Faculty Considering Who's Who Nominees

The members of the faculty are now considering names to be entered in the Who's Who of American Colleges and Universities.

The nominees are usually seniors, although outstanding juniors may be considered. Factors entering into the nomination are excellence of scholarship, ability in leadership, participation in activities, citizenship, service to the school, and the promise exhibited for future service and usefulness.

Businessmen To Help College

A fourth source of income for private colleges is the purpose of the Kansas Foundation for Private Colleges.

State colleges get tax support, but private colleges have had to depend on money from three sources, student tuition, church gifts, alumni and friends' gifts.

Businessmen, who must pay taxes to support state colleges, were asked to help support private colleges as well. They were asked to help because of the very large per cent of private college students working for them.

Each president of the nineteen member colleges gives 12 days each year to go from industry to industry asking for their help.

In the five years that the foundation has been operating the amount of support has risen from $32,000 to $53,000. This money is then divided between the member colleges.

Dr. D. W. Bittinger has been president of the foundation for the past two years. Two weeks ago Dr. Bittinger was in Wichita visiting businessmen and Oct. 19-21 he will be in Kansas City for the same purpose.

Doris Coppock, director of physical education for women, and Dr. Raymond Flory, professor of History, were chosen as the faculty advisers.

Macollege Is Member Of Student Association

The Kansas College Student Association is an organization composed of ten colleges in Kansas, which Macollege is a member. Two conferences are held annually. One is held in the spring and the second is held in the fall.

The function of this organization is to create a more friendly rivalry, to encourage the development of high sportsmanship ideals in order to eliminate the defacing and destruction of college property before or following intercollegiate athletic activities.

Representatives from each college attended the conference to exchange ideas and discuss problems. Workshop sessions are held for each of these groups: Student Government, student worship or chapel, student publications such as the yearbook and the newspaper, pep club activities, religious life on campus, international relations and social activities.

A travel sportsmanship trophy is given to the college which is elected as the college with the best sportsmanship. Sportsmanship may be defined as:

- (1) Respect for the property and buildings of rival colleges.
- (2) Conduct and attitude of the Athletic participants.
- (3) Conduct and attitude of the cheerleaders.
- (4) Conduct and attitude of the collegiate cheering section.

Each college has two votes, one by the director of athletics and the second by the student government association. However a college may not vote for itself. It is a high honor to be selected as the college with the highest sportsmanship and receive this trophy.

Many Mac Teachers To Attend Conference

The College Conference on Teachers Education is to be held on the Emporia State Campus, Oct. 16. The topic is "Facing State, Regional, and National Accreditation Problems."

The speaker will be Forrest W. Murphy, dean of the school of education, University of Mississippi.

The annual meeting of the Kansas Association for Student Teaching will also be held on the Emporia State Campus. This meeting will be held the evening of Oct. 15. The speaker will be Dr. Sam Wiggins, one of the top men in the field of student teaching.

A number of members of the education department and a number of supervising teachers from the McPherson Public Schools plan to attend these meetings.

Macollege Trustees Plan Future In Special Meeting

Dr. D. W. Bittinger

On October 3, the McPherson Trustees held a special fall meeting. Some of them came from as far away as Idaho and North Dakota.

The items of major discussion were the new buildings which are in the planning stage for McPherson College. Five buildings are planned at a total estimated cost of $700,000. The application for the Government Loan to make these buildings possible seems to be progressing satisfactorily.

The amount to be received from the Government is, in round figures, $550,000. To this McPherson College is asked to add $150,000 of her own to reach the required $700,000 total. With this amount, plans are in the hands of architects for a major addition to the girls' dormitory, a student union-cafeteria building, and for three additions to our married couple housing unit.

The trustees realized that we are now deeply involved in a very major building undertaking. With foresight and courage, however, they voted to move ahead as rapidly as possible with the planning for these additional buildings. In order to do this we must engage the people of our area in underwriting our $150,000 share, with all possible speed.

This plan is a good business arrangement. By putting up one dollar, four more dollars are added to it for college expansion. We anticipate that these additions will be urgently needed even before they are ready. The buildings are to finance themselves as we use them. Our problem now is to do our part in getting the entire undertaking underway.

This is a forward reaching opportunity for McPherson College. Trustees, students, parents, and all friends of the college will all be interested to see these progressive plans develop.

Puerto Rican Says Climate Main Difference Of Country

Blanca Paoli, a senior at Macollege, is originally from Ponco, Puerto Rico. Her home is now in Chicago, where three of her six sisters are models. There are also four boys in Blanca's family. One brother, Raymond, attended McPherson College for three years.

In Puerto Rico, Blanca attended high school for three years at the Brethren Academy at Castaner. It was there that she received a scholarship to attend McPherson college.

Blanca finds very little variation between life in Puerto Rico and in the United States. Puerto Rico's warmer climate seems to be the main difference.

