Israel Shines Again In World

By Glenna Hawbaker

Israel, a small province on the eastern shore of the Mediterranean, shines again throughout the world this week.

Each Easter, many tourists visit the land of this man Jesus where they see where He lived, and where He worshipped and worship there too.

Not all of us have the opportunity to visit the Holy Land during the Easter season, but many of our thoughts are centered there during this time.

The Easter season also ushers in spring as the last days of winter leave until another year.

Each year spring comes through with the rebirth of life. Spring can be first noticed in the air as a freshness appears one sunny morning as the last of the snow melts.

The grass feels the urge of the spring and shows the new fresh blades as it gives the earth a carpet of new green.

As young as a spring day itself are the offspring who are witnessing their first experience of the coming of warmer weather.

The garden plot which has lain fallow all winter begins to get some attention as the family begins to prepare the plot for the year's crops of vegetables and flowers.

The farmer begins to get the machinery repaired for the field work this growing season.

Easter season and spring brings to the people a light after the dark of winter. It is a starting-over point with each receiving a newness from the new season.

According to the Israel Government Tourist Office, 60,000 visitors are expected in Israel in 1956.

Are You Guilty??

By Carl Harris
Do Macollege students study enough? Do extracurricular activities interfere with studying? Should regular study hours be enforced?

These questions are being seriously studied by the Macollege faculty.
A committee composed of Dr. Wesley DeCoursey, Dean James Herkibilo, Prof. Guy Hayes, Prof. Donald Frederick, and Coach Sid Smith is studying these problems at present; and they will soon make suggestions to the faculty as a whole concerning these questions.

The college has official study hours, which are published in "The Growl." They are: 8 a.m. - 12 noon, 1:15 p.m. - 4 p.m., and 7:30 p.m. - 10 p.m. However, these study hours are just on paper; they are not enforced or observed.

Some faculty members feel that students do not have enough time to study because too much of their time is taken by outside activities. They believe that something should be done so that students have more time open for studying.

It has been suggested that perhaps there should be one or two nights each week on which no activities could be scheduled so that students could have that time available to study.

An attempt may be made to reduce the number of campus organizations which have regular meetings, or to have these organizations meet less frequently.

The religious organizations on campus have taken a step in this direction. They have proposed a system whereby all campus religious groups would be organized under one central committee called the McPherson Christian Association. All religious groups would meet on Thursday night under this plan.

The faculty may also consider the problem of practice times for special events such as music events and dramatic events. The problem of how much time should be allowed for intra-murals will also be considered.

Religious Emphasis Ends
Religious Emphasis Week activities closed on McPherson College Campus with Dr. Jesse R. Ziegler's final address, "Mary, Did He Rise for You?" delivered last night in the sanctuary of the college church.
Dr. Ziegler, Ph. D., is professor of Christian Education and Psychology and the director of Counseling Services at the Bethany Biblical Seminary in Chicago. This noted author and lecturer led Religious Emphasis Week with the theme of "Jesus and Man."

Besides services each evening and for the 9:35 period each day, Dr. Ziegler led large group discussions in the SUR from 10:30-11:20 each morning, held individual conferences with students, and participated in the noon meals with the students in the cafeteria.

Dormitory discussions, spearheaded by Don Colberg, were held each evening following the evening message.
Dotzner Hall Lounge was the meeting place for all college women and discussions were led by Elaine Lucore, Dr. Wesley DeCoursey, and Prof. Merlin Frantz.

Fahnestock Hall discussions for its residents and off-campus men were led by Don Ulom and Dr. John Burkholder.
Arnold Hall residents and the College Married Mates met in Arnold Hall Lounge for discussions under the leadership of Gene Snyder and Coach Sid Smith.

Dale and Lois DeLauter, McPherson College seniors, were chairmen of the individual conferences, which were held one each half hour at designated times in the library basement.
Student Ministers met with Dr. Ziegler during the Monday noon meal with Dale Shenefelt as host. Other host and hostesses were Marilyn Metzker, Tuesday; Don Colberg, Wednesday; and Rita Evans, Thursday.

Max Parmley was chairman of the large group discussions held each morning following the chapel period.

The Vicious Cycle . . .
"You can't beat the system," moaned a student, looking over his grades for the past semester. "I decided to take basket weaving for a snap course, but two Navajos enrolled, raised the curve, and I flunked."

"Your last paper was very difficult to read," said the professor. "Your work should be written so that even the most ignorant will be able to understand it."
"Yes, sir," said the student. "What part didn't you get?"

A physician says one million women are overweight. These are, of course, round figures.
If you want to get next to something there's a lot of money in, just go and lean against a bank.

It's A Woman's World?

By Anne Kelm
The coming elections of the McPherson College student body officers bring to mind the candidates eligible for office.
Coming up with a new trend on the college scene is LaVerne College in California which installed into office a new "LADY BOSS", Wanda Weybright, a student from Burbank, has had only three female student council president predecessors according to research made by the CAMPUS TIMES, and she is the first "fem" prexy in recent years.

