'The Diary Of Anne Frank' To Be Presented Next Fall

"The Diary of Anne Frank," winner of the Pulitzer Prize and the Critics' Circle Award, has been selected as the first major dramatic production for next fall at McPherson College.

Dramatized by Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett, the play is based on the true experience of two Jewish families as they hid from the Nazis in occupied Holland. Humor and tense excitement are commingled as the families attempt to lead as normal lives as possible under their harrowing circumstances.

"A multi-level setting and numerous special lighting and sound effects heighten the realistic impression of their wartime surroundings.

Acting opportunities are distributed among roles for five women and five men.

"Brigadoon"

In March the Music and Drama Departments will join in the presentation of the popular musical "Brigadoon." This Broadway success is by Lerner and Loewe, the composers of "My Fair Lady," the movie "Gigi" and the current hit "Camelot."

Set in the highlands of Scotland, the musical brings to life a legendary village filled with romance and adventure.

"Brigadoon" will call for extensive work in the areas of design, vocal and instrumental music, acting, choreography, costuming, and lighting. Basic preparations are already underway.

Third Production

Plans for a possible third major production after "Brigadoon" are being considered. In March and May one-act plays will be presented by members of the Advanced Play Production class.

Students To Present One-Act Play

"The Honor and the Glory," by Elinor Chipp, will be the one-act play presented May 10-11 in Brown Auditorium at 7:15 p.m.

The story of a Scottish family takes place the day the son arrives home from prison after staying three years for forging a check. The play revolves around the actions of the family when this son returns.

Because this play is an arena type play, the audience will sit on the stage in a horseshoe fashion.

College Adds New Courses To Next Year's Curriculum

With an increased faculty, Maccollege is adding several new courses to the curriculum next year.

A study of the major forms of art and the development of an appreciation for them will be the purpose of Art Appreciation, a suggested prerequisite for all other art courses. The class will include the investigation of the significance of art forms and will provide for analysis of organization.

Renaissance literature, which replaces Elizabethan Prose and Poetry, will be a study of the literature of the Renaissance period, beginning with Boccaccio and continuing through Milton.

In the music department, more study of percussion will be offered. Lessons in percussion may be taken by appointment.

Instrumental Methods

Also, Instrumental Methods: Percussion and Marching Band will feature an introductory study of snare and bass drums, cymbals, tympani along with studying techniques of the marching band.

Botany students will have an increased field with two courses added in morphology and physiology.

Plant Physiology will cover the Students selected to fill publications positions next year are Muriel Gibson, campus editor of the Spectator, Allen Vance, assistant business manager of the Spectator, Gary Ross, assistant business manager of the Quadrangle, and Kay Weber, associate editor of the Quadrangle. The four are viewing the plans of the new Student Union where the Spec and Quad offices will be located next year.

Pep Club Elects Next Year's Officers

Other officers chosen were: Margaret Cook, sophomore from Lyons, vice president; Nancy Krehmeyer, freshman from Haxton, Colo., secretary-treasurer; Carolyn Trapp, sophomore from Wichita, points chairman.

Quad Staff Distributes Annuals May 5

Quadrangles will be distributed to students tonight at the Quad signing party to be held in Friendship Hall from 6-8:30.

Those who are unable to attend the party may pick up their annuals next week at times which will be designated later.

Full-time students who have attended Maccollege only one semester this year may purchase an annual for $2.50. Faculty members and non-students may purchase a copy for $5.

Plastic covers will be available at the party for 25 cents.

Staff members held a party Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Homer Brunk, advisor, to preview the annual.

Donelda Arick, senior from Sabetha, edited this year's Quadrangle.

Athletes To Host McPherson Businessmen

M Club and the athletic department will host McPherson businessmen at the fifth annual Snackfest on May 9 in the college gym and stadium at 6 p.m.

As a way of showing appreciation to the businessmen for support of the athletic program, an evening meal will be served from the stadium concession stand, and the evening will be spent in athletic recreation.

Basketball shooting, track events, tumbling, and trampolining will be available for use.

ces will be undertaken in Poultry Husbandry for rural life students.

Theory of Equations is being added to the mathematics department and will cover complex numbers, solutions of cubics and quadratics, systems of equations and matrices. Prerequisite is Mathematics 5.

Students Acquire Positions With Quadrangle, Spectator

Four McPherson College students were recently selected by the Board of Publications to fill vacancies on the Spectator and Quadrangle staffs.

