

Debaters Travel To Tournament

Members of the debate squad will be in Emporia Oct. 25-26. This debate will be for experienced members only.

Members of the debate squad are Ken Ullom, Rod Peterson, Chris Rhodes, Earl Miller, Bob Crabb, Art McAuley, Emilee Solomon, Jeanne Peterson, and George Jones.

The debate question for this year is "Resolved: that the Federal Government should guarantee an opportunity for higher education to all qualified high school graduates."

Meeting of the squad are held every Tuesday and Thursday evenings. About half of the team is experienced and the other half are novices at debating.

The team has had some practice debates.

"THERE'S ONE SURE way to stop her—that's astrology!" declares Ken Dauer, (right) portraying one of the Corporation Directors in "The Solid Gold Cadillac."

Repercussions Follow Stockholders Meeting

Only because her horoscope says it is a good day for financial matters does Mrs. Partridge attend a stockholders' meeting of General Products Corporation.

The repercussions of this meeting are portrayed in "The Solid Gold Cadillac," which will be presented at 8 tonight and at 7:30 tomorrow evening.

Mrs. Partridge, portrayed by Ellen Sell, junior from Conway, upsets the whole company when she decides to form a committee to inquire into the huge salaries of the directors.

In order to forestall Mrs. Partridge, the managers take her into the company.

The scene, which highlights the play, occurs when Mrs. Partridge goes to Washington and attempts to persuade McKeever, the former head of the firm, to return and save the company.

In one scene, McKeever, who has a secret ambition to become an actor, does a "heart-rending" recitation from "Spartacus" for Mrs. Partridge.

McKeever, who is portrayed by Dean Fasnacht from Arriba, Colo., goes through many antics.

His antics include leaping, shouting, sobbing, running, and pantomiming war, murder, and discus throwing.

After Mrs. Partridge, the elderly heroine, goes to Washinton, she is interviewed by several reporters.

Cast as reporters are Mike Weimer, senior from Haxton, Colo.; Nolan Howell, junior from St. John; Jay Cannon, junior from York, Penn.; and Joyce Martin, sophomore from Sterling, Ohio.

Portraying the four corporation directors will be Roger Solomon, junior from McPherson; Dan Messer, sophomore from West Chicago, Ill.; Alan Cable, freshman from Syracuse, Ind.; and Ken Dauer, sophomore from Dunkirk, Ohio.

Georgianna Krehbiel, freshman from McPherson; and Harriett Swinger, junior from Essex, Mo., are cast as a model and a secretary respectively. Carolyn Lehman, junior from Lincoln, Neb., completes the cast as another elderly stockholder.

The play, which is a fairy tale of a modern Cinderella on Wall Street and four ugly corporation directors, is narrated by Daryl Standafer, senior from McPherson, and Dick Witmer, junior from McPherson.

The play has numerous scenes which move from various offices in a New York building to another in Washington.

The programs were printed as a courtesy of Consolidated Motors, the local Cadillac dealers.

Fox, Attendants to Preside Over Homecoming Festivities

Judy Fox, a junior from Garfield, will reign over the homecoming festivities this weekend as queen. Her attendants will be Sue Stouffer, Waddams Grove, Ill., and Dottie Wine, Billings, Okla.

Judy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Fox, is majoring in speech therapy, and would like to work with retarded children who have speech impediments.

She is a member of the Women's Council, secretary of the Players Club, and is an active member of the Pep Club.

She said concerning her hobbies, "I love to sew and cook specialties." She also enjoys giving humorous readings and playing the organ.

Sue Stouffer has been elected as sophomore attendant. An elementary education major, her plans include marriage next summer and teaching after graduation.

Music is one of Sue's interests as is shown by her participation in both Marching Band and Choral Club last year. She was also a part of two chapel plays.

Sue lists sports as another of her interests with swimming and bowling as favorites.

Freshman attendant is Dottie Wine. Dottie is looking toward a major in business administration but is still uncertain as to what type of work she would like to do after graduation.

Dottie's college activities include Choral Club and the Quadrangle Staff.

Music is Dottie's major hobby as was displayed by her contribution to the freshman talent show. However, she is also interested in the people around her. She is interested in seeing that this world becomes a better place in which to live, with equality for all.

