

Homecoming Queen Eula Mae Crowned Tonight

Her Royal Highness Eula Mae Murrey, will reign over the Queen's Banquet this evening. She will be attended by royal attendants, Rachel Brown and June McDaniel.

Queen Eula Mae Murrey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Murrey of Conway, Kans. She graduated from the McPherson High School where she was an attendant to the football queen in her senior year.

At McPherson College she has been active in Pep Club, SCA, WAA, and debate. At present, Eula Mae is the Pep Club president. Last year, she was a cheerleader. She was a member of the Church Choir her freshman year. Besides debate, she has been active in oratory and extemporaneous speaking.

For ten years, she was an active 4-H Club member. Her greatest achievements were winning an airplane trip to Jacksonmills, W. Va., as a promotional leader and being reserve champion in the state style review.

Rachel Brown, sophomore attendant is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Brown, of Hannibal, Mo. She attended Central High School and one year of junior college in McPherson, where she was a cheerleader for three years.

While in junior college, Rachel was an associate editor to the annual, a feature writer for the school paper, and the student council secretary. At McPherson College she is the associate editor of the Quadrangle and is active in Pep Club, Home Ec Club, and FTA. She plans to teach as a professional home economics major.

Freshman attendant, June McDaniel, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard McDaniel of Essex, Mo., one of the cotton pickin' areas of that state. June was queen of the Gray Ridge High School when she was a sophomore.

June is active in WAA, Pep Club and SCA at McPherson. Her planned major is home economics. Annelise Koch is the retiring queen. She hails from Germany.

There are many new and unfamiliar faces on campus today. Many more alumni and visitors are expected to be here tomorrow for the homecoming activities.

Queen's Banquet
This evening at 6:30, Her Majesty will be crowned at the all-school formal Queen's Banquet which will be in the college church parlors.

Lovely Annelise Koch, retiring queen, will crown the new queen at the opening of the banquet. Leon Albert is in charge of the coronation.

A large red velvet "M", surrounded by white flowers, will form the center piece of the Queen's table. The colors red and white, and floral arrangements and candles will be used throughout the banquet room.

Refreshments will be served by candlelight at the tables decorated with floral arrangements, crown nut cups, and programs in the shape of a football. Ellen Williams is the chairman of decorations. She is being helped by different students here on campus.

The meal is being prepared by the ladies of the college church. Students under the supervision of Mrs. Ronald Grosbach will serve the meal.

Club Luncheon
The annual "M" Club Luncheon will be at the McCourt Hotel on Saturday, Oct. 16, at 12:30. This luncheon will be for all past and new lettermen. There will be a short program with Coach Sid Smith giving a few words.

Campus Decorations
Bulldozers and Coyotes seem to be going up all over the campus. Decorations for homecoming have been planned around these two mascots, which represent the opposing teams.

Coach Smith and the co-captains of the team, Eddie Frantz and Bill Smith, will be heard over local KXEX in a locker room interview at 1:15, Saturday.

Dr. and Mrs. Wesley DeCoursey, giving a few words.

Socials
Following the game there will be a social for the alumni in the college cafeteria. The students from Mac and KWU will have a social after the game in the gym.

College Calendar
FRIDAY, OCTOBER 15 — Queen's Banquet
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 16 — Alumni Tea at 3 p.m. Chili Supper at 4:30 p.m. Kansas Wesleyan here at 7:30 p.m. Alumni coffee hour and Student Mixer after the game.
THURSDAY, OCTOBER 21 — Tug of War between sophomores and freshmen 1-1:15 p.m.

Tug Of War Will Decide Wearing Of The Green

To wear or not to wear, is the question to be decided by the Annual Freshmen-Sophomore Tug of War.

The Tug of War which is sponsored by the Student Court, under the chairmanship of Ken Brown, will be held at Lakeside Park on Thurs. Oct. 21, at 1 o'clock.

Classes will not be dismissed for this event, therefore the students will have to be in class or be recorded absent.

Each class will have an equal number of men on its team. When the signal is given the opposing sides will begin to pull and if the sophomores pull the freshmen into the lagoon they must continue to wear the "green" until just before Thanksgiving vacation.

