Vote Puts Fellows Into Top Offices

Reins of the McPherson College student body government for the coming year will be in the hands of Norman Long, junior from Worthington, Minn., and Don Colberg, sophomore from Lyons, Kans. Norman, who will preside over the college government body beginning in September, and Don, who will tangle with the figures in black ink, were elected by student vote last Friday during the chapel period.

Norman is active in a number of McPherson College organizations in addition to being a member of the A Cappella Choir and Male Quintet.

He is a student minister and has served the Western Region as president for two years in addition to being a member of the National Cabinet.

A member of the honor roll, president of his class last year, and one of the three chapter members of the college peace group, Norman took top honors in the state peace oratory contest, going on to receive honorable mention in the national.

While Norman has shown his ability to lead student groups during his three years on campus, Don Colberg, has spent two years proving that he is capable of handling the business end of government.

Don is the present business manager of the Spectator, having acted as assistant last year. Don is a member of the A Cappella Choir.

The campaigning for Student Council positions began in earnest well before the chapel period on Friday. The fellows serenaded the girls at the closing hour Thursday evening with a brass band and considerable oratory.

He is a student minister and has served the Western Region as president for two years in addition to being a member of the National Cabinet.

Posters and gum and candy favors under doors were other methods employed by all parties striving for election.

Speeches for the various candidates were given by Leland Lengel in behalf of Ed Wolf, and Duane Fike for Don Colberg.

Gene Elrod ballyhooed for Norman Long while Bob Burge put in his spiel for Bob Wise. Speeches were interrupted by a loud band led by Bill Goering.

The council's activities, which are discussed each Wednesday evening, include speaking for the students as a whole to the trustees, faculty, administration, and anyone else who needs speaking to. The group acts as coordinator for extra-curricular activities and administers the Spectator, the Quadrangle and the Growl.

Carney To Head Future Teachers

The Maurice A. Hess chapter of Future Teachers of America held its monthly meeting on Thursday, March 24. The program consisted of informative talks given by four of the girls under contract to teach in the elementary and kindergarten grades in Kansas next year.

Evelyn Williams, who will teach first grade in Newton; Nadene Correll, second grade, Hillsboro; Dean Gene Rude, kindergarten, Hutchinson; and Joan McRoberts, kindergarten or first grade, Topeka, spoke to the group about their applications, interviews, and plans for getting oriented into teaching in the schools which they will enter in September.

Election of officers for the 1955-56 year and nomination of delegates to the State FTA Convention to be held in Topeka on April 20 were other items of business on the program.

Richard Carney was elected president; Carol Hintz, vice president; Ruth Eisenbise, treasurer; Adele Bernstorff, secretary; and Joyce Flory, historian for next year. Sponsors of the club will be Prof. Merlin Frantz and Dr. Mary Fee.

State Convention delegates are Ruth Grossnickle, Ruth Eisenbise, and Carol Hintz.

Yoder Accepts Dorm Reservations

April 30, is the deadline for present students of McPherson College to get in their $10 room reservations for the 1955-56 school year.

Gordon Yoder, Business Manager of the college, stated that the reason for the $10 room reservation is to give the upper classmen preference over new students in choosing their rooms.

Up to Monday morning, March 28, 34 freshmen women students and 13 students had registered with McPherson College for the 1955-56 school session.

As soon as the upperclassmen are given a chance to choose a room, the new students registered with the college are notified that they will have a room in one of the campus dormitories.

There is room for 250 students on campus. Dutzour has room to house 108 women students, Kline has room for 18 women students, Fahnestock houses 60 men students, and Arnold has room to house 64 men students.

Approximately 220 students of the 330 fulltime students enrolled in the college, live here on campus. Housing costs for next year have been raised over this year. Rooms in Dutzour Hall and Fahnestock Hall are $70. Kline Hall and Arnold Hall will cost $55 per semester.

