

McPHERSON DEBATERS WIN DOUBLE VICTORY

KANSAS WESLEYAN DEFEATED HERE AND AT SALINA BY 2-1 DECISIONS

LEAD NORTHERN DIVISION

TO DEBATE STERLING COLLEGE IN DUAL CONTEST MAR. 24

The McPherson College debaters added to their laurels last Monday evening, March 6, by securing 2-1 decisions from the Kansas Wesleyan debaters both here and at Salina. The question debated was, Resolved: That the principles of the Kansas Court of Industrial Relations should be embodied in Federal Statute. The contest here at McPherson proved interesting throughout. Paul Whittemore and Pauline Ganoung upheld the affirmative side for Kansas Wesleyan while Bennie Waas and Crawford Brubaker defended the negative side for M. C. The judges were Hon. George Allison and County Y. M. C. A. Secretary Guy T. Gebhardt of McPherson, and Professor Preston Scott, debate coach of the Kansas State Normal. Two judges were unable to reach McPherson due to the bad weather. Fortunately two capable local men were secured one of whom voted affirmative.

The debate was close in every respect and was won mainly in the rebuttals. All of the main speeches revealed good argument and organization, a comprehensive grasp of the question, and adequate preparation. Mr. Whittemore and Miss Ganoung were thoroughly prepared but needed more enthusiasm and force. Mr. Waas and Mr. Brubaker displayed much more effective delivery with clearer argument.

Both teams improved in rebuttal. The negative speeches were pointed and forceful. The closing speech on each side was decidedly the best. Though the debate was close McPherson had the edge in argument, delivery, and especially refutation.

According to reports a more closely combat was staged at Salina where W. E. Bishop and L. A. Fleming, the McPherson affirmative team, met and defeated Ted Metz and Vera Nichols, the Wesleyan negative team. In this debate Wesleyan seemed to win in the main speeches but Fleming and Bishop mercilessly slaughtered Wesleyan argument in their rebuttal. These gentlemen are masters in rebuttal, Bishop being excelled by few anywhere.

McPherson College is proud to claim two teams of undefeated debaters. They have won four debates and have now the votes of eight judges of a possible twelve. Much credit is due the teams as well as to Prof. Hess who has expended a great deal of time and energy to bring honors to M. C.

The next college debate will be with Sterling College March 24th. At that time McPherson College hopes to win the Northern Division championship. The present standing by judges votes in the Northern Division is:

SENIOR PLAY CHOSEN

The drama "The World and His Wife" by Nirdlinger has been selected by the Senior College Class to be given Commencement Week. The cast for the play will be chosen by a committee from the faculty. Tryouts will be held next week.

Y. M. C. A.

At the regular Y. M. meeting last week David Brubaker read a selection on "Changing Our Minds" from Pearson's "Reveries of a Schoolmaster." Following a number by the college male quartette Harold Correll, the new Y. M. president, gave a short history of the Y. M. C. A. and the ideals for which it stands. Then in a few closing remarks he definitely stated some of the things the organization at M. C. intends to carry out during the administration.

MAXCY'S TEAM WINS

A telegram received by the Matron last evening states that J. Wesley Macey's basket ball team won the championship of Northern New York.

ACADEMY DEBATERS WIN BOTH OPENING CONTESTS

AFFIRMATIVE TEAM WINS A 3-0 DECISION FROM BETHANY AT McPHERSON AND NEGATIVE TEAM DEFEATS BETHEL 3-0 AT NEWTON

The Academy debate teams achieved a complete triumph last Friday evening by defeating the teams of both Bethel and Bethany academies by unanimous decisions of the judges. Harvey Lehman, Elmer Krebbiel, and Earl Breen, the McPherson affirmative team, met Bethany's negative in the college chapel, while Charles Lengel, John Lehman, and Harry Lehman met Bethel's affirmative team at Newton. According to the judges' decisions, both of our teams won by comfortable margins over their opponents.

