Student Council Renames Semester's Food Committee

By Roger Emmert

This article is the first of what I intend to make a weekly column which I hope will satisfy the need for better communication between the student body and the governing body.

I don't intend to insert any biased opinions, but should any slip in, they are mine and not the president's nor any other council member's.

Our first council meeting of the new year was held last Thursday, Jan. 10 due to the Wednesday night game.

The first item of business was one concerning the purchase of letterhead stationery for the college publications.

Prices were presented and the council voted to purchase 500 sheets of stationery from the publications reserve fund and donate it to the publications for use as they see fit.

A second issue also came from the publications department. It grew out of the inability to find a person to fill the position of managing editor of the Spectator vacated by a recent resignation.

Because of this situation and the interest in obtaining persons with previous experience, it was voted to offer a salary for the managing editor term as well as for the editor-in-chief term to anyone with past experience on the Spectator.

This would give assurance that there would be a Spectator next semester. The salary was left open until all interested persons were contacted.

A change in the foods committee was proposed but due to the reorientation which would be necessary for new members, it was decided to carry the present committee through next semester.

The matter of a public meeting was discussed and it was decided to make the Jan. 16 meeting the public meeting.

This was the conclusion of the business and the meeting was adjourned.

Llord Will Manipulate Marionettes In Brown

Llord's International will present a concert theatre Wednesday, Jan. 30, in Brown Auditorium.

Daniel Llord presents visual interpretations of familiar classics from such composers as Stravinsky, Strauss, Offenbach, Tchaikovsky, Mozart, and Mendelssohn.

At one time, Llord manipulates single-handedly as many as 23 marionettes while controlling with his toes, heels and elbows the lighting, special effects and music.

There are traditional favorites presented from Shakespeare to slapstick, Mozart playing the spinet, Jacques reciting the "Seven Ages of Man" as he grows old before the eyes of the audience, and a tired opera singer reaching for a note that is no longer there.

Born of non-theatrical parents, Llord combined the elements of an average childhood with that of the Theatre. He made his debut as a piano soloist with a symphony orchestra before he was seven years old.

His musical talent led to years of singing experience on the concert stage and in films with many famous celebrities. As a student, he earned degrees in art, music and drama and later served on the faculty of various schools.

All his training and experience has been crystallized into a one-man concert theatre full of sound and scenery, which provides the background for Daniel Llord.

Llord uses his many talents as singer, actor, musician, sculptor, engineer, playwright, choreographer, designer and director for the 500 marionettes he has created.

From the specially designed stage, complete with revolving floors and limitless effects such as smoke, rain, bubbles, lighted chandeliers and underwater illusions through lighting and extravagant costumes, Llord presents a far cry concert theatre from the Punch and Judy of yesterday.

Engagements of this one-man theatre include concerts in eleven nations on two continents in five languages.

Stern, Lengel Named To Maccollege Faculty

Irven Stern and Leland Lengel have been named to the Maccollege faculty according to Wayne F. Geisert, dean. Mr. Stern will teach one course next semester, and Mr. Lengel will join the faculty next fall.

Leland Lengel, Eugene, Ore., will be assistant professor of history and political science. He will teach in the history department with Dr. Raymond Flory.

Mr. Lengel is currently completing his residence requirements at the University of Oregon for a Ph.D. degree. While at the University he has received a graduate assistantship and a teaching fellowship.

He graduated Magna Cum Laude from McPherson College in 1956. He holds a master's degree in history from Duke University.

During the 1958-59 school year he studied at Duke University on a Rockefeller Brothers Theological Fellowship for a trial year in theological studies. At the end of the year he transferred to the history department of the Duke graduate school.

Mr. Lengel is a native Kansan, but his family established residence in Colorado in his childhood. His parents live near Windsor, Colo.

He is married to the former Nancy Keim, a 1957 McPherson graduate. They are the parents of two small children, Douglas and Carolyn.

The Rev. Irven Stern will be working with Dr. Metzler and Professor Eiler in the department of Philosophy and Religion during the second semester.