Mac Debaters To Participate In Pi Kappa Delta Tournament

Four McPherson College debaters, Don Ullom, Don Faules, Mary Lou Wise, and Irene Shall along with their coach, Max McAuley, left for Redlands, Calif., early Thursday morning March 31, to attend the 1955 Pi Kappa Delta National Convention.

Registration for the convention begins at noon on Sunday, April 3. The participants in this convention are given an opportunity to take part in oration, extemporaneous speaking, debate, and discussion.

The last meeting of the convention will be held at 6:30 p.m., Friday April 8. This will be a convention banquet at which time the announcement of the winners will be made.

Irene Shall and Don Ullom will enter in the oratory contest. Both Irene and Don had their typewritten manuscripts ready to submit upon registration to the convention. Each person entering in oratory must appear four times on the oration program.

The topic of Irene's oration is "An Invitation to Murder." Don will speak on "The Arm's Race."

Besides being active in debate, Don Ullom has an assistantship, is active in band, CBVF, and Chapel Choir. His class officer is a member of FTA, took part in intramurals, is a member of the Men's Council and of McPherson College Players' Club, belongs to Pi Kappa Delta, is in peace group and SCA and is on the Spectator staff.

Irene Shall is a sophomore majoring in Home Economics. She is on the board of Publications in College Church Choir, Pi Kappa Delta, Peace Group and McPherson College Players and was Spectator editor last semester.

Mary Lou Wise and Don Faules worked on and prepared to enter the extemporaneous speaking contest at the request of the subject of "Defense Plans For Western Europe." This one large subject is divided into four different areas, and each contestant must be prepared to speak extemporaneously on any one of the areas.

During her freshman year, Mary Lou has been active in debate, McPherson College Players Club, Pep Club and Pi Kappa Delta.

Don Faules is a transfer student and is majoring in English. He is a member of Pi Kappa Delta, plays in the band, belongs to McPherson College Players Club and is the campus editor of the Spectator for the second semester.

The two teams from McPherson College and Max McAuley, alumni secretary of the college, are scheduled to be in La Verne, Calif., April 2, to speak at the Alumni Banquet of the Southern California Alumni of the College.

Anne Keim, who was injured recently in an automobile accident, was ordered by her doctor not to try to make the trip because of the great strain it would put on her. She has been replaced by Irene Shall, who debated the first part of this year with Don Ullom.

All those teams entered in the convention will take part in eight rounds of debate. Plans have been made to accommodate around 140 teams.

This is the fifth Pi Kappa Delta National Convention in which McPherson College's Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta has taken an active part.

McPherson College was first accepted into the Pi Kappa Delta honorary fraternity in 1942, at Minneapolis, Minn. However, they were not allowed to debate in the 1942 convention.

The rank of local chapter traveled to Bowling Green, Ohio, to take an active part in the national convention for the first time. The local chapter debated in the 1949 convention which was held in Peoria, Ill.

The rank of "excellent" was received by a McPherson College Debate Team at the 1951 national convention held at Stillwater, Okla. Dr. Maurice A. Hess, of the English Department, was chairman of the committee for oratory at the Stillwater Convention.

The convention host, who are the California Alpha and the University of Redlands Campus, have made arrangements for a tour of Hollywood and other favorite tourist spots of California.

Terry and all her actress friends who live at the "Footlights Club" in New York will come to life in the Student Union Room of McPherson College April 14-16.

At three o'clock on these three days, Patsy Miller, red-headed freshman who plays the lead role, and the other twenty players who have supporting roles, will present "Stage Door," giving it in arena style.

"Stage Door," a three-act production by Edna Ferber and George Kaufman, has a history which includes a long run on that street which it depicts.

Among the most colorful of Terry's actress friends are: Judith, Marian McElwain; Bernice, Esther Merkey; Kaye Phyllis Boyd; and Jean, who becomes a fabulous movie star, Betty Moore.

Duane Fike plays the lead part of Keith, the playwright in whom Terry centers her attention until she sees what he is really like. Ed Switzer acts the role of David, who enters the scene to make a triangle.

