Harris Makes Correction On Mac Library Hours

Library will remain open until 9 p.m. on Fridays instead of the time indicated in the Growl and last week's Spectator, according to Miss Virginia Harris, head librarian.

For the Cultural Series programs and other all-school events, notices will be posted if the library will close.

Students May Subscribe For Intercollegian

Students may subscribe to the Intercollegian Magazine, published by the National Student Councils of YMCA and YWCA.

The magazine contains up-to-the-minute articles by widely known authorities and student writers on events of today's complex world.

There is also a penetrating commentary on personal and social issues in the magazine.

Also included are features and first hand accounts of significant student action and student projects.

Students will find poetry, worship services, book and movie reviews useful as well as interesting.

The intercollegian comes monthly, September through June. Group subscription price is $1.25.

Those interested may contact Miriam Oliver or Winifred Brown, 138 Dotzour Hall.

Skate Club Opens Year At Hutchinson Tonight

Skate club opens the year's activities tonight with a skate party at Roller City in Hutchinson.

Skate club is open to all those interested in skating. Everyone wishing to go is to meet in front of Dotzour Hall at 6:00 p.m.

Transportation will be provided to Hutchinson. All those with cars are asked to bring them to help with transportation.

Price is 65 cents plus skate rental.

Haycock To Be Installed During Christian Ed. Week

Christian Education week begins next Sunday, Sept. 30, with the theme, "The Christian and his Bible."

Rev. Cecil Haycock, newly appointed Minister of Education at the McPherson Church of the Brethren, will be installed in the regular morning worship service at 10:05.

The Reverend Mr. Haycock, who was appointed last spring, graduated in 1959 from Bridgewater College, Bridgewater, Virginia. He received a master of religious education degree from Bethany Biblical Seminary, Chicago, Ill.

Last May, he received a bachelor of divinity. He is an ordained minister of the Church of the Brethren.

His wife, the former Berchie Hodum, received a bachelor of science degree from Mississippi State College for Women, and a

Music, Ballet Highlight Mac's Cultural Series

Mexican singers, Spanish ballet, American folk music, a marionette show, and a woodwind ensemble will be featured attractions at the McPherson College Cultural Series programs this school year.

The Singing Boys of Mexico, who will present the opening program on Oct. 19, have established themselves within the past dozen years as one of the finest choirs of the world.

The 32 young voices, under the direction of Luis Berber, have performed ancient church music, Mexican folk songs, and great choral works such as the Mozart and Verdi Requiems.

The group has been on television a number of times and has been in two or three movies along with the Roger Wagner Chorale. Their well-disciplined voices and pure singing have aroused enthusiasm throughout Mexico, in Central America and on two previous sold-out tours of the United States.

From Madrid comes Carlos de la Camara and his sister, Myrna, who will present Carlos de la Camara Ballet Espanol (Spanish Ballet) on Nov. 6.

With their company of six they have had tours in Central and South America, engagements at the Waldorf-Astoria and Plaza hotels in New York City, and bookings in Spain, Italy, France and Switzerland.

Completing the group are Manuel Molina, a guitarist-singer, two girl dancers and a pianist.

An American Folk Trio will appear on Feb. 20. Folksinger Dave Sear, who organized the trio in the summer of 1960, has appeared on television, in concerts and at folk festivals throughout the United States and Canada.

Appearing with him will be Lee Kahn, a classical guitarist, and Sonja Savig who plays an eight-stringed Norwegian folk instrument, the "Lanqueik."

Lord's International, a marionette show which has won popular acclaim as "America's Dynamic Concert Theatre for Adults," will be presented on Jan. 30.

It is considered the outstanding puppet attraction on tour which offers an evening of entertainment for a discriminating adult audience, with little diversion for children under the age of 12.

Appearing as guest artist with the major symphony orchestras in the United States, Lord's has presented exciting visual interpretations of many familiar musical classics.

The final program, April 26, will feature the Woodwinds of Houston, which is made up of principal players of the Houston Symphony Orchestra.

Leopold Stokowski, world-famous orchestra leader and critic, has this to say of the ensemble: "Each member of 'The Wood-winds of Houston' is a master of his instrument and plays with imagination and poetry."

