Vaniman Hall Girls Hold Open House This Sunday

Twenty-two McPherson College girls, residents of Vaniman Hall, will be holding open house Sunday, afternoon, Nov. 13, from 2 to 4 p.m.

For three years, the college used Vaniman for a fine arts center. Since the fall of 1959, it has been used as a girls dormitory.

This year there are 22 girls living at Vaniman Hall. Kenneth and Elsie Holderread are the houseparents. The officers of the dorm are Pat Albright, president; Margaret Cook, secretary-treasurer; and Dorothy Brown, procurator.

Vaniman Hall, located at 1130 E. Euclid, four and one-half blocks west of the campus, was given to McPherson College in 1956 by the F. A. Vaniman heirs.

Built In 1889

The house was built by Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Vaniman who moved to McPherson in 1889. Mr. Vaniman completed a business course at the college and is an alumnus of McPherson.

He later served as the business manager of the college and he was also a member of the Board of Trustees for many years and a member of the Executive Committee.

The construction in Elizabethan design was completed in 1921. It was built on land running from

WPA Party Tomorrow Night To Highlight Women's Week

MCA To Select One

McPherson Christian Association will select the exchange student to Goettingen University, Germany, before Christmas. MCA is the sponsor of the exchange.

Any student interested in being an exchange student should contact one of the MCA cabinet members or Prof. Dale Brown, the faculty advisor. Letters of application will be accepted by any of these persons.

MCA suggests that persons applying consider the following: willingness to take more German next semester; ability to bear travel expense; and year of school one will enter next year.

As you are reading this article, some girls are probably already getting ready for the big WPA Week party, tomorrow night, Saturday, Nov. 12 in the gym from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m.

This party, the highlight of WPA Week, is sponsored by the Women's Council. It is going to be in the gym so we'll have plenty of room. (They realize no girl in her right mind will miss this opportunity to ask out the man of her dreams.)

List Dwindling

If some of you girls still don't have dates, you had better not wait any longer. The eligible male list is dwindling by the second. To save you time here are the phone numbers of the boys' dorms: Arnold, CH 1-9713; Kline, CH 1-9846; Fahnestock, CH 1-9737. (Sorry, no more dimes.)

The list of the evening's entertainment at this big affair has items to suit all tastes. There will be a large variety of games and an informal sock hop. (Please tell your date so he will not wear his Sunday socks; they might be holey.)

The people planning this party sure know the right time to have such shindigs. There aren't many girls who would be able to finance any other date plans after this week.

What Art You Doing; Digging In Or Floundering?

By LARRY ELLIOTT

Ten weeks of school are almost over, nine week grades are out or soon will be, and cold weather is coming. Now is the time to dig in.

If you're not satisfied with your work for the past ten weeks you have no one to blame but yourself. College for too many young people today is a jolly old time when they can enjoy themselves for four years on Dad's expense account.

Really though, is this what it should be? Who are we fooling, the professors and the college? No! We are just slitting our own throats.

Maybe someday when it too late to change our minds, we will wake up and wish that we had made college the most profitable and the best four years in our lives.

Too many times in our modern society we realize too late where we have made mistakes. As a result, we must suffer the rest of our lives because we were too content with ourselves and were too ignorant to look to the future and use the brains that God gave us.

Have you started digging in or are you just another person still floundering around, doing nothing, and going nowhere?

There Are 24 Hours In Every College Day

This may sound like a trite bit of philosophy, but I wonder how many students leave this college, or any other, for that matter, knowing how to budget their time as well as their money.

Reports are due on a certain date, yet students just "don't have time" to write them until the deadline day. Then they work like fury to get them in before midnight.

If several tests are scheduled for a particular week, students say they "don't have time" to do anything else but study for them. They forget their responsibilities to the organizations of which they are members, they neglect their sleep, but they still find time to loaf and gab.

I am convinced that if we students would recognize all our responsibilities and plan to meet all of them accordingly, we would find that we have time to get everything accomplished and still would be able to take in a movie or discuss the great problems of mankind in the Doghouse.

All that is needed is a budgeting of one's time, for after all, isn't that just as valuable as money? We can waste them both with very little effort, but we can use both wisely with only a little more labor.

