

Homecoming To Be Nov. 7

The Spectator

Vol. 49

McPherson College, McPherson, Kansas, October 30, 1964

No. 8

Many activities have been planned on the MacCollege campus for Nov. 7 when the homecoming football game will be played. All graduates of McPherson College are invited to the activities with the five, ten, and fifteen year classes being honored.

The activities start at 9:30 a.m. with the Alumna Board Meeting which will be held in the conference room of the Student Union. This meeting will be followed by a faculty forum in Mohler Hall on the subject, "Implications of the Use of Federal Funds in Private Higher Education." Heading this forum will be Dr. Flory, professor of history, Dr. Miller, associate professor of speech and Dr. Weies, professor of sociology.

From 11:30 a.m. through 1:00 p.m. lunch will be served in the Student Union Cafeteria. At 12:00 a special homecoming luncheon will be held in the cafeteria for teachers who have graduated from McPherson College and have been teaching from one to three years.

The purpose of the luncheon is to keep in contact with the new teachers and to hear their views about what the college can do to better prepare prospective teachers.

At 1:45 p.m., at the McPherson College Stadium, the pregame ceremony will begin with the presentation of the Homecoming Queen, Karen Andes, junior from Mound City, Mo., and her attendants, Georgianna Krehbiel, sophomore, McPherson, and Sue Mettlin, freshman, Waterloo, Iowa. After the presentation of the Royalty the game between McPherson and Bethel will begin.

Following the game will be class reunions honoring the classes of 1959, 1954, and 1949.

A buffet dinner will be held in the Cafeteria in the evening, after which will be one of the Cultural Series Concerts. The Burke Family Singers, one of America's foremost family ensembles, will be featured at 8:00 p.m. in Brown Auditorium.

This family group has twelve members, the parents and ten children ranging in ages from 11 to 24 years.

The Burkes repertoire is sung in eight languages and consists of sacred and classical choral music ranging from the chant to such composers as Palestrina, Bach and Mozart, as well as spirituals, madrigals, and folk songs. Single tickets can be purchased by adults and students for $2.00. Children can get in on a $1.00 ticket.

Closing the day's activities will be an alumni coffee hour in the Student Union after the concert.

The Homecoming Dance will be held on Friday, Nov. 6, from 9 p.m. to 12 midnight. The dance will be semi-formal with the music to be played by the Norman Estes Sextet from Salina.

Hoyer To Portray Lead In "Antigone" Dec. 10, 12

Velma Hoyer, junior, McPherson, was chosen during auditions on Monday evening to portray the title role of "Antigone" in the forthcoming major production, the second of the semester.

Ken Dauer, junior, Dunkirk, Ohio, will assume the role of Creon, ruler of Thebes. These two clashing personalities mold the conflict for Jean Anouilh's modern interpretation of the ancient classic and will set the stage for the raging battle between the individual and his happiness as opposed to the definitions of same by the state.

In supporting roles are Rodney Eisenbise, Galva, as the chorus; Leah Standafer, Worthington, Minn., as the nurse; Georgianna Krehbiel, Moundridge, as Ismene; Gerald Hassinger, Millinburg, Pa., as Haemon; Robert Sooby, Garden City, Malcolm Check, Richmond, Ind., and Elden Jeffries Enid, Okla., as guards.

Foreign Students Attend UN Dinner

Foreign students attended a United Nations Day International Dinner last Saturday, Oct. 24. This dinner, given by the Reno County United Nations Association, was held at the Hutchinson High School in Hutchinson. The variety of foods represented the countries of Mexico, Germany, Sweden, England, and others.

Two groups of McPherson College students were on the program. One was Matilde Benalcazar, special student, McPherson. The other group was a group from Africa doing a song and dance routine. They were Ben Marcus Akamnonu, freshman, Nigeria; Martin Alugbo, freshman, Nigeria; Joseph Ezekia, senior, Nigeria; and Fred Mugabi, senior, Tanganyika.

David Heffley of Texarkana, Ark., will portray a messenger, with Ken Van Blaricum, Meade, as the Page; and Rose Marie Loveless, Marion, as Eurydice. Rehearsal began Thursday evening and will continue until the performances on Dec. 10 and 12.

Students Named Assistants, Proctors

Student assistants and proctors have been named to help professors and head residents of the dormitories.

