Board Wants Camp Leaders For Youth

Students who are willing to spend three weeks working with youth, junior highs, and children are wanted by a Church of the Brethren District Board in the eastern part of the nation.

The board is interested in three to five college students who have had previous experience in church of the Brethren summer camps. The camps will be held the first three weeks in August. Transportation costs will be provided for one car.

Any Macollege students interested in serving as camp leaders in the areas of music, recreation, swimming, and crafts may contact Paul Wagner, director of alumni affairs, by Saturday, Feb. 10.

Heart Sisters Begin Deeds Monday, Feb. 5

McPherson College women will participate in the annual Heart Sister Week from Monday, Feb. 5 until Monday, Feb. 12.

Each woman draws a name of someone to be her Heart Sister. Secrecy will prevail until the names are revealed at a costume party which will be held in the Student Union at 9:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 12.

Each woman, including the women of the faculty, will do helpful secret deeds or will give 10 cents gifts daily during the week.

In the past some of these deeds have been ironing a blouse, polishing shoes, emptying wastebaskets, or making a bed.

Heart Sister Week is sponsored by Macollege's Women's Council. This year's president is Velma Harris, Jennings, La.

Other officers are: vice president Eleanor Draper, Eldora, Iowa; secretary, Marcene Gidley, Topeka; treasurer, Shirley Reynolds, Des Moines, Iowa; and publicity, Betty Brallier, Curlew, Iowa. Miss Mary Ann Robinson, dean of women, is the faculty advisor.

Peace Corps Will Give Placement Tests

Peace Corps placement tests will be given Saturday, Feb. 17, at 8:30 a.m. in Room 208 of the Wichita Insurance building in Wichita. These tests will be divided into two batteries.

General examinations are for all applicants who wish to be considered for any Peace Corp assignment except secondary school and college level teaching positions.

Secondary school teachers' examinations are for all those interested in secondary school and university teaching.

Tests are not competitive. They are designed to give a profile of the applicants, but the results constitute only one of the many factors considered in an evaluation.

For more details concerning specific areas covered in the tests, students may consult the Peace Corps bulletin board on the first floor of Mohler.

Goals For Staff Focus On Encouraging Thought

By Beverly Judge

With every semester the SPECTATOR staff undergoes a change in personnel. Two members are advanced in position, a new staff member is added, and new reporters join the force.

Even with these changes, the paper remains essentially the same. Minor additions and revisions are made in the hope that they will be improvements.

We are fortunate in having an increased number of students desiring to become reporters. It is encouraging that these students will volunteer their services which make it possible to produce a better paper.

Our purpose this semester will be to provoke and encourage students to think not only on matters of campus concern, but to think on issues that deal with the world at large.

We hope to broaden your thoughts through cultural insights and issues of concern to all.

It is our hope that each student may take time out each day to read the newspapers, listen to news on radio or television, or use any other medium to brush up on the world and national events.

If we can prod you into asking yourself what you should think and say on important campus and world issues, then our task of producing a student newspaper will be fulfilled.

Acid And Base

Warning: Don't Let Studies Interfere With Social Life

By Magoo

The opening of a new semester is a good time to remind all our readers not to let school work stand in the way of their education. There is a tendency at many colleges today to put the emphasis on learning from books, and to ignore the amenities of seven parties a week. Flunk out now, and avoid the spring rush.

In the last issue of the SPECTATOR, we suggested in this column that the best way to get results on the "slot-machine" issue was to become vocal. It is our ego good to note that someone did—in fact, nearly 200 someone's—did, just that. A petition appeared in the SU (with, we hope, the OK of the Director of the Student Union.)

Signatures
Sadly, the sincerity of that petition was somewhat diminished by some of the signatures affixed thereon.

The writer of "Thomas Jefferson," "Slick Nick," and "Brigit (sic!) Bardot" are so clever they should write for "Punch" and leave us alone. Not only were these signatures immature and unfunny, they weren't even forgeries.

A forgery of Thomas Jefferson's or Brigitte Bardot's name would have indicated a least a bit of research and artistic ability on the part of the forger.

George Washington
General George Washington—member of the First Continental Congress—once wrote, "Cleanse not your teeth with the Table Cloth, Napkin, Fork or Knife." This admonition could very well be extended to say, "Neither clip your Fingernails in class."

While it obviously does not disturb the clipper, a steady click-click-click during an important part of the lecture can be very disconcerting. So come on. Let's take care of our beauty treatments at home.
Hang by your thumbs.

New Students?

Termites have enrolled in both laboratories in the Chemistry Department and are busily eating up the desks if not the chemicals.

"Harnly Hall is now undergoing termite control treatment. The noise of the drilling through the floors is now keeping the students awake in the lecture room unfortunately," states Dr. Wesley DeCoursey, professor of chemistry.

Termites, also known as white ants, feed upon cellulose or cellulistic derivatives of wood and leaves. They seldom eat the living portions of plants.

Art Department Hosts Faculty, Staff For Coffee

The three instructors in the art department were hostesses at a coffee for the MacCollege faculty and staff on Jan. 19. Some of the art students' work was displayed.

Purpose of the coffee was to acquaint them with the art department—its changes and improvements.

The department is now located in the basement of Arnold Hall.

Color, Sensation, Beauty

Kinsey Paintings On Display

By Darlene Bilkenstaff
Instructor In Art

Color contains power, potency, impact, as do the consonances and the clashing dissonances in music. If you have never experienced the power in color, the paintings of Douglas Kinsey, which are now hanging in Friendship Hall, offer the opportunity.

