

Mac to Donate Blood Monday

One hundred and sixty five students have signed up so far to give blood for the Red Cross on Monday, Nov. 18.

Both college and town will participate in this project beginning at 9 a.m. and ending at 5 p.m.

Students who have signed up will be receiving cards in the mail giving the time they are to appear.

The cards will also give directions on types of food to eat. Blood donors must avoid all types of fat for four hours before giving blood. This includes milk, ice cream, and cheese—all dairy foods.

When donors appear in the Church of the Brethren basement at their assigned time, they will have their blood pressure and blood count taken and their blood will be typed.

Cards will be given them asking if they have had such things as T.B. and if they have had mumps or measles and when. Through such questions, the donors will supply their complete medical history.

A unit is coming from Wichita to take the blood. They are bringing a staff of six nurses and the McPherson Red Cross will provide volunteer nurses and workers.

Mrs. Jo Anna Byers is the Red Cross executive secretary of McPherson County.

College students will also be working as hostesses, answering the phone, and directing people.

A meal will be served to all donors afterwards by the Home Economics chapter. They will serve Huntington chicken, celery, carrots, pickles, cake, coffee, milk, and cokes. The cake, homemade, is being donated by 15 women on college hill.

The milk will be donated by McPherson dairies and the cokes by the Hutchinson Coca Cola Bottling Company. Roth Produce is donating the ice.

The 30 girls in the Home Economics chapter will all help to prepare and serve this meal. Anita Ledell, sophomore from McPherson, and Judith Penny, junior from Garden City, Mo., are in charge.

The college goal is 160 pints. 186 pints, 26 pints above the goal, were collected last year.

The Red Cross particularly wants all negative types of blood, for these are harder to get than the positive types, and they are usually short on them.

The blood will be refrigerated and taken to Wichita. Blood is made available to any local hospital in the Red Cross system through Wichita, free of charge.

Students between the ages of 18 and 21 can give blood with their parent's consent. Students 21 or married can give blood without parental consent.

A person is able to give blood once every two months but not more than five times a year.

Kansas Wesleyan has challenged McPherson College on a continuing basis. A trophy will be furnished by the Red Cross, and the college winning three years in a row gets to keep the trophy.

The winner will be decided by the percentage of eligible donors that give blood. This will include college students, faculty and staff members and their wives.

Donations at the college are being organized by the Student Council. Dick Welch, sophomore from Delphi, Ind., is in charge.

Pre-Enrollment Continues For Second Term Work

Students may begin pre-enrollment procedures now and continue to do so until the Dec. 6, deadline.

To pre-enroll, students may pick up a program of studies for the second semester and a tentative enrollment card at the registrar's office. Then he may contact his advisor and work out a program for the second semester.

The tentative enrollment card should be signed by the advisor who will return it to the registrar's office.

All students should consult the college catalog and plan his program in the light of his major course of study and graduation requirements.

Final enrollment will be from Tuesday through Friday, Jan. 17 - 19. Each student will go through procedures similar to those of first semester enrollment except that he must do it between classes or during free time.

Another step of pre-enrollment concerns the extra-curricular activity sheet. Any student, other than freshmen, who did not fill out one of these during first semester enrollment, may do it now. These sheets are also available at the registrar's office.

These are to be filled out according to the activities of the previous year. (Therefore, freshmen need not do this.) The information on these sheets is transferred to each student's transcript. If a student does not fill out a sheet, that particular part of his transcript will be left blank.

Two new courses have been added to the curriculum for the second semester.

Language Arts Methods, 131 is a new course in the Education Department. This two-hour course is designed for element-

Convocations Calendar

Tuesday, Nov. 19 — Chapel Jazz worship service in charge of Irvin Wagner, assistant professor of music.

Friday, Nov. 22 — Assembly. John McCormally, editor of the Hutchinson News.

Johnson to Talk On Astronomy

Dr. Hugh S. Johnson, associate scientist at the National Radio Astronomy Observatory, Greenback W. Va., will present a lecture on "Radio Astronomy," Monday, Nov. 18, at 6:30 p.m. in Brown Auditorium.

This lecture was originally scheduled for last Monday but was postponed due to a change in Dr. Johnson's travel plans.