Those assisting in the Humanities Department are Helen Nightingale, Harvey Werner, Michael J. Collins, Helen McKinney, Carol Christy, Peg Messick, Jerry Persons, Larry Blair, Charles Dadisman, Rita Haas, Fumitaka Matsunaka, Pearl Fruth and Karen Henry. In the Natural Science Department are A. Robert Shank, Anna Hutchinson; Ronald Cassidente, Robert Snider, Modena Hoover, Alan Cable, Georgianna Krehbiel, Roy Pfaltzgraff, Laurel Patrick, Ronald Fry, Don Merryman, Phil Miller, and Fred Wu.

Lois Wood, Bonnie Robison, Lowell Flory, Joan Thiessen, Mike Brown, Rita Haas assist in the Social Science Department.

The Practical Arts and Applied Sciences Department has as assistants Kathy Cadman, Linda Moore, Carol Christy, Jeanette Ann Bartel, Charleen Lewis, Dennis Emmert, Daniel Heefner, Frederic Goering, Joyce Martin, Gary Coleman, Steve Benyshek, John Minnich, Carol Radatz, and Lee Miller.

Trustees to Hold Meeting Nov. 6-7

The fall meeting of the college trustees will be Nov. 6 and 7.

Attending will be twenty-one trustees from as far away as Louisiana, Idaho, and California. They represent the church districts, the alumni, and the city of McPherson.

A professional study of the college has been made and this will be the basis of the discussion. The study is a ten-year plan for the college. It includes plans for the changing number of students and additional buildings.

Taylor, Newman, Ives Star In Movie Tonight

Elizabeth Taylor, Paul Newman, and Burl Ives are the stars in the movie, "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" which will be shown at 7:30 this evening in Brown Auditorium.

This movie, based on the play by Tennessee Williams has an "Excellent" rating and is a recent production of M-G-M.

McCormally to Speak

November 2, at 7:00, John McCormally, editor of The Hutchinson News, will speak to the SNEA, Young Republicans and Young Democrats in Brown Auditorium on the topic — "Teachers and Politics".

Books Due Nov. 6

All books borrowed from the library will be due Friday, Nov. 6 according to Miss Virginia Harris, MacCollege librarian. November 6 is the end of the first nine weeks of the semester, and according to the new circulation rules of the library, all library books will be due on that date.

Zerihoun Visits Campus Oct. 27

Mr. Berhanou Zerihoun, editor-in-chief of the "Addis Zemen," an Amharic language daily paper in Addis Ababa, capital of Abyssinia (Ethiopia), was on campus Oct. 27 along with Mr. John McCormally, editor-in-chief of the "Hutchinson News."

The two men met in a luncheon meeting with a few of the international students, faculty members, and journalism staff.

Mr. Zerihoun is a participant in the Foreign Leaders Program, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs, U. S. Department of State.

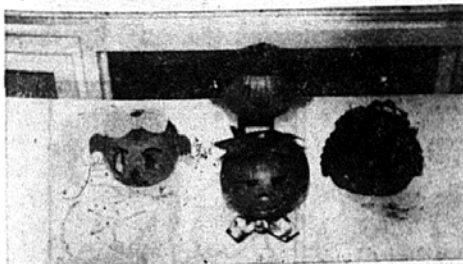

He is traveling in the U. S.

from Oct. 15 to Nov. 14. He has previously traveled in Europe, the Near East, and Africa.

Besides being an editor, he is the author of four novels, "Letters of Tears," "Victory After Death," "A Journey to An Asylum," and "An End to a Malice."

His paper is owned by the government, as are all papers in Abyssinia.

The discussion centered mainly about Africa and the possibility of a United States of Africa. Mr. Zerihoun feels there is a definite possibility that in the future a national unity in Africa can be realized.

Halloween is near and MacCollege students are getting into the spirit of things in the pumpkin carving contest sponsored by Slater Food Service.

"A Week That Was"

By Dr. D. W. Bittinger

Often the newspapers grope for headlines. Sometimes they have to manufacture them.

Recently, within a week or ten-day period, headline news literally exploded across the world: The Russians orbited three astronauts.

The Chinese exploded a nuclear device.

Khrushchev was withdrawn from Russian leadership.

Harry Truman fell and broke some ribs. He said appropriate words!

Herbert Hoover died and was buried with appropriate honor.

A top White House aide was arrested for perversion.

Our presidential campaign touched some new lows.