Queen Judy and her court will reign at the annual Queen's Ball tomorrow night. The formal dance will be held in the basement of the Student Union from 9-12 p.m., with no admission charge.

Rodney Peterson is the chairman of the decoration committee. Other committee members include Nancy Kurtz, Larry Bowman, Vance Alexander, Judy Penny, and LaVonna Howell.

Refreshment committee chairman is Judy Atwater with Marilyn Detwiler, Carolyn Cróuse, Dale Miller, and Dick Welch helping.

Helén Thomas is in charge of the publicity. Other committee members are Carolyn Lehman and Wing-Kee Kwok.

Flory Continues Work On Post Doctoral Studies

Dr. Raymond L. Flory, professor of history at McPherson College, is now at LaVerne Calif., taking a sabbatical leave.

After seven or more years of teaching, each teacher is entitled to a leave such as Dr. Flory is taking.

Dr. Flory is teaching an international relations class at LaVerne College and doing post doctoral studies in several Southern California Universities.

Dr. Flory plans to remain in California until January in spite of 110-118 degree weather caused by Santa Ana winds this past week.

The Flory children — Lowell, Gary, Marlys, and Jana—are attending school in LaVerne.

Lowell, now attending LaVerne College, will return to McPherson College as a second semester junior. Gary will be a member of the first graduating class of the new McPherson High School.

Marlys is a seventh grader and Jana is in the first grade. The family resides at 2236 3rd St., LaVerne, Calif., in a house formerly used as a college girls' residence.

Professor Leland Lengel, assistant professor of history and political science; and Edith Martin, instructor in business and English, are teaching Dr. Flory's history classes.

Swedish Fall Theme of '63 Homecoming

Macampus will be decorated with various displays tomorrow depicting "A Swedish Fall" the theme of the 1963 homecoming.

Each year displays or decorations are constructed by campus organizations and residence halls to give the campus a festive appearance at homecoming.

All decorations should be completed and in their place by 11 a.m. at which time they will be judged by a panel of McPherson businessmen.

The judges will be asked to make their decisions on the basis of appropriateness of the display to the theme, general appearance and construction of the display, originality and unusualness, and clarity of the display idea.

Groups constructing the displays may use several variations on the theme. They may interpret "fall" to mean the autumn season or a defeat for the Bethany Swedes in the game.

Kuhl Says Education Helps Fight Corruption

"Internal education is the basic source for correcting corruption in labor unions," according to Dr. William Kuhl, director of research and education of the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers.

Dr. Kuhl, on campus last week as assembly speaker, also stated that unions are as responsible for "cleaning house" of undestrables as any other organization.

Dr. Kuhl maintains that "The labor movement is not moving as fast as it should in equalizing opportunities for all workers. The question we face is: How much can we push?"

Through collective bargaining and favorable legislation, labor unions seek to provide job security for workers, which Kuhl considers a more important item than the economic benefits.

He continued, "There has been a change in the relative economical strength of the two parties involved in collective bargaining—a change in favor of the laborer."

Displaying a negative attitude toward governmental intervention in labor disputes, Kuhl said, "It is better for workers to strike than to allow Washington or Topcka to dictate labor policy."

Heading the list of problems facing labor unions in 1963 is the significant unemployment of resources.

The number of families with inadequate incomes, the unrealistic employment opportunities for the expanding labor force, and the lack of programs capable of facing the threat of automation are other urgent concerns of labor.

Emphasizing the materialistic accomplishments of labor unions, Dr. Kuhl outlined several other contributions which they have made to the American public.

1. In fighting for an ever-expanding economy, labor unions have forced automation and technological progress.
2. Labor unions have introduced industrial democracy.
3. Labor unions have contributed to community leadership, and responsible government actions. Along this line, Kuhl stated that unions should be commended for their stimulation of political opportunity.

"Don't Think I Stand Idly By—I Keep Asking Them Not To Do This" sprinklers We plead for consideration and thought. Water the grass, yes; but is it necessary to water the insides of our rooms?

A year or two ago we were asked to please not step on the young leaves of grass and to let them get a good start. Now in order to keep them growing it takes plenty of water.