Mr. Stern, who received his A. B. degree from McPherson College in 1951 and his M. A. degree from Northwestern University, will teach the course, Life and Letters of Paul.

Mr. Stern, a native Iowan, was married in 1950 to Patty Blittinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Blittinger, President of McPherson College. They now have three children, Gayle, aged 10, Gary, 7, and Susan, 2.

Originally scheduled to go to India as missionaries, the Sterns found that the door was closed to them. At that time India had just obtained her independence and was in need of technicians. Therefore the Sterns' visas were not approved.

Early in 1955, the Sterns went to Nigeria, Africa, to teach and work as Churchmen. In the capacity of a Churchman, Mr. Stern helped the African churches develop their facilities and congregations, counseled with the various pastors and visited the villages around the mission station.

The Sterns helped develop the Kulp Bible School, a Christian rural Bible Center, at Mubi, Via

Mac Graduate Dies In Topeka

Mrs. Susanna Saylor, 91, the first woman graduate of McPherson College, died Jan. 7 in Topeka. Services for her were held in Marion, Jan. 9. Burial was at Ramona.

Mrs. Saylor (Susie Slusher) completed her academy work at McPherson in 1892 and received her A. B. degree in 1896 and her M. S. D. in 1897.

During the 1959 commencement activities, Mrs. Saylor and her son, Dr. Leslie L. Saylor, were given citations of merit by McPherson College.

Mrs. Saylor's deceased husband, Dr. J. Harvey Saylor, and their three children graduated from McPherson College.

Paul Wagoner, director of alumni affairs, and S. M. Dell, dean of men, represented McPherson College at the memorial services.

Yola, Nigeria. The school was set up to train adult lay leaders in the church.

Classes were designed to help the people with rural vocations, give them leadership training, help them better their community and family life, and give them a better understanding about the Bible.

With seven months left in their regular term, Mr. Stern became ill and the family had to come back to the United States several months before they had actually planned on returning. They have no definite plans about returning, but it will be as soon as possible.

During this time of recuperation, Mr. Stern has had time to catch up on "lots of reading" besides doing some speaking. Much of his time, though, is spent "just recuperating."

He is looking forward to teaching again because it will be "good stimulation intellectually" and he will be able to "know the students of McPherson College better." In his class, Mr. Stern will deal with Paul's missionary tactics, as well as Paul's theology.

Next Spec To Be Feb. 1

Because of final examinations next week there will be no Spectator.

The next issue will be published, Friday, Feb. 1.

Yoder, Brooks Judge Legion Speech Contest

Judges at a county level National American Legion oratorical contest were Mrs. Una Yoder, director of dramatics and Williams Brooks, assistant professor of speech.

Argentina Will Be Topic For Mac T.V. Program

Miss Mary Ann Robinson, dean of women, and Mrs. Leonor Mills instructor in Spanish, will discuss life in Argentina on the next McPherson College television program, Friday, Jan. 25.

Argentina is the native country of Mrs. Mills.

Tryouts Will Be Held For Next Production

Tryouts for "Papa Is All," a comedy about the Pennsylvania Dutch and the next dramatic production at Maccollege, will be held Monday, Jan. 28, at 7 p.m. in Mohler Hall.

Parts for three men and three women are available. Students interested in the positions of stage manager and properties may see Mrs. Una Yoder, director of dramatics.

The script for "Papa Is All" is available at the library. Rehearsals will proceed immediately after tryouts.

The play will be staged March 8 and 9 in Brown Auditorium.

Representatives Will Interview Mac Students

For the Maccollege Placement Bureau this is a "busy season," according to Dr. Merlin Frantz, director of the Bureau.

During the week beginning Monday, Feb. 4, representatives from the West Africa program will be on campus to hold interviews during the evenings and all day Friday, Feb. 8.

Wednesday, Feb. 13, representatives from Omaha city schools will hold interviews, and Thursday, Feb. 21, representatives from Milwaukee will be here.