The question debated was: "Resolved: That with respect to the immigration and naturalization, the United States should accord the same treatment to Japanese subjects that it accords to the subjects of European nations. The members of Bethany's team who debated here were Miss Pauline Johnson, Miss Elsa Johnson, and Mr. Milward Rodine. Our debaters slightly excelled them in their main speeches and decidedly outclassed them in rebuttal. The judges for the debate were Dean J. D. Charles, of Hesston College, Mr. Willard Van Slyke, Principal of Salina High School and Mr. W. A. Stauffer, editor of the Marion Review. Professor Ebel, who accompanied the negative team to Newton, reports that the men did very good work in both their main speeches and their rebuttal.

Before the debate here the audience was favored with a vocal trio by Mrs. Birkin, Miss Laura Bowman and Miss Estella Engle. Miss Minnie Edgcomb sang a solo at the close while the audience was waiting for the judges to prepare their decisions.

The next and last debate of the academy series will be held next Friday night when our teams will engage in a dual debate with Tabor Academy. Professor Hess, the debate coach, is very hopeful that his teams can win the championship of the debating league after their splendid work last Friday. He and his men are to be congratulated for their success and they deserve the continued support of the student body by full attendance at the debates.

Prof. Craik on Conference Program

Prof. E. L. Craik has been asked to be one of the speakers at the historical round-table at the Annual Conference of the Church of the Brethren at Winona Lake, Indiana, next June. Since he cannot be present it is probable that a manuscript will be sent to be read in place of his remarks.

PHIDELAH RICE TO BE HERE TOMORROW NIGHT

CONSIDERED AS THE BEST MONARCH OF PLAYS ON THE AMERICAN STAGE

Closing Number of the Lecture Course Series

Phidelah Rice, who is considered by the public and press as the best Monarch of Plays on the American stage today, will give an entertainment at the Opera House tomorrow evening at 8:30 which will be the closing number of the Lecture Course Series. Mr. Rice is a real star and his mastery of expression gives him rank with such persons as Booth and Irving.

Leland Powers pays a deserving appreciation to Mr. Rice and his work: "I am an enthusiastic admirer of the impersonation of Mr. Phidelah Rice. It has the characteristic of manliness. It is spontaneous and virile and full of splendid human nature and truth. At the same time Mr. Rice is no haphazard performer; he knows the technique of his profession and the purpose and message of his play are brought out with the most careful judgment as to artistic values. Knowing the man as I do, with his cultivated mind, his clean heart, clear head, and winning personality, I do not wonder at his astonishing success."

WE THANK YOU

There has been much praise given the student body this year for the loyal support given the Bull Dogs, both in football and in basketball, and this certainly is not an over-estimation. But we students would not have had the opportunity of expressing our loyalty, and giving our support to the Bull Dogs at the Bethany-McPherson game, if it had not been for the citizens of McPherson. A group of citizens has never backed an athletic program more completely than has McPherson.

So, students, let us not become selfish and self-centered, but give credit where credit is due. It was not possible for us students to procure the special train to Lindsborg—but we had the train—because the citizens boosted the proposition and because of the prolonged efforts of some of our most loyal supporters. And this is not all! When it was learned that the ticket sales would not equal the guarantee, these same citizens were big hearted enough to make up the deficit from their own pockets.

"It has been a pleasure and an inspiration to the Pep Clubs of McPherson College this year to know that McPherson citizens are backing them up. With your co-operation we have been able to carry out a bigger and better program in boosting the Bull Dogs."

So, citizens of McPherson, in behalf of the Pep Clubs of McPherson College, we take this means of expressing to you our sincere appreciation and gratitude for your loyal support.

JOHN SCHUL, GENEROUS M. C. BENEFACTOR, PASSES AWAY

Professor Yoder was called to Grenola, Kansas, last Monday to have charge of the funeral services of Mr. John Schul, who died last Sunday. Mr. Schul was a very good friend of Professor Yoder and of McPherson

College. He came to this country from Germany as a boy of fourteen, and succeeded entirely by his own industry and thrift in accumulating a substantial fortune which he has been willing to share with his church and other worthy causes. In 1918 he gave $20,000 to the College Endowment Fund as an annuity. His life was filled with deeds of helpfulness and mercy. He lived for several years in McPherson while his daughter, Miss Mary Schul, attended college here. His death last Sunday occurred after several months illness from which he could not recover because of his advanced age. His bereaved wife and children have the sincere sympathy of all the friends of McPherson College in their sorrow.