Other male parts are played by Don Saunders, Terry Thoren, John Thomas, Dale Shenefelt, Gene Myers and Ted Vance.

Additional feminine roles are played by Barbara King, Earlene Hall, Shirley Rhoades, Nancy Andrews, and Vera Mohler.

One of the largest problems which the cast is facing is that of being at home, or at least away from the college and play rehearsal, for ten days just before production dates.

Members of Players' Club who are working in the scenes behind the stage include actors, actresses, and others.

Billy Joe Hildreth, assisted by Gene Myers, is in charge of building the stage. Duane Fike and Leland Lengel are responsible for the seating arrangement and handling the chairs.

Marian McElwain and Barbara King are in charge of properties. Phyllis Boyd is struggling with the task of upholstering a davenport, while Patsy Miller is designing a dressing table.

Irene Shall is working on posters and publicity.

The Stone Moved

By Vernard Eller, Youth Editor

"And they were saying to one another, 'Who will roll away the stone for us from the door of the tomb?' And looking up, they saw that the stone was rolled back; for it was very large. (Mark 16:3-4)"

"This stone—a tombstone if you please—could well be used as a symbol for Easter, for all the significance of the resurrection centers on the fact that this stone, a very large stone, moved. Had this stone not moved, Jesus of Nazareth would be a moldering corpse and Christianity an aborted effort beneath the notice of even the most scrupulous historian.

But the stone did roll; and we, two thousand years later, worship a living Lord, and in due time, when his kingdom has come on earth as it is now in heaven, to him every knee shall bow and every tongue confess.

Not the treachery nor the strength nor the vigilance of the world could keep that tomb sealed, for he had said, "Lo, I am with you always," and such was the compulsion of his authority that even insensate stone could not deny it. The removed rock speaks of a risen Redeemer.

The stone is further symbolical in that it signifies an eternal triumph of life over death. The power of the resurrected Christ moved not only the stone in the garden of Arimathea but also loosed the seal of every tomb. Sheel has been opened; life does not end in cold finality. O, Death, where is thy sting? Like the grain of wheat sown in the soil, we die to rise. The stone, the death's door, is a guarantee of our immortality.

However, it is not the tomb of death that spells man's doom as much as the sepulcher of sin in which the spiritual man lies cold and prostrate. This is a tomb that human righteousness is powerless to avoid; and no matter how white-washed the exterior, it contains only filth and darkness.

The stone of evil, temptation and error that seals this place is itself a "very large stone." Who can roll it away? But we—like those who visited the tomb on Easter morning—have no grounds for despair; this stone, too, has been pushed aside in the surge of resurrection power.

The bonds of sin are broken, man's freedom has been won. Not only the eternal but the abundant life awaits us as we step out in the Easter dawn to meet the Christ who moved the stone.

Metzler Writes Bible Study Aids

Dr. Burton Metzler, professor of philosophy and religion at Macollege, has been writing study aids for the Bible Study Monthly. This is published every month by the Brethren Publishing House.

The Bible Study Monthly is an international Sunday School lesson booklet which gives a number of pages of lesson material and help for each Sunday's lesson.

Dr. Metzler must write one of these lessons for every week and must have it in by the 25th of the month before each month's publication.

Editorial Note

The next issue of THE SPECTATOR will come out on Friday, April 22. There will not be a paper in the week immediately following Easter recess.

The editor and staff members wish to express their hope that all students, faculty members, and friends of the college have a happy and enriching Easter season.

Student Ministers Say

A Creed?

By Kenneth Fancher

Much as I love the creed of Christendom, I am ready to say that true Christianity is more than a creed.

It is a creed, and it has its ceremonies, but is more than that; it is a life; it is a divine spark of heaven's own flame which falls into the human bosom and burns there, consuming much that lies hidden in the soul; and then at last, as a heavenly life, it flames forth and is felt by all those around.

Christianity has become too abstract to the unbeliever today. It is represented by the building on the corner, or, in some unfortunate cases, by a professing Christian who makes the entire business in his life of putting a spot on the records of our faith.