Dancing and listening to music are activities that Blanca particularly enjoys. An English major, she is planning to be a high school teacher.

Soft Drink Bottles In Hand Are Not Thrown In Bushes

By Faye Brunner

Jauntily he came down the steps of the dorm, soft drink in hand, and a good feeling of easiness on his mind. In no way did he intend to mar the day or the happiness of anyone who watched him on his way.

It was true that he was a freshman, not entirely familiar with the unwritten rules of Macampus. He was on his way to the library for a few minutes of free reading.

Then this cheerful person did something, and to those who saw him he became a symbol of something destructive. After finishing his soft drink, he proceeded to throw the empty bottle across the campus at the nearest tree.

From a young adult, he returned to the foolish habits of his childhood.

Why is it necessary to get rid of waste paper and empty bottles immediately, even if there are no proper receptacles within seeing distance? Will they really burn a hole in your hand or pocket until you find a case or a wastecan?

Is it necessary to willfully destroy the remaining beauty of our campus? I know that the greatest part of our campus is littered, but it is a purposeful, organized litter symbolic of progress, not destruction.

Every monastery is supported by gifts donated by the members as in Christianity. Also many basic beliefs of good are the same general meaning as beliefs of Christianity.

"About this time of year in Buddhist countries is the Festival of Lights. Let us visit one of these festivals."

"The sky is dark and everywhere we see many colors of lights. Almost every house is decorated with strings of lights. As we move along the street, we mortals find difficulty in moving for the streets are very crowded on this night."

"Now moving into another street we notice that the reflections are changed in color for each street and section of town has their own color of light for his fest, which lasts for three days at the end of October and November."

"We have only received a glimpse through our visit to Burma, but to our knowledge has been added a little more. This is good, for only through understanding will my people, your people all over the world live together without wars and hatred."

The 'Spirit' Takes Us To The Land Of Burma

"Hello, this is the Spirit of All Things Good here to take you on a quick trip to Burma, home of our student friend Edward Khaw. Let us hop aboard our new Nature Motors air currents and drift at jet speed to the land of Burma."

"The main religion of this land of the sun, is Buddhism, which is similar to Christianity in many ways. A Buddhist worships Buddha, whom they place with the Creator as Christians do Christ, and the Creator of the universe."

"Buddha was a man born many times in human flesh, each time bringing a bit of truth and good to his followers and teaching them to pray. So time Buddha was reborn, so were his followers and after the last birth all went to Nabon (Heaven)."

"Buddha's original follower's spirits went with him to Nabon to help him rule, each according to his classification. That is some would be higher or lower in importance than others. This is the story of Buddha, who today has many followers."

"Now let us see how these followers worship. A Buddhist may go to a monastery to pray or pray at home, as do the Christians. Both at home and at the monastery are statues of Buddha, which represent Buddha and the Great Spirit."

"A Buddhist does not pray to the statue as pagans may do, but prays to a spirit which the statue only represents, although he does kneel before the statue. Do not Christians often kneel before a worship center with a picture of Christ on it?"

"When a young man wishes to serve the church as a priest, he goes to the monastery to receive religious training from the Head Priest for several months. At last he is eligible for priesthood and wears the robe giving him power for his task."

"That task is to represent Bud-

Bulldogs Bow To Wildcats

McPherson College invaded Baker University territory at Baldwin last Friday only to bow to the Wildcats 24-0 on a muddy, rainsoaked field.

McPherson put up the biggest threat in the first period getting within striking distance but never quite going the distance. The Bulldogs reached up to the Baker 5-yard line and again to the Baker 8-yard line, but failed to score.

The Wildcats scored two touchdowns in the first period and one in each of the last two periods. They failed to make good a single attempt for extra point.

Blue Cross Insurance Accepted By Students

More than one-third of the Maccollege students have enrolled in the student Blue Cross insurance plan being offered this year for the first time by Maccollege.

Approximately the same number was already covered by insurance. R. Gordon Yoder, business manager, has reported.

This program is designed to supplement the care provided by Maccollege. The only area where Blue Cross overlaps the benefits provided by the college is in hospitalization.

The college provides $6 per day—for three days each semester—for the use of a private room in McPherson County Hospital. Blue Cross would pay $3 for the first three days to equal $9.

Starting on the fourth day Blue Cross would pay all $9. If the student has a semi-private room Blue Cross would pay the total amount of the room.

Last year was the first time Blue Cross offered a student plan. This year many colleges in the state have adopted it.

C. of E., sparked by Joe Ortiz, who passing for one touchdown and running for another, defeated Bethany 14-0. Bethany was inside C. of E.'s one yardline when the first half ended. This was Bethany's homecoming.

Sterling used a pass to score early, but the three points of a field goal defeated them. The final score was Tarkio, Mo. 10 and Sterling 7.

Ottawa powered its way to a 31-0 win over Bethel. This was Bethel's fourth straight loss.