Hubert Roussel gives this evaluation: "You seldom encounter the level of virtuosity, musicianship and ensemble afforded by this excellent company."

Each program will be presented in Brown Auditorium, McPherson College, at 8 p.m.

Season tickets for the public are available at the development office in Mohler Hall, for $7, according to Harvey Lehman, director of development and public relations.

Season tickets for students or children over 12 are $4 and for children 12 and under are $1.

The management will attempt to reserve seats in the area selected and order received. Single admission tickets, which are $2, will not be reserved.

An announcement will be made in chapel next Friday concerning the purchasing of student tickets.

SNEA Slates Meeting; Announces Future Plans

The Maurice A. Hess Student National Educational Association chapter of McPherson College is holding its first meeting Monday, Oct. 8 at 7:00 p.m.

SNEA is an organization designed for those who plan to become teachers, those who have interests in the field of teaching, and those interested in education in general.

Its purpose is to acquaint students preparing to be teachers with the history, ethics, and program of organized teaching.

SNEA is the college branch of the Kansas State Teachers' Association, and a "big brother" to the high school Future Teacher's Association.

The McPherson College chapter is named for Dr. Maurice A. Hess who was formerly professor of English at McPherson College.

Regular meetings are held the second Monday of each month at 7 p.m. Dues are three dollars per year, including subscriptions to the national and state magazines which come each month.

A panel of first-year teachers and student teachers are among planned programs. A teacher ethics film, "The Hickory Stick" will also be shown. Those who join will find tips on securing a position and a debate on strikes also interesting in following programs.

Those interested in joining may contact Art Hoch, president, EI-

Players Club To Discuss 'The Miracle Worker'

Background, characters, and plot of "The Miracle Worker," the first dramatic production to be presented at MacCollege this year, will be discussed at the first meeting of the Player Club.

Ken Smucker, president of Players Club, has announced that all interested in being in stage work or on stage should come to the meeting next Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in Mohler 227.

Mrs. Una Yoder, who is directing the dramatics program, will lead discussions and accept any questions. A time will also be decided for play tryouts.

Instead of having regular monthly meeting dates, the club will meet when a play or business comes up that needs to be discussed.

K-State Speaker Will Address Mac Ag Club

Robert A. Bohannon, assistant to the dean of agriculture at Kansas State University, will speak on "The Future of Agriculture in the Modern Society," at the Ag Club meeting next Monday night.

Bohannon is also associate professor in soil testing, associate agronomist of the agricultural experiment station, and extension specialist in agronomy.

Suggestions for field trips will also be discussed at the meeting at 6:30 p.m. in Mohler. Refreshments will be served.

Royalty Election Begins Homecoming Activities

After the assembly on Friday, Sept. 21, four junior girls were nominated, by the junior class, for Homecoming Queen. Sophomores and freshmen nominated four girls from their classes for attendants.

Today, at chapel, one queen was elected by the student body and one attendant was elected from the freshmen and sophomore classes.

Junior candidates were: Sharon Allen, Wichita, majoring in history; Faye Gibble, Lebanon, Pa., majoring Sociology; Orpha Shrag, McPherson, majoring in home economics; Kay Shever, Correctionville, Iowa, majoring in elementary education.

Sophomore candidates were: Carol Christy, Garrison, Iowa, majoring in elementary education; Judy Fox, Garfield, majoring in speech; Judy Hofmeister, Waukegan, Ill., plans to marry Bill

Perez next summer, and Lena Myasaki, Maui, Hawaii, majoring in elementary education.

Freshmen candidates were: Chris Cole, Bluefield, W. Va., majoring in sociology; Judy Hoover, Denver, Colo., majoring in sociology; Carol Kimmel, Olympia, Wash., who plans to be a nurse, and Bonnie Reed, Adel, Iowa, majoring in elementary education.

Attendants will accompany the queen to the Homecoming dance, Oct. 5, and to the Homecoming game, Oct. 6.

Other homecoming events begin Friday, Oct. 5 with a Homecoming Student Assembly.

On Saturday morning, Oct. 6, the Board of Trustees Meeting is scheduled to meet in the basement of the library. Meeting with the Board of Trustees will be the administrative staff.