Last year the freshmen lost and this year both sides are expecting to win. Both classes have some "Big" men, therefore this should be one of the best Tug of Wars.

Players Receive Alpha Psi Points

Members of Alpha Psi Omega, campus organization, met with the director, Mrs. Una Yoder, to decide the number of points to be given to members of Players Club for the production of the play, "Sorry, Wrong Number."

Fall Play Is Cast Lead Falls To Parmley

Presentation of the three-act play, "Deep Are the Roots," will be Nov. 15 in the City Auditorium in McPherson. Members of the Play Production class chose the play and also conducted the try-outs.

Mrs. Wilbur Yoder, instructor in speech and dramatics, who is also directing the play, stated, "It was especially difficult to select the cast. The difficulty was in the small number of parts and the large amount of talent. Also a few of the parts called for a special type of individual."

The cast as selected is: Max Parmley as Brett; Leland Lengel as Howard; Leon Albert, Sen. Langsdan; Duane Hoover, Roy; Dale Shenefelt, Sheriff; Joe Reeves and Billy Joe Hildreth are Deputies. Jo Ann Silver is Geneva; Peggy Hoefler, Alice; Irene Shull, Bella; and LaFughn Hubbard, Honey. "Deep Are the Roots" was written in 1945 and had a long run on Broadway.

The play was especially selected for the Regional Conference week and is timely with the recent Supreme Court ruling against racial segregation.

The play is set in one of the deep southern states and concerns a young colored officer who returns to his home in the South and the racial problems that he faces.

The stage setting for the three acts is in Senator Langdan's home.

John Stucky Wins Blue Ribbon In Art

John Stucky '53, carried home another blue ribbon from the Kansas State fair this year.

Debators Organize

"Resolved, that the United States should extend diplomatic recognition to Red China." This is the question that will be used for the debate squad this year. Fourteen members comprise the squad for Macollege this year.

Bethel Gives Lost Horizon

"Lost Horizon," to be given by the senior class of Bethel College in North Newton on October 22 and 23, is a three act play by James Hilton.

The drama, which points out the moral that suicide is not only futile but evil, will be presented as part of Bethel's Homecoming Festivities with the curtain rising on Friday at 8:00 p.m. and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in Memorial Hall. Admission is $75.

CBYF Plans Singpiration

CBYF members chose to help support an industrial work camp as their project for this school year. At such work camps, individuals hold an employment position in the immediate area of the work camp. In off hours they do work camp duties. Last year's project was a heater for relief.

Sunday evening, Oct. 17, will be a singpiration. Those in charge are Max Farnley, Leon Albert, Margaret Hoefler, and Elizabeth Keim.

Six Women Join Council

New members of the Women's Council have been chosen by Miss Fee, Dean of Women. Six new members were chosen this year. There are 3 freshmen, 1 sophomore and 2 juniors among the new members. Women's Council sponsors for Formal Fall Tea, Heart Sister Week and Party in February and the Handbook for freshman girls. Members of the women's council work at a money making project each year the money being spent for the benefit of the girls on campus. On October 14, the women's council is having a picnic at the fireplace north of Harly Hall.

Gas Company Tears Down Buildings On Macampus

In the last two weeks the gas company has removed three small buildings from Macampus.

Two of the three buildings back of Frantz Hall have been torn down. This makes more working area for the farm shop labs.

A third building belonging to the gas company was torn down behind Harly Hall.

Balanced Or Lopsided?

Balance ranks high in this world, both in what God has made and what man has made. And yet man forgets to balance the thing closest to him in his life—he himself.

Balance is necessary in character. We have a phrase we use over and over again, especially here on Macampus... a well-balanced character.

The four sides to this character are physical, social, spiritual, and mental. McPherson College is an excellent place for bringing these four sides into balance. And yet, here in college is the place where the balance can be completely thrown off.

So many students on this campus are so very busy. Possibly they are just becoming well-balanced physically, socially, spiritually, and mentally—but it's not very probable.

