

Mac Church Celebrates 75th Anniversary

Season Tickets Available For 1960-61 Cultural Series

Season tickets for the five programs in the McPherson College-Community Cultural Series are available at the Public Relations Office to all regularly enrolled college students for $4.00. Single admission price at each program is $2.00.

First in a series of programs and the first event held in the new Jessie Brown Auditorium will be the Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers next Friday evening, Oct. 21, at 8:15.

This group of men is composed of Russian refugees who were unwelcome in their homeland because of their opposition to Communism.

Since their beginning in 1927, they have toured all five continents and performed in 67 different countries. The Cossack Chorus has given more than 7,000 concerts, 3,000 of which were rendered in the United States.

Russian Star

Kyra Petrovskaya, a famous star of Russian stage and screen, is another addition to the series. As the daughter of a Russian Prince, she has led a dramatic life which began with a rescue from a Red firing squad when she was less than a year old.

In 1946, she was married to an American diplomat in the first foreign ceremony to be performed in the Moscow Cathedral since the Revolution.

A lecturer with a broad international background and a firsthand knowledge of some of the most pressing problems of our time, she will present a cultural series program on Nov. 4.

St. Louis Trio

Other programs in the series include the St. Louis Trio, which is composed of three members of the St. Louis Symphony: Melvin Ritter, violinist; Olga Zilboorg, cellist; and Jane Allen, Pianist. Mr. Ritter, the assistant concertmaster of the St. Louis Sym-

Mac Students Represent 27 States, 7 Countries

Twenty-seven states and seven countries are represented by the four hundred and sixty-eight students enrolled in McPherson College. Three of these states contribute only one student while one state, Kansas, is represented by 232 students.

Following is a listing of the number of students from each state:

Kansas	232
Iowa	58
Missouri	24
Colorado	22
Ohio	18
Oklahoma	14
Pennsylvania	12
Nebraska	10

All the rest of the states are represented by less than 10 students. These states are listed below:

Illinois, Minnesota, Idaho, Texas, Virginia, California, Florida, Indiana, Louisiana, New Mexico, Wyoming, Hawaii, Maryland, Michigan, Mississippi, New Jersey, New York, Arkansas, and Washington.

Stop Now!

Pause And Consider Life In Its Total Perspective

By Larry Elliott

Each year McPherson College observes Religious Emphasis Week. At this time an outstanding Christian leader is brought to our campus to live with us for several days and to lead us in a consideration of the place that Christianity has to play in our lives.

These special opportunities for worship, study and fellowship have sometimes been viewed by students and faculty as highlights of the entire school year.

The concern for the development of the total personality of the individual is a primary concern of education and the Christian college makes a definite commitment to carry out this philosophy of education.

In the academic community, as in all areas of life, there is a need to pause and consider life in its total perspective. All of us—students, faculty and administration—need to constantly strive to find the implications of the Christian faith for our lives.

U. S. Suffers Another Defeat As Brazil Elects New Man

All signs indicate that the United States suffered another political defeat last week as the people of Brazil went to the polls to elect a new president.

The Brazilian people, who have been long our best friends in Latin America, elected Janio Quadros.

Quadros has the reputation of being another Fidel Castro and it is feared that he will immediately recognize Russia and Red China. He has already made a trip to Cuba and has professed admiration for the Cuban leader.

While Quadro is not personally anti-American, the most effective tactic he used in his campaign for the presidency was to be critical of the United States.

It should be most interesting to follow Quadros as he takes over his new post, I challenge each of you to keep up on this Latin American situation and other world affairs that are so vitally important to the future of our lives.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Why Follow The College Crowd?

In colleges and universities the latest styles become the predominant wearing apparel; the latest phrases become the talk of the campus; large clubs and organizations draw more members; and a tradition becomes a favorite pastime. Why? Because students want to do what other students do, be popular, and be socially accepted. Fads are busting out all over, and students want to follow the crowd.

What makes students have this attitude? Why do they want to follow the crowd? One reason, I believe, is that they are too dependent on their parents; they are still tied to parental apron strings. Now that the students are in college, parents aren't at their beckoning. To whom can they go? Where can they go? They go to the leaders or influential members of the campus and follow them.

Some students just aren't able to be leaders. This, in a sense, is basically good; for if all students were leaders, there would be no followers, and a dispute or rivalry among the leaders might occur. Of what use is the college, then, as an institution? Isn't its purpose to develop leaders? True, one of the purposes of a college is to develop leaders; but there are many other purposes. It should be remembered, too, that some people will be followers all their lives. Social pressures can weigh very heavily if allowed to do so. Students naturally want to show their best selves. But how can they do this? What can they say? How will they know what is right? Most students desiring social acceptance find their answers by following the crowd.