Y. W. ART PROGRAM

Miss Tillie Hadley gave to the Y. W. girls on Wednesday morning, a very interesting sketch of art history and a suggestion of the necessity for beauty in our daily lives. Every girl has a longing for beauty in her life but not all have cultivated the power of recognizing true beauty, thus the too general acceptance of things which are merely pleasing to the "unseeing" eye; pretty colors copied, with absolutely a lack of character, no adequate excuse for the existence of such pieces of would-be-art unless it be man's primitive instinct for brilliant colors in any form.

In addition to the discussion of older artists Miss Hadley made her talk practical by exhibiting some truly excellent examples of modern art by American artists of prominence whose work comes within the reach of our pocketbooks, as do the works of all great artists until they are recognized as geniuses by succeeding generations. The purchase of these pictures executed by artists who are bound to succeed make excellent investments for those who are a bit inclined toward the mercenary as well as the love of the beautiful.

For the small, but unusually fine collection of pictures shown thanks are due Miss Ekblad of the Smalley Art Shop. The exhibit and discussion was much enjoyed and appreciated by all the girls.

SECOND PLACE CINCHED IN KANSAS CONFERENCE

SARGENT AND RUMP LEAD IN SCORING

Ancient Rivals Completely Overlaid by Bull Dogs' Wonderful Five Man Defense

Lonborg's quintet of fighting Bull Dogs returned from the invasion into the territory of their ancient rivals with two hard-earned victories to their credit, having defeated the Terrible Swedes 40-13 and the Kansas Wesleyan Coyotes 26-16. Both games were hotly contested but a failure on the part of both Bethany and Wesleyan to find a solution to the wonderful five man defense of their visitors brot disaster into their camps. The Bulldogs by annexing these two victories now stand undefeated in the second berth of the Kansas Conference with 11 games won and 1 lost. Southwestern, the champions of the Kansas Conference, is the only team to which McPherson has bowed this year.

Bethany-McPherson

The Lindsborg Swedes made a grab for the Bull Dogs' tail last Tuesday evening, but lost out in the attempt, and instead felt the teeth of Lonborg's Canines sink a reminder in their anatomy that will forever leave a scar, always to signify the 40 to 13 victory. This expresses in a simple way what the large crowd, including several hundred McPherson rooters, saw at Lindsborg when Dean's pets handed Omer's quintet their worst defeat of the season. It was a hard fought game and somewhat rough, but this could be expected with the determined fight both teams put up.

Bethany started the scoring when given a chance to shoot from the free throw line, and that was the only time the Swedes could boast of being in the lead. But it was short-lived, made so when Daggett dropped in a field basket, and followed it soon by another. Three free throws by Rump and another goal by Sargent put the score board 9 to 1. At the end of the first twenty minutes the Swedes had added another free throw and a pair of field goals to this 1, while permitting the Bull Dogs to register 21 during the half. The last half was just about the repetition of the first. M. C.'s boys continued their terrible onslaught until the end, scoring consistently and at the same time holding their opponents to one field basket while being able to ring up nine themselves. Five free throws for Bethany and one for McPherson in this half helped to make the final score of 40 to 13.

The Bull Dogs have played some brilliant games this season, but probably none compared with the exhibition given last Tuesday night. The five men played a wonderful game of team work, and both the defense and the offense worked like a machine. The work of Rump and L. Crumpacker won the admiration of all those present when they constantly kept the Swedes from carrying the ball into dangerous territory. Daggett wormed his way around his guards and was able to drop in four baskets the first half. Early in the game he hurt his foot and this incapacitated him somewhat, but still he fought till the end of the game. S. Crumpacker was all over the floor as usual busting up plays. He reserved his scoring till the last half when he added four points to M. C.'s tally. Sargent, in making seven field goals, was high point man, and scored more than the entire Swede aggregation. It looked as if his ability to make baskets was just a matter-of-fact happening that could be expected. L. Crumpacker, on making four person-

OUR TIME

Someone has said that there is a time for all things, but there are a great many people who question the statement wholly on the ground that in their own lives they have to give some things more consideration than others. Such conditions exist because people do not spend their time wisely.

