

Students, Profs Prepare For All-School Picnic

Maccollege students and faculty will forget school work as they leave from Sharp Hall at 1:30 p. m., Monday, September 9, for the All-School Picnic sponsored by the Social Committee. The picnic will be held on the north-east side of Kanopolis Dam.

Everyone will meet in front of Sharp Hall before 1:30 p. m. and follow the marked route to the east shelter house at Kanopolis. Those who are able to take other students in their cars should contact Don Ulom, chairman of the transportation committee, if they have not already done so. Transportation will be arranged for those who do not have a way.

The classes for Monday will be telecast as follows:
7:45 classes will meet from 7:45 to 8:15.
8:40 classes will meet from 8:20 to 8:50.
9:35 classes will meet from 8:55 to 9:25.
10:30 classes will meet from 9:30 to 10:00.
11:25 classes will meet from 10:05 to 10:35.
1:15 classes will meet from 10:40 to 11:10.
2:10 classes will meet from 11:15 to 11:45.

This schedule makes it possible for all the classes to meet and clear the afternoon for fun.

The recreation committee is planning an afternoon of games, both group and individual. There will also be swimming. Peg Hoefler is serving as lifeguard.

By 5:30 p. m. after everyone has worked up a good appetite, a picnic supper will be served. Forty cents will be charged to cover the cost of the food.

Following supper there will be a vesper service with Max Farnley heading the committee. Vespers will be over at 7:30 p. m. to allow time to return to the college before dorm closing hours.

The All-School Picnic is an annual affair attended by students, faculty members, and families alike. Everyone sheds the cares of the classroom for an afternoon of recreation, fellowship, and food.

Housing Project Nears Completion

One of the three units in the new college housing project for married couples has been completed. It is expected that the other two units will be ready by the end of October.

Two units, or eight apartments, have one bedroom with the remaining unit, consisting of four apartments, having two bedrooms. The units are unfurnished except for a gas range and an electric refrigerator. Each apartment has its own forced air furnace, thermostatically controlled.

The completed unit is occupied and the apartments in the other units are reserved. The one bedroom apartments rent for $42.50 and the two bedroom units rent for $47.50 a month.

The total cost of the project is estimated at $60,000. It was decided that the project be paid for by the rent payments. Other colleges have used this system satisfactorily. Another group of three units will be constructed when the need becomes apparent.

Living in the completed apartments are: Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Blough, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wolf, and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Hoch.

The general contractor is Henry Peel of McPherson. The heating is by Albert Plumbing and Heating, plumbing by Carlson Plumbing, electric by McPherson Electric. The architect for the project is Carl Edwards of McPherson. The grounds will be landscaped and cared for by college grounds caretakers.

The picnic affords the faculty members a chance to meet more of the students while the students meet the faculty other than in the classroom.

The student members of the SoCo in charge are: Irene Shull, chairman; Virginia Bower; Dwight Blough; Don Holderread; and Jeanine Cotton.

Other committees of students have been appointed to provide a varied and interesting program. They include recreation, vespers, food, publicity, and transportation. Pat Schechter is the chairman of the recreation committee. Gene Myers, DeLaine Larson, and Ruth Kauffman are the other members of the committee.

On the vespers committee are Max Farnley, chairman; Ken and Carol Fancher; and Lois and Dale DeLauter.

Joe and Lucy Reeves are the chairmen of the food committee.

Library Serves Mac Students

Miss Virginia Harris, librarian, met with the orientation class today to give them their first library instructions. General rules of the library and its set-up were discussed.

Miss Harris has also outlined her four visits to each of the freshman English classes in which further instructions and aids will be given concerning the college library.

Some of the subjects to be discussed are classification of books, the card catalog, periodical indexes, and general reference books.

Maccollege library is of great service to the students and to the township, but it, too, has its rules and regulations. Because of the larger enrollment and increased demand for library material, it has become necessary to limit loan period for books, magazines, and pamphlets.

Books may be checked out for four weeks and may not be renewed. They are always due on Fridays.

Unbound magazines and pamphlets may be checked out for one week only and may not be renewed.

Bound magazines may be checked out overnight as reserved books. Periodicals and pamphlets are due on the date stamped on the date due slip, which is one week.

