Many Attend School Picnic

Macollege students and faculty put aside their regular classes and duties for an afternoon of fun and relaxation at Lake Kanopolis Monday, Sept. 22.

The students participated in swimming, softball, hiking, and other activities.

Among the interesting features of the day was a nature hike, led by Dr. Wesley DeCoursey.

Some of the many interesting things observed by the 20 students who went on this hike were a Kangaroo rat, blue tailed lizard, several bull snakes, and the scale remains of a fish.

Professor Ward pointed out many different types of grass. Dr. DeCoursey explained various rock formations. Professor Burkholder named several different plants and animals for the students.

No picnic is complete without its traditional wiener roast, potato chips, pop, and apples. This was held on the Kanopolis beach. The day of activities ended at twilight with a short vesper service on the hillside overlooking the lake.

Songs were led by Marlene Klotz, sophomore from Fredericksburg, Iowa. A choral reading of Weldon Johnson's "The Creation" from God's Trombones was given by a group of students.

Many Write Articles For Each Spectator

Curtis Broadwater, Mike Post, Donalda Arick, Sherland Ng, Kathy Duncan, Eddy Longmire, Chester Peckover, Irma Wymore, Sharon McDanel, and Lester Zook are the new reporters for the Spectator. As each semester begins anew, the editorship changes hands and new reporters are added to the staff.

October 18 Set As Date For Homecoming

Homecoming at Macollege will be held October 18. The festivities of the day will begin at 10 a.m. with a get-together of the first and second year Alumni in the Student Union Room. Numerous other activities are planned for the evening.

The Bulldogs will be hosts to the Kansas Wesleyan football team from Salina at 7:30 in the evening.

Mac Trustees To Let Contract For Sharp Hall During Winter

Old Sharp Hall, the first building on Macampus, will soon be replaced with a new and modern Sharp Hall.

The contract for building a new Sharp Hall on the Macollege campus will be let sometime during the winter, the college trustees decided Saturday at a special meeting. The estimated cost will be $600,000.

The trustees also discussed continuing the college development financial campaign, especially among the Churches of the Brethren in the 21 states making up the constituency of the college.

The new building, which will replace the old Sharp Hall, which is now the oldest building on the campus, will be built immediately in front of the present building. The old building will be in use during the construction period.

The architect estimates that one year will be required to complete the building.

The building will provide quarters for the administration offices, classrooms for several departments and an auditorium with a seating capacity of 1,200.

The new Sharp Hall is a part of a 10-year development program which the college hopes to complete by 1962 during the 75th anniversary of the college.

Already constructed as a part of the over-all development program are the girls' dormitory, Doltzour Hall; a new stadium and the College Courts. Yet to be provided, including a new Sharp Hall, are additional housing for students and a combined student union and cafeteria.

Old Opera House Played Big Role In Early Era

By JoAnn Negley

"I know not how true this tale may be, I tell it as 'twas told to me."

If you had been a student at McPherson College back in the good 'ol days, you probably would have taken your best girl to the McPherson Opera House on Saturday night.

The old opera house was part of what students now know as the Mac Theater located on Main Street down town. It was built in 1887 and was at that time a "modern and elegant structure" with a seating capacity of 900 costing $42,000.

The auditorium had on its ground floor a parquet dress circle, above which was a balcony circle and a gallery. Each of the three floors was reached by separate stairways so the place could be cleared easily in case of emergency.

Many standard attractions were booked each season. Frequently a traveling troupe of actors would present a special attraction for your Saturday night date. Traveling theatrical troupes presented operas and Shakespearean plays frequently.

The Choral Union, a chorus of 60 to 70 town people put on musicals and operettas such as "Belchazoor."

Talent shows with minstrels and other outstanding features were held frequently.

The third story of the old opera house was also used for court sessions before the present court house was built.

Coppock Is Director Of Lutheran Choirs

Miss Doris Coppock, associate professor in music, is directing two choirs at the Trinity Lutheran Church in McPherson.

Miss Coppock directs the junior choir which has about 20 members. The choir is made up of about half boys and half girls. The senior choir, which Miss Coppock directs, has a membership of 15.

The junior choir rehearses at 6:30 on Thursday evening. The senior choir rehearses at 7:30 Thursday evening and sings every Sunday morning at the 10:45 service. The junior choir sings twice a month at the 8:15 service.

Student Voices An Opinion

Chapels can be interesting or they can be a bore. Usually the type of chapel depends mainly on the student's attitude.

Some people who attend chapels or assemblies come with the attitude that "this is the hour when" they can study or sleep. These people are usually night owls and never get to bed before two.

They give nothing to the chapel or assembly program and do not bother to contribute to the part of the program which was planned especially with them in mind.

Still another type of person who attends chapel or assemblies is the type who has to talk to his neighbor and catch up on the latest gossip.

This type of conversation usually consists of what went on last night in the girls dorm, who was engaged last night, who slipped and fell in the shower, etc. This is the "talk with your neighbor over the back fence in chapel" type of person.

Those of us who fall into these categories are 1. discourteous to the speaker and 2. discourteous to the people who are sitting near you.

The best way to survive this mandatory type chapel is to act interested. For as you act interested you most surely will profit, for you may learn something you didn't know. And in acting interested you may become interested.

The Christian Worker

Students are urged to observe Christian Education Week, the week of Sept. 28 - Oct. 5. The theme for the week is "The Christian Worker and His Calling."

Pondering With The President Getting Started Right

By Dr. D. W. Bittinger

Many a race is lost in the first lap; many a life is ruined in its younger years. This can be because the young person got started wrong.

The following are a few ways in which one can start wrong:

1. By ruining his health through improper sleep, improper eating, indulgences in alcohols, narcotics, or other things.
2. By choosing the wrong friends to run around with.
3. By having ideals too low.
4. By not having any goal toward which he strives.
5. By forgetting the church.

