Spring Formal Features 'Deep Sea Fantasy'

"Deep-sea Fantasy" will be the theme for the Spring Formal to be held tomorrow night at 8:15 p.m. in the Student Union. The College Combo will provide the music for the dance, and a program will be presented.

Wayne Moritz, sophomore from Manhattan, will be master of ceremonies for the program. He will give a nostalgic monologue of friends who influenced him during his childhood.

Jeri Wall, McPherson, will give an interpretative dance, accompanied by her husband, Rollyn Wall, a junior.

Betty Oltman and Arlo Bowen will sing "A Portrait of My Love."

College Combo
The College Combo consists of Don Allen, Dave Royer, Leslie Rothrock, Sandra Hoover, and Edward Embers who play the saxophones.

Trumpet players are Larry Blair, Jim Burnett, Dwight Miller, Galen Huffman, and Don Merryman. Warren Harden, Merlin Dresher, Larry Kitzel, Merlin Grady play the trombone.

Terry Tieljens will be at the piano, Jim Neher will play the string bass and Rollyn Wall will be at the drums.

Committees

The decoration committee is headed by Loy Van Vleet. Committee members are Jan Zimmerman, Jerry Hadley, Treva Brown, Henry Esquino, Dohn Kruschwitz, and Clarice Brown. On the publicity committee are Sharon Wington, chairman, Sharon Knop, and Sharon Keith.

The program committee consists of Garth Wood, chairman, Lois Keim, Bonnie Webb, Wayne Moritz, and Velma Harris. The refreshment committee is headed by Bonnie Eberly, with Maurice Moeckly, Leah Standafer, and Bonnie Hodgden as committee members.

Students Win Macollege's Competitive Scholarships

Ten high school students from five states have been awarded McPherson College competitive scholarships totaling $8,200 dollars.

One thousand dollar scholarships were presented to David Heffley, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Nathan Heffley, Enid, Okla.; Dennis Loewen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Loewen, McPherson.

Dale Marrs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Marrs, Ravenna, Neb. and Lane Yoder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Yoder, McPherson.

Winners of the eight hundred dollar scholarships were Kathy Cadman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cadman, St. John; Nancy Erritt, daughter of Mrs. Morris A. Erritt, Somers, Iowa; and Janice Yoder, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Dan C. Tillman, McPherson.

Iowa

Two Iowa students, Peggy Harris, daughter of Mrs. Mary F. Harris, Adel, and Francis Hendricks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank and one Kansas student, Laurel Patrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Patrick, Marquette, received six hundred dollar scholarships.

Competitive Honor Scholarships are designed to financially aid a number of eligible students of high scholastic standing. There is no restriction as to geographical region, major interests, race, or religion.

Scholarships awarded through this program were granted on a competitive basis. Selection was based on high school records, ACT scores, and a personal interview.

Third Year

This is the third year this program has been conducted at McPherson College. Twenty-one students currently attending Macollege are recipients of such scholarships.

Winners of this year's awards will begin college next fall.

Students Acquire Positions With Quadrangle, Spectator

Four McPherson College students were recently selected by the Board of Publications to fill vacancies on the Spectator and Quadrangle staffs.

Mike Brown, freshman from Wichita, and Phil Wachtman, sophomore from McPherson, were named to Quadrangle positions.

Jim Bosserman, freshman from Marquette Heights, Ill., and Ron Ruhser, freshman from McPherson, were named to the Spectator positions.

Associate Editor

Mike Brown will be Associate Editor to the Quad next year. In this position he will assist Kay Weber, next year's Annual Editor.

Mike, a history major, received interest in the position from an uncle who served as editor of the Quad when he was in school. Phil Wachtman will serve the Quad staff as Assistant Business Manager next year. Majoring in business, Phil has acquired experience for the position by working with local businessmen through the Elks Club.

Phil will succeed Gary Ross, who will become Business Manager next year.

Spectator

Jim Bosserman will be Assistant Business Manager of the Spectator next year. He will succeed Allan Vance who will become Business Manager next year.

College Names Two To Faculty Positions

Miss Eleanor Draper and Miss Leonor Dalla Costa have been named to positions on the McPherson College Faculty for the 1962-63 academic year. Eleanor will become assistant librarian and Miss Dalla Costa will be instructor in Spanish.

Eleanor Draper

Eleanor will be graduated from McPherson College this spring as a history major. Immediately after graduation she plans to attend the School of Librarianship of the University of Denver at Denver, Colo. Here she will begin graduate work in library science.

Eleanor is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Draper of Eldora, Iowa. While in high school, she was active as a Thespian and became a member of the National Honor Society.