Fines are placed on books that are overdue. For overdue books and magazines the fine is two cents per day fine is charged. Reserved books cost five cents per hour when they become overdue. Reserved books are volumes which instructors have had removed Mrs. J. F. Siffer, Gary and JoEva Jones are working with them.

Jeanine Cotton, Duane Fike, and Arlene Watts are in charge of publicity. Jeanine is the chairman of the committee.

On the transportation committee are Don Ulom, chairman; LeRoy Buskirk, and Dwight Blough.

Mrs. Homer Brunk and Dr. John Burkholder are the faculty advisors of the SoCo.

To reach Kanopolis Dam, go on highway 50N about three miles past Conway and watch for the sign which says "Kanopolis Dam."

The road from thereon is marked. Follow the markers to the northeast shore where the picnic is to be held.

Another way to reach Kanopolis Dam, is go north to Lindsborg and turn south on Lindsborg's Main Street and go to junction of K4 and follow K4 west for 16 miles.

Then go north one mile, east one mile, and north another mile to the main gate. Follow the markers to the northeast shore where the picnic is to be held.

ed from the stacks and put on special shelves for the use of students in their studies of certain courses.

The following are current library hours:
7:45 a. m.—12 p. m., Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

Students Join College Church

Each year the McPherson Church of the Brethren holds a church service in which Maccollege students may become student members of that church for the duration of their stay in McPherson.

After Sunday's church service on Sept. 11, 93 persons had become student members. Others have filed cards indicating their student membership since that time.

That evening, following the membership service the McPherson Church of the Brethren entertained the Maccollege students at a reception in the basement.

This is one wing of the new housing project of Maccollege

Quays Have Boy

Jeffrey Eugene Quay came to stay with Clarence, '54, and Mary Quay on August 8, 1955. He weighed 7 pounds and 9 ounces.

Local Students Rank High On English Placement Test

McPherson High School graduates ranked high in the freshman English Placement Test scores. More than half the high scores went to them, and first place went to Myrna Nelson from the McPherson High School with the score of 140.

Out of a possible 150 points, Carl Harris, Jennings, La., and Glenn Lawbaker, Dallas Center, Iowa, tied for second place with a score of 139.

Three points lower with a score of 136 was a triple tie for the next place between Larry Hayes of McPherson, Ellen, Kurts of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Mary Beth Toile of McPherson.

Ten points lower and seventh in line was Wanda Swick of McPherson with a score of 126, and eighth place and 125 points went to Lyndell McDonald of McPherson.

There was a triple tie for ninth place at 124 points between Erma Lea Brewer of Prairie City, Ia., Don Cotton of McPherson, and Delores Wallace of Des Moines, Ia.

Since about 1950, the English Placement Test has been given each year to entering freshmen for the purpose of assigning them to sections on the basis of attainment and for corrective work in class later.

Maccollege students become student members of the McPherson Church of the Brethren for the coming school year in an impressive service held on Sunday morning, September 11.

Freshmen Wear Green Beanies

Tuesday following chapel the traditional freshman beanies were on sale. The freshmen are expected to be wearing, or have in their possession, the beanies at all times on and off campus except on Sundays.

How long the beanies will be worn depends upon the outcome of the tug-of-war to be held at the lagoon in Lakeside Park, probably sometime in October.

If the freshmen win the tug-of-war, the beanies may be removed. If the sophomores win, the beanies are to be worn until Thanksgiving vacation.

Dean J. M. Berkebile stated that the boys may remove the beanies inside a building as they would any other hat. The girls may leave the beanies on when they are inside a building.

The purpose of the beanies is not to make the freshmen feel inferior or green, but more as a means of identification. They identify the freshmen to one another, to the upperclassmen, and to the townspeople.

The Student Court is in charge of initiation activities and the enforcement of the regulations.

Correction

Last semester's honor roll was given in the first paper, but not quite all of it was there. Corrections and a sincere apology come from the editor.

Lending A Hand

School is now well under way, and as the old students realize, there are a great number of new faces. Slowly the new faces are becoming familiar.

But are we learning to know only the face, or does interest go further? Are we helping the ones who are new and strange to feel at home, or are we letting them get along as well as they can on their own?

Upperclassmen should pause and think back to the time when they were once lonely and lost freshmen. They were given help by some and perhaps disregarded by others. Those who helped will be remembered longer.

Many newcomers welcome even little bits of advice or information. Perhaps it is directions to a certain classroom. Maybe it does not even concern classes.

