

Students Urged To Get Free Chest X-Rays

An X-Ray Unit is coming to McPherson Feb. 9-13, and all adults 20 years and above are eligible for a free chest x-ray.

One may have tuberculosis and not know it. Four hundred seventy-four new cases were found in Kansas last year.

Anyone can get tuberculosis but twice as many men are found with TB as women. Doctors are recommending that all those under 20 have the tuberculin test.

In McPherson the unit will be at the Sid Bacon Motor Company. On Feb. 9 the hours are 11-12 and 1:30-5:30, Feb. 10 hours are 10-12 and 1:30-4:30.

The hours are 1:30-5:00 and 7:00-8:30 on Feb. 11. Feb. 12 hours are 10-12 and 1:30-4:30. On Feb. 13 hours are from 9-12 only.

Students are urged to take advantage of these free X-Rays. The Kansas Tuberculosis and Health Association cautions the public that "No one is safe 'til everyone is safe."

New Members Are Added For Play 'Othello'

Four new members have been added to the cast of "Othello" since last reported in the Spectator. Terrell Phenice, Welsh, La., as Iago, the villain; Chester Peckover, McPherson, as Montano.

Lodovico and Gratiano will be portrayed by Edwin Mohler, McPherson, and Glen Draper, Eldora, Iowa, respectively.

The stage manager for "Othello" will be George Snyder. Much art work for the play has been done by Don Hollenbeck and Dean Hall.

The rehearsal schedule at the present time is three nights per week plus Saturday mornings. Blocking of the action is being worked on at this time.

An unusual feature in the production of this play is the fact that part of the costumes will be rented from a costume rental company.

College Receives Library Grant

A grant of $300 was given to McPherson College Library by the Association of College and Research Libraries. This grant will be used to purchase books in the field of drama.

McPherson was one of 77 colleges chosen from 320 applications to receive a grant. It was the only college chosen in Kansas. Elizabethtown College, Elizabethtown, Pa., a Church of the Brethren College, also received a grant.

These grants are given on the basis of current needs of libraries.

The Association of College and Research Libraries has been giving grant to privately endowed institutions for five years. This year the National Biscuit Foundation was a contributor, also.

The Yale Shakespeare, a 40 volume set, History of English Drama, a 6 volume by Allaraya Nicoll, and collections of one-act plays are several of the books that will be purchased.

President And Wife Have Major Surgery

Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Bittinger are recuperating from surgery. Dr. Bittinger underwent surgery yesterday at Wesley Hospital in Wichita. The operation was related to his surgery of two years ago. However, according to Dean Wayne F. Geisert, his situation is not viewed by his physicians as being nearly as serious as during the December period of 1957.

After a major operation on Jan. 27, Mrs. Bittinger is doing fine. She returned home on Wednesday from the McPherson County Hospital and is now in Wichita with Dr. Bittinger.

Earn And Serve Projects Setup

Two projects have been set up by the Western Regional Youth Office for Earn and Serve for the summer. Both are located in Kansas in the Church of the Brethren of Newton and Kansas City.

Girls and boys are eligible to participate.

Some of the duties that are in the "Serve" portion of the program are helping in Bible School, assisting in the music program of the church, teaching in the Church School classes, and recreation leadership to all age groups.

All participants have an opportunity to work in some type of job during the summer to earn some money. This is the "Earn" part of the program.

An Earn and Serve project is requested by a Church of the Brethren through the district. The District contacts the regional office which places the students in the opening positions.

All those who are interested may contact Kenneth Holderread, director of the CBYF Regional Youth. Kenneth's office is in the basement of Sharp Hall.

Exchange Applications Deadline Is Tomorrow

Tomorrow, Feb. 6, is the deadline for MCA student exchange applications.

Students wishing to apply should give their application to Mrs. Dell in the president's office, Dale Brown or any member of the MCA Cabinet.

