Winky Kwok, chairman of the sophomore float committee, instructs Nancy Erritt, Charles Dadisman, Judy Atwater, and Dale Miller as finishing touches are made on the Maccollege float for the All-Schools Day Parade.

College Closes For May Day

Classes will be dismissed today for the annual All-Schools Day celebration.

Activities include the carnival, All-Schools Day parade and pre-parade activities. Two feature bands have been invited to entertain.

The Wentworth Military Academy Band from Lexington, Mo., a 64-piece band directed by Capt. Bob Hinds, will march in the parade at 11 a.m. and present a show at 1:30 p.m. on Main Street.

Arriving in McPherson Thursday, the band members were lodged with members of the McPherson High School Band.

Playing Oriental music with fifes, gongs, and various wind instruments, the Shrine Oriental Band from Salina will entertain previous to the parade at 10 a.m. They will march up and down Main Street to entertain the crowd waiting to see the parade.

Other pre-parade activities include the McPherson High School Band which will march at 9 a.m.

Twenty-nine high and junior high school bands will march in the parade.

The Maccollege float, constructed by the sophomore class, portrays the theme, "Fantasyland," by showing the transformation of an ugly duckling into a beautiful white swan. This represents the change education can bring.

One of Maccollege's contributions to the All-Schools Day festivities is the presentation of two one-act dramas in Brown Auditorium, Saturday evening at 8 p.m.

"The Lowland Sea," a folk opera with orchestra accompaniment is directed by Nelson Stump, senior from McPherson. "Sorry Wrong Number" is directed by Jackie Raymond, junior from McPherson.

Tomorrow the college library will be open only from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

The May Fete, featuring dancers, singers, and the May Queen, Prince Charming and their attendants was scheduled for May 13-14 at 6:30 p.m. The McPherson College Band provided music for the fete and the Maccollege art department created the stage scenery.

Senior Recitals to Feature Instrumental Compositions

Three senior recitals are scheduled by the instrumental music department for next week.

Warren D. Harden, Jim Burnett, and Jim Neher will each give a brass recital.

Warren D. Harden, McPherson, will perform Sunday, May 17 at 3 p.m. in Brown. He will play four numbers for trombone; "Pastorale," by Frakenpohl, "Sonata I," by Galliard, "Concert En FA Minuer," by Handel; and "Sonata III" by Galliard.

Warren plans to go to graduate school for further study on the trombone after graduation from Mac.

Warren will also play ensemble numbers, with the brass trio. His accompanist will be Mrs. Sollenberger.

Jim Burnett, McPherson, will give his trumpet recital Tuesday, May 19 at 7:30 p.m. in Brown Auditorium. The scheduled program is: "Concerto for Trumpet" by Haydn, "Concerto for Two Trumpets" by Vivaldi, "Sonata for Trumpet" by Hindemith, and "Concertino for Trumpet" by Whitney.

Jim will be assisted by the trumpet quartet on some ensemble numbers. His accompanist is Kathy Andrews. After graduation, Jim plans to teach instrumental music at Almina.

Jim Neher, Cabool, Mo. will present his recital on the Tuba, Thursday, May 21, at 7:30 p.m. in Brown Auditorium.

The scheduled program includes "Concerto in F Minor," by Telemann, "Sonata for Tuba," by Beversdorf, "Serenade," by Pershetti, and "Chaconne" by Sowerby.

Library Books Due

Friday, May 22

All library material must be returned to the library by 9 p.m., Friday, May 22. A fee of 50 cents a day will be assessed on any overdue material.

All material must be returned to the library and fees paid before grades will be recorded or the student can enroll for the next semester.

Final Activities Center Around Graduation Day

McPherson College 77th Commencement will be observed Sunday, May 31, at 7:30 p.m. in Brown Auditorium.

The Baccalaureate message, "Which Way to Samaria," will be presented by Dr. D. W. Bittinger, president of the college, at 11 a.m. in Brown Auditorium.

During Commencement, citations and degrees will be awarded, and Dr. Wayne F. Geisert, dean of the college, will address the graduates.