Dr. Johnson is one of the nations foremost radio astronomers. He is a lecturer that can present astronomy to the layman in an understandable way. His lecture is sponsored by the American Astronomical Society.

Pianist Will Perform For Cultural Series

Thomas Schumacher, a young American pianist, will appear Tuesday evening, Nov. 19, at 8 o'clock in Brown Auditorium as the second number of the 1963-64 Cultural Series.

His program will open with Two Sonatas—E Major and G Major—by Scarlatti, from the Neapolitan School of Music of the 18th century.

Beethoven's Sonata in E-Flat Major, Opus 81a (Les Adieux), and Chopin's Sonata in B Minor, Opus 58, will be included in the first part of the program.

Selections by Albeniz, Ravel and Liszt make up the second half of the program.

Schumacher made his New York recital debut in Town Hall in April of this year. In 1962 he was a winner in Busoni Competition in Bolzano, Italy.

He received his Master of Music Degree from Juilliard School of Music. At Juilliard he won the Carl M. Roeder Memorial Prize. He was awarded the Juilliard Alumni Scholarship and a teaching fellowship for 1961-62.

Thomas Schumacher

Born in Butte, Mont., Schumacher comes from a family of six children, all of them music lovers.

He started playing the piano by ear at the age of three and began composing his own music at the age of five to seven years before he had his first official lesson. He gave his first concert when he was fifteen.

Later he studied with Robert Goldsand at the Manhattan School of Music where he received a Bachelor of Music Degree. Schumacher then attended Juilliard.

Although he has now resided in New York City for several years, he has retained his childhood interest in zoology and his love for animals.

He has given recitals in Washington D. C.; Albany, New York; Kansas City Mo.; St. Louis, Mo.; and Baltimore Md. He has also toured the South and has made a solo appearance with the Atlanta Symphony.

Vacation Recess Begins Tuesday November 26

Thanksgiving recess will begin at 5 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 26 and will end when classes convene Monday morning, Dec. 2.

Dormitory space will be provided for students planning to stay on campus; however, the Student Union and cafeteria will be closed.

Absences two days preceding and two days following the vacation will be subject to the "double cut penalty." One absence from a class or chapel is counted as two.

Interpretation of rules concerning absences before or after vacation is in the hands of the Dean and the Committee of Deans.

Debaters to Compete Today in Tournament

Three debate teams will compete in a debate tournament today and Saturday at Edmond, Oklahoma.

The three teams are Ken Ulom and Roger Solomon, Earl Miller and Rodney Peterson; Art McAuley and Georgianna Krehbiel.

In the individual competition, Ken Ulom will participate in the extemporaneous speaking contest, and Georgianna Krehbiel will compete in poetry reading.

Film Features Creation Of Maccollege Diamonds

"Making Synthetic Diamonds at McPherson College," a ten-minute film made by Dr. J. Willard Hershey, author, lecturer, and past professor of chemistry at McPherson, will be shown Monday, Nov. 18, in the chemistry lecture room.

The film will be shown between five and six p.m.

This movie, as the title indicates, deals with the making of synthetic diamonds at McPherson College. The diamonds, first made in 1929 were the first produced in the United States.

The diamonds were made by a special process using a special carbon arc furnace capable of withstanding heats up to 4,000 degrees Centigrade. Over 50 diamonds were made in this way but none were of commercial size or value.

The largest synthetic diamond in the world was made by Dr. Hershey and is now on display in the College Museum.

Dr. Hershey continued to make diamonds through 1940. He wrote "The Book of Diamonds."

His book is available at the College Library, and Dr. Wesley DeCoursey, professor of Chemistry, has a list of his other works.

One of his diamonds will be on display in the museum on the fourth floor of Harnly Hall, and reprints of his research will be displayed in the hall on the first floor.

All students are invited to see the film and view the diamond and displays.

Students May Purchase Tickets for Passion Play

Tickets are available to Maccollege students and faculty members to the Oberammergau Passion Play to be presented Sunday through Wednesday, Nov. 17-20, in Hutchinson.

A special price of $7.75 is being offered for reserved seats, which regularly cost $1.50 to those who are not students or faculty members.