The Alumni Board Meeting will also be held Saturday. Judging of campus decorations will also take place.

At noon the M Club luncheon will be held at the Warren Hotel. Harley Stump, assistant professor of English will speak on "Trends in Contemporary Literature" in The Alumni Classroom.

This Classroom session will be in the afternoon in Room 212 at Mohler Hall. Following the Alumni Classroom the McPherson College Wind Ensemble will present a concert in Brown Auditorium.

Alumni and friends are invited to a charcoal beef cookout, served by Slater Food Service, at $1.25 per person. Reservations should be made as soon as possible. Tickets may be purchased in the Alumni Office during the day of Oct. 6.

In the evening, the pre-game Homecoming Queen Ceremony will be given just before the Homecoming game. At 7:30 p.m. MC vs. Southwestern in the McPherson stadium.

Halftime show will be presented by the Quinter High School Band. After the game, an Alumni Coffee Hour will be held in the Student Union.

Tests Conducted For Entrance To Graduate School

Graduate record examinations, required by many graduate schools for admission, will be conducted at examination centers throughout the country five times during the coming year.

Seniors will be interested to note that these tests are also required by a number of donors of graduate fellowships.

Dates for the tests are Nov. 17, 1962; Jan. 19, March 2, April 27, and July 6, 1963. Each applicant should inquire of the graduate school of his choice which of the examinations he should take, where, and on what dates.

A bulletin of information for candidates, with an application, details of registration and sample questions may be obtained from college advisors or from Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J., or P. O. Box 27896, Los Angeles, 27, Cal.

A completed application must reach the ETS office at least fifteen days before the date of administration for which the candidate is applying.

Last year more than 42,000 candidates took graduate record examinations.

Prejudice Reigns In Heart Of Dixie

By David Anders
He served his country in the United States Air Force, yet, when he wanted to attend school so that he could better serve his country, he was turned away amid shouts of, "Nigger, Nigger, go home Nigger," from students.
The man concerned here is James H. Meredith, the school is the white-only University of Mississippi. The governor of Miss., Governor Ross Barnett, obtained special permission to act as registrar so that he could reject Meredith's application.

Our country was founded on the basis that all men are created free and equal, but when a man wants to go to "Ole Miss" or some similar school in other parts of the South to further his education, he is turned away because of the color of his skin.
The officials and Governor of Miss. turned him away because they looked down upon him. When this happens the phrase, "... all men are created free and equal," is cast aside.

The minority groups of the south have just as much right to education as the bigoted white people who lord their "superiority" over the ones who were not "privileged" enough to be born with white skin.

The attitude of these bigoted whites is very unfortunate in that it not only hurts the progress of the South, but it also makes good propaganda for the communists, who like to capitalize on anything that will cast a bad reflection on the people of the United States.

This attitude is also stifling the possibilities and talents of some boy or girl who could someday be another George Washington Carver. The white people of the South and the North will have much to answer for someday.
There are a few courageous whites in the South who are willing to fight for the colored man. But there are even more young Negroes who risk beatings and even death to further their drive for real freedom from the chains which have shackled them for so many years.

The people of the North also have a responsibility to the Negro. There are many places in the North and even in Kansas where the Negro is not allowed. We need to fight the prejudices that have been formed against him.

This will take time and patience but it can be done. The colored person has just as much right to the liberties and freedoms that the rest of the people of the United States enjoy.

The partial solution can be found in the golden rule, "Do unto others as ye would have them do unto you." Jesus did not tell the Jews to do unto the Jews, but unto others.

Instead of shouting, "Nigger, Nigger, go home, Nigger," as the students in Mississippi did, we need to say, "Come, brothers, and learn with us that you as well as we might be better citizens of our country."

College Lacks School Spirit

Fellow students,

It seems rather plain that Mac college has little in the way of school tradition, respect of our flag and national anthem, and in school spirit.

The freshman initiation was a farce with many not participating. The upper classmen were not concerned about it so why should the freshmen concern themselves by playing the freak.

It is only as the upper classmen participate that it becomes interesting to all concerned.

