

Boosters To View Gondolas, Redwoods At Annual Banquet

College supporters will attend the 25th annual Booster Banquet to be held in the gymnasium of the Community Building on March 25, from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. Julian Gromer, world traveler, photographer, and lecturer from Elgin, Ill., will present his second film to be shown to Macollege Boosters.

"Jewels of the Pacific," the title of this movie-lecture, features glass bottom gondolas, the Redwoods of California, San Francisco sights, sea lions at play, spawning Salmon, spouting whales, mountains, icebergs, and is described as "packed with thrills, human interest, and humor."

Mr. Gromer is one of the two honorary members of the Chicago Cinema Club, and has recently won the award for producing the best commercial film of the year, his "Keys to Adventure."

"Columbia River Adventure" was well received by the 1952 audience of Boosters, according to some who attended. "The African Prince," another film made by Gromer, has been shown to many Church of the Brethren audiences.

President of the McPherson Chamber of Commerce, Merwin Haggood, will be toastmaster for the Booster Banquet. President of the Ministerial Alliance, Rev. Ralph Hand, will deliver the invocation; a report and thank you will be given by D. W. Bittinger, college president, and special music for the program will be furnished by the Macollege Male Quintet.

Each year for two and one half decades, the Banquet for College Boosters has been sponsored jointly by the McPherson Chamber of Commerce and the Public Relations Department of the College. Around a thousand letters have gone out in invitation to the Banquet, as announced by Mrs. S. M. Dell, secretary to the Dean and President. Chairman of the drive to sell tickets in the city of McPherson is Mr. Leland Lindell.

$10 is the price for the first ticket purchased, and additional tickets sell for $2. Students may obtain tickets only in payment on a pledge made to the college.

Chairman of the arrangements for the Buffet Dinner is Mrs. Raymond Flory.

Total darkness and weird organ music will introduce the play, "They Came to a City," to be presented at the Church of the Brethren on Sunday evening, March 20, at 7:30.

The play by J. B. Priestly, a contemporary writer, centers about nine people who find themselves outside a city which they do not know. Neither do they know how they came to the place. The time is anytime.

Miss Betty Lou Hershberger, youth worker of the Western Region, is the director of the play.

Miss Doris Coppock, director of girls' physical education, and Bob Wise, Macollege junior, play the roles of Alice Foster and Joe Dimmore, who see the real meaning of the city and try to interpret it to the world.

Betty Moore, senior English major, plays the part of Philippa Loxfield, the daughter of Lady Loxfield, a snobby aristocrat portrayed by Mrs. Merlyn Franz.

Mrs. Max McAuley plays the part of Dorothy Stritton. The role of her hen-pecked husband is filled by Kenneth Brown.

A golfing gentleman of prestige will be portrayed by Ed Frantz, senior student body president, who will wear nickers for this play.

The part of a Cockney cleaning woman by the name of Mrs. Batley is played by Miss Della Lehman.

Winston Beam, a member of the college church, will act the part of Mr. Cudworth a shrewd businessman.

Mrs. Lloyd Larsen will furnish music on the organ.

George Keim and Dave Hershberger will do the work of the stage men.

The lighting will be operated by Ted Vance and Billy Joe Hildreth.

I hereby agree to accept this nomination. Signed: (signature of the candidate)"

Mac Tops Debate League

McPherson took top honors in the tournament of the Kansas Intercollegiate Debating League, held at Southwestern College, Winfield, on Saturday, March 12.

McPherson Men No. 1, Donald Faules and Donald Ulfom, won three of their four debates. Team No. 2, Bob Burgo, and Eugene Elrod, won two of four, making a school total of five debates and first place in the league.

Southwestern No. 1 with three victories and Southwestern No. 2 with one victory totaled four wins, which gave them a tie for second place in the League with Washburn's one undefeated team in four rounds.

The one Hays team garnered three victories. Pittsburg's one team won two out of four. Wichita University with two teams totaled one victory and tied for last place with Sterling's one team and one victory.

In the women's bracket, Pittsburg's one undefeated team and four victories took first place. Southwestern with two teams totaled second position with a total of three victories. Bethel and Hays with one team each tied for third place and two victories out of four debates. Sterling's one team had one victory.

In Men's Peace Oratory, first place and $7.50 went to Horton Fleming of Bethel. Ronald Kibler of Washburn won second and $5. Third place went to Charles Fulcher of Southwestern and fourth to Donald Ulfom of McPherson.

In Women's Oratory, Shirley Krug of Hays took first and $7.50. An auto accident and a broken collarbone prevented Anne Keim of McPherson from competing.

In Men's Peace Extempore a tie in rankings was broken by per cents, with first and $7.50 going to Gene Lowry of Southwestern, a graduate of McPherson High School, and second and $5 to Cliff Krause of Washburn. The remaining five speakers, including Donald Faules of McPherson, were in an unusual five-way tie of rankings, which was resolved by sums of reciprocals and percents.

In Women's Extempore, first and $7.50 went to Janet Noel of Wichita University; second and $5 to Joann Robinson of Southwestern. Mary Lou Wise of McPherson did not enter.

