McPherson '59 Graduate Attends Yale Divinity School

Carl Harris, a '59 graduate of Macollege and former president of the Student Council, is now attending Yale University Divinity School.

He is studying to be a minister and is taking New Testament Interpretation, Church History, Psychological Foundations of Personalities, Church and the Ministry, and Christianity and Contemporary Culture.

Each of these courses is strictly a lecture type class with a required outside reading of one book per course per week. Carl spends 8 to 10 hours in study daily.

On the cultural side is a symphony on the main campus and a legitimate stage theater, "The Schubert," downtown. At this theater, plays stop for a short premiere run before going to Broadway.

Carl's adviser is Richard Niebuhr, brother of Reinhold Niebuhr, theologian.

Carl says the courses which help him most in graduate school are Trans-Mississippi West, Historiography, Latin-American History, and Creative Writing. What he misses most about Mac are Chaff, history under Dr. Flory, and choir.

Carl is a counselor for two YMCA boys' clubs in grade school, as part of his field work. One club is in the 11th grade and the other is in sixth.

Before enrolling at Yale, he attended Danforth Fellowship Camp and did some sightseeing in Chicago.

Also he adds that the food at Yale is the best he has eaten in any institution, outside of home.

Conference Attendance Reaches New High

Church attendance on Regional Conference Sunday, Oct. 25, was 813.

According to Mrs. Gordon Yoder, this year's conference was larger than it's ever been before.

Nevin Zuck was the main speaker at the conference this year. The speaker next year will be William Hordern, a graduate of Garrett Biblical Institute at Evanston, Ill. Chalmer Faw, a Bethany Biblical Seminary graduate, will be the conference's main speaker in 1961.

Grades To Be Figured Early In November

The end of the nine weeks, Friday, Nov. 7 will be the official date for the calculation of the first nine weeks' grades. These grades must be in the registrar's office by Tuesday, Nov. 11.

Approximately a week later the grades will be available to the students. Later, they will be sent to the students' parents.

Class Debates Begin In Chapel

Wayatte DeLoache, a representative from the Dupont Corporation, will speak on "Big Business" at chapel on Tuesday, Nov. 3.

The first in a series of class debates will be given on Friday, Nov. 6, in assembly. A classical or humorous question will be debated by the freshmen against the sophomores.

In December, the juniors will challenge the seniors in a debate concerning a campus issue, and the winners of these two debates will meet in a serious, political debate in January.

The class officers are choosing members to represent each class in these debates.

To quote Prof. Dale Brown, "This is an experimentation to try something different in chapel programs."

Mac Alumni Present Assembly Program

The alumni of McPherson College presented the assembly program on Oct. 23. M. C. for the program was Mrs. Joe Rich, Sr., a 1956 graduate.

Mrs. Ted Washburn, 1941 graduate, gave a reading, and music was supplied by a faculty quartet. The quartet was composed of Paul Wagoner, 1949 graduate; Gordon Yoder, 1939 graduate; Raymond Flory, 1940 graduate; and Wesley DeCoursey, 1940 graduate.

A panel composed of Homer Ferguson, 1912 graduate, Merwin Haggood, 1938 graduate, and Eunice Wall, 1924 graduate, discussed old times at Macollege.

The education building of the Church of the Brethren is being used for a public school class this year. The kindergarten room of the building is being used by a first grade.

This first grade is an overflow group from Washington Grade School and is still connected with that school.

Mrs. David Nigh, '58, is the teacher for the 24 pupils. Their playground area is located on the corner of Carrie and Euclid.

Mrs. Nigh, besides her teaching duties, is also housemother for the 12 girls at the parsonage. "We try to follow all the rules the Dotzour girls do," she said.

Marriage And Family Class Discusses Personal Matters

Dr. D. W. Bittinger

The Marriage and Family class comprises 102 students this year. This seems like a large class in which to discuss together rather personal and intimate matters. Yet the group finds itself a congenial one and many helpful discussions already have been entered into.

Sharing from many backgrounds is one good way to discover better ideas.

Recently, the discussion centered on the family of the future as present statistics and findings seem to chart it.

These things seemed indicated:

It will be a mobile family, moving an average of 13 times. This will make it harder for the family to become community interested.

It will be an urban family, likely located in the suburbs. This will mean that the father, and perhaps the mother, will spend from one to three hours per day getting to and from work, thus limiting the amount of time available for family contact and fellowship.

It probably will have long week-ends, however. These can be used rather deadeningly for "catching up on sleep," or they can be used constructively for the common tasks of home building and home enrichment.