Quite often a student when asked to do something remarks, "I haven't time" and then to prove his statement he spends a great many precious moments narrating all the things he has to do. Such a student thinks he is using his time wisely but he is far from right. The fact of the matter is that such a student is not working to his fullest capacity. When a task is to be done he puts it off as long as possible and in the meantime idles away more time than it would take to really perform the work. Yet this student believes that he is efficient.

Perhaps there are many of us of the same opinion but if a strict account were kept of all our waking moments we would be surprised to find that we idle away more time than we spend in working. We haven't learned one of the greatest lessons in life—how to use our time wisely.

WHO FOR? WHAT FOR? FOR 1922-23

Spectator Editor?	Student Council President?
Business Mgr. Treasurer?
Yell Leaders Men?	Quadrangle Editor?
Women?	Business Mgr?

Spring-time is almost here. Commencement is not far in the future. Who shall be chosen for the above positions? Why not select early and give them an opportunity to learn something of their respective duties? An early election is especially important for the Spectator editor and business manager and for the yell leaders. Both kinds of work need thorough preparation for the opening week of school next September. It is desirable to elect them about April first.

On December first last year occurred the election for Quadrangle officers. Too many unavoidable matters cause delay when these officers are elected in the fall. This year they have about five months to do their work. That is a serious injustice! Why not elect Quadrangle officers in the spring? That gives twelve months for the making of a year-book. Let us elect the 1922-23 Quadrangle leaders this spring. May first would be the appropriate time for the selection of Student Council and Quadrangle officers. In the meantime let us think who is the best person for each position.

GRADUATE STUDENTS AFFORDED AN OPPORTUNITY TO WIN SCHOLARSHIPS

For the purpose of facilitating the American students to a more intensive study as well as an extensive study along certain lines, a number of institutions and establishments in this country are offering well-paying scholarships and fellowships. As these appointments are open to all college graduates there is no reason why M. C. should not have several representatives taking advantage of these great opportunities. A short account is given below of several important scholarships that are now open. More detailed information concerning them may be attained from posters on the faculty bulletin board.

The Division of International Law of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, of Washington, D. C., is offering fellowships in international law to graduate students holding the equivalent of a bachelor's degree. The stipend attached to these fellowships is $750. By meeting certain requirements the applicant is given a unique privilege of securing an extensive study in international law. Applications will be received up to April 15, 1922.

The Graduate School of Social Science Administration, of Chicago University, offers for 1922-1923 the following assistantships, fellowships, and scholarships:

1. Junior assistantships carrying a stipend of $600.00 each.
2. Fellowships carrying a stipend of $50.00 each, from which tuition must be paid.
3. Scholarships carrying a stipend of $150.00 each, from which tuition must be paid.
4. The Chicago School of Civics and Philanthropy fellowship, endowed by the alumni of the School. It yields approximately $300.00 to the incumbent, annually appointed.

The requirements of candidates for these appointments are: Graduation from a standard college with evidence of high scholarship and of fitness for service in social work. Preference will be given to candidates who have had graduate work or have specialized in the social sciences in their under-graduate work. Applications should be in the hands of the Dean of the School not later than April 1, 1922.

The department of Education at Smith College, located at Northampton, Mass., is offering two fellowships of $500 each and three scholarships covering the tuition. "The appointments are open to women graduates of colleges and universities and are offered in order to promote the professional preparation of college women who wish to engage in the education of exceptional children. The courses prescribed may lead to the degree of Master of Arts.

"In making the appointments the academic record, personal characteristics and professional experience of the candidate will be considered. Those who apply for appointments should, therefore, submit a transcript of the college record and evidence of personal qualification that would seem to fit them to enter the field of the education of exceptional children. Applications should be filled on or before April 1."