Hayes, Dell Lead In Ag Organization

Professor Guy Hayes was elected as a member of the Board of Trustees at a meeting of nineteen denominational and non-land grant colleges. The meeting was held in Warrensburg, Mo., March 11 and 12. At this meeting a national organization was formulated.

The new organization is to be called The National Association of College Teachers of Agriculture. Prof. Hayes also attended this meeting and was on a committee which discussed the Program and Purpose of agricultural departments.

The most immediate duty of the Trustees of which Guy Hayes is a member is to meet at Cape Girardeau, Mo., in May to draw up by-laws and complete the necessary details of the program. The second annual meeting of the NACTA will be held in 1956 in Warrensburg.

The present chairman of the Student Court, Norram Blough is secretary-treasurer.

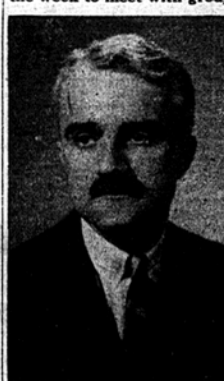

The Chairman must be a senior who has had at least one year of experience on the Court. The Student Court elects the Chairman and the Secretary-Treasurer from the members who have been elected to the Court by the Student Body.

The number of class representatives allowed to the Court are 3 seniors, 4 juniors, and 3 sophomores. There is one faculty representative.

The classes must nominate at least two more than the allotted representation. Any other person who desires to serve on the Court may submit a petition with signatures of 50 regularly enrolled students to the election committee. At least one man and one woman must be elected by each class.

Nelson To Direct Christian Emphasis

Dr. John Oliver Nelson, Professor of Christian Vocation at Yale University Divinity School, is to be the guest leader for the annual Christian Emphasis Week to be held on Macampus, March 27-30, according to director of religious life, Prof. Dick Wareham. His B.D. degree was from the University of Edinburgh in Scotland and McCormick Seminary in Chicago, followed by a Yale Ph. D. in Philosophy of Religion, and later a Litt. D. from Westminster College in Pennsylvania.

Dr. Nelson served as a pastor for five years and has led hundreds of conferences and gatherings dealing with the religious approach to vocation.

Dr. Nelson will be speaking in church on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings and at chapel here at Macollege on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Dr. Nelson will also speak at Sunday morning worship.

Christian Emphasis Week is an annual occasion which comes every spring here at Macollege. It is usually the big religious event of the campus each year.

Classes Dismiss For Memorial Of Mrs. Vaniman

Mrs. Mary Catherine Vaniman, 88, long-time resident of McPherson and a strong supporter of McPherson College, died at 12:25 a.m. Monday morning at the McPherson Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Vaniman moved to McPherson in 1890 so that Mr. Vaniman could attend McPherson College which had been opened in 1888. Since that time, the interests of the Vaniman family have been tied closely to McPherson College.

Mr. Vaniman died on Dec. 24, 1949.

Classes during the second period on Wednesday afternoon were dismissed for the memorial service which was held at the First Church of the Brethren with the Rev. Harry K. Zeller Jr. and Dr. Burton Mettler in charge.

Mrs. Vaniman had been in failing health for several years and had been critically ill one week. Mrs. Rowena Sargent, McPherson; Mrs. Elberta Reed, Wichita; Mrs. Grace Ingalls, Alhambra, Calif.; and Mrs. Viola Nevins, San Dimas, Calif., are four surviving children.

Peggy Sargent, '53, who is serving under the Brethren Volunteer Service program in Germany, is a granddaughter of Mrs. Vaniman. Ten grandchildren, four great grandchildren, and one brother, Daniel Kuns, Enid, Okla., survive. Mrs. Vaniman was born on June 1, 1866, at Cerro Gordo, Ill., and was married on Feb. 13, 1887, at Cerro Gordo to Francis A. Vaniman. The Vanimans homesteaded in Scott County Kansas after their marriage before they came to McPherson.

McPherson College Ladies' Trio composed of Jo Eva Reinecker, Mariene Fargnace and Alma Goodfellow sang at the memorial service. Their numbers were "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" and "Green Pastures." Mrs. Lloyd Larsen was organist.

Pallbearers were Bort Webb, Homer Fargnace, William Lovett, Ernest Wall, Wilbur Yoder, and Everett Brighton.

Dr. J. F. Sifer and Gordon Yoder were the ushers. Interment was in the mausoleum in McPherson Cemetery.

General Electric Sends Clarification Of Synthetic Diamond Discussions

Answers have been sent to the McPherson Daily Republican, from the General Electric Company. They do not claim to have manufactured the first man-made diamonds, but said that the news agencies had made the claim in their reports of the G-E diamond-making process.

Protests were sent to The General Electric Company following a G-E television program which claimed the first man-made diamond. The largest synthetic diamond made by G-E was one-sixteenth of an inch long. This is similar in size to the largest one made by Dr. J. Willard Hershey while he was teaching at McPherson College.

The diamond is displayed in the museum here.

The McPherson Daily Republican, McPherson Chamber of Commerce, and other local interests wrote to The General Electric Company protesting their claim. On Feb. 24, the Kansas House of Representatives adopted a resolution of protest and sent a copy to the G-E research laboratory in Schenectady.

