Blood donors were recruited from Macollege faculty and students this week for the April 20 visit of the Red Cross bloodmobile to Macampus.

Solicitors Meet

Student solicitors met Monday evening, April 6, with Mrs. Simon Strouse, chairman of the McPherson County blood program; Mrs. Naomi Rafaelson, McPherson County Red Cross executive secretary; and Mrs. Homer Brunk, Red Cross college representative.

Mrs. Strouse explained the history of the blood program, the need for blood, and the uses made of the blood which is donated. Supplies and instructions for the solicitation were given.

Central College students and faculty are also participating in the April 20 bloodmobile visit and will come to Macollege to give their blood.

A total of 200 volunteers is being sought since a goal of 160 pints of blood has been set for this visit.

Anyone who has not registered to give blood may see Mrs. Elsie Holderread, secretary to the dean, to fill out a blood donor card.

The bloodmobile equipment will be set up in the basement of the Church of the Brethren, and both Red Cross and McPherson registered nurses will be on duty at the blood center at all times.

Meal Served

A free meal prepared by the Home Economics Club will be served to all those volunteering to give blood on April 20.

Mrs. Arlene Rolfs, senior home economics major, and Miss Mildred Siek, professor of home economics, are supervising the planning, preparation and serving of the meal.

Students who are unable to donate blood are being recruited to serve as hosts and hostesses, to do typing, to help set up and take down the equipment, to drive the Red Cross car to bring the Central College donors to the center, and to do some telephoning and soliciting for donors.

A special call for 37 people with negative factor blood has been issued by the Regional Blood Center. This is to include three with the rare AB type.

Student captains conducted the solicitation for donors. Dotzour solicitors were Elverda Fike, Carol Duncan, Carol Cunningham, Lillian Aotaki, and JoNelle Thoren.

Student President Receives Rockefeller Grant To Yale

Carl Harris, Macollege Student Council president, has been granted a Rockefeller Brothers Theological Fellowship for the 1959-60 school year.

Because of Carl's ability as an outstanding scholar, debater, journalist, dramatist and student leader, he was selected for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities last fall.

During Carl's college career he has served as president and treasurer of the Student Council as well as holding offices in various other organizations.

Pondering With The President . . .

Do We Have 'Ins' And 'Outs'?

By Dr. D. W. Bittinger

No family can be an absolute unity. There are some who feel close in and others who wish they were closer in. In nations this gives rise to revolutions or to elections, either peacefully or violently conducted.

Often the differences between the "in" and the "out" group are very small. It may be an emotional or attitudinal condition, more than anything else.

It has always been my hope that at McPherson College there will be a minimum of difference felt between certain inevitable natural groupings: those who come from the town, those who come from other parts of America or the world, those who are members of the Church of the Brethren, those who are members of other churches, those who are married, those who are single.

It seems to me that our sense of unity here is as good as in any college I know. It takes effort on the part of all of us to make this true.

I hope that it can become even truer, and that faculty members and their families can always also be involved in this of "one group" with one general overall coordinated purpose.

May we be, always, a group of friendly, sharing searchers.

Wake Up And Read! 1959 Liberty Week Theme

Thousands of communities throughout the United States will be celebrating the second National Library Week next week. From April 12 to April 18 the event, sponsored by the National Book Committee in cooperation with the American Library Association, will be in full swing.

Devoted To Reading

National Library Week is devoted to the importance of reading in American life and to the importance of libraries of all kinds — public, school and university libraries, and the libraries maintained by individuals in their own homes.

Leading magazines, newspapers, radio and television stations, and leaders in the business and educational world will join in participating in the celebration and in providing special attention to reading and libraries in publications and broadcasts.

The objective of the week, as stated in the LIBRARY JOURNAL, is to remind the American people that reading can help them to explore and to satisfy their need for a greater sense of purpose and meaning in their lives; to urge them to use more fully the libraries of all kinds in which the treasures of the printed word await throughout the land.

