Today Is The Last Day To Register For Election

By LARRY ELLIOTT

November 8 will mark another milestone in our nation's history. As we all know, this is Election Day. Radio and television commercials are urging us to vote for and support the party of our choice. The newspapers are full of stories concerning the contenders for major offices and more political news will be printed as the Election Day approaches.

Many Americans, however, tend to shirk from their duty to vote. They more or less let the other guy carry the load. What they don't know is that more times than not that is just what the other guy is thinking.

Today is the last day that registration books will be open at the city clerk's office and if you are eligible to vote get down there this afternoon. To vote in McPherson, a person must be 21, a resident of the state for six months, and a resident of his ward and precinct for 30 days.

To you who have to have absentee ballots and haven't investigated what you need to do, you have already missed the boat. Sit back and gripe about everything that goes wrong in the government for the next four years. It helps people to cool off if they let off steam.

Americans Need To Change Views Of The World

Not too long ago, the juke boxes across America were telling the heartrending story of a teen-aged lad who said he didn't know much about history, geography or trigonometry, but that he did know one thing: that he loved his girl, and if she would only love him too, "what a wonderful world it would be."

Unfortunately, there are too many Americans who show this sort of thinking, or lack of thinking. In an age of jet aircraft, guided missiles, and worldwide communication, many of us Americans still consider the limits of our world as ten feet in any direction from where we happen to be at the moment.

When we were in high school, we didn't read the newspapers because we didn't want to be "different."

Now when we are in college, we don't pay any attention to the rest of the world because we're too busy trying to get in all the campus organizations, or slaving to buy a new car or to dress according to the latest fad.

After graduation from college, we've got to get into the "best" clubs and buy a home in Country Club Heights.

It is very nice when our world is so limited, because then we don't think we will be bothered by such things as hydrogen bombs that could turn the world into a pile of dust, or the spread of Communism which, if not checked, could engulf the world in a new Dark Age.

Hydrogen bombs won't spare Country Club Heights any more than Main Street, and members of the inner circle won't be any safer than members of the outer circle.

Nobody's little ten-foot-radius world is safe under present conditions. And it won't be safe until everyone starts thinking about something other than himself long enough to start changing the conditions.

We are all guilty, so let's do something now before it is too late.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

THANKS FOR TH' BISCUITS, FREDA, I'LL EAT THEM WITH LUNCH.

Hallowe'en Tricks Today Are Mild!

The primary worry of adults as Hallowe'en approaches is the alarming thought "What will kids do this year?" Then their thoughts grimly turn to last year's pranks-soaped windows, dumped garbage cans, etc.—and they shudder in apprehension of pranks in store this year.

Cheer up! When adults were Hallowe'eners it was much rougher.

Hallowe'en festivities go back at least 2,000 years. The last day of the year on the old pagan calendar, Oct. 31, served the triple purpose of bidding good-bye to summer welcoming winter, and remembering the dead.

The Irish built tremendous bonfires on hillsides to offer encouragement to the waning sun and to provide a warm welcome for the visiting spirits of dead kinfolk.

Toss Humans In Fire

The earliest Irish had the quaint custom of tossing one of their number into the bonfire, the better to placate the evil spirits. Their less rugged descendants sacrificed a horse instead; still later generations contended themselves with throwing nuts and stones into the fire.

These symbolic sacrifices were also fortune-telling props. For instance, if the nuts tossed by young lovers exploded in the flames, theirs would be a quarrelsome marriage.

Also folks began hollowing out turnips and pumpkins and placing lighted candles inside to scare evil spirits from the house.

Ancient Apple Game
Few apple-bobbers realize what an ancient game they play, or how rugged the sport used to be. During the Middle Ages, an apple and a lighted candle were stuck at opposite ends of a stick which was suspended from the ceiling.

The players were blindfolded and attempted to grab a bite of the apple without getting singed. The game was always good for a howl.

What other fun and games did our wholesome ancestors enjoy? Overwrought celebrants used to carry away their neighbors' gates and plows, pelt their houses with vegetables and stop up the chimney so no smoke could escape. These were adults mind you!