Representatives from West Side, Omaha, will hold interviews Friday, Feb. 22, and representatives from the Bureau of Indian Affairs will come April 23.

Anyone interested in an interview may contact the Placement Bureau.

Dr. Frantz reports that many companies have contacted the bureau for graduates seeking jobs. Graduate not in the teaching field should also contact the Bureau.

Dear Editor . .

As this issue terminates my responsibilities as editor of The Spectator, I will follow tradition and officially turn the title, the office and the responsibility over to you.

Many editors have left this office by passing on a message of the trials and physical suffering you will be subjected to in this position, but I would like to remind you of the great feeling of satisfaction and pride one finds.

Although there are oppositions and criticisms for policies and opinions it is a challenge to search for new ideas instead of duplicating that which has been done previously. You may discover you will not accomplish all you would like to in your fifteen issues as editor of a student publication.

Even though you hold the official title of editor-in-chief there are others who contribute to the Spectator: reporters and writers, both student and faculty; other editors: faculty advisers, photographers, and The Sentinel, who prints the paper.

In conclusion, Weyland, in making up your editorial policy for the student newspaper include ideas which will provoke and encourage students to think not only on matters of campus concern, but to think on issues that deal with the world at large.

A new semester can be a challenge to every person, to every student to reconsider his goals and ideals and strive to improve them. meg

Relentless Forces Assail Vulnerable Spirit Of Man

By Don Allen
Anger and hatred throw a cloak of darkness around the world; jealous and terror seethe through every fiber of man. Pain enshrouds each individual and strikes at him with a force yet unequalled by its human counterpart.

Man feels pain in many different ways; physical pain—mental pain and anguish crowd his pride and press him even closer to the brink of devastation. Each man's mind is capable of enduring only so much of this pain and unrest until his spirit bends under the onslaught of these formidable foes.

Soon he becomes, himself, another er creator of these evils and follows the path of his ignoble predecessors. Yet, while there are spirits cowering everywhere and many are trampled beneath the weight of this multitude, there shines a few of the proud above, unbent and unbroken.

A few men find the spirit, and gather it before it can be plowed under like so much chaff. These few men brace and guard the spirit so even the most audacious of the attacks can only stagger it. But man's greatest weakness—love—is his pitfall, for he will himself undermine and erode his protected heraldy. Yet why must so many men cower and yield?

Another Day, Another Year

Shades

By Ed Mohler
Now that a new year has started and a semester is almost finished, it is only fitting that we reflect a bit. Perhaps we should consider some resolutions for the new year and semester. Some that might be suggested for typical college students are:

1. Buy a new Teddy Bear.
2. Stop falling off rugs, tripping over door sills, cracks in sidewalks, etc. . .
3. Write letters to congressmen, members of the heroic Cuban brigade, President Kennedy, and Santa Claus, although not necessarily in that order.

4. Buy a new Lotus Elan, and in the interest of Anglo-American friendship, chrome plate and reverse the wheels.
5. Buy the record Battle Songs of the Old South, starting the Congolese Army Marching Band and featuring such old favorites as "Dixie," "O Ken Karanga," "Lili Marlene," and "The Hokey Pokey."
6. Get a better grade on the last test you took.
7. Glue six inch squares of carpet to the soles of your shoes, thereby eliminating the need for wall-to-wall carpets.
8. Think ethnic!

"DON'T WORRY ABOUT TH' CHAPTERS WE SKIPPED—I BELIEVE I'VE COVERED THEM ADEQUATELY IN THE FINAL."

Art Displays Include Still Lives, Portraits

During the month of January, Friendship Hall will accommodate works from the General Drawing and Painting Class.

The paintings and drawings represent several levels of experience, including students who have done no drawing before entering the class, as well as those who began their experience in art during the junior and senior high school years.

The aim, regarding beginning students, is to aid them in basic drawing skills and to open up to them the world of art in its highest sense. The attempt is made to cultivate the understanding that art is a refined and special form of communication.