At McPherson College Eleanor has served the student body as a student leader in a number of capacities. She has been the secretary-treasurer of MCA, vice-president of the Women's Council, Business Manager of the Spectator, a member of the Student Court, and secretary of Phi Alpha Theta.

As Assistant Librarian, Eleanor will be taking over some of the duties of the circulation desk and reference work.

Dalla Costa

Miss Leonor Dalla Costa will teach Spanish I on a part time basis at Macollege.

On June 2 she plans to marry Michael Mills of McPherson, who is currently attending the Law School at the University of Kansas.

Miss Dalla Costa is a native of Argentina. She was graduated from Colegio Del Herto High School in Cordoba, Argentina, in 1953, and completed her undergraduate work in the Language School of the University of Cordoba in 1959.

Graduate Work

During the past year she has been doing graduate work at the University of Kansas, Lawrence, on a scholarship. She is currently completing the Master of Arts degree in English at the University. She has also studied linguistics.

Miss Dalla Costa considers Spanish as her profession. With her understanding of the Spanish language, it is hoped that the Spanish program can be developed so Spanish will become a recognized language on Macampus.

AAUW To Visit Mac Tomorrow

One hundred fifty women from local branches of the Kansas American Association of University Women will be here Saturday, May 5, to attend the AAUW state workshop.

Guest speaker is Mrs. Ruth Barnes from the organization's national headquarters in Washington, D. C.

The purpose of the AAUW is to promote higher education of women.

Miss Carrie Mugler, president of the local chapter, has spoken at Macollege of her travels. Vice president is Mildred M. Siek, professor of home economics.

Sarah May Brunk, associate professor of English and journalism, is chairman of registration, and Miss Siek is chairman of the coffee committee.

Other members on the McPherson College faculty are Irene Bittinger, instructor in foreign languages; Doris Coppock, associate professor and director of physical education for women and instructor of music; and Mary Ann Robinson, assistant professor of psychology.

Casts Begin Rehearsals For Play Productions

Cast members have been announced and rehearsals have begun for two, one-act plays to be presented in Brown Auditorium Friday, May 18, and Saturday, May 19.

Four students have been chosen to fill the cast of "This Way to Heaven."

Sue Warrick, junior from Limon Colo., will portray the part of Gram Wilson, a white-haired lady of eighty. Portraying her granddaughter, June Wilson, will be Linda Jamison, freshman from Quinter.

Jim Ockerman, freshman from Hollansburg, Ohio, portrays Mr. Flannigan, an unusual visitor to the Wilson household. The character of Charley Baker, reporter on the local paper, will be portrayed by Larry King, sophomore from Mt. Airy, Md.

"Fumed Oak"

In the play, "Fumed Oak," Peter Ford, junior from Rochester, Minn., portrays the part of Henry Gow, a man who walks out on his wife and family and enjoys it.

Phyllis Wampler, sophomore from Wyers Cave, Va., will portray Doris Gow, Henry Gow's wife. Portraying his mother-in-law, Mrs. Rockett, will be Elois Nelson, junior from Inman.

Characterizing the part of the daughter, Elsie, will be Nancy Hovis, freshman from Waynesboro, Pa.

Directed

"This Way to Heaven" is being directed by Kay Weber, junior from McPherson. Terrell Phenice, senior from Jennings, La., is directing "Fumed Oak." Both plays are being presented as term projects for Advanced Play Production.

Horseshoe staging will be used for both productions.

McPherson To Celebrate All Schools Day May 11

McPherson's All-Schools Day this year will be Friday, May 11. Because of this, Macollege students will not attend classes on Friday, and THE SPECTATOR will not come out until Saturday, May 12.

"Festival of Lands" will be the theme of All-Schools Day. This annual celebration, which originated in 1913, is for eighth grade graduates of McPherson County.

McPherson receives national coverage for this unique celebration.

Activities Begin

Activities officially begin Thursday, May 10, with the crowning of the royalty and the winding of the traditional May pole at the May Fete.

Mrs. Robert Krehbiel will direct the May Fete in Lakeside Park.

Included in this year's entertainment for All-Schools Day will be Go-Kart races held north of McPherson, a teen-age dance, a carnival, and a horse show sponsored by the McPherson Saddle Club. The horse show will be held at the 4-H Club grounds at 2 p.m. Friday.

Twenty Bands

Over twenty bands will participate Friday in the All-Schools Day parade which features bicycles, bands, floats, and county graduates. Each year McPherson College's sophomore class is responsible for one float in the parade.

An evening program, a duplicate of the afternoon All-Schools Day program, will be held Friday evening at the City Auditorium. A twist dance contest will also be held.

Professional entertainers have been scheduled for the street program and for the evening program.

Macollege concert band will appear in McPherson County's May Fete program at Lakeside Park on May 10 and 11 instead of marching in the parade.