Miles J. Martin, manager of the G-E research information service, wrote in a letter to the McPherson Daily Republican, "We appreciate your concern in behalf of a citizen of your state, and we assure you that we have no desire to detract from whatever credit may be justly due to other workers in this field."

"To set the record straight, I am sending you a kit of the material that we furnished to the representatives of the press, radio, TV, and other media for distribution of public information. Also enclosed are transcripts of the speeches that were made on that occasion by the members of our technical staff directly concerned with this achievement."

"Upon examining this material carefully, I believe you will find

CBYF To Continue

Brethren History Talks

CBYF for Sunday, March 20, will be a continuation of Brethren history. Last Sunday's attendees heard the church's history from before the break with the state church. Next, the discussion will begin with Alexander Mack within the Church of the Brethren.

Committee members for this unit of study on church history are Lyall Sherard, chairman; Vera Mohler, Ruth Kaufman, and Dwight Olman.

A free will offering is taken each Sunday evening toward the project of supporting the "Carpenters of the Yoke" project which has been started in this region for student summer work opportunities.

CBYF will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the church basement.

that nowhere has the Research Laboratory claimed that it was the first to make diamonds. Nor have we attempted to evaluate the claims of others. We have merely summarized the conclusions of leading scientists who have reviewed these claims."

Enclosed was a pamphlet entitled "Man-Made Diamonds." The pamphlet explained the process G-E used in making their diamonds. The history of diamonds and pictures of the equipment used was also included.

Sociology Class Spends Four Days In Chicago

Members of Dr. Kenneth C. Bechtel's Urban Sociology class are in Chicago today studying the interest areas of the "windy city."

Three carloads of students left Wednesday evening and plan to return to the campus early Monday morning in time for classes.

Donna Ford, senior education major, who lived in Chicago during part of her childhood, was given permission on Tuesday to go with the group.

Dale DeLauter, junior from Bridgewater, Va., will visit either tonight or tomorrow night with his parents in Elgin, Ill., where his father is attending the General Brotherhood Board meeting.

The class has arranged an interview with the Chamber of Commerce in addition to the activities reported last week.

"Stage Door"

Arena Stage Creates New Drama Concept

Since "Stage Door", which is to be given in matinee performances April 14, 15, and 16, is to be presented in a "theater in the round", many new problems are facing the college players for the first time.

An arena stage presents an entirely new concept of acting. Since the audience should feel that it is sitting among the players, much of the action takes place before the characters reach the stage. Una Yoder, director, has re-written many of the lines.

Since they cannot use a "stairway" the players go "in" and "out" instead of "up" or "down," "down the hall" instead of "up stairs." Some of the stage furnishings must be especially constructed since all furniture must be low, never obstructing the view from any side.

The acting must be realistic, for little or no illusion can be created with make-up because of the proximity of the audience.

The actors are getting used to facing all directions instead of "front." They must "manage round", with no one way for any length of time but must never give the effect of revolving, states Mrs. Yoder.

Members of the cast range from Alpha Psi Omega members to inexperienced freshmen, but Mrs. Yoder reports that the whole cast is exceptionally talented and that all are enthusiastic about this challenging new way of production.

This is the first time a play has been produced in McPherson in "pent-house" style—so-called because the first-plays put on with the audience surrounding the stage were produced a few years ago in a pent-house in New York.

The SUR is well-adapted to this kind of production, because the audience is not "sitting in a sense of intimacy."

Projects Provide Summer Service

By Ed Crill, National Youth Director

The language of the shovel, the saw and the paint brush speaks more effectively than a thousand words that roll easily from the lips of professionals.

Communities are so used to the professional pattern of the preacher, teacher, lawyer and government official telling them what to do that it is difficult for them to comprehend a group who says "put us to work." Not only do the unit members learn a new medium of exchange (work), but the community itself learns new power—"doing things for itself."

College students need to step out of their ivory towers of learning into real life situations and test their theories of learning. Most college students leave their campuses for the summer with two thoughts in mind—have a good time and earn some cash for next year.

If it's a good time you seek let me say that a work camp or a summer project (in a very different way) will give it to you a hundred fold.

If it's "cash" you seek be careful that you are not wearing your myopic specs instead of your hyper-tropic lenses. Life is not measured by the dollars and cents earned in one summer or even a year.

Young people who have been insight into their future usually find ways to accomplish the things they want most whether it be a new convertible, a trip around the world or a summer in a work camp.

Someone has said that "self and society" are twin-born. That is true for a summer of service. An individual will not grow if the group life is ineffective; and the group life will be ineffective if the individual is not growing. The moral to the story, "be careful buddy who you find for your buddy, so your summer buddy will be the right buddy for you."

In case you are interested the Brethren Service Commission and the Youth Department have a number of suggestions for you, work camps, hospital service, Abundant Life Caravans, etc.

A postal card or a few steps to your regional office in Sharp Hall can get you this information.

Menninger Clinic Man Interviews Men Students

Four Macollege men students were interviewed by Mr. Basil Cole, from the Menninger Clinic at Topeka on Wednesday. Those interviewed were Norman Long, Wendell Lentz, Max Farney, and Joe Johns.