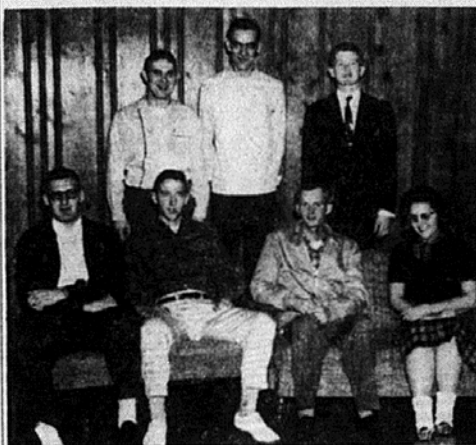

In the letter of application students might include reasons for wanting to be an exchange student, whether they plan to come back to McPherson College, future plans, language experience and any special interest or abilities.

Elsie Holderread, Juanita Fike and Lois Fager are former MacCollege exchange students now on campus.

Ng Dotzour President; Smallwood Is Secretary

Sherland Ng was elected president of Dotzour Hall for the second semester. She will be assisted by Rita Smallwood, secretary; LaVena Murrey, vice-president; and Jane Beaver, treasurer.

Sherland is a senior from Lahaina, Hawaii; Rita, a junior from Twin Falls, Idaho; LaVena, a junior from Conway, Kas.; and Jane, a sophomore from St. John.

Beware! Nine Week Tests Not Far Off

On those rare occasions when discussion takes a scholarly turn, the recent trend at intervals has been, "When are nine weeks?" By that one does not mean any worldly event which might take place like an eclipse of the moon, but those mid-term tests which plague a college student.

Students are occupied enough with daily work which requires untangling that they often leave decision concerning the nine weeks to their instructors.

Some faculty members will schedule their nine weeks during the eighth week, and others will figure the testing period is the ninth week. In order not to be out done, some profs will give unit tests one week followed with an inclusive nine weeks exam a week later. That is just to keep everyone happy.

Even though the semester has just started, here is a tip — the ninth week is March 21-25. Mark it on your calendar.

Whether one likes it or not, there are nine weeks tests even if some are eight weeks.

The public is invited to attend.

Dean Geisert Selected To Attend Institute

Dr. Wayne F. Geisert, dean of McPherson College, has been invited to participate on a scholarship basis in the 1960 Institute for Academic Deans from February 14-19.

The institute will be held on the campus of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. It is sponsored by the Institute for College and University Administrators and is made possible by a grant from the Carnegie Corporation of New York.

This institute is designed for academic deans, provosts, academic vice presidents, and similar officers. Participation is limited to from 35-40 deans.

Dr. Cyril D. Garrett, dean of Friends University, is the only other Kansan participating.

Dr. Kirk E. Naylor, a McPherson alumnus who is presently dean of instruction at Southwestern State College at Weatherford, Oklahoma, is a participant also.

Seniors Interviewed For Teaching Positions

Several seniors have been interviewed recently for teaching jobs. Joe Evans, from Topeka, was on campus Jan. 19 interviewing students.

Fred Colvin, from the Wichita schools, was in McPherson Jan. 28. The College Placement Bureau has a file listing teaching vacancies and members are free to use it at anytime.

School Of Missions Banquet To Be Held Sunday Evening

The School of Missions Banquet is to be held Sunday, Feb. 7, at 6:15 p.m. in the Church of the Brethren Fellowship Hall. This banquet will end the School of Missions.

Heart Sister Names Drawn This Morning

The regularly enrolled women students and the women faculty members drew names after chapel this morning for the annual Heart Sister Week.

During the coming week, Feb. 8-12, little secret deeds will be done for the Heart Sisters. Some examples of past deeds are ironing, polishing shoes, making a bed, or sweeping the floor.

Some ten-cent gifts that have been given are credit for ice cream at the cafeteria, an orange, pencils, gum, and many other small items.

At a party to be held Monday night, Feb. 15, from 9:30-10:30 in the church basement, the Heart Sisters will be revealed. Often a twenty-five-cent gift is given to the Heart Sisters at this time.

Work Continues On Buildings

Progress on the Jessie Brown Auditorium and Mohler Hall is still being made, despite the cold weather and the several days that no work was done.

Walls around the new auditorium have been completed.

The walls have been started on the east end of the south wing of Mohler Hall which now has its roof and second floor in place.

The electrical wiring is being put in in both Mohler Hall and Brown Auditorium. In the auditorium partitions are going up in the basement under the stage and in the west or back of the building.