Kay Weber, sophomore, McPherson, and Gary Ross, sophomore from Kansas City, were named to Quad positions. Muriel Gibson, freshman from Keota, Iowa, and Allan Vance, freshman from Imperial, Neb., were named to Spec positions.

Kay Weber will be associate editor to the Quad next year. In this position she will assist Edwin Mohler who will be next year's annual editor.

Kay, an English major, did some work on the Quadrangle last semester and is now taking editing.

Assistant Business Manager

Gary Ross will serve the Quad staff as assistant business manager next year. Majoring in business administration, Gary has acquired experience for this position by working with several real estate and insurance companies. Gary will succeed Marianne Bittinger, who will become business manager.

Muriel Gibson will succeed Beverly Judge as campus editor of the Spectator. Beverly will move up to the role of managing editor this coming fall.

A graduate from English Valleys High School, Muriel was a reporter and typist for the high school paper.

Spectator Position

Allan Vance will work next year as the assistant business manager of the Spec. He will succeed Nolan Howell, who will become business manager.

Graduated from Chase County High School, Imperial, Allan is now a pre-engineering major at Maccollege.

Coming . . .

Today, May 5—Tennis match at Lindsborg at 3 p.m.

Today, May 5—Quad signing party, 6-8:30 p.m. in Friendship Hall.

The day is planned to celebrate and honor the county graduates of rural schools. A banquet and graduation ceremony are held in their honor.

In Chapel Next Week

Tuesday—Eddie Motter, a blind gymnast, will present a program.

Friday—No assembly will be held because of All Schools' Day.

Miller To Visit Germany As Mac's Exchange Student

Plans are being completed for next year's German student exchange program. Judy Miller, sophomore from Adel, Iowa, will leave New York by ship around July 15.

She will study German for two months at Goethe Institute, Munich, and then will go to Goettingen University on Oct. 1.

From Oct. 8-17, Judy plans to attend an American-German Students' Convention at Sonneberg, which is about fifty miles from the university.

Work Camp

While attending school, which begins Nov. 1, Judy will live in a dormitory. During spring vacation, February through April, she plans to travel. Judy plans to participate in a work camp after school is over in July. Judy will also do some practice teaching in the elementary grades while she is in Germany.

Lois Keim

Lois Keim, this year's McPherson College student exchange to Germany, spent her spring vacation, which ended May 2, working in the University Hospital from 5-6:30 hours a week.

She also gave English lessons to several young people 12 hours a week. March 24, Lois went to Cario for a 3½ week visit, sponsored by a student travel bureau. Margrete Selliep, from Berlin, will be the German exchange student to McPherson College next fall.

Ikenberry To Teach Special Class

Mrs. G. J. Ikenberry Jr., a '52 McPherson College graduate, has been hired as instructor of a special class for a slow learners of pre-high school age which will be starting in McPherson next fall.

Mrs. Ikenberry's husband, Dr. Gilford J. Ikenberry, Jr., will be on the McPherson College faculty next year as associate professor of biology.

Mrs. Ikenberry will receive her master's degree in special education at Michigan State University this spring. She will continue special study this summer. Her major work has been in remedial reading.

The class, with schools all over the country participating, will be limited to 15 youngsters and will be based largely on individual instruction during a regular school day. A classroom will be made available at Wickersham School for those admitted to the class which is limited to 10, 11, and 12 year olds.

Setting up of the special education class is a part of the program started with the hiring of county school psychologist, Robert Stout. He is now discussing the class with parents of pupils who may be admitted to it, and members of the class will be entered on his recommendations.

Today Is Deadline

Today is the deadline for pre-enrolling for the fall semester. All students who have not already done so must see their counselors regardless of whether or not they are planning to return this fall.

Letters To The Editor

Two Students Reply To Elrod's Views On Eichmann

Dear Editor,

I also have been following the Jerusalem trial of Adolf Eichmann with much interest. It is my greatest hope that racial and religious hatred become a part of the past and that permanent international justice be established.

I commend you for searching for the Christian spirit before making a final decision. Perhaps you could explain the relevance of your comment "since we on Mac campus know we are the only true Christians," to the issue of whether or not Eichmann should die.

If I understand you correctly, you are attempting to ridicule people who are seeking, as you are, to establish international justice. They too have been reflecting on their Jude-Christian heritage, which has been influential in forming our western concept of justice.

The Hebrew prophets cried out against the immature concepts of justice. They were concerned that men should be growing in their ability to live together. Thus Moses "shouldered his placard" and demonstrated for all to see that a life for a tooth was no justice but bitter revenge.