England elected a new Prime Minister.

The Olympic Games in Tokyo broke world records.

Eight youth were killed in a head-on collision on a straight stretch of Kansas road in clear visibility.

War in Viet Nam took a worse turn.

The fall leaves turned the temperate zones of the world into a riot of color and beauty.

Hidden in among all of these headlines was one of the most significant news events of all. It received little headline attention.

Martin Luther King, a thirty-five year old Negro minister, was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for having done more than any other individual in the world during the past year to further peace.

Dr. King was in the hospital at the time for a check-up. He indicated his surprise and said that he intended to use the more than $50,000 prize award to further the cause of peace and civil rights.

Dr. King is an humble man. He does not advocate nuclear warheads or vast expenditures in outer space as a means of peace. Instead he advocates the principles which helped to lead Jesus of Nazareth to his death and Ghandi of India to his.

In the long sweep of the centuries these principles are the only ones that will work in establishing peace in the world. Martin Luther King knows this. The wise men who awarded the Peace Prize to him apparently know this too.

Often the most significant things happen weak by weak, things which will determine the directions of history, are scarcely noticed. The "week that was" referred to above would seem to indicate that this is true.

Why Vote For Goldwater?

By Jerry Barrows

Why would I vote for Goldwater if I could? In this, my last letter before the elections, I would like to explain why Goldwater is the best man for the job of President of the United States.

Let's first take a look at foreign affairs. The late President Kennedy told the nation that we had lost our image abroad and that he was going to do something about it. Well, the facts are that during his tenure as President the Berlin wall was built. The facts are that we have removed our missiles from Turkey and several other European countries in payment to the Russians for the removal of their missiles from Cuba (if they did).

Laos, in spite of the fact that she received more U.S. aid per capita than any nation in the world, is now under Communist control. Cambodia has ordered our diplomats home; Pakistan and India are angry at us for the military aid we have given the other.

The Democratic candidates in 1960 promised to increase respect for America among foreign countries. Four years later, Americans are more hated by more people than ever in our history.

In many countries on every continent the American flag is being dragged down, American property is being confiscated, American citizens are being seized and humiliated. This is why I'm not for the present Democratic administration. I am for Barry Goldwater because he is an advocate of peace through strength.

President Johnson was quoted as saying, "We will meet the Russians halfway, and even further than halfway if that is necessary." I don't know about you, but I'm tired of giving in to the Russians every time they look cross-eyed at us.

Barry Goldwater stated in 1964 that, "If you have a fellow who says he's going to bury you, you don't hand him a shovel."

John F. Kennedy, in his book "Why England Slept", suggested that, had England listened to Churchill, who favored a strong rearmament policy, instead of the well intentioned liberals who strove for accommodation with the enemy, World War II might never have come. This also is why I am for Barry Goldwater. I think we have a better chance of avoiding World War III by keeping the United States strong with Barry in the White House.

Leaving the area of foreign affairs we find a similar mess in Washington. Besides Elbie J's "Strong right arm" Bobby Baker, we find Billie Sol Estes

Look Deep Down At You

By C. L. Dadisman

Do you know what it means to look at yourself? I don't mean in a mirror to part your hair, or even in the reflection of others that you see in their personalities. I mean to turn to yourself and to discover just exactly what you are now and what you want to become and just how hard are you working toward this goal. I mean to really look deep down at the "you" that you may not even know.

We on this campus by now are vaguely familiar with at least the faces of all the students on the campus. And at times some decide to "be silly" on a certain day, or to do this or that, no matter how extro-verted or rebellious it may seem. Some may decide to wear outlandish clothing or jewelry, or hair (?) style. This is when others wonder what they will be like in a few years.

On this same line of thought, there are those of us who spend hours (at times) playing ping pong, or snooker, or watching television. Relaxation of that sort is fine, but there is a line between relaxation and professionalism.

Imagine the same group in, say, ten years when they are professional table tennis stars and hustlers on the snooker table or professional TV watchers. What have they gained? Calouses? That's quite a return for twelve to thirteen years of education. Perhaps they themselves are becoming calloused now, yet have they the desire to check themselves and to change? I would like to, would you?

We as supposedly intellectuals must determine just what we are to be. We must decide what our values are and how we can expect to find them. We must find our place, or to some people, our rut, and fit ourselves into it in such a way that we know where we are going, why we are going, and what we are going to do when we finally feel that we are on the right track. Due to so much leisure time, we have lost the art of thinking, and we need to think to determine just what we are.

