

Call To Witness Program Moves To Second Phase

The Call to Witness program of the McPherson Church of the Brethren is moving into its second phase, the preaching mission.

George Keim, chairman of the Call to Witness committee, met with the committee earlier and selected six team captains and the captains selected five members for their team. The teams then met and went out, two by two, to visit each member of the church.

The evangelistic portion of the program, in connection with the 250 Anniversary of the Church of the Brethren, is to call upon the responsibility of each member to try to gain new members. Dale Brown will be the speaker of the preaching mission week, March 15-22.

The purposes of the Call to Witness are 1.) to make each member feel his responsibility to witness, 2) to inform the church membership of Lenten activities, 3) extend to the membership a call to pray (In connection with the World Day of Prayer and the Prayer Vigil), and 4) to extend Call to Witness to Church Fellowship.

Church membership renewal Sunday, Feb. 15, began the Evangelistic Call for Membership, Feb. 15 through March 15.

The McPherson College students plan their Call to Witness March 8 to 14, before Holy Week services. This Student Visitation will not be denominationally limited.

REW Speaker To Be Brown

Rev. Dale W. Brown, Macollege assistant professor of philosophy, will be the main speaker of the Preaching Mission — Religious Emphasis Week this year at the College Church and on the campus, March 15-22.

Both the college and the church are cooperating in this program. Due to time limits, there are less programs on the campus this year than in previous years, however.

Prof. Brown will be giving nine sermons during the week. One of the two Chapel services during the week will consist of a concert by the A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Donald Frederick, professor of music.

Committees Plan Booster Banquet

Prof. Guy Hayes is the arrangements chairman for the Booster Banquet which will be March 14 in the Community Building.

Girls from the Home Economics Department under the supervision of Miss Mildred Siek will be in charge of the foods.

Physics Prof. Visits N.Y. Meet

George Arnold, professor of mathematics and physics at McPherson College, attended the combined meeting of the American Association of Physics Teachers and the American Physical Society in New York, Jan. 28-31. He left Monday, Jan. 28, for the three-day meetings in the New Yorker Hotel and returned Sunday, Feb. 1.

About 3500 people attended the meeting, the big physics conference of the year. On exhibit at the conference was research apparatus available for school physics departments.

One company had apparatus imported from Russia available for sale to the people present at the conference. Prof. Arnold said this about the Russian apparatus: "pretty good apparatus; prices not too high."

On his return to McPherson, Prof. Arnold stopped at Princeton, N. J., to visit his brother-in-law, and observed the "Project Matterhorn" there. "Project Matterhorn" is concerned with experiments in fusion and control of the hydrogen bomb.

Prof. Arnold is also the coordinator of the TV course offered at McPherson College and, while in New York, he visited the NBC studio and watched the rehearsal and broadcast of a TV program. He also met the instructor of the course, Dr. White.

Fondling With The President

Where Are You Looking?

By Dr. D. W. Bittinger

"Two men looked through prison bars;
One saw mud, the other stars."

The opportunity for seeing was the same for both men. One was encouraged and uplifted as he looked, the other became downcast and discouraged. The difference depended upon which way they looked.

But which way they looked depended upon the men. Some people perpetually look up; others continuously look down.

At McPherson College, or anywhere else, it is possible to make friends for a life-time, to discover new lines of exploration and thinking, to lay the groundwork for an increasingly broad and beautiful future.

On the other hand it is possible to discover that people are not as good as we hoped, to be unhappy about food, lodging, heat, snow, ice, examinations, term papers, and to tie up a lot of time in talking about these things.

Which way are you looking?

Monument Dominates Skyline For 74 Years

Dominating the Washington, D. C. skyline, is the Washington National Monument which was dedicated on Feb. 21, 1885.

The cornerstone of the white Maryland marble structure was laid July 4, 1848. The monument was erected by the Washington National Monument Society with funds obtained by popular subscription.

Set into the interior walls of the 81,120 ton structure are 189 memorial stones from foreign countries, the 49 states, cities and organizations.