Mr. Cole told of the positions available at the clinic for I-W men. Psychiatric aides are needed beginning in June 27. I-W men are now employed at the clinic in various positions. Work consists mainly of being with mental patients on a basis of observation, which is part of the "milieu treatment" of the Menninger Foundation.

The students interviewed are planning to visit the clinic to view the actual processes of the positions. Others interested in psychology should see the persons named if they wish to visit the Foundation. The trip is planned before Easter vacation.

University Service Aids Needy Korean Students

More than 2,900 students at colleges in Seoul, Korea, are in severe need, according to university authorities in that city.

Writing from Seoul, Dr. L. George Paik, Chairman of World University Service in Korea, reported on recent accomplishments in the WUS program to meet student need.

1,000 food packages, made available under a program of the United States Foreign Operations Administration, are being distributed by Seoul university authorities to needy students who must cook their own meals in rented quarters.

A special effort is also being made to cover colleges where there are no branches of the four WUS sponsors in Korea—the Student YMCA, YWCA, Christian Students' Federation, and the Catholic Student Organization—according to Dr. Paik. Ten of these colleges, including Donggook University and other nonsectarian schools supported by the government and other organizations, will receive 76 CARE food packages set by WUS.

The WUS scholarship program, supported with funds contributed by WUS by foundations in the United States, will benefit students at 78 colleges throughout Korea. Dr. Paik reports that the Dean of each of the 78 institutions will recommend the college's best students for a WUS scholarship. Award winners at government colleges will receive 15,000 hwan; at private institutions the award is 20,000 hwan.

In addition, UNESCO Gift Coupons providing needed educational equipment are being distributed to Kyungbuk University in Taegu and to the Teachers College in Kongju, Korea, according to Dr. Paik, who cited the efforts of WUS to work in other areas as well as Seoul.

Gift Coupons designated to meet student health needs are being used for a health center in conjunction with the Severance Hospital.

Dr. Paik, who is President of Chosen Christian University in Seoul, also reported in his letter of January 18 on the successful beginnings made by the new WUS hostel in Seoul. In addition to the cost of purchase and repairs, $1,000 has been provided by WUS for the operation of the hostel which accommodates 60 homeless students. An additional allocation to cover the full costs of a year's maintenance may be required.

Observing that the Seoul hostel has set a pattern for other student accommodations which WUS in Korea hopes to provide, Dr. Paik wrote, "I sincerely hope that our fellow college students in America will have a feeling of satisfaction in knowing that at least a few of our students are finding shelter and board at a cheap price in this war-torn country."

WUS continues to seek funds from foundations in the United States and from American college and university students to carry on the half-million dollar program begun by WUS in Korea immediately after the war.

Take Your Choice . . . 8th Or 9th Week?

By Irene Shull

On those rare occasions when discussion takes a scholarly turn, the recent trend at intervals has been, "When are 9 weeks?" By that one does not mean any worldly event which might take place, but an eclipse of the moon, but those mid-term tests which plague a college student.

Students are occupied enough with daily work which requires untangling that they often leave decision concerning the nine weeks to their instructors.

Announcement of the "big celebration" whether it comes on the eighth or ninth week according to one's calendar, brings forth wrinkled brows and expressions of despair. That's natural.

Some faculty members scheduled their nine weeks the past week, others have the testing period in next week. In order not to be outdone, some profs give unit tests one week followed with an inclusive nine-week exam a week later. That is just to keep everyone happy.

No matter how much students and instructors discuss the numbering of the weeks, final word comes from the Dean's Office, the decree being that the nine weeks is over March 25. The Central Office requests the grade not later than March 29.

Whether one likes it or not, there are nine-week tests even if some are eight weeks.

Old Newspaper Provides Unique Desperado Story

Newspapers on file provide data for those interested in the past. Often newspapers find it entertaining to their readers to print select items from "the big stories" five or ten years back.

Not having a file of our own on present students on campus, interest was found in this item, which first appeared March 8, 1950. The Haxton, Colo., community was alerted one evening when the report came through that two armed and masked men were seen about a mile from town. Local police authorities and the state patrolmen were alerted and the hunt went on until midnight.

The big news broke the next morning, the two desperadoes turned out to be two local boys, "Mugs" Faules and his companion, who were armed with 22 rifles and their stocking caps pulled low on their heads against the cold, were enjoying a country stroll.

"Mugs" Faules is none other than our respected campus editor, Don Faules, a junior at McPherson College.

Ponder With The President

Many centuries ago along the Tigris and Euphrates rivers somewhere, there developed a great civilization and in the center of it, there lived a young man by the name of Abram.

Abram was living with his father and learning the profession of his father. It was a good profession as far as economic remuneration went. It was a good one also from the religious and social points of view.

Abram and his father were making a message from the God whose name always be a demand for these, and they were benefitting their people as best they knew how by making these religious symbols. They had many servants working for them. In addition to this, they owned a lot of land and had a lot of cattle.

Abram also was married to a very beautiful wife.