But, one must realize, too, that faith is not necessarily the extrinsic display which many people put on, but rather that deep seated knowledge that God is—and lives. Our joy as Christians lies in the fact that we, of all the people on the earth, have been fortunate enough to be the receivers of His word.

We take this thing too much for granted. For God, in his infinite wisdom, has not given this thing freely, because the percentage which is Christian compared with the percentage which is not, makes us all the more aware that as God's chosen witnesses, we have a tremendous burden.

The power of God is with all Christians; our faith is not nil. We should rejoice that our faith is founded on the only good, true basis of religion.

Courtesy Shows Up

By Ruth Davidson
If any country is socially courteous, America should be. But is it? Do people on this campus practice those "little things" which make people sit up and take notice?

One can walk out a door with someone right behind him and not until the door comes careening into that second-in-line person's face will a detaining hand be extended.

Just try holding the door for someone. It is the courteous thing to do; and, who knows, it may prove to be an unthought for all day job (or at least until past the time for the second whistle).

Oh, yes, Americans try to be a courteous and thoughtful people. Did you ever notice the drooping heads of the cafeteria flowers which someone just happened to break? Or perhaps someone just accidentally happened to get one caught in his button hole.

Then there are the beautiful Macampus lawns which are just right for walking across. If it is muddy, it is more fun to track across the grass and much more healthy for the grass. Just ask the grass!

The beginning of a good night's sleep is frequently interrupted by someone's playful or insistent honk. Or perhaps the next door neighbor is tuning up that last pillow fight with roommate.

Our professors probably do not like to be thought of as old, but at least we students could show them their due respect. Each would doubtless respect the other more for doing so.

If our professors would stop, look, and listen before doing something not quite conventional, a more pleasant world would exist. What better place could be found than right here, and now?

Eisenhower Sees Valuable Document

Most valued of all Christian documents, the oldest known copy of the New Testament, was shown to President Eisenhower last week. The New Testament is covered with a 14-million dollar insurance policy and was guarded on the journey by a police guard. The trip took about an hour and a half from the vault of a Washington bank to the library of President Eisenhower.

The New Testament was on its way to the library of Congress where it will be kept in a vault until it goes on public exhibition on April 5.

This volume is believed to be more than 1,600 years old. It is known as the Yonon Codex. It has been in the hands of the Malek Yonon family. Codex means a book form of manuscript as distinguished from the scroll form. A sale price for this New Testament has not been announced.

L. Quincey Mumford, librarian of Congress, said the Yonon Codex would be the greatest possible addition to the library's collection of biblical texts.

"This manuscript, so far as is known, the world's oldest complete New Testament in Aramaic-Syriac language that Christ spoke—brings to Washington a unique treasure. . . . Mumford said.

Ponder With The President

In a recent issue of the Newsweek, the people of Iowa gave a very encouraging answer to the policy of the United States government in closing parts of the United States, including parts of Iowa to any visiting Russians.

Citizens of Iowa said they would be glad to have Russian farmers come and visit them. They went even further and said that they believed they would be able to be helpful to the farmers of Russia through an exchange of ideas but that they believed also the farmers of Russia could help the people of Iowa with their ideas.

This sensible statement on the part of the farmer people of Iowa shone in our world like a bright star. It came at about the same time that our Secretary of State, Dulles, was making broad threats across the air waves.

We at McPherson can be particularly pleased with these statements since the father of one of our seniors this year was one of the Iowa spokesmen.

Newsweek, issue of March 14, reported as follows:

"Laurence N. Baldner, a portly, graying man of 48 who farms 160 acres near Dallas Center, said: 'I don't think this exchange would be a one-way thing with the Russians getting all the profit. I believe in swapping ideas. There are too many hungry people in the world to think about keeping our farming methods to ourselves. Maybe we won't need atomic bombs if there are full bellies and good will.'" come to Iowa, Baldner will invite them to his farm. They probably would be amazed by his operation. Baldner's farm is so completely mechanized that he does all the work himself—and doesn't always work very hard.