Graduates and their guests will be honored at a reception in Friendship Hall 3-4 p.m., May 31.

The annual Alumni Day will be Saturday, May 30. The Alumni Board plans to meet at 10 a.m.

Reunion luncheons at 12:30 p.m. are scheduled for the classes of 1914, 1924, and 1939.

The Alumni Banquet at 6:30 in the Student Union will climax the alumni activities. The 1964 graduates will be welcomed to the Alumni Association.

Two Dramas to be Presented May 16

Unique stage settings will distinguish the May 16 drama presentations in Brown Auditorium.

Activity tickets will admit students to the productions of "Sorry, Wrong Number" and "The Lowland Sea," to be presented at 8 p.m., Saturday.

"Sorry, Wrong Number," directed by Jackie Raymond, a junior from McPherson, is a classic one-act mystery thriller written by Lucille Fletcher.

"The Lowland Sea," directed by Nelson Stump, a senior from McPherson, is an operetta written by Alice Wilder and Arnold Sandgaard.

Both directors are students of Advanced Play Production Class.

The operetta will include a chorus and orchestra in its production. Stump will direct the Aw, come on—it's our turn to practice! Carol Klotz and Charles Dadisman are trying to remove Georgianna Krehbiel, the star of "Sorry, Wrong Number," from the stage so they can practice for "The Lowland Sea." Both productions will be given May 16 in Brown Auditorium.

Students Will Vote On New Constitution

By Mike Hildbrand
The Student Council of McPherson College has unanimously voted to present to the student body the revised constitution for adoption, voting to be held Tuesday, May 19, during chapel.

Prominent reforms in the constitution have been presented to the Student Council for approval by the student body. These changes have been forthcoming and were necessitated because of antiquated laws governing student activity on campus.

Changes in constitutional form and in powers were first coordinated by a special committee created by Student Council. Don Merryman headed this committee, aided by Phil Miller, Ken Ullom, Allan Miller, and Christopher van de Velde. The committee proposed preliminary changes and constructed a rough draft of suggested revisions. Student Council, headed by president Steve Mohler, acted on these suggestions and further revised the articles during two sessions of meetings.

Disorganization and irrelevancy of past laws prompted many reforms. Aggravations toward present constitutional laws stemmed from within the Student Council, representing the student body, and also from Steve's 1963 presidential platform.

One major revision was the consolidating of Student Court and Student Council constitutions, as opposed to previously dual legal contracts.

Other principal changes include:

A. Treasurer for Student Council is now elected from the junior or senior classes of the coming year, instead of just from the junior class.

B. Student Council will have a designation quorum of two-thirds votes for ratification.

C. Preparation of a financial schedule for cheerleaders will be added responsibility of the Student Council.

D. Student Court chairman is to be elected by the student body which will increase student court membership.

The Student Court voting quorum shall also be a two thirds majority.

The court's power shall be further emphasized in cases of disciplinary actions upon improper student conduct.

E. Incoming students will select committee members for the year in which they serve, rather than the retiring council selecting members for the various committees under Student Council jurisdiction.

F. Grade point requirement for Student Council and Student

Court members will be 1.5.

Such changes, with the formation for a new student body constitution, will be presented for student acceptance during chapel, Tuesday, May 19, when students will vote for its approval.

Copies of the revised constitution are posted on bulletin boards in the dormitories and Student Union. Students are urged to study the changes and to vote on May 19.

Lehman Edits Practice Issue Of Spectator

This issue of the Spectator is the practice issue for the incoming members of next year's editorial staff.

Acting editor-in-chief is Carolyn Lehman, junior, Lipcoln, Neb.; managing editor, Georgianna Krehbiel, freshman, McPherson; campus editor, Jamie Oxley, sophomore, Lamar, Colorado.

Why Not Live Off Campus?

Why are McPherson College students not allowed to live off campus?

Students with financial difficulties (which covers just about everyone) could cut down considerably on costs by rooming off campus and doing their own cooking.