Correction

It was erroneously printed in last week's paper that Bob Wise had graduated in '54 and Anita (McSpadden) Wise had graduated in '54. Bob actually graduated in '56 and Anita in '57.

Dell Will Attend

Professor S. M. Dell, dean of men, will attend the Adult Seminar in Washington, D. C. sponsored by the Church of the Brethren. Prof. Dell will leave directly from the clinic meetings in Iowa.

Man's Wife Is His Savings

What is a wife worth? This question is answered by an exhibit fixed by the Family Finance Class on second floor Harnly. The theme is "Man's Best Investment: His Wife."

The following is a list of household jobs a wife saves her husband — free of charge.

A wife is a private nurse who could be paid $3,700; and a veterinarian worth $9,000. By being a general housekeeper she saves $3,120, and $3,700 by being his secretary.

As a home economist, she is worth $4,500, and as a cook and baker $7,290. The husband saves $2,080 by having her for a laundress, and $3,250 as a dressmaker.

She saves $3,500 as a hostess and $8,000 as a purchasing agent. Being a chauffeur, she saves $3,300.

As she washes dishes and plants the earth she saves $5,380; and as the handyman, she saves $3,700.

Husbands!! Did you realize how much wives are worth?

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bible

HI, COME NOW—YOU KNOW VERY WELL WHAT I MEAN BY AN ORAL EXAMINATION

Virginia Gentleman Becomes National Leader

One December day in the year 1788 a Virginia gentleman sat before his desk in his mansion beside the Potomac, writing a letter.

He was a man of fifty-six, tall and of strong figure, but with shoulders a trifle stooped, enormously large hands and feet, sparse grayish hair, a countenance somewhat marred by lines of care and marks of smallpox — the kind of man to whom one could entrust anything.

The years had passed and the same figure, had taken command of an army of peasantry that was with their King.

Dorchester Heights, Brooklyn Valley Forge, Lee, Clinton, Cornwallis — what memories! Lastly, a Cincinnati grown bent and gray in service leaving his farm to head his country's civil affairs and to give confidence and stability to an infant government by his wisdom and character.

Here, with bared heads, let us take leave of him — a farmer, but "the greatest of good men and the best of great men — George Washington."

Connell's Corner

Someone at Macalester College in St. Paul has been putting strange things in campus post office boxes, the MAC WEEKLY reports.

The unusual objects have ranged from a glass of water to a dissected frog.

The postmistress is as mystified as anybody, but she does say that seeing so many smiles on students gives her morally a real boost.

Do automobiles and scholarship mix? This question has been confronting educators across the nation.

No, says Madison High School, Rexburg, Idaho. A study made of the four-year grade averages of a typical Madison senior class and car drivers showed the following:

No straight A student had the use of a car. Only 15% of the B students drove a car to school.

Of C students, 41% brought cars to school.

Of D students, 71% drove to school.

Of E students, 83% drove to school.

As a result of the study, Rexburg's Board of Education adopted a resolution on August 11, 1958, which specified that—

- (1) Junior and senior high school students who drive cars to school must make written application to the School Board showing the reason or need to drive their cars to school. Those granted permission will receive student permits.
- (2) Students driving cars to school on the student permits must park them in designated areas.
- (3) Students failing to comply with established rules and regulations will have their student permits revoked . . .

The University of Virginia has recently banned all student-owned automobiles from the campus because of their adverse effect on scholarship. Princeton University has forbidden car privileges for students since before 1945.

The month of February has produced some unusual weather. Sounds of thunder and flashes of lightning dotted the sky earlier last week.

The showers, although they first formed a coating of treacherous ice, brought welcomed moisture to the dry thirsting soil.

Macollege Pep Band Plays Marches, Jazz

Musical entertainment at half time and pep music throughout all of the home basketball games this year has been supplied by the McPherson College Pep Band, a group of musicians chosen from the members of the concert band.