The kids caught on pretty fast. It was the custom in many regions for children to dress up in each other's clothes (boys donning girls' outfits and vice versa), and complete the ensemble with masks. Thus arrayed, they went out to play tricks and collect loot.

Does this sound like the present?

Pondering With The President

World Desperately Needs Great Leader At Present

By D. W. Bittinger

It has frequently been said: "When The World faces a real crisis a capable leader emerges." This has sometimes been true. Witness: Aristotle, Rousseau, Jefferson, Lincoln, Gandhi. But it has not always been so; a score of civilizations are buried in ruins because a leader did not arise.

The world desperately needs a leader now; one who is capable of clear thinking and courageous speaking.

He may not be able to arise because we will not let him. Would we "brand" him rather than hear him? Would we crucify him rather than follow him? The evidences are that we would.

Likely such a leader will have to come from the ranks of the educated or trained but not at all necessarily from America. Shall we cease training for uniformity and mediocrity? Shall we give this leader a chance to rise somewhere in the world?

Braves To Host Bulldogs In Ottawa's Homecoming

Traveling to Ottawa University tomorrow afternoon will be the McPherson College Bulldogs as they clash with the Ottawa Braves in their annual homecoming game.

The game will be an afternoon affair starting at 2 p.m. at Cook Field, seating 3,000 fans.

KCAC Leader

Ottawa is at present tied for the KCAC lead with Baker with a 6-0 record.

Ottawa in six games has rolled over Friends 53-0, Bethel 34-0, Sterling 62-21, C. of E., 46-21, Kansas Wesleyan 39-20, and just last week suffered its closest call of the season when it managed to squeeze by Southwestern 13-7.

McPherson has beaten Friends 19-7, tied Kansas Wesleyan 13-13, lost to Bethany 22-13, C. of E. 13-0, Southwestern 27-0, and Baker 25-7.

Sutton Leader

Herb Sutton, sophomore half back for the Braves, will be the man that the Bulldogs will have to corral if they hope to beat them. Sutton has scored 90 points in 6 games for a 15 point average and is the present scoring leader in the KCAC.

Along with Sutton the whole Brave team is leading the KCAC in team rushing.

Braves Hold Edge

Since Mac and Ottawa started playing in 1929 Ottawa holds a slight advantage. The Braves have won 14 and the Bulldogs 13 games.

Last year Ottawa, second place finisher in the KCAC, downed the Bulldogs 19-6.

The tentative starting lineup for the Bulldogs will be Priddy, G. Werner, M. Rolfs, Wood, L. McPherson, I. Prochaska, Metsker, Crumrine, Wesselowski, Jones, and Richards.

Bloodmobile To Be Here Next Month

The Red Cross bloodmobile will be at the College Church Nov. 18. This year's quota is 160 pints of blood, which would require 200 people. The bloodmobile will handle nine to ten people every 15 minutes.

College students must be married, 21, or have their parents' consent before they can give blood.

People will be needed for typing, setting up equipment, soliciting donors, and giving blood. The Home Ec Club will serve dinner.

Anyone interested in doing preliminary typing may see Mrs. Brunk, college activities chairman.

Ottawa University had a tough time disposing of Southwestern and were held to their lowest point production of the season as they squeezed by the Mountbuilders 13-7. Ottawa's Herb Sutton scored all 13 of Ottawa's points.

Three Touchdowns

Jim Paramore scored three touchdowns as the Baker Wildcats beat McPherson's Bulldogs in a homecoming affair 25-7. Norman Cobb passed 32 yards and 40 yards to Paramore and Knight for two of Baker's touchdowns.

Rane Goes Wild

A rapidly improving Bethel college football squad ran over the Kansas Wesleyan Coyotes 33-6. Larry Rane, Bethel frosh, had a big part in the romp as he ran 53 yards, and 1 yard for touchdowns; intercepted a pass for 36 yards and gained 66 yards in five carries through the line.

Kansas Wesleyan threw 30 passes but completed only seven and had 6 intercepted during the game.

Baker Downs Mac 25-7 In Homecoming Clash

The McPherson College Bulldogs tasted defeat for the fourth time this season as they were downed 25-7 by the Baker University Wildcats Saturday night before a homecoming crowd of 2,000 fans.