The C. of E. football game would have been the saddest thing I have ever witnessed even if the score had been reversed. First, there was no presentation of the flag or even the playing of the national anthem.

Then the majority of the disinterested spectators would not even stand for the kickoffs. The cheerleaders did a valiant job in trying to promote enthusiasm.

A few did their lung-yelling best to support the cheer leaders only to be looked upon by the disinterested as something odd or out of place. The small cheering section of C. of E. took interest in the game from the start and let their boys on the field fully know it while the group on the McPherson side seemed to be nursing laryngitis.

A good topping to the rotten evening was the half time activities . . . during which no students participated to support the team.

The morale of Mac students is as low as if we were completing our season with a no win-lost all record instead of starting our season with a one win-one lost record.

Let us get behind our cheerleaders and let the players know we are for them, win, lose, or draw. Let us take a sincere interest in student activities. Our

Student Deplores Lack Of Pep

Dear Editor,

The lack of pep at the game last Saturday night left me colder than the weather did. Only this was a different kind of coldness. We had enough students to back the cheerleaders, but the backing just wasn't there.

C of E had less students at the game than we did, but when they yelled you could really hear them, including the men. On our side of the field I could hear a few men yelling but the greatest support came from the girls.

I feel that the students here at Mac should really get behind the football boys and let them know that we are backing them. When the cheerleaders call out a yell, let's don't have a few half-hearted yells from the students, but let's shout so that the boys on the field and the people downtown can hear us.

I'll admit that I probably don't have enough pep but I'm willing to do my share. I feel that the Pep Club is trying to do its share but there aren't enough students willing to back it and make it what it really should be.

Let's really go all out in backing our team this year and let them know that we are concerned about how they do.

Sincerely,
David Anders

Stern Will Show Slides To College CBYF

Mrs. Irvin Stern will show slides depicting the work which she and her husband did to establish a school in Nigeria, Africa, at the CBYF meeting this Sunday.

Mrs. Stern, the former Patty Bittinger, is Dr. D. W. Bittinger's daughter. The Sterns are now residing in McPherson while he is recuperating from an illness obtained in Africa.

CBYF will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Multi-Purpose room of the educational wing of the church.

Due to rainy weather, the College C.B.Y.F. held its campfire in the Student Union quiet room Sunday evening, Sept. 23.

The program included singing directed by Leah Standafer, soprano from Rocky Ford, Colo., and a talk by the Rev. Harold Z. Bomberger, pastor of the McPherson Church of the Brethren.

The Reverend Mr. Bomberger likened the human soul to a campfire. "Like the smoke which rises, he stated, so should we keep looking up."

Ken Ullom, sophomore from Wray, Colo., then announced the program for the coming year.

Student Council Decisions Reflect Campus Opinions

Last week Student Council announced a change in the rules concerning dress up night at the cafeteria and wearing bermuda shorts in the Student Union. Needless to say, these recommendations brought a favorable response by the majority of the student body.

There has been a lot of discussion on campus about both issues and neither were being enforced at all this year. Thus, the Student Council went on the assumption that the students wanted the rules changed and would abide by the results.

To give the student body further chance to express opinions and desires, the Student Council appointed a Foods Committee, at the request of Slater Food Service. This committee, which represents each class consists of Nancy Erritt, Larry Bowman, Wayne Moritz, and Sandy Walty.

Meeting with the Slater manager, this group accepts any suggestions or complaints the students want to give.

It seems that the Student Council has gone half-way to do their part on these issues. Garth commented that the letters to the editors and the petitions which were presented by the students had a definite influence on the reconsideration.

The rest of it is up to us as individual students. This does not mean we should use these examples to bring up a petition for every minute thing. But if they are carefully thought through they can be of a benefit.

So many times students just stand around and complain about issues they disapprove of. Instead why aren't these complaints stated in the form of a letter, petition, or even personally to the Student Council.

And when the Student Council does consider them and attempt to recommend a better solution, let's all work together to keep the rules and support their decisions.

October Displays Feature European Printmakers

Alexander Wins 1962 G. M. Award

The original works of many well-known European printmakers of the 19th and 20th centuries will be on display in Friendship Hall during the month of October.