Consequently, it would seem that Abram had everything his heart could desire, a good wife, a good job, financial security, permanence.

Then one day Abram received a message from the God whose images he had been trying to make. This message was very startling. Abram could not believe it was from God at first.

The message simply said, "Abram, get out of this country."

I suppose Abram asked questions of God which ran along this line, "Why should I leave this good profession?" "Am I not in a very central work?" "Why should I leave my farms which we have developed over many years?"

But the command of God was, "Get out. I want to make a great nation out of you."

If Abram had not gone, he would have continued to be just a maker of idols in a good land.

He obeyed God and got out and became the father of Israel, the forerunner of a great nation, the founder of a great religion. From him has stemmed three religions, Hebrewism, Mohammedism, and Christianity.

God wanted him to get out of his complacency and self-satisfaction so that he could be made bigger.

God may want us to get out of our complacencies so that He can make us bigger. One of the commands he may be giving to us is to "get out."

The time is coming for summer Christian Service. Some of us will want to get out in that order that we might develop. Some are graduating from college. They will want to get out into important and significant Christian work.

Sometimes we try to get out too soon. We try to go before we are ready. If we do this we may lack effectiveness, become discouraged, and give up.

In general it is better to get ready. A college education is almost an essential for that in these days.

But when the call comes, "Get out! I need you!" let us be ready to go wherever He leads.

Too Far?

Destruction of biology final examination papers was given as a motive for a $2,000 loss due to fire at New York University. In addition to the examination papers, almost all of the professor's research and graduate notes were completely burned. These notes, including his lecture notes, represented an accumulation of many years' work, the Heights Daily News reported.

The plant department superintendent said that while the arsonists have not been found, it is generally believed that they were students. "This view is further substantiated," the Daily News says, "by the fact that nothing was stolen, since a typewriter and other items of value remained unburnt after the fire."

The professor said that most of the students in his Comparative Anatomy course will receive a grade of "P" certifying simply that they have passed. However, he added that a few students will receive a grade of "F."

English Prof To Attend Composition Conference

Miss Sarah May Vancil, associate professor of English, will attend a conference on College Composition and Communication which is to be held in Chicago, Ill., on March 24-26. The meeting will be held in the Morrison Hotel.

The program deals mainly with freshman composition and communication. General sessions, panel discussions, and workshops are included.

Mrs. Harriette Whiteman, from Central College, will accompany Miss Vancil.

Engagements Burst During School Year

Last year's academic months were noted for the many engagements which took place on Macomber. How have students done this year? some ask.

The average of 1 per week has not quite been kept up, but it has come close. Twenty engagements have been featured so far out of twenty-six weeks of school.

The first of the year was announced at the faculty reception in September, that of Ida Zunkel to Ross Silinette. Their wedding day will be May 1.

October featured the engagement of Lola Silinette to Dale DeLaurier, announced following the homecoming banquet. They plan to be married in August.

Also in October was the engagement of Shirley McDanel to Rodney Willoughby. The two were married in December.

November took a rest, December really came through.

At the annual Christmas formal, Earlene Mullen and Phil Bradley revealed their secret to Macollege students.

Immediately following Christmas vacation the campus buzzed with excitement. Anita McSpadden had received her diamond from Bob Wise.

Galen Bretches and Norma Jean Johnson announced their March 6 wedding date.

Other students who announced engagements to persons not enrolled in Macollege were Earl Guist, Mary Ann Eckman, Wayne Price, Robertine Haney, Rowena Finckh, Dale Correll, and Jack Borch.

The day students returned to campus from the vacation was "it" for Rita Ellen Royer and Galen Slifer, whose wedding will be on May 7.

On the evening of the faculty formal in February, Kathy Hamm and George Eisele went their secret way, while they placed under pieces of cake, and Evelyn Williams and Max Parnley used an imaginary phone call in the program as their technique.

Also in February was Martha Switzer's engagement to Ernie Hurst.

March is only half over, but already it has featured three, those of Marilyn Krebbel to Dean Ollenburger, Liz Keim to Bob Nelson, and today's big news—Lucy Blough to Joe Reeves.

In considering the number of individuals becoming engaged while they are enrolled in school, they surpass the number of weeks.

Twenty-eight enrolled students have become engaged since September 1.

Southwestern Installs New College President

Representatives from over 30 colleges and universities were present when the Rev. Dr. Clarence Orville was installed on March 15, at the Methodist denominational school.

Dr. Harold A. Bosley, minister of the First Methodist Church, Evanston, Ill., gave the installation address on the topic "Identification, Please".

An August wedding is being planned.

Blough-Reeves

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Blough, Nampa, Ida., announce the engagement of their daughter, Lucy, to Joe Reeves, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Reeves, Cleo Springs, Okla.

Both Joe and Lucy are attending McPherson College. Lucy, a sophomore, is majoring in music education, and Joe is a member of the freshman class majoring in mathematics.

No wedding date is set.

Hershaber Shows Art At Faculty Formal Dinner

Prof. Sarah May Vancil served as emcee for the Faculty Formal, which was held in the church parlors on Monday evening, March 14. Following the 6:30 dinner, a program was given by members of the faculty. "My Hero" was sung by Mrs. Merline Frantz.