Several students show a greater background of experience and skill, making it important to encourage the development of individuality in their work.

The work of Fumitaka Matsuka, for instance, displays a special sensitivity to delicate modeling of forms as shown in "Yellow Still Life" and "Blue Still Life." The drawings of Ina Stump are similar in this regard, but her interests lie, rather, in the human form.

The oil paintings of Fred Wu show a remarkable versatility ranging from a semi-naturalism in the still lifes to a freer, more subjective approach in the flower and figure paintings.

Sharon Knop is developing freedom in the use of the wash, ink and pencil while still adhering to careful drawing.

We hope our display promotes interest in our efforts and will encourage participation on the part of other students.

Fraternity Bases Membership On Points System

Alpha Psi Omata, the largest national collegiate dramatics fraternity in the United States, bases its membership on a points system.

A student wishing to join the McPherson College chapter of the Alpha Psi Omega, an honorary fraternity, must accumulate at least 50 points by participating in drama presentations.

These points are given to any student who works as an actor or a member of the stage crew in a presentation.

Points are given in two fields, production and acting. Production includes working on the stage crew, lighting crew or as stage crew manager.

A student must have at least 20 production points and 15 acting points; the other five points can be obtained in either of the areas.

world. Those factors will be in his favor when he returns to his work at home.

"The Peace Corps offers a great potential for good in international affairs. It can provide an opportunity to utilize the keen abilities and skills of our people in the task of assisting in the solution of world problems."—C. J. Haggerty, President, Building and Construction Trades Department, AFL-CIO, and member of the Peace Corps National Advisory Council.

In helping others, the Peace Corps Volunteer makes several people happy. First of all he gets a personal satisfaction and happiness from helping others, and those he helps are made happy and given a new hope in life.

Old Chinese Story Exemplifies Spirit Of Peace Corps Volunteer

When a member of organized labor joins the Peace Corps he, like others, has the satisfaction of helping others. An old Chinese story illustrates what happens when one helps another.

Once a Lemon Tree and a Pumelo Tree lived and grew together in an old orchard. When the springtime came, they opened wide their beautiful blossoms and were very happy.

But once in the summer time the Lemon Tree talked all night long, telling the Pumelo Tree of a great sorrow that had come to her. And she said, "I wish I were a Pumelo Tree, for I have learned that the children of men do not like my children so well as they like yours.

"Why did the Creator make your children so sweet that they have a good name in all the world, while mine are bitter and sour?"

"My flowers are the same as your flowers. My trees are liked the same as yours, but my fruit is almost despised."

And the Pumelo said, "My dear friend, do not say these sad words to me. I feel sure that some day you will be loved as much as I am.

"Did you know that the master spoke of your beauty today?"

"What did he say?" asked the Lemon Tree.

"He said, 'How beautiful the Lemon Tree is! I think I shall try to graft the branches of the Lemon tree on to the Pumelo Tree.'" and his son brought a sharp knife and cut the Lemon Tree's branches, and fastened them to the Pumelo Tree.

And the lemons were no longer bitter and sour, but were so pleasant to taste and so fair to look upon that many were saved for the coming feast day.

And from that time the Lemon Tree and the Pumelo both had the same body and the same mind, the same happiness and the same friends, through many generations forever.

Ee-Sze (Meaning): When you help another you make two people happy.

Until a few months ago James Patrick McKay was a bricklayer in Hornell, New York. Only recently he had obtained his AFL-CIO union card in masonry and embarked on his new career.

But Jim McKay wanted to do something more. He wanted to share his knowledge with others. He wanted, in a personal and direct way, to serve his country. Jim wanted the kind of meaningful experience that would contribute to his responsibilities as a private citizen and to his career as a skilled craftsman.

So Jim McKay volunteered to serve in the Peace Corps. Today he is working in Lahore, Pakistan, helping to build a hospital. When the hospital is completed, they will move on to new buildings. Those buildings will demonstrate what Americans and Pakistanis can do working together in a common effort.