Dotzour Dater Makes Reply To 'Shocked'

Dear Shocked,

I believe that I may safely assume whoever wrote the letter to the editor last week and appeared to be shocked, was not one of the accused or participants, but instead a wishful watcher.

It is true to strangers and to those students who are still conservative with the laws of nature and cupid, this standard practice observed at closing hours at Dotzour may not look too good. What would you do if you were in their shoes, or would you be too shocked and scared to even say "good night?"

Don't you think these kisses express the sincerity of his or her feelings toward the opposite sex, and not so much of the exhibition that you evidently watch for?

I suggest to you if these actions do not meet your approval, to hide somewhere or pop popcorn until after these shocking hours are over. Who knows, someday you may even help to shock an audience!

A Dotzour Dater

All letters to the editor must be signed before they can be printed but the name of the writer does not have to be printed and will be kept confidential by the editor.

Mac Mascot Wants New, Proper Name

Dear Editor,

I think we should apologize to Zimmerman and Gooding for trying to name the Mac Mascot Elmer. I thought that you knew by this time that I don't like the name Elmer, and besides I am pretty sure that those two boys do not like the idea that everyone suspects them of writing those letters that have been printed in the Spec.

I hereby apologize for the Spec reporters: "We, the Spec reporters, do hereby, await your acceptance of our apology for critically naming our Mac Mascot for you, Elmer!"

I bet you didn't even know we had a mascot did you? I think between you two fellows you should be able to come up with a new name for the Mascot. Any

Fondering With The President

Now That It's Over Let's Examine The Election

By D. W. Bittinger

Now that the elections are over, we who are the voters, or will soon become the voters, would do well to look at our election system. This is written before the results of the election are known and, consequently, focuses upon the whole system rather than upon any candidate or party.

In my judgment, the American election system has become ludicrous. We probably will not know for certain what were the determinants in this election, but likely they were not outstanding issues thought through carefully by those who voted.

Rather, television appeal, the ability to select a path that satisfied the most people—which would be as nearly as possible a status quo or "middle of the road" path, the religious issue, even the comparative attractiveness of wives—all may have had something to do with it. Some of this is inevitable, of course, but the necessity to stay away from real issues was lamentable.

To demand six months of the busy time of important people in order that they might, with a sense of frustration, appear before masses of people in a thousand different places in order to reflect their mass appeal, is also something which we can well afford to grow away from.

It has been predicted that there never will be another presidential campaign along these lines.

Let us hope that this will be so, and that we may elect future presidents in a manner worthy of so high an office.

ideas you Elmers have can be given to the Spec editors and I am sure they will turn them over to me to use as my proper name.
I have wanted a proper name for so long! I hate being called just the MACCOLLEGE MASCOT.

Three Seniors Play In Final Game Tonight

Bulldogs Face Warriors In Season's Final Contest

Three Macollege seniors, Ivan Prochaska, Melvin Rolf, and Garth Werner, will be playing their last college football game of their careers tonight at 7:30 p.m. as the McPherson College Bulldogs clash with the Sterling Warriors at Sterling.

For the two teams the game will end their football seasons with the Bulldogs favored to win. McPherson now has a Kansas Conference record of one win, six losses, and one tie, while Sterling has won none and lost eight.

However, the Sterling Warriors will not be a pushover for the McPherson Bulldogs. Last week Southwestern which blanked Mac 27-0 early in the season, barely squeezed by Sterling 21-19.

Sterling Superior Offensively

Offensively, Sterling has a better record than Mac, scoring an average of 10 points per game compared to only 7.4 points for McPherson. McPherson has the best defensive record giving up only 18.7 points per game compared with 34.7 for Sterling.

Ottawa scored more points against Sterling this season, 62, but Sterling tallied 21 against the Braves. McPherson held Ottawa to a 30-0 win over the Bulldogs. College of Emporia romped over Sterling 54-7 while Emporia won from McPherson only 13-0.

Previous Season's Contests

The last 10 times McPherson has played Sterling, McPherson has won six and lost four.

In the 16 times that these two teams have played on the gridiron Sterling has won nine and McPherson has won seven.