Prof. E. S. Hershaber, of the college art department, gave an address on the subject, "Why Painters Paint." He used as illustrations for his speech a number of the paintings from the art exhibit which was recently on display in the Deeghly Library.

The unveiling of a painting, "The Square Heads of the Round Table," by its creator, Professor Hershaber, was the humorous event of the evening's program.

This picture depicts the expressions of Dean James Berkoblie, Prof. Raymond Flory, Coach Sid Smith, Dr. O. A. Olson, and Dr. Kenneth Bechtel as they appeared before the students at the all-school formal dinner in February.

Dr. Desmond Bittinger called during the dinner to extend his best wishes for a successful Faculty Formal.

Fifty-eight guests consisting of the faculty and their husbands and wives were served a dinner of fruit cocktail, Swiss steak with brown gravy, buttered corn, frozen green peas, green jello salad, orange chiffon cake with a filling, and coffee.

The Home Economics Department under the direction of Miss Mildred Siek prepared and served the dinner. Ruth Ann Davidson was chairman in charge of the food for the formal. The serving of the dinner was supervised by Kathy Hamm.

Shamrocks and other green decorations were carried out in the St. Patrick's Day theme which was used for decoration by Ellen Williams.

Canine Tales

Excitement, excitement! Does a campus never slow down? Nope, not for a minute!

"Drairie" is the word when the editor must take notes from the efficient society editor and try to have suitable "tales" in the paper!

All is a result of an accident between Hutchinson and Mac last Friday afternoon. Lu Wise, Liz Keim, Bonnie Smith, and Anne Keim were on their way to Hutchinson to see the Boise Junior College boys play in the National Jucio Basketball Tournament there; just outside Medora their car overturned. Anne's broken collarbone was the only serious injury.

As a highlight of the Tournament, Liz Keim chose Wednesday night, March 9, to reveal her engagement to Bob Nelson, a member of the BJC team. Friends discovered when announcements were slipped under doors. On the front was a ring drawn in gold ink with a tiny rhinestone jewel to indicate her solitaire. Inside it said:

"There's a sparkle here which will bring lots of sighs, but it doesn't beat the sparkle that gleams in Bob's and Liz's eyes. They're proud to announce there will be a wedding soon; here's presenting a perfect couple, thanks to love, life, and the moon."

Another couple were doing sneaky things and trying to conceal the glow they felt this week. Today is "it" for Lucy Blough and Joe Reeves. Three leaf clovers were distributed to tell of their engagement.

Joan Ford, Gordon Carlson, and LeRoy Buskirk are rehearsing for "The Messiah," to be given during the Easter season at Lindsborg. Joan is in the orchestral section, and the fellows contribute vocally.

Betty Moore is doing double duty in dramas. She is acting in a role of "They Came to a City," and also has a part in the spring three-act "Stage Door."

Urban Sociology students left at various times on Wednesday to head for Chicago. On the field trip they will see Chicago's business districts, industry, slums, and skid row, with the idea of getting a good cross-sectional of urban life.

Dr. Kenneth Bechtel is the instructor. Rita Ellen Royer and Galen Slifer are traveling to Iowa this weekend. A shower is to be given to-morrow night at Rita's home.

Miss Mildred Siek, Home Ec Instructor, has been wishing for a camera. The expressions of persons such as the intruder who came into the lab rapidly, noticed that a class was in session, and left twice as rapidly, girls handling a rubber doll as if it were a sick infant, those learning cooking as, knife in hand and wrinkle in pose, they tackle the cleaning of a chicken, are too amusing to record in words.

June McDanel and Marian Sifford recently went to Wichita with their boss's wife. Betty Moore and Stan Sargent were shopping in Hutch last weekend.

Mrs. Audrey San Romani is teaching classes again after having been out of circulation with flu. Mabel Jahn is in Bethel Hospital in Newton. She recently underwent surgery there.

Connie Brooks has been receiving mysterious flowers. Several corsages have come her way from an anonymous giver.

Zellers Return, Tell Adventures

Rev. and Mrs. Harry K. Zeller, Jr., returned to McPherson Wednesday, March 9, after being abroad for two months.

While in Europe the Zellers traveled 16,000 miles in eight different countries. Reverend Zeller crossed the iron curtain eight times and changed his money eight times.

While in Europe, Reverend Zeller traveled in England, France, Italy, Switzerland, Holland, Belgium, Germany and Austria.

He was invited by the Bonn government of West Germany to study political, economical, and historical phases of German life. The study also included a study of welfare charities and churches of West Germany. This part of the trip consumed a month.

While Reverend Zeller was doing this work, Mrs. Zeller stayed at Kassel House, the Brethren Center in Germany and had a chance to go out and live with many German families. She felt that she got an insight into German life through this experience, she reports.

The Brethren Service Commission also asked Reverend Zeller to visit all the projects located in Germany and Austria. While doing this the Zellers visited with several former students of Macollege, including Peggy Sargent, Donna Soboy, Esther Mohler, Mario Olman, Ken Shaffer, and Goldon Button. Visiting these projects took two weeks of their time.