Everyone giving his bit of help and encouragement will make new friends, keep the old, and help life to be more enjoyable.

Student Ministers Say . . .

Soul Growth

By Lyall Shered

I heard a girl remark the other day, about Christian college. She said, "College is like a shoe factory; they polish the heels, repair the soles (souls), match them in pairs, and tie the knot." I personally do not know the validity of the last two statements, but I do know how very true the first two statements are.

At times all of us act like heels, the tendency seems universal. And our souls need repair as much as our lungs need air. College is a chance to grow. We must grow not only in academic knowledge, but in responsibility toward our duties to the society in which we live.

College is where we can realize our own value as living beings. I do not mean that we are learning to be egotistical or snobbish; but that here we have the opportunity to learn the true heritage and destiny of mankind. In college we have to grow beyond the point of being "tolerant" to that of genuine love for our associates. A full college education is not gained by just going to class, but by clubs and activities also. Do not look into clubs with the idea of what you can get out of them, see what you can put into them. If you do that you will gain more than you ever dreamed.

Of course, the main growth should be, as St. Peter said, "But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. To Him is the glory both now and until the day of eternity."

By Faith Man Knows God As Eternal Creator Of The World

By Kelly M. Day

While studying the account of the creation, Genesis 1 and 2, I was impressed by the order and majesty of the work of God. A great many people feel that God made something out of nothing. But we know that God is wisdom, and wisdom never undertakes to do the impossible.

The earth was without form and void, and from a coagulated substance God divided the various elements and turned chaos and confusion into order and system.

The fact that God had a material to work with does not in any way discount the power of God, but rather exemplifies his wisdom.

Often the question arises, Where did God come from? This is the area in which to apply faith. We know that God is eternal; we know that eternity is a vast expanse which stretches out in all directions, having no boundaries and no beginning or end.

Comprehension of such a vast expanse is beyond our ability; we can only try to realize that it does exist. The beginning of God thus lies out of our comprehension.

Not all things are profitable to know. Paul in writing to Titus, verse 9, chapter 3, says, "But avoid foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and strivings about the law; for they are unprofitable and vain."

The revelation of God to man only refers to our beginning and not to his. If man cannot fully comprehend or arrive at a unified decision about his own beginning or the revelation which he has received from God, then why should he ask for more?

Hebrews 11:6 states "But without faith it is impossible to please him; for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him."

There is sufficient evidence in nature to establish the fact that God is the eternal creator; his origin is unnecessary to know. Let us take the word of God to be the man of our counsel, and from our beginning, go on to know His will.

By Faith we know the worlds were made

By God's almighty word.

We know the elements shall melt.

And be again restored.

New Students Add Cosmopolitan Air

Two new international students joined the Macollege "family" this year. They are Vilas Likhite and Ramon Paoli.

Vilas Likhite is originally from Beroda, India, and lives in Elgin, Ill. He graduated from Elgin High School and intends to major in mathematics. Vilas says he chose McPherson College because he felt a sense of security among Brethren people.

Ramon Paoli's home is at Castaner, Puerto Rico. He attended the Brethren Academy there and received a scholarship. Ramon also came to Macollege because of its atmosphere. He plans to take a pre-medicine course.

Other well known international students at Macollege are: Gary Pamberg, Ahlen, Germany; Israel Zayas, Castaner, Puerto Rico; Ana Rosa Rodriguez, Castaner, Puerto Rico; Gwan Jo, Seoul, Korea; and Ted Kaltsounis, Igonmenitise, Greece.

Who Will Take Their Place

By Lorene Clark

(Ed. Note—Lorene Clark is a Mac graduate and a former editor of the Spectator.)

In the past two years McPherson College has been represented in the Brethren Volunteer Service program in Europe by nine young people. However, five of them—Lyle Neher, Glendon Button, Peggy Sargent Van Asselt, Donna Sooby, and Mario Oltman—have completed their terms of service and are returning, some to McPherson College, and some to other fields of work.

When will there be more young people from McPherson to take their places?

For the past two years, Lyle Neher has been working on a refugee farm near Istanbul, Turkey. Glendon Button is Heifer Project representative in Austria; Peggy Van Asselt and Donna Sooby in children's hospitals in Germany; and Mario Oltman in Kingsley Hall, a settlement house in London.