They met for the first time in the fall of 1928. Last year on the local field Mac defeated Sterling 19-6.

The tentative lineup for the Bulldogs in their last game of the year will be David Priddy, Garth Werner, Melvin Rolf, Garth Wood, Larry McPherson, Ivan Prochaska, Gary Melsker, Larry Crumrine, Tim Wesselowski, Carlton Jones, and Tom Richards.

Baker, Ottawa To Battle For Crown

The unbeaten, united powers of the Kansas Conference, Baker and Ottawa clash in Ottawa Saturday night for the league championship.

Statistics show little to choose between Ottawa and Baker. Both have rolled over all opposition this season much like their victories last Friday night when Baker cracked Friends 54-0 and Ottawa blasted Bethany 48-14. Both teams have outstanding individuals.

Leading Scorer

Ottawa boasts the nation's leading scorer in small colleges, Herb Sutton, who has scored 113 points in eight games. Baker has Jim Paramore, whose 90 points place him 7th in the NAIA.

In Baker's 54-0 romp over Friends they scored five of their eight touchdowns from more than 30 yards out, rolling up 456 yards by rushing.

Ottawa Grabs Fumble

Ottawa grabbed a fumble on Bethany's 14 and scored on the 3rd play after the opening kickoff in smashing the Swedes 48-14. The Braves' last touchdown came even easier. Bethany fumbled a kickoff in its own end zone and Ottawa fell on the ball.

Southwestern College of Winfield had a tough time disposing of winless Sterling 21-19 last weekend. Southwestern crashed in on touchdown runs of 35 yards and 40 yards, while Milt Tenopir threw two touchdowns for Sterling.

Walters Scores

Kansas Wesleyan scored in the last few seconds of play to edge College of Emporia 34-28 in a KCAC game at Emporia.

Lyle Walters scored three touchdowns for the Coyotes and he went over from the five in the final 34 seconds.

Bethel came from behind in the fourth quarter to beat the Mc-

Bulldogs Bow To Bethel In 14-7 KCAC Battle

In their eighth game of the season the McPherson Bulldogs were defeated by the Bethel College Threshers 14-7 in a closely matched game Saturday night on the local gridiron.

This victory left Bethel with a 4 win and 4 loss record and the Bulldogs with 1 win 1 tie, and 6 losses.

First Touchdown

McPherson's score came in the second quarter from a punt return by Tom Richards, who ran 53 yards along the sideline. A pass from Larry Crumrine to David Priddy was good for the extra point.

Late in the third quarter Bethel recovered the ball from a fumbled punt on the McPherson 23-yard line. Nine plays later Nick Stucky went over from the one-yard line for a touchdown. The extra point was collected with a pass from Stucky to Franz Leopp tying the score 7-7.

Offsides Penalty

With a few minutes to play in the fourth quarter, Richards took Bethel's kickoff and returned it 84 yards to the Threshers 6-yard line, but the play was called back on an offsides penalty against the Bulldogs.

After kicking again, the McPherson Eleven lost the ball on downs on Bethel's 48-yard line. A few plays later with a minute and 18 seconds left, Larry Raney went six yards around right end to score. Jim Stucky kicked the extra point ending the game with a score of 14-7.

Teaching three Written Communications classes, collecting stamps, writing poems and articles, and raising three children are just a few of the things that keep Mrs. Elizabeth Jaderborg, professor of English at Macollege, busy.

Mrs. Jaderborg, new to the college faculty this year, is teaching three of Prof. Harley Stump's English classes while he is on a leave of absence working on his doctor's degree at the University of Oklahoma.

Teaching is not new to Mrs. Jaderborg. She taught seven semesters of English in the Bethany College extension program at Schilling Air Force Base, Salina. Prior to this she taught three years in Kansas high schools.

Born In Boston
Mrs. Jaderborg was born in Boston, Mass., and raised in Maine and New Hampshire.

She has a Bachelor of Education degree from Keene State Teachers College, Keene, N. H., and has done graduate work at the University of Wichita, the University of Connecticut, and the University of New Hampshire.

After graduating from college as a home economics major, Mrs. Jaderborg taught in high school for a year. She then became a dietetic therapist in a mental hospital in Conn.