Getting off to a right start by-passes these things. We hope that every student of McPherson College gets started off right this year. If this happens we can have a great year.

Bethel Hosts McPherson In Conference Opener

The McPherson College Bulldogs will be opening conference play against the Bethel Grey-maroons Saturday evening at Newton starting at 7:30 p.m.

Coch Sid Smith reports that Bethel has a solid veteran team including a dozen lettermen who possess much speed and desire.

Bethel was defeated soundly last weekend 52-0 by a powerful Northwest Oklahoma State squad. The Grey-maroons will definitely be all out for this week's game.

The Bulldogs nipped Bethel in last year's game 18-16. The Bulldogs were the strong ground gainers while Bethel took to the air in the contest.

In the series with Bethel since 1922, the Bulldogs have inflicted 23 defeats on the Grey-maroons while allowing them only nine wins.

8. The boundary line and the line behind which the person must serve on the south side is the black line. The boundary line on the north side is the white solid line, but a person may step to, not on, the white broken line to serve, due to limited space.

9. When a player crosses the center line into the opponents' court, he should call his own fault, as he would in touching the net, or a teammate may call such a fault, but the opponents should not call such regard- less.

10. Liners are good. The players nearest the line in question should call the play good or not good.

11. Scores should be called clearly by each server preceding each serve so that no question will result due to disagreement or misunderstanding of score.

12. When a ball is hit by two players simultaneously, that is two plays on the ball, only one person may play the ball. When two have already played the ball, and two hit it over the net simultaneously, that is a fault. If disagreement results, replay the point.

Players must arrive within fifteen minutes of starting time or forfeit the game.

Bulldogs Victorious 44-13; Hold Big St. Mary's Line

The Macollege Bulldogs fought their way to a 44-13 victory in front of a crowd of 1500 fans last Friday evening at College Stadium as they defeated St. Mary's of the Plains.

The rugged Mac line held the heavier St. Mary's team to only 47 yards against Mac's 279 yards net rushing.

Tom Richards, freshman back, Kenny Stucky, and Ed Delk scored three, two, and one touchdowns respectively. Delk and Tom Ragland both scored touchdowns that were called back on penalties.

The Bulldogs made two points early in the game on a touch-back. The St. Mary's center tossed the ball over the head of the receiver into the end zone. He recovered the ball but was downed by Wayne Grossnickle.

McPherson's offense featured long runs capped off by a 97 yard run by Delk when he took a pass on his own three yard line and raced the remaining 97 to score.

Bryce Heinz, a freshman member of the squad, was outstanding on pass defense. He intercepted four and Delk one St. Mary's pass during the game.

Gordon Lewis, Mac's freshman kicker, kicked five extra points and passed to Dennis Brubaker for the other.

Mac gained 181 yards passing to 87 yards for St. Mary's.

Pictures Being Shot For 1959 Yearbook

Interesting Tale Relates Origin Of McPherson

One day in June 1862, T. J. Wickersham, an old settler of Salina county informed L. J. Shanke, chief clerk in the land office, of a colony of Kentuckians intending to settle at a place 30 miles south, known as "McPherson Flats". He conceived the idea that it would be a good idea to lay out a town in that vicinity.

Early one Sunday morning, June 1862, a group of people with "townsite fever" hired an old stage, loaded with cheese medicine and et ceteras and left Salina. They reached their destination around noon and called it McPherson Center.

The First Buildings

The first store in McPherson was the H. Bowker Pioneer Store located on Kansas Avenue. The first church in town was the German Baptist Church, built on the site of its present place of worship, in 1873. By 1901 McPherson had nine more churches.

After a tedious journey from Newton or Abilene, many an old settler welcomed a night's rest in the McPherson House, the first hotel in the city. The hotel was built in King City and moved to McPherson.

The county seat was moved from Lindsay to McPherson in May 1873.

McPherson College

The pride of McPherson was its college, founded in 1888 under the auspices of the German Baptist Church, but open to all denominations. The German Baptist Church is now known as the Church of the Brethren.

The college was located in a favorable position on a hill overlooking the city. In 1888 the college was in debt $27,000 and the main building was not under roof. By 1901 it was free from debt and had paid $6,000 more for improvements.

Also, by 1901 it maintained nine departments, preparatory, normal, collegiate, business, stenographical and typing, oratorical, musical, biblical and German.

College Faculty

Among the members of the college faculty at that time were several for whom buildings on the campus were named.

C. E. Arnold, president, was a graduate of Ohio Normal University and Illinois Wesleyan University. S. B. Fahnestock was a graduate of Ohio National University and had attended several other outstanding colleges.

Edward Frantz, vice-president of the college and professor of biblical languages and interpretation was a graduate of Chicago University.

A devout Christian, H. J. Harnley, was professor of natural science and had received degrees from several leading universities.

Among the stock holders in the first bank in McPherson were Prof. H. J. Harnley, S. B. Fahnestock, C. E. Arnold, and Elder Jacob Witmore of McPherson College.

Wichita Hosts KFPC Group

President D. W. Bittinger will be appearing in Wichita during the early part of next week on behalf of the Kansas Foundation for Private Colleges.

President Bittinger will preside at a meeting of the group on Sunday, Sept. 28, prior to conducting a campaign to solicit funds for the foundation from Wichita firms on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

President Bittinger appeared on the "Top of the Morning" television program this morning in behalf of the foundation. He also appeared Thursday on the "Ethel Jane's Open House" and filmed an interview.

This week found the President in Elgin, Ill., attending a meeting of the Executive Board of the General Brotherhood Board of the Church of the Brethren.