It will have opportunity for lengthy vacations, probably with pay. These can be spent in commercialized areas where the family may become haggard from patronizing the various amusements offered. At least some vacations can be spent in National Parks, or in out-of-door situations where the family can learn to know each other better.

The family of the future will not have many "things in common" to hold it together, such as jobs, farming, gardening, or even ownership of home or furniture. It, therefore, should exercise more care in the careful selecting of the mates who will build it.

The family of the future probably will have more religion in it than the family of this generation. Likewise it will probably have more understanding and love. This will all be in its favor.

It will be possible to build the family of the future into a great and happy family if the participants will work at it.

May God bless the families of tomorrow.

One can never pay in gratitude; one can only pay "in kind" somewhere else in life.

Millions To Take Part In Annual UNICEF Drive

This weekend more than two million children and youth in about 10,000 communities will take part in the annual UNICEF drive, in which they collect money for the UN Children's fund instead of treats for themselves.

UNICEF is an agency originally created in 1946 to give emergency relief to European children suffering from the destruction of war. In 1948 it extended aid to Palestine's refugee mothers and children.

In 1950 the UN General Assembly extended UNICEF's life to help in other underdeveloped nations and in 1953 the General Assembly voted to continue UNICEF indefinitely.

The main purpose of UNICEF today is helping governments plan long-term and far-reaching improvements to control wide spread disease, which is caused by poor methods of sanitation and caring for children.

The aid of UNICEF knows no racial, religious, political, or nationality bounds, for it is given to those in need wherever they may live. Also it brings permanent benefit to children wherever UNICEF aid is given.

Did You Stop To Say Thank You This Week?

By Faye Brunner

How many of you stopped and said "thank-you" this week, to anyone for anything? How many of you thanked any of the large group of people for making homecoming such a complete success?

A whole list of people helped to make this just so. There were people who cut up carrots for the chili supper, people who helped hold floats together on a windy Saturday morning, and people who put their best foot forward to make alumni welcome.

Someone judged the floats, someone lined the football field, and maybe someone let you borrow a scarf or blanket for the game.

The football men practiced hard and won, the cheerleaders showed heaps of spirit, and the various clubs and classes helped keep that spirit alive by the work they produced on their floats.

Often, we see only the big jobs done that necessarily deserve "Thanks." But, let's not forget the little jobs, too, - the ones that make the big jobs possible.

Then, there is that special little glow that makes you feel all good inside, whether you are the huskiest of men or the daintiest of women.

So, if you haven't said "Thank-you" to any of those people, allow me to start the ball rolling now.

Thanks to you all!!

C of E On Way To Title; Closely Followed By Ottawa

C. of E., well on their way to capturing the Kansas Conference title, defeated Kansas Wesleyan 54-27 at Emporia. The Emporians led 47-0 at one time.

Last Week's Games
Baker, again led by Jim Paramore, defeated Bethel 25-0 at Baldwin. Paramore accounted for 3 of the touchdowns. Bethel has yet to win a conference game and remains alone in the conference cellar.

The Mac Bulldogs defeated Friends 39-19 at McPherson. Friends did most of their scoring with the aid of the leading conference passer, Richardson. McPherson both passed and ran to win this homecoming tilt.

Ottawa defeated Bethany 25-0 at Ottawa to stay in the conference race. Ottawa powered their way to this win and showed that they will be giving C. of E. a run for the title.

Title Decision
The conference title will probably be decided at Ottawa November 6, when C. of E. and Ottawa meet if Ottawa can get by McPherson, here at Mac tonight.

The Bulldogs are planning on killing Ottawa's title hopes tonight when the Braves come to night. Ottawa must win this game to stay in the title running while Mac needs this win very badly.

Baker	4	1	0
K-Wesleyan	2	2	1
McPherson	2	3	0
Bethany	1	3	1
Friends	1	5	0
Bethel	0	5	0

Tonight the Braves of Ottawa come to McPherson. Tomorrow night Baker will be at K-W, Bethel will be at C. of E., Bethany will be at Friends, and Sterling will be at Southwestern.

The McPherson-Ottawa game will probably be the most interesting game of the conference this weekend. Baker is expected to defeat K-W, while C. of E. should have an easy time of it with Bethel.

Bethany is expected to defeat Friends, but be careful about counting out the Quakers at home. Southwestern is expected to defeat Sterling.

Braves Invade Canine Land In KCAC Conference Clash

The Ottawa Braves will invade McPherson tonight for an all important conference game for both teams. McPherson needs this victory to stay in the "first division," while Ottawa must post a victory to keep their conference title hopes alive.

The Braves have been a very aggressive ball club this year. They have a very strong line that is backed up by an outstanding backfield. The Braves are undefeated in conference play this year.

