She plans to have a conference about her thesis with Dr. Margaret G. Fox, her advisor. Miss Coppock hopes to receive her master's degree in August after her paper is complete and she has taken a comprehensive test.

Quaker Netmen Win Over Bulldogs In Tennis Match

Friends University "Fighting Quaker" netmen battled it out and scored a victory over the McPherson College Bulldogs netmen in a tennis match played here last Tuesday afternoon.

A total of seven games were played which included five singles games and two doubles. The Quakers won three of the singles and one of the doubles, while the Bulldogs scored victories in two singles and one double.

The game was played in a 32 degree weather, and several who went to watch the match had to remain in the cars to get out of the cold, while the teams sweat it out despite the chilly conditions.

In the singles games, Vinaya Likhite won over Bob Mills 6-2, 6-0; while Eddie Wolf trumped Don Arnold 6-3, 2-6, 6-3 to give the Bulldogs their wins in the singles.

In other singles played in which the Friends won, Kenneth Polenz beat George Eisele 4-6, 11-9, 8-6; Roy Wood defeated Dick Wickert 6-4, 6-8, 6-3; and Richard Kaska trumped Doyle Smith 1-6, 7-5, 6-4.

Both clubs won a game apiece at the doubles, and came out even. Vinaya Likhite and George Eisele trimmed Bob Mills and Thorna Mills 6-0, 6-1, while on the Bulldogs deficit side, Dick Wickert and Eddie Wolf lost to the Friends' Roy Wood and Kenneth Polenz 2-6, 4-6.

Dr. Kenneth Bechiel, Bulldog squad team manager and assistant coach, remarked that the team is coming along pretty fine judging from the fact that all but Vinaya are new on the Bulldog squad, and with more games, the Bulldogs will have the experience they lack, and should be able to win more games.

This is the first inter-collegiate match the Bulldog netmen have played this year. A match which was scheduled for last Friday, March 26 against the Bethany College Swedes was not played due to several matches have been scheduled for the Bulldog netmen, and this schedule will be announced next week.

Bulldogs Romp Away With Victory In Week-End Triangular Track Meet

Sid Smith's McPherson College trackmen romped away with a tremendous victory over the Bethany College Swedes and the Friends University Fighting Quakers in the triangular track meet held at the college athletic field last Friday afternoon. The track meet was the season's opener for the three colleges.

Home Ec Girls Attend State KHECC Convention

It was an early morning hour when a group of Home Economics Club members: Bertha Landis, Mariann Johnson, Carolyn Krobbeil, Ruth Davidson, Eleanor Hamm, and Margaret Yost, left Dotzour Hall last Friday to attend the state Home Economics Club Convention at Topeka.

Following registration and breakfast at the Purple Cow, the group listened to a report of the fall workshop.

Padmini Rameshdhan, AHEA International Scholarship student from India now attending Kansas University, spoke concerning her travel to America and the schools in her country. She explained that modern here in America has a different meaning than it does in India. In that country they use neither gas nor electricity.

One of the highlights of the convention speeches was the one pertaining to fashions. The girls were informed that Florence, Rome, and Ireland are coming up in the world of fashion. These places are having their say in what the rest of the world wears.

Tours were taken to various places of interest in Topeka during the afternoon. These included, Hollywood-Maxwell Garment Factory, Alexander Brothers' Bakery, Penant Cafeteria and Hallmark Greeting Cards.

A bus tour of Topeka was also enjoyed. The girls exclaimed enthusiastically while touring the section of 25-100 thousand dollar homes, but decided that was not exactly their neighborhood.

There are two things to aim at in life: first, to get what you want; and, after that, to enjoy it. Only the wisest of mankind achieve the second.