Jim McKay's story is being re-

Wildcats Await Bulldog Attack

McPherson delves deeper into league play in the next two weeks playing some of the top KCAC teams. Tonight the Bulldogs meet the Baker Wildcats at Baldwin.

On Jan. 24, McPherson entertains Kansas Wesleyan at Mac, and are at home again Jan. 26 against Bethel College. Southwestern is the Bulldog foe Jan. 29 at Southwestern.

Baker has put on a strong show in its first conference games of the season. The Wildcats have faced most of the top teams of the league and have come through in fine shape.

Bill Foly leads the Baker scoring attack this year, sporting close to a 25 points per game average. Babe Hawk also provides scoring punch for Baker.

Mac Women Smash Tabor Sextet 40-30

Anne Kruse, sophomore from Little River, led the scoring attack with 25 points as the Mac college women's basketball team romped to a 40-30 victory over Tabor College last Monday.

Ratzlaff led the Tabor six with 13 points in a game which was played on the Tabor court at Hillsboro.

Other Mac college scorers were Nancy Erritt, 7, Delores Priddy, 2, and Judy Penny, 1.

Hedrick, Brown, and Hutton round out the starting five.

Baker has defeated Bethany 65-63, Ottawa 83-74, and Southwestern 68-64 in games against top teams. The Wildcats were defeated by C of E 71-70 in another top game.

Kansas Wesleyan is sparked by their high scorer, Ray Thome. Lee and Johnson also spearhead the Coyote attack. Peterson and Peters complete the first five.

Kansas Wesleyan does not sport a very impressive win-loss record, yet the Coyotes' wins have been over Sterling and C of E. Wesleyan plays every game to the final buzzer with determination.

Against Bethel, the Bulldogs will be seeking not only to unseat a team high in conference standings, but also to avenge two earlier season losses to the Threshers. Bethel is a well-coached and scrappy ball club.

Southwestern offers the final opposition for Mac in the next two weeks. The game will be played at Southwestern. The Builders defeated the Bulldogs at the first of the season, but have been having their troubles of late.

KWU holds a 68-65 win over Sterling in addition to a 77-75 win over C of E. The Coyotes have lost close games to Sterling and Bethel.

Deryl Elmore, Mac forward, scores another lay-up in the exciting Tabor game as the Bulldogs come from behind to defeat Tabor seven points in a five-minute overtime.

Mac Conquers Falcons, Jays

Mac Bulldogs opened conference action after the Christmas vacation by splitting two games, losing to Bethany 74-60 and winning over Friends 77-70.

Playing before a large crowd at Lindsborg, the Bulldogs were defeated by a hot-shooting Bethany team 74-60. The Bulldogs were far behind from the start, and came close only on one occasion.

Bethany, after playing poorly in its last few games, righted itself against the Bulldogs and threatened to blow the Bulldogs off the court. Ade scored 30 points for Bethany, and EMore had 20 points for McPherson.

Then Saturday, Jan. 12, the Bulldogs defeated Friends 77-70 in a close ball game. The win gives Mac a 3-4 conference record and leaves Friends record at 0-7 in conference play.

Friends led at halftime 33-29 and outscored Mac on field goals 25-23. The Bulldogs won the game on free throws.

John Tegeler spearheaded the Bulldogs attack by scoring 19 points and getting many rebounds. Synder scored 22 points for Friends.

Opening the new year with a loss to the Bethany Swedes, the Mac Bulldogs roared back to sweep the next two games as the cage season approaches the half way mark.

Staging a second half comeback, the McPherson Bulldogs defeated Tabor in an overtime 80-74 battle at Hillsboro Jan. 14. The halftime score read 38-23 in favor of Tabor, and the regulation game ended in a 62-62 tie.

McPherson scored 18 points and held Tabor to just 12 points in the overtime period.

Marion Enke and Deryl Elmore sparked the Bulldogs throughout the game; Elmore with his steals and 20 points and Enke with his rebounds and 31 points.