At the present time, Kenneth Sheaffer is working on a school reconstruction project in Vienna, Austria; Esther Mohler is the representative for the student exchange program in Germany; and Maud Dittmars is a secretary at Brethren Haus in Kassel, Germany.

Lorene Clark is working in a family refugee camp in Germany; Lena Belle Otwin Mullen is also living in Germany as the wife of the director of BSC in Germany, Wilbur Mullen.

Ponder With The President Teacher, Friend, or Enemy?

It may be easy, during these fall months, to get the concept in mind that teachers, even very good teachers, are enemies rather than friends.

This may come about because it is difficult to settle down easily to hard study, it is easier to be out in the open air under the stars than to be in a room or library studying.

It is easier to go to a movie than to study. Yet the teacher expects you to study. He would like to have you get your class work done, would like to have you know what the particular subject he is teaching is all about.

Therefore, he presses upon you certain duties and his fellow teachers do the same. You, therefore, have to do the thing which you would rather not do; dig in, study, do research, write papers. Almost unconsciously you begin

From Aug. 29 to Sept. 4, the 70 BSC workers in Europe met at Kassel, Germany, for their tenth Annual Conference, coming together from Greece, Turkey, Austria, Switzerland, Germany, and England.

The theme for the conference was "The Majesty of His Cause." Some of the leaders included John Metzler, Europe secretary for supplies commodities under World Council of Churches; William Behm, Dean of Bethany Biblical Seminary; Harold Row, executive secretary of Brethren Service Commission; and M. R. Zigler, director of Brethren Service Commission in Europe.

One of the highlights of the conference was a dedication service on Sunday, Sept. 4, at Schwarzenau, birthplace of the Church of the Brethren, of the new Alexander Mack School, to which the Church of the Brethren has contributed $15,000 as a living memorial to the founders of the church.

Many of the BVSers at the conference were IWS, who are serving their alternative service under the program sponsored by the Church of the Brethren.

The main purpose of this conference was to help the workers to go back to their individual projects with increased inspiration to work for the cause of peace and brotherhood.

to think of the teacher, not as your friend, but as your taskmaster and your enemy.

This is a wrong and unfortunate attitude, for the teacher is really your friend. He has gone through everything you are now going through. In fact, before he could get his M.A. degree, or his Ph. D. degree, he went through things which make what you are now doing seem relatively easy.

He knows that if you do well what you are supposed to do now, you will likely be more successful in life than if you do not do it. He knows, also, that if you ever do want to get an M. A., a Ph. D., or an M. D. degree, or an engineer degree, or any degree, you will be able to do it much more easily if you dig in and study now.

So, he is trying to help you, not to hurt you. He is your friend, not your enemy. He is thinking of you ten years from now; you may be thinking of yourself only now.

A second thing that we ought to remember in relation to our teachers is that they want to help us outside the classroom, also. They have had more years of experience than you have had. They may have some insights which you do not have.

If you have a problem your teachers will be pleased to try to help you.

Or the teacher will be pleased just to sit down and talk with you about anything. He would like to learn to know you better; thus he will be able to understand your method of working and your manner of thinking better.

Teachers are your friends. They are here to help you. Why not let them?

Public discussions are useful because they disturb complacency and lead to the restless uncertainty about one's self that has long been known as the beginning of wisdom.

Bulldog Biscuits

MacCollege campus had its share of visitors last weekend. Nadene Correll and Keith Lauer were here on Sunday and visited Wayne and Ann Price. Nadene is an elementary teacher at Hillsboro.

Jack Mason returned to the campus to visit Virginia Bower. Jack graduated from McPherson and is now attending Emporia State Teachers' College.

Wayne Grossnickle wasn't a visitor. He's here to stay, but he brought his sister, Ruth, along with him. She is teaching at Fonda, Iowa.

Evelyn Williams was on the campus Sunday visiting Max Parmley.

Saturday night brought a new addition to the Ralph Royers: a girl, Linda Kay, 6 pounds, 9 ounces. Ralph and Florence are on the campus this year after spending a term of service in Africa.

Louis and Anne Eller McKellip were gifted with Robert Leland sometime in August. They both attended Mac in 1953-54 and are now in Alternative Service in Ohio.