Eye For An Eye

Rather an eye for "an eye and a tooth for a tooth" became the new and higher law by which men were to live. I am sure this was considered unrealistic, and many feared the crime rate would increase. Chaos would result.

We can imagine that centuries later, during the lifetime of Jesus, there were still those who considered an eye for eye and a tooth for a tooth the sentimental mutterings of one who could not think practically. Although many men were not ready for a higher law, Jesus gave to the world a new law; one that was not to be written in the books of men but in their hearts and actions.

Brotherly Love

Through the centuries some have been able to live by the law of redemptive, brotherly love. Others have considered it ridiculous, and still others have striven to live by this law and experienced many failures. I would imagine this is where most of us are. The story of Nathan Leopold is one success story of those who have tried but often failed.

Atrocities against human life must end. This can only come about when human life is considered sacred—so sacred that even the state cannot decree that it should end.

Only when men stand in awe of human life will crimes against humanity cease. Murder is atrocious, even when robed in the honor and respectability of the law.

Justice has become synonymous with revenge, which can only propel us toward greater destruction.

Respectfully,
Lyle Dobson

Dear Editor,

You'll not need a dictionary to diagnose this little composition because my vocabulary is insufficient to express myself in dictionary language. In response to Brother Elrod's letter, I wish to question his position.

First of all, I think he should talk to a few students on Mac campus to find out whether or not they really think the Brethren are the only true Christians. He may find at least one person who doesn't agree with his theory, which would be sufficient to refute his generalization.

Brother Elrod also seems to think that the State of Illinois in cooperation with the Brethren Service Commission must have sentenced Nathan Leopold to 20 years in BVS.

As I recall, he had already served his sentence and was on parole when he decided on his own that he wanted to give, without reservation, his remaining years in service to humanity to repay the nation and the human race for the mistake he had made.

If Adolf Eichman is not a serious neurotic (which I myself question), could he not do something more spectacular. Eichmann now has international renown, I'm sure, and should he make a request that he be allowed to spend his remaining years in a German concentration camp, literally washing the feet of the ancestors of those whom he killed; nobody could even imagine what kind of universal reaction this decision would arouse in the minds of people.

Punishment

Everyone (including me) agrees that Eichmann should be punished. Is execution punishment? I question its severity. Just forcing him to live might be greater punishment. I believe in stern discipline, but doubt that execution is a severe disciplinary measure, nor does it give a person a chance to repent of past sin.

Six million Jews are dead. Is killing their executioner, going to change their position?—I doubt it.

The New Student Union

By D. W. Bittiner

In the new student union building we are venturing additional steps in modern architecture. It is anticipated that this will be a beautiful, imaginative, functional building.

The endeavor in all of our new buildings has been to make them functional, to have very little unused space, and to have as much of the space as possible be multipurpose.

It is the intent in the new Student Union that it will fulfill many needs. It is hoped that there will be latitude in the way meals may be served, that some banquets will be served there, that receptions and teas will be a useful part of the operation, that informal discussion groups will meet and have refreshments, that games will be played, and that study will be entered into.

The Building will have lounges, study areas, a T. V. room, student offices, and, of course the cafeteria and snack bar arrangement.

It is hoped that while this building will be useful for relaxation and recreation, it will serve its greatest function as a building which will make it possible to tie together a variety of the functions of higher education and the molding of personality and life.

The Student Union will be what we make it. To make it serve our college well will require the cooperation of faculty, students, and faculty-student officers.

America's Greatest Threat Is In Minds; Not Atoms

By Marilyn Rhinehart

If I were to ask Mr. Average American what he thought was our nation's greatest threat his reply would be atomic war. Along with this he would undoubtedly express concern over invasion from Russia as a result of her superior (we think) scientific claims to outer space.

This is where I believe Mr. Average American has made a grave mistake. So what if the first space man is a Russian? Why be negative and waste time worrying about the possible destruction of an atomic war?

Despite the seeming danger of these things, Mr. Average American has a far greater threat, and that is his own hibernated mind. He has become so pacified in search for truth and in intellectual growth that he has become a mere puppet of society.

All the Mr. Average Americans today are so wrapped up in their own little isolated parts of the world that each one can see no further than the problems of getting a split-level house, rising in social status, and controlling a "problem child."

Mr. or Miss Average College Student is just as short sighted and self-centered with all concern placed upon getting an A on an exam, wearing the latest campus styles, being broad-minded and popular, and spending a spring vacation at Ft. Lauderdale.