The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company and The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company have each established at the Municipal University of Akron, Ohio, a fellowship in the study of Rubber Chemistry. "These fellowships are awarded to graduates of institutions offering courses in chemistry which will fulfill the prerequisites to the study of Rubber Chemistry, i. e., General Inorganic Chemistry, Qualitative, Quantitative, and Analysis and Organic Chemistry. These fellowships exempt the holder from all fees to the University and in addition to this he receives ten monthly payments of fifty ($50.00) dollars beginning October 1st from the company whose fellowship he holds. Upon the completion to the course the fellow is obligated to give first chance of his services to the company from whom he has received his monthly payments. During the college year the fellow gives to the University not more than twelve hours per week as a laboratory assistant. Application blanks may be obtained from the Office of the Registrar of the Municipal University of Akron, Akron, Ohio."

NEW BOOKS IN THE LIBRARY

One of the most interesting, different, and refreshing viewpoints of Kansas is found in Carl Becker's "Essay on Kansas," of which the Library has two copies. This essay dealing with the individualism, idealism, and the belief in the quality of the people of Kansas appeals in a humorous, realistic and hopeful sense. All will do well to "get acquainted" with Kansas thru the author's eyes as thru experience.

There will be no excuse now for any student to go to Sunday School without a prepared lesson for the Sunday School Board has placed several copies each of "The Conquering Christ," "Preparations for Christianity," "Heroes of the Faith," and "The Story of Our Bible" on the bookshelves.

For once M. C. is indebted to the Mormon Advertising Society. The library has received a gift copy of the "Book of Mormons." This will prove of interest to all comparative religion enthusiasts and to any of the rest of us who are mildly curious. "Somebody mus' autiously work" when Prof. Morris assigns problems from "Engineering Electricity" by Ralph G. Hudson. This book deals with such subjects as direct cross-circuits, electromagnetism, the Synchronous Generator and the Mercury Arc Rectifier. Now, if you are interested call for it.

If anyone is in doubt as to the Ethical Theism as a "Live Option" the Moral Argument for Theism, they will find these two and several other splendid chapters in "Studies in Christian Philosophy" by W. R. Matthews. These studies are the Boyle Lectures of 1920.

M. C. desires to furnish every means of enlightenment to her student body so for the aspiring diplomats along with the rest of us, the Library has accepted another gift, gratis, in the form of a small green cloth-bound book entitled "The Basis of Durable Peace" which besides being a good title for the book would prove an inexhaustible subject for the Forum orators. Cosmus is the author who wrote these articles at the invitation of the New York Times. These articles handle authoritatively many of the questions concerning peace which are still afloat. The book has historical value.

December is the month of gifts with most people but with the Library it is any time and more particularly the past month of February. The Association Press has sent a narrative of "Y service among the prisoners of war in the prison camps of Germany." Conrad Hoffman is the author. This interesting volume is very readable and well illustrated. It will certainly help some lonesome student to pass an otherwise dull Sunday afternoon as well as furnish material for modern history or English themes.

And last but the largest is the valuable copy of "Outlines of Chinese History" presented by Frank H. Crumpacker. Li Ung Bing is the author of this history which has hundreds of illustrations and several colored maps. The book was written for two classes of Chinese. To quote from the preface to those who are studying English, it is not so much an attempt to teach Chinese History by English as English thru the medium of Chinese History. Certainly it will prove doubly interesting to read the facts of the history of one's country in a foreign tongue which he is making an effort to learn. To those to whom Chinese History must otherwise remain unknown, it is hoped that the "Outlines" may induce them to seek further knowledge from the original sources." It has sixty-four chapters featuring the details of ancient, medieval, and modern history.

Retirement.

"What is your occupation?" asked the judge sternly.
"I haven't any," replied the man.
"I just circulate around so to speak."
"Please note," said the judge, turning to the clerk, "that this gentleman is retired from circulation for thirty days."