The pep band, made up of 22 members, rehearse twice weekly. The band plays mostly marches and pep numbers but throws in a few modern pop and jazz arrangements.

The personnel of the pep band, according to director Irvin Wagner, has been selected from the personnel of the concert band on the basis of musicianship and dependability.

After basketball season the band may present programs in several high school assembly programs, but nothing definite has been planned as yet. There is also a possibility of a chapel program in the future.

Under the leadership of Irvin Wagner, the band includes five saxophones — Delores Lehman, Lynda Igel, Elma Holmes, Shirley Turner, and Norma Hintz; three trumpets — Jim Quinn, Pat-sy Bolen, and Galen Huffman.

Four trombones — Gary Steiling, Marvin Weddle, Bob Dell, and Glenn Ferguson; three clarinets — Eileen Oltman, Mary Lou Kingery, and Kathy Ratts; two flutes — Carolyn Fillmore and Harvey Hess.

Two baritones — Dohn Kruch-witz and Tom Henderson; one bass — Danil Olmsted; and two percussionists — Ann Swinger and Joyce Berry.
Music majors in the band will get an opportunity to direct the band before the year is over.

in a discussion of rural living. This discussion will include industrial arts, home economics, agriculture, etc.

Marshalltown
The morning and afternoon of Friday the 27th the men will meet with the Men's Work of the three districts of Iowa and Minnesota. It is this Men's Work group that is sponsoring the educational clinic.

The Men's Work meeting will take place in Marshalltown, beginning at 10:30 Friday morning. Dr. Bittlinger will discuss the future of Brethren Service during the forenoon meeting.

After dinner the men will hold their business session. The men's group has taken on the goal to encourage students to attend their church school and to support the college as much as possible.

Friday evening the five faculty members will attend an alumni reunion at 6:30 in Des Moines.

South Waterloo
Saturday the clinic will be held at the South Waterloo Church in Waterloo. This clinic will be similar to the clinic held at the Panther Creek church. The clinic, as at the Panther Creek Church, will take in surrounding churches.

Saturday evening the five faculty members will again attend an alumni reunion this time being held in the South Waterloo Church.

Sunday morning Dr. Bittlinger will preach at the Waterloo church. The faculty members, with the exception of Professor Dell, will leave immediately following the church service for Mac.

The idea for the clinics came from the Dec. 20th meeting of the men's group. The college trustee from the district is responsible for setting up the clinics.

The Fall Of Mac's Foe

By Faus, Foley, and Harris
And it came to pass in those days that the Ottawa Empire arose in the East, full of arrogance and conceit, and they waxed powerful and conquered many foes.

And always they entered the court with boastful chants, and always they left with gloating and songs of praises.

But in those days there also arose in the West in the House of McPherson, mighty warriors, fleet of foot, keen of eye, and tenacious as Bulldogs. And they made baskets in good measure, dunked down, arched through, and laid in great abundance.

But the Ottawans ravished the land, and verily, for twenty-six battles they overcame their opponents — by good fortune escaping the wrath which was to come. And it seemed that none could stand before them.

But McPherson pondered these things in their hearts, and ate a good breakfast.

In the fullness of time, the Ottawans swooped down from the East and did invade the court of McPherson. And a great cloud of witnesses gathered round about to see this thing which had been foretold and written as a sign on the doorposts of the land.

And the Ottawans chanted blasphemy, numbering their fallen foes.

Then the battle raged, the trumpet sounded, and the people shouted, "Fight!"

And the opponents fell upon each other with a vengeance, the battle waged up and down the court. The victory hung in the balance, and the scales did sway from side to side.

And when the opponents paused in mid battle to rest, the spectators from the House of McPherson ate and strengthened themselves.

The battle resumed, and the vigor of the warriors from McPherson did mount up like eagles, they ran and were not weary, they fought and did not faint.

And when the heat of the battle came, the prophecy was fulfilled, and McPherson smote their foes with a mighty stroke.

The Ottawa Empire fell, its tally stopped at twenty-six, and it was buried with a stick of carrot through its heart.