May Fete is a show featuring dances and also includes the crowning of a king and queen and winding of the May-pole. There will be two appearances, Thursday evening and Friday morning.

Band will provide fifteen minutes of music before the program and will play for the queen's professional. Dances which the band will accompany are: beatnik dance, early American dance, present day American dance, can-can dance, and a tumbling act. A recessional will close the program.

This is the first time the band has been involved in the annual May Fete program.

EDITORS AND BUSINESS MANAGERS discuss plans for next fall's student publications after being named to their positions. Jim Bosserman (left), will be assistant business manager of the Spectator; Ron Ruhser, campus editor of the Spectator; Phil Wachtman, assistant business manager of the Quadrangle, and Mike Brown, associate editor of the Quadrangle.

Nuclear Testing Causes Varied World Opinions

By Muriel Gibson
Managing Editor

The resumption of atmospheric nuclear testing last week by the United States left the world with completely opposite opinions and reactions.

The United States stated they were forced to continue testing because of continued Russian resistance to a reasonable test ban with international controls. However, numerous groups felt there was an alternative, such as the Japanese government which lodged a formal protest against test resumption. As they suffered the disaster of an atomic bombing in war they realize the dangers involved.

Although it seems doubtful that either Russia or the United States would start a thermonuclear war on purpose, it might come as a step by step development.

Instead of continual competition to see which government can lead the race, couldn't the countries attempt to work towards a goal of getting along more peacefully? What can be proven by further nuclear tests?

The nuclear deterrent power of the United States is already sufficient. New tests will not provide significant new information. Any series of tests can only stimulate new tests and fallout victims must suffer as a result.

By making it even more difficult to reach an arms control agreement, it seems doubtful a complete world peace will ever be established.

Letters To The Editor

Thanks Shown To Helpers Of Book Fair

Dear Editor,

The Book Fair Committee thanks all the students and faculty who helped to make the Book Fair a success.

The committee is grateful to the 23 student volunteers who worked at the desk, to those who helped unpack books and set up the display, to those who helped with the publicity and planning, and to those who backed the project with their encouragement.

If anyone thinks such a project should be repeated next year, faculty members and the college bookstore would be glad for your suggestions.

Mrs. Homer Brunk, chairman

This Week's Spectator Is Practice Issue

This issue of the Spectator is the practice issue of the present managing editor and campus editor.

Muriel Gibson, sophomore from Keota, Iowa, assumed the position of editor-in-chief this week and Weyland Beeghly, freshman from Pierson, Iowa, worked as managing editor and campus editor this week.

Each semester the managing editor is allowed one practice issue before assuming full responsibilities of editor-in-chief.

American Youth Abroad

By D. W. Bittinger

The following is quoted from the Congressional Record. It is a statement made by a citizen of Copenhagen, Denmark, after the Dana College Choir had gone to Denmark to sing.

"It is amazing what false impression of America and American youth we in Denmark have had. We expected you to appear in black leather jackets with huge knives strapped to your sides. Instead you came to us neatly clothed.

"This choir group is indeed the best example of America and we need more like them. I want to express my warmest regards for the fine work being done in this tour by Dana College. Understandings in relations abroad are not made entirely by governmental programs."

The impressions we make also upon visitors from other countries and other cultures as they look at us in our own homes and colleges have much effect upon world relations. We here at McPherson College have an unusual opportunity to spread good will through such contacts.

Let us all get to know each other better and to see one another as we really are.

Medleys Present Outstanding Concert

By Marvin Blickenstaff
Assistant Professor Of Piano

As the final concert on this year's Cultural Series, the McPherson audience was offered an outstanding performance by the comparatively new duo-piano team The Medleys.

Educated in Oklahoma and currently residing in Arkansas, this man and wife duet has developed an ensemble which achieves a high degree of excellence.

The chief problem confronting any duo-piano team is that of precision ensemble. To appreciate this fact we merely need to consider the percussive effect of a loud chord played on the piano and the difficulty involved when two players, seated ten feet apart, strike the chords simultaneously—or hopefully so.

Mastered Difficulties
The Medleys seem to have mastered all the technical difficulties of ensemble playing and gave evidence only to the fact that performance is a joy to them.

The repertoire for two pianos is limited, even though modern composers are continually producing works for this combination.

Although the Poulenc sonata which the Medleys performed cannot be considered typical of all contemporary piano music, it is a piece of communicative power. The Medleys brought out in a fine manner the lush chordal effects, the brilliance and rhythmic drive of this work.

Variations
The Brahms-Haydn variations serve as a core around which the two-piano repertoire is built. It is indeed a masterwork, grandiose in concept yet delicate in many lyrical passages. Here again the careful preparation of the artists resulted in an exciting performance.