There is a rise of the woman executive on the American scene. Articles in leading magazines clear up a few fallacies about the woman boss.
McPherson College has, equally as much ability in the form of a feminine package.

Gals let's get busy and support a lady executive! The last president at Mac was Bonnie Martin 1955-51.

Pondering With The President

The recent very fine showing of our debate group in the regional Province of the Plains tournament causes us to say a word of congratulations to those who have worked hard and long in preparing debate cases and presenting debate arguments this year.

This is not a spectacular field, since the debaters must debate usually before an audience of only one, the judge. They grind through four or five sessions of debate in one tournament, working hard and hoping much. When they come out triumphantly in the end, as our debaters this year have done, they deserve the very earnest congratulations of the college they represent.

McPherson College is happy to congratulate them enthusiastically. But there are other of our students, likewise, who deserve congratulations.

All groups who have performed in the name of the college deserve congratulations. These groups are so numerous that it is difficult to particularize them. Among them, however should be mentioned:

The group who, recently put on a play, in very excellent manner before the Youth Regional Rally.

The entire Player's Club which throughout the year has entertained us in excellent style with plays from time to time.

The musical ensembles, both large and small, who have thrilled us with excellent music at various times throughout the year. These groups, moreover, have moved throughout the region and appeared in many different churches. Words from these churches indicate sincere appreciation from those who heard them.

The home economics and other groups which have put on dinners for us from time to time. These have been well prepared and well served.

The various groups who have led us in worship in the chapel or in the church week after week. They have lifted our hearts toward God.

The pep groups which have led our cheers and entertained us with skits. This has required a lot of work and planning.

The athletic groups who have played with vigor and determination. Though they did not always win, they played hard and our sincere congratulations are extended to them and to all who supported them.

Other groups, such as our international students who have presented programs to us, or in our communities and churches across our area. They have broadened our horizons.

The Spectator staff, which has produced for us a good and helpful paper week after week.

The Quadrangle staff, which is preparing for us a book which will thrill us when we see it.

The men and girls who care for our offices and keep our buildings clean.

The Dog House staff, the cooks, and assistants in the cafeteria, who feed us; and when we are through, clean up after us.

There is no end to those whom we should congratulate and thank. Our best wishes to all. It takes a lot of people to keep an institution working.

Humility is the beginning of wisdom.
Everyone should learn to fail intelligently.

Police Strike Again . . .

Smuggling Women?
Published in a recent edition of the Manchester Oak Leaves by our sister college in Indiana was this interesting excerpt:

"Recently when Howard Ballinger was driving Marie Pekar, Merle Benedict, Adele Gingrich, Alice Royer, and Carol Werking to a Regional Conference at McPherson, Kans., Ballinger was stopped by an Illinois State Police. 'What did I do?' stuttered Howard as he fumblingly produced his driver's license. 'Nothing necessarily,' said the policeman after a moment. 'But I thought maybe you were smuggling women over the state line.'

Roland Wray

Roland Wray is a senior from Lenox, Iowa, where he lettered two years. He is a consistent runner and takes his athletics seriously. He will run the half and quarter mile this year.

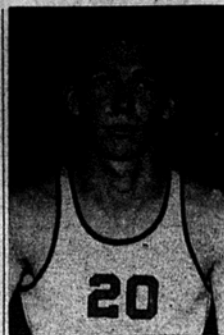

Huston Pulford

Huston Pulford is a junior, from Highland Park High School of Topeka. He is a transfer from Baker University. Huston plays a good game of tennis and will be pushing the leaders this season.

Ron Anderson

Ronald Anderson is a McPherson sophomore this year. He is an outstanding discus thrower and holds the college record. He lettered twice in basketball and once in track. Ron is a product of McPherson High School.

Gene Elliott

Gene Elliott is a freshman from McPherson High School. He has a fine pole-vault record there. Gene was one of the mainstays of the B basketball squad this year.

Defending Champs Work

Baker University will be a strong contender for the top spot in the Kansas Conference tennis race this spring. Six of their 1955 championship team returned, including Stan Werner.

Werner was first in conference play last season and fifth in the NIAA meet at Abilene, Texas. This year he will lead Baker in the singles divisions, and will team with Don Kukuk in doubles play. Werner and Kukuk placed second in doubles play in the conference last season.

Others who are highly rated are Swede Malm, Dick Maze, Bill Hines, Don Kelley, Bob Toole, Tom Kolancy, and Ray Browbridge.

Coyotes Bare Teeth For Track

Coach Gene Bissell has started track workouts on the Kansas Wesleyan campus with six lettermen back from last year. These men will form the nucleus of this year's track squad, which will open its season against Bethany at Salina.