I am not suggesting that I have the answer to this, but I think that we should realize that it is a problem with which most of us are faced. Can we face it? I think that we need to determine what is superfluous in our lives both here on the campus and wherever else we go.

When this has been discovered, I would have it weeded out so that I may grow as a person who knows what he has and what he desires as a goal. Get your life off the playground and put it on the unobstructed road to success. Let out the clutch and work; don't step on it and coast.

"Sabrina Fair" Successful

By Ansel Neuburger

Last Thursday and Friday nights the McPherson College players presented their first major production of the year, "Sabrina Fair," a comedy by Samuel Taylor. The play was also the first under the direction of Mr. Loren Reyher.

If this play is any indication, the student body has much to look forward to the rest of this year and in years to follow. The theater on campus seems to have a vitality, an animation, that it has previously lacked.

It is very hard for me, being involved somewhat with it myself, to be completely objective

Faculty Dinner Tonight

This evening at 6:00 Donna Easterling, sophomore, McPherson, will be assisted by Anita Morlan, junior, McPherson; Judy Penny, senior, Garden City, Mo.; Elva Stryker, senior, Haxton, Colo.; Carolyn Pieratt, sophomore, Emmetsburg, Iowa; Jannette Bartel, sophomore, Hillsboro; and Janice Stansel, senior, Little River, to serve at the faculty dinner. It is to be held in the Social Room at the Brethren Church.

The theme is going to be Halloween; decorated with orange and black colors. They will be entertained by Mrs. Schmidt, French instructor from Bethel.

about "Sabrina Fair." I do believe that I can say, though, that the total effect was generally impressive. Friday night especially—the audience was attentive, the actors were alert, and the action coherent. The result was an evening permeated with laughter with just enough room for a small moral. The acting itself was, for the most part, extremely passable. Patricia Greenway was a respectable Maude, giving the audience perhaps the only stable personality to which they could cling.

Don Kussart was beautifully materialistic as David, but he gave me the sensation that he had some tremendous joke which he was withholding from the rest of the cast.

David Heffley (Paul) and Kenneth Dauer (Fairchild) were both a little too deliberate at times, warming up progressively and finally delivering some very funny lines with reasonable aplomb.

Ron Cassidente, who portrayed Linus Larrabee, Sr., a man with the macabre hobby of going to funerals, was fortunate in having a segment of the script with much potential for procuring laughs; he realized a great deal of this potential.

Karen Andes staggers through the semi-inebriated antics of Julia as if she had been addicted to drink since infancy.

Jane Funk was effervescent and spirited as Sabrina, often providing a lift by her mere presence on stage. Her interpretation of the idealistic, romantic young girl discovering the world had few flaws.

Vasco Alexander, was convincingly misanthropic as the skeptical Linus, Jr. He displayed his lines with a nearly flawless sense of timing. He was caustic without being offensive, cynical without being bitter, and ludicrous without being pathetic. He was, I think, a better infidel than a lover.

One last observation: Doc, a parrot, rendered the role of a cockatoo in the first act with great depth of feeling, despite the fact that he was a little green (pardon the pun) for this particular part.

Mac to Collide With Ottawa

By Ronnie Murphy

McPherson Bulldogs will collide with Ottawa Braves tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 on Ottawa's field. Last year the Braves had an 8-1 record and were second in the KCAC division rating last year. This year the Braves have a 5-1 record while the Bulldogs have only a 2-4 record. Last year the Bulldogs had a 3-6 record. Ottawa has beaten the following teams: Kansas Wesleyan 34-0; Sterling 33-0; Friends 19-0; and Southwestern 41-35. College of Emporia is the only team that has beaten Ottawa. McPherson has won only 2 games so far. These teams are: Kansas Wesleyan 18-12; and Friends 41-7. The teams that have won over McPherson are: C. of E. 34-14; Baker 13-0;

Bethany 28-13; and Southwestern 14-1.

Ottawa will have Flod Scott in the halfback position, who was third scorer with 42 points on a team that averaged better than 30 points a game.

Jerry Freeman will probably be playing the fullback spot, with Eddie Buzzell in the quarterback position. Eddie was third in the N. A. I. A. total yardage last year. Leonard Schutler and Richard Booth will probably be playing the ends for the Braves.