For it seems clear that this painter speaks primarily through color, choosing not to give detailed information about his images. Indeed, he has furnished no titles, his reason being the following:

"The only advantage of titles is for identification as against the strong disadvantage that the viewers often have a tendency to look at them to explain the works rather than at the works themselves."

His words as well as his choice of color invite one to feast not upon the image alone, but upon the stuff of which the image is made.

Paint Is Important
The paint of the painting, therefore, is of primary importance, just as sound is primary to music. When it is joined with an image we receive that special sensation conveyed by painting.

The sensations created by Mr. Kinsey's work vary greatly from the grotesque to the gay, from the harsh to the harmonious. And it is this variety and range of expressive content which embodies his maturity as an artist.

As each of us views the paintings it is my hope that we first rid ourselves of the preconceptions we may have for painting, so that the newness and freshness of Mr. Kinsey's works may play upon us.

Broaden Concept

We may learn in this way to broaden our concept of beauty into one more meaningful and more true than that of the sweet, the pretty, the delicate.

Douglas Kinsey is a graduate of Oberlin College, having re-

Pondering With The President

The Peace Corps And Other Exchanges

By D. W. Bittinger

Sargent Shriver met recently in Chicago with heads of major industries to talk with them about the Peace Corps. He told them that a great variety of people with specialized skills who would serve in many parts of the world were urgently needed.

Places pin-pointed were: Ethiopia, Ivory Coast, Samoli, Tunisia, Togo, North Borneo, Jamaica, Honduras, Venezuela, Bolivia, Peru.

Type of skills needed were: elementary and secondary teachers, physical education teachers, mechanics, architects, construction foremen, medical personnel, nurses, land surveyors, agricultural extension workers, 4-H club workers, librarians, social workers, public health educators, mid-wives, well-drillers, sanitary engineers, anthropologists, electricians.

These industrial leaders agreed to try to find from within their industries people trained in these skills and to grant them leaves of absence, so that they could go and serve in these capacities. Their jobs would be held for them until they returned.

This sounds like a helpful direction. Would it be possible for colleges to release professors, for public schools to release teachers, for churches to release pastors? Education, and the church, should welcome such opportunities to serve.

People to people exchange should be done not only through the Peace Corps but also directly through church and educational exchanges. They were at it long before Peace Corps was organized. They should not slow down now.

Ernestine Scantland is a new senior student this semester.

Enrolled Previously

Students enrolled this semester who previously attended Macollege are Dawn Bowen, Kathy Duncan, Charlotte Erritt, Stuart Frazier, Orville Neufeld, Jerry Rolfs, Richard Roller, and Robert Varner. McPherson College enrollment for second semester was five hundred students as of Friday, Jan. 26, while last semester's enrollment was 537.

Freshman class enrollment decreased to 180 this semester from 186 students last semester. The enrollment of the sophomore class is 122 as compared to 124 last semester.

Decrease

While the junior class enrollment was 103 last semester, it decreased to 99 this semester. The senior class number totals 75 students to 81 last semester.

While 24 special students are enrolled this semester, 43 were enrolled first semester.

College Dairy Herd Ranks First In County Production

Macollege's dairy herd ranked first in milk and butterfat production in McPherson County for the month of December, 1961, according to statistics released by the McPherson County Extension Office.

December was the second consecutive month that the college herd was high in the county.

Production figures for November showed an average milk production of 988 pounds per cow with 45.6 pounds of butterfat. In December, the college herd averaged 938 pounds of milk and 45.3 pounds of butterfat.

Figures Compiled

Figures are compiled by the Dairy Herd Improvement Association. Thirty-five herds are on official DHIA test in McPherson County.

Only one of the Kansas dairy herds on a central processing basis exceeded the daily butterfat production of the college herd during the month of November.

Donation

The present college herd has been in existence about five years and began with the donation of three animals in the spring of 1957.

One of these animals, a Holstein cow, donated by Ray Miller of Waterloo, Iowa, has the best production record to date, in the herd with 16,000 pounds of milk and 611 pounds of butterfat in 305 days.

Macollege's herd now consists of 86 head of Holstein and Guernsey cattle. Forty-six cows were in production during December.

Plan To Increase

Present plans call for increasing the milking herd to approximately 60 cows.

Herdsmen for the college herd is Don Pauley who is assisted by part time help from college men.

Bob Detwiler, senior student in the Agriculture and Rural Life department, works regularly at the farm.

FOR Sponsors National Essay, Poster Contest

Two contests are being sponsored by the Fellowship of Reconciliation under its program of "Shelters for the Shelterless."

Purpose of this program is to encourage high school and college students to explore the practicality of fallout shelters in the light of the need for housing around the world.

Through the media of the written word and the graphic arts it is expected that students will express concern for building a peaceful world now rather than preparing for war.

Directing Funds

Under the "Shelter for the Shelterless" program this is to be done by directing funds contributed to self-help housing projects through such international agencies as the United Nations.

Each contest will have a high school and college division with separate prizes for each. Prizes for the first three places will be the publication and use of the essays and posters for publicity of the program as well as a selection of books dealing with international affairs, reconciliation and nonviolence.

National Competition

Each school or college participating will submit up to three entries in each contest to be judged in national competition by well-known persons in the arts.

Sources of all actual material should be indicated.

Essays in the college division should be between 1000 and 1500 words in length. Posters may be done in any media, but should be in Bristol Board approximately 17 1/2 x 22 1/2.

Entries must be postmarked by Feb. 28.

Any interested students may contact Mrs. Darlene Blickenstaff, instructor in art, for more information or advice.