THE VALUE OF A PAL

(By George Matthews Adams)
A pal is in the diamond, pearl, ruby class—very rare and precious.
But different in this way—fine and scarce as a real Pal is, intrinsic value does not enter into his possession.
A Pal comes somehow, and then he stays and sticks and gives.
A Pal loves, forgives, forgets, sympathizes, understands—above all understands. You don't have to explain or excuse to the one who is your Pal.
A Pal always comes to you when you need him the most, and he isn't scared away a bit if the whole world deserts you. He is there to stay because, don't you see, he is your Pal, and you want him and he wants you, and that explains everything.

There is something infinitely wonderful about one's Pal that you can't even express or explain. A Pal does not keep things back. A Pal is honest above-board, open and expressive.

A Pal can make mistakes and they are just mistakes, but if he isn't your Pal, then they are blunders instead, and you may resent and be unhappy and sadly sorry—but somehow with a Pal, you love right thru everything and are the stronger bound for the very weakness that sometimes hides strong feeling unexpressed.

A Pal is always around—in spirit and in feeling. He doesn't understand the fairweather quality. If it rains he is still your Pal. If it cyclones he is just the same as when the sun is brightest and warmest. A Pal hovers about.

My Pal is always around when I am most in need and I am inspired and spurred ahead. I shall win all things worth while because I have a Pal, and there will be no secrets except for that utter freedom and frankness of expression between us, back and forth, which in itself becomes a double secret to the world, but no secret at all as far as we are concerned. If you have a Pal you have the world—and no one can take it from you.

(Oh, what a Pal was Mary)

REV. GOERTZ TO RETURN TO CHINA

Rev. P. S. Goertz, A. B. 1914, came thru McPherson last Tuesday. While on an extended furlough from the mission field of China he has been in Yale University from which he took his B. D. degree several years ago. He was compelled to return to America on account of Mrs. Goertz's health but will soon resume his missionary efforts. Rev. Goertz is working under the auspices of the American Board of the Congregational church.

THE TENANT

"This body is my house—it is not I. Herein I sojourn till in some far sky, I lease a fairer dwelling, fit to last Till all the carpentry of time is past. When from my high place viewing this lone star,

What shall I care where these poor tenants are?

What tho the crumbling walls turn dust and loam— I shall have left them for a larger home.

What tho the rafters break, the stanchions rot, When earth has dwindled to a glimmering spot!

When thou, clay cottage, fallest, I'll immerse

My long cramped spirit in the universe.

Through uncomputed silence of space I shall yearn upward to the leaning Face.

The ancient heavens will roll aside for me,

As Moses monarched the dividing-sea.

This body is my home—it is not I, Triumphant in this faith I live and die."

—Frederick L. Knowles.

AS IT WERE THEM DAYS

Among the humorous letters bearing a serious vein, received in Washington during the war, was the following:

Mr. Headquarters,
U. S. Army.

Dear Mr. Headquarters:

My husband was induced into the surface long months ago and I ain't received no pay from him since he was gone. Please send me my elopement as I have a few months old baby and he is my only support and I need it every day to buy food and keep us enclosed. I am a poor woman and all that I have is at the front. Both sides of my parents are very old and I can't suspect anything from them as my mother has been in bed thirteen years with one doctor and the won't take another. My husband is in charge of a spittoon. Do I get any more than I am going to get? Please send me a letter and tell me if my husband has made application for a wife and child and please send me a wife's form to fill out. I have already written to Mr. Wilson and get no answer and if I don't hear from you I will write to Uncle Sam about you and him.

Yours truly,

Mrs. Paul Quinn.
P. S. My husband says that he sets in the Y. M. C. A. every night with the piano playing in his uniform. I think you can find him there.

ATHENIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

The Athenian Literary Society presented a very interesting program Saturday evening, to an appreciative audience. One of the best enjoyed numbers was a chalk talk by Glenn Johnson. Vocal and piano solos, readings, and a paper composed the remainder of the program. Who says literary societies are a thing of the past at M. C.? Come and see for yourself that ours is a real, live society. The next program will be given Saturday evening, March 25

Surprise Party

A pleasant surprise was planned on Ira Brammell March 9th in honor of his birthday. The party was given at the home of Prof. Morris' by Rhea Fast. A pleasant evening was spent in games and other amusements after which refreshments were served by the hostess. These present were: Mildred Fisher, Alta Mohler, Lola Miller, Nellie Cullen, Marie Cullen, Rhea Fast, Mrs. Morris, Prof. Morris, Ira, Roy and Everett Brammell, LeRoy Doty, Harold Beam and Earl Fisher.