Ask them where they are going and what are you likely to hear in return? That they have this committee meeting, or that one, or something else which must be done for this activity or that. Running through every thread of conversation is the phrase—"I must get some studying done."

The youth on Macampus have a large capacity for shouldering a great load. However, once in a while the load becomes a trifle heavy—maybe that is why we have vacations from school—order that we may have time to catch up.

But with the great number of extra-curricular activities which do exist on this campus, overloading can be done quite easily and one may not even realize it until an inventory is taken. Put 16 or 18 hours of subject on top of ten or more activities and then top it off with a working position—the load is bound to topple, or at least quiver quite badly. Balance?

Check with your character and see if your four sides—physical, social, spiritual and mental are balanced or lopsided. I could make a guess, but I'll refrain.

Student Ministers Speak

High Pressure?

By Dale Shenefelt

A moving van started under a bridge that was too low and became wedged in and could not unloose itself. Other trucks tried to push it out. The state police suggested cutting the bridge, but the railroad company would not allow that.

In the meantime cars were lined up for miles in both directions. The men working at dislodging the truck were about ready to give up, when a small boy from the crowd asked, "Why don't you let the air out of the tires?"

No one had thought of that. They let the air out of the tires and the truck continued on its way. There are quite a few students who have too much air in their tires. They are trying to do too much. If they would let some of the air out of their tires, that is, if they would cut down some of their outside and extra-curricular activities and spend their time on studies, they would get along better.

A little outside activity can be very beneficial, but too much can be very harmful. Let's all watch and hold our extra activities under control and do not try to do too much.

With Our Sisters

By The Chief

Filling up the mailbox are exchange papers—those who receive copies of our Spectator and send copies of their paper in return. In addition to exchange papers with colleges in Kansas, there are the sister colleges.

"The Etowanian" from Elizabethtown College has its second largest freshman class—155. The total enrollment reached 400.

The Oak Leaves of Manchester College have headlines telling of Cornelia Otis Skinner appearing on the college public program series.

Fellows outnumber the girls at Manchester college where the total enrollment is 765. Their freshmen class has 64 over the one of last fall with 31.

Lacking a Neher on our Macollege campus the Neher staff of ground improvements at Manchester caught a reader's second glance. The students at Elizabethtown heard Rosa Fago Welch, the noted Negro mezzo-soprano, at her recent recital on their campus.

The twentieth anniversary of the Elizabethtown college choir, under the direction of Prof. Nexin W. Fisher, is being celebrated this year.

Exchange papers are in the News rack of the Spectator office which is located at the very peak of Sharp Hall. College students are free to browse through them at any time.

EDITIONS NOTE

It seems necessary to restate the policy that we on the editorial staff do not print letters to the editor unless we know who wrote them. We prefer to publish names to person's letters, but we will publish their writings anonymously if desired. However, we will not print letters which are found in our box unsigned.

Profs. Present Basic Beliefs

Macollege faculty members are giving a series of programs on Basic Beliefs for the Tuesday chapel sessions this semester.

This series began October 5, with an address, "God and Man" by Dr. Burton Metzler, Professor of Philosophy and Religion.

Tuesday October 19, Dr. James M. Berkebile, Dean of Macollege will talk on "God and the Universe". October 26, Dr. D. W. Bittinger, President of the College, will speak on "Jesus Christ, the Hope of the World."

Prof. Guy Hayes of the Rural Life Department will be the speaker for chapel, November 2. His subject will be "Jesus Christ Savior and Lord." November 9, "Man-Who He Is and Why," will be the title of the speech given by Dr. R. E. Mohler, Professor Emeritus of Biology.

The last two speakers for this series of chapel programs will be Prof. Raymond L. Flory, Professor of History, and Glenn C. Swinger, Director of Public Relations. Professor Flory will speak on human relations "Me and My Fellow Man." Glenn Swinger will address the student body on divine relations, "The Love of God and the Kingdom of Heaven."

Poets Invited To Compete

All college students are invited to submit original verse to be considered for possible publication in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry.