The win for Baker left the Wildcats tied with Ottawa University for the KCAC lead with 6-0 records. In games so far this season the Bulldogs have managed to down Friends, tie Kansas Wesleyan, and lose to four other conference opponents.

History Sees 73 Years Of Continuing Mac Growth

In 1887 a committee picked McPherson as the community for a Church of the Brethren College. Several communities had made offers to this six man committee of noted Brethren men, but they decided unanimously on McPherson.

This committee based their choice on these reasons: a good water supply, a community of Brethren near at hand, written promises by responsible parties, a central location, good railroads, and a temperate community.

McPherson College and Industrial Institute was the name given to this new school by this committee. The Charter states that it was founded for the purpose of maintaining an institution of learning in harmony with the principles of the German Baptist Brethren.

Also as far as practicable it should be under the general control of the District Conferences in Kansas.

The institution was to maintain a department of liberal arts, a commercial department, an industrial department, a normal department and a department of Bible.

First Classes In 1888
Sept. 5, 1888, was the opening day with 75 students attending. S. Z. Sharp was the president, M. M. Eshleman secretary, and George E. Studebaker, business manager.

McPherson College became the official name adopted on Feb. 12, 1898.

Fahnestock Hall, built in 1888, was the first building to be erected on campus. It was named for S. B. Fahnestock, a trustee. This men's dormitory was rebuilt in 1942.

Sharp Was First President
Sharp Administration Hall was named for S. Z. Sharp, the first president. Major portions of the building were erected in 1888, with completion in 1898.

Arnold Hall, a men's dormitory, named for C. E. Arnold, a former professor of mathematics and pedagogy, was built in 1916.

Kline Built In 1919
Kline Hall provides housing for married students. It was built in 1919 and named for John Kline. Housing all science, home economics and the museum is Harnly Hall, named for H. J. Harnly, natural science professor, and built in 1922.

The Forney Heating Plant, named for F. W. Forney, who served the college for many years as superintendent of buildings and grounds, was built in 1949.

Royer and Edna Dotzour Hall is a women's dormitory made possible by Royer and Edna Dotzour and erected in 1953.

Trustees Approve Extension Of Scholarship Program

In a meeting of the trustees, held on the Saturday of Homecoming day, it was voted to extend the scholarship program of McPherson College.

Scholarships to be awarded by examination—

1. Five at $1,000 each.
2. Three at $800 each.
3. Three at $600 each.

This is an extension of the program which was in operation during the past year. Several score of students came to McPherson College last summer from Kansas and from adjoining states to participate in an examination program for scholarships. From this, five scholarships were awarded valued at $1,000 each.

It was felt that to those who are runners-up in such examinations additional scholarships should be offered. The $800 and $600 scholarships are to be granted to those who rank high but who do not receive the $1,000 award. These are all payable over four years; $250, $300, and $150 per year.

In addition to these scholarships, the scholarship program which awards $200 to high school seniors graduating in the upper ten per cent of their class and to junior college graduates also in the upper ten per cent of their class, will be continued. Thus, the scholarship program includes awards of $1,000, $800, $600, and $200.

Danforth Gives Fellowships

The Danforth Foundation invites applications from college senior men and recent graduates who are preparing themselves for a career of college teaching, and are planning to enter graduate school in Sept. 1961, for their first year of graduate study.

President D. W. Bittinger has named Dean Wayne F. Geisert as the Liaison Officer to nominate to the Danforth Foundation two or not to exceed three candidates for these 1961 fellowships.

These appointments are fundamentally a relationship of encouragement throughout the years of graduate study, carrying a promise of financial aid within prescribed conditions as there may be needed.

The maximum annual grant for single Fellows is $1500 plus tuition and fees charged to all graduate students; for married Fellows, $2000 plus tuition and fees charged to all graduate students with an additional stipend of $500 for each child.

Students with or without financial need are invited to apply. The qualifications of the candidates are: men of outstanding academic ability, personality congenial to the classroom, and integrity and character, including serious inquiry within the Christian tradition.