Art Hoch and LeRoy Weddel were especially sharp in the overtime period for McPherson with their rebounding and scoring.

LeRoy Dick led Tabor with 19 points, while Jerry Fleming followed with 18. Fleming was especially hot in the overtime for the Blue Jays.

Tabor Whips Bethel 78-69 To Win Holiday Tourney

Before an overflow crowd at McPherson, Dec. 29, Tabor won the 10th annual McPherson Holiday Tournament by defeating Bethel College 78-69.

Third place went to College of Emporia, which defeated Kansas Wesleyan 90-76 in the consolation game.

The fifth place winner was Sterling College with a 91-61 victory over Northwestern, Okla. Seventh place was won by Phillips of Enid, Okla., which defeated McPherson 90-81.

In opening round games of the tournament, McPherson was beaten by Bethel 78-67; Kansas Wesleyan upset the tournament favored Sterling Warriors 68 - 65; Tabor defeated Northwestern 82-66; and C of E defeated Phillips 70-55 in the final game of the first round.

In second round games Phillips was defeated by Northwestern 74-64. Sterling defeated McPherson 84-69 in the other loser's game of the day.

Bethel advanced to the final round with a 72-65 win over Kansas Wesleyan. Tabor gained a finals berth with a 79-72 win over

College of Emporia.

In the Bulldogs opening game in the tournament, Mac played sluggish ball and was beaten by Bethel 78-67. Gaeddert and Pankratz sparked Bethel.

The Bulldogs next engaged the Sterling Warriors in an almost exact blueprint of their first meeting. McPherson rallied from far behind to within one point of Sterling with minutes left in the game, only to lose 84-69.

McPherson played Phillips in the Bulldogs' final game of the tournament and lost 90-81. Plummer led Phillips with 23 points, while Enke had 35 points for McPherson.

From The Locker Room

By Larry Morlan

The Kansas Conference race is turning out to be a real exciting one. Almost every team with the exception of Friends and KWU still have a chance to win the title.

Even the Bulldogs, if they keep themselves righted, could battle down to the final games for the league crown. If not that, the Bulldogs will be a factor because of their ability to beat the top teams.

Bethel, which presently leads the league, is due for its knocks anyday now. The Threshers have been winning on the unconcern of the other teams so far, but the other teams have woken up now and should push Bethel around.

Mac Bulldogs lead all other cage teams in District 10 in shooting accuracy.

According to latest District 10 statistics, the Bulldogs, as a team, made 47 per cent of their attempted field goals in the first seven games of the season.

Ranking second was Tabor College with a 44 per cent mark.

MALM
Automotive Service
210 E. Euclid
CH 1-4035

ranked second among the individual cagers in accuracy. Hoch split the net at a 64 per cent clip to rank close behind Dale Jost of Tabor with 65 per cent.

Tidbits on the Christmas journey:

Deryl Elmore and Marion Enke were named to the all-tourney team at the Christmas tournament because of the outstanding play.

Marion also ranked fifth in scoring during the tournament with a 21.3 scoring average. Deryl Elmore ranked sixth in scoring with a 20.6 average.

All three teams the Bulldogs played in the tournament, Bethel, Sterling, and Phillips, averaged hitting over 50 per cent of their shots each game.

No wonder the Bulldogs had a hard time trying to win a game.

My crystal ball came through for the first time in the last issue, so I'll take courage and try once again:

McPherson to upset Baker
McPherson to beat KWU
McPherson to upset Bethel
McPherson to lose to Southwestern

Surging Threshers Capture Kansas Conference Lead

Bethel stands alone atop the Kansas Conference as of Jan. 12 with a 6-1 record. Southwestern is second with a 5-2 record, while Baker and Sterling are third at 5-3.

Bethel continued to surprise sports fans by winning three more conference games after the Christmas vacation. Bethel upset the Bethany Swedes at Bethel 59-56. Pankratz and Gaeddert led Bethel, while Ahlstedt was high scorer for Bethany.