Famous names such as Picasso, Cezanne, Renoir, Manet, Roualt, and Bonnard are represented in the exhibition.

The prints include nearly all forms of printmaking—etching, lithography, and wood-engraving. The works are for sale with prices indicated, and will be hanging through October 29.

Those interested in purchasing prints may contact Darlene Blickenstaff. Payments may be made in the form of cash or charge.

Ceramic work of Maija Grotell, Finnish-born ceramist and head of the ceramics department at the Cranbrook Academy of Art, will also be on display.

Mrs. Grotell is an experienced instructor and exhibitor of her own work. She has received many international awards and her work has been acquired by well-known museums throughout the nation.

Vance Alexander, sophomore from Geneseo, received an honorable mention award in the 1962 model car competition of the Fisher Body Craftman's Guild.
In the absence of Dr. D. W. Bittinger, Garth Wood, president of the student council, presented Vance with a Certificate of Craftmanship this morning in assembly.

Vance began this creative past-time because of a suggestion by his eighth grade teacher. That year he won $100 in state competition.

After completing carving the model by hand from wood, Vance sent it to General Motors. The purpose of the contest was for the company to get ideas for their designers to use. Cars are judged on workmanship and design.

The annual event is limited to two age groups, 14 to 18 and 18 to 21. Vance commented that he hoped to continue making models as he was eligible for two more years.

By Ed Mohler
In keeping with its policy of bringing the finest reading to the college student, the Spectator is publishing this series from the book A Primer for College Students, or The Adventures of Tom, Dick, and Mary.

Unfortunately, publishers willing to pay money for such material have failed to see the literary value of the work, so you, dear reader, are getting it all for what it is worth.

The book concerns the adventures of young students in college and is as follows.

Grade One Chapter One

Tom and Dick and Mary go to school. Their school is called New Hedon College. It is a small private school.

Tom and Dick do not like the school. At this school boys outnumber girls two to one. Two and one are three. Not very many.

Chapter Two

Mary is talking. Talk, Mary, talk. She is talking to her best friend. Her friend is Jane. Jane is talking too. Shhhh, Jane, Mary is talking. It is not polite to interrupt your friend. You can talk when Mary stops.

It is very hard for Mary to talk when Jane is talking. Especially since Jane is Mary, and Mary, Jane, Mary is schizoid.

Chapter Three

Dick is not schizoid. Dick is running. Dick loves to run, or visa-versa. Now he is running to hide. Hide, Dick, hide. That man is it, and he might find you. How nice to play hide-and-seek with the dean of men.

The dean has stopped counting now. Either he can not count higher, or he has your number. Shame, Dick, shame. One should not be caught playing Monopoly in Labor Economics.

Chapter Four

Look, see Tom. Tom is running too. This must be a natural phenomenon in boys. Tom is running fast. Why not? He is scared.

All the time he runs. Up and down, left and right. He is being chased.

Mary is running too. She is chasing Tom.

Tom is thinking. Think, Tom, think. Maybe someday you will be caught. Tom thinks maybe it is more fun to be chased. Mary thinks so too. Too bad, Tom.

Mac Seeking Conference Win

McPherson Bulldogs will be seeking their second conference win of the season at Salina Saturday, Kansas Wesleyan, with a one win and one tie record, will be the opponent.

In last year's game, the Bulldogs defeated KW 33-7, but later had to forfeit the game because of an ineligible player. This year the Bulldogs will be seeking a win that will stand.

Wesleyan has fair speed, a good line, and back field competence. Guiding the KW team this year is junior quarterback John Hoffman. Hoffman, who missed last year, is a good passer and adequate signal caller.

Completing the backfield for Wesleyan are fullback Lyle Walter, right halfback Aaron Blair, and left halfback Rodney Brown. Brown, conference 100-yd. dash champion at 9.8 sec., is the chief ground threat.

The right side of the Wesleyan line features two very strong boys in John Calvin and Mike Barger.

Kansas Wesleyan, which runs from a straight-T offense, tied Friends 13-13 in the second opener. Last week Southwestern, a conference title hopeful, defeated KW 26-0.

Pep Club Wants Males

Boys, you too are asked to join Pep Club. Pep Club is not just a girls' organization. The purpose of Pep Club is to carry school spirit. This purpose is the duty of boys as well as of girls.