Tickets may be purchased in the Alumni and Public-Relations Office, Room 104, Mohler Hall.

The presentation will begin in Convention Hall, Hutchinson, at 8:15 each evening, and a special reserved seat matinee will be presented Sunday, Nov. 17, at 2:15 p.m. The $7.75 price is also applicable to the matinee.

Passion Play tells the story of the last seven days in the life of Jesus of Nazareth in 25 scenes.

Beginning with the Sermon on the Mount, the Passion Play progresses through the Last Supper, the Garden of Gethsemane, the Trials, the Crucifixion and Resurrection.

Members of the cast are English and American actors with Val Balfour starring as Jesus of Nazareth.

Ann Kelley Balfour, wife of the Christus portrayer, fills the role of Mary Magdalene.

Sponsors of the presentation are the Optimist Clubs of Hutchinson.

Passion Play has toured throughout the United States and Canada and has won acclaim by the press, educators, and clergy of all denominations.

Assembly to Feature Hutchinson Newsman

John McCormally, editor of the Hutchinson News, will be featured as assembly speaker, Friday, Nov. 22.

Since 1950, McCormally has held several editorial positions with the Hutchinson News. He is also vice president of the Hutchinson Publishing Company, which publishes the News.

Prior to his work in Hutchinson, McCormally was reporter and editorial writer for The Emporia Gazette. On the basis of his editorial writing for The Gazette, he won a Nieman Fellowship to Harvard University where he studied one year.

He received the A.B. degree from Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia, in 1949.

John McCormally

McCormally has traveled widely in the United States, Canada, and Europe. From June to September of this year, he conducted journalism workshops in Africa with three other American journalists.

This work was done under the auspices of the African-American Institute and the United States State Department.

A total of 106 African journalists from 16 countries attended the workshops which were held in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia; Dar-es-Salaam, Tanganyika; and Lagos, Nigeria.

McCormally's special interests include agriculture, politics, education, mental health, and race relations.

He is a member of the Kansas Advisory Committee to the United States Civil Rights Commission.

Disturbances Indicate Lack Of Consideration, Sensitivity

Not often does the McPherson College Community have the opportunity to hear a live performance such as the "Te Deum" presented last Friday evening.

Neither is it often that we witness such shining examples of inconsiderate actions exhibited by students and adults.

Perhaps we need another kind of education at McPherson College—to help those people who may not realize that the clicking of a tape recorder switch is extremely distracting during a sacred music production:

Whenever the attentiveness of an entire audience is subordinated to a few students' desire to own a tape of "Te Deum", I believe it is time to question our level of cultural and social maturity.

The Scholiast

By Christopher R. van de Velde

I wonder how many people feel the same excitement I experience when I walk into a book store. When I stand and look at the rows of crisp new books, I picture myself as being in a new world.

Simply because no one has ever read the particular copies of the works in front of me, I imagine that I am going to be the first to learn the secrets of these volumes.

My one dark unpleasant moment when I am in a bookstore is the realization that my funds are limited; I find that I invariably have to pick and choose because of my financial situation, and decisions are always a bother.

Well, I am going to have to go on making decisions relative to books, but now I will have about a week to make them in.

What I am taking the long way around to say is that the Student Council has adopted a plan for a book store for this year.

Shortly after Thanksgiving there will be a three-day book fair to inaugurate the new book store, and after that every person on our campus will be able to browse through a weekly changing collection of books.

Located in the Student Union, and open for six hours every day—roughly during the noon and meal hours—the new student sponsored facility will enable students to increase their personal libraries for an occasional outlay of loose pocket change.

Last week's Student Council meeting took another big step with "vigah" when it moved to recommend to the Student Union Board that a juke box be placed on the lower level of the STUDENTS' UNION; a step designed to help make that building serve better its titled purpose.

For extensive and dedicated service to the students of McPherson College the Student Council will give honorary Spectator and Quadrangle subscriptions to the following people: Dr. R. E. Mohler, Mr. J. M. Fries, Dr. Maurice Hess, Miss Della Lehman, Miss Jessie Brown, Dr. Burton Metzler, Dr. Earl Frantz, Mrs. Alice Martin, and Miss Mary Fee.