At a time when the world is at such a struggle and unrest, we worry about things like this! When is the individual going to realize that his part in the world is more than looking out for himself and that he must become interested and concerned in national and world affairs?

It is time for all Americans to wake up to the fact that our world is calling for open, active minds and to meet the negativeness of the atom with the positivity of intellectual growth and discovery of truth.

Classes Take Field Trips

Students in several classes last week participated in field trips to supplement classroom instruction.

John Ward, assistant professor of rural life, and 29 students in the Animal Husbandry class went to Wichita, Tuesday, April 25.

Dr. Dayton Rothrock, associate professor of education, took his Principles of Elementary Education class to visit the Haven and Buhler elementary schools Tuesday, April 25.

Sixteen students and Mrs. Audrey San Romani, associate professor of piano and organ, visited the Windom school system Wednesday, April 26.

Windom High School was visited again on Thursday morning, April 27, by students from the Seminar in Methods Class.

Fifteen students of the Church History class instructed by Dale Brown, assistant professor of religion and philosophy, toured the Mennonite Historical Library at Newton, Monday evening, May 1. While visiting the library the group also heard a lecture on Anabaptism by Dr. Cornelius Krahn.

The word "engagement" has two meanings: in war it's a battle, in courtship it's a surrender.

Awards Assembly To Honor Students

Dean Wayne Geisert will be chairman of the annual Awards Assembly in Brown Auditorium, Friday, May 19.

Students who have excelled in sports and extracurricular activities will be honored by their leaders.

Two highest members of the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes will be academically honored. Those seniors planning on entering graduate school will also be recognized.

Student Union To Be Finished This Fall

Mr. Charles Herald, job superintendent of twelve workers for Johnson Builders, Salina, predicts that the Student Union will be completed by September or October of 1961.

A sidewalk will join the new building with Mohler Hall, and a pebble terrace will lie along the north side of the building. The northwest section of first floor will contain a lounge-lobby.

Cafeteria and kitchen will occupy approximately one-third of the building's east first floor, with a service entrance and elevator as part of the kitchen equipment.

A private dining room with a fireplace will adjoin the cafeteria. A quiet room with a fireplace and an office will be on the south side of first floor.

A game room, 120 feet by 40 feet, will be located in the north-east section of the basement. In the middle portion of the basement will be a music listening room. A T. V. room will be located in the southwest corner of the basement. There will also be a conference room for Student Council meetings.

Pi Kappa Delta Initiates

Several students were initiated into Pi Kappa Delta on May 3. Kuy Shever, freshman, Correctionville, Iowa; John Harrison, Beloit; Carl Werner, sophomore, Winona; Mike Begole, junior, McPherson; and Dick Sitts, junior, McPherson, were initiated.

After the initiation election of officers was held, and refreshments were served in Prof. Guy Hayes' home.

Pi Kappa Delta is a forty-eight year old national honorary forensic fraternity open to students and faculty who have won distinction in such fields as debate, public speaking, oratory, and extemporaneous speaking.

Smith To Hold Meeting For Football Players

All men interested in participating in football next fall are requested by Coach Sid Smith to meet at the gym, next Monday, May 8, at 7:30 p.m.

Friendship Hall Exhibits Paintings

Twelve abstract paintings by Lily Shuff of Brooklyn, New York, are on exhibit in Friendship Hall during May.

Miss Shuff works in casein, which is a similar medium to watercolor and tempera. Her colors are brilliant, and she makes them work for her to evoke emotion or to suggest a mood. The brush strokes show power and movement.

All of the abstractions shown in this exhibit range in value from $125 to $200.

Picture titles of this collection are: Vermont Winter, Battle, Finlandia, Morocco, Birds in Jungle, Yucatan, Woman of Paris, Rocket, Wounded Bird, Versailles, Trestle, and Windswept.

Rothrock, Yost To Conduct Reading Clinic

Dr. Dayton Rothrock, associate professor of education, and Miss Fern Yost, principal of Lincoln Elementary School in McPherson, will conduct a reading clinic in McPherson this summer.

It will be operated as a private clinic during June and July and will not be directly connected with McPherson College or the public schools.

Students from first grade through college who need help with reading problems will receive individual instruction several times a week. Special remedial reading materials will be used in the clinic.

Assisting with the clinic will be Mrs. E. S. Funderburk from Hutchinson, who is a specialist in diagnostic testing for reading problems. She is the mother of Joe Funderburk, a sophomore at McPherson College this year.