Miss Ball Entertains

Miss Jessie Ball gave a most delightful party to a number of her friends Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Gish. The greater part of the pleasant time together was spent playing a variety of interesting games that were the direct cause of a great deal of mirth and laughter. As a fitting climax to all the merriment of the evening a beautiful course of refreshments was served by the hostess. Those who enjoyed the splendid hospitality of Miss Ball were Misses Lola Miller, Ruth Miller, Eunice Wray, Winona McGaffey, Mrs. Gish, Ada Correll, Maud Maurice Gish, and Messrs. Everett Brammell, Harold Correll, Roy Neher, John Daggett, Warren Gish, Ralph Holsinger and Orville Fote.

Prof. Wingers Entertain

Last Thursday evening Prof. and Mrs. Winger entertained in honor of Miss Minneva Neher, Traveling Secretary for the Volunteer Movement of the Church of the Brethren. The rooms were decorated in an interesting way with Chinese curios. Mrs. Winger and Mrs. Flory were dressed in Chinese costumes. During the evening each person made out a list of fifteen articles to be purchased preparatory to an ocean trip. Then with only ten minutes to pack trunks the ship was entered in the ordinary way, by means of a gang plank. Luckily there was no water or Prof. Yoder might have drowned. Each guest told of some first event in his personal experience. Mrs. Flory sang a song in the Chinese language. While refreshments were being served Miss Neher in an interesting way told of the mission bands in our other schools. Because Prof. and Mrs. Winger entertain in such a delightful way it is a real treat to be a guest in their home.

MAKING GREAT LENSES NEW AMERICAN INDUSTRY

Recent perfection of electrically heated furnaces has made it possible for the United States to manufacture optical glass of a quality equal, if not superior to, that which this country formerly depended upon Germany to supply.

Now we no longer look to the vaulted city of Jena for this material. A new American industry with electricity's aid sees to it that we don't. Forty inch telescopic lenses are being turned out by a New York lens company. Cooling the molten glass at just the proper rate is the scientific secret of good optical glass manufacture.

Formerly most of the glass annealing furnaces of this country were fuel fired. Then came electricity.

The even heat of the electric furnace throughout its interior due to electricity's peculiar quality of uniform radiation and the furnace's perfect insulation, its exact control, and its freedom from all gases that might contaminate the furnace charge are proving to be factors enabling America to meet Germany on an even competitive basis.

It's You—It Isn't Your School.

If you want to work in the kind of a school
Like the kind of school you like,
You needn't slip your clothes in a grip
And start on a long, long hike.
You'll only find what you left behind,
For there's nothing that's really new;

It's a knock at yourself when you knock your school;
It isn't your school, it's you.

Real schools aren't made by those who desire

By somebody else to be led;
When everybody works and nobody shirks

You can put your school at the head.

MISSION BAND

The regular meeting of the Volunteers was well attended and a commendable interest was shown. Miss Minneva Neher, the Traveling Secretary for the United Student Volunteers for the Church of the Brethren, addressed the meeting. Miss Neher spoke "out of her heart" as she said, in a simple manner. She spoke of the great problems confronting us and the importance of our facing issues in the right way. She also emphasized, especially, the importance of knowing one's capabilities, the needs, and God's call to definite service.

Miss Neher's short stay with us has been a great inspiration. The Volunteers have an important mission before them. We want to make our work count for more because of this new inspiration.

"Ain't We Got Fun?"

Gea but it's great to be insane.

To vaunt around, to rave and tear,

To sail toy boats in derby hats,
To chase black cats, to cross your eyes,
To stick hatpins in pumpkin pies,

Boyer of Kansas Wesleyan referred in a manner that left nothing to be desired, while Ad. Lindsay with the umpire's whistle found his hands full most of the time. Both officials deserve credit for the splendid manner in which they handled a most difficult game.