Two weeks of their stay in Europe was taken up in sightseeing. The slides which the Zellers showed last Sunday night at the church dealt with their sightseeing part of the trip.

At a later date the Zellers hope to show the rest of their slides on the other phase of their trip to Europe, they state.

that a class was in session, and left twice as rapidly, girls handling a rubber doll as if it were a sick infant, those learning cooking as, knife in hand and wrinkle in pose, they tackle the cleaning of a chicken, are too amusing to record in words.

June McDanel and Marian Sifford recently went to Wichita with their boss's wife. Betty Moore and Stan Sargent were shopping in Hutch last weekend.

To Win Suppers, Girls

SCA box social held Friday in the gym netted $122. The money from this social will go to help college students in foreign countries through World University Service.

Before the auctioning of boxes, the group was entertained by a band made up of students from Fahnstreck Hall. The band included Ken Fancher, drummer; Dwight Oltman and Don Goodfellow, trombonists; Ronnie Miller, pianist; Elway Taylor, clarinetist; Dale Correll, cornetist; and Darius Miller with his guitar.

Bob Barker gave a humorous reading entitled, "One Big Happy Family."

Another entertaining feature was Prof. Paul Solenberger playing his violin. Kansas in the audience got into the act when he played "Home on the Range."

Ken Fancher acted as auctioneer. Most of the boxes prepared by the girls were for two or more couples.

There was a tie for those who bought the highest priced box between Wayne Grossnickle and Vinaya Likhite. Both fellows paid $5 but were refunded $2.50 each.

Bittingers Give International Meal

International students attended a dinner held at the home of President and Mrs. D. W. Bittinger on March 9.

Mrs. Bittinger, Vinaya Likhite, Isaac Grillo, Ana Rosa Rodriguez, Anneliese Koch, and Christa Koch prepared the meal.

Ana Rosa prepared a Puerto Rican dish, tortillas. Vinaya served curry rice, an Indian dish. Isaac prepared African shrimp.

Christa and Anneliese served dessert and a toast called Zwieback. Mrs. Bittinger prepared a tossed salad and light rolls. Korean tea was featured.

Attending in addition to those serving were Dr. Wesley Decontour and family, Wanda Will, Minnie Mae Monk, Elsie Lucore, Lucille Hobson, Darlene Treloar, Mary Romero, Israel Zayas, Ted Kallounis, Don Saunders, Gary Pamborg, and Eugene Lipard.

WAA Plans Spring Sports, Formal Banquet

Sport heads for the rest of the school year were elected at the last WAA meeting, and the number of girls active in each sport was listed.

Each girl must be active in one sport each semester to be a member of WAA.

Rita Evans is the sport head for tennis this season, and Betty Holloway is the softball sport head. Joyce Miller is head of individual sports, and Nancy Ruth Erisman is sport head for outing.

This past period there were 23 girls active in basketball, 17 active in individual sports, and 11 active in outing.

Plans were also made for the Spring Banquet to be held April 30. Liz Swinger is in charge of the banquet.

Committees planning the banquet consist of program committee: Betty Holderred, Pat Schechter, Nancy Erisman, Marilyn Spohn.

Those working on publicity for the banquet are Clara Zunkel, and Charlene Reynolds. Anita McSpadden, Jean Shively, Joyce Miller, Bev Hall, and Betty Holloway are in charge of decorations.

Seeing to the menu will be Kathy Hamn and June McDaniel.

Baseball Time Again

It's good old baseball time again and predictions of glenching the pennants are ones of optimism as the spring weather brings on the baseball fever.

Manager Marty Marion of the Chicago White Sox predicts his team will grab the pennant this year.

The Sox finished third last year lacking 17 games from the top. This was under the management of Paul Richards. It seems Marion is counting on the batting power of Walt Drope and Minnie Minor to be that extra something the club will need.

Drope, a 6 ft. 5 in., 220-pound first baseman hit four homers and knocked in 44 runs for Detroit last year while raising his average to .281. Marion hopes that Drope will regain his rookie from of '50 when he hit 34 homers and drove in 144 runs for Boston.

City Approves Ban Johnson Team

The Chamber of Commerce of McPherson has approved the establishment of a Ban Johnson baseball team in McPherson and has agreed to conduct the season ticket sale.

It has been generally agreed that the ball team should be a joint effort of the entire community. The proposed organization of the ball team calls for a representative from each civic group in McPherson to form a board of directors from which the officers of the team will be selected.

The field manager of the team will have direct charge of building up the team for competition in the western division of the Kansas Ban Johnson Association. He will be the only member of the club that will receive pay for his services.

The organization is to be perfected soon so a field manager can be employed.

McPherson, along with Hutchinson and Salina, a few weeks ago were invited to join the western division of the association. Hutchinson already has accepted the invitation and the proposal is still pending at Salina. Another new member of the western division is Liberal.

Members from last year include Lyons, Great Bend, Larned, Garden City, Dodge City, and Pratt.

Home Ec Clubs Plan Kansas State Convention

McPherson Home Economics Club members are making plans to attend the convention of all the Home Ec Clubs of colleges in Kansas to be held in Hutchinson on March 25-26.