Macollege Extends Sympathy to Families

Macollege extends sympathy to Jim Lambert and his family. Jim's mother passed away last week after a serious illness.

Jim is a Macollege freshman from Inman.

McPherson College also extends sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Yoder and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Yoder and their families.

Memorial services for Mrs. W. H. Yoder, mother of Gordon and Wilbur, were held Friday at the McPherson Church of the Brethren.

Sympathy is also expressed to Sid Smith, head coach, and his family on the death of his father, Tuesday, Nov. 12.

Group Sponsors College Seminar

A seminar on military and non-military defense, sponsored by the college program of American Friend's Service Committee, is being held for all midwest college youth this weekend at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education in Lincoln, Neb.

Dr. Cecil E. Hinshaw, Director of American Friends Service Committees of the Community Peace Education Program in Denver, will be one of the speakers.

Dr. David Metzler, professor of bio-physics, Iowa State University, will also speak. He was a participant in the American Assembly Disarmament Conference in Iowa City in 1963.

The American Friend's Service Committee college program also sponsors seminars, weekend work camps, psychiatric hospital weekends, a literature service on social problems, a speaker's bureau, and summer-long projects.

Another incident, somewhat inconsistent with the atmosphere provided by Handel's music, was the sudden appearance of the cameraman in the front of the auditorium.

While television coverage of a Macollege event gives desirable publicity to the institution, it seems out of place to allow floodlights to interfere with the worshipful attitude of an entire group.

Obviously, the television personnel—like a good portion of society—have become insensitive to the aesthetic and spiritual desires of individuals.

Is it not reasonable to suggest that students make arrangements in advance, and that they use a recorder with a silent switch if they desire a tape of a musical program?

Could it also be possible to indicate to the television personnel that a more considerate approach could be used for publicity purposes? BJJ

Try This on for Size

By D. W. Bittlinger

McPherson College President

Through the years I have been watching people, talking to people, reading books about people. I suggest here a few generalizations about people. I believe they extend beyond race or language differentials.

- Most people have problems.
- Their problems seem to them to be harder than those which other people, "average people", have to face.
- People generally deal with their problems three different ways.

1. They become belligerent, bellicose; they fight the problem and the people connected with it. (Many of these people end up somewhere in our prison system).
2. They become discouraged, frightened; they try to postpone the problem or to run away from it. (Many of these people end up in our hospital system, mental or physical).
3. They confront the problem, seek to analyze themselves and the problem, and gnaw away at it, hoping to get it down to manageable size. (These people become the sustaining strength of our society.)

Why not try these generalizations on for size. Which one fits?

Eastern Thought May Offer Different Idea in Metaphysics

By Peter Tham

Trusting that American philosophy is not ready for quietism, the Eastern school of thought is quite ready to offer a different trend of idea in the realm of metaphysics.

Many consider that the concept of God is absent from the Buddhist text, and therefore, it is atheistic.

True, the word "God" is not mentioned, but definitely there is insufficient reason to qualify it as an atheistic philosophy. Likewise, the idea of "Deus" in Buddhism has been misunderstood.

In Zen, the essence of Buddhism, reality is inconceivable, and nothing can be said about it. Not only are our usual distinctions unable to give us the idea of the Supreme Reality, but they are in themselves the most serious obstacles which separate us from it.

In the Buddhist text, therefore, the "pure essence" or "the basis of the world" or "cosmic mind" or even "the body of Buddha" are written.

Many monotheistic religions are conscious of God, saying that in Him we live, and move, and have our being. Zen, however, wants to have even this last trace of God-consciousness obliterated.

In Zen to think of God is to deny God. The essential preoccupation of Buddhism in general and Zen in particular is waking from the dream of ignorance and illusion.

The moment this dream is dissipated, the Supreme Reality is revealed in all infinitude of its splendour.

Students Neglect Outlet for Pride

Dear Editor:

I have just returned from a so-called Pep Club meeting. I discovered a large "majority" of the Macollege student body there—ten to be exact.

This was very disappointing to me, since the club began the year with over forty names on its membership list.

I don't understand how a college of over six hundred students can have a pep club of such proportions.