Dormitories are impossible places to study in, and the serious-minded student could find the quiet and privacy he needs for studying in an apartment of his own. Dorm fellowship can get a bit hard on the nerves. Some students just plainly don't like dorm life, and would like to have the peace and quiet of a private room.

This year off campus living was prohibited—then it was found there would not be enough room to house everybody, and a group of boys had to be placed in Arnold.

I suppose the main argument against off campus living would be a moral one. McPherson College students are not supposed to do certain things, and if they get out from under the protective wings of the college they might find temptations too great.

I would like to make two comments on this: First, if students want to engage in drinking and immoral activities, they will do this whether on campus or off. They will probably undergo much more temptation to do such when all their dorm buddies do, than if they roomed off campus.

Second—and this is the part that really disturbs me—we students are preparing ourselves to take on adult responsibilities. We are expected to step out of college, mature, trustworthy, and self-reliant. Yet while in college we are not considered mature enough to even live off campus.

How can we be expected to emerge from college as adults, if we are treated as children while in college? csl

PC Duties Are Not Easy Relates Representative

Peace Corps duties are not easy, and one does not gain satisfaction from great and rapid change in the country he is assigned to. This is the main stream of thought that Jesse Stone, Peace Corps representative gave students in the various classes he addressed on Monday, May 4.

Mr. Stone, who has an A.B. degree in speech from Colorado State University at Fort Collins, returned about four months ago from serving in the Dominican Republic.

Mr. Stone related some of his experiences in the Dominican Republic. "The first task a Peace Corps volunteer has is getting the people to accept him," he related.

Mr. Stone explained that progress was slow and tedious, and getting the people to realize they have a problem and then to support a project is in itself an accomplishment.

Mr. Stone further explained that the Peace Corps is not a physically rewarding service. While in the Corps the individual is losing money. The real reward in the service is the personal reward of having made this first step in helping under-developed areas.

Mr. Stone would like to instill some of the beneficial ideas he learned from the Dominicans into the American society.

Mr. Stone also gave additional information on entering the Peace Corps.

After filling out questionnaires the applicant takes a placement test, then waits for a card assigning him to a country. The applicant may or may not accept.

Training varies from 9 - 16 weeks, depending on the assignment. During the training period, the trainee is instructed in the language, culture, and history of the country, in Americanism and in Communist tactics. Physical training courses are also required.

Descriptive brochures and application forms were placed on display in the Student Union the week prior to Mr. Stone's arrival.

We Get Letters . . .

Dear Editor,

How much is group pressure felt on Macollege campus? Does group pressure sometimes suppress individual freedom of opinion here where we are pledged to democracy?

A specific and recent example occurred at the last Dotzour dormitory meeting held to ratify the new constitution. The complacency and lack of interest in the democratic procedure was appalling.

New rules concerning campusment caused dissent among the girls. However, the feeling surrounding the issue of campusment, I believe, is not the main concern. Another basic principle underlies this.

The vote, by show of hands, definitely did not reveal completely honest opinions of some Dotzour residents, for the silent pressure of small groups was too strong.

Although a secret ballot would have been more effective, this vote caused me to realize and to face a problem which every citizen must consider and solve.

My admiration goes to those who expressed their true beliefs in this and other issues. Whether or not their opinions are parallel to mine, we need democracy. To those of us who are swayed too easily by the opinions of others — we are all guilty at times — sympathy must be extended.

This appeal and warning is made to citizens of this campus who still believe in democratic procedure and individual rights.

money. To back up his intellectual enlightening statement he gave the example of Billy James Hargis. While I have no particular love for Hargis, I thought I would do a little research.

Hargis had a net loss last year of $8,751.51. The speaker gave the impression though, that Hargis really raked in the dough.

Both these impressions have made me sour on both these people. The professor has done a lot of good work on campus, but that one statement stands out for me. The speaker was a good speaker, but the only thing I remember is his attack on radio preachers.

The purpose of all this is to call for a more positive thinking on the part of people. If I had erased those remarks from my mind the minute the persons made them, they would still be high in my estimation.