"If Russian agriculturists do

"He has two tractors, a combine, a mower, two disks, two electric milking machines. His granary holds 4,000 bushels of corn and the same amount of oats.

"It's all loaded and unloaded by machinery," said Baldner. "I never touch a bushel by hand."

"The Russians probably would be amazed, too, by Baldner's standard of living. Baldner, who grosses nearly $22,000 a year, lives in a pleasant, eight-room frame house which has two gleaming, modern bathrooms. His oil-heating system is thermostat-controlled; he has an auto, a spacious deep-freeze unit, a television set, and three radios.

"One of his two sons is studying farm management at Iowa State, and the other is preparing for the ministry at McPherson College in Kansas."

This sort of exchange is one of the world's best ways to peace and accord. Baldner has a big idea!

Students Conclude Red Cross Course

"Mother and Baby Care," a course sponsored by the McPherson College Home Economics Club with the leadership being supplied by the Red Cross, was concluded Wednesday evening, March 30.

Red Cross certificates were presented to those who attended every two-hour session, each of which was led by Miss Hannah Lundberg, a registered nurse.

The lecture-demonstration series included such things as learning the correct way of washing hands, bathing and dressing the baby, making a temporary crib from two chairs, taking temperature readings, and making a rattle from a tin can and a metal washer.

Approximately 25 girls attended the lessons offered free of charge as a service to the school.

Dell To Leave On Cattle-Boat Soon

Prof. S. M. Dell, professor of Industrial Arts Education and dean of men at Macollege, will leave McPherson on April 5 for the first part of his journey to Germany. He is now on Sabbatical leave.

Professor Dell will travel east and will visit his brother at Mt. Sidney, Va. From there he will go to Washington, D.C., and then to New York; from New York he will leave for Germany on April 12.

Professor Dell is sailing as an attendant on a cattle boat. These helpers are being sent to Germany by the Heifer Project, Inc., which was started by the Brethren Service Committee in 1944 to give cows to countries in need to give them a long-range rehabilitation program.

More than 5,000 heifers and bulls and also a number of goats and horses have been shipped to many needy people in fourteen countries. Most of the cattle have been donated by concerned people in the United States and the heifer committee furnishes the transportation.

Professor Dell and the other four cattle attendants have volunteered their services to care for the cattle on the trip over in exchange for their passage to Europe.

There will be 65 cattle on the boat being shipped by the Heifer Project. Twenty-one of these cattle have been donated by Kansas people. Eleven are from McPherson and are being sent by the Rotary Club as their project. Professor Dell is secretary of the Rotary Club.

Upon arriving at Bremen, Germany, the cattlemen will be taken to Kassel, where they will be distributed to the German people.

Professor Dell has volunteered to give his summer to Brethren Service work in Europe and will be leading crafts in all the Brethren projects in Europe. He will travel to each project and work a length of time with the people there. He will also be helping with the summer work camp in Europe.

Mrs. Dell will join Professor Dell soon after the first of June and will probably help him in leading crafts. The Dells plan to return to the United States during the first part of September.

Snowstorm Stops Home Ec Girls

The weatherman's failure to cooperate and recognize the importance of the State Convention of Home Economics Clubs held March 25-26 in Hutchinson caused members of the Macollege Club and other represented clubs to miss the scheduled luncheon, speakers and style show on Saturday, March 26.

Miss Mildred Siek, and Mrs. Wesley DeCoursey accompanied by Marlene Jamison, Ruth Davidson, Irene Shull, and Shirley Rhoades left McPherson early Saturday morning to attend the last day of the conference.

Not knowing the condition the program was in, the girls paid the $4 registration fee in order to gain admittance to a business meeting for the sole purpose of revising the State Constitution of the clubs. Approximately 35 people attended the meeting.

Marinel Johnson represented the Macollege Club as a member of the "revision" committee.