The recognition afforded by publication will reflect definite credit on the author, as well as on the school. Each year thousands of manuscripts are received by the National Poetry Association and only a choice few are picked from these for publication.

Last year a Macollege student won recognition in this contest. Esther Klenberry, a senior, is making plans to enter the contest again this year. She has about 30 poems which she has written, and she is still working on some of them.

Rules are simple: Manuscripts must be typed or written in ink on one side of a sheet. Student's home address, name of college and college address must appear on each. Students may submit as many manuscripts as are desired. Theme and form may be in accordance with the wish of the student contributor. Closing date for submission of manuscripts is Nov. 5.

Watch That Gum

Dishwashing time is behind the scenes in the cafeteria. A dishwasher's hand comes away from a plate with a long sticky something extending from the fingers to the back of the plate. After some toil over discarding the sticky object, dishwashing procedures continue.

Obviously, chewing gum ought to be placed in waste baskets.

Region Will Convene In November Conference

Regional Conference of the Western Region Church of the Brethren will be held Nov. 14-18.

Rev. Don Rowe, who has his office in the basement of Sharp Hall and is the Executive Secretary of the Western Region, will be in charge of planning the conference.

The purposes of the Regional Conference are to bring the Brethren churches together, to plan for new year, and to give spiritual enlightenment.

Museum Shows Bibles, Hymnals

Historic Bibles and a display of the early hymnals used in the Church of the Brethren are now on exhibit in the museum in Harnly Hall.

Among the Bibles is one printed in German by Christopher Sower who was a wealthy printer, an inventor, a contemporary of Benjamin Franklin, and one of the leaders in establishing the Church of the Brethren in the "new world."

Sower was printer of the first Bible in the colonies with the exception of Eliot's Indian Bible, and publisher of the first German periodical to be circulated in the United States which was a combination of religious and secular material.

Establisher of the first type foundry, he also made his own ink for printing as well as manufacturing the paper bindings for his publications.

The Sower Bible in the library is translated by Martin Luther and was published in 1763.

Other Bibles in the collection include a 1751 New Testament donated to the college by J. M. Masterson, an Old Testament of the year 1774 written in German, "Holy Writings of the Old Testament," printed by Sailer in 1775 in German; a 1777 German Old Testament, a New Testament of 1856 donated by H. J. Harnly.

Perhaps the most interesting Bible is a typewritten edition of the complete Bible, which was done by Franklin Wenrick of Leeton, Mo.

Consisting of 1,910 pages typed during the period from June, 1932 to October of 1934, the large volume has been donated to the college by Mr. Wenrick's sister, Mrs. S. M. Dell of McPherson, secretary to Dr. D. W. Bittinger, president.

Five hymnals used by our forefathers are displayed along with the Bibles. One, "A Small Collection of Songs" published in 1833, is a publication of words only and is written in German as were all of these hymnals up to 1869 because a large segment of our church members was Pennsylvania Dutch, speaking no English.

In 1867, a hymnal came out designed for the "Fraternity of the Brethren" and was entitled "The Brethren Hymnal."

English words as well as German appeared in 1869 in the song book edited by James Quinter of Penn-

WELCOME HOME

Once again it is Homecoming! Many of the McPherson College alumni look forward to this occasion each year with real anticipation. They come back to the college, which for four years was their home and which through many succeeding years has been a place where they could return to meet friends, relatives, acquaintances.

I particularly mention relatives. We are pleased that a significant percentage of our students are re-

It reaches back across the century mask and includes some in the late nineties.

It will reach forward into the future and include many who have not yet come. When they get together at Homecoming time it is really a time for a great family reunion.

Welcome grads and former attendees at McPherson College! Welcome back to your "home." Look over the building today. Look over the campus. Fellowship with each other.

Then after you have been "home", go back into your own communities and tell the young people of your church and of your community about McPherson College. Let them, also, have an opportunity to become members of the McPherson College family.

Cafeteria Tithes

One of Kansas City's (Missouri) largest cafeterias is "tithing"—at no extra cost to its patrons—to support churches of the community as well as some in neighboring Kansas City, Kans., and several in other parts of Missouri.