Baker Hotel is designated as the headquarters for the assembly, to open at 9 a.m. on Friday with registration.

On the program for Friday will be a general session, and tour, as announced by Joyce Romeiser, president of Kansas college clubs.

Saturday morning will be a business meeting followed by a luncheon in the Baker Hotel.

Washburn College of Topeka is in charge of registration for the conference and students from Mount St. Scholastica are working on constitution revision recommendations.

The installation of officers ceremony is being planned by the Kansas University Club, and Friends University of Wichita is arranging the tours. The Saturday noon luncheon and program are being planned by the K-State Club; Fort Hays State College students are in charge of the general meetings and election.

McPherson Home Ec Club girls may leave on Friday, and return to McPherson on Friday evening after the last session, to make a return visit on Saturday morning for the meetings then.

4-H Week Brings Memories Of Club Experiences

By Shirley Rhoades and Don Saunders

Summers of working on challenging livestock or home economic projects, loss of patience to the point of tears over the fact that, after all your hard work of trying to set that zipper in just right, you have inserted it upside down, or making yourself fill out your records or practice a demonstration when you would really rather go swimming, these are a few of the joys and sorrows of those on Macampus who have been active in the 4-H Clubs of their communities.

Since the past week has been set aside as 4-H Week, it is fitting that honorable mention should be made of a few of the most notable among us.

Among the energetic 4-H members on Macampus is blonde Eula Mae Murray, of Conway, Kan. In her 10 years of 4-H work, Eula Mae has had 45 projects, ranging from clothing and foods projects to Junior Leadership and Livestock.

Asked what 4-H membership has meant to her, Eula Mae says, "It has helped me in learning parliamentary procedure, making friends, and since our club was rather small, I got to hold nearly every office in the club. So I got a taste of many different jobs."

Last summer, she attended the National 4-H Camp in Jackson's Mill, West Va., for her outstanding achievements in promoting the cause of 4-H.

Trips to the 4-H Roundup at Kansas State College in Manhattan, and the American Royal held in Kansas City are other memories of Eula Mae's 4-H days.

Perhaps the best thing that has come to her is going to be her summer in Belgium on the International Farm Youth Exchange Program, an extension of the 4-H work. Leaving June 18, she will live in several farm homes, and return in November.

If red hair is a sign of energy and vivacity, Patsy Miller is loyal. In her six years in club work, Patsy has had twenty-five projects and in outstanding achievements, has won trips to the National Western Stock Show in Denver and the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, and a wrist watch for outstanding work in freezing foods.

Not limiting her activity to project work only, Patsy acted one of the leading parts in a play given by her club which won third place in the State Contest.

Her trip to Club Congress in Chicago, where the members from every state come together for a week and have the "time of their lives", was won by her demonstration of freezing peaches.

"4-H has been my main incentive to learn cooking and sewing, and has helped me particularly in my relation with people. It has also taught me to take disappointments."

This is Marlene Moats' statement after working for eight years on varied projects such as nutrition, clothing, home furnishings, livestock and landscaping.

Marlene won a trip to Chicago in 1952 on her foods and nutrition records, as well as a State award for gardening, and the honor of representing her club at the State Convention.

An honor roll student and an honor roll 4-Her from Abilene, Kans., is Nadene Correll. To mention a few awards won by Nadene in her 10 years, and 34 projects in club work, she has won a place in the State Who's Who, a trip to the American Royal in Kansas City, and the Danforth Leadership Award. For her activities in the Promotion of Health, she won a trip to Chicago in 1951.

Nadene, a sophomore, and her brother, Dale, a freshman, have done several demonstrations together. Other activities in her years of 4-H work include giving demonstrations, work on food preservation, clothing and junior leadership.

Being active in conservation work and playing his trumpet in the County 4-H Band were some of the interests of Dale Correll, a member of his club for seven years.

Aside from his holding various offices in his club and attending the Kansas Round-up in Manhattan, Dale won several trips to the American Royal in Kansas City, and was the County Better Farming Award winner.

Karl Baldner was a member of 4-H in high school. He states that college students could not belong to 4-H.

"Speed" Coffman demonstrated feed as a 4-H project.

Dave Frazier was a blue-ribbon winner with his baby beef project in high school. He was also a member of the 4-H softball team in Charles City, Iowa. His team was champion of the county.

Wayne Price was president one year, and vice president two years; he was on the Dickinson County 4-H Council, and a state demonstration champion in high school 4-H. Because he was a state champion, he won an Elgin watch and a free trip to the American Royal.

Dale Grose belonged to the Prairie Dog 4-H in Clayton, Kans. He was secretary and treasurer for two years. Last year, he had a champion short horn. In the past three years he has had three blue ribbon projects, a short horn, a black Angus, and a hog. Dale was also a reporter and 4-H council member.

Many more could be mentioned, who have enriched their knowledge and experience through 4-H.

"To make the best better" is the motto written beneath each leaf of the 4-H clover, which stands for the head, heart, hands and health.

4-H has a real place in training the American young people of today for the citizens of tomorrow.

The tennis players were keeping the courts hot. Matches have been played throughout the week.