Since it is Ottawa's homecoming, they will probably be pretty fired up. They also beat Southwestern, who was leading the conference last week. McPherson will probably be looking for real vengeance since they have lost their last few games.

Baker Downs McPherson

Baker downed McPherson 13-0 last Saturday night in the KCAC division. This put Baker with a 5-1 record and the Bulldogs with a 2-4 record.

Baker got off to a real good start by getting a touchdown and an extra point early in the first quarter. McPherson was within 9 yards of the goal before the half ended but the Wildcats held the Bulldogs.

The second half was a battle going back and forth until in the fourth quarter when the Wildcats pushed their way across the goal line again but missed the extra point.

Making the touchdowns for Baker was Gary Stauffer with 2-4-yard runs. Dave Ewing was the man kicking the extra point for Baker.

Duane Pope had the most tackles for McPherson with 13. Roy Parsons and Larry Bowman were next with 12 tackles each. Nick Petrucci had 11 tackles and Laurel Patrick had 10 tackles.

Some of the game statistics are:

	Baker	Mac
First downs	19	10
Passes attempted	7	11
Passes completed	1	5
Passing yards gained	8	80
Yards gained	335	137
Fumbles lost	1	3
Penalties	9	2
Yards lost	100	20

Team Names Pope Player of the Week

years in high school at Roxbury, Kansas. This is his fourth year of playing college football here at McPherson. He has lettered his three previous years and is the only three year letterman on the football squad this year. Duane has played end all four years in college.

He was voted most valuable player against Baker for his defensive playing by getting 13 tackles. Besides getting those tackles, he also recovered a fumble. He has an average of about 8 tackles per game.

With good luck and no more injuries, Duane says we should be able to win the rest of our games. He added that it would be especially nice if we could spoil Ottawa's homecoming.

Sport News

By Wendell Kuhlman

General comments around the dressing room after last Saturday's game with Baker agreed that Baker was one of the best clubs Mac has faced this season, and that Gary Stauffer stands on top of the runners the Maccollege defense has tackled—or tried to tackle.

Elsewhere in the KCAC, Ed Buzzell completed 16 of 24 passes to lead Ottawa to a 41-35 win over Southwestern; C of E romped over Sterling 45-14; Kansas Wesleyan broke into the win column with a 19-7 victory over Bethel; and Bethany eased past Friends 41-21.

This leaves Baker, Ottawa, C of E, and Southwestern tied at the top with 5-1 records; Mac, Bethany, and Friends follow with 2-4; and KWU, Bethel, and Sterling stand 1-5.

This Friday Bethany visits Baker and C of E goes to Friends. Saturday Sterling plays at Kansas Wesleyan, Southwestern is at Bethel, and Mac plays at Ottawa.

The only two remaining games between the top four powers in the league are between Baker and Ottawa and between C of E and Southwestern.

One of the much underrated ballplayers on the McPherson squad this year is Bob Fox. Though only a sophomore, he is a better than average quarterback, a real good defensive halfback, and is one of the hardest men to tackle in a one-on-one situation that Mac has. Fox is also one of the most popular guys out for football—among the players themselves and the school at large.

Results For Volleyball

The Volleyball results for the week of Oct. 19 were as follows: Monday: 1 beat 10, 9 beat 2, 3 beat 16, and 15 beat 4.

Tuesday: 14 won over 5, 13 beat 6, and 8 won over 11.

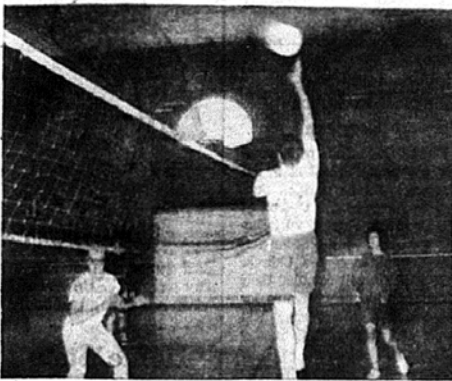

Thursday: 1 beat 9, 16 beat 2, 3 won over 15, and 4 was victorious over 14.

The Volley Schedule for the week of November is as follows.

Monday: 6:15 p.m. 4-5, 12-13, 7:00 p.m. 3-8, 11-15.