But the saying goes: "When I do something right no one remembers; when I do something wrong no one forgets."
Yours for more positive thinking

The Scholiast

By Christopher R. van de Velde

I do not usually consider myself to be a drama critic, primarily because I do not feel that I have sufficient knowledge of the art. Last Friday night I attended the Fine Arts Festival performance of Peter Ford's The Day of Palalazicka, and while as I say, I am no authority, I immensely enjoyed the production.

It seemed a pity to me that there were not more persons in attendance, because the relatively small audience was treated to a highly amusing light political satire.

The action was set in a typical city park on a festival day. The main characters continue their search for paradise; the key to which seems to be a returning of the statue of their king to life. The king, Palalazicka, played by John Harrison, represents all things virtuous; he deserted his land to become a statue when his people disregarded what he represented in their quest for material enrichment.

Sarcastilla, played by Ed Mohler, believes that life is always a struggle, and in his pessimism there is the obvious note of self-preservation plus. The antithesis of this outlook is personified by an Altruisticus, played by Bob Slater, who is obsessed with the public servants' desire to do good works for others.

If no one sees truth, no one misses it more blissfully than Elatiana, played by Dell Ann Larsen. She believes that distorting reality is the only way to find happiness.

David Heffley represented the "do-nothing" element of society. The main characters continue their search for paradise; the key to which seems to be a returning of the statue of their king to life. The king, Palalazicka, played by John Harrison, represents all things virtuous; he deserted his land to become a statue when his people disregarded what he represented in their quest for material

Gorm, played by Vance Alexander, never gave up looking for truth. He knew that something better existed, and unlike the others, he eventually found paradise by not settling for something second-best.

It is impossible to recapture the mood of the play in an article, but I thought I might briefly outline it, because it seems unfortunate that more students were not present to observe the thought - provoking talents of a fellow student. This well written, directed, and performed dramatic production would have amused as well as bestirred the imagination of all in attendance.

To Finals:

And it came to pass, early in the morning of the last day of the semester, there arose a multitude smiting their books and wailing. And there was much weeping and gnashing of teeth, for the day of judgment was at hand and they were sore afraid. For they had left undone those things which they ought to have done, and they had done those things they ought not to have done and there was no help for it.

And there were many abiding in the dorm who had kept watch over their books all night, but it naught availed. But some there were who arose peacefully, for they had prepared for themselves the way, and made straight the path of Knowledge. And these wise ones were known to some as the burners of the midnight oil, but by others, they were called curve raisers.

And the multitudes arose and ate a hearty breakfast; and they came unto the appointed place, their hearts were heavy within them. And they had come to pass, but some to pass out.

And some of them repented of their riotous living and bemoaned their fate but they had not a prayer. And at the last hour, there came among them one known as the Instructor, he of the diabolical smile, and passed papers among them and went upon his way.

And many and varied were the answers which were given, for some of his teachings had fallen among fertile minds, others had, fallen among the fellows, and still others had fallen flat. And some there were who wrote for an hour, others wrote for two, but some turned away sorrowful.

And many of these offered up a little "bull" in hopes of pacifying the Instructor, for these were the ones who had not a prayer. And when they had finished, they gathered up their belongings and went away quietly, each in his own direction, and each vowing to himself in his own manner:

"I shall not pass this way again, but it is a long road which has no turning." - HIT & MISS, Vol. III, No. 1, Submitted by Roy Pfaltzgraff.

Brown Enjoys German Study

Mike Brown, a McPherson College student studying at Marburg, Germany, is most satisfied with his decision to continue his studies through an additional semester. His opinion was stated in a letter received by Robert Porter, assistant professor of German.

"You may quote the letter if you wish," stated Porter. "It's in German."

Porter to Attend Institute

Robert Porter, assistant professor of German, was granted a scholarship to attend the Deutsche Sommerschule am Pazifik at Portland State College, Portland, Oregon.

Porter stated that students at this language institute will eat, sleep and dream German. Courses Porter will take include studies in German culture, composition, and literature.