But there is a wider aim: to set apart a time when people can rededicate themselves to the ideas and ideals of a free society.

Re-Assess Values

National Library Week is a time to re-assess personal riches of mind and opportunity. It is also a time to explore, through reading, intellectual potential; to develop readiness to adapt to the changes that an age of atoms and automation is bringing.

Though it can be an unparalleled source of entertainment, reading is not a tranquilizer, but a channel to new ideas and viewpoints that can help Americans respond to the challenge of leisure in a creative, satisfying way.

It offers an exciting form of escape from preoccupation merely with having and doing, into a full life of being, knowing, understanding and believing.

No Non-Readers

The second year continues the work of the first. The same theme

"Wake Up and Read!", will be used again to underline the same conviction: we cannot afford a nation of non-readers. We should strive "for a better-read, better-informed America."

To help celebrate National Library Week, the library staff will distribute literature all over campus. They will also place table cards in the cafeteria on each table. The idea is to make students aware of the opportunity, which is always present, to read.

A display will be set up in the library which will contain books selected by the professors of the college as their favorites through the years. The books will be displayed with the name of the prof. who selected them.

Never pay much attention to criticism after you have drawn what wisdom you can from it.

Fields In Connell's Corner What Will Your Move Be For Equality, Integration?

Ten-thousand young people assembled in Washington, D. C. last October 25th to make a solemn affirmation of their support for equal education for the integration of the schools.

Many of these young people were students, just like you and me. Most of them came from schools and colleges in the East. Negroes and white were both present in almost equal numbers.

These students promised themselves as well as the people of the nation that they would fight for integration, and that they would return to Washington bringing more young people with them.

Soon, you as students on McPherson Campus will be much closer to the problem, perhaps even closer than ever before. You will be closer because these dedicated young people are on the move, and they will be contacting you through the media of televisions, radio, and petitions.

What will your answer be to these fighters for equality? Will you help them?

Easter Project Results In "Hole" New Area

An Easter vacation project of cutting a hole in a basement wall by Prof. S. M. Dell and Prof. Alvin Willems has nearly doubled the space of work area in the Industrial Arts building.

By cutting a hole in the basement and building a stairway, they were able to gain entrance to an old storage room in the basement.

The new room in the basement also has a storage room, that will permit material for experiment to be stored when not in use.

The new space is now being used by the bench metal and the bench sheet metal class.

The new room will be equipped with fluorescent lighting.

Earn And Serve Plans Retreat

An all day training retreat has been planned for ten students of Macollege who will be in the Earn and Serve program this summer. It is set for Saturday, May 23, 1959, and special leaders will be engaged for it.

Marge Hanley, Webster, Iowa, and Janice Bower, Wichita, will be at Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Businessmen, Athletes Have Annual Snack Fest

About 245 McPherson men and athletes took part in the third annual Snack Fest in spite of rainy weather Tuesday night. The rain curtailed part of the outdoor activities but 67 athletes and 178 McPherson Chamber of Commerce members and businessmen participated in indoor games in the college gymnasium.

The men feasted on a ham, potato salad, baked beans, and coffee and had ice cream bars and pop to top it off. Then they set out to enjoy an evening of athletic events.

They threw darts, practiced free throws, played tether ball, jumped on the trampoline, lifted weights and played other skill games the rest of the evening.

The Snack Fest is sponsored by the McPherson College M. Club and put on by them and the college athletes for the businessmen of McPherson in appreciation for the help and cooperation they have given the college athletic department during the school year.

The School Planning Group from Stanford University in California was also present at the evening of festivities. The members of the group are experts in school improvements, school buildings and planning future schools.

Several prospective athletes were also guests at the affair.

Chaff Champions . . .

More Moral Manners

By Faus, Harris and Foley
Chaff realizes that a great moral awakening is sweeping over the campus. We have studied this trend, but the press of our tight schedules has cut down our usual voluminous research, and we have been restricted to short research.