The first meeting of Pep Club is Tuesday, Oct. 2, at 7:00 in 212 Mohler Hall. All those interested in joining, boys as well as girls, may ask Harriet Swinger for further details.

Bethany Leads KCAC; Five Teams Undefeated

Bethany, Ottawa, Baker, Southwestern, and College of Emporia lead the KCAC Conference. All five teams are undefeated at this early point in the season.

Bethany, which holds the lead with a 2-0 record, cannot be counted on to hold this top position since they have played only minor teams thus far, defeating Bethel 7-0, and Sterling 3-0. Bethany takes on the tough Presbies this weekend.

Ottawa's conference win was an impressive one over Wesleyan Friends 51-0. This was Ottawa's 21 consecutive victory.

Baker, with Gary Gore, Wil-

O'Neal Wins Pair Of Shoes For 11 Tackles

Silas Neal, senior linebacker from Piney Woods, Miss., won the traditional pair of shoes from Miller Shoe Store because he made the most tackles in the first home game. Silas also won the shoes last year in the first home game.

Silas, who came from Piney Woods Junior College, has been an outstanding player the last two seasons for coach Sid Smith. O'Neal was elected to the all-conference football team last year.

Elementary teaching is the major of Silas at this time. This tendency stems from his great ability to associate with children.

Silas, who had 11 tackles to his credit, was followed by Larry Crumrine, senior quarterback from Hazelton, eight tackles; Dave Priddy, senior end from Nocona, Tex., six tackles; and Buddy Taylor, freshman quarterback from Thomas, Okla., five tackles.

Emporia Drubs Bulldogs 39-0 In Conference Tilt

Fans who saw the McPherson College of Emporia game last Saturday at McPherson saw a great team effort on the part of the Emporia Presbies. Emporia, through the team effort, defeated Macollege 39-0. This victory gave Emporia a 1-0 conference record and left the Bulldogs 1-1.

The outstanding player of the game was Bruce Upstill of Emporia. Although he threw only one touchdown pass in the game, his passing is what kept the Emporia offense on the move.

Upstill completed 15 passes out of 25 attempts for 188 yards and had a passing percentage of 60 per cent. Totaled, Emporia completed 17 of 30 passes for 204 yards compared to McPhersons 3 for 10 and 58 yards.

On the ground Emporia gained a total of 244 yards to the Bulldogs 157. In final statistics Emporia had 20 first downs and 422 net yards gained, while Macollege had 10 first downs and 167 net yards.

All the Emporia touchdowns, except one, were made on the ground. Lawrence Corcoran scored on a four yard plunge; John Phillips on a five yard plunge, Bruce Upstill on a one yard line buck, and James Switzer made two on drives of one and five yards.

The only touchdown pass came in the fourth quarter when Upstill threw 27 yds. to Williamson for the score. Bill Swartz kicked three extra points. Larry Crumrine, Silas O'Neal, Dave Priddy, and Buddy Taylor were the bright spots for McPherson.

Club Will Stage Soccer Game

The soccer team will play a practice game this Sunday at 3 p.m. The student body is invited to attend. Play will start promptly and will continue until 4:40 p.m. as in a regular game. It will be played according to international regulations.

Soccer has been described as "twenty-two players playing hockey on a football field with a water soaked volleyball." Fouls, often confusing to the spectator, usually are called on players who touch the ball with their hands or arms. The penalty for most fouls is loss of the ball.

Soccer teams play zones, much as hockey or basketball teams. Passing is done by kicking heading, or using the body. Blocking and tackling are fundamental tactics.

Blocking, however, is the act of deflecting a kicked ball, or standing between the opponent and his goal. Tackling is the act of stealing the ball from another player.

Teams playing Sunday will be captained by Robert Crabb and Ken Smucker. Members of the club will act as officials.

From The Locker Room

By Larry Morlan

Ottawa, College of Emporia, and Southwestern appear to be the teams with the capability of taking the conference title this year. All have showed considerable strength in their first games. College of Emporia draws my nod at this time because of Bruce Upstill.