CBYF To Have Program On Non-violence

Dale Brown, assistant professor of philosophy and religion, will speak on "The Theological and Psychological Bases for Non-violence" at the college CBYF meeting, Sunday, May 7, in the Multipurpose Room of the church Educational Building.

Professor Brown will present arguments pro and con non-violent action against another person. A question and discussion period will follow his speech.

At a future CBYF meeting, Gordon Switzer, junior from Atterford, Calif., will show slides of work camps in Europe.

Mike Begole, junior at McPherson College, entertains his four-year-old sister, Mary, whom his parents adopted in Iran. The Begoles live at 1308 Lyndon Road in McPherson.

Begole Recalls Experiences In Philippine Islands, Iran

Travel is the one word which could describe the life of Michael Begole McPherson College sophomore.

Mike was born in the Philippines while his father was working there for the Marsman Gold Mining Company. On December 7, 1941, his family moved to Manila, but the Japanese were already there.

In 1942 Mike, then two, and his mother were placed in a concentration camp by the Japanese. Santo Tomas University, Manila was the site of the concentration camp.

They were told they were to be there only three days. Three years later, March 1945, they were released. While Mike and his mother were in the concentration camp, his father worked for the Army in demolition.

Lived in Wichita
The Begoles came back to Kansas in April 1945 and lived in the Wichita area until 1956 when they

Macollege Selects New Housemothers

Next year's housemothers have been announced. Mrs. Wilbur Lauer will be the housemother at Fahnestock Hall while her husband will be employed in the maintenance department of the college. Mr. and Mrs. Lauer are the parents of Wendell, a McPherson College sophomore.

Mrs. B. F. Westfall presently a housemother at Washburn University, Topeka, will become housemother at Arnold Hall. She has attended several schools of housemothers and has graduated from training schools for housemothers.

Miss Neher will remain as housemother at Dotzour Hall. She will select girls to help her.

Mrs. Opal Miller, mother of Wilma and Bill, who are freshmen at Mac, will be the housemother at Vaniman Hall next year. Vaniman will be a men's dormitory. Mrs. Miller is the present housemother at Arnold Hall.

World's Fair, Brussels, Belgium, on the way.

Attended Grinnell
Mike attended Grinnell College, Grinnell, Iowa, for two years. Since his family moved to McPherson, Mike transferred to Macollege where he has been active in forensics and dramatics.

Mike's many interests include mountain climbing, dramatics, politics, and travel. He plans to enter law school and possibly go into foreign service.

He has a knowledge of two languages besides English—French and Farsi, the language of Iran.

Geisert Undergoes Surgery In Wichita

Mrs. Wayne F. Geisert was transferred to Wesley Hospital in Wichita, Tuesday, May 2. She underwent surgery Thursday morning.

Son Is Born To Roths

College Church Announces May Services

May plans for the McPherson Church of the Brethren are now complete.

"Before You March to Lohengrin!" is the sermon title selected for deliverance on the morning of May 7. Evening plans for the same date begin at 5:30 with the Kansas Centennial Dinner. Dr. John D. Bright will speak on "Some Striking Events During Early Kansas Statehood."

Mothers' Day, May 14, will be observed with a baby dedication ceremony. "Parents: Curse or Blessing?" is the chosen subject for the morning talk. Receptions for high school graduates will be held in the evening.

May 21 has been selected as the day for the sermon "But... They Were Not There." Church and College Spring Fellowship at Lakeside Park beginning at 4:30 is scheduled for the same afternoon. High school commence-

Library Adds Reference Book

A recent addition to the McPherson College Library was the McGraw-Hill Encyclopedia of Science and Technology an international reference work, which consists of fifteen volumes including an index.

Copyrighted in 1960, the encyclopedia will be kept completely up to date by a Yearbook of Science and Technology, which will be published annually.

Illustrated with nearly 10,000 drawings, charts, maps, photographs, and diagrams in black and white and color, the encyclopedia gives the reader access to the basic concepts, terminology, and latest developments in every major area of pure and applied sciences.

ments will be held during the evening.

Baccalaureate services will take place in Brown Auditorium during the regular church hour on the morning of May 28. President D. W. Bittering will deliver the sermon "A Burning Bush." Church school will precede this service at the regularly scheduled time.

Commencement exercises for college graduates are planned for the evening of May 28 at 7:30. Kansas's governor, John Anderson, will be the featured speaker.