While in Oregon, Porter hopes to attend the Ashland, Ore., Shakespeare Festival which coincides with the dates of the summer school.

Radio Class Assists KNEX

Introduction to Radio and Television class is now conducting a telephone poll of the radio audience in this area in connection with KNEX, the local McPherson radio station.

The purpose of the poll is to help the station, to give the class experience in making such a poll, and to find the information of the questionnaire.

Dear Editor,

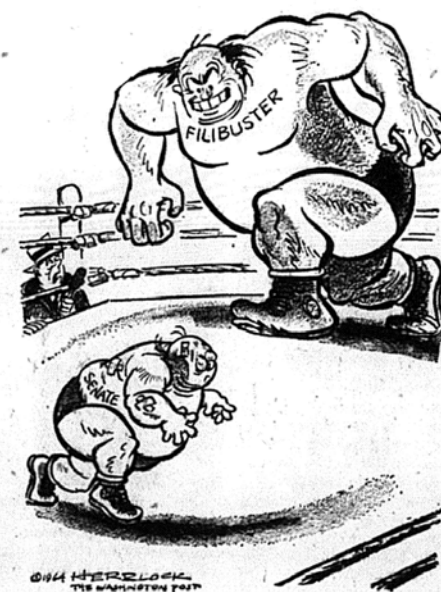

People of the world usually think negatively on most issues. Among them, what other people say; for example, no matter what or how much good a person may do, one bad remark will lower him in the estimation of another.

To begin with, one shouldn't make the remark in the first place. But if the remark is made, the one hearing it should not judge too hastily. We are guilty of this.

For example, I heard a professor say to another fellow and myself, "I wish that guy wasn't in school here." She showed a strong dislike for the guy (I believe he slunked her course) at the nine weeks.

Another time a speaker in chapel, during "Christian" Emphasis Week made the statement that all radio preachers not associated with a denomination, except for Billy Graham and some other guy I had never heard of, were in it for the

Chance Aids in Breaking Mac Relay Team Records

John Chance, sophomore from DeKalb, Ill., has the distinction of being on two record breaking relay teams this year, and also being only ¼ of a second away from the MacCollege 440 yard dash record.

Setting records is not new to John, however, as his high school low and high hurdle shuffle team set a school record, the 880 relay team he was on set a school record at 1:30.7, and his time of 20.5 in the 180 yard low hurdles set a school record.

Running in a meet at Sterling College two weeks ago, John ran the 440 yard dash in 51.0 seconds, only ¼ of a second off the school record of 50.6, set in 1928. John still has hopes of being able to break this very old record in the only meet remaining this year.

John also runs the third leg of the 440 and 880 yard relay teams which have both set new school records this year.

The 220 yard dash and 300 yard intermediate hurdles are two other events John is also running this year.

Although not large as far as football players go, John puts his speed to use during the fall playing halfback for the Bulldog grid squad.

At the moment John is majoring in history, but this could be changed to biology, depending on what he may decide that he would like to do in the future.

During the summer John works harvesting peas and beans. He plays softball and runs every chance he gets to stay in shape.

Women's Council Elects Hoover For President

Officers for next year's Women's Council were elected April 20 at a meeting held in the home of Mary Ann Robinson, dean of women.

Judy Hoover, sophomore from Denver, Colo., will serve as president next year; Pat Pitts, sophomore from Redbanks, N. J., as vice-president; Harriett Swinger, junior from Essex, Mo., as recording secretary; Marty Mohler, sophomore from Warrensburg, Mo., as corresponding secretary; Modena Hoover, freshman from Rocky Ford, Colo., as treasurer; and Rayna Hamm, freshman from Rocky Ford, Colo., publicity.

Students Play in Softball Leagues

In games played since April 30 the intramural softball league has become jumbled up with each team winning and losing.

On April 30 team 2 defeated team 3 by the score of 18-3. Bob Crabb pitched for the losers, while Lee Miller was the winning hurler. On May 4 team 2 defeated team 1 by the score of 4-0. Lee Miller was again the winning pitcher, while Clarence was the loser.