Henry Roe, who took over the cafeteria last November, said he had the idea in mind since the business came under his management, but he didn't get it worked out well enough to put it into operation until recently.

Thirty-six churches—14 in Kansas City, Kans., and 12 down state—benefitted from the first day's "take," he said. Since then, 23 others have been added to the list of beneficiaries.

Before paying for a meal, patrons write on the back of their check the name of their own church (and, if they wish, their own names). A percentage of the amount is then set aside for the "tithing" fund.

Goodfellow, Jones Head Choir, Band

Band officers for this year have been announced. Don Goodfellow of Lyons, Kans., trombonist; heads the group as president. Ken Fancher of Rocky Ford, Colo., drummer and trombonist, was chosen vice president; secretary treasurer is Carol Hintz who plays clarinet, and librarian is Elsie Lucre of Arriba, Colo. Assistant to Professor Don Frederick, Director, is Don Simpson, freshman.

Gary Jones, of Cabool, Mo., president; Leo Landhuis of Harris, Ia., vice president and robe custodian; Nancy Keim of Manchester, Ind., secretary treasurer, and Elsie Lucre completes the list of Chapel Choir officers as elected by members of that group.

The Bone Pile

Now the rush is nearly over, and another Homecoming celebration is in progress. This week especially has found the campus buzzing with activity to ready McPherson College for alumni and friends who show a fond interest in our school.

One of the more important activities in the past week was the football game with College of Emporia which was there in Emporia.

Among those turning out for the game were Joe Reeves and Ben Maust, Norma Jean Johnson, Pat Miller, Jackie Blackwell, Arlene Watts, Joan McRoberts, Rachel Brown, Wendel Lentz and Peggy Hoefler, Martin Gauby and Ruth Kaufman, Deane Ann Randle and Bob Vance, Israel Zayas and Mary Romero, Jim Wiggins, and Ellen Williams, Don Ullom and Kay Chaney, Darlene Treloar and Ken Fancher.

Others were Vern Scott, Chuck Ebert, Duane Hoover, Beverly Hall, Eva Navarro, Charles Reynolds, Sara Ann Coffman, Don Holderness, Lynn Swinger, Barbara Maul, Joyce Miller, Harvey Miller, Warren Sanger, Bea Grone, Phyllis Grimm, Eloise Postier, George Groves, Lois Rolfs, Gene Moss, Ruth Grossman and Mary Royer, Virginia Bowe, Jean Hallard, Liz Swinger, Delbert Bayles, Don Hunnicutt, and Arnold Kugler.

Mary Lou Stucky fairly well flew along the road on the way to the game. Her carload included Deanne Larson, Mary Ann Eckman, Donna Saylor, Phyllis Schroek and Nancy Barragren.

Faculty members Sollenberger and family and Glen Swinger were also viewing the contest in the hot sun.

Paul Heidebrecht and his wife, the former Alice Hanaganne, last year's freshman queen attendant, were also present at the game.

Feeling like that common expression "like the morning after the night before" could describe the Ladies' Trio when they returned from their weekend tour to Garden City.

The Men's Quintet also toured this weekend. They presented music in Kearney, Neb.

McCune, Kans., was the destination of a group of college students this weekend. Vera Mohler, Nancy Ruth Erisman, Marian McElwain, Dale and Neva Shenefelt, Max Royer, Lucy Blough, Betty Holloway, Richard Vance, George Eisele, and Ted Kalsitson, were the ones who went there.

Mice, Mice, Mice! They are everywhere, not only in Miss Vanell's classroom. The cute little grey monsters are plaguing the campus. Lately they have made frequent visits to the Dog House. Hungry no doubt. Bread seems to be the main meal of one of the creatures visiting in the bottom drawer of the girls in 132 on the first floor of Dotzour.

Play tryouts for "Deep Are the Roots," the three-act play coming up next, were held Thursday evening. It was so hard to decide on the women's parts that the girls had to read lines about three times before the final cast was chosen.

Phil Fulliam met with an accident Saturday morning when he was welding. An explosion occurred and burned his face quite badly. Phil's entire face excepting his eyes, nose, and mouth were bandaged.