The desire to be someone, to be known and recognized, faces numerous students. Somehow, they must emerge from their worlds of unknown background to one of campus familiarity. A bookworm doesn't succeed in this transition. He is recognized as a bookworm—an intellectual who thinks of nothing besides books and knowledge. How does one keep from being a bookworm? How does one enter the coveted world of campus familiarity? Perhaps by joining clubs by imitating a prominent figure on campus, or by keeping a ladle in every gray bowl; but most of all by following the crowd.

Pondering With The President

Thinking About 75 Years; The Past And The Future

By D. W. Bittinger

Seventy-five years is not really a long time.

The oldest man so far discovered lived in Africa 600,000 years ago; Columbus landed on this hemisphere 467 years ago; we became an independent people less than 200 years ago.

But a lot of things can happen in 75 years. That long ago some Brethren started a church at McPherson. College Hill was then a cornfield. Euclid Street was a trail, often a muddy trail.

But within 75 years a lovely church stands on East Euclid and the street leads into a modern college with more than 500 students. Good homes, great careers, strengthened lives, enlarge intellects have grown from this place during 75 years.

The important consideration, however, is, what will happen in the next 75 years? We should be able to reach much higher than our forefathers because we can stand on their shoulders. This is the only way we can be worthy of them.

Cultural Series

Frank H. Crumpacker became the first full-time, paid pastor of the congregation in 1907. Eight others have followed him.

New Church Site

The present church site was purchased in 1919 and ground breaking for "a large church with a 1,000 chair capacity" began in 1920.

Six years later the new McPherson Church of the Brethren was dedicated with H. F. Richards serving as pastor. "A time of rejoicing" came in 1944 with the mortgage burning.

Correction . . .

The Spectator apologizes to Miss Anna Geesman, the new switchboard operator that arrived on campus last weekend, for unintentionally calling her Mrs. instead of Miss in the story appearing in last week's paper.

Read and heed Spec ads.

The Westminster Choir of Princeton, New Jersey, is considered by discriminating music critics as one of the world's best choirs. The choir has recordings of great musical works with orchestras such as the New York Philharmonic and Philadelphia Symphony.

Their presentation consists mostly of a wide variety of sacred music selected from the outstanding of the past and interspersed with the best loved of contemporary music.

William Clauson, a Swedish-American balladeer and guitarist, will present one of the programs of the series. A modern counterpart of the old world troubadour, he has spent much time travelling.

Mr. Clauson has a contract with Capitol Records and previously has recorded for RCA Victor.

Mac Meets Bethany In Afternoon Game

Bulldog Eleven Challenges Strong Set Of Swedes

In their 38th annual rivalry, the McPherson Bulldogs will meet the Bethany Swedes tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. at the new Anderson Field in Lindsborg.

After last week's upset over Southwestern, the Swedes will be anxious to cop a homecoming victory over the Bulldogs. However, Mac will attempt to maintain their winning supremacy, which they have held over the Swedes for the last ten years.

The overall record favors the Swedes as they have won 20, lost 14, and tied 3 games since competition between the two rivals began in 1920.

Records Compared

Coming to the clash with a record of 1 win, 2 losses and 1 tie, the Bulldogs line-up consists of 3 seniors and 9 lettermen. Bethany, whose squad boasts 9 seniors and 14 lettermen, holds a record of 2 wins and 2 losses.

In their season's opener, the Swedes beat Sterling with a score of 20-7. The next two games saw the Bethany eleven nosed out to the College of Emporia, 6-7, and Kansas Wesleyan, 19-20. The Swedes spoiled Southwestern's undefeated record with a score of 14-0 in last week's game.

Underdog Bethany dominated play, outgaining Southwestern 2 to 1 in yardage, and driving 70 yards for a touchdown the first time they got the ball.

Pep Club Makes Changes In Point System

Pep Club has recently adopted a new point system. This year it will take 500 points to earn a Pep Club jacket, 1,000 points to earn the silver disc, and 1,500 points for the desk pen set.

These changes were suggested by the Pep Club cabinet and voted in by the members at their Oct. 4 meeting. A list of the ways of earning points will soon be distributed to members.

Anyone wanting to join Pep Club should pay their $1.00 dues to Carolyn Trapp, treasurer. Dues are to be paid on or before Oct. 17 if the member expects to get credit for points earned before this date.

Slater Sponsors Carving Contest For Halloween

Interested in decorating a pumpkin? Plans are now underway for a Halloween pumpkin carving contest to see who can originate the best decorated pumpkin.

The pumpkin contest will be divided into three divisions—humorous, artistic, and original.

Pumpkins will be available at the Slater Food Service to all interested students on Oct. 19. The contest is open to all students regardless of whether they eat at the cafeteria or not.