MacCollege should have a good football team this season, especially with all the effort those Bulldogs are putting forth. Anybody that gets up early has probably heard that old whistle and the "One, two, one, two" echoing across campus. That isn't the only hawk to day they go through that, either.

There is really no need to announce this, because everyone knows it, but this will make it official. Congratulations to Norman Long and Kay Chaney on their engagement. The news came in Dotzour Hall last Monday night with "Congratulations to you, congratulations to you..." ringing down the halls.

With all these engagements being announced, it is really only fair to make this one public. This will probably be the last of the engagements on the campus, but campus playboy, Duane Fike, is engaged and planning a wedding in the near future. The lucky (?) bride to be is a widow, a very rich widow, named Mrs. Sherk. Duane has given her a cigar band from the very best brand of cigars. Mrs. Sherk is 84 and owns oil wells in Texas.

Don't forget the all school picnic on Monday—lots of fun for everybody. And by the way—don't the freshmen brides add color to the campus? They are the most in millinery. Everybody thinks so but the freshmen.

Residents of second floor in Dotzour Hall helped Verona Thralls celebrate her birthday last Monday. They all had dinner in the cafeteria and then had cake and ice cream later in the dorm.

MacCollege campus had its share of visitors last weekend. Nadene Correll and Keith Lauer were here on Sunday and visited Wayne and Ann Price. Nadene is an elementary teacher at Hillsboro.

Miss Carol Watkins and Mr. Kenneth W. Fancher were united in marriage May 30, at 7 p. m. in the Church of the Brethren, Ottawa, Kans. Dr. Raymond L. Flory officiated.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white, trimmed with lace, with a scalloped hemline and neckline. Her bridal veil was held in place by a tiara of lily of the valley. The bride's one attendant was Mary Alice Smith of Beaver, Iowa. The best man was Dean Reynolds of McPherson.

Candles were lit by the bride's brother, Dean Watkins. Ushers were Don Ullom and Leland Lengel, McPherson College students.

The bride came down the aisle to piano music played by Mrs. Paul Sollenberger. Mrs. Sollenberger also accompanied Miss Connie Brooks who sang. Mr. Paul Sollenberger played two selections on the violin.

A reception followed the ceremony at the bride's home. After the reception the couple left for several days honeymoon in the mountains of Colorado. They spent the remainder of the summer working in Oregon and Rocky Ford, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Fancher are both enrolled in McPherson College in Music Education.

Students Spend Summer In Camps

Betty Holderread, senior from Ripley, Okla., and Joyce Flory, sophomore from Clarance, Iowa, represented the college as leaders in Brethren junior high and youth camps during this past summer.

This was done on a volunteer basis. Before they began camp work, they attended leadership training classes at Camp Schwarzenau, Nebr.

The first camp they worked in was the Kansas Junior Camp at Tonganoxie. The rest, seven altogether, were youth camps in Oklahoma, Colorado, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas, and Texas. They spent a week in each camp.

Their duties were to lead recreation, music, arts and crafts, discussion groups about Church history and social problems, and other interesting subjects. Besides this, they planned worship services for morning watch, vespers, and campfires.

They also served as cabin counselors.

In addition to youth camps, they attended part of the Nebraska Family Camp, Glenn Swinger, Betty Lou Herschberger, and Mr. and Mrs. Max McAuley were other MacCollege leaders in the Nebraska camp.

Camping involved much work for Betty and Joyce. However, the fun and the spiritual values made it very worthwhile to them.

As a farewell in the Nebraska camp, a lakeside communion service was held.

Betty and Joyce had an opportunity to meet church leaders and Brethren young people from all over the region, to develop leadership qualities, and to deepen their spiritual life, besides traveling nearly 4,000 miles.

There has been in recent years excessive emphasis on a citizen's rights and inadequate stress upon his duties and responsibilities.

Bulldogs Meet Kearney Tonight In Season's Opener

Tonight the Macollege Bulldogs, under the direction of Head Coach Sid Smith, will be in Nebraska, where they take on the Kearney State Teachers College in the season's opening non-conference battle.

The Kearneymen are expected to be a rough shod crew; however the Bulldogs are not letting that bother them. They are showing a mighty will to play and win, and with this attitude the season's prospects are bright.

There are 13 returning lettermen to the team, and many of the newcomers are showing a promise of good things to come. Five others of the returning players were provisional lettermen last year.