While working out doing some kind of exercise, Roger Fick accidentally fell on his head and scratched his face. Arnold Hall men now claim him as chief acrobat.

Fahnestock men find the supplies of "Brownie's Kool Kat Counter" on second floor very handy when they want a small snack. You name it and they have it. One side of his room holds food supplies.

Leon Neher recently visited Rome while he was in Italy on his way to India. Some of the beautiful sights he saw were the Vatican City, St. Peter's Church, Mt. Vesuvius, and the beautiful scenery along the French Riviera.

SKINNE HALL

Although Kline Hall is occupied by a small number of girls, there are some exciting moments.

It seems as though quite a few of the girls are usually running up the stairs on the last whistle in the evening. Two of them did not seem to hit that last step in time, for their names appear on a small but significant paper tacked up in the hall.

A number of popcorn parties have been given by individuals at Kline. Popcorn, the main item of food, was popped in the apartment kitchen of the Kline girls.

One evening a watermelon was generously added to the menu of the party by some residents of Arnold Hall.

A farewell supper was given for Mary Ellen Waters and Rowena Fincke who joined the sister hall at Dotzour. Spanish food was served and cooked by some of the girls under the guidance of "Chef Romero."

A new member moved into Kline this week. Guess Who? A tiny gray mouse was found taking a nap under one of the sleeves of Bonnie Smith's winter coat which was hanging in the closet. The girls can't decide who was the most excited, the mouse or Rachel and Nellie. They all hope he doesn't choose the kitchen for his new living quarters.

At the dorm meeting an election of officers was held. They are: Ruth Kaufman, president; Mary Romero, vice-president; Phyllis Hamlett, secretary; and Nancy Ruth Erisman, treasurer.

A committee was also chosen to work on homecoming decorations for the hall.

Evelyn Williams and Dorothy Lucero are the two young housemothers who keep the girls in line around Kline.

Bob and Mary Lou Wise were notified Saturday morning that their younger sister was in a car accident Friday evening near their home. She underwent surgery Sunday morning and is recovering.

A shopping tour in Wichita highlighted the day for Bill Smith June McDaniel, Carmon Heidebrecht and Marian Sifford last Friday.

White, Furry Girls Study Rats In Class

Five white rats in a classroom! What can this have to do with getting an education?

Miss Mildred Siek, home economics teacher, obtained the rats from Kansas State College in Manhattan in order that her Food and Nutrition Classes might actually observe the animals' reaction to various types of diets.

Each rat except the one used for controlling the experiment will be given a different type of diet for several weeks.

Names have been given the rats by the class. The control rat is called Nellie Lo; the one to be given a calcium free diet is Bertie.

Another called Emmi is to be given a protein free diet; one by the name of Mill is to be given a diet consisting only of milk.

Maggi is going to eat the lunch of a typical high school or college student which will be a hamburger, coke and potato chip feast. (His reaction will be of special interest to Mac students.)

The names for the rats came from the nicknames of girls in Nutrition class.

The furry, pink-eyed, pink-footed pets (?) are kept in a large wire cage in the Home Ec Department will be on exhibit during Homecoming weekend.

Upon the completion of the experiment, the mice will again be on exhibit.

Lucille Hobson Attends Mac On Piney Woods Scholarship

Lucille Hobson came to McPherson College from the Piney Woods Country Life School in Piney Woods, Miss., where she was known as "L.A."

Lucille's coming was made possible through the efforts of the Piney Woods school principal and founder, Dr. Laurence C. Jones, and an international student grant-in-aid scholarship. The sources of such scholarships are organization individuals, church groups, and other interested parties.

While attending the Piney Woods school, Lucille excelled in hand music and Glee Club. She also worked in the campaign office of the school paper and acted as a school guide.

In giving her valedictory speech to the Piney Woods school, Lucille tells about her early life:

"I was born in a rural section of Rankin County in Mississippi. Realizing that my chances for getting an education were limited, I became discouraged at a very early age.