Deadline for the entries is Oct. 30 and they will be judged by the cafeteria committee and one of the faculty members on Monday evening, Oct. 31.

Mr. Charles Herman, manager of the food service, stated, "We are hoping that we can have some of the pumpkin decoration finished for display Homecoming weekend and we also urge students to keep the cost of their decorations at a minimum and use ingenuity."

Swedes Upset Southwestern In KCAC Play

While Bethany was knocking off Southwestern last weekend, Ottawa and Baker extended their Kansas Conference records to 4-0.

The Swedes of Bethany proved to be record spoilers as they upset Southwestern 14-0. The Mount-builders had been undefeated and were making their bid for the conference championship their first year in the KCAC.

Score 195 Points

Ottawa's potent Braves, who have scored 195 points to only 40 for their opposition, had their closest call of the season in a 46-21 conquest of College of Emporia. Herb Sutton scored on runs of 17, 55, and 75 yards as Ottawa rolled up 318 yards on the ground.

Baker University of Baldwin City received a 3-touchdown performance all from Jim Knight as they beat Kansas Wesleyan 27-14. The Wildcats rolled up 351 yards on the ground against the Coyotes.

Fifth Loss

Two touchdowns in the second quarter and another in the fourth gave McPherson a 19-6 victory over Friends. For the Bulldogs it was their first win of the season and for Friends it was their fifth straight loss.

Bethel College of Newton notched its second Kansas Conference win of the year as it bested winless Sterling 25-7. Terry Schrag starred for the Threshers as he gained 114 yards in 13 carries including a 51-yard touchdown run. Conference games for this weekend show all teams playing tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow night.

Macollege Takes First Win From Friends, 19-6

Macollege gained its first victory of the season, 19-6, against Friends University last Saturday night on the home field.

The victory left McPherson with a record of 1 win, 2 losses, and 1 tie; and Friends with 0 wins, 4 losses in conference play and 0 wins, 5 losses for the season.

Action broke loose when the Bulldogs recovered a Friends' fumble. Art Hoch gained 38 yards on a pass to David Priddy, and Tom Richards and Larry Crumrine carried to the Friends six-yard line for a first down.

Richards then went around the right end to score the first touchdown of the game. The attempt to kick the extra point failed.

Second T.D. For Mac

Later in the period another McPherson drive started on the Friends 49 yd. line. Priddy made 13 yards on a pass play. Hoch passed 20 yards to Priddy to reach the Friends 12 yd. line, and then Hoch passed again to Kuhlman who scored the second touchdown. A pass from Larry Crumrine to Priddy connected for the extra point.

In the third quarter the Bulldogs started to hit the Friends' line with Don Prochaska, Wessolowski, and Smith to make the third touchdown for the Bulldogs. The extra point was not good, making the score 19-0.

Werner Stops 70-yd. Run
With about two minutes remaining to play, Danny Carpenter picked a McPherson fumble out of the air and raced 70 yards where he was brought down by Garth Werner, a Bulldog tackle.

Bob Thompson went wide around left end to score for Friends. The attempt at an extra point failed, and the game ended with the score favoring the Bulldogs 19-6.

Crumrine Tops Yard Gains
Crumrine was McPherson's top yard gainer, averaging 5.3 yards per carry on seven carries. Marlin Smith was second with 5.1 on eight carries, then Tim Wessolowski with 4.0 average on 11 carries. Don Prochaska 3.7 average on 10 carries, Richards 2.6 on 12 carries.

Discussing plans for the 1961 Quadrangle is Donelda Arick, editor of the Quad, and Dr. J. F. Slifer, Mac alumnus who is credited with giving the Quad its name.

Dr. J. F. Slifer Gave Annual The Name Of 'Quadrangle'

When you remember the college you think of the campus; what it looks like. It was two blocks each way — a quadrangle."

This is the way Dr. J. Fahrney Slifer came upon the name for the college annual, the "Quadrangle".

In 1911 the college made its first attempt at publishing a year-book. The book was called "The Dandelion" and its 174 pages were bound in the form of a scrap-book.

The college published its second annual in 1917 and called this one "The M. C. Spirit".

Three years later "Life and Light" appeared as volume three. This book was dedicated to Dr. H. J. Harnly and in the 191 pages was the story of the building of Kline Hall.

"The annual was irregular in publication and had no satisfactory name" Dr. Slifer went on to say.

In 1921 the Student Council announced a contest for the naming of the annual and three prizes for winners.

A suggestion box was placed at the south door of the chapel and names were suggested by all the students.

The Student Council then chose the best six names suggested. These were then presented and defended in Chapel, by the proposer.

"I was the last speaker and stood on the corner of the platform and tried to speak above the knocking of my knees" says Dr. Slifer.