And I don't understand how anyone who has the least amount of pride in his choice of a higher educational institution can neglect joining the very organization which provides a practical outlet for this pride.

Those forty students who came to our organizational meeting and contributed to the enthusiasm and then forgot that the club even existed, show a lack of responsibility.

Ideally, every member of the student body should automatically join the pep club and be expected to yell and cheer as well as attend meetings. But, much to my dismay, and the dismay of the cheerleaders and cabinet members, this is hardly the case.

Let this be a reminder to those of you who signed the membership list at that first meeting and indicated that you wished to be a member of the club.

We are still functioning, though in a sad state, and we need your "loyal" support. I hope I will see you at our next club meeting—and bring your roommate!

Too Much Food Left on Trays Hurts Students

Dear Editor:

Would you believe it that Slater Food Service is trying to do their job well? We students do not realize that we have hurt ourselves and will not be able to have a Thanksgiving dinner this year.

Because we are supposed to have enough sense about wasted food, we are not really limited to the number of salads, juices and fruit, pats of margarine, etc. If we would go into a restaurant and order a dinner, how many salads, desserts, etc., would we be served?

Either there will have to be a number of rules in our cafeteria or our "board" will have to be raised next semester because there has been entirely too much wasted food left on the students' trays. We are only hurting ourselves.

Another thing, how are the cooks supposed to have enough food prepared when so many students come in the cafeteria five minutes before the serving line closes?

The cooks have to eat before preparing our next meal and the servers as well as dish washers must clean things up before they leave for class. I think perhaps we should have more consideration to the people who are working for the Slater Food Service.

Bulldogs Contenders For Basketball Title

By Jamie Oxley
McPherson College's basketball team should be one of the contenders for the league crown this season, with the return of an experienced team.
Although the Bulldogs did lose Percy Elmore, an all-conference guard last year, three of last year's first string have returned.
Returning lettermen are Doug Knehan, a junior guard; John Tegeler, a junior forward; and Marion Enke, also a junior forward.

Transfer students should also add a lot of strength to the team.
George Czapinski, who transferred from Kansas University, and was an all-state high school selection while with the McPherson Bullpups, and John Treadwell; a transferee from Tuskegee Institute who will become eligible the second semester, should help the returning veterans win a majority of the games.

Players returning from last year's "B" squad and freshmen players should also help coach Sid Smith to have a successful season.
The season begins this year against non-league rival Tabor College, November 26 at McPherson. The Bulldogs' next action comes in the annual Moundridge Tournament at Moundridge.

Bulldogs Finish Football Season With Sour Note

Football season ended on a sour note for McPherson College last Saturday afternoon as the Bulldogs were defeated by Bethel 13-7 at Newton.
The first half was played almost entirely in Bethel territory, and Mac penetrated the Bethel 10-yard stripe several times. The only score, however, came on an 18-yard run with a pass interception by Buddy Taylor.
Bethel came back to win the game in the second half on a 67-yard punt return by Koehn and a long drive capped by a 3-yard touchdown run by Schwartz.
McPherson beat Bethel in nearly every department except the final score, but three 15-yard penalties, all in crucial situations, held the Bulldogs to only one touchdown.
Outstanding players for McPherson were Tom Reazin, Laurel Patrick, Buddy Taylor, Don Kuhlman, and Bob DeTour. Statistics:
Maccollege: First downs 13, passing 8 of 16, rushing 207, punting 4 for 34, fumbles lost 1, penalties 3 for 45.
Bethel: First downs 13, passing 7 of 13, rushing 149, punting 6 for 40, fumbles lost 1, penalties 2 for 20.

Presbies Crush Coyotes, Minus Services of Upstill

Playing without the services of their brilliant quarterback, Bruce Upstill, College of Emporia still crushed Kansas Wesleyan 49-7 to remain undefeated this year and guarantee themselves of at least a title tie.
Ottawa retained their slim hopes of catching the Presbies by shutting out Bethany 21-0. Southwestern used their strong ground attack to beat Sterling 39-14.
Baker denied the Friends Falcons their last change to win a game this year by humiliating them 58 to 7. Bethel squeezed past McPherson 13-7 to finish on top of the second division.
Two games this weekend wind up conference action for this season. Ottawa plays Baker at Baldwin Friday, and Southwestern goes to Emporia on Saturday.