Tuesday: 6:15 p.m. 2-7, 10-15, 7:00 p.m., 1-6, 9-14.

Thursday 6:15 p.m. 4-6, 12-14, 7:00 p.m. 3-5, 11-13.

Volleyball action continues in full swing as many students actively participate in the intramural program offered at Maccollege.

Maccollege Loses First Soccer Game

By Tim Bomberger

2-1 in favor of McPherson.

Last Friday, Oct. 23 the McPherson College soccer team was defeated 3-2 by Lehigh High School in a very close and exciting game, which was played at the Central College Field.

Although Lehigh is a high school team, soccer dominates their sports scene and replaces football as their fall sport. A few weeks earlier, Lehigh tied Tabor College, which two years ago was the National Small College Soccer Champion, thus pointing out the fact that Lehigh has a very good soccer team.

Mike Zieman was the first one to score when he made a field goal in the first quarter for McPherson, and in the second quarter, Fred Mugoli scored for McPherson on a field goal. Lehigh also picked up a goal on a penalty kick, which made the score at half-time,

However, in the second half Lehigh bounced back and scored two more goals, both on penalty kicks, which gave Lehigh a 3-2 victory.

The coach of the Lehigh team commented that the McPherson team was far better than he expected it to be, especially since soccer is new to McPherson this year, and he felt very lucky that his team came out the winner.

In the near future, the soccer team will journey to Salina to play St. John's Military Academy. Mike Zieman, the team's captain, explained that he expects "this game to be very rough, and thinks our boys will prove to be superior, especially if McPherson's field goal kicking picks up."

DeCoursey Spends Summer In Wash.

By Tim Bomberger
The McPherson College Chemistry Department has received a $800 scales radiation detector with accessories and radioactive sources from the Atomic Energy Commission. This grant was a result of Dr. Wesley DeCoursey's attending an eight week Nuclear Science Institute this past summer at Washington State University at Pullman, Wash.

Dr. DeCoursey is professor of chemistry at McPherson College.

The Institute was attended by 16 college chemistry and physics teachers from 15 states. The course of study consisted of morning lectures and afternoon laboratories in radio-chemistry, radio-physics and neutron diffusion. The course was climaxed by a tour of the Atomic Energy Commission Plutonium plant at Hanford, Wash. The experiments involved the use of neutron beams from a 100 kilowatt pool type atomic reactor, gamma ray analysis, reactor blade calibration, nuclear magnetic resonance, and the use of radioisotopes in chemistry.

The equipment received can be used to demonstrate the presence of alpha, beta, and gamma rays from radioactive sources. It can show the half life of radio isotopes and could be used as a monitoring device to detect unknown radiation sources.

While Dr. DeCoursey was attending this institute, his family went with him and found living in Washington very enjoyable. The DeCoursey family enjoyed the very cool and comfortable Washington climate. While they were there, Mrs. DeCoursey studied art at the University and their daughter Rita, attended a music camp at the University of Idaho.

On the way to and from Washington the DeCoursey's camped out along the Oregon coast, in the primitive areas of Oregon and Idaho, and also camped in Glacier National Park. Several trout fishing trips, along with some very nice catches, were also worked into their busy schedule.

Hayride Tomorrow

The Social Committee is sponsoring a hayride this Saturday night, Oct. 31.

Everyone is invited and all those planning to attend should meet in front of Dotzour at 6:30.

Pep Club to Sell Homecoming Mums

Several members of the Pep Club will be taking orders for mums for the Homecoming Dance. They will be in the Student Union Lobby during noon hours starting Wednesday Oct. 28. The mums are $1.25 each.

German Club to Sponsor Concert

The McPherson College German Club and the Bethany College German Club will jointly sponsor a German concert, Tuesday, Nov. 3, at 7:30 p.m., in Presser Hall at Bethany College.

Mrs. Beverly Dick will be the guest soprano singer and Mr. Marvin Blickenstaff will accompany her on the piano.

Mrs. Dick has earned her Bachelor of Music degree from the Eastman School of Music, and has earned her Master of Arts degree from the University of Missouri. Mrs. Dick now lives in Hays where she teaches privately. Her husband is head of the Department of Psychology at Fort Hays Kansas State College.

Mr. Blickenstaff, who formerly taught piano at McPherson College, has won many piano and music awards. Last summer he was a semi-finalist at the Vienna da Motta International Piano Competition in Lisbon, Portugal. Mr. Blickenstaff is at the present time assistant professor of piano at Fort Hays Kansas State College.