The means by which the water is distributed is by soaking sprinklers. They sprinkle grass, trees, and any dorm rooms which happen to have the windows open at the time.

It makes for hard feelings to come back to the dorm and find new text books, typewriters and other paraphernalia soaked with water.

Please give us some consideration.

Letters to the editor from students, faculty members, or others are welcomed. All letters must be signed, but the name of the writer need not appear in print. Letters may be submitted to the editor or placed in the campus mail. Contributions do not necessarily reflect the policy or opinion of The Spectator, the administration, or the faculty of McPherson College.

In spite of what has been said over the years about the purposes and goals of chapel, I still have a gnawing question in my mind as to the relative importance assigned to convocations.

If chapel is considered an integral part of the college, it seems a rather inconsistent action if this opinion is not substantiated by increased financial and personnel considerations.

It is a well-established fact that the Chapel Committee has had to work with a paradoxically small amount of money for the enormous task they are asked to perform. Last year's allocation was $350 for a total of 63 programs presented.

The result of this allocation was that the Committee went nearly $200 over the budget in spending $529 for programs from September through April.

It is interesting to note that honorarium, travel, or room and board allowances were allotted for only 17 of these 63 programs, thus making the remaining 46, complimentary presentations.

Cultural Series Members Enjoy Musical Treat

By Warren Hardin and Dale Marrs

The Wichita Symphony Orchestra, with James P. Robertson conducting, performed in Brown Auditorium last Sunday afternoon as the opening feature of the Cultural Series this season.

Only a half-capacity crowd heard the orchestra give one of the biggest treats ever offered in the series.

Even though the orchestra was playing in strange surroundings, the effect was one of artistic pleasure.

The program offered a wide scope of musical enjoyment from "Oberon," an overture to Weber's Romantic opera featuring the string section, to Rimsky-Korsakov's "Capriccio Espagnole," featuring the wind instruments.

Following "Oberon," was Haydn's Symphony No. 95 in C Minor and two of Debussy's "Nocturnes" for orchestra, "Clouds" and "Festivals".

It has often been said that the talents of students and faculty should be utilized for convocations in addition to outside talents.

This does not constitute a strong case for keeping the chapel budget low, since only 23 of the 63 programs presented last year were given by students and faculty persons.

An increased chapel budget will certainly not assure a vital convocations program, for we have seen expensive eggs laid as well as inexpensive ones.

With the present allocation, the three goals for chapel recently set before us represent a highly idealistic view of what one committee can do with $350.

If the Board of Trustees would grant the Chapel Committee the additional funds it has requested, it would seem logical that the Trustees would consider it equally important to provide personnel with adequate time and training to coordinate chapel activities.

Working under the pressure of insufficient time and inadequate funds, the Chapel Committee should not be held totally responsible for programs which flop.

Increased funds will not work miracles unless the personnel involved in the coordination of convocations has adequate time for their task. BJJ

Who Are These Alumni?

By Paul Wagoner

Many McPherson alumni are expected to return this weekend for the 1963 Homecoming festivities. These former students return for several reasons.

One reason is to see some of the many changes that have taken place on the campus in recent years.

Another reason is to visit with former students and also to visit their children who are now enrolled here at McPherson.

Yet another reason for returning is to see the football game and participate in other Homecoming activities.

Undoubtedly, the majority of these returning alumni will come from the state of Kansas. They will represent a total of 4,200 alumni now included in the active files of the McPherson Alumni Association.

Approximately 3,000 of these are graduates of the college; the remainder are former students who have attended at least one year.

Any person who has completed at least 24 hours of work at McPherson may be included in the Alumni Association, according to the Association constitution.

One becomes a member of the McPherson Alumni Association by reason of his former relationship as a student at the college.

There are no membership dues. This means all financial contributions from alumni go directly to the operation of the college. The Alumni Office staff and program budget is included in the general college budget.

These returning alumni are some of the people who help to make possible present and future opportunities in high education for students today, and for those to come.

Gridders Seek Victory Over Strong Swedes

Seeking their third win of the season the Bulldogs will host the Swedes from Bethany College, Lindsborg, tomorrow afternoon at 2 p.m., as the climax of the homecoming celebration.