These lettermen are Dave Soderberg, dashes for the third year; Gerald Toburen, broad jump for the third year; Gary Lajo, dashes and hurdles for the second year; Larry Houdek, dashes and hurdles for the third year; Gary Fisher, dashes for the third year; and Paul Smith, dashes for the third year.

Returning squadmen are Wes Jackson, distances; Ron Root, dashes; Jim McClain, dashes; and Les Toburen, field events.

Tusing To Be Licensed

Clifford Tusing, Macollege freshman, will receive his ministerial license when he journeys the 1400 miles to Baltimore, Md., for Easter vacation. In Baltimore, Clifford will give his first sermon on Easter Sunday.

His alternative service and his Brethren youth activities were the determining factors in Clifford's choice of the ministry for his life's work. He has led prayer groups and has taught Sunday school in previous years.

He plans to attend Bethany Seminary to complete his college education.

Two New AAU Records Set

Tommy Kono, Nisei weight lifter, moved out of the middleweight class to try for greater things in the light-heavyweight division.

Sports News By George!

Dons Do It Again
San Francisco upped its winning streak to 53, whipping Utah 92-77 last Saturday night in the NCAA quarter-finals at Corvallis, Oregon. The Utags were a little tougher than the usual SF foe, taking the lead once after the half 48-47.

Bill Russell turned in his customary All-American performance, scoring 27 points, and confounding Utah's Art Bunnie with his patented blanket defense.

K. C. Jones, San Francisco's All-American guard, played his last game for the Dons on March 6 at the Cow Palace. He lost a year of eligibility for only one game when appendicitis knocked him out four years ago. He is not eligible for any of the NCAA playoffs.

The Dons face Southern Methodist (25-2), the Southwest Conference titlist, in the NCAA semifinals in Evanston, Ill. Saturday. The other game will pit Iowa (19-6), the Big 10 winner, against Temple (24-3), the Middle Atlantic representative.

The NIT games at Madison Square Garden will be televised Saturday.

Pitt State Takes Third
Pittsburg State came out third in the NIAA playoffs which ended last Saturday night. Bruce Palmer, Pitt guard, was the only Kansan to be elected to the NIAA All-Star team.

John Landy holds the world's mile record of 3:58. He might have bettered that record March 10 had it not been for his tremendous sense of sportsmanship.

Landy Shows Sportsmanship
John was on his way to another four minute mile in the Australian Championships at Melbourne, when another runner tripped and fell 380 yards from the finish. Landy's spics saluted over the fallen man, and then Landy stopped and turned around to see if he could help the prostrate runner. The downed man said, "Get going, John. Don't worry about me."

John got going. He made up the 30 yds he had lost, passed the field, and won the race in 4:04.2. The stop probably cost him 5 or 6 seconds. It was estimated.

New Scoring Record
The Philadelphia Warriors set a new league scoring record March 8 when they slaughtered the Boston Celtics 142-120 at Philadelphia.

Burns Look Good
Last year's World Series champs, the Dodgers, are entrenched in an old Air Force base near Vero Beach Florida. All their old players are back, and several young hopefuls have been added. Johnny Podres has been given his draft notice, and will not be with the Burns this year.

They have won most of their exhibition games so far, and it looks like another year in which the Dodgers will be hard to stop in the National League.

Santee Runs Although Banned

Wes Santee has run three major meets since the AAU banned him for life. His time on the first two was not impressive, but the last one (4:04.8) showed promise.

Wes runs through the efforts of his lawyer, one Charlie Grimes. Charlie also runs, mainly to the Supreme Court of New York, which always gives him an injunction allowing Wes to participate in New York State.

However, the Ashland Antelope has been running largely alone. Nobody who is anybody will run with him, because of Avery Brundage's proclamation that those who run with him won't run in the Olympics.

If Santee does realize his ambition of making the injunction a permanent one, the situation still probably won't change. He will have won on paper, and be declared a true amateur by the New York Supreme Court, but the trouble is that this court conducts very few track meets, and has nothing to say regarding the running of the Olympics.

Some things are still very clear. One is that Santee is guilty of everything the AAU accused him of. Another is that Wes is really wasting his money, running alone. The AAU has made Wes a "horrible example", but a large part of this which has been ignored in the rash of feeling for the boy is that he brought it on himself by deliberately flaunting existing amateur rules.

At first it was easy for the public to feel sorry for Wes, but now it's beginning to wear a little thin.

Bulldogs 48 Years Old

McPherson College Bulldogs began their athletic history in 1908, winning one and losing one in basketball under Coach Wirt Salthouse. In 1909 Roy Bixby took over the coaching duties, leading the Bulldogs to a 13-8 season.

H. Lichtenwaller became head coach in 1910, and that year the team won 12 and lost 10.

In 1911 and 1912 the Bulldogs had to operate without a coach, but came out with an 8-2 record in 1912, although they won only 2 and lost 4 in 1911. However, these records are incomplete.