Kansas Wesleyan-McPherson

The M. C. Bull Dogs clinched second place in the conference last Thursday evening by defeating Mackie's Coyotes, at Salina, in a hard fought game, to the tune of 26 to 16. The Wesleyans put up a hard fight, as victory would have given them a percentage of .500 in the conference standing. Lomborg's men were equally determined to come out winners so gave their opponents no chance to have the lead at any time.

In the first half the Canines divided honors, each player rousing up one field basket, and these together with two free throws by Rump, gave our men a tally of 12 to that of 8 made by the Methodists. The latter came back fighting in the last period and at one time succeeded in coming within one point of the Bull Dog's score, making it 16 to 15. But from then on the M. C. boys were successful in gaining a safe lead, and by holding the Salina aggregation to a single free throw finished with a decisive margin of 10 points.

The game was rough, being nothing more than a scrap from start to finish. The Bull Dogs hardly put up the brand of basket ball that was seen at the Swede game, probably due to the fact that they had driven nearly forty miles in a car through snow and mud just before the game.

The score follows:

M. C. GIRLS DEFEATED 11-32 BY BETHANY SEXTET

In a preliminary to the Swede game, and one that caused no little interest, the Bethany girls outclassed the M. C. sextet and won a victory by a score of 32 to 11. The Bull Dogettes played a weaker game than they did earlier in the season against the same bunch, while their opponents showed a much better brand of basket ball.

The Swedes took the lead from the first and did not have to give it up at any time during the game. At the end of the first half they held the large end of a 16 to 9 score. In the last twenty minutes our girls succeeded in making only one field goal, while their opponents doubled their score.

A Friendly Conversation

Said Lucinda to Malinda—"What is there in that young man that is so mightily attractive?" "Well," said Malinda, "he has fine manners,—manners that are not just put on to suit the occasion but he manifests a natural and simple courtesy toward all with whom he comes in contact; he is very human, he makes his mistakes but is always ready to acknowledge them; he has a liberal mind, so liberal that he does not think every good thing is in his own home, school, church, or community but he appreciates the good wherever he finds it; he is modest and unselfish to a degree. Whether he is on the football field, or basketball floor, in the class room, or leading his Bible class, he is the same open-hearted, sympathetic and magnetic fellow. If he were just an ordinary individual, the likelihood is, that we, with others, would never have noticed him."

REQUIREMENTS FOR IDEAL COLLEGE MEN

The requirements for an ideal college man have been set forth by the women of Drake University. The requirements, reprinted from the Daily Kansan, are as follows:

1. He must make a good appearance, but need not be handsome.
2. He must be careful in personal appearance, but not a "dandy."
3. He must be jolly, accommodating, considerate, and a true sportsman.
4. If an athlete and meeting other requirements, so much the better, but if not athletic it need not detract.
5. He must be a good conversationalist and realize that a girl is not flattered by having a lot of nonsense talked at her all the time.
6. He must show respect and reverence to the aged.
7. He must show the same gentlemanliness with men as with women.
8. He must not sit serenely in a street car while an old man or woman stands and then rise suddenly and offer a seat to a pretty girl.
9. He must not drink or smoke or be guilty of any of the attendant evils.
10. He must not sneer at religion or joke lightly about it.
11. The young women recognize no difference in standards for men and for women and declare such distinctions as false.
12. The young women can only truly respect those men who live by these principles.
13. The young women recognize the young women's influence over the young men's conduct, but do not hold the young woman responsible for the young man's conduct.
14. The young women expect respect for their opinions and respect for the things which others esteem, and they admire reverence for religion.
15. The young women want the same dignity and reserve in the men that men expect and ask for in them.

HIGH SCHOOL LOSES DISTRICT TOURNAMENT

The McPherson High School basket ball tossers lost all chances for the District Tournament at Salina Saturday evening when they met defeat at the hands of Salina High. McPherson, after defeating Clyde 33-11, Lindsborg 25-20, and Solomon 26-16, entered the finals with Salina in a much weakened condition. Salina was outplayed in floor work but a number of successful long shots gave them a 26-17 victory as well as the district championship.