In the past two games of this long established rivalry Bethany has defeated the Bulldogs by identical 7-0 scores. Last year Bethany pushed the Bulldogs all over the field but could garner only 7 points.

Throwing away past tradition and past records it would appear that the Swedes are slight favorites, based on action so far this season.

However, with tradition and the fact that this is McPherson's homecoming, this should be a hard fought game, with neither team yielding an inch without a fight.

Bethany, fresh from their 21-20 homecoming victory over tough Southwestern will be especially tough this weekend.

Against Mac's two wins and three losses the Swedes have four wins and one loss, a 27-7 trouncing at the hands of league leading College of Emporia.

The Swedes have registered wins also over tough Bethel 21-

14, Kansas Wesleyan 23-7, and over Sterling, 40-10.

Cochair Phil Miller of the Swedes has a strong squad of fifty members. Over one third of these are lettermen and seven of them are returning starters from last year's squad.

Expected to start for the Swedes in the line are Bob Ahlstadt, 190, and Rich Sampson, 200, at ends; Marvin Anderson, 200 pound freshman and Leland Pfaff, 215 at tackles; Jerry Dahlsen, 195, and Paul Gentine, 205, at guards; and Charles Wanamaker, 175, at center.

In the backfield it will be Ken Denmon, 175, at quarterback; Larry Harless, 160, and Dan Willey, 165, at halfbacks and Leon Burch, 190, at fullback.

C of E Moves Into Top Spot

First place in the KCAC title race was pretty well decided last week as College of Emporia defeated Ottawa, 19-13, and Bethany beat Southwestern, 21-20.

Bruce Upstill passed to Marv Williamson with 15 seconds left in the game to break a 13-13 tie. The win allowed the Presbites to move into sole possession of first place with a 4-0 season record.

Bethany celebrated its homecoming by coming from behind in the final minute to upset the mighty Moundbuilders. Freshman Larry Harless scored twice for the Swedes, and Leon Burch punched over the winning TD.

In other conference action Baker exploded for 31 points in the last period to swamp Kansas Wesleyan, 57-7. Bethel rolled past Sterling, 27-7, and McPherson defeated winless Friends, 20-6.

This week C of E plays at Bethel, Baker plays Southwestern at Winfield, Friends tries for a win at Sterling, Ottawa meets KWU, and Bethany travels to McPherson for the Bulldogs' homecoming.

Standings:

Bethany	4	1	0

Kuhlman Works Hard, Capably As Quarterback

By Jamie Oxley

Don Kuhlman, hustling, hard-working quarterback from Athol, is this week's player of the week.

Don is a senior majoring in philosophy and religion. The teams Don has played against might think he is in the wrong calling if they knew that he is a religion major.

Being 5 feet, 11 inches tall, Don is small as quarterbacks go, but he makes up for this with his excellent leadership and signal calling during the games.

Although not well known, Don also has an excellent passing percentage for the five games played thus far. Altogether he has completed 16 tosses out of 33 attempts for a 48.5 percentage in this department.

Against Friends Don had a fine day both running and passing. He threw nine passes and completed seven of them. In his only running attempt he scored his first touchdown of the season.

Don is married and five weeks ago a new addition, Timothy David, joined the family. He, his wife, Janice, and his son live in the College Courts.

At this time Don is undecided about the future. He eventually wants to attend Wartburg College in Iowa, a Lutheran Seminary, but he has not decided on whether to teach religion or to go into the ministry.

Falcon Touchdown Jolts Bulldogs Out Of Lethargy

Jolted out of their lethargy by a first quarter Friends touchdown, the McPherson Bulldogs rallied for a 20-6 victory at Wichita last Saturday afternoon.

McPherson scored twice in the second quarter as Don Kuhlman and Buddy Taylor both tallied on sneaks. Kuhlman went in from the 1-yard line, and Taylor traveled four yards for his TD.

Eddie Lee Johnson scored the final Mac touchdown in the third period when he sped across from the 2-yard mark. Rick DeTour kicked two extra points to give Mac its total of 20.

The Friends Falcons scored their touchdown when Mac fumbled a Friends punt on the McPherson 20-yard stripe. Harold Rush carried the remaining distance to give Friends a 6-0 lead after the first quarter.