There will be no charge for this concert and all students and faculty members are urged to attend. Following the concert there will be a reception for all German Club members. Anybody in need of transportation should contact Linda Moffitt.

Anders Will Speak To History Guild

This coming Monday Nov. 2, the McPherson College History Guild, an informal association of serious students of history, will host a speech on the subject, "The Trials and Tribulations of Military Historians" to be delivered by Dr. Leslie Anders, chairman of the Social Science Division of Central Missouri State College.

Dr. Anders has an A.B. Degree from College of Emporia, and M.A. and Ph.D. from the University of Missouri. He has served as a research military historian, Historical Division, Office of the Chief of Engineers, U.S. Army, Baltimore, Maryland.

He is also the author of Pick's Pike, to be published by the University of Oklahoma Press in 1965.

The meeting will be held in the east dining room of the Student Union. Meal tickets will admit all students on the food plan. Others may secure tickets at the door for $1.03. All interested are invited.

Smile! You may end up in the Spectator. Alan Cable, sophomore from Syracuse, Ind., takes most of the pictures for campus publications.

Cable Takes Most Of Campus Photos

Head photographer for the Spectator and Quadrangle is Alan Cable, sophomore, Syracuse, Indiana. Starting the first of October in his freshman year, he is responsible for 95 per cent of all pictures taken on campus.

Fumitaka Matsuoka, senior, Japan, is his main assistant with Sandy Hoover, senior, Plattsburg, Missouri, and George Winkel, junior, San Francisco, California, also helping him.

Alan has had experience prior to coming to McPherson College for he was the high school photographer of the annual.

He takes an average of 10 pictures a week for the Spectator and whatever is needed for the Quadrangle.

According to him the main advantage of his job is the fact that he gets to meet people that he wouldn't ordinarily meet and is invited to go places of real interest.

If anyone is interested in organizing a photography club, he should contact Mr. Cable. He is wanting to "break-in" more photographers to help him and is also trying to establish a dark room for more convenience for him and his staff.

Besides his photography work, he holds a Biology Assistantship, is a member of Alpha Psi Omega, dramatics fraternity, Players Club, Ag Club, and participates in intramural sports.

Foreign Students Tour IGA Market

Oct. 15, Mrs. Michael Mills, of the People-to-People organization, took the foreign students on a tour of the McPherson IGA Food Market. They went through the meat processing department. Fruit was presented to them as they left.

Sociology Prof. From Washington

Lorell E. Weiss, professor of sociology, has come to McPherson College from Tonasket, Wash., where he was pastor of the Ellisford Church of the Brethren. His church of about 200 members and his home were situated in a valley amidst the Washington mountains.

His daughter, Mrs. James A. Dawson, lives in New Carlisle, Ohio and is the mother of five children. His son, Dr. Robert Weiss, is professor of mathematics at Bridgewater College, Va.

Prof. Weiss has been pastor of several churches and dean and professor of sociology at La Verne College in Calif., for 8 years. He has been on the staff of the General Brotherhood Board of the Church of the Brethren in Elgin, Ill., and director of the Idaho Institute of Christian Education which is a Protestant student center and School of Religion serving the University of Idaho in Moscow, Idaho.

Through his adulthood he has taken great concern in the promotion of world peace. Three years ago he directed an international peace seminar in Germany under the sponsorship of the Brethren Service Commission. The seminar lasted three weeks with 18 young people from Germany, Holland, Turkey, Nigeria, England, Greece, and the United States, attending.

Prof. Weiss has studied at La Verne College, Calif., Claremont Graduate School, Calif., Bethany Seminary in Chicago, and at the University of Southern California.

Last week-end, Oct. 18, he spoke at the Rocky Ford Church of the Brethren in Colo., at the Church Homecoming.

Church to Discuss "Social Concern"

During the month of November a special "School of Social Concern" will be held on Sunday evenings at the Church of the Brethren. This school is being sponsored by the Social Action Committee of the Church.

The CBYF will combine their meetings with the programs for the adults and the meetings will begin at 7:00 p.m. This Sunday evening the program will be centered around the theme "The Churches Role in Social Action."

The following weeks the themes will deal with the topics of juvenile delinquency and crime, mental health, and social welfare. Guest speakers will be used for several of the programs.