The partitions in the basement are for the various instrument and practice rooms while the ones in the back are for the lounge and the rest rooms.

Over the stage of the auditorium the roof of the building has been started.

Politics Class To Take Trip

A trip to Washington, D.C., and New York City will be the highlight of the American politics class for this semester.

The American politics students will leave Saturday, April 23, for Washington, D.C. This trip is held every two years.

The class will be in Washington from Sunday evening, April 24, until Thursday evening, April 28. On Friday, April 29, they will be in New York City. Sunday, May 1, is the scheduled arrival date back at MacCollege.

While in Washington the class will visit Congress, interview Senators and other government officials getting their views on government policies, and visit committee meetings.

Wilbur Mullens, director of admissions at McPherson College, will be guest speaker for the program. His topic is "Responsible Christianity", describing the rapid social change and the role of the Christian church.

Dr. Burton Metzler, moderator of the college church, will be master of ceremonies. Special music is planned and an offering for the Brotherhood Fund will be taken.

This program is for families and the college students will be the guests of the church. A nursery will be open for small children.

This will be the final program in the School of Missions series. For the last four Sunday evenings there have been programs and discussions on Africa.

The banquet has a long tradition in the McPherson Church. It originally began as the Birthday Dinner to receive the Brotherhood Fund Offering, and is now the customary ending for the School of Missions.

McPherson College students were in charge of the 7:30 program of the School of Missions on Jan. 31. Dorothy Brown led group singing, Jim Freed read a meditation, a prayer was given by Jerry Teitjens, and Marcene Gridley sang a solo.

A filmstrip, "Nigeria Moves Ahead", was narrated by Joe Looker who has worked in Nigeria through alternative service.

New Class, Grade Cards This Semester

New class and grade cards are being used this semester by McPherson College for faster and more efficient service.

These cards come in a five-sheet booklet and are kept by the instructors. Each student has a booklet for each course he is taking.

The first sheet will go to the parents at the nine weeks with his grade and number of absences for each course on it, plus the instructor's signature. The student will receive the second sheet with the same information on it.

At the end of the semester the third sheet will be sent to the parents with the nine week grade and absences as well as the semester grade and total number of absences on it. The same information on the fourth sheet goes to the student.

The last sheet is turned into the Central Office.

All students who wish to receive their grade cards for the semester are urged to leave their summer addresses at the Central Office. Otherwise, only their parents will receive the cards.

This system is expected to reduce the time and any errors involved in compiling grade cards.

And Little Babies Cry

Dr. D. W. Blittinger

Though this will not reach the headlines nearly as prominently as some border incident in an obscure border of the world, or as emphatically as some major accident or crime, yet here is a tragedy that affects millions.

More than 7 million babies in 22 countries have been receiving powdered milk from the surplus milk supply accumulated in the United States. Due to the provisions made by government, powdered milk could be distributed to 7 million people at a cost of a little over a cent a pound. A rather sudden ending of the powdered milk surplus brings the cost of powdered milk to these people sharply upward by nearly 2,000 per cent, or approximately 20 cents a pound. This means that in Hong Kong, in Pakistan, in the Mediterranean areas, all around the world, little babies cry for the milk that is no longer available to them.

America can be pleased that we have managed to get rid of our surpluses in milk. We would be glad if we could be rid, also of our surpluses in wheat and corn and other accumulated materials. These have been a problem to us.

But if we end these surpluses midst the wails, some of them death wails, of 7 million babies in 22 countries, then this is unfortunate. Or, if we have the surpluses and keep them stored while 7 million babies are starving, or while 7 million people are hungry, this too, is unfortunate.

Not much publicity is being given to this hunger. This is a concern, not only for church people, but for all people. We should approach this problem through the church, but also through every other agency which focuses upon the general welfare of the people who make up our world, a world greatly diversified in its needs and in its abundance.

Prof. Frederick said, "Music must be in reality an act of worship or an aid to worship. If it is neither of these, it has no place in a worship service. Music is the handmaiden of the church.