Mrs. DeCoursey and Miss Siek attended sessions of the adult organization which sponsors the college groups, the Kansas Home Economics Association. Since the luncheon of the college group had to be cancelled because of the few people present, the four girls attended the luncheon with the adults.

The meeting was held in the ballroom of the Baker Hotel. The speaker for the meeting was Mr. John Keltner, head of the Department of Speech at Kansas State College, who spoke on the topic, "The Use of Socio - Drama in Family-Centered Teaching."

Student Receives Get-Well Wishes

Kay Chaney, Vivian Oliver, Edith Kesler, Ruth Kauffman, and Dr. Mary Fee went to Newton Monday afternoon, March 28, to visit Mabel Jahn in the Bethel Mennonite Hospital.

Mabel is recovering rapidly and in good spirits after her two recent operations according to those who visited her. She will have been in the hospital three weeks on Monday during which time she has received around 100 cards and several potted plants.

Home Economists Plan Banquets, Dinners, Trip

McPherson Home Economics Club has planned and is now planning to serve banquets and luncheons to various groups.

On schedule for April 20 is a field trip of the Home Economics students to Kansas City.

Irene Shull is overall chairman for the dinner which the Home Economics Club is serving to 200 State College English Teachers. Other members of the committee are Marinel Johnson, Joyce Miller, and Beverly Barr.

Several other dinners which have been served by the Home Ec Club during this year were the faculty-trustee formal, the faculty formal, and several teas which were served as service projects.

The field trip to Kansas City to be taken on April 20, will feature visits to the Nelly Don Dress Manufacturing Company, for the clothing class and the other departments will go to places of importance in their field.

Macollege May Build New College Courts

Plans for new housing for married students are in the early stages of development and are not yet actual.

Proposed plans would begin the project this summer and would complete the buildings in time for use the fall semester.

The apartments would be built facing Lehmer Street in a U-shape. They would be permanent buildings of cement blocks in a motel-type arrangement.

Parking would be on the street. Sufficient sidewalks would be provided around the buildings.

It is hoped that sufficient funds will be raised to completely replace the College Courts.

Funds are being raised from the sale of houses which the college has owned. Several faculty members have bought these houses.

Suggestions for the housing project would be accepted by Dr. D. W. Bittinger, president of McPherson College.

Mac Graduate Works In German Exchange

Esther Mohler, former McPherson student, is working in Kassel, Germany, in the Student Exchange Office. Esther visits each exchange student once before he leaves for America and prepares him on what to expect here. She also visits the family of the student after he is gone. Then when the student returns she visits him to help him become readjusted to German life.

Esther edits the Echo, the student exchange paper, and is also planning a conference to be held soon for exchange students.

She has found language to be her biggest barrier in her visitation. Usually she takes someone along who can speak German. One sad thing to her is the kindness of these people to her when she visits them. She writes of one refugee family who gave her one of their few bedrooms they had salvaged in their traveling.

Esther is taking over the work of Wanda Will, who is the sister of Mrs. Dick Wareham. Wanda is staying with the Warehams at present. For the first round of visits, Wanda accompanied Esther.

At present Esther is living with a German family in Kassel. The German family has a daughter who is studying English and finding it difficult; Esther plans to help her with her English and in return improve her German.

Esther feels that the Student Exchange Program is one of the better ways to bring about peace between countries.

Esther graduated from McPherson in 1952 and taught school in Kansas for two years before entering Brethren Volunteer Service. Esther entered the September 1954 unit and went to Germany in November. She is the sister of Vera Mohler, freshman and the niece of Miss Edna Neher, house-mother at Dotzour Hall.

Difference?

Marlin Walters was anxiously peering into the window of someone else's locked car early Monday morning. He wanted to make sure that the $6 book he had left there was still there. If it had been a $5.50 one he wouldn't have bothered, he stated.

April 1 has finally arrived, and with it April Fool's Day and the beginning of Easter recess.