Like the rest of you, I was really disappointed when McPherson was beaten by C. of E., especially as bad as it was. But now is the time to really show the team we are behind them. Let's get as big a following as we can at Salina tomorrow to help put the Bulldogs back on the winning track.

Pass defense was one of the poor spots for the Bulldogs against Emporia. Bruce Upstill had a small matter of throwing to his receivers since they were in the open so much. Wesleyan has a passer of the same throwing ability, so watch out.

Coach Sid Smith had these comments about the C. of E. game, "In that game I believe we played the eventual conference champions. If not, then somebody else will have to be real strong. Ottawa has a ground game equal to Emporia, but Emporia has the stronger passing attack. The Ottawa and Emporia game will be a good game to watch."

The only amusing incident, as far as McPherson was concerned, came in the first quarter when Clem Bailey, on a kick-off, lost his shoe, retrieved it, and ran up the field with the ball in one hand and his shoe in the other.

Maybe Clem Bailey should have gotten that pair of shoes instead of Silas. Seems Clem had a little trouble keeping his shoe on at the Emporia game, Right Clem?

Girls, if you have noticed boys in track equipment running by your dorm late in the afternoon, don't be alarmed. They are just the boys working out for cross-country. Every night these boys run a three to five miles section to get in shape for cross-country meets.

Also, please don't give these boys rides when they are running the section.

This weeks prediction, McPherson 20 KW 14.

bert Hedrick, and Mile Welch scoring, defeated Bethel 37-0. Southwestern, stronger this year, whipped Kansas Wesleyan 26-0.

College of Emporia, which defeated McPherson 39-0, will test Bethany unscored upon defense Saturday in their quest for the conference crown.

Chat With Flory Initiate Quiet Room Fireplace

"A fireside chat with Dr. Flory," was held last night from 8:45 until 9:45 in the Student Union quiet room.

The informal discussion, held to initiate the fireplace in the quiet room, included questions directed from students to Dr. Raymond L. Flory, dean of students and professor of History and Political Science at McPherson.

Peace Corps

Money Cannot Buy Friendship Of World's Emerging Nations

The way to win the friendship of other nations is not by buying their friendship, but by working with them. How much of the foreign aid money that we give to other nations does the common man ever see?

The way to the heart of the little man of other nations is to work and live with him. When he realizes that someone is in sympathy with him and his problems, and really cares about him, he will be a good friend.

The missionaries are doing a fine job in most cases, but we might as well face it, they cannot do everything. They do not have the backing that they need, and there is not enough of them.

So what will we do? The leaders of our nation recognized this need, and came up with the idea of training American citizens to go to the foreign nations who are in need of skilled technicians to help them improve their country.

The purpose of this column will be to keep you informed as to the needs and activities of the Peace Corps, and through these, present a challenge to you to do something for your country, by helping others.

This week the column will be an introduction to the Peace Corps and what it is trying to do for other nations of the world.

The Peace Corps was created by Presidential Order on March 1, 1961, with Sargent Shriver as Director.

One of the reasons for the Peace Corps Act is to promote world peace and friendship through the Peace Corps volunteers who are dedicated to the task of promoting peace through service to mankind.

Congress set forth another reason also, "... to help promote a better understanding of the American people on the part of the peoples served, and a better understanding of other peoples on the part of the American people."

The members of the Peace Corps come from every state in the United States. Their backgrounds are different, but they have one thing common, they have chosen to serve their country through the Peace Corps.

According to Director Shriver, "They have been called the silent generation; these men and women who are volunteering to serve in the Peace Corps..."

He goes on to say, "They have come quietly to enlist for two-year terms of hard work in Africa, Asia, and Latin America.

They have come with a spirit of determination and idealism."

Any American citizen over 18 may apply for the Peace Corps. There is no upper age limit. Older citizens are needed because their maturity and practical experience will be helpful in projects.

All volunteers are required to pass a stiff physical examination because most volunteers will have to live and work under difficult conditions overseas.

Married couples are accepted if both the husband and wife have the skills needed by the Peace Corps for the same project. Applications from people with dependents under 18 are not accepted.

A college degree is not necessary for Peace Corps service. They need people with practical experience as much as those with academic qualifications. In some teaching assignments, a degree is required.