A rendezvous to hear long-winded speakers, short-winded cheerleaders, ridiculous debates, important messages, or catch up on sleep. Then the nightmare of calm as the house of Knowledge makes the picture with students studying themselves to sleep or talking their way out of the building. Now we switch back to the script.

What Is Cheering?

By Dennis Hubbard

The few words said in the next paragraphs are not directed to the majority of the students. They are aimed at the few students who claim they are cheering for their team when they make personal and catty remarks at the referees, opposing teams and coach.

When somebody on our side of the court stands up and makes a smart remark directed at an opposing player, the player's friends soon come to his rescue. Soon hot words are shooting and rocketing across the court, and the real purpose of the game is lost to these childish bickerings.

No matter how poorly a referee calls a ball game, he will usually call it poorly for both sides. If we are losing, it's because we are being beaten by a better team, if we are winning it's because we are better. But don't blame it on the referee and the accidents of the players on the other team.

Cheer as loudly as you want; bring a cowbell or noisemaker, but do not get personal towards the referee or opposing team. It takes a COWARD to sit in the stands and throw insults because he has the whole student body on his side. But have you ever seen anyone sit on the opposing side and make the same comments?

Miss Neher had just settled down for a long winter's nap, when out in the hall there arose such a clatter she sprang from the spring to stop the dorm rattle. Tried to tear open the door, but it would not budge.

The night passed without further event until the old 6:30 blew a gasket, waking the students who discovered that it was the first day of a new semester, clean slate, and revised program.

One such freshman felt so good about it he resolved to make a big hit with the new semester immediately. Half-asleep he did keep his resolution—all the way from top bunk to the floor. In spite of snow, cold, and exams the new semester is here to give each student a fresh and renewed start in his courses, while the Spirit of All Good welcomes any new students to the campus and may the old students extend friendship also.

The Bulldogs scored one non-league and two Kansas Conference victories last week. This brought their season record to 12-6.

On Jan. 27, the Bulldogs won over Southwestern by a score of 77-69, which left Mac with a conference record of 6-4.

Southwestern never held the lead, but later in the game narrowed the score to pull up with in two points of the Bulldogs with about two minutes left to play.

The Bulldog's second Kansas Conference victory came when they defeated Sterling by a score of 90-68.

The team hit well from the field, hitting 45 per cent. Sterling made 32 per cent of their shots.

Twenty seven fouls were called on Sterling and 21 on the Bulldogs. Late in the game Sterling lost three players on fouls.

The third and final game of the week was a non-league game with Tabor College of Hillsboro.

City Refuse Law In Effect; Burning Of Swede Illegal

The historical burning of the Swede is now illegal, because of the new city refuse law that went into effect Monday, Feb. 1. Henceforth, test papers will have to be kept for the use of future generations or be burned outside the city limits.

The City Commission of McPherson adopted the ordinance providing for city collection of all garbage and refuse in the city.

Provisions of the new law fall into these categories:

1. No one may haul his own refuse, or hire another contractor to do so, unless he has special permission from the City Commission.

2. The collection fee will be $1.50 per family a month.

3. Collections will be made twice a week in the residential districts and six times a week in the business district.

4. No extra charge will be made for areas without alleys, but the refuse must be placed in a convenient place for collection, either in front or back of the house.

5. Trash burning is prohibited, except in containers approved by the city.

6. Refuse containers must be no larger than thirty-two gallons in size.

7. Refuse such as grass, and leaves must be stacked near, but not necessarily in, the refuse container.

8. Large refuse items such as stones and tree branches will be picked up at least once a month.

9. Professional groups such as building contractors and tree trimmers may haul and must haul away refuse from their work.

The McPherson Sentinel of Tuesday, Jan. 12, stated that the contract, negotiated by the City Commission with the Refuse Service Company, is for a five-year period at a cost of $56,340 per year.

With the effectiveness of the new refuse law the old city dump is now closed as of last Saturday, Jan. 29, so now there will be no dumping in that graveyard of unwanted things.

Trash and garbage will be picked up daily by the city from a central location — the incinerator — for the college campus and at the college courts.

Trash and garbage from Dolzour, Parsonage, Vaniman, and the President's Home will be picked up twice a week on the residential route. Everything is put into a common barrel.