Bulletin Has News Items

"The McPherson College Bulletin is more than an alumni bulletin," stated Paul Wagner, editor of the bulletin and director of alumni affairs. "Although the third page concerns alumni activities, the bulletin is intended to be a general newsletter."

Featured in each bulletin are news items about college activities and a regular column by Dr. D. W. Bittinger, president of the college.

Ten thousand copies of the bulletin are mailed out to alumni, members of the Church of the Brethren of the Western Region, parents of students and former students, and friends of the college.

Copies for students are available in the Public Relations Office.

From the Locker Room

By Larry Morlan
To my mind winning is not all that matters, nor should it be all that matters.
Winning is the object of competition, but not the only object. I, myself, whenever engaging in sport with another person or team do my hardest to win.
It is from this point that the right spirit comes into play. The spirit or attitude with which one accepts a win or loss spells the importance of something besides just winning.

Maybe those few words of wisdom will clear up the foggy-ness that some people entailed in their minds about the first column on the right spirit.
Speaking of the right spirit, the upcoming basketball season should provide everyone with the right ingredients to yell their heads off.
The team this year has a promising outlook, with a possible league crown. Couple this with the new high school gym to play the games on and things could not look better.
The team this year has a great outlook and could sure use a lot of enthusiasm from the students to cheer them to victory.
The first game is Nov. 26, at home against Tabor. This game is the night of the start of vacation, but we would like to see a lot of kids at the game.

Player of Week Ends as Three Receive Honors

By Jamie Oxley
Since this is the last week for football player of the week, and because of the fine effort by everyone playing in the game against Bethel, three players have been chosen as player of the week.
Laurel Patrick, Buddy Taylor, and Bob DeTour have been chosen, because of their fine play, not only in the Bethel game but also throughout the season.
Laurel has been a fine line-backer throughout the season, although his efforts have not been fully recognized. In the Bethel game he came through with several key tackles and intercepted a pass to stop the only serious scoring threat made by Bethel in the first half.
Being only 5'8" tall and weighing 165 pounds, he is small as linebackers go, but his quick reactions have made him into a very fine pass defender.
Laurel is from Marquette and is majoring in chemistry which he hopes to carry on with following college.
Buddy Taylor, a 5'11", 165 pound utility man, has played every offensive backfield position for coach Sid Smith, and is an excellent pass defender at defensive halfback.

It was his pass interception which gave the Bulldogs their only score against Bethel, and his pass interception in the closing seconds of the Bethany game killed any possible chance for a victory by the Swedes.
At quarterback, his regular position, Buddy has completed 5 passes in 15 attempts, and while running at halfback and fullback, has carried the ball ten times.
He is a sophomore from Thomas, Okla., majoring in history which he plans to teach.
Bob DeTour, the big 6', 195 pound fullback, has put power in the Mac backfield with his hard running. Luckily for anyone interested in Maccollege football, Bob decided to attend Mac at the last moment instead of going to Hutch Junior College as he had planned.

In the Bethel game he carried 13 times for 47 yards and threw one completed pass. Throughout the season Bob has carried a total of 78 times with a net gain of 308 yards. He has also had a fine passing record, having completed 3 in 5 attempts for 53 yards.
Bob's specialty is his punting. His long spiraling punts have been a great aid in keeping opponents deep in their own territory. His average of 36.6 yards per kick for 39 kicks is one of the best in the conference.
Bob is a local boy from McPherson majoring in history which he plans to teach.

Geisert to Make Visit To Colorado College

Dr. Wayne F. Geisert, dean of the college, will make a consultation visit to Fort Lewis A. & M. in Durango, Colo., on Nov. 21-22.
The college, which was granted candidacy listing for accreditation by the North Central Association last year, is a four year liberal arts college within the Colorado state system.
Dr. Geisert's purpose is to work as a consultant during this period.
Fort Lewis A. & M., previously a junior college, has recently moved to a new campus and is still in the process of expanding.