Bethel then registered wins over Friends and Baker. Bethel slipped by Friends 74-73 with a late second half rally. Pankratz led Bethel with 25 points.

Bethel then continued its home court winning ways by defeating Baker 76-62. Pankratz again led Bethel with 25 points.

Sterling opened play after the vacation with a 59-57 win over Ottawa at Sterling. Becker led Sterling with 20 points, while Kinder had 17 for Ottawa.

Sterling then lost two straight games to C of E and Bethany C of E defeated Sterling 70-65 while Bethany won over Sterling 53-50.

Southwestern defeated Ottawa 73-70, defeated KWU 77-65 and lost to Baker 68-64. Turner led Southwestern in all three games.

In the other league games played up to Jan. 12, Baker defeated KWU 85-66 and C of E won over Ottawa 83-79.

Berkebile Will Seek Graduates For Teachers To Africa Plan

Dr. James M. Berkebile, dean of McPherson College from 1950 to 1957, and associated with the Chemistry Department from 1943 to 1948, will be on the McPherson College campus every evening during the week of February 4 to recruit teachers for the Teachers-for-West-Africa-Program. Dr. Berkebile will be the guest speaker in chapel on February 8.

Dr. Berkebile, now associated with Elizabethtown College, Elizabethtown, Penn., heads the Teachers-for-West-Africa-Program.

Elizabethtown College, under a grant from the Hershey Chocolate Corporation, will select a limited number of applicants to teach in secondary schools of Ghana and Nigeria, West Africa.

Those wishing to apply must have either a Bachelor's or Master's degree in one of the following subjects: biology, physics, chemistry, mathematics, English, French, industrial arts, and business education or business administration.

Those with degrees in other fields will be considered but the demand for subjects other than those listed is very small. With the application, the applicant must submit official transcripts of all credits, including both undergraduate and graduate work.

Single candidates, persons up to 60 years of age who meet educational and health requirements, and married couples, with no more than one child (under school age), will be considered for acceptance in the Program.

In many areas the preference is for husband and wife teams, but wives must meet the educational requirements before they can be employed as teachers. Teachers selected for the program will be chosen from the seniors and alumni of colleges and universities of high academic standing.

Assisting in the selection of teachers is the Africa-American Institute, a private non-profit organization. The A.A.I. will serve the Program as its technical advisor and field liaison. Field Representatives of the A.A.I. in Africa will also assist in placing those selected under the Teachers-for-West-Africa-Program.

Each teacher selected will make a contract with the government, political subdivision, Ministry of Education, or individual school, in the country in which he teaches. The countries with which selected teachers serve, will have legal and financial responsibility for employment and conditions of service.

Salaries will range from $2500 to $3000 for teachers from abroad. The salary, based on academic qualifications and experience, will be determined by the Ministry of Education.

It is desirable, but not required, that applicants have teacher certification and teaching experience.

The Program will provide for transportation from place of residence in the United States to Africa and return at the end of the contract period. While in Africa, teachers will either be housed free or at a stated percentage of the base pay, depending on the area.

Also, while teaching, vacation and leave benefits vary from area to area; but in general, leave amounting to about 25 per cent of time worked is paid following completion of the contract or at regularly stated intervals.

All applicants will be screened and given personal interviews at centers to be designated. Included in the process will be a thorough medical examination and an interview by a Program psychiatrist. Approved candidacy does not necessarily imply placement.

Completed applications must be submitted to the Teachers-for-West-Africa-Program, 348 College Avenue, Elizabethtown, Penn., no later than April 15, 1963. Applicants will be notified by June 1, 1963, as to the status of their application.

Teachers will undergo an orientation program at Elizabethtown College before leaving for Africa. Upon arrival, most teachers will, in addition, participate in another orientation program.

The Hershey Chocolate Corporation made this grant as a concrete expression of interest in bettering relations between the people of Africa and the United States through a vital educational program.

Bomberger Will Speak About Prayer, Healing

Mr. Bomberger is teacher of the college youth group. All groups will be studying the topic, "The Rim of Asia."