The Braves are led by a junior quarterback, Stan Bettin. Bettin is a very able passer and also does some of the pass receiving. James Nider and Albert Lewis are two of the outstanding Ottawa backs. They are both very good runners.

Much of the Braves' success this year has been due to their hard charging line. This line has as its members Gerry Siscoe, one of the best linemen in the con-

Marching Band To Make Final Field Appearance

Tonight at the game with Ottawa, the MacCollege Marching Band will make its last appearance of the season in the bandshow, "Crossword Puzzle Show No. 1," in which the spectators will work out a crossword puzzle by clues given by the band.

Beginning next week, Nov. 2, the College-Civic Orchestra will rehearse at 3:30 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, with the Concert Band rehearsing at 3:30 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Bulldogs Honor Queen Pat By Quieting Quakers, 39-19

A crowd of about 2200 fans plus the royal homecoming court saw the McPherson College Bulldogs start their homecoming game with a bang by scoring 20 points against Friends University in the opening minutes of play.

Game
The Bulldogs honored the queen's court by defeating the Quakers by 20 points, 39-19. Altogether, 32 points were scored in the first quarter with McPherson scoring 20 and Friends scoring 12.

The Bulldogs scored first 3:34 after the game started. McPherson took a Friends pass on the Friends 47-yard line and three plays later Richardson plunged over to score. This drive was highlighted by a Heidebrecht to Richardson pass which was good for 42 yards putting the Bulldogs on the one.

The Bulldogs scored again with 4:02 minutes gone when they recovered a fumble on the Friends' 26-yard line. Heidebrecht passed to Heinz on the first play to score for McPherson. Minutes later Willets picked up a Friends' fumble and ran it 40 yards for a touchdown.

Quakers Score
The Quakers scored twice in the first period under the leadership of Larry Richardson, top conference passer. Friends first scoring campaign was set off by a 48 yard pass by Richardson to Larry Bush. The Quakers scored three plays later.

The Bulldogs scored twice in the second period and once more in the final period. The Quakers scored their third touchdown in the third quarter.

Heinz, Keck, Richards, and Melton did most of the ball carrying for the Bulldogs. Heinz carried 12 times for an average of 6.5 yards per carry. Keck 12 times for 3.9, Richards eight times for 7.1, and Melton six times for 5.0. Gordie Lewis kicked three extra points.

The new president of Hesston is Tilman R. Smith from Eureka, Ill.

Two Undefeated Teams Remain

The undefeated list of volleyball teams has been sliced to two as the intramural volleyball program enters its fifth week of play. As of October 23, Baile-Hoover and Monk-Jones still cling to perfect marks.

A Mohler-Brown, Monk-Jones game is being disputed, however, and may hand the Monk-Jones team its first defeat.

It has not been definitely decided how long the intramural volleyball will continue, but each team is to play each other team before the season draws to a close.

The official standings at the end of the fourth week of play are as follows:

TEAM	Wins	Losses
Baile-Hoover	5	0
Monk-Jones x	6	0
Norman Brammel	5	1

B-Team Experiences Inter-Squad Action

This year the McPherson College football B-team has been unable to find games, so they have been making their own.

Every Monday a game length scrimmage is held for the players who do not see much or any action in the game the Friday or Saturday before.

The coaches believe this is very helpful and gives the players much needed experience. The only complaint the players have is that it is rather hard to play against a team that knows your plays.

Super Sub!
It's been said that the atomic submarine "Nautilus" stays submerged so long that it only surfaces to let the crew re-enlist. Perhaps for this reason, the Navy has taken valuable space aboard the "Nautilus" for the only soft-drink vending machine in the entire submarine fleet. Naturally (or you wouldn't hear about it from us) it's a Coca-Cola machine. And not unexpectedly, re-enlistments are quite respectable. Rugged lot, those submariners. Great drink, Coke!

The Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation has announced the opening of competition for its fellowships for the academic year 1960-61.

The chief purpose of the fellowship program is to offset the critical shortage of qualified college teachers by encouraging college seniors of outstanding ability to consider college teaching careers.

To this end the Wilson Foundation annually awards 1000 fellowships for first-year graduate study at any university of the recipients choice in the United States or Canada.

Woodrow Wilson Fellowships carry a stipend of $1,500, plus tuition and fees.

The program is open to college graduates in the natural and social sciences and in the humanities.

The Woodrow Wilson Foundation does not accept applications directly from students. Candidates for the award must be nominated by a faculty member.

The closing date for nominations for the academic year 1960-61 is Oct. 31, 1959.

Students interested in the program should talk with Dean Wayne F. Geisert or their major professor immediately.