Team 4 defeated team 3 on May 5 in a game called after three innings because of rain. Russ Burkholder was the winning pitcher, while Bill Klein started for the losers and was relieved by Bob Crabb.

Russ Burkholder pitched team 4 to a 13-4 win over team 1 on May 7. Clarence Clark started the game for team 1, but was relieved by Bill Grove.

On May 11 Larry Bowman pitched team 3 to a 14-3 victory over team 2. Lee Miller went all the way for the losers.

Lehman, Hoover to Assume Spectator, Quadrangle Duties

Carolyn Lehman and Judy Hoover head the staffs of The Spectator and The Quadrangle respectively for next year.

Lehman, junior from Lincoln, Neb., served as Campus Editor for The Spectator this semester;

she assumes the position of Editor-in-Chief next semester because Mike Hildbrand, sophomore from Melba, Idaho, present Managing Editor does not plan to return.

Hoover, sophomore from Denver, was Associate Editor of The Quadrangle this year.

Georgianna Krebbel, freshman from McPherson, will serve as Managing Editor next year, and Jamie Oxley, sophomore from Lamar, Colo., takes over as Campus Editor.

Next year's Business Manager for The Spectator is Jerry Barrows, who served as Assistant Business Manager this past year, a position to be occupied by Jim Lambert.

Barrows is a sophomore from Waterloo, Iowa, and Lambert is a freshman from Inman.

Barbara Bollinger, freshman from Seattle, will serve as Associate Editor of The Quadrangle next year.

The Quadrangle's Business Manager for next year will be Gary Fisher, freshman from Bethlehem, Pa. Galen Neher, freshman from Quinter, serves as Assistant Business Manager.

The Board of Publications, which supervises the newspaper and yearbook, is a committee of the Student Council.

Members of this board are Lehman, Barrows, Hoover, and Fisher from the two publications. They are joined by the StuCo president, Lowell Flory, three other members of the Student Council, the college dean, and the faculty advisors of both publications.

Outgoing members of The Spectator and Quadrangle staffs include Dave Anders, senior from McPherson, and Ken Ulom, junior from Wiley, Colo., from The Spectator.

Marcia Yoder, senior from McPherson; Daryl Standifer, senior from McPherson; and Rodney Peterson, sophomore from Wichita, leave from The Quadrangle staff.

Voth Donates Materials From Orient

Over 100 pieces of materials from the Orient have been contributed to McPherson College by Miss Alice Voth, alumnus of Macollege.

The materials, among them household items of brass and copper, and silk material will be divided among the Museum, the Home Economics Department, and the Dramatics Department. The materials were collected by Miss Voth from India, Ceylon, Jerusalem, Burma, Malaya, Singapore, China, Syria, and Egypt.

Miss Voth graduated from McPherson College in 1917 with a degree in education and psychology.

After graduation, Miss Voth continued her education and completed work for her Ph.D. before traveling to the Orient.

Miss Voth, sponsored by American Missions, taught many years in Uduvil Girls' School in Ceylon.

Now retired, she lives in Hartford, Conn.

Foreign Relations Is Aim of Model UN

To emphasize a greater understanding of foreign nations and their relation to the United Nations are a few of the basic purposes of the Model U.N., a new organization on campus which is now in the planning stages.

Specifically the aims of this organization are as follows: "To promote interest and understanding of the United Nations and its activities, to encourage a greater understanding of nations of the world, their politics, and their role in the United Nations, to encourage investigation into the field of international politics by providing a dynamic tool for such study, and to give the international students a chance to get together."

The steering committee, the official procedural body, appoints and has power to remove the President of the General Assembly, the Secretary General of the General Assembly, and the Secretary of the Assembly.

Present members of the steering committee are Jerrold Wilson, junior, Perry, Iowa; Norman Howell, junior, St. John; Marilyn Marsh, senior, Topeka; and Fumitataka Matsuoka, junior, Japan.

Additional members of this committee will be chosen later this year or next year.

Matsuoka received ideas of the organization of a Model U.N. by visiting the Southwestern campus Model U.N. in Winfield last month.