To become a Peace Corps Volunteer the applicant must fill out a questionnaire and return it to Peace Corps headquarters in Washington. It is then evaluated to determine the job best suited for the applicant.

The volunteer is then invited to take the Peace Corps entrance test. As projects are approved, those with the right qualifications are selected to enter training.

When the volunteer is invited to training, he knows the country where he will serve and the job he will perform.

There might be some delays for applicants whose skills are not needed by projects being considered by the Peace Corps' at the time of their application.

The entrance test is not competitive, but is based on the applicant's aptitudes. The final selection of a volunteer is based on evaluations of the individual that take in his adolescent and adult life.

The main considerations for a volunteer are character, skill, common sense, health, and an ability to meet new situations with both enthusiasm and tact.

Training consists of two parts, one in the United States, and the other in the host country. The first phase is usually on a college campus and lasts about three months.

This unit deals with the culture, people, and policies of the host country; United States history, institutions, and values; international relations; and such language training as is needed.

It also covers physical conditioning; health instruction, and refresher courses in the skills needed for the project. More training in the first phase may involve a month in Puerto Rico.

The second phase of training begins in the host country after a brief home leave. This training is to give volunteers more of an introduction to the traditions and culture of their host country.

Most volunteers will serve in teams, and sometimes small groups will live together even though their daily tasks will separate them. In some cases a volunteer will live and work alone.

While in training, the volunteers receive meals, housing, medical care, and training materials, plus $2 per day expense money. While abroad, they receive a termination pay of $75 a month, including training.

Also while abroad, they will receive allowances to pay for food, clothing, housing and incidental expenses.

Leave, while abroad, accumulates at the rate of two and one half calendar days for each month of satisfactory service. Volunteers receive a special allowance of $5 a day while on leave. A normal term is two years, including training. Some projects require longer service, but in all cases volunteers are informed in advance of the length of the term for which they are being considered.

The Peace Corps has the right to terminate the service of any volunteer at any time. This may be done for reasons of health, inadequate performance or poor conduct.

After his tour of service, the volunteer returns to private life. Many new opportunities will open to men and women with actual experience abroad.

Returning Peace Corps members will know the language, culture, traditions, and people of a certain area. Their contributions to many fields can be significant.

President's Band To Give Two Concerts At Lindsborg

The 164-year-old United States Marine Band will perform at Presser Hall at Bethany College in Lindsborg, Monday, Oct. 1 at 2:15 and 8:15 p.m.

The Marine Band traditionally furnishes appropriate music at all White House social events. The band performs at all occasions officially attended by the President.

Founded in 1798 by an act of congress, the band has played at every inauguration since Thomas Jefferson's. The annual tours originated under the direction of John Philip Sousa in 1891.

The matinee program on Monday at 2:15 includes "The Star Spangled Banner," "The Stars and Stripes Forever," "Overture for Band," "Thoughts of Love," "Pineapple Poll," "Perpetual Motion," "Bugler's Holiday," "Cowboy Rhapsody," "La Calunha e un Venticello," from "The Barber of Seville," and "Jerome Kern Fantasy."

The evening program at 8:15 p.m. includes "The Star Spangled Banner," "Washington Post," "In Bohemia," "George Gershwin Medley," "Bolero," "Mass" and "Carnival" from "La Fiesta Mexicana," "March of the Steel Men," "Tales from the Vienna Woods," "Dreams of Love," "Prologue," from "I Pagliacci," and "Capriccio Italian."

Tickets are available at Crabb Town and Country Store in McPherson at $1.00, $1.50, and $2.00.

Council Presents Chapel Program

Members of the MacCollege student council and student court were presented in assembly Friday, Sept. 21.

Garth Wood, student body president, introduced the members of the student council and gave a brief explanation of the duties of the council.

Carl Werner then introduced the student court and explained that its purpose is to enforce the student body constitution and determine the discipline for violators.

Following the presentation of the student court, Coach Sid Smith introduced the 1962 Bulldog football players.

The assembly was concluded by a group of Freshmen who participated in a relay under the direction of Leah Standafer, sophomore from Rocky Ford, Colo.