Outstanding players for Mac were Bob DeTour, Eddie Lee Johnson, and Don Kuhlman on offense, Larry Bowman and Tom Reazin on defense, and John Harrison both ways. Statistics: McPherson: first downs, 18; passing, 7 of 12; rushing, 28; punting, 0; fumbles lost, 1; penalties, 5 for 35. Friends: first downs, 8; passing, 3 of 7; rushing, 146; punting, 3 for 34.3; fumbles lost, 2; penalties, 0.

Cheerleaders Express Ideas About Student School Spirit

Pep and school spirit are the two main concerns of Maccollege cheerleaders. The five girls in snappy red and white uniforms, expressed their opinions of spirit on Macampus.

Mary Ann Bryant, business major from Denver, believes that "although school spirit was low in the first weeks of school, it has come up considerably during the past two weeks." Judy Atwater, Larned, stated that everyone could help with the yells at the game if they would learn the yells first and then sit in a group and yell them loud enough to be heard.

"All the cheerleaders want to thank the student body for the great spirit that was shown at the last home game," stated

Glenna Fields, Wichita.

Claudia Kimmel, pre-nurse student from Olympia, Wash., went on, "A lot of people at an out of town game really helps

Genelle Mohler, an elementary education major from McPherson, felt she should thank all the students for their spirit. She especially wanted to thank all the boys that sit together

Duerksen, Wilson

Mr. and Mrs. August Duerksen, Hillsboro, announce the engagement of their daughter, Janett, to Jerrold Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson of Perry, Iowa.

Janett is an elementary education major at Bethel College, Newton, and Jerrold is a junior at Maccollege majoring in philosophy and religion.

IGNITING SCHOOL SPIRIT and enthusiasm is the main task of Mac's five cheerleaders: Glenna Fields, Claudia Kimmel, Mary Ann Bryant, Genelle Mohler, and Judy Atwater.

Dorm Dedication to Follow Homecoming Game Activities

Dedication services for the new men's residence will be tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 in Brown Auditorium. The ceremonies will follow the homecoming game festivities.

The new dorm, completed the first week of August, stands on its site east of Arnold and Fahstock Halls.

Mrs. Marguerite Westfall

The dorm's three floors contain one public and three private lounges, a guest room, television, two study rooms, an infirmary, laundry room, and the housemother's apartment. Mrs. Marguerite Westfall is housemother.

Mrs. Westfall's apartment contains furniture of early American maple and several braided rugs. Her hobbies are two, "sewing, or handwork, and boys."

Mrs. Westfall has been at McPherson for the past two years. Her two years as housemother in Arnold Hall were preceded by five years as housemother at Washburn University, Topeka.

Mrs. Westfall has taken special training at Purdue University, and at Kansas State University in the study of being a housemother. At Purdue University the course covered a two-week period where all those enrolled were required to "Live the life of a student."

THE FUNCTION OF THE ARCHITECT

It has been said that the architectural fee is the soundest investment a potential builder can make. It is his assurance that his building is in the hands of an expert, that will assure him intelligent planning and design, and that he will have a pride and satisfaction in the practical solution of his individual requirements.

An Owner who selects member of the AIA as his architect has the assurance that he is dealing with a professional who subscribes to a rigid code of ethics. Perhaps the one most important portion of the code, from the Owner's point of view, is that no member of the AIA is permitted to receive compensation from anyone except his client. A member architect cannot enter into financial agreements with any contractor, manufacturer, or supplier of building materials. This allows him a free hand to be solely the client's representative—to select materials and to work with contractors to the best advantage of the Owner.

The architect sees to it that the drawings are faithfully translated into reality, and that no substitutions are made in the quality and style of materials as described in the specifications.

The Board of Trustees of McPherson College employed a firm of Architects, licensed to practice under the Kansas State laws, and members of the architects' national organization: THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS.

THE RETURN TO SHAPE is evidenced in this style which junior petites endorse with whole-hearted enthusiasm. Defining her figure precisely, it never hugs her tightly. Muted-tone tweed-look Lizado is the coating selected for this fashion-first. Shari Jr. loves the young collar, important pockets, braid trimming, and the two pressed pleats in back. Junior Petite Sizes 3-13. Newest fashion colors.