It was in 1943 that I first heard of Piney Woods School, an institution for underprivileged Negro boys and girls. Due to family conditions,

I was not able to enter school at Piney Woods until July, 1944.

Everything about the school was far different from the life from which I came.

My first job as a work student was cleaning the campus. As I grew, so did my responsibilities, and as I mastered one job, I was given another. Some of my jobs have been: dormitory cleaning, waiting tables; laundering; working in the mailing- and filing office; and teaching music. For the past two years I have been Assistant Band Director of the Piney Woods School Band."

Lucille is already using her leadership abilities by serving as secretary of the Junior class. She is also a trombonist in the new marching band.

Even though she did not know where she was going to college until a few days before she arrived at McPherson, Lucille is happy that she is here. She believes that McPherson is indeed a friendly school.

Dr. Maurice E. Strieby, who spoke on Friday morning, began his Bell System career in 1916. Dr. Strieby was in charge of the development of the coaxial system now used in the transmission of television pictures.

Canines Meet KWU For Homecoming

The mighty men from McPherson tangle with the boys from Kansas Wesleyan tomorrow in Mac's annual homecoming.

The entire campus has gone all out to make this the greatest homecoming ever.

Wesleyan has a good ball club, Coach Sid Smith reported. Their backfield is exceptionally fast and deceptive, and they have a 200 pound average in the center of their line. Their line is experienced in playing hard football.

Fisher and Emig are their fastest backs. Both are very elusive, but both are light. They also have a very good passing offense with two quarterbacks, Houdeck and Harris, that can throw the ball.

At their right end to catch the passes they have Forsbeck, who is a transfer from Garden City Junior College. Since they often pass to him, Coach Smith reports that Mac is working on pass defense and expects to intercept some of their tosses.

In their line they have Wilbur, a very rough boy at tackle. He will be a big obstacle to the Canines running offense.

McPherson expects a big homecoming Saturday, and to set off the homecoming festivities expects to come up with a victory over the coyotes.

Coyote Turns Bulldog Coach Anticipates Tomorrow's Game

Coach "Sid" Smith, the director of athletics and head football coach at MacCollege, is looking toward the homecoming game this Saturday with great anticipation.

Homecoming will have more than one meaning for Coach Smith. Sid graduated from Kansas Wesleyan and was an All-Conference selection at halfback for two years. He also was a stand-out basketball player for the Coyotes.

Sid has come a long way from his first coaching start at Simpson, Kans. He coached there nine years and then moved to Beloit for five years.

Sid then traveled to Highland Park of Topeka for three years and came to MacCollege two years ago.

Sid now traveled to Highland Park of Topeka for three years and came to MacCollege two years ago.

Coach Smith has high praise for the Coyotes and told this reporter, "The Coyotes will be seeking revenge for the defeat of last year, and they will have almost their entire team returning. They have an experienced line and a swift backfield."

The Bulldogs are taking nothing for granted. They want this homecoming game more than any other. The players have worked hard this past week, and the Coyotes had better come prepared for a rough and tumble game.

Athletic Girls Elect Officers

Arlene Merkey, president of the MacCollege Women's Athletic Association, conducted a meeting where Liz Swinger was elected vice president. Liz was elected to fill the vacancy left by Beverly Scheeter, former MacCollege student.

Liz had been W. A. A. tennis head so that position, also was reelected. Darlene Treloar fills the position of secretary. Marilyn Melcher, treasurer, and Clara Zunkel, publicity.

Sports heads include Betty Holderred, softball; Carilyn Krehbiel, outing; Evelyn Jarboe, tennis; and Nadene Correll, individual sports.

Initiation, for the new members will be held after the first season.

MCAC Picnics, Recreates

McPherson College Ag Club members enjoyed a weiner roast Monday Oct. 4 at Lakeside Park.

Twenty members were present for the picnic. There were plenty of buns, weiners, potato chips, apples, pop, and marshmallows for all.