Teams Play Two Games Each Week

McPherson College students participating in intramurals are presently playing each Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday evenings at 6:15 and 7:00 p.m.
At the present time students are divided into fourteen teams which are playing volleyball.
The teams are made up of both men and women. Intramural teams play approximately two games per week, and are under the leadership of Dennis Wallace and John Tegeler.
Each team has nine players. During the games not more than two men may be playing to one woman.
A game is won by one of the teams getting fifteen points. To be declared the winner of a series, a team must win two out of three consecutive games.

Krehbiel Wins Prize at Meet

Georgianna Krehbiel, freshman from Moundridge, won first place with her five minute extemporaneous talk in the Young People's Talk Meet, sponsored by the Kansas Farm Bureau Nov. 5, in Wichita.

The general subject was "Who Shall Speak For Farmers." The sub-topics under this main idea, which each contestant was to speak on, was chosen at random 30 minutes before they were to speak.

Georgi's subject was "Why Not The Businessman?"

She said, "It is not the businessman's duty to speak for the farmer, as it is not the farmers duty to speak for the businessman. Farm Bureau is a way farmers can speak up, for one can always achieve more through organization."

ROSES, A TROPHY, and a crown were won by Georgianna Krehbiel, at a Farm Bureau contest last week.

Georgianna's prize is an expense paid trip to Chicago Dec. 6-12, where she will compete in the national contest.

She was also crowned queen of the annual Kansas Farm Bureau ball that evening.

There were three judges who each asked the contestants a question. One judged asked, "What do you plan to do in life? What are you doing toward this goal now? And how far are you going to attain this goal?"

The second judge queried "What do you think of Farm Bureau?"

The third judges question was, "What do you think is the most serious problem in the world today?"

Queen Georgianna brought a tall trophy, a dozen red roses and a rhinestone tiara home to represent her accomplishments. She says of the evening, "I still can't believe it!"

Arts Festival Set for May

McPherson College's second Fine Arts Festival will be held May 8-10.

Poetry, drama, short stories, essays, music, creative dance, art, and sculpture will be presented during the festival.

Works will be chosen from entries submitted by McPherson college students, alumni, and faculty, as well as work submitted by Central College and McPherson High School personnel.

Interested persons may submit their work to Jim Weaver, Jan Tobias, Dell Ann Larsen, Jim Neher, Orville Neufeld, or Prof. Robert Porter.

Yingst to Be Speaker On Sunday Morning

Kenneth Yingst, director of development at McPherson College, will bring the sermon Sunday morning at the McPherson Church of the Brethren.

His topic is, "Can We Really Follow Jesus Today."

Sunday evening, Cecil Haycock, director of Christian Education at the Brethren Church will speak.

Pre-enrollment

The teacher for this new class will be Mrs. Maxine Brunzell, an elementary teacher in the McPherson Public School System. Mrs. Brunzell has her master's degree in elementary education.

The second addition is the Agricultural curriculum. Judging and Selection of Livestock, 24, is a lower level course taught by Dr. John Ward.

This one-hour course will be a prerequisite for the Advanced Judging and Selection of Livestock, 118, which has now been changed from a two-hour course, to a one-hour course.

Art Classes to Visit Sandzen Art Gallery

Members of Miss Mary Ann Robinson's art classes visited Berger Sandzen Memorial Gallery in Lindsborg on Nov. 13 and 14.

Mr. Carl Petersen, assistant director of the galleries conducted the tour.

The exhibit for November is a group of aqua tints by a New Mexican artist.

Half of the students went on Nov. 13; the other half on Nov. 14.

Anthology Accepts Poem From Macollege Senior

James E. Weaver, senior from Edwardsville, Ill., wrote a poem recently which has been accepted for publication in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry.

The Anthology is a compilation of the finest poetry written by college men and women of America, representing every section of the country, and selections are made from thousands of poems submitted.

Hypocrisy No. 1

We talk of love,
We talk of hate;
But we reason
A little late.
A person dies,
We have no cares
Unless—we are
One of his heirs.
A person hurts,
We retaliate;
Again we fail
By thinking late.
This is one fault
That Christ detests;
One that causes
Some bitterness.
This fault is called Insincerity;
One example—
Judas' kiss.
Another word

That's used for this,
A word that hurts:
Hypocrisy!