One other point of praise must be noted, that being the fine balance between the two instruments. Even though the Medleys always perform on their own pianos, hours of exhaustive listening and practice are required to achieve the union of sound we experienced.

Science Department Tests Anti-Radiation Chemicals

McPherson College Science Department is now conducting a series of experiments to determine the effectiveness and the practical value of three individually selected anti-radiation chemicals on white rats.

Intent of the project is a student research experience. Student investigators include: Larry Wilson, a senior from Hutchinson, in charge of pathological control.

Larry Ikenberry, sophomore from Olympia, Wash., in charge of radiological control.

Karl Buskirk, senior from McPherson; Roy Pfaltzgraff, freshman from Nigeria; and Mike Welmer, sophomore from Haxton, Colo., are in charge of diet and housing.

Dr. Wesley DeCoursey, professor of chemistry; Dr. John Burkholder, professor of biology; and Dr. Gilford Ikenberry, associate professor of biology are helping with the conduction of the experiment.

Beginning last month, the experiment will continue until June and possibly throughout the summer. Harly Hall, room 106, is the site of the experiment.

Fifteen white rats have been obtained from Wisconsin for the experiment.

Selected Drugs

Three selected anti-radiation drugs will be used on the white rats in an attempt to determine the amount of radiation protection from the drugs.

Experiments will be conducted to determine which drug is the most effective and which drug will yield the most protection under future development.

Two of the drugs are original products of the students. Cayenne was force-fed to the control rats two days before radiation which took place last weekend. The other two drugs, seratonin and 6-mercaptopurine were injected through a hypodermic needle to the control rats one hour prior to radiation.

X-ray Machines

McPherson College has two x-ray machines, only one is being used in the experiment. To insure protection a lead shield is used and an eight inch wall of concrete. The x-ray machine is set up so that all life will be removed from the room except the control rat that is being radiated.

A rat can stand twice as much radiation as the human body which makes the experiment even more dangerous.

Dosages of radiation will be given in 600, 700, 800, 1,000, and 1,500 rems.

A blood count of the rats will be taken immediately before radiation and every two days, two or three days after radiation.

Blood Count

Taking the blood count determines the effect of radiation on the rats. Radiation kills the blood forming cells.

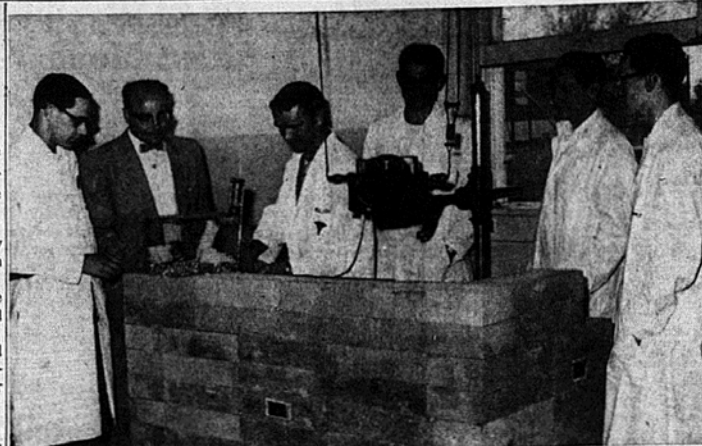

After the rats have been radiated, all equipment must be kept very sterile because the rats will be very susceptible to disease.

A milli-roentgen dosimeter and a film badge will be worn by the operator of the x-ray machine at all times of operation, and all other personnel will wear film badges when near the x-raying room.

Chemical analysis involving serum transaminase and serum uric acid will be performed on living rats prior to relinquishment for autopsy exam.

At the end of the experiment the dead rats will be turned over to Dr. H. T. Lettner, a pathologist in Hutchinson, who will perform microscopic examination of the tissue and who will submit pathological reports to the group.

Dairy Herd Places High

Dairy animals from the McPherson College Farm placed high in two, district, spring dairy shows held April 23 and 24 respectively.

Two animals were entered in the Ark-Valley District Holstein Show held in McPherson on April 23. The heifer calf entered by the Farm placed first in a class of nineteen. The junior-yearling was awarded fourth place in its class.

Nine animals were entered in the Central Kansas District Guernsey Show held April 24 at Salina. The two heifer calves placed first and second in their class and the bull calf placed second in his class.

The Macollege Farm also showed the second and third place junior-yearlings, first place two-year-old cow, second and third place three-year-old cows, first place four-year-old cow, the reserve grand champion cow, and the best uddered cow in the show.

The animals were fitted and shown by herdsman Don Pauley assisted by Bob Detwiller, senior student in agriculture.