Many students are packed up and ready to leave as soon as their classes are completed today. Others will leave tomorrow or will be staying on campus for the recess. Choirs will leave tomorrow morning for their annual tour.

Girls in the chapel choir, under the chairmanship of Marlene Jamison, have made white stoles to go over the robes. The fellows will all be wearing straight, narrow bow ties with the letters "MC" in white, for their tour performances.

Ballyhooing and campaigning were heard at all hours last Thursday night before the all-school election which put Norm Long and Don Colberg into office.

The unexpected snow storm last weekend called off the plans of Terry Thoreen, Donna Saylor, and Norris Harms to go to Terry's home in Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Leland Lengel and Nancy Keim visited the Catholic Church in Salina last Sunday.

Dick Jones, Lu Wise, Bob Wise, Anita McSpadden, Ed Franz, and Ginny Russel were guests at a Pizza-Pie and TV party at the Jones home last weekend.

Used in the Long-Colberg campaign was Kelly Day's buggy. Wise-Wolf supporters threw parachutes with candy attached during the ballyhoo session in chapel.

Mary Lou Wise was the honor guest at a surprise birthday party Tuesday night. Twelve other coeds joined together to have the celebration. Dinner was enjoyed at the Airport Cafe with "Lu" the recipient of many cheers and songs during the meal. A decorated cake with nineteen candles of the honoree's favorite color, green, was served later. Bonnie Smith and Anne Keim were the co-hostesses for the affair.

Macollege emerged victorious in its second track meet of the season which took place at Kansas Wesleyan in Salina, Kans., Monday afternoon. McPherson was first with 77 points, Kansas Wesleyan was second with 73½ points, and Bethany was third with 8½ points.

Three members of the track squad placed in the 800-yard run. Don Goodfellow was first with the time of 2:7.8. Gale Stucky placed second and Dwight Oltman fourth. Bob Carpenter placed second and Don Saunders fourth in the 220-yard dash. Snyder came in third in the low hurdles.

Macollege had three placers in the shot put. Bill Smith was first with a heave of 39 ft. 11½ in. Bersuch was second and Ronnie Anderson was fourth.

The discus was the only event in which the Bulldogs placed first, second, and third. Anderson was first with his record breaking throw of 140 ft. 9 in. Bill Smith placed second, and Bersuch was third.

This track meet was to be a quadrangular, but neither Friends nor Bethel could come.

Don Colberg was again a double winner by taking first in the mile run, 5:3.6, and the 2-mile run, 11:04.2. Bob Bower received third place in these two events.

Dwight Blough was second in the 440-yard dash. Saunders placed fourth in the 100-yard dash.

Golfers Practice For April Meet

Because of the uncontrollable Kansas weather, the golfers have had trouble finding a good day for practice. Six golfers nevertheless have been touring the green. J. W. Van Blaricum, Bob Wise, Ronald Sams, Robert Schmitt, Perl Danyluk, George Casebeer and Carmon Heidebrecht are the active golf players at the present time. A practice meet was held with the high school Wednesday.

Frosh Sets New Mark

With a throw of 140 ft. 9 in. Ronnie Anderson, a freshman, broke the Macollege discus record of 139 ft. 11 in. set by Anton Meyers in 1935. This event took place at the Kansas Wesleyan Track Meet Monday afternoon.

Ronnie remarked to Coach Sid Smith and other members of the track squad returning after the track meet in the Coach's car that he would like to improve every track meet.

One of the other passengers remarked that Ronnie would soon be setting a new world record. In the first track meet of the season, Ronnie threw the discus 128 feet to take first place. His record throw is 12 ft. 9 in longer.

Ronnie can break or attempt to break his own record in the other track meets scheduled for this year. Ronnie also throws the javelin and puts the shot.

He received second place in the javelin in the Tabor meet.

Ronnie resides at 315 W. Second St., McPherson. In high school he was active in athletics. He participated in football, basketball, and track.

Because of his athletic ability he earned a letter and became an M-Club member. He was track co-captain in his senior year.