But even this short study has convinced us that a great uplift has come in campus ethics. In line with this trend, Chaff has some recommendations to make in order to broaden the scope of this reformation.

There is a time and place for various things. A public hallway is not the place for saying good-night. Please say goodnight in a more private place, such as your car. Or get a reservation from Chaff for the laundry closet in the hall. Thank you for your cooperation.

There is a time and place for various things. The bloodmobile is the place for bleeding. Please wear loose fitting clothing when you come to give blood as this will allow good circulation and will reduce the chances of your fainting. Thank you for your cooperation.

There is a time and place for various things. The Chaff tunnel is not the place for wearing formal attire. Please put on working clothes before coming to the Chaff tunnel. By the way, the tunnel is progressing nicely. More volunteer labor would be appreciated. Thank you for your cooperation.

There is a time and place for various things. Flory's history class is not the place for a short nap. Please stay awake or there may be a slack in your grade. Thank you for your cooperation.

There is a time and place for various things. The library is not the place for discussions, even short discussions. Please spend your time in the library girdling yourself with truth. Thank you for your cooperation.

There is a time and place for various things. The cafeteria is not the place for a short meal. Please come prepared for a long wait in line at the cafeteria. But don't come too late, as the line stops as soon as there is a slack in the line. And remember the short orders of the cafeteria. Thank you for your cooperation.

SNEA Officers Elected For School Year '59-'60

SNEA officers were elected for the following year. Those elected were Larry Werner, president; Joan Furry, vice president; Lavena Murray, secretary; Larry Clark, treasurer; Janelle Miller, historian.

Bus Repairs, Snow Add Zest To A Cappella Tour

A Cappella Choir will give its home concert at the McPherson City Auditorium Saturday evening, May 2.

The A Cappella Choir ended its Easter season tour with a concert at the McPherson Church of the Brethren Sunday evening, April 5.

The tour began March 20 with a concert to the Macollege student body. The choir left at 1 p.m. for St. John to give a high school concert in the afternoon and another concert in the evening.

Traveling was slowed up during the afternoon because of a snow storm. Since the vision was obscured, the bus slipped into a ditch. A tractor-trailer pulled the bus out and sent it on to St. John where they arrived 20 minutes late for their concert.

The choir was ready to go to Garden City the following morn-

Play Tryouts Held Wednesday

Tryouts for the three one-act plays were held Wednesday night. The cast will be announced later.

Prayer Provides The Key To Your Inner-Peace

Have you ever been too busy to notice God? I often get that way. Then, I see something that reminds me of my Creator.

It may be a lawn that has been green for weeks, it may be a bird that has been singing since dawn, or it may be a person that I have just seen also as my friend. This way God makes me aware of His love, and through His love, I am made aware of God.

This shapes my Spirit into a peaceful brook making its way down some distant mountain. Going from rock to rock, from sunbeam to sunbeam, from daydream to daydream, it slowly edges its way into the black, churning sea of turbulent, evil sin.

But, it adds a minute of calm to that sea before it is swallowed up and dissolved.

That minute of calm in INNER-PEACE, and to gain that precious minute of peace, kings have forsaken their kingdom, thieves have given up their flight, and lost souls have turned to Christ.

Many claim that inner-peace is impossible to achieve, but I submit that prayer is the key. Through prayer — diligent, earnest, relentless prayer — a person can obtain a closeness to God that is termed "emotion" by cynics.

Some people will tell you that they find inner-peace while they are praying, others will say they find it at the close of a prayer session. But both will agree that they have inner-peace only when they have laid their sins before God, and asked His forgiveness.

If you have a chance, look into the eyes of a deeply religious person when he has just ceased praying. You will find a peace and serenity there that is almost beyond comprehension. There is no greater feeling than to have God's peace in your heart.

We can obtain inner-peace by prayer, we can lift many of life's burdens by prayer, we can feel that we and God are one, through prayer.

How long has it been since you have had a long, deep TALK WITH GOD???