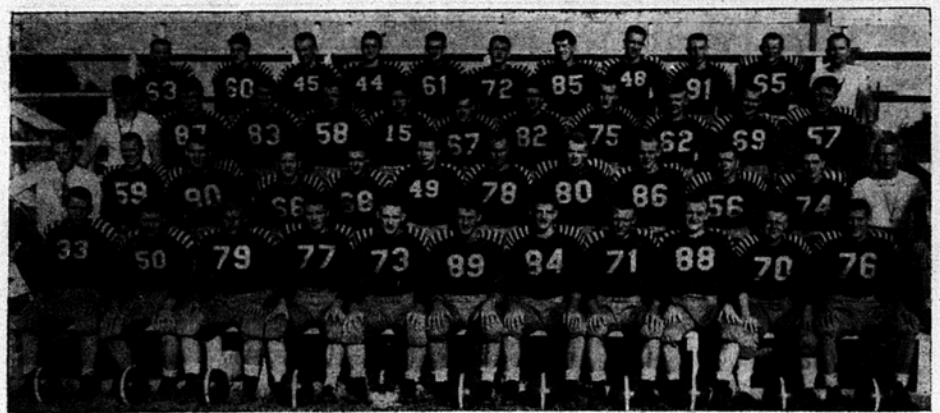

After eating, the members played touch football and softball.

C of E Tops Mac

The determined McPherson Bulldogs started fast last Saturday by scoring twice in the first quarter, but then ran out of steam under the potent attack of the College of Emporia team.

C. of E. last year's conference champs, came onto the field with virtually the same team that they fielded last year.

Led by their big fullback, Harkey, the Presbies soon showed their championship form in their running, blocking and tackling. McPherson's forward wall held for the biggest portion of the game, but the few exceptions hurt the Canines.

McPherson's Merle Rolfs drew first blood by scoring from C of E's 3 yard line. After a series of plays Harkey broke away and galloped 60 yards for C of E's first tally.

Mac came right back and piled over from five yards out to make it 12-6. The Presbies fired up and drove across from the 40 yard line. From there it was all C of E.

The final score when the gun sounded was 47-6 in favor of College of Emporia.

The McPherson team played good ball during the entire tussle, but were outclassed. The twelve points scored against them was equal to the total scored against the Presbies this year.

MCAC Visits Kansas City

Senior members of the MCAC club are planning to attend the American Royal in Kansas City, Mo., over the weekend.

The senior boys in MCAC are: George Boyd, Paul Coffman, Don Goodfellow, and Tom Taylor.

Each year the Peoples State Bank of McPherson, as an encouragement to good agriculture make this trip possible.

Stanley Sargent from the bank plans to take the four boys to Kansas City.

Watkins Plays Organ At Presbyterian Church

Carol Watkins, sophomore from Ottawa, Kansas is substituting temporarily as organist at the McPherson Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Quinn, regular church organist, needed an emergency substitution, and Carol went from the college organ department.

Fellows Start Projects In Bench Metal Lab

Alvin E. Willems, instructor in the farm shop department, reports that most of the boys have started making tool boxes after completing their funnels in Bench Metal lab.

The students must make a funnel as the first project in this course. After completing their funnels, they have their choice of what they will make the rest of the semester.

Some of the boys in other class work have been dismantling an old combine to salvage some of the scrap metal in it. This will later be used by the boys in different projects.

Professor Willems has completed a second motor mount for demonstration purposes. The first motor mount was constructed last year to mount an eight-cylinder Ford engine. The new motor mount is for a Chevrolet motor. The two motors will be used for class demonstrations.

WAA'sers Hike

Women's Athletic Association had an outing on Friday and softball practice on Saturday. There were about 25 girls participating.

W. A. A. is now clear of debt. They were able to pay the rest on the trampoline from the money they made serving at the football games.

Girls Cook Out

Mulligan stew, cocoa, and banana boats were the menu for the Home Economics Club Cookout held on Tuesday evening at Lakeside Park.

Each of the 25 girls at the picnic prepared her own stew and banana boats and the cocoa was served by the club.

Following the meal, a short business meeting was held in which their dues. Marinell Johnson, president, told the members that the club had been asked to serve a special dinner at Regional Conference, and the group decided to take on the project.