During the 1953 gridiron season, Macollege took on Kearney for the first time since 1937. Macollege proved themselves the superior team by trouncing Kearney 33 to 14.

Last year, despite a lopsided score, 53-6, the Bulldogs gave a good account of themselves, as the actual box score shows. The Teachers had 11 first downs while Macollege followed closely with an even 10.

Also, they had merely 146 yards net in rushing to the Bulldogs 110 yards. The difference came in the form of carelessness, a malady all coaches dread. A few lapses of memory and a few sloppy pass completions were the probable cause of the final score.

The fray between Kearney and the Bulldogs promises to be a tough battle, but the Bulldogs and their fine team spirit have a good chance to come out on top.

Bulldog Facts

Macollege has many men returning to the football squad this year, and many who are just now beginning their college football career.

A 170-pound fullback from McPherson is Charles Bair, who has just returned from the service. Bob Barker, guard from McPherson, is working for his second letter in football. Bob weighs 167 and serves in the center of the line.

Another Bob is Bob Bean of Lorraine, Kans. He has just returned from the service and is back for his fourth year with the Bulldogs as a 160-pound halfback.

Steve Bersuch, a 5-foot, 11-inch, 200-pound senior, is being shifted from guard to tackle this year. Steve played fullback on the McPherson High School team. Freshman J. T. Boardman from McPherson, 164 pounds, plays an end position.

Starting his second year as fullback for the Bulldogs, George Casebeer, a McPherson High School graduate, will be throwing his 175 pounds into a few kicks.

A freshman center, Don Cotton, McPherson, weighs 171 and was elected to the National Honorary Scholastic Society last spring. Another freshman, Dick Frasier, Charles City, Iowa, weighs 165 and plays end position.

Al Gibbons is a 185-pound end from Kansas City. He is a freshman. Sophomore Earl Guiot, Glasco, Kans., has been shifted from quarterback to a guard.

McPherson freshman, 164-pound Richard Heidebrecht, has been trying out for the quarterback position.

A Junior from Dwight, Kans., Willis Hoch, will be using his 230 pounds for tackling. Rickie Hood, 173 pounds, is attempting to make his home state of Missouri look good by making a good guard.

One hundred and sixty-pound Dwayne Jeffries, Ringwood, Okla., runs from the right halfback position. Freshman Marvin Keck moved to McPherson from Nebraska and is trying for the halfback post.

He weighs 158.

Dick McGuire is returning as a junior after being out of school for a year. He formerly played on his high school team at Pratt, Kans. Jerry McPherson, McLouth, Kans., 6-foot, 3 inches tall, 190 pounds, has been working for an end position.

Senior Don Moeller, Overbrook, Kans., has been shifted from center to tackle. He was all-conference center two years ago and was guard his freshman year. Also his brother Gene Moeller is working at both center and guard.

Ramon Navarro is a 130-pound freshman from Falfurrias, Texas. He is working out at the left halfback position. Vernon Petefish, a junior end from Iowa, is back after a term in the service. He is trying for right end position.

Tom Ragland is a freshman from Lawrence, Kans. He is fast and is a good passer. A junior from Albia, Iowa, Cliff Reeves is using his 231 pounds to make a good tackle.

Louis Roberts, Quinter, Kans., is beginning his third year in the center position. He is a 170 pound Junior.

Another Junior, Merle Rolfs, Lorraine, Kans., began as a guard and is now a fullback. Larry Sams, freshman from Simpson, Kans., is called small but mightily with his 155 pounds.

Ron Sams, senior from Simpson, Kans., hopes to keep his 167 pounds in the game this year. He had several injuries last year. Big Ed Sisk, sophomore from Highland Park High in Topeka, has been shifted from center to end.

Marlin Sittner came to McPherson from Bushon. He played fullback last year and weighs 176. This year he is playing guard. A senior from McPherson High School, Bill Smith, has lettered every year at end and tackle. This last year's co-captain weighs 204 pounds.

Sid Smith, son of the coach, is starting his second year as wingman for the Bulldogs. Jim Snyder, junior from York, North Dakota, weighs 170 pounds and is trying for end position.

Galen Stucky was shifted from end to halfback last year and will continue that role this year. Galen, coming from McPherson High School, suffered a broken collarbone last year.