Delegation chairmen, appointed by the program committee, composed of 5 students and a faculty adviser, choose their own delegation to represent the country to which they are assigned.

He may choose as many as 5 students to play the role of well-informed ambassadors. This means each ambassador must be familiar with the country he represents.

Topics to be discussed next year are disarmament and arms control, admission of the People's Republic of China, creation of a permanent U. N. Peace Force, free Berlin, peaceful use of Outer Space.

Withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea, the Panama issue, the question of Southern Rhodesia, human rights, and Palestine refugees.

Warin, Leonard

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Warin, Malay, Iowa, announce the engagement of their daughter, Rosemary Margaret, to Keith W. Leonard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Leonard, Perry, Iowa.

Keith is a freshman at McPherson College this year.

An August 8 wedding is planned.

Christensen Active As SU Director

Mrs. Christensen

Mrs. Christensen has four student assistants—Lois Berry, Lois Fruth, Jan Fasnacht, and Karen Oltman.

As director of the Student Union, Mrs. Christensen is responsible for scheduling a and overseeing all parties, is hostess for banquets, checks out recreational equipment, locates students, and makes change for the students.

Mrs. Christensen enjoys sewing and knitting in her spare time, and makes practically all her own clothes. She likes to knit sweaters, hats, and stoles.

Mrs. Christensen also enjoys spending time with her two children, and four grandchildren. Bob, who owns McPherson Floral, and his wife have three children. A daughter, Mrs. Ronald Lafferty, lives in Wichita. She and her husband have one child.

Mrs. Christensen plans to return to McPherson College next year.

The Quadrangle and Spectator staffs welcome new members, Jamie Oxley, Jim Lambert, Gary Fisher, Galen Neher, Georgianna Krebbel, and Barbara Bollinger.

Biology Dept. Given Grant

The National Science Foundation has granted $6,120 to the Department of Biology of McPherson College for support of an Instructional Scientific Equipment Program. It is to strengthen, modernize, and add equipment in the areas of Microbiology, Botany, and Cytology.

The grant is made on a matching basis. Total expenditure for new Scientific Instructional Equipment will be $12,240. This is to be spent within a two-year period.

The purpose of this program is to assist those institutions which are actively seeking to improve their instruction in the sciences. Institutions offering the baccalaureate - level degree in one or more of the sciences are eligible to apply.

Bittinger to Present Graduation Speeches

Dr. D. W. Bittinger, president of McPherson College is scheduled to present several Commencement addresses.

The first will be May 19 at Herndon High School. May 20 he plans to speak at Garfield High School and May 21 he will give the address at Durham High School. He will speak at Haven Grade School May 25 and at Hesston Grade School May 26. May 28 his speech will be given to Gypsum High School students.

Western Region Office to Close

The Western Region Office of the Church of the Brethren housed in 213 Mohler Hall will close its doors following Regional Conference in late October, 1964.

"Due to administrative realignment of the national church organization of the Church of the Brethren, the Western Region will dissolve," says Mrs. R. Gordon Yoder, secretary to the Western Region executive secretary.

Four regional secretaries have been employed in the Western Region. The first was J. H. Elrod. R. E. Mohler served a one-year interim. Don Rowe served as the third regional secretary.

The present executive secretary of the Western Region of the Church of the Brethren is Floyd Bantz. Bantz plans to resume pastoral duties in Roaring Spring, Pa.

The Western Region is the third of the five Church of the Brethren regions to dissolve.

The Western Region is composed of seven districts from the Mississippi to the Rocky Mountains and from Canada to Mexico. There are 132 churches in the region.

Library Contains Brethren History

Beeghly Library now has available a comprehensive bibliography of the Brethren movement. The bibliography covering 250 years of Brethren writings comprises a special issue of Brethren Life and Thought, a quarterly journal related to the Church of the Brethren.

With more than 1,200 listings, the bibliography offers a complete accounting of Brethren writings from 1713 to 1900, and contains all major historical and religious works published from 1900 to 1963. Writings are listed chronologically and with annotations.