Kansas Wesleyan ran and passed to a 27-7 victory over Friends at Wichita. Friends got their only TD on a pass play.

Southwestern defeated Emporia State 18-14 at Emporia. This may be some indication of Southwestern's power next year.

Baker's Jim Paramore passed for two touchdowns and ran for another one to lead Baker to a 24-0 win over McPherson. The Bulldogs just could not push across a score after being with striking distance of the Baker goal three times.

Maccollege Bulldogs Host C. Of E. Presbies Tonight

C. of E., the team with aspirations of winning the Kansas Conference title, will come to McPherson tonight for an important conference game for both teams.

C. of E.'s offensive attack is geared around the quarterback, Joe Ortiz, a 3 year veteran who returned this fall after two years in the service; Rusty Adde-man; three time all-conference fullback, and Jerry Baker, hard running halfback.

Probable starters for C. of E.

C Of E, Sterling Colleges Possibly One School

Studies are now being made on the possible merger of the College of Emporia and Sterling College.

This merger possibility came up as a result of the union of the United Presbyterian Church and the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., last May.

Because C. of E. was founded by the Presbyterians and Sterling has been operated by the United Presbyterians, it is commonly thought that this union would create a stronger Presbyterian College.

The committee, chosen by the Synod of Kansas, will study many of the possibilities of the merger when it meets this month.

will be Ortiz at quarterback, Adde-man at fullback, Baker and Ware at halfbacks, Bailey and Horns at ends, Taylor and Kelly at tackles, Heathman and Issacs at guards, and Kufahl at center.

The Presby defense has been very effective this year. They limited Baker to a total of 75 yards and last week limited Bethany to a total of 170 yards of passing and rushing.

Passing and punt returns has been a big asset to the C. of E. offense. But, they have been equally effective on the ground to present a blanced attack.

Last week at Bethany, quarterback Ortiz passed for one touchdown and ran another one over to defeat the Swedes 14-0. Adde-man, kicking the extra points, has 3 point field goals to his credit.

The Mac Bulldogs should be in top shape for this game. There were no serious injuries at Baker. No changes are expected in the Bulldog lineup.

Dr. Bowman Ends Career; Thirty-Three Years At Mac

"Mrs. Bowman and I plan to travel and keep studying," was Dr. Bowman's comment when asked about his retirement plans.

Dr. Joseph L. Bowman, retired professor of mathematics, physics, and astronomy at McPherson College, came to the college in 1926 and has taught in Harnly 203 throughout his teaching career here.

"This has been a very heavy teaching load throughout the years," reports professor Bowman, "with so much to do in the three departments that it has been necessary to limit my outside activities."

Dr. Bowman is a 1918 graduate of McPherson College and received his A.B. and M.S. degrees here. He did some teaching at LaVern, Calif., and Ripon, Wis.

Dr. and Mrs. Bowman are both show a particular interest in plant and flower gardens. "We like to watch things grow," they commented. Dr. Bowman also does carpentry in his spare time.

The Bowman's have two daughters: Mrs. John Burkholder, wife of Dr. John Burkholder, professor of biology, and Mrs. Omer Masterson, a registered nurse in Chicago, Ill. The Bowmans also have five grandchildren.

"It has been a great satisfaction to observe the students as they develop in college, and this is what has made teaching in McPherson College a great pleasure," says Dr. Bowman.

"There is so much more to science and mathematics than learning facts. The understanding of mathematics and physics is basic to all knowledge so this gives it a very important place in the college curriculum. "It is directly related to Christian living as taught in a Christian college, for science cannot be fully understood unless the student is motivated by sincerity, honesty, truthfulness, and reverence."

Dr. and Mrs. Bowman will be at home at 143 N. Carrie, McPherson, when they are not traveling, and they will still take an active part in the church and college activities.

Tribes Of Maccollege Meet For Long Haul Of Battle

By Watson

Preparation

Lo, and it came to pass that during the reign of Bittinger the fatherly, that the two of the great tribes of the land of Mac came into a great civil war. And on the one side were lowly Freshmanites, and against them the powerful Sophs.

The two armies prepared for battle, each on his own side of the great water called Lagoon. Many were the spectators who came to see this mighty battle, for many were the headpieces that rested on the outcome of it.

And after much ado the rope was cast, and the armies entered into the strain of combat.

Bravely the opponents chanted their war cries and began the long haul of battle. The spectators shouted with glee as the distance between the armies was made taut.

Victory

Even though they were outnumbered, outmanned, and outweighed, the lowly Freshmanites put up a brave struggle, but were no match for the mighty Sophs, and were dragged through the mud of battle, and into the waters of despair.

So far the next week the land of Mac was covered with redness on the heads of the freshmanites. The mighty Sophs gloated that they had defeated the lowly, weak Freshmanites.

But take heart, gentle readers, for as the muddy waters of battle clear, we hear the cry of the defeated Freshmanites, "Just you wait 'til next year."