Freshman quarter back from Moundridge, Kans., Kenneth Stucky, is a good kicker and passer and weighs 180 pounds. Marvin Switzer, Haxtun, Colo., weighs 170 pounds and is a freshman guard. Chuck Vance is a junior from Twin Falls, Idaho, who weighs 190 pounds and is playing guard this year.

A freshman from Corpus Christi, Texas, Rodney Westmorland weighs 155 pounds and is working for a halfback position. Team mate of Jerry McPherson, Donald Wilks, McLouth, Kans., will play opposite Jerry on the team.

Senior Bob Wise, Fernald, Iowa, is back in his original position of guard after playing tackle last year. He has lettered for three years.

Last, but not least, Ed Wolf started to school at Manhattan, then transferred to McPherson. He was first string quarterback last year and is a good punter, drop kicker, and student. He comes from Quinter, Kans.

Ban Johnson Ball Comes To Town Of McPherson

Ban Johnson Baseball is one of McPherson's newest sports. This was organized during the summer for boys up to the age of 21 years. Ban Johnson was a famous player in the American League who helped younger teams to get a start in baseball. The new McPherson baseball team was named after him.

McPherson's team was sponsored by 12 different civic clubs and organizations of the city. Each club sent one director and then officers of this director's board were elected.

It cost approximately $5,500 to outfit the Bee Jays of Mac. The Ban Johnson team has been disbanded until next spring. Representation from Macollege on this team was Bob Wise, Larry Sams, and Ron Wingrove, the latter of whom played in the top 25 hitters of league play.

Another Mac player, Rick Herscher, won the batting title with a .403 batting average. Rick attends SMU and originally came from St. Louis.

Ten teams participated in the Western division of Ban Johnson baseball. Second half play wound up in the following order:

Smith, Keim, Wareham Coach Mac Football Squad

In case some students have not had the pleasure of meeting and knowing the Bulldog coaching staff, here are some bits of personal background of the Macollege athletic supervisors.

Three men give all or part of their time to the athletic program. Head coach is Sid Smith; assistant coach, George Keim; trainer, Dick Wareham.

Head Coach Sid Smith — The Macollege athletic program has been under the leadership of Coach Sid Smith for two years. During these past two years, Sid has won the respect of the entire McPherson College family, including the boys on the college teams, fellow faculty members, and spectators from the entire community.

COACH SID SMITH
Sid had previously held coaching positions at Simpson, Beloit, and Highland Park High School at Topeka. While at Beloit, his football teams played 50 games, winning 31, while losing 15 and having four draws. During his stay in Topeka, he coached some of the outstanding teams of the state.

Sid's first year at McPherson found the football team losing only one game and placing second in the Kansas conference. Last year Sid was rebuilding the football team because of heavy losses from graduation the year before.

This year Sid will field a more experienced team which will be out to go all the way, win or lose. Sid and his wife Frances have two sons, Sidney Rae, a sophomore at Mac, and Steve Allen, four years old.

In addition to his coaching ability, Coach Smith has made a significant contribution to the entire college program. Not only is he a coach and counselor to his teams, but he is a friend and counselor to all students.

Assistant Coach George Keim — George Keim established an outstanding record in football while he was a student at McPherson College, but he was active in all phases of college life. During his senior year he served as president of the student body and directed the Student Council in its activities.

George was a member of the Little All-American Team for two years. As an outstanding tackle, George was one of the few McPherson College men to be selected as all-conference all four years of his college career.

Having a position on an all-conference team for four years is an outstanding accomplishment in any league, and from all appearances George, who is now serving his second year, is going to progress to even greater success as a coach.

He has been a welcome addition to the coaching staff of McPherson and has helped to carry on the fine tradition of good clean sportsmanship which is highly valued at Macollege.

ing, for he is in his eighth year at McPherson. Although basketball is Dick's long suit, Dick has a fund of football information under his close-cropped hair.

Dick's outstanding contribution is made as the team trainer. His expert handling of the conditioning of the team, his care of injuries, and his keeping a watchful eye on personal problems is as valuable to the Bulldogs as a star quarterback, and it would be hard to field the team without him.

Dick is also the director of the intramural sports program, which will start soon with volleyball. Directing intramurals at McPherson can turn into a tremendous job because of the large number of students who participate, and Dick pours much painstaking effort into the program.

Dick and his wife Cosette have three children, Scottie, Wanda, and Kirk.
